SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Launches Drive Children's Safety

School age children comprise 14 per cent of the pedestrians killed each year in traffic accidents, Mr. Robert L. Leese, Westminster Branch Manager of the A.A.A. said today in urg-ing motorists to drive carefully around school areas.

"Now that school is open again,"
Mr. Leese said, "the streets of most communities will be crowded with youngsters going to and from their classes. It is up to the motorist to watch out for these youngsters, many of whom are just learning the funda-mentals of traffic safety."

The AAA Club Official said that a safety poster on the theme, "School's Open—Drive Carefully", will soon make its appearance on state streets. It will be attached to telephone poles that the street lights by the Maryland and street lights by the Maryland State Police in rural areas and local police within the city. He urged motorists to heed its advice.

Throughout the nations, said Mr. Leese, some 131,000 copies of the poster will be distributed and posted by AAA Clubs. The new posters, designed by Patricia Madara, a 17-year-old student in the 12th grade of Notre Dame High School, Moylan, Pa., was a first prize winner in the American Automobile Association's 1958 National Traffic Safety Poster Contest. The prize was awarded by a panel of nationally-known judges.

In addition to the posters, thousands of City and State vehicles, as well as those of many business concerns will carry a "School's Open— Drive Carefully" bumper sticker as a safety reminder to all motorists.

MEN WHO KNOW FARMING BEST

Many non-farm people undoubtedly think that practically all farmers are in favor of farm subsidies and the government's other aids to agri-

However, as the New York Herald Tribune observes editorially: "The men who know farming best are not nearly as keen for federal subsidies as the farm-bloc congressmen are."

This view was prompted by a poll which Farm Journal, the leading farm monthly, conducted among its readers. It found that half of the American farmers want the government to get entirely out of agriculture-"lock, stock, and subsidy" And another 11 per cent want less government aid than at present.

This is not so surprising as it may seem to some. For one thing, the subsidies are limited to the six socalled basic crops. Many farmers get no aid at all. The subsidy program has been of greatest financial benefit to the big corporation-type farms, rather than the family farms.

For another, over the years some of the most successful crops have been produced and sold strictly in a free-supply-and-demand market. Meat is the outstanding example. It is the largest source of cash to farmers by far. It can be produced on farms in all parts of the country, and of every size. The livestock producers have had plenty of downs as well as ups, but they have always opposed government control, subsidy and intervention. And, all in all, season in and season out, they have done well, not only in money, but in keeping their freedom and independence.

ALL SET FOR INFLATION

Barring another shooting war, the greatest problem this country must deal with is further depreciation of the dollar.

The stage is all set for a massive new round of inflation. This year's federal deficit is expected to reach $10 billion. It may be much more.

Inflation can be compared to war in its destructive capabilities. It wipes out savings. If it goes far enough it can lead to internal disorder on a vast scale and even to revo-Iution. It can produce dictatorship and the death of all freedoms. It can bring on economic collapsewhich is what our communist enemies are hoping for.

Labor and business are asked to show restraint in the important matters of wages and prices. This is certainly needed. But the foremost need of all can only be supplied by government. Unbridled government spending, accompanied as it must be of all inflationary forces. It bears cut by half since 1940. A government which attempts to be everything | will." to all its people, and do everything for all its people, is a government that can ruin all its people.

A long list of example could be cited. A typical one is parcel post. It is not a basic postoffice function. It does not advance the cause of public information and enlightenment, as do other postoffice functions. It is purely a commercial undertaking. It competes directly with private, taxpaying parcel carriers on a national, regional and local scale. And as the Hoover Commission and other authoritative bodies have pointed out-it operates at a deficit.

This simply means that you pay part of the bills for those who use parcel post service. With the prospect of staggering federal deficits, and increased spending, it's pretty hard to find any sound argument against increasing parcel post rates to the point where revenues balance the costs, both airect and indirect .- Industrial News Review.

FACTS AND FICTION

A bill to protect states rights against Federal encroachment passed the House with ease-by a 241-to-155 vote. It was inspired by Supreme Court decisions invalidating state laws on the grounds that Federal statutes covering the same subject matter gave the Federal government exclusive jurisdiction. The bill permits Federal preemption only when Congress explicitly so provide or when there is an irreconcilable conflict between the Federal and state laws concerned.

But it canand Mrs. Elmer LeGore and other not be argued whether money, in point of fact, does or does not of it-The Church of God will hold their Gertie Ridinger on Thursday afternot bring happiness. Yet, in the face Mrs. Sarah Zerhe, Pine Grove, Pa, of this universal truth, the whole public behaves exactly as if money were the sole or the principle preliminary to happiness. The public does not reason, and it will not listen to reason, for its blood is up in the money hunt, and the philosopher might just as well expostulate with an earthquake as to try to take the public by the buttonhole and explain. If a man sacrifices his interests under the will of some dead social tyrant in order to marry whom he wishes or an English minister of religion declines 25 thousand dollars a year to go into exile and preach to New York millionaires, the phenomenon is genuinely held to be so astounding that it at once flies right around the world in the form of exclamatory newspaper articles! In an age when such an attitude towards money is sincere, it is positively dangerous to persist with loud obstinacy that money, instead of being the greatest, is the least thing in the world. In times of high military excitement a man may be ostracised if not lynched for uttering opinions which everybody will accept as truisms a couple years later, and thus the wise philosopher holds his tongue, lest it be cut off. So at the height of a period when the possession of money in absurd masses is an infallible means to general respect, I have no intention either of preaching or practising quite all that privately believe in the matter of riches. Footnote: This bit of philosophy is not our own writing but was taken from an article written in 1910. We will be greatly surprised if a few readers cannot name the writer.

In the popular movie "Gigi", there is a song titled "I'm glad I'm not young anymore." It is a song that everyone growing old should sing and mean. For its so pathetic for individuals to try to hang on to youth when they could be so happy in accepting the fact that growing old is a time to be happy, too. Why is it that, generally speaking, most people hate to grow old? Is it because they won't accept the truth that each stage in life has some-thing to offer. Who really wants to be sixteen again with all the timidity and uncertainty of the teens? If you do, you only cheat yourself. As a woman said to me the other day: "Its too bad that it takes us so long to learn how to live. When we know how, our time is almost gone." That is true, but the saddest thing is the fact some people never learn. They live too long in just one stage.

A few days ago my wife and I returned from vacationing. Before our leaving, a person said, it is nice to be able to take a vacation. I replied, yes, and only the rich can afford it. By the time we had returned, I found out that I had spoken better than I knew, that it was not so much a jest as a reality.

Along nearly every highway, there are, motels and more motels. They are more numerous than service stations. And all of them seem to be doing business, for America is on wheels. People are on the move whether they know where they are going or not. Motels have hurt the hotels as the automobile and bus have ruined railroad pasenger ser-

Prices of motel rooms vary as also does the service and accommodations. However, it isn't the most expensive motel that renders the best service or has the most accommodations. The proprietors or managers of some of them seem to be in the business to earn a livelihood and with the comfort and consideration of their guests in mind; there are others in the business whose primary aim seems to be to make money.

In North Carolina three per cent sales tax is added to the price of the room, and which also stares one in the face at every meal, while two per cent is the rate in Maryland. How good one feels when he goes in-10% of cost of the meal. The trip took us over the following routes: 70, 64, 158, 220, 11, 211, 522, 3, 218, 301, 50, 13, and 7.

Some of the more important cities visited or passed were Winston- Salem, Madison, N. C.; Martinsville, Roanoke, Staunton, Harrisonbburg, New Market, Luray, Culpeper, Fred-ericksburg, Va.; Delmar; Cambridge, Salisbury, Princess Anne, Pocomoke City, Md.; Norfolk, Va. Elizabeth City, Edenton, Williamston, Tarboro, Rocky Mount, Raleigh, and other cities from Raleigh along Route 70 to Glen Alpine, N. C.

On Route 301, we crossed the Potomac River Bridge where the toll was one dollar. From Route 50, we entered the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, which according to the automobile speedometer is 4½ miles long, and here the toll was $1.50. On our return, we crossed the ferry from Kiptopeke Beach to Little Creek, near Norfolk. The distance across the ferry is 21 miles. The time required to cross is one and half hours. In the mornings the boat leaves Kiptopeke Beach every hour at 10 minutes before the hour. We paid $4.65 for the crossing. On the ticket this cost was divided into $3.00 (driver and one passenger), $1.50 for automobile, and 15 cents tax.

It is almost unbelievable how many Greyhound and Trailway buses, commercial trucks, and passenger cars, the ferry boat can carry on a single 30.60 | trip.

The Ocean Highway (including 25.10 Routes 13 and 17) is the direct route 21.00 from New York City to Jacksonville, 19.00 Fla. Negotiations are now in prog-lbs ress to tunnel the Chesapeake Bay 31.00 to $36.00 (21 miles) between Kiptopeake Beach Lambs, good choice 22.75 to 25.00

I have called this article Vacationists' Ramblings, for when we started on our vacation, we had in mind no definite destination. We just started and kept going. One pleasing thing was that the Chevrolet was as keen when we arrived home as it was when we left. In another article, I hope to give additional facts.

Exterior Doors

Remodeling or Building?

Choosing Doors Important Planning Step

Interior Doors

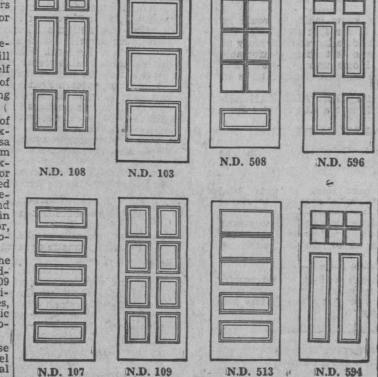

Use care and caution in choosing the type and style of doors if you are planning to build or remodel a house.

The decision is important because a good door generally will last as long as the house itself and becomes an integral part of the architectural and decorating scheme, inside and out.

The drawings show a few of the styles of interior and exterior panel doors of ponderosa pine available in stock from building material dealers. Exterior panel doors come with or without small glass panes called "lights." Panel doors are pre-ferred by many architects and decorators because they come in designs to fit all periods of decor, from traditional to contempofrom traditional to contempo-

For example, N.D. 103 is the popular "Rancho" style for modern interiors. N.D. 107 and 109 are adaptable for either traditional or contemporary homes, while N.D. 108 is an authentic reproduction of a 6-panel Colonial door.

The "N.D." numbers are those used for ponderosa pine panel doors listed in Commercial Standard 120-58 of the U. S. Department of Commerce

Is It Fair?

Lesson for August 31, 1958

EVEN the people who talk most about social justice are often silent about one thing which readers of the Bible will find plainly there: the drink problem. It should be remembered that whiskey was invented long after Bible times. All the warnings about strong drink, in the Bible, are about wine and the equivalent of beer, the "lighter' liquors. The passage from Proverbs gives a vivid picture of personal trouble caused by such liquors. Daniel Dr. Foreman gives the story of the first totalabstinence society on record, an outstanding success on a health basis. Habakkuk the prophet lines up "giving his neighbor drink" right along with stealing and murder. Paul puts the whole thing in a new light: the truth of Christian brotherhood.

Ask A Modern-Day Question: It Is Fair?

All of which raises the same question, in various ways. Isn't the use of liquor, as it is done in the United States in this 20th century, a very obvious example of social injustice? Social justice, we may remember, is just carrying into all relationships the spirit and principle of the Golden Rule. It is being fair to all concerned

But is it fair to give a lame person a shove? Is it fair to put a stumbling block in front of the blind? Alcoholics are called "sick" and alcoholism a disease But it is a fact that it ranks fourth in ail the diseases of our nation. Alcoholasm would never get a start without the background of social drinking. No drug used by "addicts" gets mearly as many people into trouble as does alcohol. Is it fair to give the weak as much of a push downhill as American society

Peliceman's Friday Night Offers Insight Into Problem

A young minister spent his Friday nights, one summer, riding around with policemen in squad cars. With very few exceptions, fine calls for help were due to drink. Family quarrels, thefts (to get money for liquor), beatings, rapes, and murders: all starting from a few friendly drinks. This young man came to the conclusion that the money put into that city's treasury by liquor licenses was more than matched by the money staken out of treasury and private funds to pay for the damage the liquor creates. It is true, that city claims to be the "whiskey capital of America:" but the reader is invited to look around in his own town and figure the cost to the taxpayers of troubles caused by alcohol. Is it fair?

Movie Make-Believe Paints Problem in Wrong Color

Movies sometimes do the same kind of harm. Some years ago there was a popular series of movies featuring a husband and wife who were married both on the screen and off. In all their pictures they were a gay, happy couple. He drank "like a fish" and she drank with him and it never seemed to affect either of them. (How could it? Stage liquor is like stage money-a weak imitation of the real thing.) Not long after that, the papers reported that this actress had divorced her charming Prince Barleycorn. And for what? Doing in real life what he was paid to pretend doing in pictures: drink when he felt like it. Reel life and real life were vastly different.

YOUR NAME-MAN AND HIS BODY

Man shall always have a body in which to stay,
Because, he needs a body, to do things God's way;
He is God's Eyes, His ears, feet and hands So, through him, God carries out all of His plans.

Take Jesus, as your Pattern, to study God's plan;
As God worked through Him, so He works through man;
The things Jesus did seem impossible to you and me;
But, just so, God intends we all shall be.

You have had many names since you became a man; But, that is contrary to Gods great plan; We came here, like Him, to learn to be; And, to make ourselves fit for Eternity.

You may not even know, you are a son of God; But, that is the lineage of all on the sod; He sends us here, like Him, to learn to be; For, through us, He shall reign in Eternity.

No matter how many bodies you have had on earth, To God, it is the same you, at every birth; Because, He is your Father and, depends on you To help Him make this old earth new.

Before I attach D. D., or Ph. D., to my name,
I should know who I am and whence I came;
For, of all the great Leaders on the earth,
The ones who deserved it were of human birth.

2000 years ago, men only had one name—
(No other title did they seek or claim!)—
Peter, John, Samuel, James and St. Paul
Simply gave them distinction—(that was all!)

Even Jesus, our Great Redeemer, only had one name—
(Through the greatest of all, no title did He claim)
God did it to teach a lesson to you and me;
For, we all belong in His Great family.

Take the greatest Presidents of the U.S. A., Not one of them had a title they say; Who they were, not even their own parents knew; For, God sent them here, His work to do.

Washington and Lincoln had no title, they say;
But, they listened to God; and did things His way;
So, God sent them both as Leaders to be
To make this country great and free.

Just so things are, every place we look—
Our greatest men are not titled in any book!);
So, it looks like God chooses "Who is Who";
And, sends the right fellow here, His work to do.

"Ask me, concerning my sons", said He—(Let me be the judge of their excellency"!)
Some show merely to all; and, no honor claim;
So, a halo of glory surrounds their name.

As things were in the past, so we find them today, Those who know least have the most to say; But, such conditions, must cease to be In a land so rich and so great as America.

According to the papers, this great land of ours
Shall soon be a haven of boulevards and flowers—
Except for road markings— (even to-day!)
You can't tell the States apart, many say.

And, that is how God wants all countries to be—
America is His model for all people to see;
So, here He intends they all must go
That, more about His plan they may learn to know.

That our country is far from perfect, we all know—
(The many different tongues make progress slow);
But, in Time, every mortal on the sod
Shall know who he is, and give thanks to God.

God first sent the Indians here to guard the place
Which He had reserved for the whole human race,
Now He sends all races to learn of His plan
To make the whole earth a heaven for man,

Modern inventions, according to Gods plan, Shall make this earth a heaven for man; Distant places shall only be hours away. When the airplane is perfect, inventors say.

Just so, conditions here, they say, shall be About the time of earth's great jubilee; For, God intends, the whole earth a Fairyland shall be, At the end of Time and through all Eternity.

At the very dawn, they tell us, of that promised Day Mother Earth shall doff her cloak of Grey; In a garment of Blue she shall greet every clan To usher in the Brotherhood of man.

When the Time arrives for Earth's great jubilee, Every country, they tell us, like America shall be; Man shall compass both land and sea; And, Jesus shall be our king, in Eternity.

America is the youngest of the Nations on earth; God waited, for ages, to give it birth; So, the best part of my story remains to be told About our "New Earth", and its streets of gold.

These are things we all should think about— Both those who come here, and those who go out; For, as America is, the whole earth shall be When it and man are made fit for Eternity.

A light-color roof and a properly ventilated attic can make air conditioning far more comfortable and economical.

omfortable and economical.

The light-color roofing—such as a white or pastel roof of asphalt shingles—reflects much of the sun's heat, keeping it outside.

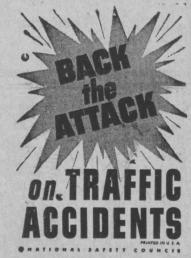

In many parts of the country, home owners who have installed in their country and their country are their country. home owners who have installed air-conditioning systems in their present houses have reroofed with white asphalt shingles because of their heat-reflecting quality, even when their old roofs were in good condition.

Many architects who design air-conditioned houses specify white asphalt shingles on the roof as a standard practice.

A properly ventilated attice.

A properly ventilated attic prevents a "build-up" of heat under the roof by eletting it escape outside through louvers in the gable ends.

GETTYSBURG. PA.

Is this your year to move? Whether it's a trek to the suburbs, or to a larger place across town, there are always a lot of problems on moving day. While the movers are loading the truck, pack two baskets to take with you in the car. One should contain a delicious lunch with paper plates and cups to eat when you arrive at the new home. The other should have a supply of soap and towels for the bathroom, also sponges and a box of Spic and Span, the special no-rinse cleaner for floors and walls, so you can get the kitchen and bathroom clean in a matter of min-utes. Every member of the family will appreciate having the bathroom in order to freshen up between the moving day chores. There's no need to clutter up the kitchen or bathroom floor with two pails—one filled with clear water for rinsing and the other with suds—when you do your weekly cleaning routine. It's so much easier to do it the modern way. Just dissolve the special cleaner for floors and painted surfaces in your bright-colored pail, dip a mop-into it, squeeze almost dry, and wipe up the floor in a jiffy. There's no need for rinsing withthis cleaner so the floor dries fast and you can walk on it or wax it almost immediately. This method is the kind and safe way to treat linoleum, vinyl or other modern tile since too much water sloshed around the floor may be harmful to the adhesive. And what's more, it cuts scrubbing time in half.

Is your house up for sale? Remember first impressions are vital and, according to real estate salesmen, the prospective woman buyer always inspects the kitchen thoroughly while the man is more interested in the basement or utility room. The kitchen should be kept band-box clean at all times and the floor particularly should have a just-washed look. The floor and all the equipment and cabinets can be kept in sparkling condition with a quick wipe with a sponge dipped out of the special no-rinse cleaning solution. With freshly-laundered curtains and all dishes and other utensils put away to achieve an uncluttered look, the kitchen should pass inspection with flying colors.
