"SPICE 'N EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Whatever you do, don't miss the movie at "The Town" theatre, "Home Before Dark" It is a romantic Melodrama based on a woman's struggle to regain her slipping sanity brought on mainly through jealousy. Jean Simmons is quite an actress and is most convincing throughout the play and story of the young wife whose husband is frigid!

Through worry, this young wife spends one year in a mental institution and the opening scene is where the husband is calling to take his wife back home!

The home is a beautiful place and the interesting part is it around the Christmas holiday with every minor detail and there is much snow. It makes it all more interesting at this time of year and although the story is a sad one never the less you will agree there is much charm in the atmosphere. It is filmed in Boston and the entire cast is excellent! The unsympathetic, College professor of a mate is acted most remarkably. By Dan O' Herlihy.

You will appreciate the other man who is kindness itself—Efren Zimbalist. Rhonda Fleming is the sister who would like to think the husband is in love with her. This picture will be the "Picture of The Year" and that little Jean Simmons will get the Oscar!

It is the finest acting and no other play has touched it since Joan Crawford in "Sudden Fear!"

Thinking of Christmas, I was amazed at the store opening just for the holidays called Santa's Trim-A-Tree Shop at 315 N. Howard due to all the very latest things for decorations for you can really buy old Santa in any size plus everything imaginable and at such reasonable prices!

Last evening, Your Observer dined in the Tea Room for The Fashion Show at 6 for this Column along with the famous Morgan Twin sisters—Gloria Vanderbilt and Thelma Lady Furness!

Their book has been published which is a Twin Autobiography called, "Double Exposure". It is most interesting in fact when once you start reading, you do not care to lay it down and you continue on. I read on and on until 2 A.M. What surprised me was their relationship to King Ferdinand of Castile and Leon, Prince Manuel of Castile and of Pedro Ponce de Leon, Lord of Villagarcia—my direct descendants on my Beloved Father's side of the house. These twins are delightful women but of course many thought they were going to see young, beautiful women but Father Time has caught up as he does with all of us. We had a most interesting conversation and I think everyone was left with a big impression!

As to the Show of gowns and our beautiful Baltimore girls—well—they were right there as Models. The gowns were most beautiful and as to colors—most intriguing. One matured Model is the very picture of Spring Bynington!

And as for the grand meal—You may be served from the Menu or and which I prefer selecting direct from the table—"Buffet". Baked Ham and Macaroni au Gratin, Standing Roast Prime Ribs of Beef, Cold roast sliced turkey, glazed carrot slices, hot pickle Beets, Fresh Succotash, creamy cold slaw, pear halves with cottage cheese, moulded Cranberry Salad, fruit salad, moulded Cucumber Salad, Spring Garden salad, Anchovy Deviled Eggs, Shrimp Salad New Orleans, Chicken and celery salad, Fillet of Herring in Cream Sauce, Rolls and Butter, tea or coffee served by your waitress and all types of desserts from the cart! U Mmmmmmm Good! Let it be your next Monday night date!

When you are shopping in town don't forget to park your car at that Friendly Garage, "Lexington Market" which is the most reasonable in town. You will find the Manager right there as a most obliging person—Mr. Jos. Baracco.

A letter comes from a lady who asks if I send out Christmas cards with my name either engraved or printed. And to that one I say, "No!" There is something about a Christmas card which should have a personal touch and I have always signed my name along with a little personal greeting, too!

As for that special exercise—there is truly no other to compare with walking which I have learned since living back in the city. I have walked more in 8 months than in twenty years and the fat is distributed and of course a loss, too. Be sure to wear a comfortable pair of walking shoes when you are on your feet a lot and take care of your feet as you would your teeth. Remember that wonderful Dr. Grooms in town near the Hammond Organ company who surely knows that Chiroprapist Business. One flight up but you will have "HAPPY FEET!" If your feet ache it shows in your face and causes wrinkles so make haste! Have a grand week end, folks. Drive carefully and slowly and appreciate all the beauty surrounding!

See you next week. D V

I am,

Barbara

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

BUFFALO, WYOMING, BUFFALO BULLETIN: "Just after a United States Senator finished lauding it for its democracy," the United Steelworkers Union voted to throw out the men who had been unsuccessful candidates for high union office. "In states that have right-to-work laws, union bosses can't punish those who run for office against them by depriving them of the right to earn a living."

RUTHERFORD, N.C., NEWS: "Private industry in America is now spending 300 million dollars a year on air-pollution-control, work—and public health authorities say much more is going to have to be spent in the future."

WADENA, MINNESOTA, PIONEER JOURNAL: "One of our local nimrods is somewhat chagrined. The opening day he got an unusual specie weighing five and a half pounds. Showing it to friends they couldn't tell him what kind of a duck it was, so it was taken to the Game Warden to see if he could identify it. He defined it as a tame duck."

DOVER, DELAWARE, STATE NEWS: "In the socialist type of a planned development the matter is left up to the so-called 'experts'. It is accepted that these people know best—and any opposition is quickly squelched. All the ideas are carried out without any regard or respect for the individual. This is the kind of system we can't and won't, allow to happen here."

NORWICH, N.Y., CHENANGO, UNION: Many executives of corporations get all they want of politics within their own companies. Many of them are quite expert at the game. In the past they have had little incentive to apply their political skill in the public arena. But now waking up to the way in which organized labor has promoted and applied public political power, many corporations have developed definite policies calling for participation public affairs."

ANTIGO, WISCONSIN, DAILY JOURNAL: "The advertising received by the Nobel Prize winning novel 'Dr. Zhivago', of Soviet Author Boris Pasternak through its condemnation by the Soviet press, will probably more than compensate for the prize money he found it expedient to reject. But here, again, will he be able to collect and receive the royalties to which he is entitled?"

BEVERLY, MASS., EVENING TIMES: "While preparations by business to organize politically in an effort to counter big labor are encouraging in some ways to the organizers, it is conceded that the results this year may leave much to be desired. Business can proceed only on the assumption that it will have to form an amply-financed organization right down to the precinct level. That's what organized labor is doing. There is no other effective weapon in politics."

LEROY, ILLINOIS, JOURNAL: "The greatest trouble in the world today is that too many people try to be smart instead of right."

NORWICK, CONN., HOUR: "Stung by nationwide criticism that de facto segregation is rampant in its public school system, the City of New York is attacking the problem on two fronts. The Board of Education has set up a special committee on integration, pledged to work 'until the last stain of de facto segregation is removed from the City of New York'. And the superintendent of schools, Dr. John J. Theobald, will start in medtem in February and experiment in assimilating newcomers — Negroes and Puerto Ricans."

YUBA CITY, CALIF., INDEPENDENT HERALD: "We have allowed politics to become a dirty business and through rank partisanship we have encouraged political to taint themselves with the same dirt until the man who can preserve sincerity and complete honesty in politics is as rare as a cow in a teakettle."

THE MAN OF ONE IDEA

History is made by those who are not afraid to undertake something that hadn't been done before. Columbus didn't originate the idea that the world is round, he just proved it. Like many other men who get an idea and attempt to do something that had never been done before, he was considered by those who had less faith, and little vision as crazy.

They who were able to finance his expedition were skeptical of the soundness of Columbus' idea. However, after much persuasion, and strenuous efforts on his part and those of friends who had faith in both Columbus, and in what he wanted to do, Queen Isabelle of Spain made a generous concession and gave for the voyage, ships, percentage of trade, titles and honors. The Queen's treasurer, from a special fund, furnished about $14,000 to equip the fleet, and the Queen retained her jewelry and won a new world.

Columbus always had a longing to go to sea. He was born in an important seaport Genoa. His one idea was to reach the East by sailing West. So-called wise men of his day, said, it could not be done. Columbus was eager to prove that it could be done, and he did it. He taught himself Latin so he could study geography books which were written in Latin in his day. All things are possible to him who believes.

Who can imagine what it was like to sail with Columbus 466 years ago to the discovery of the New World! He was trying to find a short sea route to the Indies, and not to prove the world was round.

Less than a hundred men were aboard the Nina, the Pinta, and the Santa Maria. Their menu was the rough sea fare, their bed had a 'soft' plank, if they could find one, and some of the discomforts cockroaches and reeking bilge water.

Between the crew and the uncertainty of the unknown lay the skill of these men the indomitable will of their Captain, and the power and mercy of an eternal God. The 'intercession' of God was sought publicly about every 30 minutes, day and night, throughout the voyage. Columbus himself prayed many private prayers in his cabin. Everyone took part in the prayers offered after sunset. Columbus believed his name, Christopher — "The Christ bearer" — was a symbol, and that he was destined to carry the Christian faith to unknown and untaught lands.

Daybreak was often greeted with the following chant, translated from an old Spanish book, Admiral of the Ocean Sea:

Blessed be the light of day
And the Holy Cross we say;
And the Lord of Veritie
And the Holy Trinity.
Blessed be th' immortal soul
And the Lord who keeps it whole.
Blessed be the light of day
And He who sends the night away.

For 33 days the three ships sailed west from Canary Islands amid labor, grumbling, threatened mutiny, and prayer. The determination of Columbus to realize his ambition kept his crew from turning back. However, he promised to turn back if land was not soon sighted.

At 2 p. m., October 12, 1492, Rodrigo de Triana, from the lookout of the forecabin of the Pinta, suddenly, shouted: 'Land! Land!'

This was the announcement of a new age for Europe, for Christendom, for freedom, and for the world.

Thus October 12 is celebrated as Columbus Day to honor the men of one idea who discovered the New World. Most states now recognize October 12 as a legal holiday, and many schools have appropriate programs and exercises.

Who knows the power of a single idea!

FEESERSBURG
(A Voice from Carroll)

Farmers may soon realize a dream they have long hoped for; that is, being able to have their cows reproduce heifer calves when they want heifers and not leave it to nature on the "hit and miss" basis. Man has already successfully made rabbits produce all female or male litters. This was done by means of an electrical shock or impulse. The next step is to try it on cows and if it is successful it will have economic as well as biological repercussions throughout the entire farming industry. The process of controlling the sex of offspring is complicated and only experts understand it but the time will come when it will be used not only on animals but on humans too. There are many people concerned now over the rapidly increasing birth rate of the human population. If a method is ever devised when the sex of offspring can be controlled then no doubt the birthrate will automatically slow down. But the control of the sex of human offspring may also have some disadvantages. Nature, doing the job on her own, produces about a 50-50 ratio but if man starts to control the sex it might get way off balance. Some families prefer just one sex in offspring. If too many persons were inclined this way it wouldn't be long before this would be more of a man's world than it is at the present or it would become a woman's world. Well considering the state of the world at present maybe it wouldn't be a bad idea to give the women a break and see what they could do with it for awhile. But we personally can't see any change in the present set up for a long time to come.

The last bit of Thanksgiving turkey has been eaten in the form of hash and the pumpkin pies have gone where all good pies go and so we are ready to forge ahead with Christmas. There is a curtain of gloom over the holidays already because of the rise in postage rates. We have heard some people say that they are not sending cards out this year because of the increase. We will just have to wait and see how many persons feel this way. Every one admits they like to receive Christmas greetings but they also admit that getting cards ready to mail out requires a lot of time and patience. It is true that the Christmas card philosophy has reached the peak of the ridiculous. One felt obliged to send a card to every Tom, Harry, and Mary one knew or hoped to know. It had gotten to the point where the card was no longer a sincere personal greeting in many instances but rather a business appeal to be remembered when one went shopping. We believe that many persons feel this way and now they will use the increase in postage rates to put an end to the Christmas card spree. This doesn't mean that they won't send cards but it does mean the lists will be cut in half.

One of the most ignorant and untruthful statements ever heard on T. V. was made Thanksgiving day by a woman advertising a food product. She was saying how thankful Americans should be, because in this land of ours hunger was unknown and every family in our land was sitting down to a bountiful table. Maybe she believed what she was saying and we all who were listening, wished it were true, but one needn't travel very far to find people who do not have enough to eat and whose Thanksgiving table wasn't overflowing. As any social worker or for that matter, any school teacher if everyone has enough to eat. In the city schools there are children whose only meal is the free lunch they get at school. Indeed hunger is known in America and by many families. It is hard to believe in this land where abundance is taken for granted that some people are hungry all the time. We think that it is time T. V. stops filling our ears with soft words and fills them with some hard truths which American citizens should hear. It is time for grown up people to be able to take the facts.

Corn controls were rejected by Maryland farmers last week in a special election. This is the first time in 25 years that farmers have voted against government restrictions on a major crop. Maryland farmers voted 768 to 363 to end controls. Some of the groups contend that no plan offered so far will halt over-production. We have always felt that farmers hurt themselves when they fail to limit production of basic crops either on a voluntary basis or by government control. But farmers are a strange breed of men. We know it so well for we are married to one. They think of themselves as independent and self-sufficient. They live in a changing economy but believe they need not change with it. They see industry and labor organizing but they believe they can exist without uniting together. They see brains outwitting them but they continue to use brawn. They still picture themselves as pioneers of the soil when the truth of the matter is that the tractor and the machinery is the king on the farm. We don't pretend to know what the future holds for the farmer but we believe the young generation of farmers will be a different breed. Agricultural schools are teaching them new methods and something about economics. They also learn that farmers are a minority group now and as such can't boast about being so independent and free. The truth is no man is free to live his own way of life. Each group is dependent on the other. We are living in a controlled society and it is becoming more controlled every day. The wise person accepts it and doesn't waste his energy fighting it.

Woman are divided into two classes the careless ones, who lose both earnings, and the careful ones, who lose just one.

Gone with hoop skirts and mustache cups is the romantic proposal of marriage. The man of today doesn't say: "Will you marry me?" in a setting of pine trees and running brooks but instead over a plate of mashed potatoes and roast beef. There is something about a good meal that loosens a man's tongue and lowers his resistance to the subject of wedding bells. It has something to do with his body chemistry and blood pressure. But that is beside the point. Don't think grandma didn't know what she was talking about when she said the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. That's why she learned to cook when a growing girl. So girls take a lesson, get out your cook books and start cooking. Before you know it that certain young man will be saying the lines you want to hear.

You will find kindness nowhere unless you give some.—Ruth Roelke.

A few days before Christmas, I walked into the room where my small son was playing just in time to hear him singing: "Holy infant so tender-fool, ride".

While the art class was setting up a Christmas scene on the school lawn, one of the boys asked uncertainly, "Where shall I put the three wise guys?"

"Mommy," chirped my four-year-old, "don't you think it was nice of the shepherds to get all cleaned up before they went to see the baby Jesus?" "What do you mean?" "Well, you know that song, "While shepherds washed their socks by night."

After the Sunday school class had sung "Silent Night" and been told the Christmas story, the teacher suggested that her pupils draw the Nativity scene. A little boy finished first. The teacher praised his drawing of the manger, of Joseph, of Mary and the infant. But was puzzled by a roly-poly figure off to one side and asked who it was. Oh explained the youngster, that's Round John Virgin. —In Readers Digest.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS

Red Schoendienst of the Milwaukee Braves, recently developed tuberculosis. In a statement just received by the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association, Red Said:

"I have recently been made acutely aware that tuberculosis is not a disease of the past and that it is apt to concern any of us at anytime. New methods and new drugs have been developed, however, that are going to make my recovery quicker and more certain that it might have been a few years ago. This progress has been supported by the traditional sale of Christmas Seals, making it possible for TB associations throughout the country to carry on their fight against tuberculosis with education, case finding, research and rehabilitation. It really is a coincidence mentioned November 14. That's the day Christmas Seals of the tuberculosis and Health Society of St. Louis arrived at my home. I didn't realize how many friends I had gained through my efforts on the baseball field but the hundreds of letters and the cards that have poured in since I entered the hospital are wonderful. I just hope that they will all have Christmas Seals on them, because that's what will knock TB out of the ball park."

(Signed) Red Schoendienst
The 1958 Christmas Seal Sale is now in progress and will last until Christmas day. 79% of all funds raised through the sale of Christmas Seals remains here in our local association; 15% goes to the Maryland Tuberculosis and 6% to our National Association.

SAVE THAT SMILE

A child's excitement and wonder on Christmas morning are caught for keeps in a snapshot. It's a smart idea to tag and place that gift-camera so it will be among the first of the presents to be opened. The camera that's ready for action can save holiday fun from the beginning.

To make the most of those picture opportunities, catch them in color. From simple to super models, most cameras accept color film. A reflex-type with a large viewfinder, such as the Duaflex Camera, makes it easy to "preview" the picture big and clear before tripping the shutter.

Shutter secret that works well with youngsters is to click when they're too absorbed to notice. Shoot as close as the camera will allow, without eliminating any important elements. Bend, stoop or kneel—but take that tot at his own level. And snap plenty of pictures to show what happened next. The more scenes you save, the more fun you keep.

Festive Fruit Dessert:

Cranberry Holiday Mounds

Hi ho, it's holiday time! And here's a festive new treat the family will love. It's a surprise combination of rich buttery crackers and that favorite American fruit, the cranberry. The happy result: "Cranberry Holiday Mounds", a molded dessert that's as colorful as it is delicious. Easy to make, too—here's how:

Cranberry Holiday Mounds

One 1-lb. can cranberry sauce	1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 envelope unflavored gelatin	1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup boiling water	1/2 cup chopped walnuts
2 cups finely crushed Hi Ho Cracker crumbs	1 cup heavy cream, whipped
	Fresh orange slices

Empty cranberry sauce into a large bowl. Stir in gelatin. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until almost firm. Then stir in crumbs, rind, sugar and nuts. Fold in whipped cream and pour mixture into 6 individual holiday molds (or a 1-quart mold). Chill until firm. Unmold; place each individual mound on a chilled small plate, centered on a base of three orange slices. (If large mold is used, place on chilled serving plate and edge with orange slices.) Top, if desired, with whipped cream and whole cranberries. Makes 6 servings.

Why Your Children Need Vitamins

New York — Parents often wonder whether vitamin supplements for their children are really necessary. In my opinion, the answer is definitely "yes." Many children do not like the taste of most leafy green vegetables, yellow vegetables, or fish. Others refuse to eat eggs, cheese or dried fruit. Still others do not eat enough to supply the needs of an active, growing body.

Where then can the growing child obtain these essential elements that are necessary for healthy bone and tissue growth? The answer is in his daily dose of vitamins. Vitamins are needed by the body to regulate the use of starches, fats and proteins and help convert them into sound tissue and energy. Minerals, such as those found in meat, poultry, fish and dairy products form the essential elements of bony structure, cell constituents and act as regulators of the acid-alkaline balance of the body.

Diet Not Enough
Too often, even if all the necessary foods are available, the vitamin-mineral content of them may be lost or altered by over-cooking, faulty methods of preparation and storage. Good health is largely dependent upon what we eat. While it is true that diseases caused by severe vitamin deficiency such as scurvy, beriberi, or rickets are comparatively rare in our country today, the symptoms of low-grade or early vitamin deficiency are not infrequent.

A daily dose of vitamins is one good way to make sure that your entire family, especially the youngsters, are fully protected. Most infants, those ranging in age from birth to two years, have no difficulty taking the drops or liquids prescribed by their pediatrician. It is only when the youngster gets a little older, say about 2, and begins to make his objections loud and strenuous that the administration of his daily vitamin dose becomes a problem. And it remains a problem until he is 5 or 6 and is able to swallow tablets without choking.

New Vitamin Formula
For that reason many mothers may be interested in a brand new vitamin-mineral supplement developed by White Laboratories, in Kenilworth, New Jersey. Research scientists there spent two years perfecting a new formula that has completely eliminated the vitamin flavor and bitter after-taste of so many sugar-coated vitamin preparations. They have combined 13 essential vitamins and 9 nutritive minerals into an attractive, good tasting chocolate-like nugget sold in drug stores under the trade name of Delectavites.

If your child is old enough to chew, he's ready for Delectavites. He won't resist taking his vitamins in this appetizing form. You won't have to bother any longer with liquids or drops that tend to spill and stain clothing and linen. In fact, your whole family will like this new vitamin preparation, particularly the older folks who may have trouble swallowing pills or capsules. It's a reliable and delicious way of supplying your body's daily needs for vitamins and minerals.

THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

Children stare goggle-eyed...gruff traffic cops melt into smiles...householders along the way do doubletakes...and the passengers love it!

That's the way onlookers react to seeing Santa Claus piloting a bus on Christmas Eve. Every year Trailways bus operator Walter A. Reed of Pottsville, Pa., has been playing Santa Claus on the night before Christmas. Donning his bright red suit, flowing white beard and black boots, the genial Mr. Reed slips behind the wheel of his big cream-and-crimson bus after greeting each youngster as they board and distributing a Christmas remembrance to every passenger.

The friendly 320 lb. driver needs no artificial padding to accomplish the transformation into a plump and jolly St. Nick. "It's all me," he says, throwing back his head with a hearty laugh and a twinkle in his eye that does complete justice to the famous annual Yule visitor.

Power for Life

Lesson for December 7, 1958

THE CHRISTIAN religion is not and never was simply a set of ideas. Being a Christian is not being an ordinary person who believes some extra things that other people don't.

The Christian religion is not simply a way of living, or a new set of rules for behavior, mostly Don't's. The Christian is not a person with peculiar habits and nothing else to recommend him.

The Christian religion does include ideas, radical and profound. It does involve a way, a pattern for living, but one which comes from the spirit and intent of love, divine love, rather than from a set of rules carefully memorized.

Besides these, the Christian religion is power—not power "over" but power "for". The Christian religion is supernatural, and this most strikingly in the power Christ gives to enable men to live above their ordinary selves.

Giving A Man Back

The story of Jesus and the man calling himself "Legion"—a military word which might be translated "Regiment"—has some very spectacular features. Aside from these, which have seldom if ever been repeated, the story is typical of what the power of Christ can do for a man.

First of all, Jesus gave the man back to himself. He had not belonged to himself while he was "Legion." He belonged to any one of the countless devils that plagued him. He did not even know his own right name. He could not "call his soul his own." But after Jesus was done with him, he was a man in his right mind, under control, a single person with a single mind. Second, Jesus gave the man back to society. (That particular society, alas, did not want him; they would rather have kept their pigs. But that is another story.) He was now able to live with other people and to take his share of the world's work on his shoulders. If his home town would not have him, there were others that would. And in the third place, Jesus gave the man back to God. His instructions were to go and tell what the Lord had done for him.

A Modern Demon

We do not have demons sitting in cemeteries nowadays, not in the ancient style. But as any minister, lawyer or social worker can tell you, there is a modern demon that gets control of millions of our fellow-citizens and takes away their citizenship, reducing them to hapless slavery. This is the demon of alcoholism. Our forefathers had an uglier word for it: the drink habit. It is the fourth most fatal disease in America; and alone among diseases (if we agree it is a disease) it is entirely preventable. It is one of the few diseases known to man which a man can definitely make up his mind not to have. (But of course he can do this only by being a non-drinker. No drinker can resolve not to become an alcoholic; the very next cocktail party may tip him over the edge.) But any one who knows alcoholics, actual or potential, knows how such people are "not themselves" as the kindly phrase puts it. They are no more masters of themselves than that poor maniac in Galilee driven mad by his own demons.

Modern Miracles

Yet the alcoholic is not beyond rescue. Every week some one of these pitiable people is pulled out of the quicksand and his feet set on a rock, by the power of Christ. Men and women find a super natural power that is great enough to accomplish what good resolutions and many preachments and pleadings have not accomplished. Such a man is given back to himself, back to society and back to God. Cured alcoholics are most likely to stay cured when they devote themselves to helping others as they themselves have been helped. The most effective helper of others is likely to be the one who can say himself, "I know what the Lord has done for me." And this is true not only of alcoholics, but of those who are devil-ridden by other destroyers, pride, envy, lust and all the rest. No evil, no combination of evils, that attack and destroy man, can be a match for the Son of God... if only the victim is willing to be rescued!

THE HIGHWAY OF TIME—THIS IS FOR ALL COOKS—

On the Highway of Time the Health Books all say:
"Keep an eye on the vitamins, as you wend your way"
All who do so, they tell us, are healthy and strong;
And, make the earth jubilant with their daily song.

God never intended mortal man should be sick;
So, use your "noggin"; and, do so quick!
The health books all tell us how, and what to do;
So, sample the vitamins; and, make yourself new.

Nature also tells you and me what to do—
(It takes 16 minerals to keep young and new);
So, unless we listen to Nature, and, do things God's way
Our bodies shall wilt and go to decay.

The girl of to-day is wise; some people say;
"She watches her figure, night and day";
Weight, alone, has much to do with looks, they say,
So, listen to Nature!; and, eat the right way.

The minerals, too, are as vital as vitamins; some say;
"They make up the framework of the body each day";
Even the Hen put sulphur in the eggs they say;
So, why not listen to them, and, do things their way?

99% of the calcium, they tell us, in our bodies to-day
Is found in the bones and teeth, experts say;
Calcium helps to keep the teeth strong and white,
So, don't fail to brush them morning and night

The vegetable kingdom is full of calcium, they say;
So, eat cabbage potatoes and tomatoes each day;
Bananas, pumpkin, and citrus fruits, they also say,
Will help you to keep the doctor away.

Phosphorous, too, is needed in bone structure, they say;
So, ransack the markets; till you find it each day;
It is also essential for the brain, nerves, and eyes;
So, its virtue, as a drug, we should not despise.

In eggs, Blackstrap molasses and soybeans, they say
You shall find what Phosphorous you need each day;
(Cucumbers, spinach and turnips, they also say
Will supply all you need from day to day.

Iron carries Oxygen to the blood, the doctors say,
So, make it a part of your diet each day;
Without iron mortal man is never sure on earth—
(Nature gives us all a 3 months supply at birth.

To keep strong, eat raisins, and dried peaches; they say;
How to put iron in your body, that is the way,
Fish roe, buckwheat and oyster plant, they say
Is another way by which to get iron each day.

Iodine is another important mineral, they say;
But, the Rivers carry most of it to the oceans to-day,
It is called the "Gland Regulator" by those who know;
So, as a drug, it is famous every place we go.

Iodine is found in shrimp, lobster and oysters to-day;
Also in grapes and citrus fruits, they say;
Many oldsters, and people who go the old way
Find it in peas, beans and carrots, doctor books say.

Sulphur is also vital for skin, hair and nails, they say;
(It was called beautifying lives in an early day);
During the smallpox epidemic in Maryland, they say
Sulphur was the leading drug of the day.

Then, too, sulphur, like chlorine, the doctors say
Expels waste matter from the body day after day;
Chlorine is found in blackberries and raspberries, they say;
So, of them make all of your pies to-day.

So, if you are wise, you will follow the plan
That was in vogue with primitive man—
Magnesium is sleep-promoting, medicine books say,
And refreshes the system from day to day.

Rice, like wheat, is a wonderful cereal; some say;
"To get rid of high blood pressure, eat rice each day;
Half of the world lives on rice, the paper say;
So, in some form, let it grace your table each day.

Remember, too, onions, apricots, and lentils, they say
Help to make the blood in our bodies to-day;
Beet tops, cherries, prunes, and black figs, they say
Are other sources of blood, from day to day.

To do things right God only knows the way;
That is why He made the vegetables, the records say;
Before the flood man did not eat meat like to-day,
He got his vitamins from the earth, they say.

There are countless things we do not yet know
About the vegetable kingdom and things which grow;
God made them all before He made man
Because, from them, to make a body, was His plan.

The birds sang on the treetops when Adam was born—
(That was only the dawn of another morn!);
And just so in the future things shall be
Through all the long years of Eternity.

Suppose God had let mortal man run things his way!—
(Things would be far different on earth to-day)
Such a thing as perfection we would never see;
So, the Gates would all be closed to Eternity.

The Great Mountains, Rivers and Oceans you would not see—(Things would be like they need to be!);
Mortal man would still be drinking the dew;
So, that would be the end, of me and you.

But, "our God is just like us," The Scriptures say;
So, to make us all happy, He knows the way;
Then learn to know Him; and, follow His plan,
To make the whole earth a heaven for man.

The popular F-100 pickup is one of 371 Ford truck models available in 1959. Dual headlights and a new Ford nameplate on the hood are standard features on the pickup models. With the 223 cubic inch six-cylinder engine — the most modern "six" in the industry — Ford offers greater economy in the high speed or increased load range. The pickup is available with either this Styleside body, which Ford pioneered with the 1957 models, or the Flareside body.

Chevrolet again offers the popular Bel Air series in 1959. This model maintains its reputation for stylish interiors and appointments, with increased passenger room and additional visibility in new compound-curved windshields and larger rear windows. New grille and lowered headlamps accent the front end. Both two-door and four-door sedans incorporate the venture some new design features, plus improved brakes, suspension system and handling advancements. Commanding General, U.S. Army Ordnance Missile Command

"You're a mighty important young man! You keep us supplied with news of the world. You are one of America's future leaders. And you have helped America's future already by selling U.S. Savings Bonds and Bonds. Today thousands of carriers are saving for the future with U.S. Savings Bonds."

"This is more important today than ever. Every U. S. Savings Bond or Stamp helps strengthen America's Peace Power, by providing money to keep our country strong, advance science and education, and keep our economy healthy."

"So — in honor of Newspaperboy Day, 1958, I salute you. Keep up the good work!"

IMPROVED MAIL SERVICE FOR TANEYTOWN

Sweeping improvements which will provide next day first class letter delivery for nearly two million people throughout the approximately 6,000 square mile Baltimore Metropolitan Area, embracing Baltimore, and 14 Maryland and 2 Virginia counties, including all counties in the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Virginia, were announced today by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Representing the Postmaster General at a press conference in the Baltimore Post Office, M. R. Clarke, Operations Director of the Washington Region of the Post Office Department said:

"This program for better first class mail service has been in test operation in the Baltimore Metropolitan Area since October 13, 1958, being expanded to include the Eastern Shore on October 27, 1958. During this shakedown period, results have exceeded expectations, and I feel confident that postal patrons in the Area can be assured that, barring occasional human errors, first class letters mailed prior to 5:00 P. M., or at smaller offices, in time for the final dispatch if made prior to 5:00 P. M., will be delivered to their destinations within the Area in the first delivery trips of the following business day.

"However, mailing early in the day, thereby giving the Post Office additional time to sort and transport mail to its destination, is still the best way to be sure your letter is delivered next day in the Baltimore Metropolitan and Eastern Shore Areas.

"In addition to Baltimore City, the Baltimore Area includes the counties of Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, and Howard and the Eastern Shore counties of Caroline, Cecil, Dorchester, Kent, Queen Annes, Somerset, Talbot, Wicomico, and Worcester in Maryland, and Accomac and Northampton in Virginia.

"These major improvements in the Baltimore Metropolitan Area's first class mail service pattern are the result of intensive study and planning. Personnel of the Washington Postal Region and of 328 post offices in the Area have worked as a team to develop a comprehensive service program and put it into effect.

"Next day delivery of most of the first class mail in the Baltimore Metropolitan and Eastern Shore area is now possible because of a closely integrated timetable which governs the work of the area's postal units and the transportation linking them together. Hard-working, skilled postal employees race against time throughout the night in order to make possible next day delivery of hundreds of thousands of letters to people in these areas.

"On an average day, approximately 800 thousand pieces of mail is handled between the 328 area post offices, ranging from the large first class to the small rural fourth class post office. The population of this area is growing rapidly, and the postal service needs are becoming increasingly complex.

"The principal feature of the new plan involves the designation of certain strategically located post offices to act as collection and distribution centers for various sections of the Area involved in the plan. Thus much of this mail which formerly went into Baltimore for processing will have this function performed by the designated centers, thereby eliminating time-consuming travel and bypassing the congested Baltimore area.

"Such mail from the Maryland and Virginia counties as must come into Baltimore to connect delivery routes which originate there has already been processed, and can thus be kept separate from mail originating at Baltimore and sent on its way to destinations immediately.

"Other changes include the establishment of some new transportation routes, and adding trips to and changing schedules of existing routes. Some adjustment of city mail collection schedules was also necessary.

"A new truck route from Washington, D. C., Annapolis, Eastern, and Cambridge to Salisbury and return was established to connect the Washington Metropolitan Area with Baltimore and the Eastern Shore areas, thereby making possible the exchange of mail for next day delivery to the nearly 4 million people in these two large Areas. In addition to this service advantage, a valuable by-product of this new route lies in relieving the Baltimore Parcel Post Station of the necessity of transferring a daily average of 700 pouches and sacks exchanged between the Washington, D. C. Gateway and the other offices served.

"The improved delivery of letters throughout the Baltimore Metropolitan and Eastern Shore Area is being accomplished despite the handicaps and obstacles created by antiquated postal quarters and equipment, which do not begin to meet the demands of today's mail load.

Extension of this first class mail program will be placed into effect in other large metropolitan areas as soon as it is possible to do so. The improvements achieved in the Baltimore Metropolitan Area will be reflected in better service throughout America, since a substantial amount of this country's mail either originates or terminates in the Area," Mr. Clarke concluded.

Taneytown is very fortunate to have such excellent mail service being located within the great Metropolitan Area of Baltimore and Washington and being served with two Highway Post Office Lines that traverse within our local Post Office. With the Balt & Martins and York & Wash. HPO's linking two of our major cities with rail and Air Mail lines, the citizens of this community can be equally proud of their mail service to compare with some of our larger cities in the United States.

TANEYTOWN FIREMEN OBSERVE BUSY THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY WEEK-END

Thursday, Nov. 27, at 9:30 a. m. Taneytown Firemen responded with two engines to a automobile fire on the Nussbaum road. The automobile belonged to Mr. Carroll Forney, who was hunting at the time and returned to find his 1957 Pontiac completely engulfed in flames. The flames were quickly extinguished by the firemen, but Chief Miller reported that the car was a total loss. Firemen were on the scene for 45 minutes.

Friday, Nov. 29, at 8:30 a. m. Two engines answered an alarm for a chimney fire to Mr. George Gunther on the Teeter road. Firemen used a booster line to extinguish the blaze. They were hampered by sleet and snow, which made slippery footing on the roof of the house. Chief Miller reported however that the blaze caused no material damage and no one was injured. Firemen were on the scene for 1 hour.

Friday, Nov. 28, at 2:30 p. m. Firemen from Taneytown answered their second fire alarm, this call was assisting Union Bridge. Firemen from Union Bridge, New Windsor and Taneytown combined their efforts in battling a large barn fire on the northern outskirts of Union Bridge.

Monday, Dec. 1, at 5:45 p. m. Alarm sounded for an accident call on Route 97, 1 mile west of Taneytown. One engine and the ambulance responded to the call. One person was injured and taken to the Frederick Hospital. 2nd Asst. Chief Peeser had the firemen clean broken glass and parts from the highway. Firemen were on the scene for a half hour.

WHY A SALVATION ARMY ANNUAL APPEAL? IS THERE A LOCAL NEED?

During the year ending November 1, 1958, the Carroll County Service Unit of the Salvation Army disbursed locally approximately $300.00 in addition to contributing to the state and national programs. Thirty-eight families applied for assistance which ranged from emergency food orders to assistance in purchasing glasses, surgery, clothing, rent, and aid to stranded travellers. Most of the applicants needed assistance in purchasing food. A waiting period of two weeks before unemployment compensation begins is too long for some families. The Service Unit does not disburse cash. Credit for needy families is extended at local stores and the Service Unit pays the stores directly.

Because the Salvation Army received a much reduced allotment from the Community Chest last year, it was impossible to assist some applicants. The Baltimore office came to the assistance of our county with a sum of $100, as well as clothing and furniture.

Many applicants for assistance are those who for some reason cannot qualify for aid from the Welfare Board, the Children's Aid, or other welfare agencies. Unfortunately, hunger and cold are no less uncomfortable when their cause does not fit into some fixed classification. There is a REAL need for the kind of assistance the Salvation Army renders locally. Your generous contribution before December 15 will help to meet this need.
