Speach Delivered Wednesday Evening at Meeting of Ciub

Norman Graham presented the program to the Kiwanis Club of Taneytown last evening. Mr. Charles Fisher, attorney of Westminster, brought the greetings of James Bruce, candidate for the United States Senate and expressed the States Senate, and expressed the regrets of that worthy for his inability to speak to the club. Mr. Fisher described Mr. Bruce's background and expressed the opinion that Carroll County was fortunate, indeed, to be able to present to the people of Maryland a candidate who served the country at the conclusion of the first World War at the Versailles Peace Treaty conference in Paris; who was the chief fiscal officer of the Homeowners Loan Association, an organization which did much to save the home of many Americans during the great depression; who helped organize the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; and who has served recently as U. S. Ambassador to Ar-gentina. Mr. Fisher expressed the conviction that Mr. Bruce "would add something positive" should he be privileged to serve in the United States Senate, the world's greatest deliberative body.

Mr. Fisher then spoke knowledgeably and convincingly about the need for a "crash program" in Carroll County. He predicted many changes that will almost certainly come to Carroll County within the next few years, and pointed to many that have already come about. In 1944 the land in Carroll County was evaluated at 44 millions of dollars. Today it is worth 101 millions. This kind of a rise in the value of land, according to the speaker, means that it is now too expensive to farm. A young farmer can no longer hope to buy a piece of land in Carroll County and reasonably expect to make a living for himself and family and at the same time amortize a mortgage. Mr. Fisher poined out that Carroll County has lost 60,000 acres of land to reservoirs, ponds, and community development within the last ten years, and that within ten years the County may expect to lose 100,000 acres more. Twenty-five years ago, he said, there were 3600 farms in the county. Today there are about 2800. The future of the county is almost certainly non-agriculural.

need for a zoning law so that there will be some measure of orderly New Windsor varsity and J. The county is going to be a part of suburbia whether we like it or not, he said, and the time has come to start looking ahead. Local Group Will Observe Event Beginning Jan. 19

Jaycee Week is a nation-wide service recognition and Jaycee emphasis program sponsored annually by the US Junior Chamber of Commerce and carried out by community and state level organizations. It provides the opportunity for re-dedication to the ideals and goals for which "Jaycee-ism" stand. Jaycee Week this year begin on Jan. 19, and continues thru Jan. 26th. The Junior Chamber of Commerce was established in St. Louis, Mo., in 1915 by a group of 32 members interested in the welfare of their community. It was not until 1920 however, that the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce was officially founded which at that time represented 27 cities and 16 states. Today the U.S. Jaycees number over 200,000 members in 3,500 communities in every state of the union. Jr. Chamber is world wide; it is the third largest interpretional organization in largest international organization in the world with fellow chapters in 88 foreign countries. World Headquarters is in Miami, Florida. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is a constructive action organization of young men between the ages of 21 to 35 who devote a portion of their time to community service in the public interest; developing young men to become leaders in their community. Junior Chamber works in close contact with State and National Headquarters. Suggested projects are scheduled continuously with certain requirements to be met by the local chapter. Merits of progress achieved by each individual local determines the clubs' rate or standing in the parade of chapters.
There is no official connection between the Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce as national organizations. However, in their communities the two groups often cooperate and work jointly on projects. The next regular membership meeting of the local Jaycees will be held on Thursday, January 23 at 6:45 in the Taney Inn. A special speaker has been provided. Each member is to bring a potential member as his guest. A fine program has been arranged. Members should purchase their tickets prior to Jan. 20 from William Copenhaver, Harry Dougherty, Jr., or Edward Sauble.

The primary purpose of this legislative effort-which has the full support of farm and business organizations, top men in the government, newspapers and magazines throughout the country, and all manner of other groups-is to get rid of outmoded regulatory policies and philosophies which are a hangover from the days | when the railroads had a virtual monopoly of commercial transportation.

BACK-TO-WORK MESSAGE

President Eisenhower's vigorous delivery of a strongly-worded report on the state of the Union-interrupted by applause on an average of once-aminute for its 44 minute durationhas given our lawmakers the first comprehensive picture of their top priority jobs for the months ahead.

The President pointed out that in view of the Soviets' "total cold war" he would restrict himself to "an outline of action designed to focus our resources upon the two tasks of security and peace". This involved eight items. "They are not merely desirable," he said, "they are imperative."

At the head of the list, the President placed reorganization of the military, on which he promised specific recommendations when his own conclusions were finalized". This, he said, would be "soon". ## House Needs Safety Check Once A Year

A wise motorist checks his car regularly to make sure that his brakes or some other safety feature won't fail in an emergency. For similar reasons, a wise home-owner inspects his roof periodically. He wants to make sure it protects the house as it should.

Just as brake failure could cause a fatal accident, roof leaks can cause water to short out electrical circuits.

Leaks also can weaken ceilings and damage interior walls. Rafters and roof decking as well as floor joists may warp if roof leaks are not found and stopped. Here are four areas of potential trouble to inspect in order to prevent damage from roof leaks:

1. On a bright day go into the attic and look for tiny pin holes of light in the roof.

2. On a rainy day, use a flash-light to check under the roof for darkened, damp areas on rafters or roof decking. Damp spots sometimes indicate roof leaks.

3. Look carefully at flashing, sheet metal or roll roofing sealing off exposed areas between roofing and chimney vent stacks, and valleys. If flashing has become loose, water can get inside and cause damage.

and cause damage.

4. Make sure roof gutters are clean and free of snow, leaves, and other debris. Water concentration from clogged roof gutters may cause leaks. To insure proper drainage, check roof gutters at least twice yearly.

Do not walk on an old weathered roof. This can start roof leaks. If the roof is old, new asphalt shingles probably can be installed over the existing roof material. Asphalt shingles are available in a wide variety of colors and help make a house more comfortable as well as distinctively attractive.

FFEESERSBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

To the pessimists who think the Russian sputniks mean the end of everything a former president of the United States voiced words of encouragement. He said the U.S. had survived two world wars, two great economic depressions and several dozen recessions in his lifetime and is still surviving. If one takes a worm's eye view of the ills in American life and our foreign relations, one might think that we are entering a period of decline and fall of the greatest nation in If one takes a bird's eye view, one can see the increasing skills, growing productivity, and the expansion of education and understanding, with improving health in our nation.

Bankers frequently chuckle at the foolishness of their customers. At one of the local banks a woman presented a check to be cashed. The teller inquired how she wanted it. "In cash" the woman replied. "I understand that, but what denomination?" the teller persisted. "Well" replied the woman, "If you must know, I'm a Lutheran.

We do not know what the averagepay in Maryland is for farm labor but just the other day we came in possession of some data from the state of New York on the subject and thought it might prove interesting to farmers in our county. Farm labor is paid an average of $1.30 an hour in New York. This figure is based on records kept on 50 well-run farms. Men hired by the month received $315 a month. This included $240 in wages, $60 in house facilities, milk, fuel and $20 for social security tax and insurance. Men boarding with the farmance. Men boarding with the farmance. The offer and consecrated by the leader. The Quiz was used and the Thank Offering Thought was read by Mrs. Verner and State of the meeting and the Third part of the ance. Men boarding with the farmer's family received $160 in monthly wages plus $10 in social security and Board was valued at 45 insurance. Board was valued at 45 dollars. Farm operators estimated their own wages on what they would receive for supervising a farm similar to their own. This figure averaged $40 per month. Last year some farmers paid their help $1.25 an hour here in Carroll. If help was hired on a yearly basis they were paid $250 per month plus house, milk and fuel and social security tax. These figures are not average for our county. Some farmers paid their help considerably less than these figures and only a few farmers paid more. It is not entirely a question of paying farm labor what it is worth, but on the ability of the farmer to pay what he can afford and still stay in business. Farmers will never be able to compete with industry as far as paid labor is concerned. It is a pity that it can't be done for labor on farms deserve the same consideration as labor in industry re-

The faculty of the University of Maryland seems to be in no mood for "rock and roll". It has turned a tone-deaf ear to the Everly Brothers tone-deaf ear to the dent government to appear in a concert on Tuesday. No reason was given by the faculty for its action

FAIRVIEW

While visiting my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker on Christmas eve he invited me to go with him to feed chickens and to see his banties. Mr. Baker does not have a big lot of chickens but what he has he is very proud of. His banties are his most prized possessions, some have like little caps on their heads and others are mixed colors, but the one he is the most proud of is a little black one—she is black as a crow. He has kept a record of her since she was hatched, and when she started to lay he kept a record of that too. This little hen is only 6 inches tall, weighs 1½ pounds, she laid 99 eggs before wanting to set and during the year 1957 she laid 147 eggs and raised two families of baby chicks, some of which grew bigger than she. Anyone wishing to see this little miracle hen can do so by calling on Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker and they will be more than proud to show her to you. They live along the road leading from Taneytown to Keymar.

SARDINE CHEESIES HAVE JOINED THE FALL'S FISH PARADE. Maine fishermen catch the sardines in waters

cold and deep. The little fish are canned for your convenience - to eat right from the can or make into luncheon and supper dishes like this: Beat an egg slightly and grate into it a half pound of processed American cheese or mild Cheddar. Salt and pepper to taste. Stir until smooth. Spread on trimmed bread slices. Top each slice with one or two Maine sardines. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, 'til the top is bubbly and slightly browned.

GLITTERING NEWS in the fashion world are attractive new fabrics made from aluminum. The materials, soft as chiffon, are being manufactured in a variety of weights and textures for use in gowns, dresses, drapes, upholstery, and increasingly for car fabrics, according to Aluminium Limited. The Gold Room of New York's swank Ambassador Hotel has recently redecorated using gold aluminum fabrics. Thanks to a process called anodizing, the amazing aluminum fabric can be made in gold and other hues as well as its characteristic silver-color. Just one more home use for the versatile metal.

EARTH AND HEAVEN ARE ONE-JESUS IS OUR KING (MY CHRISTMAS STORY)

When Time shall send, and no longer be, This earth shall be the home of you and me; And a Fairyland, they tell us, it shall be Through all the long years of Eternity.

After we celebrate our great jubilee,
This earth shall be the Paradise God wants it to be;
Every person you meet shall be a friend—
(Just so things shall be in "the world without end)!

All through coming ages, the bells of peace shall ring
When the Boy from Nazareth is our King;
And, each day, they tell us, shall be a Christmas day
When we learn to know God; and, do things His way.

All of the 5 races of men shall live in peace;
Hate, bickering, and dimension shall forever cease
When this earth a Fairyland shall be,
And we all are made fit for Eternity.

These are some of the secrets we all must know
Before to Paradise God permits us to go;
For, no eternal Christmas shall we ever see
Till we learn to know God; and, as brothers shall be.

All through the ages God has planned, they say
To make our Planet (what it is to-day);
For across of Time, there were no mountains and no sea
To serve and to bless all humanity!

The earth seemed to be flat, at first, they say,
At least, to primitive man, it looked that way;
So, let me tell you what God had to do
To get it perfect and, make all things new.

The earth was a billion years old when Adam was born;
That was only the dawn of another morn
When God started to make all things new
And a Paradise home for me and you!

There was a time, they tell us, before 1500 B. C., When they had no mountains and no sea;; That was why God sent the flood in Noah's day The earth was far from perfect in every way.

The oceans, they tell us, were up in the sky;
(Never, had a rain drop been see by the eye!)
So, the anti-deluvians had to drink dew;
The only beverage of which primitive man knew.

The Bible says a mist fell on the earth;
(They did not know about rain or its worth!)
Never before had the rain drops been seen
Which now make our fields so verdant and green! Now the Sun draws water from the sea,

And the clouds bring it here to you and me; The mountains direct the winds which blow, And send the rain where God wants it to go.

So, the mighty flood, they say, in Noah's day—
(The flood which washed Adam's world away)
Was a visitation which had to be, For, it gave us the mountains and the sea

Just so we find things on earth today; To keep us strong God always finds a way; Were it not for Him, and His provident care Disease and infection would exist everywhere.

As things were in the past, just so we see them today God keeps a close watch over things, they say; Because of Him the Planets in their orbits stay; For, His mighty voice, they all obey.

And, just so things shall be on our earth some day; Every mortal God's mighty voice shall obey;— When the Boy from Nazareth is our King, Hosannas shall again make the welkin ring!

In that day every man like Jesus shall be—
(Just so things shall be in Eternity!)
The Scriptures tell us it is God's plan To make a god of you, of me, and every man.

Jesus spent all of His days on earth doing good; But, in spite of it all, He was not understood; So, the least we can do, in this enlightened day, Is to honor Him by doing things His way.

When men learn to know what Jesus has done To make earth a heaven for everyone, All Nations, they tell us—great and small, Shall crown Him King; and, Lord of all.

This story is long; but, it takes time to tell One so Great who came here to dwell; Never, in all the ages of Time, people say, Has One so Great ever come this way!

This story is long; but, it takes time to tell
About One so Great who came here to dwell;
Never, in all the ages of Time, people say,
Has One so Great ever come this way!

Isaiah said; He shall be called "Wonderful"—(so say we)
So, unto Him, and Him only, let our praises be; He made the clouds His chariot; and, walked on the sea To show how, in Eternity, things shall be.

The words on the cross; "King of Kings," all shall know When Jesus is our Ruler here below;
And: Glory to God in the Highest!, all peoples shall sing
When the Babe of Bethlehem is our king.

So, at Christmas we get a glimps of how things shall be When we all are made fit for Eternity; It is one of those mental pictures God shows to man

To get him to help carry out His great plans. I should like to tell more about those good, old days
When people all went in buggies and sleighs;
But you, too, shall see it; for, it is God's plan
To make the whole earth a heaven for man.

Remember this: the real you a god shall always be—
(It is he who shall live through Eternity!)
We only come here in a body of clay

To learn to be like Jesus and do things His way. God has been patient and, waited long to see The day when we all as brothers and sisters shall be; The most salient part of His great plan Is to usher in the Brotherhood of man.

All the way down of that glorious day
Mother earth shall doff her cloak of grey;
In a garment of Blue she shall greet every clan;
For, to make us all brothers is God's plan. That is one picture we all shall see

When we crown the Boy, King, from Galilee; It shall be the fruition of God's great plan To make the whole earth heaven and a home for man.

Just such apicture God saw that long ago night When He said to his Planet; "Let there be light!"-Even then He saw how things shall be At the end of Time; and, through all Eternity.

Fellowship: Why?

Lesson for January 19, 1958

IN a "Hamfest" everybody is there because of the same interest: amateur radio. At a philatelic convention everybody talks stamps. They have no other reason for getting together. At a funeral, or at a wedding, you sometimes see odd assortments of human beings, most of whom never saw one another before, all having only this one thing in common, having met the departed (by casket or by honeymoon car) at some time be-

Unique Fellowship The Christian Church is a fellowship, and when it is not, it has lost the right to the title of true church. But it is not like any of the fellowships above mentioned. It has been called the fellowship of the uncongenial. That is an exaggeration; two members of the church may have been close friends before they joined it. But natural congeniality is not and never was a necessity for membership. It is a fellowship of persons who have all experienced God's forgiving grace, whose loyalties are centered in Jesus Christ. It is said that on the same morning at the same service Chief Justice Hughes of the Supreme Court and a poor woman who took in washing joined the same church. It is highly un-likely that the jurist and the washerwoman could have had much fun on a picnic together or would have made good partners at a dance. But they both knew in their hearts what it was to love the

Fellowship With a Purpose

Lord Jesus.

But it is not only a past experience, however treasured, that binds together the fellowship of the family of God. It is both present experience and a living intention: that is, what is happening to us and in us now, and what we unite to do, that also makes this four items mentioned in Acts about the earliest Christian church: (1) the apostles' teaching, (2) fellowship, (3) breaking bread, (4) prayers. The Christian church is the only group, organization, or society in the world that stresses this combination. It is the only fellowship where the Bible is regularly studied (the apostles' teaching); where fellowship is based on relation with the Son of God; where the sacraments are observed; and where people learn to pray. (By the way, what does your church do to teach its members how to pray?)

Harmony of Glory *

There are many expressions in the New Testament putting the purpose of the church, or one part of its purpose, into a single happy phrase. One such is in Romans 15:5. Abbreviated, it runs: "May God grant you to live in such harmony with one another, in accord with Christ Jesus, that together you may glorify God." We said that the church is the fellowship of the uncongenial; but the miracle the true church works is developing a divine harmony even among these many sorts and conditions of Christians. But harmony for what? Not for its own sake, but to glorify God.

This does not mean the church is to be a hymn-singing society, though a church that won't or can't sing is certainly in a bad way. To glorify God does not mean simply to praise him. It means (in the New Testament sense) so to live, as sons and daughters of God, that other persons will be attracted to God through you. Every church member ought to be one good reason for believing in God. When a Christian says "I believe in God," if he told the whole story he would add: "-because of So-and-so,-because of certain people I can name. I believe in God because I saw what God can do with people, what he made out of them." It is a terrible thing when it is the other way around, and a man says, "I should like to believe in God but can't. I've known a few church members and if their God had anything to do with making them what they are, I for one don't want anything to do with him." Let the church glorify God, not slander him!

Sampling World's Largest Cake

NEW YORK-The largest cake ever known to be baked gets a sampling from Mike Todd. Three of the crew of bakers and decorators assemble the eleven-foot high, five-layer, pink frosted, chocolate cake, specially made for Todd's birthday party at Madison Square Garden, at which 18,000 guests attended. Everything about this cake, which weighed over a ton, takes on mammoth proportions. The base layer is 24 feet square, second layer 16, third is 12, fourth nine feet square and top layer six feet square. A single six-foot candle topped the cake.

To make this cake, approximately 1,350 Swans Down cake products, over 2,000 eggs, approximately 68 gallons of water, and roughly 500 pounds of icing were used. Over 1,000 cakes, each measuring 24" x 18" x 2" were baked, and assembled on the tiers for icing and decorating. Total assembly time was about 18 hours. It is estimated that the amount of cake baked represents something like 40 years of normal home cake baking.

MAKE IT A "ZORRO PARTY"

This television season, the adventures of a dashing, early-California hero named "Zorro" have captured the imagination of the younger set-and of more than a few adults as well!

So a Zorro TV party is a fine entertaining idea. And it's easy to make the sensational "Zorro Float" which has a flavor as exciting as a script

The taste surprise lies in the combination of a lemon-lime carbonated beverage with chocolate ice cream. (Be sure to save the extra beverage in the bottle to add to the ice cream in the glass for a second sipping.)

Make the showtime party as simple or fancy as you like. Ice cream soda glasses and assorted cookies add a festive touch. The children will delight in colored masks that look like Zorro's.

Here indeed is a welcome newcomer to the refreshment list!

Nematocides Can Increase Yields

But Small-Scale Tests Recommended

Nematocides — the increasingly popular soil fumigants for killing nematodes - can increase yields and quality of tobacco and vegetable crops by 25 percent or more, say scientists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. But nematocide treatments are expensive, and the Department recommends that farmers try them on a small scale first, before making any substantial investment.

So far there is no soil-sample test that will reveal whether enough nematodes are present to make treatments with a nematocide worthwhile. But since these tiny microscopic worms cause millions of dollars worth of crop damage every year, there is no doubt that many farmers would profit by applying nematode-killing chemicals.

A. L. Taylor, nematologist at USDA's Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Md., recommends that nematocides be tested in fields that will be planted to high-value crops.

Applications can be made in the fall, before spring planting, if this fits in with other farm operations. In any case, the chemicals should be applied at least two weeks before planting so the soil will be free of fumes by planting time.

Weed Killer Promises Near-Perfect Control

Near-perfect control of annual weeds in corn is shaping up at Oregon State college with a chemical weed killer developed in Switzerland and tentatively scheduled mmercial sale in this country next year

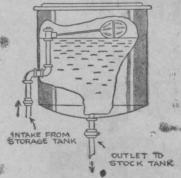

Sold in Europe under the name "Simazin," it is used there as a soil sterilant when applied at high rates. W. R. Furtick and Dave Chilcote, OSC agronomists, tested low rates of Simazin last year and found it gave almost 100 percent control of annual weeds in corn throughout the growing season.

Trials this year were expanded to all major corn-producing areas of Oregon. Early reports from throughout the state indicate that treated stands of four to six-weeksold corn are virually free of weeds with no damage to corn. Simazin was applied just before corn emerged. Two pounds of Simazin, as it will be sold commercially, gave weed control on an acre of corn with full coverage or three acres when applied in bands along the corn rows. One pound of the commercial product is expected to cost about $4.50. Simazin is highly insoluble and should be applied with an agitator tank using 30 to 40 gallons of water per acre. Good rainfall or irrigation is needed to take the chemical down to weed roots. It is not effective as a contact-killer on weed

Constant Level

If water supply system includes elevated storage tanks, water level can be controlled automatically in one or several tanks by fitting a float valve in the supply line at any convenient point between the storage and stock tanks. Unit is upper end of hot water tank, turned upside down, fitted as shown with ordinary toilet-tank float valve.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Continued from first page) or all ages on days or evenings for the various groups. The Polka, Shot-cish, Virginia Reel, Paul Jones, The Lancers and the delightful Minuet was danced most gracefuly. I remember at the entrance of many of the cigar or stationery stores there was a wooden Indian. The big name in soaps for house-cleaning those days were "Young's Pearl Borax", "Fels Naptha" plus the "Sand Soap", "Gold Dust Twins" and "Dutch Cleanser". The highlight for the complections was "Pear's" amber and transparent soap from England and and after the castile soap shampoo—there was always the real egg rinse! Many eggs, I have broken for the glamorous shampoo. Caster-oil, Carter's Little Liver Pills, Lydia Pinkham, Bromo Seltzer and Humphrey's Homeopathic medicines were the medicines of the day. Always in the SPRING—the Doctor ordered, "Sulpher and Molasses" which was supposed to be good for what ails you!

I remember most all the young girls making "fudge" and the first big dessert which they were taught in the wonderful cooking classes was "Brown Betty". To secure the diploma in Philadelphia every girl was compelled to make a perfect loaf of bread! For the year any girl turned compelled to make a perfect loar of bread! For the year any girl turned out to be a good cook and that was due to the real discipline of the Cook-ing Teacher, Miss Emma who really insisted that you Master the Art! If you were not worthy, that Diploma was not presented!

How well, I remember the German Bands which played on corners of the city streets. I always managed to have a lemon stick stuck in a lemon, sucking away in front of those play-ers so as they could not play the horns and trumpets!

The very first piece of sheet music any pupil was given to practice on the piano was "Hearts and Flowers" and there was always one full hour of practice immediately upon arriving home from school but in those days every one studied music especially the piano and violin.

There was roller skating on the sidewalks, also hoop rolling and the girls loved to play Jacks (which I do to this day and still have my old set)! When parties were given and there were many surprise ones those days, it was the Donkey game, Spin the Plate and of course, "Post Of-

Magic Lantern Religious slides were shown once weekly at the corner church where I attended church services three times daily on Sundays. On the Friday evenings when the slides were shown, there was a silver offering taken and every Kid in the neighborhood for miles

"Larkin's Club" was the big deal for any housewife. It meant that she was to take orders for household articles in the pantry or for those shelves and the more she sold, the she could select for her home.

The books being read by the real young girls were Jane Eyre, Graustark, Beverly of Graustark, The Harvester and the twenty-seven Elsie Dinsmore books. The big magazines were the Ladies Home Journal which was ten cents and the Saturday Evening Post for the price of five cents. Bacarach and Gutekunst were the leading photographers.

The "Pug" dog was the popular dog and when he died, he was stuffed and placed in the living room!

The "Finger-Bowl" was always brought forward after any meal regardness of the hotel or restaurant (and I still like the gesture)!
