George Motter was appointed to represent the Council on this committee that the Jaycees are forming to carry out this program. The Council authorized lights to be attached to the Street lighting that will light up the entrance at the Memorial Park.

It was also noted that the water tower arrived in Taneytown, and is being moved to the location on the Wilson Utz property. Kohl Brothers, Harrisburg, will start drilling the new well Wednesday morning. Keysville U L C W Meeting

The U L C W of Keysville met Monday evening and began their meeting by singing "O God Of Love Give Peace Again". Mrs. Sophia Dennis read the scripture lesson and offered the prayer. The topic for the discussion was "You And The United Nations". Mrs. Helen Dougherty read the Preamble to the United Nations. Attractive posters and an electrically lighted globe graced the front of the church. Mrs. Dharlys Fleharty introduced the topic and also the speaker, Mr. Ralph Fleharty, her brother-in-law. He and his family has spent a number of years in Saudi Arabia. He is employed by Aramco-Arabian-American Oil Co.

Our last Mission Study Class was on Arabia. We were fortunate to have him and his wife in the community and to get first hand information. The discussion of the main topic was dispensed with in order to give him more time. He talked on the "Economic Conditions of Arabia", touching upon all phases such as topography, climate, religion, education, economy and the social life. After his talk the group asked questions. The answers were very informative. With the knowledge gained from the last year's mission study and his excellent talk, one has the feeling they know much more about Arabia. Thanks to Mr. Fleharty. The meeting closed by using the hymn "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind", and the missionary benediction.

Mrs. Kathryn Stine conducted the regular business meeting. Mrs. Doris Harner read the minutes and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Clara Clabaugh. A number of the men of the Keysville Brotherhood and their wives were present; also several visitors and husbands of the members of the U L C W to enjoy the talk of Mr. Ralph Fleharty.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health-life's greatest wealth I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way-help to bring you happiness!

The dry weather has caused the leaves to fall so early from the trees in many sections. That happens usually in late October. Won't be long now for real cool weather-just around the corner, as the saying goes.

Many individuals have criticized the wearing apparel and figure of Mrs. K. That seems so strange to me as there are thousands of women right here in America who have the same type of figure. And that is the reason for the rush to the beauty reducing salons. In each picture, I have observed of Mrs. K. there was always that same smile and somehow her expression and that smile brought to mind the painting of "Mona Lisa!"

and thinking of the ladies. Did you know that the T.V. personality of "Spring Byington" is her correct name?

As I visit the ill, there is a neighborhood where many have lived in East Baltimore on Felt Ave. One of the neighbors who had always had perfect health was rushed to the hospital for a nose bleed and returned home in three days. Those kindly neighbors have been bringing in food for over two weeks! Dear Hearts and Gentle People! Eh?

Recently an aged lady of 80 years being alone late at night when the son and his wife left for the evening, fell and broke her shoulder. Never leave any elderly person alone in the house at any time, folks!

The Museum of Art in Wyman's Park this week is featuring an example of colonial architecture-the Chestertown Room in its Maryland wing. The white-painted pine paneling of the room dates 1771 from a house known as "The Abbey" near Chestertown, Md. The overmantel, which has a broken pediment as the top detail is noteworthy. Most of the furniture in the room is also 18th Century and was made in Baltimore. There are paintings of prominent men of those days hanging on the wall. One in particular of "Carroll" is very beautiful-the one signer of the Declaration of Independence. He is seated outdoors and the coloring is most beautiful. Lunch is served daily on a lower floor of the building and that way you could make it for a half day to visit each room of that lovely building.

Seeing two movies in one day for this column last week-Mario Lanza at the Hippodrome and Debbie Reynolds in "It Started With A Kiss". The magnificent voice of Lanza was even richer and deeper than in previous films which delighted the optimistic minded audience which I observed. Frankly, I thought that I was again seated in the Metropolitan Opera House in Philadelphia of years ago as Caruso in "Aida" and "Pagliaccio" sang. Lanza's voice, a beautiful rich tenor, compares with Caruso's. The title of the show is "For The First Time" which he sings to the young girl with whom he falls in love. She cannot hear him sing in this story and he is determined to make much money to have the very best of doctors. The film was all done in Europe and you will see the lovely scenes of Italy, Capri and Salzburg. Lanza sings from selections of the different operas. The theme song is, of course, "For The First Time I Am Falling In Love". The girl in his life in this movie is Christa-Johanna von Koezian and plays it all so real that one would think she really was stone deaf. This columnist could see and hear it over again. Don't miss it. Debbie Reynolds was much better in "It Started With A Kiss" than previous plays in which she starred. Of course, the teen-agers will enjoy this comedy. She meets a service man whom she marries in the very beginning of the picture (and that is unusual) for it always ends thus! You will also see a bullfighter and his girl friend, one of those good lookers of the Gabor sisters, this time Eva Gabor. The show is at the Stanley on North Howard Street.

All fine shows now are beginning on T.V. so don't wait to purchase your set. All makes are excellent but I have observed much about the Motorola and the RCA sets. And, whatever you do, Mother, do not permit any radio or T.V. when your child is doing his or her homework. They should have perfect quietness so as they can concentrate fully on the lessons.

So long, folks, until next week D.V. Have a grand week end. Until then, I am, Faithfully, YOUR OBSERVER.

PAST CHIEFS MEET

The Past Chiefs Club met at the home of Mrs. Rhoda Dayhoff on Tuesday evening, Oct. 6th. Meeting opened by singing "Come Ye Thankful People". Scripture lesson was read by the hostess, Mrs. Dayhoff, with the Lord's Prayer in unison. Roll call was answered with 16 members being present. A Happy Birthday was sung to two members, each receiving a gift. Guess box was given by Mrs. Fern Heiges and won by Mrs. Fred Shank.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fern Heiges, Hanover, Pa., on Nov. 3rd, at 7:30 p. m.

HAZARD HUNT IN YOUR HOME CAN REDUCE DANGER OF FIRE

There were nearly 850,000 fires in U. S. cities during 1958.

They occurred everywhere — in businesses, churches, schools, industrial plants, hospitals—And in homes.

There were almost 300,000 home fires. That's an average of 800 home fires a day—one every two minutes!

There were 11,500 fire deaths. Principal victims were young children under five years of age and persons over 65.

And that's not all. Fire destroyed a billion dollars worth of property—$1,056,266,000. That's some $2,890,000 a day or damage equal to $6 a year for every man, woman and child in the U. S.!

These were the results of fires in one year. Yet, at least 75 per cent of these fires were preventable! They happened largely because of carelessness.

What can you do to help prevent fires?

Basically, two things: you can make your home fire-safe and make your family fire-safety conscious.

You can start by becoming a fire hazard hunter in your home, by attempting to locate and eliminate the danger spots there.

Where do most home fires start? It has been reported that over half begin in either the kitchen or the living room. Bedrooms and basements are other major sources of home fires.

What are the major causes of fires? Year-in and year-out the frontrunner is matches and smoking, followed by misuse of electricity.

Matches and smoking caused one-fourth of all fires during the past decade. Most of these fires were caused by carelessness — smoking or lighting matches in dangerous places, careless disposal of cigarettes and matches, smoking in bed, or children playing with matches.

Practicing these few simple rules will mean greater safety:

Keep plenty of ashtrays handy—and use them!

Make sure every cigarette, cigar or match is out before you dispose of it.

Before you go out or go to bed — especially after entertaining — make a brief inspection to be sure nothing is left burning.

Never strike matches or carry lighted matches or candles into closets, attics or other confined places where clothing or combustible materials are kept.

Finally, never smoke in bed. A tragic number of fires are caused by dozing smokers.

The second most common cause of fires, misuse of electricity, caused 21 per cent of U. S. fires in 1958.

Today American families are using electricity in record quantity. Millions of homes have refrigerators, electric washers, television sets, phonographs, freezers, clothes dryers and air conditioners, in addition to the smaller, common appliances.

The question is: Is your home properly wired to carry this load? Too often not—for inadequate and faulty wiring causes many home fires.

Matches and smoking and misuse of electricity account for 46 per cent of all fires in this country. Obviously, they require special vigilance.

Most other fires — particularly those in the home — can generally be attributed to bad housekeeping.

Is your basement or attic littered with stacks of old magazines or accumulated newspapers, rags and other combustible rubbish? These are some of the fuels fire feeds on.

Still other examples of house-keeping hazards are dirty furnaces and chimneys, greasy stoves and carelessly stored oily rags, paints and flammable liquids.

Obviously, to prevent fires you can't wait until spring cleaning to eliminate these common fire hazards. Clean up now — and stay cleaned up the year round. That is practical fire prevention.

GLIMMER OF HOPE

It is coming up time for hunters to shoot themselves and each other. On the highways people will go right on using their cars as projectiles.

And at home, the most dangerous place of all, accidents will keep on happening at a staggering rate — for a total of about four million during the year, of which about 27,000 will be fatal! In fact, they will begin accelerating as the heating season arrives!

The foregoing should be explanation enough for that annual fall event, "Emergencies Don't Wait Week" that goes into its eleventh consecutive observance from October 9 to 17. This public service program has three objectives: more effective accident prevention — with special emphasis on the home; improved and extended public understanding of first aid methods; accessibility of first aid equipment (especially in the home) for proper treatment of accident victims.

This year's anniversary brings with it for the first time some cause for cheering and a ray of hope for the future, according to Dr. John Henderson, medical director of Johnson & Johnson who sponsor this event in cooperation with the local druggist.

In 1958, home accidents actually decreased — in spite of soaring population figures — from 4,200,000 in 1957 to a flat four million and with a reduction in fatalities from 28,000 to 27,000. While the improvement is mighty small, Dr. Henderson notes with some satisfaction that the percentage of reduction in deaths is nearly twice that of total accidents — which leaves room to hope that more people are learning what to do in emergencies, and supplying themselves with the needed equipment.

Most important of all, he thinks, is the change in direction of these statistics.

There can be no doubt that such activities as Emergencies Don't Wait Week are worth while, and that, in this instance, success is largely due to the unselfish and devoted interest of the druggist in the welfare of the community he serves.

And if and when the toll of the injured and the dead in traffic accidents, boating accidents and hunting accidents is likewise checked, we shall begin to think the human race is growing up.

A TEACHER WRITES A LETTER

What can an individual do about problems like school needs and insufficient tax revenue? Sometimes a great deal. Miss Louise Johnson, a school teacher at Wayne, N. J., is proof of this and her story as reported by the New York Times is worth repeating.

Last spring many people read that Alpine, N. J., had rebuffed the American Cyanamid Company when it sought to move part of its offices there from New York City. Most people shrugged off the news. Cyanamid is a big firm. It makes 6,000 chemical products, ranging from antibiotics to fertilizers, and big real estate operators undoubtedly were offering other sites.

Miss Johnson, who teaches music in the Wayne public schools, however, did not shrug it off. She sat down and wrote Cyanamid a letter.

"My identity is immaterial," she began, "except to say that I am a teacher who is anxious to have good schools, and sound educational programs, found only in communities where the tax burden is shared by industrial and residential tax income.

"This is sent to you entirely on my own behalf, for it seems a shame you must struggle to convince Alpine of the benefits of your expansion program. You would not have to convince Wayne. They will welcome you with open arms."

As a result of her letter, Cyanamid is starting work on an $8,000,000 administration center at Wayne. Based on present tax rates, it will pay the township $200,000 a year in taxes, three-fourths of which will go to the public schools.

Being addicted to writing we are happy that this good was initiated by a letter. The written word has not lost its power to communicate, to appeal, to persuade. We also like the way Cyanamid's scientist-managers handled the letter.

They did not lose it, ignore it or brush it off — but dealt with it on its merits. The story leaves the heartening feeling that in America it is possible for the smallest and least known person to deal with a great company with dispatch and satisfaction.

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

COLUMBUS, WISC., REPUBLICAN: "The big laugh of the week should be labeled the House passage of a bill approving an additional 1c tax on gasoline so that the federal road construction program may go on. The 'big' catch comes in that the 1c tax is supposed to be in force for only 22 months, beginning with this September 1.

"Most of us have been around this world enough to know the 'folly' of any tax put on by the Federal government getting so 'light' a treatment, even if so stipulated."

BENTON, MO., DEMOCRAT: "For your information, the Federal Government is the largest electric power producer in the country, the largest insurer, the largest lender, and the largest borrower, the largest land lord and the largest tenant, the largest holder of grazing land, and the largest holder of timberland, the largest owner of grain, the largest warehouse operator, the largest ship-owner, and the largest truck-fleet operator.

"In this year of prosperity, we are not requiring our government to live within its income from Federal taxes. We are going further into debt, borrowing from future generations devaluing the dollar more and more in order to obtain more government handouts today!"

KNOXVILLE, IOWA, EXPRESS: "Every man should have the right to work where he should please, when the pleases, and not have to pay tribute for the privilege. Most of the workmen of this country are not union workers and they seem to be doing all right without being governed and controlled by self-appointed heads."

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "Lack of parental interest and discipline starts children on the wrong track... Social workers say the youths of today are basically sound, but like any growing thing must be steered in the right direction."

CHEWELAH, WN., INDEPENDENT: "Unless there is an economic need for continuing highway work on an accelerated basis from the standpoint of making employment, then we should build within present revenues. If the gas tax gets much higher, there will be an increasing trend to small cars to save gas—comparable to European situation, which would just about defeat the purpose of a greater tax on gasoline."

OBERLIN, KANSAS, HERALD: "It seems at times as if 'government by the people' is something of a joke. In spite of the fact that officials are elected, measures frequently pass Congress which are in opposition to the public's will.

"But action during 1959 has done much to bolster the democratic theory... Now John Q. Public is fighting mad about labor disgraces and his ire is making itself felt in Congressional halls."

FACTS AND OPINIONS

David Lawrence writes in U. S. News & World Report: "Only when peoples are able, in free elections, to choose their leaders and to remove them at will can there be an assurance of peace in the world. Peoples don't make war—only dictators do."

"Until the people of the Soviet Union and the peoples of the neighboring countries of Eastern Europe are free, there can be no relief from the burdens of armament. Tension cannot be relaxed anywhere while the murderous regime in Moscow keeps its conspiratorial agents in every part of the world and its troops quartered in supposedly independent countries."

Senator Byrd, a top fiscal expert, strongly supported President Eisenhower's request for legislation to remove the 4 1/2 per cent interest rate ceiling on long-term government bonds. The Senator pointed out that not a single Treasury bond is selling at par, and some have been selling as low as 81. And only two Treasury notes have held par.

There's trouble on the St. Lawrence Waterway, as Lynn Landrum reports in the Dallas Morning News. Traffic has been light; operational bottlenecks have appeared, the tolls have been far short of meeting interest and amortization costs.

The American Petroleum Institute finds that the availability and use of low-cost energy is an accurate measure of a country's prosperity. When total energy is expressed in terms of equivalent gallons of oil consumed per person per year, national income varies from country to country in almost direct relationship—one dollar of national income per capita for each gallon of energy. Example: Every man, woman, and child in the United States uses energy to the equivalent of 1,711 gallons of oil, and our average annual income is $1,857. India uses energy to the equivalent of 73 gallons a year per person, and average Indian income is $57.

The steel workers lost more wages than they have gained in the four major postwar strikes, writes Henry Hazlitt in Newsweek. In those strikes, he goes on, total direct loss to the strikers came to more than $830 million, most of which was never recovered by strike "gains." And in the current dispute, he adds, to make up for each week of strike idleness, workers will require more than 20 weeks of employment at the increased wage, if it is granted.

Senator Carlson of Kansas gave high praise to the railroads for the successful movement of this year's wheat harvest. It marked the first time in many years, he said, that a serious railroad car shortage did not develop. And the movement was accomplished even though ideal weather made for a short harvest, and receipts of grain at many centers ran to record or near-record quantities.

According to Time, Russia is adopting a capitalistic sales device—installment buying. Soviet citizens will be allowed, for the first time, to buy certain expensive items on pay-as-you-go-basis. The government will take no chances on bad accounts—payments will be a payroll deduction.

Ralph T. Moore writes in the Oregon Voter: "A great deal of our school trouble stems from the persistent and completely fallacious presumption that public education can be measured by the dollars spent more than by the actual results obtained."

This 1960 Ford Galaxie Town Victoria shares the all-new styling characteristics of the other Ford models, yet bears unmistakable resemblance to the elegant Thunderbird profile. The new Galaxie is one inch lower than the 1959 model, but has more interior room for six big persons than ever before. The Galaxie also is available as a two- or four-door sedan. All Fords for 1960 have the slim-line, forward sloping front roof pillar that eliminates the "dog leg" for easier entry.

Announcing!
A WONDERFUL NEW WORLD OF FORDS FOR 1960

FINEST FORDS OF A LIFETIME

This new Ford Galaxie, like all the new, beautifully proportioned 1960 Fords, is styled from a new viewpoint. Traditional automotive elegance combines with modern design in the style of a new decade!

In 1960, for the first time in history, your Ford Dealer presents not one, not two, but three new lines of Ford cars . . .

1. The 1960 Fords—The Finest Fords of a Lifetime, beautiful from any Point of View, worth more from every Point of Value!
2. The 1960 Falcon—The New-size Ford, the world's most experienced new car and the easiest car in the world to own!
3. The 1960 Thunderbird . . . The World's Most Wanted Car!

Introducing the New-Size Ford . . . the 1960 Ford Falcon

Meet the New-size Ford—the Falcon! Here's a car with plenty of room for six big adults and all their luggage. It's sized to handle and park like a "small" car . . . powered to pass and climb like a "big" car . . . and built like no other car for savings!

It gives you up to 30 miles per gallon on regular gas. Aluminized mufflers normally last twice as long as ordinary kinds. A Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes. Even insurance can cost you less! And this Falcon is the world's most experienced new car. It was driven over every mile of numbered Federal Highway in EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A.—a grueling demonstration climaxing Ford's 3 years of development and testing.

The Falcon has the features that American car buyers expect. Its gearshift is on the steering column—not on the floor. Its engine is located up front for greater stability and safety. Best news of all is the Falcon's low, low price. See it at your Ford Dealer's . . . and see the difference!

Now you can see them—the Finest Fords of a Lifetime! Economy-minded Fairlanes. Big-value Fairlane 500's. Elegant Galaxies. A breath-taking new Sunliner convertible and a brand-new hard-top model, the flashing Starliner. Then there's a whole new world of Station Wagon Living, too. It all adds up to 15 glittering variations of the world's newest, most elegant styling theme!

And Ford sets the new trend in power. Ford's Thunderbird 292 V-8 and 352 V-8, like the famous Mileage Maker Six, bring a new world of smoother, hotter performance—on regular gas.

To top it all, the Finest Fords of a Lifetime are priced for savings. Ford is still priced to outvalue all comparable models of its major competitors.

Ford savings, however, only begin with a low price. You save still more with engines that thrive on regular gas and save up to a dollar on every tankful . . . a Full-Flow oil filter that lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes . . . Diamond Lustre Finish that never needs waxing . . . aluminized mufflers that normally last twice as long as conventional types . . . new, safer, Truck-Size brakes that are the biggest ever in Ford's history . . . and new soft-tread, Tyrex cord tires that run quieter, last longer.

In every way these are the Finest Fords of your Lifetime! See them at your Ford Dealer's!

DIED

MISS MARY L. ESSIG. Miss Mary Louise Essig, 32, daughter of the late Edgar H. and Minnie Stratton Essig, died unexpectedly at her home on Fairview Avenue, Taneytown, early Tuesday morning. She was a member of Grace United Church of Christ, Taneytown, Graceful Workers Class and Women's Guild. She leaves a son, Robert L., at home. Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 2 p. m. at the Fuss funeral home, Taneytown, in charge of her pastor, the Rev. Morgan Andreas, assisted by the Rev. Arthur Garvin. Burial will be in Grace Reformed Cemetery, Taneytown.

JAMES F. BURKE. Funeral services were held Friday morning, Oct. 2, 1959 for James F. Burke, Taneytown's postmaster, who died Tuesday, Sept. 29, 1959, in the Annie Warner hospital, Gettysburg, where he had been a patient for the past ten days. The large number of floral pieces attested to the love and esteem of his many friends. Taneytown mourns him, for he was a dedicated man — dedicated to the great American tradition that right is might. His work and achievements for the postoffice in Taneytown were a labor of love on "Jimmie's" part and that part of him will never die. His tireless efforts to better the postal service in Taneytown will live forever in the annals of the history of the Taneytown postoffice.

He had the qualities of humility, patience, forbearance, dedication and kindness. We feel a great personal loss for he was not only a great gentleman, but also a wonderful friend. Rev. Francis P. Wagner was celebrant at the requiem mass held in St. Joseph's Catholic Church at 9 a. m., last Friday.

Members of the staff of the postoffice, with which Mr. Burke had been associated 24 years as clerk, assistant postmaster and then postmaster, served as honorary pallbearers. They were C. Alton Boston, B. Walter Crapster, James C. Myers, Howell B. Royer, C. Walter Hahn and Ira E. Snider.

Active pallbearers were Dr. R. E. McVaugh, George Fream, James Baumgardner, James Fiscus, John Chenoweth and Felix Westine.

Burial was in the United Church of Christ Cemetery, Taneytown.

CARD OF THANKS. We would like to thank our neighbors and friends for the acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy received following the death of my husband and our father.

God's Power

Lesson for October 11, 1959

IS GOD only an "oblong blur"? Somebody is said to have reported that every time he tried to think of God, all he could get before his mind's eye was a kind of oblong blur. If God is as dim and shadowy as that, then the Holy Spirit must be even more so—a blur so dim that one cannot tell whether it is oblong or not.

The story of the earliest Christians, in the book of Acts, does not tell us all about the Holy Spirit that there is for us to know; it does not by any means clear up all the mysteries. But it does help us to understand a few important truths about the Holy Spirit.

Dr. Foreman

The Spirit of God

It makes no real difference whether we speak of the Holy Spirit or the Spirit of God. The Holy Spirit is God's Spirit, and only the Spirit of God is the completely Holy Spirit. A simple definition of the Holy Spirit is this: God at work in the life of man. The Spirit is not a messenger from God, and not an "influence"—as when we say that a young man has the "spirit" of his father, or that the "spirit" of a school is to be seen in all the students. The Spirit of God is God, God here-and-now, God-in-us. The first Christians did not understand this till after the Spirit came on the day of Pentecost (one of the great Jewish festivals). They had been brought up as Jews, and Jews of that time never supposed that God's Spirit was for every one, but only for a very few exceptional persons. It was at Pentecost that they learned that the Spirit is to be "poured out on ALL flesh," that is to say all sorts and conditions of men. They recognized the coming of the Spirit as the coming of God in a new and mighty way. No one is ever nearer to God than he is to the Holy Spirit.

What the Holy Spirit is Not

When an African chief is converted, it takes some persuading to induce him to give up all his magic gadgets. Even the humblest and poorest African savage has a few such gadgets, but a big chief will have them all. He has a variety of charms—it may be a thing to hang around his neck, or in his belt, or on his wrist, or otherwise—one to ward off lightning, and another to protect him from his enemies, and another to make him live a long time, and one to bring him many boy children. Now the Holy Spirit is not that kind of thing at all.

The Holy Spirit (as the New Testament shows) does not guarantee freedom from suffering. We know Christ had the Holy Spirit always in him, but yet he suffered terribly. All the Apostles felt the presence of the Spirit, yet all of them, tradition tells us, died martyrs' deaths. The Holy Spirit does not guarantee that the spiritual person will never make mistakes. There are many mistakes recorded in the New Testament committed by persons who had surely received the Spirit. More than this, the Holy Spirit is not a kind of magic charm to keep the wearer from sin. We know that Simon Peter received the Holy Spirit. But we also know that he was not always free from sin after that. (See Galatians 2:11-14.)

Power—For What?

The Holy Spirit, in the Bible, is always associated with power. Jesus himself had said to his disciples, "you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you." Now the Christians in Jerusalem had some kinds of power at Pentecost which most of them never seem to have had again; it came like a blazing wind and did not come again. Speaking with "tongues," for instance. But there was another and more lasting power, the power to "witness" to Christ. This always includes three things: the power to grow more like Christ; the power to go on his business, in his name; and the power to show by testimony and by living, what it means to be a person called by Christ's name. If a "Christian" is not growing nor going nor showing, one wonders if he has ever known the Spirit's power.

FIGHT FIRE
PREVENTION--
THE YEAR 'ROUND

The best way to fight fire is with fire prevention. The fire that is never given a chance to start will never destroy your home or your business—nor will it endanger your life or the lives of others.

Fires are prevented by exercising care and by correcting conditions that may cause them to start. At this season it's time to check heating plants and chimneys to correct dangerous defects.

Among other things you should be sure the electrical wiring in your house is adequate to carry the load of today's ever increasing number of electrical appliances. As an important measure avoid adding more extension cords to single outlets.

Trash and old newspapers should never be allowed to accumulate in cellars or closets—and always be careful of smoking. Careless smoking causes fires everywhere.

Fight fires with fire prevention—the year 'round.
