CARROLL COUNTY ROADS DISCUSSED

County Commissioners Entered Delegation

At a joint session of the Delegation to the General Assembly of Maryland and the County Commissioners of Carroll County on Friday of last week, two important proposals were considered, both of which saw no conclusive action pending further study by the two groups.

On the first, the Board of County Commissioners presented a request for the reversion of former State Route 32 (Sykesville Road) from Maryland 97 to Eldersburg from County to State jurisdiction. This was a proposal previously discussed with John B. Funk, Chairman-Director of the State Roads Department during his visit in Carroll County in September. While there was no objection to the proposal the County Commissioners and the members of Legislature asked for revision of the request to insure that no further transfer in the County-State system would be required by the State Roads Department as a result of the change being requested in the Sykesville Road transfer.

The second matter for consideration was presented by the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce with Mr. A. H. Carpenter, head of its Road Improvement Committee, acting as spokesman. Mr. Carpenter proposed that the County Commissioners and members of Legislature support a request of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce for certain major road route number changes. These suggested route redesignations were, first, that Maryland Route 97 be changed to U. S. Route 140 from Westminster through Taneytown, Emmitsburg, Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, and terminating at U. S. Route 30 at McConnellsburg, Pennsylvania.

Second, that present U. S. Route 140 become U. S. Route 140A, from Westminster through Littlestown, and Gettysburg, Pennsylvania to U. S. Route 30 at McConnellsburg, Pennsylvania. Third, that Maryland Route 194 become U. S. Route 340 from Frederick through Taneytown, Littlestown, Hanover, to U. S. Route 30, west of York. Mr. Carpenter explained that the changes being requested would immediately focus more attention on Carroll County as a result of the routes becoming U. S. Routes, thereby creating a better business atmosphere. The County Commissioners and the Delegates withheld action on the proposal until further study.

Attending the meeting were State Senator Edward O. Weant; Delegates Preston Hale, Wilbur Magin, and Thomas O'Farrell; County Commissioners Edmund L. Carr, Charles W. Saylor, and Francis J. Crawford; Technical Assistant, George A. Grier; Messrs. A. H. Carpenter and George W. Crouse, representing the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce.

School Press Project Announced

All junior and senior high school papers in Carroll County were invited this week to take part in the National School Press Project sponsored locally by the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association.

Staffs of participating school newspapers will visit TB control facilities and interview health workers in preparation for writing on subjects assigned by the national sponsors, the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and the National Tuberculosis Association.

The press project is not an essay contest; it is a method, for encouraging young people to find out about tuberculosis, how it spreads, how it can be controlled and how the community can fight it. Participants are asked to submit original news stories, interviews, editorials and artwork on either subject. Our School In The Fight Against TB or Health Workers In Our Community.

"Great Progress has been made against TB, but a big job remains to be done before its complete defeat in our community," Mrs. Anne Widener, executive secretary of the Carroll County Association, said. "The young people in our schools today will be the ones to carry this fight to its successful conclusion. Through the project they will learn what they can do to make our community a better place to live."

World Community Day Service

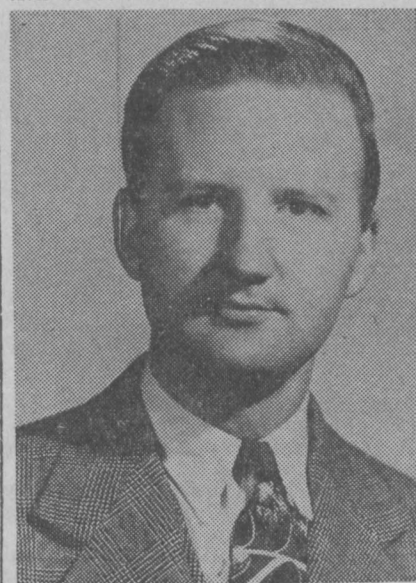

The United Church Women will celebrate World Community Day, Friday evening, Nov. 6, 1959 at 7:30 o'clock in the Parish House of the United Church of Christ, Taneytown.

The offering will support the projects for a new type of sharing to extend Christian service. This year the South Sea Islands and parts of Africa will be high-lighted. Each one is asked to bring a material offering of clothing for babies and tiny tots to be sent overseas to help meet the great need of homeless children in camps and hospitals. These packages go through the Church World Service. The small sum of 8¢ a pound is needed to process these gifts.

The annual "Layman's Sunday" program will be held in Trinity Lutheran church this Sunday, October 18, at the 10 o'clock service. The speaker will be Richard T. Sutcliffe, Associate Director of Press, Radio, and T V for the United Lutheran Church in America.

CHECK YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Benefits and Rights Explained by Field Representative

Are you throwing money away? You may be if you are a 62 year old woman or a 65 year old man and have not checked up on your social security rights.

L. J. Gillespie, Field Representative of the Baltimore (North) Social Security District Office cited the case of a 69 year old local man who is in business for himself. This man in recent years has been earning less than $1200 net profit a year; yet he did not apply for social security benefits because he thought he had to retire completely before he could get old-age insurance benefits.

This is a common misconception. The fact is that if you have reached retirement age (65 for men and 62 for women) and earn $1200 or less in a year, you are eligible to receive your social security benefits for all 12 months of the year. If you work in all months and earn between $1,200 and $2080 for the year, you may still get payments for one or more months; and no matter how much you earn, can be paid your benefit checks for any months in which you neither earn wages of more than $100 nor are active in a business of your own.

The important thing to remember is to check with your social security office when you reach retirement age and particularly if your yearly earnings are running $1200 or less. Mr. Gillespie invites you to visit the Social Security Contact Station located at the First National Bank, Taneytown, Md. The hours are from 10:00 a. m. to noon, the first Wednesday of the month.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout Troop 723 is stressing the "outing" is scouting this year. The girls under the supervision of their leaders, are developing their own camp site. Last spring Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fair generously loaned the woods in back of their home to the troop. This has enabled the scouts to develop their skills in camp craft and to gain some appreciation of nature and the out - of - doors. It was brought to our attention that Indians once roamed the woods in the Taneytown area. Accordingly the girls are doing research work on early "Maryland Indians. The camp "Camp Shawnee" - gets its name from one of these Indian tribes. The girls and their leaders enjoyed a breakfast and cook-out two weeks ago, and look forward to many more similar events in the future. Members of Girl Scout Troop 723 are Beverly Hammer, Robin Fair, Joan Clinean, Carol Piezonki, Vicki Cutsail, Diane Fair, Nancy Wagny, Carol Remsburg, Virginia Fink, Marion Dunham, Karen Ficus, Cynthia Andreas and Mary Ann Tracey. The leaders are Mrs. James Ficus, Mrs. Theodore Fair and Mrs. Thomas Cantwell.

Church of the Brethren Preaching Mission

The Piney Creek Church of the Brethren has planned a series of evangelistic services, which will begin Sunday, Oct. 18. Services will begin each evening at 7:30 p. m., and will conclude Sunday evening, Oct. 25 with the observance of Love-feast and Holy Communion.

Rev. A. R. Showalter, the speaker, is from Bridgewater, Va., and is associated with Bridgewater College, which is a Brethren liberal arts college. He plans to speak upon the following topics: Our Unfinished Task, The Master Church Builder, The Sins That Crucified Jesus, Foolish Christians, The Broken heart of Jesus "I Thirst", The Gospel of Future Things, What Christ and the Church Offers Youth, The New Testament Benediction.

There will be special music, and also music by the local church. The public is cordially invited to attend this series of inspiring messages during the week.

Christmas Seal Sales Kick-Off Dinner

To get the 1959 Christmas Seal Sale into orbit, the Seal Committee of the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association will hold a Kick-Off dinner at Hoffman's Inn, Oct. 19 at 6:30 p. m. Preston G. Coffman, businessman and civic leader of Westminster for over 30 years, has been named chairman of Carroll County's Christmas Seal sales campaign.

In accepting the chairmanship Mr. Coffman had this to say about the coming Christmas Seal campaign: "Two major problems face us this year. One is the belief on the part of the public that TB is a disease which is on the decline and two, that home treatment can cure it. A disease that in Maryland alone last year struck more than 1,500 people and caused more than 300 deaths can not be considered a disease that has declined to the point of extinction." "Home treatment", Mr. Coffman continued, "is unsatisfactory because the patient often does not take the prescribed drugs, and cannot take the complete rest at home which is so essential in the treatment of TB."

A man usually can do more than he thinks he can but he usually does less than he thinks he does.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"
With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Walking from Charles Street on that little Hamilton Street charmed me with those old and quaint houses each one occupied as a residence with the exception of the artist, Lopez. I stood just about in the middle of that block that narrow street and thought about those who lived there when they were first built. There is a certain air of elegance about that little street which has not faded all down through the years. A Audrey Bodine should take his camera right there.

How nice it was to meet the 'home folks' from around the town in Baltimore last week. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold! Hope he delivered my love to my Readers!

There is a delightful candy just arrived from Dundee, Scotland and UMMMMMMM Good. Hard candy but never have I tasted any to compare. The K e i l l e r brand.

The Arnolds thought I was much thinner and that is due to that Sweet!

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1959
GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

KANSAS CITY, KANS., PRESS: "Persons who remember the horrible post-War I conditions in Germany, when it took a wheel-barrow of marks to buy a loaf of bread, are apprehensive that this country is headed for a similar situation unless inflation can be halted. The steel industry says it is seeking an end to the upward spiral in the adamant stand it has taken against higher wages. One thing is certain: if Big Steel gives in, wages will soar in every other industry."

FREDONIA, N. Y., CENSOR: "Like any other momentous force in our society, organized labor must be subjected to controls in the broad public interest. Like any other momentous force, it must be allowed sufficient freedom within the framework of control so that it can perform its destined function."

"We believe that this principle of controlled freedom has the approval of the great majority of the American people."

WAPAKONETA, OHIO, NEWS: "Despite the changes that the newer horrors of atomic weapons and guided missiles have made in military concepts of warfare, railroads will again be our best reliance for the sort of job done in World War II when they handled 90 per cent of all domestic military freight and 97 per cent of all organized troop movements. In the face of wartime conservation of fuel and scarce materials, no other means can compare in efficiency with long trains rolling on steel under a single source of power—that deliver nearly six times the ton-miles per fuel dollar that highway transport can provide."

CHARLESTON, MO., ENTERPRISE-COURIER: "Ever since inflation began to cheapen the dollar, business has been automatically prevented from laying aside enough money, before taxes, to make up for the wearing out of the tools it must use to keep it alive."

"Unless some provision is made—and soon—to enable industry to replace its tools at present-day inflated prices, the entire economy (and the tax collector) will suffer."

BANDON, ORE., WORLD: "When the day comes that the U. S. dollar is a weak currency, and when devaluation and inflation follow one upon another, to a considerable degree, then the strength of the U. S. will be ebbing, and we will have frittered away a sound dollar and much of our power. The wild spenders should keep this in mind in their... efforts to arrange for the government to furnish every taxpayer with everything he needs."

SALAMANCA, N. Y., INQUIRER: "Several leading stock brokerage firms have inserted large advertisements in the leading newspapers of the country warning those who might succumb to speculative fever to get out of the market if they are in it on a shoestring, and gambling merely for quick profits."

"This type of advertising is in the best interests of the stock brokerage industry, and may do a lot to achieve stability and avoid disaster on the New York stock market."

NEWBERRY, S. C., OBSERVER: "Dr. Robert B. Corbett, president of New Mexico State University, said in a speech recently that a few years ago young men were told not to take engineering because engineers were a dime a dozen. Today, he stated, men trained in engineering are the scarcest and most demanded in our economy."

"The same situation could conceivably develop in farming. Our population is increasing so rapidly that in 10 years, according to Dr. Corbett, unless the nation is careful, it may wake up and find itself incapable of providing food for that sharply expanding population."

PASADENA, CALIF., TRIBUNE: "In the wake of the... death of President Eisenhower's tax-saving proposal for a government-private industry partnership in the development of Trinity River Project power, taxpayers may as well tote up all the bad news."

"Multiple millions of dollars were lost by local, state and federal governments because of Congressional insistence that Trinity be added to the growing domain of public power. Those millions must be added to the total bill that public power already has presented to the American taxpayer—5 billion, 500 million hard earned dollars."

Bigger and Better Savings Bonds

President Eisenhower wants the country to know that United States Savings Bonds now pay 3 3/4 per cent interest. He posed for this photo just after signing into law a Congressional bill permitting the Treasury to increase interest rates on Series E and H Savings Bonds from the old 3 1/4 rate. This enlargement of a $100 bond is symbolic, of course, but it carries the message that Savings Bonds are "Now bigger and better." The new rate was made retroactive to June 1. In addition, the 40 million persons already holding Savings Bonds benefit by the legislation. The interest rate on outstanding bonds has been increased by at least one-half per cent from now on if held to maturity. "To my mind," the President said, "there is no better way of saving, no more effective way of strengthening our power for peace, than to own United States Savings Bonds. To buy these bonds is to express faith in America. It helps provide the economic strength in both our Government and in individual families on which our freedom depends. I hope that the making of both old and new Savings Bonds even more attractive will serve as a renewed invitation to every citizen to buy and hold these 'Shares in America'."

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Although but few houses have been built here this summer, out-door mechanics of all kinds have been busy on small jobs, small improvements and repairs. Paint, porches, pavements and other like work, have helped the appearance of the town generally, this year.

Mr. Amos Duttera, who spent several weeks at Johns Hopkins Hospital after undergoing a surgical operation, returned home, on Monday and is gradually regaining his former good health.

While working at a flower bed, one day this week, Mrs. Sherman Gilds severely cut her hands with glass, on account of the breaking of a large bottle which she was trying to place over some flowers.

Mr. Chas. E. H. Shriner paid a visit to New York city, last week.

A letter received from Rev. P. S. Hooper, Bay Shore, Long Island, who once served the Lutheran congregation for a time, states that he has been in active service in Pennsylvania all summer and is in excellent health. Rev. Hooper has many friends here.

Mr. Chas. W. Favorite, son of the late William Favorite of this district, with his wife, paid Taneytown a visit, this week, the first for many years. Mr. Favorite is a machinist in the employ of Star-Independent, one of the leading papers of Harrisburg, Pa. He found Taneytown so changed as to be scarcely recognizable.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL COUNTY

The disclosure that the once popular television quiz shows were not as honest as they wanted the public to believe they were, should not disturb people too much. The public likes to be flim-flammed. People are suckers one time or another. That's why Abe Lincoln said that you could fool part of the people all the time. The country airs have thrived for many years on fake acts; politicians get elected to office on fake platforms; prominent people write books with ghosts writers guiding the pen and so why get upset over a quiz show that turns out to be a phony. It would be far wiser to get disturbed over a nation of people that can be taken in whole sale by fakery in one form after another. The quiz show was a form of entertainment that all sorts of people liked. If any of them were rigged it did not detract from their entertainment value. But the disclosure that some of them may have been irregular should teach the public not to be so trusting and naive. It is a good trait to trust people, but only after one appraises them with a "Prove it to me" attitude and a brisk search for hidden gimmicks.

Today, October 12th is Columbus Day. We would not have remembered it except for the announcement on the radio that today 467 years ago America was discovered by a chap named Columbus. As everyone knows, a lot of history has been made in those years. A lot of it good and too much of it bad. We are no longer concerned with discovering new lands on the earth but are already trying to stake our claims on the planets like Columbus staked his claim on America. Will we succeed? We wouldn't want to be among the skeptics that say "no," for Columbus is a good example what man can do if he has a dream and is willing to follow it no matter what the obstacles.

The teacher sent Tommy's mother her first report card. It read: "Tommy is a very bright boy, but he spends too much time playing with the girls. However, it is nothing for you to be alarmed about as I am working on a plan to break him of the habit." Tommy's mother returned the report card with this notation: "Let me know how you make out with your plan and I'll try it on Tommy's father."

We Americans have given our children the privilege of making the greatest decision of their lives without too much interference by parents. We mean the privilege of selecting their mate in marriage. When we read of the number of divorces that are increasing each year we wonder if parents shouldn't have more to say about their children's selection in marriage.

No other country allows so much freedom in this matter as the United States. In many European countries parents still arrange and select their children's marriage partner and if divorce is any indication of the success or failure of a system than the European system is more successful in keeping marriage partners together than is the one where individuals make their own selection. We, here in the United States think too much of physical attraction as a basis for marriage. In reality it is only a small part of selecting a mate in marriage.

But this fact isn't learned until a year or two after marriage. Then basic character traits like honesty, kindness, tolerance and dependability take on greater importance. Also adequate income looms high on the marriage horizon to a marriage in good working order. Parents can be a better judge in these matters than young people who have their reason and judgement clouded by the smell of orange blossoms and the biological urge. Many factors go into making a satisfactory marriage. Sometimes it fails even when both partners seem to have all the necessary human traits and an adequate income, but marriages failed more often when the couples failed to heed their parents counsel or married persons of whom their parents did not approve. Parents should help their offspring in selecting a mate in marriage for it is the greatest decision they will ever make and it should be a lasting one.

This is the time of year when people miss a great deal of fun by not taking a walk through a woods. We remember as if it was just yesterday our father taking us for hikes in the woods back of the town and pointing out to us all the interesting things that we in childish ignorance missed. Like the red squirrels hiding in the hickory trees, too scared to come out into open but inquisitive enough to peep at us from behind a tree limb. Sometimes he would silently warn me to be still by the touch of his hand on my shoulder and after maintaining a silent pose for five minutes suddenly from under a low hanging bush would come a brilliant green and red cock pheasant with his harem they would walk sedately through the woods and out of sight. Once on our walks we stepped into a steel trap that some hunter had set. We were more scared then hurt for children then wore strong high top leather shoes that protected their feet from many things. Once we came from behind some boulders and saw a red fox sunning itself, ignorant of our presence until we stepped on a stone. With the noise it made, the fox was off as if hounds and riders were right behind him. But my father never believed in killing wildlife. He enjoyed watching them in their wild habitat and seeing them enjoy living. We are happy he taught us to find beauty in the countryside and to respect all nature's creatures.

Voltaire at the age of 80 drank over 50 cups of coffee per day. No wonder he lived so long and was so wise. He was literally a caffeine, over-coffee bundle of humanity.

To give a small bathroom a feeling of importance put a extra large mirror over the wash bowl in place of the tiny one usually found there.

Further Comments On A School

About two weeks before the opening of school this year our committee was disturbed by the fact that substantial evidence existed to suggest that the water supply for the brand new Francis Scott Key High School was not going to be adequate even for the small number of students that will attend it this year. Because we could get no recognition of this in official circles, we mentioned our fears in a newspaper article and also asked a number of questions as to how and why such a situation could come about.

We feel that if a private individual erects a structure and does not make adequate provision for water, it is nobody's business but his own. However, when that new structure is a school, people in the county have a right to know the facts because that is a public affair, and the public in the long run is going to pay the bill, even though the money may pass through several hands along the way.

About the time that this article appeared, efforts to drill a new well had been neglected started. We understand they went down well over a hundred feet and did not strike water; so then they tried again with a fourth hole some little distance from the building. We understand this well appeared to have a fairly good flow of water; although we do not know that any thorough testing to determine its constant output was made.

A week after our article appeared, a release from the Board of Education was published in most of the nearby papers and implied that the water supply at the new school was ample. This was simply not so, for despite taking efforts to conserve water, the water supply was tight on the third day of school, and we understand that there was little or none on the fourth day. The School Board release stated that there were some erroneous rumors circulating about the new school. That may well be, but the facts indicate that those rumors pertaining to the water supply were definitely based on sound information.

When they had this water shortage, hasty efforts were made over the weekend to connect the new well with the school water system, and we hope and pray that the water supply will now prove to be adequate.

We still feel that a few of our questions should be answered:

1. When was the original well approved and accepted?
2. Who presented the report on the output per minute, and by whom was it approved?
3. On whose recommendation was the well accepted?
4. Why, when the true condition of the well must have been known by somebody, did no one with authority investigate the capacity of the well?
5. Why was the construction of the building started before an adequate supply of water was assured?
6. When the question of water was brought up during the two-year period of construction, why were we always informed that the water supply was very good?
7. Why must we taxpayers, parents and interested citizens continue to pay for such mistakes in the future?

Children in Back Seat Pose Driving Hazard, AAA Club Warns

The busy mother who drives to the store with a backseat full of restless children is risking a traffic accident, Robert L. Leese, Westminster Branch manager, Automobile Club of Maryland, warned today.

Emphasizing that distraction is a major factor in highway mishaps, Mr. Leese urged mothers of young children to take along another adult who can mind the youngsters or leave them at home.

"It is nearly impossible for a mother to attend to her driving while her mind is focused on the care of youngsters in the backseat," said Mr. Leese. "In trying to pay attention to the road ahead and the children at the same time, she may very well invite a serious accident. One brief turn of the head is all that is required to divert her attention from the road ahead. In that split second, she could lose both the lives of her youngsters and herself."

The motor club official stresses the importance of giving full time and attention to driving duties at all times. He says that driving is a job that cannot be performed on a part-time basis.

When behind the wheel, Mr. Leese advises, keep your mind on the job at hand. It could be a matter of life or death.

Meeting of Ladies Aid Society

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Harney, held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening, Oct. 6.

The meeting was opened by singing, "Wonderful Words Of Life", and "Tell Me The Story of Jesus". For the scripture, Miss Treva Ridinger read Ephesians 2:1-14, followed with prayer by Mrs. Wilbur Reifsnider.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved followed by roll-call with 13 members present. The Father and Son banquet will be served Oct. 20, with Mrs. Harry Yingling as chairman of the committee.

It was voted to let the banquet prices remain the same.

The annual Halloween social will be Monday evening, Oct. 26 at 6:30 o'clock. It was decided that it would be a covered dish social, with each one bringing a covered dish and a tray. Anyone of the church is invited to attend. The committee in charge of this social are the following officers of the society: Mrs. Wilbur Reifsnider, Mrs. Clyde Frock, Miss Treva Ridinger, Mrs. John Fream, Mrs. Vern Ridinger, Mrs. Ralph Weikert, Mrs. John S. Harner, Mrs. George Marshall, Mrs. Wesley Mumert, Mrs. Luther Fox, Mrs. Harvey Wantz and Mrs. George Clabaugh. Mrs. Ernest Fream and Mrs. John H. Harner were appointed to take charge of a banquet, November 8.

It was also decided to serve a banquet Nov. 12, depending upon further information.

The program committee for the next meeting, Mrs. Armour Leatherman, Mrs. Benjamin Marshall and Mrs. Ruth Moon. Mrs. Clyde Frock to read the Bible and Mrs. Chas. Bridinger to have prayer.

The meeting was closed by singing, "What A Friend" and "Is My Name Written There?"

Fire Safety Check

If fire strikes your property, where will it start? What will likely cause it?

These aren't just idle questions, points out County Extension Agent L. C. Burns in a special Fire Prevention Week message.

More than a half million American homes are destroyed or damaged by fire each year, National Fire Protection Association figures show. On the basis of the national average, some home in your general neighborhood will be involved in a fire this very year. If you want to keep fire away from your home, check what you know of fire safety.

In farm homes, faulty heating and cooking equipment start more fires than any other single cause. Actually, defective stoves and heaters, along with defective chimneys and sparks from chimneys, are responsible for almost half of all fires in farm dwellings.

Careless use of gasoline and kerosene, electrical faults in wiring and appliances and light are high on the list. Careless smoking habits and children playing with matches are other important causes.

In barns and outbuildings, the major fire hazard is spontaneous ignition in hay, corn and fertilizer. Other most frequent causes are electrical faults, lightning, defective heating equipment, and careless handling of gasoline and oil.

Do these facts suggest a check-up and a clean-up of conditions that could cause a fire in your home or other buildings?

During Fire Prevention Week make a new start towards complete fire safety on your property, and keep headed that way throughout the year, urges County Extension Agent L. C. Burns.

Adjust Corn Picker to Help Reduce Field Loss

Time spent on proper adjustment of your corn picker will result in more corn in the crib, says County Agent L. C. Burns of Carroll County. While corn borer damage, varietal differences, and the growing season all may influence the amount of corn left in the field, proper adjustment of the picker will help reduce losses regardless of what other conditions may affect the crop.

The extent of losses of both ear and shelled corn left in the field can be estimated. In checked rows, 20 shelled kernels found per hill equal one bushel per acre. In fields of drilled rows, 20 kernels found in 3 1/2 feet of row equal about one bushel per acre. These samples should be taken in 10 areas to get a good average estimate of losses.

According to Agent Burns, one or more of the following conditions may cause shelling:

Snap rolls are spaced improperly, usually too far apart.

Husking rollers are worn smooth and passage of the stalk is slowed at the time the ear is snapped. This slowing down holds the ear against the snap rolls too long. Husking roller action can be increased in effectiveness by welding beads of metal on the smooth areas.

Snap roller speed is too fast or too slow. The speed of the snap roller depends on the make of picker and the type of snap roller used. Instruction manual should be consulted before changing the speed.

Driving too fast in heavy corn, and failing to keep the machine on the row. Careless driving probably is the greatest cause of picker losses.

With damp or normal husking conditions, too many lugs or set screws make the snapping action too violent. Under dry conditions, lugs and set screws may reduce shelling by pulling trash through the rollers and keeping the husking chamber clean.

For more detailed information on adjusting the picker, get a copy of University of Maryland Extension Service Fact Sheet No. 36 at Agent Burns' office.

Trucks Full of Prizes

"People around Taneytown have a good chance to win some outstanding Christmas gifts a couple of months before the date," says Brown Equipment Co., local dealer for McCulloch power chain saws.

Mr. Brown was speaking about the TRUCK-O-LUCK contest currently being held in his store. In addition to these "Trucks-O-Luck," local entrants can also win one of the 50 second prizes, a Motorola Transistor Radio.

According to Brown, all persons over 15 years of age are eligible to enter the contest, and can do so by registering at his store, E. Balto. St. Extd. No other requirement or purchase is necessary.

The contest, which is being sponsored nationally by McCulloch Corporation, power saw manufacturer, opened October 1 and closes November 14.

Sharing

Lesson for October 18, 1959

CHRISTIANITY is a religion of sharing, but not all sharing is Christian. Sharing when you have to isn't it, otherwise everybody who pays taxes would be a Christian. Sharing very rarely is hardly it, either, because Christian sharing is a constant habit, not an occasional spasm. Giving away what you don't want, cleaning out your closets and giving to Volunteers the benefit of your junk, is some distance yet from Christian sharing. Sharing things can be Christian; indeed the Apostle John inquires whether we can imagine we have the love of God in us if we do not share with the needy (1 John 3:17). But Christian sharing is something over and beyond letting other people use some of the things we call ours, some of the time.

Dr. Foreman

Sharing Christ

It can all be put into two words. At its best and highest, Christian sharing means sharing Christ. But in order to understand those two simple words, put together in that way, we have to do some further thinking. A short story in the book of Acts (chap. 3) helps to make this clear. Peter and John have become such famous men that we forget how poor they actually were. They had been fishermen, and they had been away from their lake a long time. When they told the beggar they had no silver nor gold, they were as good as saying they had nothing but pennies. Yet they gave that beggar something far better than money; they gave him the power of Christ. What happened is recorded as a miracle; and miracles are not in our times granted to most men to perform. Yet sharing Christ is still possible. Observe that the poorest Christian, the one least able to share money or things of any kind, still has what the wealthiest person who is not a Christian lacks: namely Christ.

An Amazing Case

Here is a spectacular case that occurred less than five years ago, a miracle too of a sort. It illustrates what "sharing Christ" can mean. In the city of Philadelphia, a foreign student was walking along doing no one any harm. Some young hooligans happened to see him. They had just been talking about how they would get money to go to a dance hall that night. So—being hooligans—they rushed this foreign student and not only took what little money he had, only a dollar or so as the newspapers reported it; but they murdered him then and there. They were arrested, and the State of Pennsylvania took steps to convict them. All a familiar pattern, too familiar in big cities. Murder—arrest—conviction—the pen or the chair.

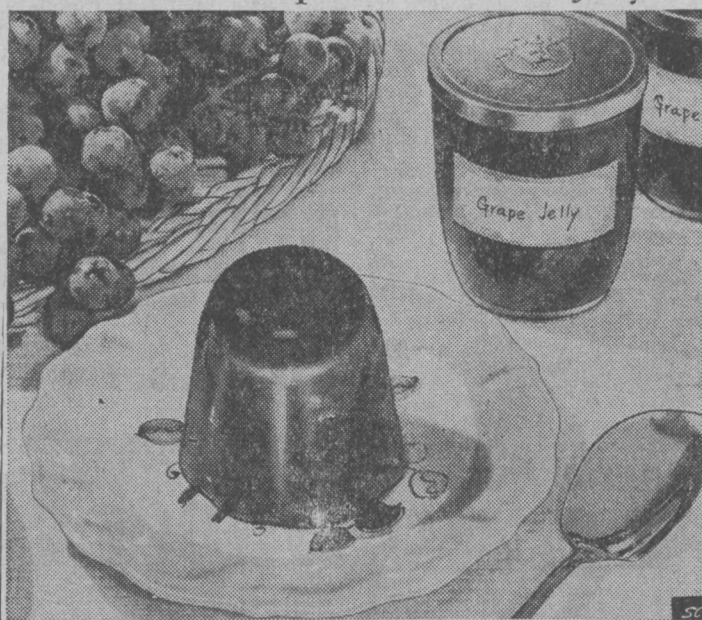

But the astonishing thing happened. The family of the dead student were Koreans, and Christians. They wrote to the authorities in Pennsylvania asking them not to prosecute those boy murderers, but to help them. More than that, this Korean family went to the length of getting up a fund (all by themselves) to be used for the education—ordinary, and also moral and religious, of the boys who had killed their young relative.

Bringing Christ Into It

No doubt many American church people, when they read about that case, felt irritated and maybe even angry. "Those hooligans committed murder, let 'em burn for it. What business have those Koreans bringing religion into it? But that's just the point. They didn't bring "religion" into it, they brought Christ into the situation. That is what sharing Christ means, bringing him into every situation of need. Christ is (we hope) in a church situation, for instance in the worship on Sunday morning. Christ is in the offering we give to missions. But the hard way—and the best way—to share Christ is not to sing about him or to employ others to talk about him. To share Christ is to make every situation, even tragedy and murder—different because you have invited Him to help you help others.

Concord Grapes Make Fine Jelly

Turn some of those royal purple Concord grapes into grape jelly. It will be a treat for the breakfast table and a real help in packing lunch boxes. Make the jelly the easiest way with powdered fruit pectin.

Grape Jelly

Yield: about 12 medium glasses (6 lbs. jelly)
5 cups juice (about 3-1/2 lbs. ripe grapes) 7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1 box (1-3/4 oz.) powdered fruit pectin

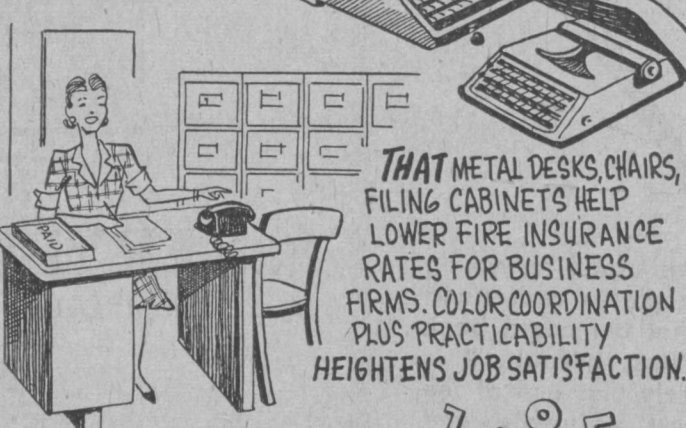

First, prepare the juice. Stem about 3-1/2 pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. (Concord grapes give best color and flavor.) Add 1-1/2 cups water; bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure 5 cups juice into a very large saucepan.

Then make the jelly. Measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to juice in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with 1/8 inch hot paraffin.

edish Diet. Ask your Druggist about that one. Tastes like a big milk shake! Just follow the simple directions which means simplicity in all directions!

Thinking of good things to eat. Dining at the Chinese—"White Rice Inn" on Park Avenue is a treat with their Shrimp Chou Mein. As to the tea—no one can make tea like the Chinese even the English tea does not compare. and that reminds me of the Englishman who said to the American, "I have discovered why Americans are such Coffee drinkers!" The American quickly asked the answer for that one and he bluntly replied, "I have tasted their tea!"

Soon it will cost the public 5 cents to mail a letter anywhere in these United States. "Or else," says Mr. Summerfield, "We will go into a hole!"

Along with the Thanksgiving cards many of the stores are displaying Christmas cards.

Life surely does begin at 80 and romance is forever young when it comes to the ladies. A beautiful 80 year old lady told me the other day, she was pleasantly surprised by the Bachelor who resides in the house next door by a plane ride as far as Aberdeen. And as she told me the story her violet blue eyes sparkled with the joy as she clapped her hands! "Cute?"

Before you purchase your winter hat be sure and visit the Millinery Salon of Brager-Gutmans. The most glamorous, I have ever seen. Just something about the special Buyer of that Department. He knows his business.

If you desire a delightful soap for the bath which any one will like, be sure the next bars will be "ZEST". Best I have ever used! In all stores these days and extensively advertised.

Hope you did not miss "The Ford Show" on Tuesday evening with the many STARS in your eyes, "The Wonderful World of Entertainment" and that grand French Star MAURICE CHEVALIER. One hour and a half show! This type of entertainment will be weekly on Tuesday evenings for "FORD!" And they say bigger and better than ever—that car!

Don't forget to move those hands of your clock the end of this month—just where they belong and that will please the Farmer and his Hands! Eh?

Remember the Concert Series beginning on October 22 in the Gettysburg High School Auditorium under the direction of Dr. William Sebastian Hart. Miss Bonnie Caplan will be Harpist and Mr. James Fisher Flutist. Am anticipating that evening! How fortunate to have a symphony orchestra so near!

In next week's Column will be writing of the "Scorpio" individual from Oct. 20 to Nov. 20th inclusive.

Mr. Softy (the ice cream truck) just went by and Sugar thought he was going to stop to get her cone of which she is so enthused. What a disappointed dog! One would have to see the things Sugar does to really believe. She just came over to me, looking up so precious as much as to say, "Why didn't he stop?"

No doubt, you read about the man who owned the "Boxer" and had a regular funeral for him. No one ridiculed that man but many wondered.

What a shock to hear of the singer, Mario Lanza of whom I wrote about last week. Life was just beginning at the age of 38!

Hope you did not miss, dear Readers, the wonderful story on the U.S.S. hour last Wednesday evening in "Rachel's Summer" with that young and charming actress, Patty McCormack. The moral was perfect—refraining from speaking ill of others! The ending or climax was the death of the young girl caused by gossip! Will be seeing you, folks real soon. D. V. Have a grand week end and remember always that love is the greatest thing so keep on sharing it.

Passion Play Presented in Area

Under the sponsorship of the Frederick Junior Chamber of Commerce the Americanized version of the 325 year old Oberammergau Passion Play will be presented in the Frederick High School auditorium. 13 performances will be given between the dates of October 15 and 23, with the exception of Monday, the 19th.

The drama is produced with an acting cast of 100 actors and actresses and based on the original script as it has been produced in the Bavarian community since 1634. Frederick is the only city in Maryland where the play will be performed and the announcement of the performance has received most enthusiastic response. It is understood that residents of Hagerstown, Baltimore and Washington are planning to witness the presentation.

This most colossal stage production of all time which reveals the mighty story of the greatest event in history as the last 7 days of Christ's life on earth are portrayed has been endorsed by all protestant denominations, representatives of the Roman Catholic Church, and Rabbi Stephen Wise of New York.

Profits from this production in which the Jaycees have invested $10,000 will be used by the J-C's Religious Activities Committee, primarily toward a Christmas activities program to help the underprivileged children of Frederick.

The several tons of lighting equipment used for this indoor presentation are arranged by the stage manager of "Oklahoma" and are run from a switchboard similar to a typewriter, because of the intricacy of the lighting effects. As the drama was presented in such cities as Austin, Fort Worth, Indianapolis, Battle Creek, Canton, Evansville, Texarkana, Ashabula and Little Rock its capacity audiences were held spell-bound throughout the 2½ hours especially during the 25 minutes that the Crucifixion scene is portrayed.

In order to make the presentation as accurate as possible in its unfolding the 30 pieces of silver which Judas gets for his betrayal of the Master are really 30 plumbers washers, which have been found to have exactly the right weight and clink for the type of silver coins which were used in Christ's time. Modern Silver coins would not be at all the same as those which bought a slave in Herod's time. The nails used in putting Christ on the cross are also ingeniously made.

The highlights of the 25 scenes of the Passion Play are The Sermon on the Mount, The Farewell at Bethany, The Last Supper, The Prayer in the Garden of Gethsemane, The Trials, Before the High Priest Council, Before Pilate, Before King Herod, The Carrying of the Cross to Golgotha, The Crucifixion and the Burial.

Val Balfour, distinguished Biblical dramatist of the 4th generation of his family was chosen to play the role of Jesus of Nazareth. In preparation for the obligation he now assumes, he has played many of the male roles in the production. Previously he played Peter. For 5 years his wife has been by his side playing most ably the role of Mary Magdalene.

The production is presented evenings at 8 o'clock and on Sunday at 2:30 and 6 p. m. The reserved seats range from $1.50 to $3.50, which may be procured by calling MO. 2-4349, the box office at the Square Corner.
