Work is progressing slowly on the plans to increase Taneytown's water supply. Yesterday (Wednesday) 62 pieces of cast iron pipe arrived on the railroad siding. Each pipe was eighteen feet long and 10 inches in diameter, weighing about 900 lbs. each. The efficient workers of Ralph Stonesifer, contractor, proceeded to unload the car, with the use of a crane, and pipe was hauled to the place where it will be placed to supplement the town's water supply. The storage tank has not arrived - neither has the work of drilling the well begun.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

NEWLY IMPROVED HIGH SCHOOL

by Barbara Rinehart

We were all happy to enter our high school September 8. During the summer, workmen have been busy painting, refinishing floors, and installing new appliances. The first thing we noticed upon entering the school was the freshly painted halls and classrooms. The first assembly in the auditorium was the scene of gasping and moving eyes from ceiling to floor. Of course there was an answer to this, it was the new ceiling and lights, entirely new heating and heating system, and the refinishing floor. The home economics room was likewise equipped with modern educational furnishings. They include four tables, chairs, and four new sewing machines. New fixtures were installed in both lavatories and new blinds were put in most of the rooms. The portable was removed and a new band and coral room are being built. Our newly improved high school is very lovely and something of which we can all be proud.

Friday, Sept. 18, during assembly period officers of the grades were elected.

12th grade officers—President - Ravina Arvin, Vice Pres. - Barbara Rinehart, Sec. - Gherrie Shealer, Treas. - James Kump, Rep. - Sue Baker.

The results of these tests will be evaluated and used to the best advantage of the teachers and students. Mrs. Gold Adkins, guidance counselor, is directing the testing program.

New Windsor Youth Goes To Waterloo

Marlin Hoff has been selected as a member of the Maryland Dairy Judging Team to compete in the National Dairy Judging Contest at Waterloo, Iowa. He attained this goal after placing first in the state dairy judging contest at Timonium and subsequent practices of the eight highest individuals in that event.

Marlin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Hoff of New Windsor, where he is engaged in dairying with his father. He has been participating in 4-H dairy projects and dairy judging for more than 10 years.

The Carroll County team placed second rather than 4th, as was reported last week, due to an error in scoring the contestants.

Plans Begun on the 1960 School Budget

The Board of Education of Carroll County met in the County Office Building on Tuesday, Sept. 15; the meeting being in charge of vice-president Clifton Warner.

The Board gave approval to the minutes of the regular August meeting and also approved the minutes of a special meeting held during the month for the purpose of approving an electrical contract for improvements at the Taneytown High School.

Approval was given by the Board for the bills submitted and it was directed that they be made a part of the record of the meeting.

Resignations were accepted from Alva Conaway, custodian at the Elmer Wolfe School; Thomas Riggan, teacher in the Hampstead School.

Approval was given for new contracts in the cases of Mrs. Helen Billingslea, Mrs. Margaret C. Briscoe, Mrs. Annie C. Wooten, Edwin Powelson, Gordon Davis, Mrs. Maxine Zug, Mrs. Jane Heaps and Nancy Jones, for assignment to positions in the teaching force.

The Board gave approval to negotiations and progress made during the month in connection with the opening of the Francis Scott Key School and emergency measures in connection with the provision of a water supply for this school. A report was given regarding the opening of the new school to the effect that approximately 350 pupils had reported to the school and had been assigned to classes. Further report indicated that the operation of the school was going on efficiently from the first day and that supervisors were quite pleased with the results of careful planning which had been made during the year prior to the opening.

The Board took action to approve a number of changes and modifications in connection with transportation contracts and approved a number of miscellaneous transactions in connection with building improvements during the month.

The Board was advised regarding the issue of certain regulations in connection with pupil costume and appearance which had been released during the month and approval was given for the details of these regulations to be followed through by principals and other officials.

The Board was advised regarding the names of substitute teachers—a list of whom had been provided for the principals of the county.

Action was also taken to dispose of a station wagon which had been offered for bids and was purchased by Miss M. Magdalen Hamilton for $200.10.

The Board also took action to approve negotiations in connection with the Westminster Sr. High School painting contract.

The Board was provided with a tentative report regarding the organization of transportation in the schools of the county and was given information to indicate that about 10,280 pupils were in attendance.

The Board directed that work begin promptly to plan the budget for 1960 and that every effort be made to have the information in readiness for discussion and approval by all parties concerned as early as possible prior to the beginning of the 1960 calendar year.

The Board heard a report regarding the maintenance and repair work and custodial service in the schools and gave approval for the attendance of principals, supervisors and other officials at a number of state meetings to be held during the month of October.

Announcement was made regarding the regular state meeting of the Maryland Association of Boards of Education to be held in Annapolis on October 1 and 2. The superintendent expressed the hope that a majority of board members would be able to attend these sessions.

Reports were given on the statistics related to the opening of schools and the meetings in connection with school opening and other preliminary workshops and school meetings held in order to plan for an efficient opening and a prompt beginning of school work.

The Board was provided with copies of a new bulletin, prepared by the Supervisor of Pupil Personnel, Miss May Grimes, and the Visiting Teacher, Mrs. Dolores Snyder. This bulletin is to be used by the principals and staff members in connection with pupil personnel work throughout the county schools.

The Board heard a brief report from Mr. Paul Wooden, auditor, regarding financial matters affecting school operation. The superintendent emphasized to the board members the fact that the Carroll County Schools had opened effectively and without unfortunate incidents; that all teaching positions had been filled and that the enrollment was the largest in the county's history, exceeding by about 300 the enrollment in September 1958. The superintendent's report indicated that credit for this was due to the sincere efforts of supervisors and principals who had been engaged in planning for an effective opening and a prompt beginning of school sessions.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

It was with chills and thrills, goose pimples, tears and prayers that I sat and watched our wonderful President and all our men in uniform marching so beautifully on TV when Premier Khrushchev was met with his family in Washington. Mrs. K. has a kind face and what I call a very open countenance. I cannot think what benefit this trip will amount to in the end.

Here's to all M. D.'s. Be sure you read the wonderful book titled "A Man Ten Feet Tall!" That one every doctor should read. It is by Helen Topping Miller and the title gets its name by the doctor seeing his shadow in a barn appearing ten feet tall!

Here's a cute one! The young boy next door remained at home while his family vacationed gained four pounds and when I asked him the reason he replied, "I was my own cooking!" Cute, eh?

Now, ladies?, beautiful white imported "Bunny Fur" hats are being shown in all the stores. Quite glamorous and in all shapes.

A lovely letter arrived from the actress, Gloria Vanderbilt.

Believe it or not, today I saw a one month old baby with hair three inches long (my 4th cousin) no one can ever tell me that blood don't tell!

Were you disappointed in the selection of Miss America? I had chosen Miss Wisconsin as I had thousands of others.

Our Mayor Grady of Baltimore has thought up a nice one about those "Meter Maids".

Don't forget, Mrs. Housekeeper, if you have any old rugs and desire to have them made into one beautiful rug just write to Olson in Chicago. They truly are glamorous.

If you have any trouble with your feet don't forget that kind and gentle doctor chiropodist on Liberty street. Just one flight up and it will be the best flight of stairs you ever climbed. Dr. Grooms! Treats your feet like babies and you will be singing "Happy Feet" when you take your first step.

Hope you did not miss "An Evening With Godfrey" last Wednesday night—first show since his operation. He appeared younger than ever in his face although his weight seemed to be the same, even a trifle stouter. It was fascinating to switch to Hawaii and then back to the lovely farm. And as for the sponsors—Benrus, Hoover, and the Sara Lee Products—all excellent merchandise. Hoover is celebrating his 51st birthday on the market with that grand sweepster that picks up just about everything on the floor. And as for Benrus, I have had one of those famous watches for many years and it is still going strong. A plain little square affair. The one I had previous to this was most unique and colonial due to its oblong roundness. It was what I call a sweet watch. Perfectly plain. The fine voice of the colored chap, Johnny Nash, is more beautiful than ever as he sang, "I Heard A Call Of Spring" as he strolled through the woods of "Beacon Hill", the name of Arthur Godfrey's farm.

Every parent and teen-ager should see "Blue Denim" at the Mayfair on North Howard Street. In the very beginning of the picture this comes on the screen "Youth Is Like Springtime—Both Overly Priced!" Never have I seen finer acting. It is a true story that could happen in any fine family. Carol Lynley, Brandon de Wilde, MacDonald Carey and Marsha Hunt all take excellent parts. As you sit there you will live right through the story and those individuals. Perhaps it will mean that Mother and Dad will take more time with their teen-agers.

Next week, folks, will be writing of the sign of the Zodiac "Libra" the sign of the "Scales", from Sept. 20 to Oct. 20 inclusive.

Have a grand week end. Be kind and loving to each other for it is later than you think! Until next week end D.V., I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

HE ASKED FOR IT

As our voluble guest from Moscow rode up Washington's Pennsylvania Avenue with President Eisenhower and was escorted by the President to the door of Blair House just across the street from the white House, a mysterious gleaming white cross appeared in the blue autumn sky overhead.

In New York, where security considerations dictated the use of a closed car, the same cross hovered over 42nd Street, but perhaps he didn't see it.

On Wednesday, in the course of answering a question on trade put to him at the National Press Club luncheon, Comrade Khrushchev said: "We have not come here with a long hand to try to get into your pockets. We have enough of our own. Nor have we come here hat in hand awaiting to get something."

On Thursday, Mayor Wagner in the course of his welcoming speech at a luncheon given by the City of New York said: "Chairman Khrushchev will undoubtedly recall how the great pipe-line of lend-lease started flowing (in World War II) even before our own nation was under attack, and how $11 billion of it was channeled to Russia alone over a five-year period."

This delicate reminder that this loan remains unpaid, may also have reminded Mr. K. of earlier loans that have been flatly repudiated and of his own bombastic statement in Moscow a few days ago that: "The Soviet Union has always fulfilled and will continue sacredly to fulfill its international undertakings."

In his Thursday press conference, President Eisenhower challenged the Khrushchev "third country" remark made at the Senate Foreign Relations Committee "teaparty". Senator Wiley had asked: "Why did you come here?" and our visitor replied that it was not to discuss "third countries". The President said there was no agreement of the sort, on Laos or any other "third country".

In both Washington and New York, the Kremlin's head man has emphasized that the purpose of his visit is "better understanding".

It could be his understanding of the US is improving - every day.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Our public school opened last week with an attendance of 125 pupils. The upper grades are in charge of J. E. Fleagle, of Baltimore and Miss Mamie Bosley, of Finksburg. No change has been made in the lower grade rooms, Miss Emma Reaver and Miss G. May Forrest still presiding in that department.

Our undertaker, Chas. O. Fuss, has purchased a fine new funeral car, and in this particular is now better equipped than any other undertaker in this section of the state. There is not likely, however, to be any increased desire to take a ride with him as driver, simply because he has an up-to-date funeral car, and not just an ordinary hearse.

Mr. E. M. Dutterer of Middleburg won three "blue ribbons" on the horses he had on exhibition at the Hanover Fair.

Two Registration Days. The only days for Registration of voters, this year are Tuesday Sept. 28, and Tuesday, Oct. 5. Don't Forget to attend to this important matter.

Uniontown.—A large barn was raised on Wednesday on G. Fielder Gilbert's farm, to replace the one that was burned in August. Bud Martin is the contractor.—The Lutheran C. E. Society, will hold a social on Friday evening at the home of Misses Alexina and Clay Mering.

Harney.—Mark R. Snider has purchased the Abraham Hesson farm, near this place. He will stock the farm in the Spring, when he gets possession and commence to make general repairs.—John H. Ridinger bought the Ridinger property, on last Saturday, for $1,542.50. This was considered a good price for 15 acres and 60 perches of land, in this community.—Luther and Harry Shriver will leave this Saturday morning for Denver, Colorado. Lute has been a former resident of that place, but it is a new venture for Harry.—Corn cutting and seeding seem to be the order of the week.

Carroll County Council of Social Agencies to Begin Study of Youth Services in The County

Mr. John Isaac, Chairman of the Youth Committee, Carroll County Council of Social Agencies, announced at the Council's regular meeting in September that a study of youth services in Carroll County has been formulated and will begin this month. The study will be conducted in two parts. The first part will be conducted in conjunction with the Maryland White House Conference Committee so that information may be obtained for the President's White House Conference in 1960. The information obtained for the White House Conference will be of general nature. The second part of the survey will also begin in September and will undertake a more specific survey of these services in the County and also the extent of the delinquency problem here.

Questionnaires will be distributed to law enforcement agencies, service clubs, church organizations and recreation facilities throughout the County. Information will also be obtained from agencies in the community who deal with the youth such as the Health Department and the Welfare Board. There is also planned a door to door survey with possible help of sociology classes of Western Maryland College to obtain ideas and the feelings of the public on what is needed to provide good service for youth in the County.

Results of questionnaires and information received will be announced periodically. When the survey is completed and the information is brought together it is planned that a committee meeting will be conducted to discuss the findings of the survey. This meeting will hopefully be conducted in the spring of 1960. Upon completion of the survey the findings of the committee will be placed in the report which will be sent to the County Commissioners for their information and consideration. Mr. Isaac announced that the first questionnaires will be sent on September 15th to law enforcement agencies and requests that these be returned by September 30th.

CHEVROLET
WITH REVOLUTIONARY
TORSION-SPRING SUSPENSION
SHOCKPROOF ACTION !!!!!

Chevy's done the next best thing to paving every road in America!

First they threw out the front axle and put in torsion-spring independent suspension. Then they built wide-base coil rear springs into most light-duty models, variable-rate leaf springs into heavies. That made it—a ride that completely eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight, lets you move faster over any ground to get more work done in a day.

Brawnier bulldozer build!

They're tougher than any Chevy trucks ever made. Frames are stronger, cabs 67% more rigid. Front wheels and tires are precision-balanced. And that new suspension cushions jars and road shock that used to spell slow death for the truck's body and sheet metal.

More comfortable cabs!

Easier to hop in and out of too. Many models are a whole 7 inches lower outside. Yet there's more head room inside, plus more width-for shoulders and hips. The windshield's bigger, with a wider, safer sweep of vision. Suspended pedals give you more foot room.

Big in the power department!

With the industry's most advanced gas-saving 6's. With high-torque Workmaster V8 performance in heavyweights. With new 6-cylinder or V8 power available in new Low Cab Forward models.

More models than ever!

New 4-wheel-drive models and tandems and high-styled Suburban Carryalls. It's the handsomest, hardest working Chevy fleet ever to report for duty. See your dealer for the whole story and, by all means, take a ride. It's something!

Anything less is an old-fashioned truck!

She wore a white headband to which was attached a nose length veil, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Carol M. Brown, Emmitsburg, sister of the groom was maid of honor. She wore a sleeveless street length dress of blue organza with fitted bodice and full skirt with matching headband to which was attached a short blue veil, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Milk Order Meeting is Set for Monday

A meeting in Taneytown, to give local milk producers an opportunity to discuss the terms of the "recommended decision" of a Federal Milk Marketing Order for the "Upper Chesapeake Bay" area, of which Baltimore is the principal city, will be held at 7:30 p. m., Monday in St. Joseph's Church Social Hall.

The meeting has been arranged by the Maryland Cooperative Producers, Inc., which last October asked the U. S. Department of Agriculture for a milk marketing order for all dairy farmers shipping their milk to Baltimore. Under authority given to the USDA by Congress in 1937, these Orders—there are some 75 covering urban centers in the U. S. today—are designed to stabilize milk markets by providing minimum prices to be paid to all farmers by all dealers affected by the Order.

Since a number of dairy farmers in this area will be affected the MCOMP, as the guiding spirit behind the Agriculture Department's action, has arranged a series of informational meetings for all milk producers. A meeting will be held at Westminster Tuesday night at 7:45 p. m., at the Agricultural Center. Those unable to attend Monday's meeting are asked to attend the next nearest one.

At Monday's meeting, officials of the MCOMP, individuals from its field force and members of its Volunteer Workers' Group will be on hand to explain the terms of the Department's "recommended decision" and to answer any questions concerning the farmer's position under an Order. The meeting is sponsored by Carroll County directors Horace S. Brauning, Hubert J. Null and Russell S. Royer.

Because the final Order will affect many dairy farmers, those who are not members of the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc. are cordially invited to attend.

Taneytown Student Enters Antioch College

YELLOW SPRINGS, O. — Louis R. Mische, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Mische of Roberts Mill road, is among 425 freshmen and transfer students arriving at Antioch College recently for a ten-day orientation period before classes begin on Sept. 30.

New Antioch students can look forward to several unique educational experiences during their years at the liberal arts college.

Possibly best known is Antioch's cooperative plan of education whereby all students, regardless of field of concentration, regularly supplement, on campus study with off-campus job experiences. Designed as an educational tool, this program is made possible by the cooperation of more than 300 employers in 26 states.

In recent years, the cooperative plan has been expanded to Europe and Mexico. Under Antioch Education abroad, qualified students can spend one of their upperclass years in a planned program of study-plus-work in any one of 14 foreign countries. Scholarships are available for this program so that all students meeting academic requirements can participate.

Mische graduated from Taneytown Senior High school in June where he served as president and treasurer of the Student Council, circulation manager of the newspaper, and a member of the band and chorus. Sports editor of the yearbook, he played basketball and baseball and was treasurer of the Key Club.

AT HARPERS FERRY JOHN BROWN'S RAID CENTENNIAL PLANNED

One never thinks of Harpers Ferry without thinking of John Brown's Raid. It was John Brown's Raid that made the place known to the world.

Harpers Ferry, a scenic and historic site, is located at the confluence of two rivers—the Shenandoah and the Potomac. It was a strategic point during the War between the States. It was alternately abandoned during the war by the Confederate and Federal armies. And it was permanently occupied by Federal troops after the battle of Gettysburg.

The year after George Washington was born, Peter Stephens, a trader, became the first settler at what was to be the future Harpers Ferry. For a time the place called "Peter's Hole", and in 1747 was purchased by Robert Harper, a millwright. Harper had a vision of the waterpower possibilities, and soon established a mill and a ferry, and about these grew a small village bearing his name.

In 1796, Congress authorized the purchase there of land for the building of a gun factory. It was thought to be a suitable site for the erection of a Federal armory because of the waterpower, a supply of iron, extensive hardwood forest for making charcoal, and a waterway to carry the manufactured product to Washington, D.C. only 55 miles away by rail. Many of the rifles used in the War of 1812 were made at Harpers Ferry.

West from Washington, the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and United States Highway 340 between Frederick, Maryland, and Charles Town, West Virginia, pass through Harpers Ferry National Monument. Harpers Ferry National Monument is administered by the National Park Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior.

In 1944, an act of Congress authorized the establishment of Harpers Ferry National Monument to commemorate the historic events associated with the place. In October of this year, 1959, for a week a centennial will be observed in commemoration of John Brown's Raid.

The present area of 515 acres is divided into three tracts located on Bolivar Heights, London Heights, and Harpers Ferry. These tracts purchased by the State of West Virginia were donated to the Federal Government. Maryland is in the process of acquiring a portion of Maryland Heights as an additional to the monument. At present there is a walking tour of the downtown area of Harpers Ferry, and automobile routes to Bolivar Heights. As yet there is no development on either London or Maryland Heights.

Harpers Ferry is the location of Storer College, established in 1867, and is one of the earliest Negro colleges in the United States. "John Brown's Fort", which was an engine house, and moved three times, now stands on the Storer College Campus.

John Brown was a staunch abolitionist. Because of his fanatical religious beliefs and his deep conviction that every man created in the image of God should be free, he attempted an aggressive plan on the night of October 16, 1859, to free the slaves. With 22 raiders he led an attack upon Harpers Ferry, then in Virginia but now in West Virginia, and seized the Federal arsenal, believing that this would result in an immediate uprising of the slaves. This did not happen, however. Within a day or two, U.S. troops under Colonel Robert E. Lee, had put down the rebellion.

In the battle which ensued, two of Brown's sons were killed, Brown himself was captured and forced to capitulate. He was charged with various crimes, including treason and murder. Brown distinguished himself during his trial by his eloquent defense of his efforts in behalf of the slaves. He denied everything "but... a design on my part to free slaves." He felt no sense of guilt. To "interfere" on behalf of God's "denied poor" was "no wrong but right."

Brown was convicted and on November 2 was sentenced to die on December 2. For many years after his death Brown was generally regarded as a martyr to the cause of human freedom. He was hanged in Charles Town (now W. Va.) which is 8 miles from Harpers Ferry.

There was a song written in his honor, and which became famous. The singing of this song did much to inspire the soldiers of the Civil War. Two of the lines are:

John Brown's body lies a mouldering in the grave,
His soul goes marching on.

Harpers Ferry at the end of the war was a ghost town. Many of the buildings, including the armory, arsenal, and mills, were destroyed. It was never fully to recover which is evident to visitors today. Several buildings at Harpers Ferry itself have a spooky appearance.

Local Youth has Champion Steer

Kenneth Stonesifer, Route #1, Taneytown, Maryland, had the champion Shorthorn steer over all breeds and, also, the grand champion Shorthorn steer at the Carroll County 4-H and FFA Fair held at the end of August.

John F. Apsey, Director of Advertising and Public Relations of Black and Decker spoke to Maryland Children's Aid Society Campaign workers at a Dutch treat dinner at Miller's restaurant in Westminster Thursday evening (September 10).

Apsey told the volunteer workers that "there can be no boundaries of property lines, streets or miles; no social, racial or religious distinctions in 'good neighbor charity'."

He pledged the assistance of his own firm to Children's Aid. "The support of humanitarian services," Apsey said, "is a direct obligation of any corporation to the community in which it has prospered."

Pointing up the values of the voluntary agency, Apsey explained that it "operates as a sort of clearing house through which the debits of social misfortune and the credits of sympathetic charity are balanced out to the greatest benefit of all."

C. W. Haschert of Westminster, Campaign chairman and toastmaster emphasized the Community's need for both public and private social welfare agencies. "Private charity is an expression of individual man's concern for the individual," he said. "The Children's Aid gives everyone in the community the opportunity to help personally another human being," Haschert explained.

Mrs. Robert A. Scott of Westminster, Vice President of Children's Aid, J. Fife Symington, Jr., of Lutherville, President, and Miss E. Elizabeth Glover of Baltimore, Executive Director were introduced by the Toastmaster.

The Children's Aid drive opens October 1 and will run through the 15th. The Carroll County goal is $13,500. The drive helps provide adoption service, foster family care for infants and young children, and service for unmarried expectant mothers. Maryland Children's Aid is the only statewide, voluntary, non-sectarian agency in Maryland.

Mr. Angell, prominent retired businessman of Union Bridge, will head the Children's Aid Fund Raising Drive in that area the first two weeks of Oct. He urges community support for this private agency which has been helping children in Carroll County since 1929. The agency depends on voluntary contributions to selling Services and work with Unmarried Mothers. The financial goal is support Adoption, Foster Care, Coun- $13,500.

"Phone us if you need us"

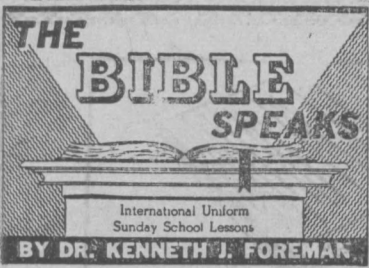

A girl's best friend is often her telephone—whether she's twenty-five or five.

When you're twenty-five, the mother of a five-year-old, and going out for the evening—it means a lot to know that your favorite baby sitter can call you by phone should anything unusual occur to worry her.

That silent phone says, as clearly as words, that all's well at home.

Sometimes the calls that aren't made (because they aren't needed) add as much to living as those we like to make. Perhaps that's what makes a phone worth so much more than it costs.

The Long Pull

Lesson for September 27, 1959

THE SAME thing never happens twice. But the same kind of thing happens over and over in the history of mankind. Man is the same sort of creature everywhere you find him, and all the gadgets and inventions of the past 300 years have not changed him very much. So you might expect the same kind of situation or problem to turn up again and again in the long story of man on this planet.

Dr. Foreman

One of these might be called the Run-Down Situation. We could call it the Problem of the Rut. It is the state of things when nothing of great importance is happening as far as we can see, when one day is about like most other days. In fact, it's the way life looks to many people over 40. The great thrills are over, death is nowhere yet in sight, there is nothing to do but to keep on plodding as patiently as possible.

For the Long Pull

The prophet Malachi lived in such times. This last book of the Old Testament comes from a time of disillusionment, weariness and tedium. The great thrill of coming home from exile was over long since—more than one hundred years, in fact. Nobody had seen a miracle, no Moses was in sight. The Jews in Palestine, where Malachi preached, had once been all excited about being able to come back in peace to Jerusalem to build a temple and to worship the true God. But as time went on people became tired of the endless series of sacrifices, even the priests became bored with the whole thing. People stopped coming to the temple. The priests did not think of carrying religion to the people, and the country was sinking deeper and deeper into religious indifference and moral decay. There were many religious observances, but not much heart-religion.

In this situation Malachi preached. He did not have the dramatic power of Amos nor the tenderness of Hosea nor the majestic world-vision of Isaiah. . . to this very day Malachi is nobody's favorite prophet. Nevertheless what he said then seems to fit our day remarkably well. For he was giving his people hints for what we might call "Religion for the Long Pull."

Do Better

Malachi's recipe for doing God's will, as a nation, was simple and will always work. He did not propose anything new or startling. What he recommended, in a nutshell, was doing the good things better—the good things they were already doing in a half-hearted, discouraged sort of way. They had priests, men of God they were called. BE men of God! was Malachi's word for them. Take your responsibilities, get out there and teach the people, don't live selfish secluded lives. (This in modern terms would be a plea both for better ministers and for better schools.)

Then Malachi spoke of supporting the law. The expression "law-abiding" is not exactly thrilling, even to law-abiding people; but Malachi laid it on the line: You will never make any progress so long as you keep breaking the laws that you know. A nation of law-breakers is headed for a breakdown itself.

Further, Malachi did not fail to mention those two institutions, the church and the home. Put him into modern language, and we can hear him saying, better churches make better homes! Better homes make better churches! What was happening to homes in those days, this prophet says, grieved God himself.

No Short-Cuts

Quack medicines always sell, because people want to get well of their troubles right away, they can't wait. Quack religion "sells," too, and for the same reason. People would be glad for God to "pass a miracle" and bring that better world right down from the clouds. They wish the "day of the Lord" would come. Anything at all to save themselves trouble. Malachi has no comfort for such persons. He believed there could be a better Jerusalem; but it would come only if God's people wanted it enough to work for it.

LONG-RANGE PLAN FOR COUNTY ROADS

Technical Assistant to County Commissioners Making Study

In that the year 1960 must see the start of an ambitious county road program, and in order to realize the maximum in federal funds allotted to Carroll County, Technical Assistant to the County Commissioners Grier this week proposed that the County consider a County road priority study. While realizing that all the components of such a study could not be immediately determined, it was pointed out by Mr. Grier that enough information could be secured about "unimproved roads" to select a road program for 1960 based on "facts" and thus eliminate what could be "guess work".

The program outlined for the County Commissioners was much like the one developed by Mr. Grier in Harford County and adopted elsewhere in the state. Prime consideration in the selection of a road program under such a system is an actual count of residences on each unimproved road. Although not possible for a year or so, traffic counts were noted as being an important feature in determining road use. In that Federal Aid Funds allotted may exceed $225,000, in the 1960 program, consideration of those unimproved roads which are recognized Federal Aid routes was also asked to be a factor for the selection of any program. Other factors proposed for consideration were school bus routes and short unimproved sections of roads between hard-surfaced roads which aid in absorbing a large amount of traffic.

It was pointed out to the County Commissioners that all unimproved roads under this system could be considered each year on the merits of each. Likewise, the Highways Engineer could effectively recommend a program each year to the County Commissioners based on those roads which had the "highest" classification.

Mr. Grier related that, while these studies may not always be reason for the selection of a road for improvement, the road priority study if kept up to date and followed each year could do much toward making a program for county roads improvement based upon the merits of each road, rather than upon some special, personal or geographical consideration.

The County Commissioners are studying the proposal made to determine whether any other factors could be added to such a road code that might be beneficial to Carroll County.

DON'T GUESS — HAVE YOUR SOIL TESTED FREE, SAYS COUNTY AGENT

"Don't guess — have your soil tested", urges County Agent L. C. Burns.

A soil test is the only way to accurately determine lime and fertilizer needs. Different crops and soil conditions require different lime and fertilizer applications for profitable farming, he explains.

Farmers can get a free soil analysis plus lime and fertilizer recommendations based on the test.

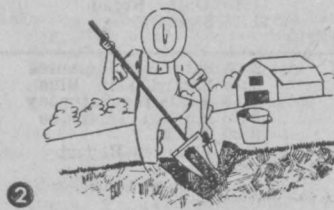

"All you need to do is to pick up a free set of instructions and soil sample box at my office, County Office Building," Mr. Burns says. "Return your samples to my office, and I'll send them to the University of Maryland Soil Testing Laboratory. In a couple of weeks, you'll get the results of the test, along with recommendations for applying the right amounts of lime and fertilizer to grow more profitable crops."

How to Take a Soil Sample

Your soil test can be no better than the soil sample you give your county agent to be analyzed. Here's how to take good soil samples:

1 Divide your farm into areas for sampling, so that no sample represents more than 10 acres. Soils that are distinctly different in color, crop growth or past treatment should be sampled separately.

2 With a spade, dig a hole to plow depth. Shave a 1 inch slice from the side of the hole. Collect at least 15 samples from each field. Avoid dead furrows, back furrows, old manure and lime piles.

3 Collect the slices of soil in a clean bucket. Break them up and mix them before taking your soil sample.

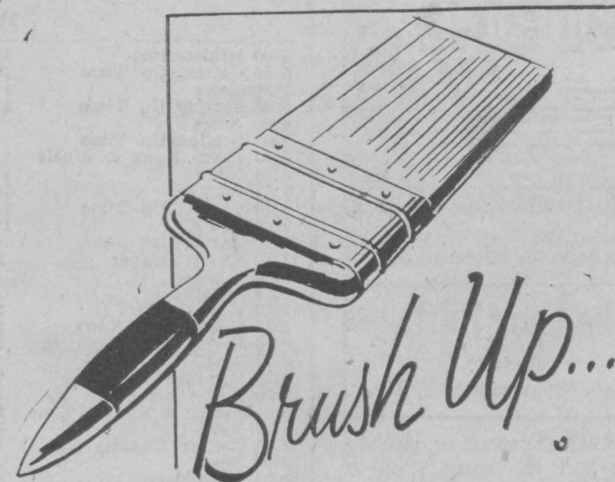

4 Fill a soil sample box with soil from each field. Number each box and identify the field it came from.

5 Fill out an information sheet for each field you sampled.

6 Return samples and information sheets to your county agent.
