SOCIAL SECURITY STATISTICS GIVEN

National, State and Local Figures Presented

Old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits are being paid to 4,014 in Carroll County at the rate of $2,404,080, a year, according to Laurie J. Gillespie, Field Representative of the Baltimore (North) Social Security District Office.

"This is an increase of about 32% over last year," Mr. Gillespie said.

Our studies have shown that many of these aged people, widows, and orphans have little or no other resources," he pointed out. "For something like 9%, social security benefits, received as an earned right, are the only cash income."

Mr. Gillespie also stressed that while the benefits are intended primarily as basis for individual economic security, the payment of social security benefits at the rate of $200-$340, a month in Carroll County helps business generally because most of the money is spent immediately on food, clothing, and other necessities.

"This is especially important in a time of economic recession," he said. "Social security benefits are being paid nationally at a rate of more than 8 billion dollars annually."

Payments to a retired worker average about $65 per month, Mr. Gillespie said. The average for a widow with two young children is $145. The maximum payment for a retired couple is $162.80 a month, and the maximum for a family is $200.

"There were several reasons for the increase in benefits over last year," he said. One was the payment of benefits to people who were brought under the law for the first time in recent years—self-employed farmers, for example. Other reasons for the increase were the reduction in the retirement age to 62 for women and the starting of disability insurance benefits to disabled people 50 or over.

The Representative agreed that one factor in the increase may be the business recession. "I'm sure some older people who would have preferred to keep on working have been forced to retire because of the general business conditions," he said. "Also some mothers may be getting survivors insurance benefits for themselves as well as their children because they have lost jobs as a result of the recession."

Many of these people would have been forced to turn to public assistance as soon as they exhausted their unemployment insurance rights, Mr. Gillespie said. The result would have been a further increase in public welfare costs, costs which are paid out of general taxation.

For the entire State of Maryland, social security payments at the end of 1957 were being paid to 149,022 beneficiaries at the rate of $8,066,700 per month.

LUTHERAN CHURCH WOMEN MEET

The United Lutheran Church Women had a picnic supper Wednesday evening at 6:30 in the Sunday School rooms. The chairman, Mrs. Norman Sauble, with her committee served a fine meal. After the supper the regular meeting with the leaders, Mrs. Cora Weant Dutera and Miss Mary Reindollar was held. The scripture was read by Mrs. Harry Forney and Mrs. Dutera offered prayer. Miss Reindollar had part in presenting the topic "Ministry to People With Leprosy," vocal solo "In the Beautiful Garden of Prayer" by Miss Hazel Hess accompanied Miss Edith Hess. There was a question and answer period as to what leprosy is by Mrs. Dutera and Mrs. A. D. Alexander. Mrs. Margaret E. Nulton told of what the Lutheran church is doing for the leprosy victims in India and Africa.

"There are two outstanding developments in the leprosy work, first the successful use of the new drugs, which have greatly improved the patient's chance of recovery, especially in young people. The second outstanding development is the increasing recognition that leprosy, even though infectious, is the least infectious of all communicable diseases."

The Thankoffering service was in charge of Mrs. Gorge Martell and Mrs. Harry Forney. A vocal solo "The Old Rugged Cross" by Miss Jane Golds, accompanied Miss Hazel Hess.

NEW MIRACLES IN THE MAKING

The agricultural revolution, far from being spent, is just beginning. The past 50 years have seen hand and horse labor disappearing from the fields, trends today indicate that the future will bring complete mechanization and precision control of nearly all farmstead operations.

This forecast comes from Earl D. Anderson, president of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. As he sees it, four major trends are now in being: mechanization of farm chores and materials handling; providing proper environmental conditions for livestock; storing and processing crops for a marketing profit, and strong emphasis on quality control of farm products.

Of these four, he considers the first is probably the more important. In his words: "The farmer who steps down from his tractor equipped with finger-tip control of the hydraulic mechanism is loathe to feed his cattle with a bushel basket." And this farmer no longer needs to do chores the old hard way. The engineers have developed all manner of highly efficient machines to take the place of human muscle and more are coming.

President Eisenhower has pointed out that farm productivity per man hour has actually doubled since 1940, and this increase is as great as the total increase between 1820 and 1940. Mechanized equipment, electricity, improved fertilizers and pesticides, these are forces that have transformed farming to an almost miraculous degree. And new miracles are in the making.—Industrial News Review.

DROWNINGS ON FARMS

Drowning is the second leading cause of farm fatalities, according to a recently published government study. This has caused the Red Cross to list 12 "safe tips" for farm pond owners. Here they are:

Small children should always swim under adult supervision. All pond users should be able to swim well enough to take care of themselves. Floats and rafts should be stable and securely anchored. Equipment for rescuing persons in trouble, such as ropes and buoys, should be readily available. Some one in the family should be capable of giving artificial respiration. The water supply should be approved by the local health department and periodically checked for contamination. If practical, the pond should be fenced, with a locked gate. Make sure the bottom of the pond is cleared of debris and obstacles. Mark off deep water and unsafe swimming areas with post or floats. Inner tubes and air mattresses are unreliable—it is too easy to fall off them, and they may float away or become deflated. Never swim alone—even the best swimmer can get into trouble. General water safety education should be arranged for all users of ponds.

There's nothing expensive or difficult about these suggestions. Following them can pay huge dividends in the most irreplaceable of all coins—human life.—Industrial News Review.

"Blue Cross has been wonderful for my family!"

says Betty Jane Reed, Teller,
 Farmers and Mechanics-Citizens National Bank, Frederick

"Everyone in my family has reason to be grateful to Blue Cross. Just a few months ago, for example, my husband was hospitalized for 10 days. Blue Cross covered the bill in full. And we didn't have to file a claim or wait for reimbursement, either. Blue Cross handled everything—automatically."

Blue Cross provides care rather than cash, paying the hospital directly for services covered by your membership. Ask your employer how you can join. Or call the Blue Cross office listed in your telephone directory.

SCIENTISTS BELIEVE IN GOD

The conflict between science and religion is not as pronounced as it has been—even the conflict of recent years. The great in either field have been more or less tolerant toward the great in the other field. They have learned that God is paramount in both the realm of religion and of science. Science is finding out how God works in the material universe, and religion is finding God.

The most bitter opponents in science and in religion have been, and still are, not the most prominent and scholarly in their respective field, but instead, the mediocre. The more one knows the less he thinks he knows.

There is a newly published book, "The Evidence of God in an Expanding Universe", which is interesting, enlightening, and thought-provoking. This volume is published in connection with the International Geophysical Year of which we are in the midst. More than sixty nations are taking part, and thousands of scientists from all over the world, are searching out the "mysteries" of our universe.

In the book, The Evidence of God in an Expanding Universe, forty American scientists give their answers to the question—"Is there a God?" While their discussions vary in thought, style, and approach, they all arrive at the same conclusion, There is a God.

A knowledge of the various arguments and of their conclusions should eliminate the fear and horror which some parents have in sending their sons and daughters to college, lest the instruction they receive make moral derelicts of them, and they become religious skeptics.

In a book, The Bible and Common Sense, whose copyright bears the date 1924, the well-known author Basis King, says: "I am willing to hazard the guess that in nine out of every ten cases of those who in after life become agnostics or indifferentists, the seed of skepticism was sown by nurses, mother, and Sunday school teachers who tried to impart what they never understood."

Many scientists who were not humble from the beginning of their scientific career have grown very humble in the process of their research and discoveries. They found not only how God works in the material world, but they have found God Himself in their own experiences.

Some of the most outstanding pagan thinkers of our modern day, and who in the zenith of life, left God out of their scientific research, came to announce before their death, that the universe cannot possibly be explained without the recognition of a Supreme Being, a God.

BLUE SHIELD MEMBERSHIP REACHES 500,000

Membership in Maryland's Blue Shield Plan now total more than 500,000, it was announced recently by R. H. Dabney, executive director of the state-wide plan.

Blue Shield is the plan which helps subscribers to prepay the cost of surgical, medical and obstetrical care.

Since the Maryland Plan was first organized in 1951, membership has been growing at a rapid rate until now, in its seventh year of service to the community, nearly 50% of Maryland's million Blue Cross subscribers are enrolled in Blue Shield.

In announcing this milestone in Blue Shield enrollment, Mr. Dabney pointed out that the Maryland Plan now ranks 23rd in size of the 72 Blue Shield Plans throughout the United States and Canada. Nationally, more than 41 million are members of Blue Shield Plans.

"The enrollment of 500,000 Marylanders in Blue Shield is evidence of the public's interest in comprehensive health care protection," Mr. Dabney stated. "In our first year of operations, Blue Shield paid $1 million for 21,000 subscribers receiving care. During 1957, benefits for services amounted to more than $5 million and the number of subscribers receiving benefits rose to 81,000."

Over these past seven years, non-profit Blue Shield has paid more than $18 million in benefits for subscribers. For the first six months of 1958, Blue Shield has paid for more than 63,600 services for subscribers. More than 28,700 of these services were surgical — inpatient, outpatient, and home and office — close to 8,000 were medical, over 5,000 maternity and the remaining 21,800 were ancillary services.

"Maryland Blue Shield is constantly seeking ways to improve the Plan," Mr. Dabney added. "To keep pace with the community's demand for the broadest protection, Blue Shield introduced a second program during 1957. The new program offers subscribers higher benefits for medical, surgical, obstetrical and a wide range of other services." He concluded, "As medical science develops, bringing even better health care to the community, Blue Shield will continue to provide the broadest protection to Marylanders at the lowest possible cost."

REPORT FROM YOUR GUARD

August rolls around again and we will bid adieu to Westminster and surrounding communities on August 13th in order to take up residence for 15 days at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, homebase of the 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard. Just in passing—for the information of anyone who does not know of our existence in Westminster, let me brief you.

The National Guard Unit that is stationed in Westminster, Maryland is Battery "C" of the 110th Field Artillery Battalion, 115th Infantry Regimental Combat Team, 29th Infantry Division, Maryland National Guard, with headquarters at Pikeville, Md.

Battery "C" will go to camp this year with seven officers and sixty-six enlisted men. These were people who you may work with or live next door to. These young men take time out from civilian life to prepare themselves, if needed, to help protect and defend you and your country. It takes some time and a lot of field training to bring a unit up to top performance. Battery "C" has been an outstanding unit in past years at camp and we will try to keep it a top unit.

This year we take with us four 105 MM Howitzers and about 16 motor vehicles of various sizes, from Jeeps to 2 1/2 ton trucks—a far cry from the horse drawn caissons.

We have our own "Bacon and Eggs" boys—the kitchen section—so you mothers don't fret as to the food—it's pretty good and plenty of it.

The entire camp period will be spent living in the field. It seems that camping is becoming a fast growing vacation pastime all over the nation. Incidentally, a lot of guardsmen will spend their own vacation time during camp. So we are looking forward to a good camp this year. Remember, you friends who write to us at camp, be sure you see our correct address so as not to delay your letters. We'll see you on the 30th.

Silent Sentinel of the Night

Sweet dreams, little princess! While Mother and Dad spend the evening with friends, you are safe. Within reach of your trusted baby-sitter stands the telephone . . . dependable guardian of your welfare . . . ready to carry the word of your slightest whimper. At times like this, it's a wonderfully comforting feeling to know that silent phone means all is well at home. One more reason a telephone helps make living more pleasant for most of us.

BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Leviticus 19:33-37; Deuteronomy 23:7-8; 24:14-15; Matthew 9:9-13; John 4:7-9, 39-41; Galatians 3:26-28.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 10:10-18.

Minorities

Lesson for August 17, 1953

THE Bible is a man's book. But that's not all. The Bible is a property-owner's book, it is a book for the "dominant classes" of society. This does not mean it is not for everybody. But the fact is, the laws and the letters and indeed most of the Bible, you will discover when you read it carefully, is addressed to people who are in positions of authority. It is all the more remarkable, therefore, and a sign that the Bible is inspired by something besides the wishes of the dispossessed—all the more remarkable that the Bible writers speak out clearly on behalf of the depressed classes, the little people, the people who could not speak for themselves, the people who probably could neither read nor write and of course had no Bibles themselves.

Dr. Foreman wishes of the dispossessed—all the more remarkable that the Bible writers speak out clearly on behalf of the depressed classes, the little people, the people who could not speak for themselves, the people who probably could neither read nor write and of course had no Bibles themselves.

The Stranger

In ancient times everybody belonged somewhere. People did not move about from city to city, from farm to farm, as they do here. In America, on the average, every family moves once every five years. In ancient Palestine a family would stay in one locality for 500 years, wars and pestilence permitting. Strangers were not (as with us often) interesting people, to be invited out and "cultivated." Strangers were under suspicion—what would a man be doing so far from home? The strangers in any land were a voiceless, voteless, disorganized minority. Yet God commanded the Hebrew majorities to remember that they themselves were strangers once in Egypt, and to take special care of strangers in their own land.

The Hired Man

Some hired men are stable members of the community. They contribute to its welfare in various ways besides doing their jobs well. But there are workers who drift about, sometimes in large numbers. Last winter many thousands of migrant workers were stranded in heatless sheds in Florida's sensational cold spell. Their work was gone, they had no place to live, no hope of earning anything until crops farther north began to ripen. Such workers are another minority group. They do not stay in any one place long enough even for the children to get started in school. If one of them dies it will be hardly mentioned in the paper. Whatever happens to them, many respectable people think, "Oh, it's only one of those tramp workers."

Does your community give any kind of recognition or help to migrant workers? Do cotton-pickers, bean-pickers, summer hired help, have any place to go in your community? Do Christians have any responsibilities for them?

The Disrespectables

Everybody is a sinner. But some people are outrageous sinners, and they are another minority. A pessimist might say that you have to be a pretty outrageous sinner to be worse-than-average enough to be noticed. Such were the tax-collectors or "publicans" of the New Testament. They were "bloodsuckers" and everybody knew it. For a present-day Christian, the minority corresponding to these "sinners" would be the classes the church generally gives up, washes its hands of, forgets: boys in reformatories, for example, men in the penitentiary, ex-convicts. Jesus was accused of having too much to do with such people. Is your church more like Jesus, or more like the Pharisees, in its attitude toward them?

No Lines Drawn

We have minorities outside the church. What about minorities inside it? Does the church have second-class members as certain states and countries have second-class citizens? St. Paul mentions what were then the sharpest lines dividing men from men—Jew from Gentile, slave from free man, male from female; and he tells us such lines do not belong in the Christian church. They should never be drawn. Any church setting limits or qualifications to its membership which were not drawn by Christ and his apostles, raises at once a fair question: Is this any longer a Christian church?

The Board considered a number of maintenance items in connection with repairs, modifications and improvements to existing buildings.
The attention of the Board was called to a state meeting for members of School Boards throughout the State to be held in Baltimore October 2, 3, 4.
Members were given a brief report regarding progress in arrange-ing transportation for 1958-59 and progress in connection with the preparation of a handbook of rules and regulations. It is expected that the handbook will be published in the early part of the school year.

Announcement was made regarding the meetings planned for orientation and preparation for the 1958-59 school year, including a meeting of principals and supervisory staff on Monday, Aug. 25; special meetings for selected groups on Tuesday, Aug. 26; conferences for new teachers on Wednesday, Aug. 27; regular annual meetings for all teachers, Thursday, Aug. 28. The latter meeting will be held in the newly completed Westminster Junior High School. All teachers have been directed to be available in their respective school on the afternoon of Aug. 28 and throughout the day on Aug. 29. Official opening of public schools is set for Tuesday, Sept. 2, when an enrollment in excess of 10,000 pupils is expected. Board Members were invited to be present for any of the meetings.

The Board directed the superintendent to take whatever steps are necessary to insure an orderly and effective opening on September 2nd. The cooperation of parents and citizens is, of course, greatly appreciated. The Board adjourned at 11:30 a. m.
