The "farmer" search is aimed at honoring the community's agriculturalists who have made exceptional career progress without neglecting good conservation practices or responsible roles in community life.

All farmers aged 21-35, not becoming 36 during 1958, are eligible for nomination. Nominees may be land owners or renters. The local search is part of a nation-wide effort now taking place in some 150 American communities. After community judging, Jaycees will enter Taneytown's winner in the state finals. He will be eligible to represent the state in national competition and may win an all-expense trip to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, next April for the national awards program. There, America's Four Outstanding Young Farmers of 1958 will be selected and honored. Nomination blanks are available through any Jaycee or by calling PLymouth 6-3554.

CARROLL COUNTY DIVIDES ITS VOTE

Seven Republicans and Eight Democrats Elected

Carroll Countians divided their votes Tuesday by electing seven Republicans and eight Democrats and supporting GOP candidates for U.S. Senate and state comptroller while backing the opposition for governor, attorney general and Congress.

Republicans elected were one representative to the Maryland House of Delegates, two county commissioners, county treasurer, sheriff, register of wills, and one judge of Orphans' Court. Democrats elected were state senator, three representa-tives to the House of Delegates, one county commissioner, clerk of courts, and two judges of Orphans' Court. Candidates for state's attorney and surveyor were supported by both parties. The absentee ballots will be opened and counted today (Thursday) and these will change the total votes

Carroll Countians supported J. Glenn Beall, incumbent Republican, in his successful campaign against Thomas D'Alesandro for return to the U. S. Senate by a vote of 8,166 to 4,341, But they turned down Jas. P. S. Devereux's bid for governor by voting 6,754 to 6,149 in support of J. Millard Tawes, successful Democrat.

NEW GOVERNOR

J. Millard Tawes

RE-ELECTED J. Glenn Beall

The voters then crossed party lines again in Carroll County and supported Republican John A. Derr, for comptroller. The vote was Derr, 6,490 and Louis L. Goldstein, 5,510. But they turned right around and support of the su ported C. Ferdinand Sybert, Demoerat, for attorney general by a vote of 6,238 to Robert A. Wallace's 5,526. Democrat Daniel B. Brewster captured Carroll County in his succesful drive for a seat in Congress from the three-County district of Balti-more-Harford-Carroll. The Carroll County vote was Brewster, 6,265 and Fife Symington, 5,723.

Boy Scouts of Troop 348 Taney-town, sponsored by the American Legion, will conduct their regular November drive for scrap newspapers, rags and magazines on Saturday morning, Nov. 8 beginning at 8 o'clock. Besides the rural pick-up list (on which everyone willing to save his paper is invited to place his name), the roads to Mayberry, Crouse's Mill, and Copperville will also be covered.

Following an enoyable Hallowe'en straw ride and party afterwards in the scout hall on Oct. 24 a collection of corrugated fiberboard was made the next day. It was found to be im-practicable as a money-raising plan, however, and will henceforth be discontinued in favor of the regular paper drives, usually the first Saturday of odd-numbered months. The trans-portation assistance of Norman R. Sauble for both these activities was Donald Koontz is patrol leader, Samuel Bower as-sistant, David Hopkins patrol scribe, and the ranks include Terry Bell, Rickey Clingan, Nicholas Hird, and James May. The others are now very near to one another in scoring, namely the Fox patrol (Larry Six leader, Jas. Tracey assistant) standing at 163, the Raccoons (John Myers leader, Byron Baer assistant) 161, and the Flaming Arrows (Rob't Shaffer leader, Wayne Putman assistant) now 160.

At the request of Scribe Stuart Dom the Green-Bar leaders' council proposed that dues slips be handed in by patrol scribes Charles Mason (Flaming Arrows), Ralph Hoffman (Foxes), Hopkins (Panthers), and Gerald Tracey (Raccoons) directly to Troop scribe Dom at the formation following patrol of the control of the contro following patrol sessions, to check on possible omissions of the necessary data these report forms are sup-

Harney Loses Its Most Beloved Citizen

On Tuesday the 28th of October, Miss M. Ruth Snider passed away at the home of her niece, Mrs. Isabel Kalbffeish, in Baltimore. One of the Kalbffeish, in Baltimore. One of the oldest and most loved citizens, Miss Ruth was born in Frederick Co., on a farm near Harney and moved to Harney when a young girl and clerked in her brother Mark Snider Store for a number of years and was noted for her generous gifts of candy to the youngsters. She was a life-long member of St. Paul's Lutheran church and taught a class of young men who served as pallbearers and honorary baearers at her funeral. Miss Ruth was very active in other social affairs such as Red Cross, Children's Aid, Good Will and others. We, the citizens of Harney highly resolve that Miss Ruth's passing is a great loss to Harney and community and loss to Harney and community and we pray that our loss will be her eternal gain; that she is at rest with her Lord whom she was so willing and faithful to serve. She was a correspondent for the Carroll Record for some years.

or heard or seen. This gas has an ing oxygen to the brain. When carbon monoxide and oxygen are breathed at the same time, these cells reject the oxygen in favor of the poison. Even slight exposure can reduce muscle coordination and reaction time below minimum requirements for safety in driving. Heavier concentrations in the blood bring, progressively, extreme drowsiness, unconsciousness, death.

And, no matter how well we know these things, we cannot seem to remember that every operating automobile engine is a complete chemical plant that is continuously generating this deceptively lethal gas.

In an effort to cut the mounting toll of accidents and death from carbon monoxide poisoning, Rayco Manufacturing Company has issued a code of seven rules to protect motorists from this menace whose victims usually increase with the advent of cold weather-when more driving is done with closed windows and it is a greater temptation to "warm up" the motor in the garage with the doors clos-

In addition to this septalog, the Rayco people, through their nationwide chain of franchised stores, are providing free inspection of automobile mufflers and exhaust systems and replacing dangerous, leaky mufflers with new ones without installation charge.

Here are the rules:

1. Keep your engine in good repair to assure complete combustion. (The poorer the combustion, the more carbon monoxide is produced in the exhaust.)

2. When starting the engine be sure the garage door is open.

3. Never work under a car with the engine running.

4. If your car has a leaky manifold, exhaust pipe or muffler, DON'T DRIVE IT. If in doubt, a check-up may avert tragedy. 5. Never drive without at least one window partially open.

6. If you are sleepy, stop at once YOUR DROWSINESS MAY BE CAUSED BY CARBON MONOXIDE. Get out and walk around in the open air. After you get back in the car, drive with all windows open.

7. Don't "tailgate". The exhaust of the car you follow too closely may drift into yours.

If we might be permitted to add a general observation to these aids-tolongevity, it would be that too many of us live like house-plants in the winter. We'd feel better, look better be better we'd button up our overcoats, roll down the windows and get all the outdoors we can when we drive.-U. S. Press Association.

Let's Think

G. H. ENFIELD

LESS FRILLS AND MORE WORK TO GET A DIPLOMA

Teachers who are vitally interested in the future welfare of their students will rejoice to learn of recent movements in many schools across the nation to improve American educa-tion. For many years teachers have felt the need of more time for actual teaching, and less time given to the 'frills' and extra-curricular activities imposed upon them by school officials and authorities. Because of these, like many a housewife, a teacher's work is never done. She works day and is never done. She works day and night, week-end, and holidays.

"In the past few years, throughout the U.S., there has been considerable criticism that American schools are too soft, that they spend too much time on frills and not enough on basic education". So says an article in U.S. News and World Report, of October 3. Parents and teachers alike should read this article: NEW ERA IN CLASSROOMS: IT WILL TAKE MORE WORK NOW TO GET A DIPLOMA". The trend is toward more PLOMA". The trend is toward more work and less play, tougher courses of study and more of them, more emphasis on learning and less on frills, and a tougher attitude toward lazy pupils and the do nothing.

Many schools, in various sections of Many schools, in various sections of the country, are doing something to meet the criticisms of American education. Thousands of students have been permitted, where there were options, to select the easiest courses, the ones which require little study.

Besides an additional year in both English and mathematics in high school in Miami, Florida, examinations are to become more difficult.

tions are to become more difficult. "We want to do away with 'easy' tests that stressed the 'true or false' questions. We're demanding more essay-type questions that force the students to think things out", says assistant superintendent of Miami

School authorities in De Kalb County, Georgia, are putting a stop to the use of school time for extra-curricular activities. Students are reinstead of 16. And only two of these can be "frill" courses. The students are separated into three groups "slow", "average," and "bright".

In Washington, D. C., the school term has been lengthened from 181 to 186 days.

In Arlington, Vivering the schools quired now to take 18 units of study

In Arlington, Virginia, the schools have gone back to the "ABC" style of report cards. The pupils now are to be graded in competition with other pupils instead of being given simply progress reports pupils instead of being given simply progress reports.

Several changes have been made in New York State to raise the school standards. To answer the criticism that New York teachers spend more time in studying methods of teaching than in studying the subject matter they teach, the state has postponed, for the present, courses in education for teachers.

Portland, Oregon, is demanding 15 hours of homework each week.

"The really encouraging thing here", says, the superintendent of schools in Cleveland, Ohio, "is that parents now are pushing their youngsters into taking the tougher courses."

My grandpa says, "You should listen, son, when a person talks, till his talk is done, for you don't know much, and you'll find it best to allow your tongue to take a rest while you hear what others have to say, and you might learn something that's new, that way.

"I've noticed, too, that the smartest men are the men who sit and lis-ten when some long-speeched talker has the floor, or they're buttonholed by some windy bore. They don't talk back while the talks so fast that truth comes tumbing out at last! So you'll learn a lot if you'll just be smart, and with little exertion on your

That's a difficult thing for a man to learn, for we have to talk when it comes our turn. We think too little, and talk too much, and often we get ourselves in "dutch". And to quote the words of my old grandpap, "You don't catch much till you close your trap!"-Ollie Reeves, in Sunshine.

A letter from a friend on the Eastern Shore describes the countryside this time of year. She writes: "We have had wonderful weather without a frost yet. The flowers are still blooming in all their glory and with the trees turning different shades the sight is a beautiful one. The holly trees are full of berries and while they are brown now, later they will be a brilliant red. The pumpkin fields are lovely indeed. Its amazing how beautiful the lowly pumpkin can make a field. They are beginning to take them to the canneries now. The sweet potato crop was a bountiful one and although they are not as pretty as pumpkins when they are plowed out of the ground and placed on piles in the fields they look pretty too. It has been a wonderful year for growing things. Its too had that growing things. Its too bad that we can no longer be satisfied with the simple things that nature gives us and more thankful for the beauty that is all around us."

Salt and Light

Lesson for November 9, 1953

WHAT are the marks of a Christian? It is true, only God sees the heart. "The Lord knoweth them that are his," as the Old Testament says. But we are not God. Have we any way of telling whether a person is a Christian of not? A farmer or a professor of agriculture may be able to tell wheat from rye while it is standing in the field; some city slickers can't do that. But even a person who never set foot off the sidewalks of New wouldn't know either a wheat field or a rye field from a clover patch, knows wheat bread from rye bread. Jesus put it in a nutshell. "By their fruits ye shall know them," he said. A Christian has distinguishing features, he has fruits, he has "marks" by which he may be

Salt of the Earth

Talking not about, but to, his followers, Jesus said to them, "You are the salt of the earth." This is one of the marks of a Christian, it was a mark of Jesus. The Master's way of putting things is always direct, simple, poetic. We can say poetic because Jesus has a preference for figures of speech which can convey truth with more force than if he spelled everything out in long and difficult sentences. "You are the salt of the earth"there it is in words of one syllable.

Salt is an essential, not a luxury. In Jesus' time and even today it is used as a preservative. It keeps things from going bad. There is no substitute for it. So the Christian, wherever he is, in whatever situation, ought to be the kind of person who keeps things from going bad. Every human situation carries in it the germs of evil, and without the saving salt of true Christians, the situation will mold and ferment and grow worse. When a humar.

problem is to be solved, one mark of the Christian is that he is not part of the problem, he is part of the answer

Light of the World

Jesus did not mind mixing metaphors. He loved parables, and a metaphor is just a one-phrase or one-word parable. He would make one point with one parable or figure of speech, and then make his next point with another. So he gives us another one-syllable wordpicture of what Christians should be like. "You are the light of the world," he said. That tells us a great deal.

This world is a dark place. Jesus knew that. He was no Pollyanna, thinking the answer to everything is just to keep smiling. Tears often fit better than smiles, in this world. But still the world can be brighter than it is. Christians sometimes forget this. We sit around and grumble because the world is so dark. Who turned off the lights? Why, says Jesus, YOU are the light of the world. It's not your business to complain of the dark, it is your business to shine.

There are two opposite faults in lighting, as every one who has been to church knows. One is to put the lights so they shine in everybody's eye. A glaring light doesn't help the eyes, it hurts them. On the other hand, lights can be so few or so weak that they only "make the darkness visible." A very dim light may be more exasperating than no

Salt and light were already pretty old-fashioned when Jesus was born. But now, almost 2,000 years after Christ, salt and light, older than ever, are just as necessary as they always were. Some things Jesus said about Christians are hard to understand. But this is easy even for children to understand. Christians, salt-and-light Christians are never out of date. Science does not get rid of our need for them. Suppose the dreams of the Buck Rogers crowd come true, as indeed some of them may in this age of space—suppose that we can extend the borders of the human race on out to Mars and who knows where next? Salt and light will be needed out yonder. And people will be needed there to be the salt and light of the pioneers.

Don't envy communities with salt-and-light people in them. Make your own community enviable—be
