TANEYTOWN CHAMBER HOLDS MEETING

Merle S. Ohler was Installed President

The Taneytown Chamber of Commerce held its regular monthly meeting at Taney Inn on Monday, January 19th at 6:30 P.M.

The regular business meeting followed the serving of a fine meal that would delight the palate of the most discriminating gourmet.

The first order of business was the installation of the new officers. Rev. Jennings of the local Lutheran church officiated. Having no form or established procedure to follow he was forced to improvise - the results were extremely impressive. The Officers installed were as follows: President-Merle Ohler; 1st Vice President-Raymond Perry; 2nd Vice President Carroll Wantz; Secretary-Robert Feeser; Treasurer-Murray Baumgardner.

President Ohler, in his remarks accepting the office of President made mention of the fact that four (4) of the men present at this meeting had been present at the first meeting of the Chamber some 30 years ago. These were Pres. Ohler, Harold Mehring, Norman Baumgardner and Curtis Bowers. Pres. Ohler enjoined all present at this meeting to bring another member to the next meeting in an effort to increase attendance at the meetings.

Sam Breth, in reporting for the Industrial Committee reviewed last year's accomplishments and discussed the outlook for 1959.

Arch Carpenter reported for the Roads Committee that the section of Harney Road that has been graded will be surfaced as soon as the weather warms sufficiently to permit it. He was also hopeful that the road will be completed to the Pennsylvania line yet this year.

The annual financial statement covering the period October 28, 1957 through October 28, 1958, which was prepared by retiring treasurer Charles Arnold was read by incoming treasurer Murray Baumgardner.

Postmaster Burke reported that he expects to occupy the new Post Office building in the near future. Heating plant difficulties are presently holding up the move but as soon as they are corrected the move will be made.

Past Pres. Fuss reported that it is anticipated that a housing development will be started shortly on the Fair Grounds site. This should prove a real asset to our community giving present commuters an opportunity to take up residence in Taneytown.

The lack of public transportation was bemoaned by Arch Carpenter. He stated he has been informed that only one Bus per week now stops in Taneytown. Discussion revealed that a Bus strike may have something to do with this. However, the Secretary was directed to make inquiries with a view toward improving our Bus service.

Pres. Ohler appointed Merwyn Fuss, Charles Arnold and the Executive Committee as a committee to study and revise the Chambers constitution and by laws and present a revised draft at a later meeting.

The next meeting of the Chamber will be a dinner meeting held at Taney Inn on either the 3rd. or 4th. Monday of February depending on the availability of the Inn.

KIWANIS NEWS

President Ned Musser called the meeting of the Kiwanis Club to order and thanked the club for the gavel which was presented to him previously. Elwood Baumgardner was in charge of the program and introduced Lt. Gov. Leo Miller and his wife. Mr. Miller is a graduate of W. Virginia Wesleyan and of the law school of the University of Maryland. He was formerly a school teacher and also a high school principal. Mr. Miller maintains a law office in Hagerstown, is a past president of the Hagerstown Kiwanis Club and also of the Hagerstown Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Miller, the new Lt. Gov. of the 9th Division of the Capital District, congratulated the club officers and board for their outstanding efforts last year. He was particularly interested in the following Boys and Girls work, gifts at Christmas of shoes and clothing to the needy, and the work with the Key Club.

Past President Musser was exhorted by the Lt. Gov. to attend the board meetings regularly and to give the club the benefits of his thoughts and experience. Ned was then presented a past president's pin and was congratulated for his fine work with the club last year.

The new board, Geo. Shower, Harry Mohny, Robert Polley, Felix Westine, Charles Gartrell and Elwood Baumgardner were charged with their responsibility and congratulated on their election.

John Skiles and Miles Reifsnider were installed as treasurer and secretary of the Club. Thomas Albaugh, the new vice president, was congratulated on his high office and was admonished to listen carefully as Geo. Crouse was advised of the grave responsibility of his new office and charged to lead the club on to bigger and better things.

Mr. Miller, after having inducted the new officers, spoke generally of the duties and responsibility of the membership of a vigorous service club. It is easy, Lt. Gov. Miller said, to be enthusiastic at the outset of a new year but it is difficult in a world of turmoil, to maintain our enthusiasm, but Kiwanis is great only because of the good works of the individual members, so that each member must be aware of his own responsibility to the club and his community. He closed by saying, "We must be great enough to be small enough to be used."

George Crouse, the new president, then indicated his pleasure at being the new leader of the club and then summarized his trip to Roanoke, Va., where he attended the Mid-Winter Conference for Presidents and Vice Presidents. George closed his remarks with these very fine words, "A Kiwanian may earn as much as he will."

The first piece of land patented in Carroll County was Owings Outland Plains, 470 acres surveyed April 3, 1729, located between Marriottsville and Liberty Road. — Historical Society of Carroll County.

"A special committee is trying to make the U.N. less wordy, and we're against it. That's the place where talk is better than its alternatives."

Your Observer gazing upon all the Fairland the night of Jan. 1 for the last time before it is all taken down until next year! And this year not one Calendar arrived from any company and there were always five or six. Attend the Matinee—that gay show at the Century "Auntie Mamie" with that girl with the three V's—Rosaland Russell. It will bring many a laugh to anyone and Your Observer laughed so long and loud watching that gal try to mount the horse. The audience was really in hysterics and I had to hold my side! Reminded me when I was starting to take lessons with the Chebonair Riding Academy. They introduced a handsome big white horse to me named Virginia and after riding around the circle and trying to maintain all the technical points they sent me out on my own along the thoroughfare saying, "Oh, you look handsome on that horse. As you ride along just take a look at yourself in the big windows!" It was a bitter cold day, (Continued on eighth page)

"GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS"

JEFFERSON, OHIO, GAZETTE: "A friend of mine, an ardent isolationist, is most vociferous in his opposition to all this space exploration. He has a double-bitted argument. In the first place, he says, we've got enough problems here on earth to be settled before taking on any solar perplexities."

"Furthermore, he adds, if there are any men on the moon, they'll just talk us into providing them with housing and all of the charities of the welfare state."

BOONTON, N. J. TIMES-BULLETIN: "If your child has classroom failures, parents, don't be too concerned—that would be the advice of Stanley E. Diamond of the University of Michigan. He believes that classroom failures 'should be accepted as part of growing up'."

"He reminds parents... 'It is probably impossible to mature in our society without experiencing failure. The good is not in the failure, but in the overcoming of failure.'"

SUMMERVILLE, GA. NEWS: "In the present age, when television, movies, automobiles and many other luxuries we now enjoy take so much time, the art of finding pleasure and satisfaction at home, in the form of hobbies or projects, is sometimes overlooked."

NORWICH, N. Y., CHENANGO UNION: "The increase in the number of bankruptcies may not mean that business, in general, has gone to pot. It does mean that some people have stuck their necks out too far. The creditors lose all chance of collecting and the debtors suffer the humiliation of being declared insolvent. The debtor also yields any assets he may have, beyond a few personal possessions, and has to start over from scratch. Surprisingly, many debtors who are discharged as bankrupts, can begin at once to accumulate new debts. They cannot go bankrupt again for six years but they can be mighty slow pay."

PORT GIBSON, MISS., REVEILLE: "From news reports and the recent election in France, it seems both France and Great Britain, who have tried many socialistic schemes and found them wanting, are veering more to the conservative side in their governmental operations."

"May the United States, which has been toying with entirely too many socialistic plans in its national life, watch closely our allies, and avoid ruinous pitfalls."

SCOTTSVILLE, KY., CITIZEN-TIMES: "... Many a homeowner has found, after calamity struck, that he hadn't adequately protected his investment at all—and that his insurance was nowhere near sufficient to make up for the loss."

"The reason is simple. The cost of home construction—and of other kinds of structures—has just about doubled since 1945..."

BEDFORD, VA., BULLETIN: "Out in Colorado several weeks ago a ten-year-old boy calmly drew bead with deadly weapon on a woman as she walked home from a bus stop and inflicted a severe wound. When questioned by officers he told them he had seen a woman shot on TV in much the same manner and thought it would be fun to duplicate that performance. In Denver a juvenile court judge said: 'Kids get a steady diet of violence on TV. Even those in Juvenile Hall Detention quarters, they got the idea that the way to escape is to hit somebody over the head.'"

DAWSON, MINNESOTA, SENTINEL: "During the recent campaign, the matter of labor endorsement for candidates was pretty much a hush matter. Now that the campaign is over and labor has again come out on top, there seems to be no hesitancy on the part of the labor bosses to make frequent use of the term 'labor-endorsed candidates'. Could be that use of such a term during the campaign might have had an embarrassing if not negative effect".

STERLING, ILL., DAILY GAZETTE: "A 'sinister change' in the kind of writing which is being done by college students is seen by a Princeton professor."

"Prof. Willard Thorp says that many students seem no longer to be able to write their native tongue. They strive to communicate in a gibberish which the professor calls 'No-English'."

SWEET says "Help tie on Maryland's Easter Bonnet. Spruce up! Clean up! Plant up!"

What Is The Largest "Woman's Club" In Maryland?

136,500 Women Who Save Trading Stamps Are The Largest "Woman's Club" In Maryland.

Every day over 136,500 Maryland women make it a point to shop where they get trading stamps. This large group of smart, thrifty Maryland shoppers, with their common interest in trading stamps, can be thought of as a huge "woman's club" with membership in the state.

Of course this "club woman" gets wonderful things for her home and family through such favorites as S&H Green Stamps. Through her thrift and diligence she provides "extras" for her family. And although she may seldom think about it, her active saving is enormously good for business in our state.

Last year, for example, trading stamp companies purchased $5,416,000 worth of products from Maryland manufacturers. Making these things provided jobs for 517 Maryland people S&H Redemption Stores, paying local rent and taxes, employ many more.

In the light of these facts it would seem that not only Maryland women, but everybody in the state can be thankful that the trading stamp is a part of our way of life.

This message is published as public information by THE SPERRY AND HUTCHINSON COMPANY, originator 63 years ago of S&H Green Stamps.

BLACKBERRY BAVARIAN CAKE

"Heavenly" is the word for angel cake filled with blackberry bavian and frosted with whipped cream and nuts. The luscious concoction stars with cake from the baker, Royal Blackberry Gelatin provides the fruitlike flavor in the creamy filling. The filling has healthful goodness as well, because the blackberry gelatin is fortified with all-important Vitamin C.

Serve Blackberry Bavarian Cake the next time the occasion calls for a spectacular dessert, such as at a buffet supper. Or let it be the grand finale to a simple meal such as a salad luncheon or casserole supper.

BLACKBERRY BAVARIAN CAKE

1 bakers' 9-inch angel food cake
1 package Royal Blackberry Gelatin
1 cup boiling water
3 eggs, separated

1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Cupped Royal Pecans

Cut a 1-inch layer from top of cake. Remove center of cake leaving a 1-inch shell at bottom, outside edge and inside edge. (Save portion removed and serve later with a fruit or custard sauce.) Dissolve blackberry gelatin in boiling water. Beat egg yolks until light. Slowly add hot dissolved gelatin, stirring constantly. Add salt and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Meanwhile, beat egg whites until foamy; gradually add sugar and beat until stiff. Fold into thickened gelatin. Pour into prepared cake shell. Cover with top cake layer. Frost immediately, or just before serving, with whipped cream. Sprinkle with cupped pecans. Chill about 3 hours before serving. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

The sleighing, the first of the week, made business lively in town, and was greatly enjoyed by pleasure parties, schools, etc. The iceo supply was also considerably added to.

Hon. Jos. A. Goulden spent several days, this week, on a visit to his folks in this district, perhaps as a relief from the present Congressional atmosphere.

Will the Plank Road be Made a State Road? We are of the opinion that those most interested in the improvement of the "old plank road" from Westminster to Taneytown, as a link in the proposed new state road system had better keep wide awake and close to "the powers" or they may wake up some morning and find that the surely expected improvement has been appropriated in another direction. We think this is a matter for the Taneytown Business Men's Association to take up at once.

Old Times and the New. How times have changed says an exchange. When we were young people had bad colds, soaked their feet in hot water and got well. Now they have grip, take quinine and feel sick all summer. Then they had sore throats, wrapped a piece of fat pork in an old sock, tied it around the neck at night and went to work the next morning. Now they have tonsillitis, a surgical operation and two weeks in the house. Then they had stomach ache and took castor oil and recovered. Now they have appendicitis, and a week in a hospital. They worked then, they labor now. In those days they wore underclothes, now they wear lingerie. Then they went to the restaurant, now they go to the cafe. Then they broke a leg, now they fracture a limb. People went crazy, they have a brain storm now. Politicians then paid good hard cash for support, now they send government garden seeds. Yes, times have changed, and we all change with the times. That's progression.

A Wedding Reception. At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baumgardner, a wedding reception was given to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baumgardner, on Jan. 14, 1909. The friends assembled and congratulated the newly married couple. Beautiful and appropriate presents were received and much admired. Among those present were: Clarence Baumgardner and wife, Frank Baumgardner and wife, William Reaver and wife, Dr. Goff and wife, Vernon Brower and wife, Merl Baumgardner and wife, Mrs. Susan Smith, Martin Buffington and wife, Ernest Smith and wife, Misses Anna Reaver and Anna Baumgardner; Messrs. Russell and Roland Reaver, Master Elwood Baumgardner.

Claiming Dependency Exemptions

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Maryland Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

WHEN you total up the exemptions on your 1958 tax return, remember that you are permitted to claim at least one exemption for every qualified dependent — and this includes yourself.

Count your exemptions carefully because each one takes $600 off your taxable income. Take one for yourself and two if you are 65 or over. This rule applies to both husband and wife on a joint return, and an added exemption may be taken if either is blind.

In addition, you are entitled to one exemption for each person who fits the definition of a dependent, but the extra exemptions for age and blindness cannot be taken for a dependent.

To qualify for an exemption a dependent must:

- (1) Have received more than one-half of his support from you unless you file a Multiple Support Agreement (see below).
- (2) Have less than $600 gross income unless he is your child and under 19 years of age — or a student of any age.
- (3) Not file a joint return with his spouse.
- (4) Have been either a member of your household or closely related to you, as defined in the official instructions.
- (5) Be either a citizen of the United States or a resident of the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, Panama, or (in some cases the Philippines).

Who Qualifies

Your exemptions usually depend on whether you and your dependents qualify under these rules at the end of the year. However, if your husband or wife died during the year you can file a joint return and take the same exemptions that both of you would have otherwise had.

If you shared with others in the support of a dependent, but none of you provided more than half, you may still be able to arrange for one member of the group to have the $600 exemption. You might agree, for example, to take turns claiming the exemption each year.

ample, to take turns claiming the exemption each year.

The one who claims the exemption must have contributed more than 10 per cent of the support, and he must have been a member of the group who collectively provided the necessary "more than one-half support." Each member of the group must have been entitled to claim the dependent except for the support requirement.

Multiple Support Agreements

In order for one person to have the exemption all other members of the group who contributed over 10 per cent must sign declarations that they will not claim the dependent. The Internal Revenue Service provides Form 2120 (Multiple Support Agreement) for this purpose.

Taxpayers who are supporting dependents, but are not able to file a joint return, may qualify as the "head of household," and be entitled to use a special schedule of tax rates that give you half the benefits of income-splitting.

If you qualify as a "surviving spouse" you should not file a tax return as a "head of household." The tax of a surviving spouse is computed on the same basis as a joint return and gives the full benefit of income-splitting. A "surviving spouse" is one:

1. Whose husband or wife died in the preceding two years (1956 and 1957).
2. Who maintains a home for a legally qualified dependent (the dependent in this case must be a son, step-son, daughter or step-daughter).

The official instructions that come with your tax forms give further information on how to claim your dependency exemptions. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service.

FEESERSBURG

(A voice from Carroll)

Too long we have stuck to the old theory put into the simple words of a familiar poem "East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet". The plain fact is that they are meeting now, and are going to meet more and more closely as modern times demands. The constant rush for new and better things must certainly one day reach a point when man will become prey to the fear of it all and come to the conclusion that it is better to give a little not only in material things but also in philosophy and tradition. We cannot believe that with the coming of better conditions of life when diseases are eliminated when poverty is unknown, when food is plentiful and life expectancy is prolonged that man's thinking will remain the same. Philosophy changes along with material change for man is not immune from outside stimuli. Sometime in the future the barriers that keep the East and West apart must break down for most of the barriers are those of misunderstanding and the belief that the hopes and fears of one are different from the other. When the truth is, that all people are alike in their needs. The difference lies in their cultural backgrounds. All people are adjustable and adaptable to change. The second World War proved that right in our own community when our boys brought wives home from every country. The East can adjust to the Western culture and the West can learn a great deal from the East. But of course it will take a mutual willingness of both sides to see the best things in each other rather than just the bad and the differences in their cultures. This will take time but time has a way of becoming shorter and shorter especially as one grows older and a little wiser. And in the past it only took a few with some wisdom to change the thinking of the entire world. Let's hope that there are a few wise and reasonable men in the 20th century who will guide the peoples of the world into being rational and reasonable so the East and West can live together in friendship.

We are sick and tired of television. The last straw was reached Saturday night when two more Westerns were added to an already loaded program. We are sick of detectives too and prize fights and singers that can't sing but wave their arms and wiggle their legs to distract the viewer so he won't hear the voice that is coming out of the set. We are tired of Maxwell Coffee commercials with people laughing their heads off about nothing. We use Maxwell Coffee all the time and think it is great but if those commercials continue we are going to switch because we suspect it is loaded with laughing gas. But the detectives get us most of all. Between getting in and out of cars, answering the telephone and asking if anything has shown up yet when do they have the time to hunt a clew. They don't. The clews just drop in. The cowboys are not too bad. All they need is a new plot. We can't understand how anyone has the brains to be bad or shoot each other with all that liquor they consume. We guess they have to be intoxicated to play the awful parts the directors give them. Then there are the regular shows with guest stars. They walk on at the beginning of the show and fifteen minutes go by while the star and the guest star pay each other phony compliments. The guest star says how wonderful it is to be asked . . . he doesn't mention the fact that he demanded and got five thousands before he would appear and the star doesn't mention that the only reason he was asked was to help the star's ratings. In the meantime, the viewer who is an important cog in the ratings isn't even consulted about the kind of show he desires. They pretend to cater to the public's taste but we just don't believe it. There isn't a person living who wants to see four westerns in a row. If such there be we want to congratulate him. He has reached the blissful state of "No Return". Talk about brainwashing . . . anyone that watches T.V. for any length of time is completely brainwashed. His mind becomes as sterile as a surgeon's gown, for there isn't anything on T. V. to stimulate one original thought. Jack Paar is about the only person who dares allow people to be themselves and to talk freely. But the program can't compensate for all the terrible ones and so our T.V. set has got to go. Anyone want a cheap set?

We long for immortality; In dread at death's finality; Not that we find this life too dire; Not that toward heaven our hearts aspire; Perhaps to redeem some trenchant loss; Perhaps to proceed without the cross; But most that we suffer to let go; Of all we have and all we know.

Susan, age 6, already had two brothers and two sisters, so when her parents told her that was still another addition to the family on the way, Susan was not exactly enthused. "Which would you prefer, another brother or another sister?" her father inquired. Susan thought about it awhile, and then said, "If it's not too much trouble for mother, I'd rather have a pony."

Don't put duck decoys on your pond. One man we know did and when the pond froze over it froze the decoys in the middle of the pond. The family dog ventured out on the ice after the artificial ducks and the ice wasn't strong enough to hold the dog. The man had to rescue his pet and in the excitement fell in the pond, too. Fortunately, the pond was too deep or it all might have ended in tragedy. Both the man and dog had to sit beside the radiator the rest of the day to thaw out.

Today was "E" day at most colleges. The day mid-term exams began. They last two weeks and during that time many blood pressures go up and mental processes work overtime. High school exams are bad enough but taking an exam with so much at stake as a college course adds terrific pressure. It's no wonder they give the students a short vacation at the end of the exams.

For the 15 or 16 persons who braved the ice and cold to attend the Reindollar sale Saturday on Clear Ridge it was a field day for bargains. The dishes and furniture were old and went for a song. The property brought a very good price.

People can live a long time on just one nice compliment.—Ruth Roelke.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion, Post #120, The American Legion, was held in the Post Home on Thursday, January 15, at 8 p. m.

The magazine campaign currently being conducted by the National Organization Service and sponsored by the Post was reported doing very well. The Post wants to express its thanks to the people of the Community for the fine reception the campaign has received to date. The primary purpose of the campaign is to provide a hospital bed for community use. Any additional profits that may be realized will be earmarked for the Posts community service and Child Welfare programs.

The following Veterans' were accepted into membership in the Post: James W. Hoffman, William E. Totten, John E. Shorb, David H. Foreman, Jean W. Lowman and Ralph J. Bollinger. We are most happy to welcome them into the Comradeship of the American Legion.

Commander Wantz reported that the candy selling campaign is virtually completed. The response to this program has been most gratifying.

The second payment of the Posts pledge to the Carroll County General Hospital building fund was authorized to be paid. Our part in this splendid project is modest but we are proud to be a part of it.

Harry Baker reminded the Post that we must secure new Post Colors before July 4th when the flag with the 49th star for the new State of Alaska becomes official. For those who are not familiar, "Color" is the term used to describe a parade flag with the braided fringe edge.

In line with this thought may we remind everyone who displays their country's flag on National holidays, etc. that they must consider purchasing the new flag for their use. The Post is considering taking orders for the new flags so before you buy, contact a local Legionnaire. We should have our information on this project in the next three or four weeks.

Members were reminded that the next regular meeting will be held on Thursday, February 19 at 8 p. m.

Right to Command

Lesson for January 25, 1959

THE Teachers' Union in Jesus' time was made up mostly of priests. Some of these were mere political hacks, but many of them belonged to the old aristocracy, with pedigrees running back for centuries. They were no better than mediocre teachers themselves, but they didn't like any one else moving in to their preserves.

So when Jesus came to Jerusalem, the big city, from up-country, and began to teach in the very shadow of the great Temple, the authorities were aroused. He could teach in Galilee all he liked and they wouldn't interfere—much. But let him come to the priests' capital city, where they were the ruling class, and they were determined he should line up as they told him—or else... What that "or else" was we know too well. But first they tried to get him into trouble with his public. For Jesus had what actors and writers call a "public," people who heard him every chance they had.

Show Your License!

The first move the priests tried was the same kind of thing a police officer does to any shady salesman or careless driver. Show us your license! they said, in effect. If Jesus said, God gave me the right to teach, the priests would surely retort, What conceit! How could God authorize you except through us, God's representatives among his people? Or if Jesus said that some man, any man, gave him the right to teach, the priests would lose no time in telling him that they were the official Teacher's License Bureau and had never given him permission to speak. Either way, they figured, he would lose face with his public.

Jesus' answer stunned them. It meant: You tell me about John the Baptist and I will tell you about me.

This was not off the subject, as we might think. Expressed more fully, what Jesus meant was: "Very well, suppose I received my authority from John the Baptist, as some of you may think? Where did he get his authority?"

From Popular Consent?

There used to be a man who had no degree but his college A.B. The members of his church called him "Doctor" all the same. He used to say that his degree had been conferred by vote of the people. More important matters than titles can be conferred, in our country, by vote of the people. The authority of a president or governor comes from the people themselves. There is nothing essentially wrong about authority that comes from men at large. Indeed, unless the people consent, no man can wield authority. In one sense Jesus' authority came from the heart of the people. The common people heard him gladly, we are told. "This is our man; he knows!" Unless a leader has something like that effect on people, he is a leader in name only.

From Personal Force?

But of course popular consent, popular enthusiasm, can be quite wrong. Look at Hitler in the height of his power. Every Nazi, millions of them, went screaming for him. He was Germany's "new Messiah." But that did not make him right. He was horribly wrong, in fact, for all the cheering.

There is another kind of authority, which comes from within. The man who has it does not need to appeal to any one else, he does not need to produce a license, he needs no sponsors. Now Jesus had that kind of authority and every one of his friends and admirers felt it. We read that after his "sermon on the mount" the people were astonished because he taught as one having authority, and not as the scribes. We know how the Scribes taught. They quoted authorities. Jesus had it.

From God?

Highest and truest authority is that which comes from God. According to the fourth Gospel, Jesus denied saying anything strictly on his own account. He spoke God's words, his teaching were God's teaching. "My teaching is not mine, but his who sent me," he said (John 7:16). Now every Christian in the world admits this. We all claim to believe that Christ's authority is divine. But do we act as if we believed it?

In the background is one of three specially erected pandals, which are temporary open-air tabernacles. There were 2100 delegates representing each of India's 14 States, a total Congress attendance of 40,000, with 1200 "decisions for Christ". 7,000 attended the closing rally in Madras.

Youth leaders from the United States and India are now conducting 16 simultaneous crusades in key cities throughout India. Mr. Shultz who is working in the city of Hyderabad, is scheduled to depart for Singapore January 21 with other members of the delegation and, continue the 'round the world tour, to Japan and Honolulu.

The purpose of the tour is to train Christian youth in effective witnessing for Christ in their individual homes and schools.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

Folks and although I was dressed for it plus my High silk hat, I did not realize how cold I was until I got back and I thought that I could not get off that horse and when all hands had to help me, I went right down on the ground. I never thought my legs would get thawed out. They always gave me the same horse. The next time, I went out and riding along the Boulevard suddenly Virginia started to run and run as fast as she did—back to that stable and if I had not ducked as she ran into the stable—well—I would not be writing this Column right now! Nuff Sed! So I put myself right in that picture with Aunt Mamie and never, never did I enjoy anything more. You won't have a dull moment and as for costumes—the ladies will be thrilled! The little nephew in the picture brought back days of my eldest Stepson and myself—so close were we!

Did you read "That St. Louis Woman" by Helen Traubel in the Ladies Home Journal? I liked it all but the part she spoke against the sweetest girl who ever lived in the White House—Margaret Truman—my favorite girl! Miss Traubel was her vocal teacher and she stated some unkind things and then she would contradict herself almost in the next paragraph stating something nice!

The Duchess of Windsor attending the American Ball with another Duke!

The grand boy next door who is surely a handy man around his house. The other night, Your Observer left slip a sterling silver butter individual spreader down the drain and when I called for his aid he said he would bring something home from work the next day. He brought home a very long tweezers and lifted it right out removing the gooseneck of the out without removing the gooseneck of the pipe of the lower part of the sink. Nice?

That wonderful French Actor—Maurice Chevalier—my favorite since a tiny girl with all his talent now is writing a tune entitled, "A French Flavor!"

And of all things—Rock Hudson after winding up his show called, "This Earth is Mine!" buying a Christmas present for himself—a new sailing Yacht named "Khairuzan". Clark Gable being chosen for one of the leads in "The Magnificent Seven!"

The little boy of five getting up early on Christmas morning in California before any member of his household and was stopped by a policeman on the big Boulevard riding his new bike in his pajamas! Cute?

The 82 year old lady wanting to leave all her earthly goods to the good neighbor instead of any member of her family due to the fact that her neighbor was just like a blood relative to her and her own flesh and blood was not!

Your Observer requesting a time table as to busses from this corner and the kind man sending it immediately and now I don't know how to read it!

The 2 little boys in Grants on Lexington Street—one undecided about a purchase for his Mother of the jewelry marked down to 57 cents and the other boy giving him advice until they saw me and asked me would I select the jewelry whatever I liked he knew his mother would like. And after I did that I wondered. Then, I broused around in Tuerke's and stopped to hear just this, "I am hesitating about the Alligator bag. I just can't seem to make up my mind! I left that counter and went to do my errand on the 3rd floor and when I returned which was fully ten minutes later that young man and the saleslady were still right there. I went up to the counter and remarked about the beauty in the bag and even more so about the interior which also was leather and was that he bought that $44.00 bag for his Ma! I hope she was pleased but any lady would have been not just alone a Mother. Eh?

On the way home stopped by at Sears and near where I was passing, I saw a young woman rushing frantically past me to the counter in front of me and there it was she left her bag right on that center isle counter. I said with a big smile, "Lucky you! Now, that will teach you never to lay your bag down!" And then I told her about my precious little round Mink Muff of last week's experience.

A couple in Sears (and not young) selecting a glamorous wedding band to take place of her old wedding band and that for Christmas.

But then I did read somewhere or other about a man giving his wife a lot in the cemetery for Christmas. UGH! If some men would only think! Well, Folks there you have it! Am always interested in people and do you wonder why?

See you next week D.V. Have a grand week-end and let us try to drive safely everywhere we go regardless of the time or day—just leave a little earlier so as you can take your time. I remain,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.
