THURSDAY, MAY 15, 1958

HE COULD GET OFF

Is Walter Reuther really over a barrel?

Many people think so. And looked at one way—quite possibly the correct way—the evidence appears to support their view.

After proclaiming that he was about to extract from the automobile companies "the largest wage increase in the history of our union", plus a whopping profit-sharing scheme, the United Workers president found himself at the bargaining table with flabby trading muscles because of the business dip. Nor has Walter held his own on the important public relations front where of yore he blew a mighty bugle.

His frequent avowals that his union never would think of contributing to inflation looked pretty sick when General Motors disclosed that the UAW's demands upon it totaled over 73 cents per hour per employee—not counting the profit-sharing plan.

His proposal to postpone bargaining until next September, when presumably his position would be stronger because the companies will be preparing to introduce 1959 models, was quickly and widely recognized as a plaintive confession of weakness.

And finally, the union leader who so often has criticized management for lack of boldness and imagination in times of trouble was forced, by a look at his own ledger, to assume the posture of a hard-headed conservative administrator and go along with pay cuts and layoffs on his union staff.

So, viewed strictly as a horse trader, Reuther is indeed in trouble. And yet, we believe he could find that adversity presents him with his greatest opportunity.

All Walter Reuther need do is to re-read the works of Walter Reuther, who told a Senate subcommittee earlier this year that when management and labor "sit together at the bargaining table, we have a responsibility to the whole nation which transcends our separate responsibilities". The Reuther who spoke those wise words might take a second look at an offer of the auto companies that already is before him—one that would assure his followers wage increases totaling an average of 14 cents an hour in the next two years, in addition to other substantial benefits.

Should Reuther consent to bargain on some such reasonable basis, he might well find himself off that barrel. He might earn the respect of a worried nation, including his own union members. He might even find himself regarded as a statesman . . . which we understand is an ambition of his.—U. S. Press Association.

THE SPIDER IN THE PAPER

The News-Herald, of Cuba City, Wisconsin, recalls the famous answer made by Mark Twain when he was asked if finding a spider in the newspaper meant good luck. The writer said: "Finding a spider in your paper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over the paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace afterward."

The News-Herald adds: "It's even more true today. People are buying and reading more newspapers than ever before in history. Population has increased 47% since 1920—but newspaper circulation has increased 94%."

"Almost everybody reads the newspaper. It's one medium people won't do without."

Wise producers and sellers of goods and services of all kinds know that newspaper advertising is the best way to keep the spider and his web away!—Industrial News Review.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

From Editor & Publisher: "The advertisers in this country, are not helping the current situation by curtailing their sales and promotion budgets with a 'let's wait and see' attitude. If advertising and promotion are supposed to do anything, they are supposed to sell. How can they sell if they are not being used by the people who need them most at a time like this? The companies and the areas that are hard hit in this economic slump will not automatically and easily come out of it if they forget to try to sell their way out."

Farmers use one-quarter of all the motor trucks in this country, along with more than 4 million tractors.

Columnist Jay Hayden points out that the present recession is mainly concentrated in the durable goods industries, notably steel and automobiles. It has been much less pronounced in the nondurable lines. And in some service enterprises there has been an increase in employment.

In 1929, the railroads had a net income of $897 million. The 1956 figure was close to that—$876 million. But, due to inflation, the 1956 income had a buying power of only $476 million when measured in terms of 1929 dollars.

Some 15,000 physicians will attend the 107th annual meeting of the American Medical Association in San Francisco next June. CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

The city fathers laid a brick crossing, this week, on "Nob Hill," a very desirable improvement to that section.

The Birnie Trust Co. has purchased from E. E. Reindollar, the Opera House building in which the Record Office is located.

Persons having books from Maryland Travelling Library located at McKinney's Drug Store are requested to return same that the Library may be sent back for exchange.

Mr. Frank Elliot, student at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, is here on a visit to relatives. He has completed his first year's course and has a vacation until the opening of the second year in September.

A festival for the benefit of the Taneytown band will be held in the Opera House commencing Thursday evening, May 21 and continuing each evening during the week. A variety of refreshments will be served and the band will furnish music each evening during the week.

The Taneytown Baseball Club has organized for the season, and is now ready to consider challenges. Maurice C. Duttera is manager and George H. Birnie, treasurer. The same ground will be used as last year, and the boys, after a little practice, expect to play at least fast enough to keep the other fellows awake.

Harney—Mr. Norman Hess has commenced work on his new house, and after it is completed he will certainly have a fine home.—Geo. I. Shriver has commenced work on the new buildings on his farm.—J. V. Eckenrode is having his store property painted which will add greatly to the appearance of the place.—S. C. Shoemaker now has a regular milk route established in this place.—J. V. Eyer has commenced improvements on his house and if present plans are completed, he will have one of the finest places in our town.

Copperville.—Mrs. McFadden, of Philadelphia is visiting her daughter Mrs. Percy H. Shriver, of Trevanion.

Miss Rosa Fleagle of Harrisburg is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Fleagle.—Oregon school closed again, but this time on account of nonattendance. We are sorry for Miss Rakestraw, for we understand she was the teacher and would not spend her time with so few only to receive the teachers' compensation, which is so often done. Some of the patrons are asking for compulsory education.

MARYLAND'S NEXT COMPTROLLER?

Louis L. Goldstein

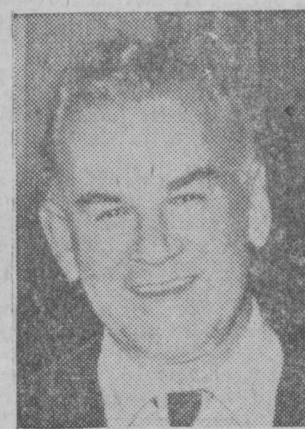

Senate President, Louis L. Goldstein, is a candidate for State Comptroller in Maryland's next primary election. This you know. You know, too, that Senator Goldstein, native of Calvert County, is a long-time farmers' friend. Understanding the problems of agriculture as well as any man in political life, it has been the custom of "Louie," as he is affectionately known to many, to take a firm stand on any issue and stick by it until he sees it through. It is not our purpose to advise our readers how to vote—that is every freedom-loving man's, and woman's privilege—but we do not feel it amiss to remind you that Senate President Goldstein is, and has long been, an advocate of what is best for the greatest number of Maryland's citizens, rural as well as urban, and to add a note of gratification that a man of such calibre will be running for state-wide office in the near future.

Hours that I've spent with my garden and flowers
Are fraught with deep memories of peace and joy.
There for a time was my mind at peace

Rid of all cares that sometimes annoy.
Old fashioned flowers, yes, but so beautifully gay.
Nodding so cheerily seeming to say,
"You who have loved us, and cared for us, too.

See, we are thanking you, brightening your way."
When even-time comes and my day's work is done
Of hoeing and pruning and quenching their thirst
I turn with a heart full of thanks to my God

Who has filled with such beauty one more day on earth.

—Mrs. Sara Scott.

RURAL MAIL BOX IMPROVEMENT WEEK
MAY 19 TO MAY 24, 1958

It's Spring! Since springhouse cleaning is here and we all take pride in beautifying our homes and property, let us not forget to tidy up the Rural Mail Box. Remember, a tidy home and surroundings is often judged by the appearance of our mail box. We paint our houses, fix up our lawns and make many improvements to beautify our properties but many of us frequently neglect our mail boxes. So let's surprise the neighbors and passer-byers by giving our mail box the "New Look". A few suggestions to follow are: Paint your mail box and post either white or silver, and your name in neat black letters about one inch in height. Your name should be inscribed on the side of the box facing the carrier as he approaches the box. Your box must be a regulation type and in good condition with a door that opens easily and with a flag or signal attached thereon. The bottom of the box should be about 42 inches above the ground and mounted on an arm extending outward from the post. This is the 20th year that the Post Office Department has observed Rural Mail Box Improvement Week with great success through the fine cooperation of rural patrons. So again let's comply with the Department's program by using some of the above suggestions in showing your appreciation for mail service rendered you.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Elementary, Francis Scott Key, and Sykesville. Some time was devoted to a discussion of equipment being furnished in connection with the construction at the Sykesville location.

Action was taken to approve the purchase of furniture, stage curtains, laboratory equipment, and cafeteria equipment at the Westminster Jr. High-Elementary and Francis Scott Key locations.

Some time was devoted to a discussion of personnel problems connected with the organization of schools in 1953-54. The Board was also advised regarding the evaluation of schools and teachers in progress now through several studies going on in the County and State.

Approval was given for several items connected with summer maintenance work and the superintendent was directed to advertise and secure bids on contract painting at several schools, as well as repair to buildings resulting from damage occurring during the winter snows.

Approval was given for the purchase of music equipment for the schools under construction and discussion resulted in the approval of negotiations connected with road building for the Westminster Jr. High-Elementary School and the site for a future Sykesville school.

Approval was given for the sale of certain surplus property items after bids were received and opened. The Board gave official approval for the salary scale for professional personnel in the schools of the County, setting up the salary scale for Bachelor's degree teacher beginning with the first year of experience at $3,900 and advancing at designated steps to a maximum of $5,700 in the thirteenth year of experience and beyond. This action was taken after official agreement by the County Commissioners to support a professional salary scale $700 in excess of the State salary.

The Board took action to approve the recommendations of the superintendent regarding the Supervisory Staff naming John F. Wooden, Gerald E. Richter, Mrs. Margaret M. Bailer, Mrs. Josephine West, Philip S. Royer, Mae Prince (part time), Ruth E. DeVore, and Charles E. Reek, as Supervisors in the field of Instruction. The Board also designated Mave E. Grimes, Supervisor of Pupil Personnel, and Evelyn V. Maus, Visiting Teacher. These assignments were approved for the 1953-54 school year.

Teaching contracts were approved for new teachers as follows for service in 1953-54: Louise Clark, Thomas Moseley, Helen V. Linthicum, Mrs. Margaret Reifsnnyder Gloria Lee Jones, JoAnn Zimmerman, William E. Morrison, Nancy Lindsay, and Rachel Hamp, and Mrs. Dorothy B. Lowman.

Resignations were accepted from Carolyn Snyder, Westminster High School; and John W. McGill, Westminster High School.

Some time was devoted to a discussion of the offering of special programs in high schools, including driver training education and music. It was noted that these offerings result in a certain percentage of excess teacher time.

The Board was notified that negotiations were under way toward securing prices and bids on fuel oil, coal, janitor's supplies, and material of instruction for the school year 1953-54.

Approval was given to the minutes of the April meeting and the bills payable during the month.

The Board adjourned with the understanding that a special meeting would probably be necessary to consider a number of miscellaneous administrative items which were deferred.

let me talk to you about

Worm Control

It's essential to control poultry worms during the laying season. They can cause unthrifty production and increased disease. Do not let these parasites rob you of egg profits.

My Recommendation:

Keep up a regular control program with a complete wormer—Dr. Salsbury's Wormal. Gets all 3 important types (tapeworms, large roundworms, cecal worms). Use granule form for flock treatment, tablets for individual birds. Ask for Wormal and other poultry-health aids here.

Minority Report

Lesson for May 18, 1958

"SUCH popularity must be deserved." "Fifty million Frenchmen can't be wrong." "The voice of the people is the voice of God." They aren't necessarily so, such slogans as these. Popularity may be no more than the effect of clever but dishonest advertising. Fifty million Frenchmen, or Americans, or what have you, can be and sometimes have been as wrong as sin. The voice of the people can be the voice of the devil. To be sure, the majority may be right some of the time, even most of the time. But it is no infallible guide, and it's a wise man that knows when the minority report is the right one.

God's Examination Day

Indeed, the ability to detect the truth, even when it is in a minority report, has sometimes been God's way of sifting, of testing, his people. There is an interesting Old Testament story which tells of one of these examination days of God sets for men now and then. The people of Israel, set free from Egypt, had been in the wilderness a little over a year. They had been given the Law, they had what we would call an organized church, they had a military organization. All was set now for the actual march into Canaan, the promised land. Under God's inspiration, Moses takes precautions first. He sends twelve leading men in to "spy out the land," perhaps the first "intelligence" section of any army recorded in history. They stayed in Canaan for nearly six weeks, without any secrecy. (Passing as Egyptians they would attract no attention in the Canaan of that era.) They came back with one unanimous report: Canaan was a country well worth the conquest, and the conquest would not be easy. At that point the unanimity stopped. The tricky part of any report is the recommendations. The majority recommended: Don't attempt to enter Canaan. Too much fighting, certain defeat. A little minority of two, two against ten, recommended: We can do it by God's help, if we will; so let it be done! Choosing between those two reports was God's examination for the whole people—and they failed. For they thought the majority report was right.

The Wisdom of Faith

A majority report nearly always sounds right, and this one did. It was a shrewd analysis of an obvious risky situation. But it was wrong. For the minority report brought in by Joshua and Caleb had a different kind of wisdom, the wisdom of faith. Now it takes faith to see the wisdom of faith; and that is why, to those without it, faith so often looks like sheer foolishness and even idiocy. It is a test of faith, to begin with, to see that a minority can ever be right. Left to our natural selves, we make wisdom a matter of arithmetic, right and wrong a matter of counting noses. We wait, before making up our minds, till we see which way the bandwagon is headed, and then we jump aboard. True faith asks first, What is right? What does God say? and not What do people say? What does the biggest crowd think?

Counting God In

The wisdom of faith, now in our time as in the time of Joshua, has confidence enough in God always to count him in. Most Americans believe in God, so the polls say. But most Americans make plans, large or small, without any thought of God, precisely as if he did not exist. That majority report of the ten timid spies never mentioned God at all. Maybe they just forgot him entirely. Maybe they thought he had worn himself out getting the people out of Egypt. Anyway, their plans and recommendations had no room for him. The minority report, with the wisdom of faith, included five little words (in our English translation) that made all the difference: "The LORD is with us." The people could not believe that . . . and so they died without ever setting foot on Canaan's soil. It takes faith to count God in to your plans and your hopes. It takes faith to believe that what God wants done, can be done. The test of faith is not the sure thing, the project that can't miss. The test of faith is not the bright day but the dark one. Jesus himself once spoke of a time when men would faint with fear and foreboding of what is coming on the world. Then, he said, then, lift up your heads!
