A Thanksgiving Day Prayer

Almighty God, from whom every good and perfect gift cometh and who makest the fruits of earth to minister to the needs of mankind; we magnify thy Holy Name as thou art ever unchanging in thy purpose of bestowing benefits even when rebuking our pride and turning our foolish counsels to naught; we praise thee because without thy help our labor is insufficient and without thy grace all human wisdom is folly; we adore thee for having established civil and religious liberty in our land and for bringing forth the fruits of the earth in each season.

Most Gracious Father, we acknowledge that thy gifts are limited only by our narrowness of desire and our unwillingness to receive, and even though our thoughts are so often full of selfishness thou hast made us a chosen people since our forefathers set foot on these shores and hast made us citizens of a land that is great in privilege and opportunity. Thou openest thine hand and satisfiest the desire of both the just and the unjust by appointing the seasons and years to come and go for man's good.

Bountiful God, we thank thee for the abundance with which thou hast provided for every need so that our barns are bursting with plenty and our storehouses are filled to overflowing with surplus. Thou hast brought us through the circuit of another year in which seedtime and harvest did not fail so that the year was crowned with thy loving goodness. We bespeak gratitude that thy servants came over wintry seas at peril of life and fortune to establish on these shores an emancipated church and a godly nation. We offer our thanks for their courage, perseverance, fidelity to the truth as they sensed it, devotion to purity of the church of Christ and the coming of the Kingdom of God. We acknowledge thy mercies which are new every morning, fresh every moment, and more than we can number which include sowing and reaping, summer and winter, day and night, food, clothing and shelter, health and reason, childhood and age, youth and maturity. We are grateful that thy fatherly hand is ever over us in health and sickness, in joy and sorrow, in life and death. Because they are borne out of thee we treasure friends, kindred and benefactors, ideals and institutions, home and country, the church and the gospel, and the boundless treasures which are in the earth for us to use. We are grateful for this rich land which is our inheritance, for peace maintained by righteous laws, for the honorable place among the nations, and for the opportunities of increasing service in this world.

Loving Father, who wast the God of our Fathers and our God, continue to pour thy blessings upon thy children and feed us ever with the Bread of Life. Teach us to accept thy gifts with humility and grace so we may always give thanks in service to thee and thy children everywhere. Foster every influence making for better understanding between neighbors and sympathetic transactions among the nations. Make us strong in heart and patient in spirit so that thy will may be accomplished on earth and righteousness be for a still greater future, but above all true to thee. Make us to be worthy of the heroism and sacrifice of those who were our forefathers, so that we may preserve and further their high purposes so that the church and the nation may stand in all future years for truth, righteousness and peace. Make us earnest in our endeavors for peace as our fathers were valiant in the conflicts of their time. May thy power be our courage, and the light of thy countenance give strength in our inner spirits so that we may not falter when tested to the utmost. Keep us from a smugness that arises with greatness, so that we may not forget those who hunger while we feast. May all men speedily learn to know themselves as brothers of one another and sons of one Heavenly Father. Finally, we beseech thee to uphold the President of these United States and all others entrusted with authority and power; so that being instructed by thy spirit they may govern our land according to the laws of that kingdom which has no end. We pray in the name and spirit of Jesus Christ, our common Lord and Master. Amen.

LIONS CLUB OBSERVES THANKSGIVING DAY

Meeting Held at Taney Inn Tuesday Evening

A short talk on "Thoughts for Thanksgiving Day" was given before Taneytown Lions when they met in regular session the fourth Tuesday of November, the 24th, at 6:29 P. M., in Taney Inn, by the Rev. John Chatlos, minister of the Church of the Incarnation, Emmitsburg, and of St. James', Littlestown.

The meeting opened, President Delmar E. Riffle presiding, with an invocation by Lion the Rev. Edmund P. Welker, the national anthem, and pledge of allegiance, and Lion Tamer John T. Hottinger led the singing of a couple of songs for which the president also played the accompaniment.

A visiting delegation from Westminster was introduced, namely Lions Dennis N. Yingling, Luther Wagner, and Roy Bell, as well as a new Taneytown Lions Cub, Stanley W. King, sponsored by Harry B. Dougherty.

Following the Inn's excellent ham dinner, Rev. Welker was called upon to present the evening's program. He introduced the Rev. Chatlos, formerly, of Rockwell, North Carolina, who started out informally by explaining the origin of his surname, which is of Hungarian derivation. As a descendant of one of the more outrageously persecuted peoples of our day — and that within our own contemplation — he seemed well qualified to remind us that the pilgrims, though they ostensibly had little to be thankful for, had a tremendous faith in God, were among the progressive spirit of their day, had a strong sense of discipline and order, and an unbreakable tie that bound together their Christian beliefs and their daily lives. In spite of a long winter voyage, a miscalculated last, an almost disastrous winter that wiped out more than half their numbers, and times of near-starvation, they thanked God, with Massasoit and his Indian brethren as their guests, for the bounties of their harvest in the year 1621. A three-day observance modeled after the harvest festivals of biblical times, or the Cerialia of the ancient Romans, it began with worship before breakfast, a military exhibition, a period of games, and then the first American Thanksgiving Dinner. There is yet another part to this holy day. After the thanks come the giving — for, quoting James Russell Lowell in "The Vision of Sir Launfal," "Not what we give, but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare. Who gives himself with his alms feeds three, himself, his hungry neighbor, and Me".

Transactions of last month's board meeting reported by Editor Donald R. Lawyer in the current edition of "The Taney Lion", included $50.00 donated to the community Christmas Lighting project and $7.50 to The Tahian, 1960's high school annual. The meeting came to an end after the president's announcement that a board session would follow immediately, and that the next regular meeting of the club would be on the second Tuesday, December 8, when Lion Robert W. Feesser will present the ladies' night Christmas program.

With all my heart, I wish you every morning A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

HAPPY THANKS GIVING ACROSS THE MILES!

And I will picture many of those farm houses with the members of the family sitting down at their table this very day. It is truly Heavenly in the country at this time of the year! As one drives along to see the trees with their dresses of yellow, gold and red plus the pumpkins piled high along the lawns.

The stores are all beautifully decorated ready for Christmas and it is nice to know they will remain that way until after the holidays. Bulova is now putting out a radio and like watches advertised—precision built. The "Westclox" watches have the look of ELEGANCE and yet so very reasonably priced.

It is wonderful. Folks to put on a good walking pair of shoes and just walk and walk around the town. One can see and observe so much more. Down on Cathedral (Continued on Page 4)

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., LABOR NEWS: "Youth could well take for its creed today the Oath of Citizenship which the Youth of Athens took upon arriving at their majority.

"To bring no disgrace to this city by a dishonest act; to fight for the ideals and sacred things alone and with many; to desert no faltering comrade; to revere and obey the city laws; to incite respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul or set them at naught. To strive unceasingly to quicken the public sense of civic duty. To transmit this city no less but more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

"If the Youth of today would do this, there would be no need to fear the future."

LIBERAL, KANS., DAILY TIMES: "Seems no matter how convinced you are that it's a bad risk to pick up any hiker, you still feel just a little like a heel when you sail on past. . . This writer would suggest. . . that you just go on feeling like a heel and pass up all the hitchhikers because a survey shows that the percentage of thugs is NOT one in a thousand or anything like it. For instance the police department at Globe, Arizona made a survey of 300 hitchhikers. It showed 84 had criminal records or were wanted by authorities. Criminal records included 24 for burglary, 14 for auto theft, 11 for personal violence."

CHEWELAH, WN., INDEPENDENT: "Labor, as an organization, should never be denied the right to quit work if it so desires. What is needed is a new approach to settlement. Labor leaders. . . are too sensitive to their position, feeling that in every contract negotiation they must be in a position to say, 'see what I got for you this time.'"

"There must inevitably come a time when the saturation point has been reached, and industry, to stay in business, must say, 'this is where we must stop.' Otherwise we are being catapulted into an inflation era that will ruin our entire economy."

CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "Sen. Hiram L. Fong of Hawaii is launching his career in Congress with a 14-country, 45-day tour of the Far East. There is nothing unusual about Congressmen traveling around the globe.

"However, this is one instance where a junketing Congressman may be of more benefit than the usual. Sen. Fong is an Asian, having been born in China. His appearance is testimony of the democratic system in America.

"And, Sen. and Mrs. Fong are traveling at their own expense. He may do more for Democracy than was anticipated."

MILES CITY, MONT., STAR: "Steelworkers themselves know that any raise will be of transient value, because any raise they get will trigger demands of unions in all other industries. . . Newspaper polls before the strike showed that union members were generally aware of this discouraging fact.

"Yet a strike we had, because monopoly unions today are more responsive to the demands of intra-union politics than to the wishes of the members.

"Thus we are reminded that the new labor act, valuable as it is, lacks provision for secret strike vote by those most concerned—union members." WALDEN, N. Y., HERALD: "The National Safety Council reveals that 1,265,000 persons have died in this century in motor vehicle accidents in this country.

"By comparison, 604,773 Americans have been killed in battle or died of wounds in all this nation's principal wars, from the Revolutionary War through the Korean conflict.

"War is a grim thing—but we live with something even grimmer, day after day on our highways and by-ways."

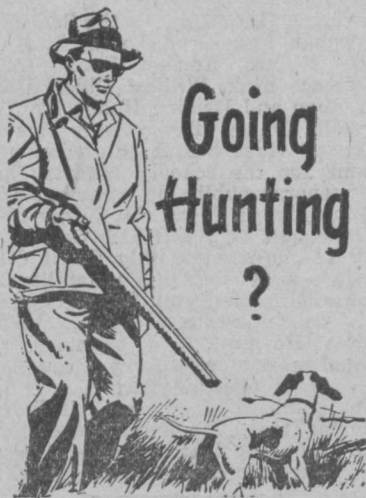

KITTANNING, PA., LEADER-TIMES: "Unwarranted pessimism has developed among some observers in evaluating Soviet rocket advances. The error lies in confusing progress in space research with expansion of defense capabilities.

"Dr. Herbert F. York, U. S. chief of military research and engineering, does not make this mistake. He describes the Soviet lead in space research as 'more of a question of acute embarrassment than national survival!'"

Gentle Pitter-Patter of Rain Bad News for Leaky Roof

The pitter-patter of rain on the roof is a warm, relaxing sound. It gives a family a feeling of security in the protection of their home. But the pitter-patter of rain is far from warm and relaxing when it's inside the house—the result of a leaky roof.

Aside from the inconvenience and discomfort they cause, roof leaks can be expensive. Water coming through a leaky roof can ruin wallpaper, paint, plaster and over a period of time, even weaken vital timbers. There's also a chance of water causing dangerous short circuits in house wiring.

The best safeguard against a leaking roof is a regular inspection by a roofing contractor. Even after years of wear, many roofs deceive unlucky home owners by appearing to be in good condition.

If a new roof is needed, chances are the contractor will recommend asphalt shingles. This is because a reputable roofing contractor wants to offer his customers as many advantages as he can. One of these is that asphalt shingles can be applied directly over the present roofing material. This saves the cost, time, and mess of tearing off the present roof and helps protect interiors if bad weather occurs during reroofing.

A home owner also saves with asphalt shingles because they are low in applied cost—engineered to be applied without trouble or wasted time.

A further advantage is the wide range of colors available. Color on the roof gives a house a distinct, individual personality. It can even help correct poor house designs.

If a house is tall and awkward looking, a dark shade of asphalt shingles will help the house appear lower. Lighter shades on a smaller house appear to expand and enlarge the structure. Asphalt shingles in white or lighter colors also reflect much of the sun's heat, helping to keep the house cooler in summer and adding to the efficiency of air conditioning.

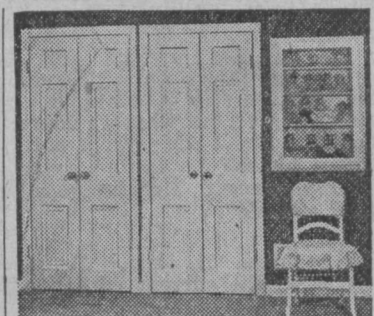

Pine Panel Doors Provide Authentic Colonial Styling

Authenticity in designing and building today's popular Colonial-style homes demands the use of materials that add to the atmosphere of warmth and dignity of the traditional home.

One way conscientious architects and builders achieve this authenticity is with panel doors. Made of ponderosa pine, these doors are true copies of Colonial-style panel doors handmade by early American craftsmen.

Ideally, an architect first selects a panel door and front entranceway from one of many traditional styles available in ponderosa pine. From this design he selects a similar style of panel door to be used on rooms and closets throughout the house and for all other entrances.

This provides not only an important continuity all through the house, but gives it true Colonial styling.

Panel doors of ponderosa pine in this new, Colonial-style home add authenticity and beauty to its early-American design.

Panel doors of ponderosa pine are available from building material dealers in many styles and sizes.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

The hardware business of the late Milton H. Reindollar will be continued at the same stand, as heretofore, by members of his family.

There was a more general suspension of business in Taneytown on Thanksgiving day, than ever before, and the day in general was quietly spent. There was the usual number of dinners and home-comers, a union service in the Lutheran church, and the dinner and supper in the Opera House, for the benefit of the Reformed church. In every other respect, the day was quite Sundayish.

Mr. Walter Demmitt and Miss Mable Bowers were married, in York, Pa., on Nov. 24, by Rev. A. R. Ayers. They have been visiting the parents of the former in Taneytown for several days.

Mr. Levi D. Reid, received notice this Friday morning of his appointment as one of the Deputy Clerks in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court.

Myers-Hively. On Thanksgiving Day at 2 o'clock, a pretty wedding was solemnized at the Lutheran parsonage, Uniontown, in the presence of a few guests, Rev. G. W. Baughman united in marriage, Mr. C. Otto Myers and Miss Bessie Pauline Hively, both of Frizellburg. The attendants were Mr. John Harman and Miss Mabel Myers. The bride was attired in a blue silk Princess gown, and carried a white wedding book. The groom wore the conventional black. The wedding party were conveyed to the parsonage by Mr. Edward Hively in his fine Ford Automobile.

Death of Mr. D. Frank Kephart. Mr. D. Frank, a prominent farmer, of near Piney Creek church, died instantly on Sunday afternoon of some affliction of the heart, while standing in front of his house eating an apple—death was entirely unexpected. He leaves a widow and three sons, as follows, Charles B. Russell at home and Raymond in Baltimore.

Frizellburg.—Cold weather is here and many of our people are busy making sausage.—Do not forget the oyster supper in the hall here this Friday and Saturday nights for the benefit of our street lamps.—W. H. Dern our saddler has his store room about completed, and will occupy it before the holidays.—Norman Myers son of Mrs. Mattie Myers was happily surprised last Saturday night when a host of friends and associates gathered at the home to honor him with a birthday social.

Orange Meringue Shells Easy Dessert

Celebrate the holidays with this luscious dessert! Snowy white meringue shells are piled high with fresh, juicy California orange chunks and covered with a shiny glaze to look fancy and festive for guests or family.

Half the work is done when you use California navel oranges... they're seedless, easy to peel and chockful of good eating.

Orange Meringues

- 1 large or 6 medium baked meringue shells, made from prepared mix
- 4 or 5 California oranges, peeled and cut into chunks
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/4 cup sugar
- Fresh orange juice

Prepare meringue shells according to package directions. Set aside to cool.

Mix orange chunks with 1/2 cup sugar, cover and set aside for 1/2 hour. Mix cornstarch with 1/4 cup sugar in saucepan. Drain syrup from sweetened orange chunks; add enough orange juice to make 1 cup. Stir into cornstarch mixture. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thick and clear. Remove from heat; add orange chunks. Cool 10 minutes. Pour into baked meringue shells. Serve when glaze is set.

Bright Ideas
SUMMER IS HERE. The grass is green. And, to the dismay of most gardeners, the weeds choose this time to invade the lawn.

Gardeners can rid their lawns of persistent broad-leaved weeds, however, by spraying now. Garden expert Tom Blankley advises gardeners to use a 2, 4-D weed killer, such as the new Antrol Hose-Spray, for successful control of dandelions, plantain, goldenrod, wild mustard, pennywort, rag weed, thistle and other weeds. Antrol Hose-Spray comes bottled with its own spray cap that attaches to any ordinary garden hose. The premixed solution mixes automatically in the proper strength with water from the hose, so there is no chance of error.

WITH WARMER WEATHER coming up, you'll find more cars on the road. This means a greater need for safe driving. Here are a few tips from Johnny Parsons, winner of the 1950 Indianapolis "500" race and member on the lecture team of the Champion Spark Plug Company's Highway Safety Program: When approaching a curve, apply your brakes gently before reaching the bend. Then as you begin to straighten out, accelerate. This method will save wear and tear on your tires and allow you to make a smoother, safer turn. Keep your eye on the other fellow's car as well as your own. Anticipate his moves. In fact, it's a good idea to drive as if the other fellow won't signal. Follow this rule and you'll be prepared for almost any eventuality.

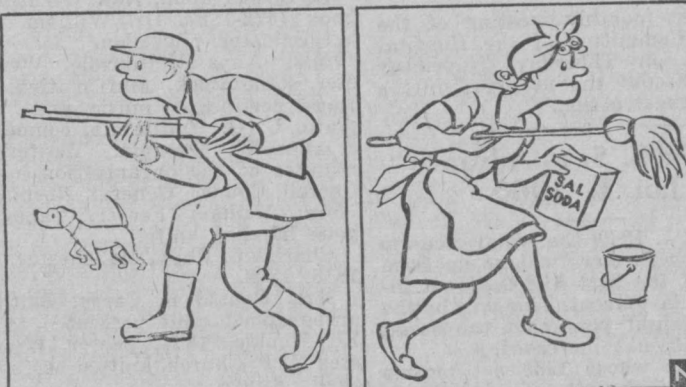

A RECENT SURVEY made by the Murine Company, leading eye lotion producer, indicates that 80% of the people interviewed do not clean their glasses often enough to insure good vision and proper eye care. If you wear glasses, even only part of the time, try this test before you put them on again: Hold them up to the light and look at the lens carefully. Chances are, according to the Murine survey, there are enough dust specks or dirt smudges to cause your eyes to work harder than they should. The remedy is simple: clean your glasses more often and more thoroughly. Then, if you have had a rather dim view of life, you may find that things are really much brighter than they seem.

NEW USES ARE constantly being found for that wonderful, waterproof plastic used by laundries and dry cleaning establishments to protect customers' clothes. Latest suggestion comes from Trailways passenger service department. Bus travel experts say small, featherweight bags of this magic material are not only excellent for carrying baby's incidentals on a trip, but also provide good disposable bibs for both mother and child at feeding time.

Gone Hunting—With Sal

The hunting season is on. Males don boots, caps and bright colored jackets, arm themselves with shotguns and shells and take off after their favorite quarry. The distaff side of the family is on the hunt, too, in jeans or house-dress with hair tucked under a kerchief, armed with buckets and mops. The quarry... grime. And just as hunting-husbands gather to discuss the virtues of such-and-such gun and such-and-such ammunition, the ladies gather to discuss the merits of their ammunition... cleansers.

One that rates high at all such get-togethers is sal soda concentrated. Used in solution form, it blasts grime and odors from closets, cupboards and drawers. It does fast work of cleaning plastics, shower curtains, toaster covers and the like, fornicia table tops and other plastic pieces. It makes tile, enamel and porcelain surfaces gleam. Sal can also be used as a scourer without fear of its scratching, for it's water soluble.

Some of the reasons the ladies have such a high regard for sal in grime-hunting is: it's economical; it's one of the few cleansers that can be used in solution or else dry as a scourer; it grips the really hard-to-get-rid-of soil and grease, and it softens* hard water. Such qualifications add up to easier, quicker, more economical fall cleaning which, in turn, means a shorter open season on dirt.

RED CROSS JUNIORS OPEN RECORD ENROLLMENT BID IN ALL SCHOOLS
The annual Junior Red Cross enrollment gets underway here November 23 - December 11. For the next month students in public, private and parochial schools throughout the area will be given the opportunity to join this nation-wide organization. The Junior Red Cross "specializes in promoting the humanitarian ideals of the Red Cross through programs and activities carried on at local, national and international levels," says Miss Ruth DeVore, Junior Red Cross chairman for the Carroll County Red Cross Chapter. The program is described as one designed to give young people the chance to express themselves through activities that will promote their own educational growth and provide valuable services to their community. The Junior activities are a supplement to the school program. Guiding the students in their projects are teacher sponsors. The teacher sponsor for the Westminster High School Junior Red Cross Club is Mrs. James Briscoe. Among the Junior Red Cross activities are: The gift box program, in which schools prepare and send small boxes filled with articles ranging from toys to health items; colorful tray mats and nut cups are being made and distributed to Fort Meade and Springfield State Hospitals for the various holidays; The school album program which tells through drawings, photographs and essays the life and activities of the towns in which American youngsters live. Every year outstanding Juniors are selected to attend JRC training centers held around the nation. These provide special leadership training for young people and increase their knowledge of Red Cross.

James Kirby Jr.

Bettie Umstead

Two young 4-H'ers from Anne Arundel and Montgomery counties have been named top winners in Maryland for "all around achievements" in the 4-H program, the State Extension office announced.

James Kirby Jr., 19, of Gambrills, will receive the Ford Motor award of an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago Nov. 29-Dec. 3 at the Conrad Hilton hotel.

Co-winner is Bettie Umstead, 20, of Olney, who will receive a certificate of honor as well Kirby.

A 4-H'er for seven years, Kirby is a member of the 4-H All-Stars and was chosen to represent Maryland earlier this year at the older 4-H Club members leadership conference in West Virginia. He also received the Key Club award.

With 38 completed projects to his credit, numerous county medals, and even a reserve grand champion Angus steer at Timonium State Fair, Kirby found time to serve as officer and junior leader of his Davidsonville 4-H Club. He is a four-time winner of the Thomas E. Wilson citizenship medal.

During his University of Maryland freshman year he served as co-chairman of the 4-H Seminar. Now a sophomore, Kirby states: "4-H Club work is everything to me. It is truly one of my priceless possessions."

Miss Umstead, a Frostburg State Teachers College junior, is a former national scholarship winner in the 4-H home improvement program and attended the 1956 congress in Chicago as guest of the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

A nine-year 4-H'er, Miss Umstead has 36 prize-winning projects to her credit, along with six years service as a junior leader, two as assistant and three as leader for four local 4-H groups. A former officer of both her local and Montgomery county clubs, she is also former citizenship tour chairman of the state club.

September means "Back To School" for boys and girls all over the state and the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission requests all motorists to drive with extra caution to prevent the tragic loss of child life.

Children imitate the examples of grown-ups that's why we urge adults to "Set Children A Good Example" by—Obeying all traffic laws—Driving within posted speed limits—Practicing courtesy at all times—And cooperating with the police, safety officials and school authorities in enforcing safety.

Parents should assume responsibility for early and continuous safety training of their children to make them self-reliant and help save their lives. Let's protect our children by teaching and showing them how to protect themselves.

Motorists should be child-conscious and drive with care—Children should be safety-conscious and walk with care. This will insure the right-of-way to long life for all our children.

SHORT STORY

Safety First

By Ona F. Lathrop

I WAS standing at the top of the steps of my plane remembering all the things they had impressed upon us in our training for stewardess—safety and comfort of the passengers come first—things like that. It was my first flight on this line and I wanted to do just the right thing—sort of a trial run.

The two young things coming across to board the plane looked like a honeymoon couple. She had on a light blue suit and a little flowered hat covered with pink veiling over her blonde pony tail, and he had a flower in his navy buttonhole. Then suddenly a figure came dashing through the crowd and out through the gate, gesticulating madly for them to wait. He carried a cardboard shoebox and his dark curly hair was flying in the wind and rain. A fine drizzle had started and the girl came on up the steps out of it, and turned to look back. There seemed to be a great argument going on down there. Her boy-friend kept pushing the box back into the other man's arms.

"NO, NO, I won't take it. No, Nick, I don't want the thing." "But you must. It is the only way. It is our one chance—" The dark foreign-looking fellow gave the box one final thrust into the young man's arms and then dashed back and disappeared in the crowd.

"It's my cousin, Nicholas, baby. He wants me to—to—" he looked at me apprehensively and then rushed into the plane, dragging the girl with him. I followed along curiously, making a pretense of helping them find a seat. He kept shifting the box nervously.

"Would you like to sit near the front or back?" I queried in my usual Hostess Voice. They chose the seat next to the emergency exit window, and strangely, he went in first. The thought flashed in my mind that I could always open it if worst came to worst. I went right on up front to the pilot's cabin.

"I don't like it," I told him. "He holds that box gingerly as if—"

I walked back and stopped to chat. "Would you like me to put the package up on the shelf for you?" I inquired pleasantly. "Oh, no, no, no," he cried. "I have to hold it. It must be kept—uh, warm." He broke off as if he were biting his tongue.

"But darling, what is it?" the girl kept asking.

He answered impatiently now. "Francie, I can't tell you. Now don't ask again. Why don't you go sit in the back? The view is better."

The plane had taxied out to the takeoff runway and was revving up the engines, but still we didn't go. I glanced at my wrist-watch. Probably waiting for the tower-signal—the fog was getting worse.

It must be a matter of time. I went forward and pulled at Wilcox's sleeve. "You've got to do something," I cried. "I can't get it away from him, and he says we MUST get off on time. This is murder!"

Wilcox snorted. "All right, Miss Benson. Take over, Hannigan." He followed me back. "Let's have a look, young man," he said sternly, grabbing the box.

"Oh please, sir, don't open it here—I beg of you." Reuel scrambled over his bride's knees and followed us to the control room.

Wilcox was opening the strings. He lifted off the cover and there lay—a setting of duck eggs, I guess—big fancy white eggs.

"What on earth—" I screamed in relief.

"It was my cousin's idea—he wanted to send them to our uncle in California, but I told him no—they might even hatch on the way. But he made me take them, and I didn't want Francie to know—"

After he had gone back and snuggled his bride's head on his shoulder, Wilcox laughed. "Delivering ducks—what next!"

And I breathed a sigh of relief. I had done my best—for the safety and comfort of the passengers!

Merry Christmas Cookies

Too busy to bake Christmas cookies this year? Not if you take advantage of cookie mixes for your holiday bakings!

With a touch of this... and a sprinkle of that, your sweets will be festive and tempting.

Try these easy recipes from the Betty Crocker kitchens:

Date Sugar Balls

Follow directions on Date Bar Mix pkg. except, add grated rind of 2 oranges and ½ cup chopped pecans to date filling. Bake as directed. Cool and crumble. Roll into 1" balls; roll in granulated sugar or sifted confectioners' sugar or cocoa. Makes 2½ dozen.

Cranberry Rounds

Follow directions on Date Bar Mix pkg. except, add ½ cup cooked, drained whole cranberries to date-filling mixture. Cool, sprinkle top with red sugar, cut into 2" rounds.

Thumbprint Macaroons

Blend ½ cup cocoa with 1 pkg. coconut macaroon mix before adding liquid. Follow direction on pkg. for mixing and baking. Do not overbake. For moist, chewy macaroons, remove from oven while still soft and make thumbprint in each cookie. Fill with frosting (recipe below).

Frosting: Blend together ¼ cup soft butter, and 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar. Stir in until smooth, about 3 tsp. cream and 1½ tsp. vanilla. Tint frosting pastel shades with food coloring.

Walnuts Add Flavor To Apple Pie

For a new version of an old favorite, serve this deliciously different apple pie. Quick-cooking tapioca helps keep the fresh flavor and color of the apples while the filling bakes to perfect juiciness. The flavor and crunchiness of walnut topping make this pie absolutely irresistible.

Apple Pie with Walnut Crumb Top

- 1-1/2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 3-1/2 cups peeled and thinly sliced fresh apples
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 3/4 cup heavy cream
- Pastry for one-crust 9-inch pie
- Walnut Crumb Topping*
- 1/4 cup butter, melted

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, salt, spices, apples, lemon juice, and cream. Roll pastry 1/8 inch thick. Line a 9-inch pie pan. Trim pastry 1 inch larger than pan, fold edge to form a standing rim, and flute. Fill with apple mixture and bake in hot oven (425 F.) 30 minutes. Then sprinkle Walnut Crumb Topping over apple mixture around edge of pie, leaving 1-1/2 to 2-inch area in center uncovered to permit escape of steam. Spoon melted butter over crumb topping. Bake 20 to 25 minutes longer, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

*Walnut Crumb Topping. Combine 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup fine graham cracker crumbs, 1/4 cup flour, 1/4 cup chopped walnuts, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, and 1/8 teaspoon salt.

"Oh, oh, Gertrude, we'll have to go south after all. As soon as those men get through insulating that house, there won't be any nice, toasty heat loss for us. Then snow won't melt on the roof any faster than it does on the rest of those houses."

To Please The Ladies

Perfume or cosmetics for mother or sister at Christmas time can be attractively packaged by any young craftsman if he or she will use the following materials:

- Gift box about 2½ inches deep
- Sheet of Styrofoam, 2 inches thick
- Perfume or cosmetic assortment
- Paring knife, spoon
- Christmas ball, greenery, glitter

To assemble: With sharp paring knife, cut Styrofoam to fit the box. Arrange cosmetics, perfume or cologne on the foam, then outline individual objects with paring knife. Hollow out Styrofoam within knife markings, using teaspoon and knife, being careful not to go outside the lines to achieve a close fit. Fit objects into place. Decorate with Christmas balls, greens and glitter.

When completed, perfume and cosmetics will stand out attractively in the snowy setting.

About Face!

Lesson for November 29, 1959

OUTSIDE of what we are told about Jesus in the four Gospels, what event is the most important of all those described in the New Testament? Most intelligent Christians would probably agree on one particular event. If it had not happened, nearly half the New Testament books could not have been written. If it had not happened, over a quarter of the pages of the New Testament would be blank. If it had not happened, Christianity might well have died by strangulation. For there were many who wanted to strangle it in its cradle, and except for one man they might have succeeded.

Dr. Foreman

Why, Saint Paul happened, to be sure! He himself never would say it "happened" and we do not mean that it was a happen-so, a chance occurrence. He believed to his dying day that God planned it, and we may well believe he was right.

Confronted With Christ

Saints do not become saints overnight. But they have to start somewhere, somehow. The amazing thing about Paul is that he did an absolute about-face, after a certain day near the city of Damascus in Syria. He was, to put it in one word, converted. That means, in still plainer English, turned around, faced backward from the way the person was going, started in the opposite direction.

It is quite a mistake to think that unless you are converted just as Saint Paul was converted, you haven't been converted at all. That is as silly as saying that if you haven't married a girl exactly like my wife, you aren't really married. As Saint Paul was a unique character in any way you look at him, his conversion would be unique too. Further, his situation was decidedly a strange one. He was a professional religious man, engaged in wholesale murder. He was a man who belonged to one of the strictest religious sects of that or any other era, and yet engaged in trying to smash up people who were actually better than he was. He was a man who was passionately devoted to serving God, spending his time making life miserable (when he could not actually kill them) for persons who understood God better than he did.

A man like that, you would think, is not likely to have a "conventional" or average religious experience. Budding Saint Pauls since his time may have had somewhat similar conversions; but John Doe usually has the John Doe type of conversion.

Confronted With Christ

For all that, while much in the circumstances of Paul's conversion (to use a name he did not actually bear till some time later) was peculiar, bizarre or awe-inspiring as you might think it, still basically it was a Christian conversion, with the basic Christian elements plainly in it. First of all, it was confronting Christ. It was a kind of miracle in Paul's case. The miracle may not be so spectacular in other cases but Christ is always there at the beginning of every really Christian life. It may be a Confucian scholar reading a Bible for the first time; it may be an artist attracted by a picture of the Last Supper; it may be a French agnostic, seeing Christ in his wife's character; or a middle-aged man remembering one day how his mother used to pray. Somehow or other, all conversion is based on this meeting between an individual and Christ.

The First Two Questions

Years later Paul told the story of his conversion, to some people who at the moment were bent on killing him. He added something to the story told in Acts (the best manuscripts). He relates two questions, not one, which he asked in that great and awesome hour near Damascus. The first question: "Who art Thou, Lord?" and the second one: "What will you have me to do?" (See Acts 22.) On those two questions hung all his future life. Note three things here: he put his questions now to the highest Authority; he wanted to know all about Jesus; and he put his life at the disposal of his Lord. This is the essence of conversion.

Dreamy Creamy Fudge Drops

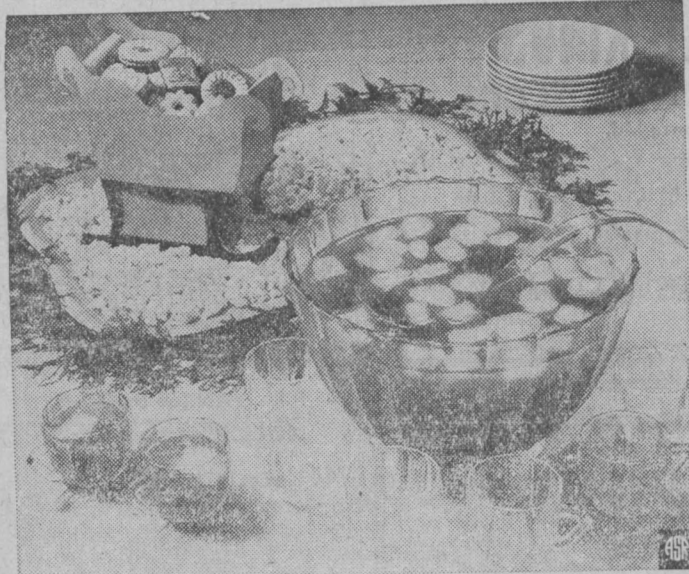

When you're making chocolate candy, use semi-sweet chocolate squares if you want the very best. Proof-positive is to be seen—and tasted—in these creamy fudge drops, satiny dark and delicious. The fudge may be cut into squares if desired. The gay decorations are optional but make a charming contrast to the rich chocolate.

Creamy Fudge Drops

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 3 squares semi-sweet chocolate | Dash of salt |
| 1/2 cup water | 2 tablespoons butter or margarine |
| 1/2 cup evaporated milk | 1 teaspoon vanilla |
| 1 cup granulated sugar | 1 cup broken nuts |
| 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar | |

Add chocolate to water and milk and place over low heat. Cook and stir until mixture is smooth and blended. Add sugars and salt and stir until sugars are dissolved and mixture boils. Continue boiling, without stirring, until a small amount of mixture forms a very soft ball in cold water (or to a temperature of 232°F.). Remove from heat and add butter. Cool to lukewarm (110°F.) and add vanilla. Then beat until mixture begins to thicken; add nuts and continue beating only until mixture loses its gloss. Drop from teaspoon on waxed paper and chill until firm or spread at once in greased 8x4-inch pan, cool until firm and cut in squares.

Winter-Set Your Table... For Fun!

The winter's calendar is dotted with festive occasions calling for entertainment. Why not set a casual buffet table to match the season's mood, using simple decorations appropriate to the time of year.

A large punch bowl might serve as the highlight of the table, with an original centerpiece to capture the bright, crisp spirit of winter-time. Cover a tray or cookie sheet with unbuttered popcorn, for "snow," and place a ceramic or cardboard sleigh, holding cookies or candies, in its center. (If you're handy, you can make your own sleigh from an empty candy box, using construction paper for runners). Surround the miniature snow scene with small branches of pine, and there you have it—an easy and warm way to greet guests who drop in to say a winter hello!

To fill the punch bowl, here's a sparkling new drink, simple to prepare, pretty to look at, deliciously snappy in flavor.

Holiday Fruit Punch

- | | |
|---|-----------------------|
| 1 cup orange juice | 1 cup pineapple juice |
| 1/4 cup lemon juice | 2 tablespoons honey |
| 2 cups cranberry juice cocktail | Pinch of salt |
| 2 large bottles (or 5 12-oz. bottles) of Canada Dry Quinine Water | |

Combine first six ingredients; mix well. Pour over ice in large punch bowl. Fill bowl with Quinine Water. Makes 24 punch cup servings.

Embattled Family Discovers:

Pitched Roof Only Escape From Clam-Loving Gulls

ISLAND PARK, N. Y.—Long Island's dive-bombing sea gulls don't know it yet, but it looks like they've lost the battle of the flat roof in this oceanside community.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Martin are considering having a new pitched roof erected over their contemporary flat-roofed home to foil the hordes of gulls that have been bombarding the house with fresh clams day and night for nearly a year.

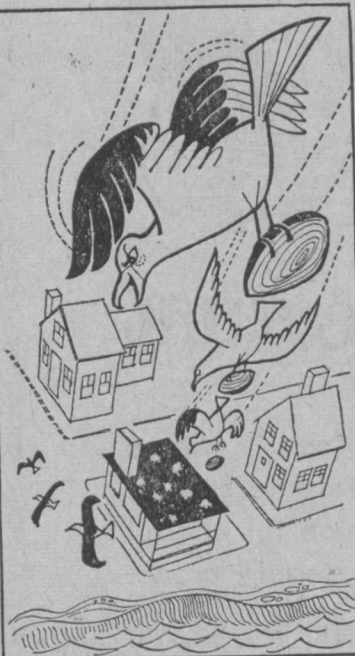

The new pitched roof would solve the problem because the falling clams will glance harmlessly off to the ground.

The Martins' troubles are the result of the fact that their house is the only one with a flat roof in the entire 500-house community. The flat, hard roof was an ideal surface for the clam-dropping because the impact cracked open the shell, exposing the succulent meat to the hungry gulls.

For months the clatter of clams and the clamor of the excited gulls kept the Martins awake at night and on edge during the day. Even their German shepherd pup, Max, suffered. When he barked at the airborne invaders, they disdainfully shelled him with clams, driving him yelping for cover.

Besides getting rid of the gulls, the Martins would enjoy these other benefits of their new pitched roof:

1. More living space. Mrs. Martin would use the new space for a study for her husband.
2. More ventilation. An air space under a pitched roof permits air to circulate through louvers in the gable ends. This keeps the attic area cooler and lets harmful moisture out.

3. New exterior beauty. A pitched roof can have asphalt shingles in one of many colors available.

4. Wide overhang. This shades the windows from hot summer sun and protects them from rain and dirt.

S. R. C. Prepare For Winter

The State Roads Commission of Maryland has adopted a snow and ice emergency plan that will work toward insuring highway users being able to travel the State highway system in safety and comfort with a minimum of delay in adverse conditions.

The policy was adopted after an agreement of cooperation was reached between the State Roads Commission and the Maryland State Police.

To adequately warn motorists, signs marked "Icy Road" with white letters on a red background will be placed at locations where ice or snow has or can be expected to create a hazardous condition.

Each sign will be provided with a cover so that writing will be exposed only when needed. Some of the signs will be equipped with a flashing signal light.

So that attention can be called to dangerous spots as early as possible, the Maryland State Police has agreed to have troopers uncover the signs as soon as they observe a hazardous condition.

District Engineering forces, whose responsibility it is to clear the snow or salt and cinder the highway, shall begin operations immediately upon development of hazardous conditions.

Since maintenance personnel may be called upon for duty outside their normal working hours and since such duty must be performed under adverse and dangerous conditions, reasonable and satisfactory compensation will be paid to personnel for all call-out duty after their normal hours.

As a further service to the motoring public, it is anticipated that the card will be prominently posted in each roadside telephone booth. This card would give a number which motorists could call to find out about snow and ice conditions.

"The State Roads Commission feels," John B. Funk, Chairman-Director of the Commission said, "That it has a responsibility to get these roads in safe condition as soon as it possibly can. Also, the Commission wants to be able to get people to work in the morning even though ice or snow may develop on certain stretches of highway over night."

"We feel this plan will go a long way toward making this possible."

Funds Available To Establish And Improve Forest Stands

Cost-sharing benefits, to establish Forest Conservation Measures, can be obtained through the Agricultural Conservation Program, administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The cost-sharing benefits to the property owner will be 80% of the actual costs in the case of planting tree seedlings and 50% of the total cost of woodland improvement.

One of these practices is aimed toward reforesting idle land. These cost-sharing benefits will not be allowed for planting orchard trees, or for ornamental purposes; and must be protected from fire and grazing. The number of seedlings to be planted and the specie will be determined by a representative of the Maryland State Department of Forests and Parks.

Funds are also available for forest stand improvement such as: (1) thinning, (2) pruning crop trees, (3) release of desirable tree seedlings by removing or killing competing and undesirable vegetation, (4) site preparation for natural reseedling, (5) fencing against woodland grazing, and (6) erosion control measures on logging roads and trails. The area treated must be protected from fire. This practice also must be designed, laid out, and established under the supervision of a qualified representative of the Maryland State Department of Forests and Parks.

If you feel you are qualified or are interested in any of these practices, contact Assistant District Forester Earl Sheble; Westminster, Maryland—phone Tilden 8-9290; or your local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, 33 Court Street, Westminster, Maryland.

A representative from either office will be of service to discuss details of the measures with property owners.

Two 4-H Leaders Honored At Achievement Night

The 4-H Older Youth Club of Carroll County chose to honor Mrs. Russell Frock and Mr. Milton C. Basler, the two local leaders in the county who have served for twenty years, by presenting for each of them a skit entitled "This is Your 4-H Life." They were reminded of major events that occurred during their twenty years of service and greeted by people with whom they had worked.

Both Mrs. Frock and Mr. Basler were very much surprised. The occasion for the program was Carroll County's annual 4-H Achievement Night on November 12, when they each received their twenty-year local leader pins. Mrs. Frock, then Kathryn Myers, joined the Baust 4-H Club shortly after it was founded twenty five years ago. Rev. Reifsnider of the Baust Church organized the Baust 4-H Club and Mrs. Frock continued as a member until she became a leader of the club in 1939. Her major interest as a 4-H member was the Clothing project although she also carried Canning, Home Furnishings and Handicrafts projects.

In 1944 Mrs. Frock was given a trip to Club Congress in Chicago as a Junior Chaperone with the Maryland delegation. In 1946 Mrs. Frock was taken into the Maryland All-Stars, the highest 4-H honor.

Along with Mrs. George Wentz, Melrose, Mrs. Frock helped organize the Melrose Girls 4-H Club. Soon after this, in 1952, she organized the Westminster Girls 4-H Club. Mrs. John Kemper and Mrs. Eugene Ensor have been her assistant leaders in the Westminster Club. Still continuing as the leader of the Baust Club, she is assisted by Mrs. Ralph Dutterer.

Mrs. Frock has assisted with many county-wide activities of 4-H and has written a number of articles for the magazine, "The National 4-H News."

Mr. and Mrs. Frock live on the Union Bridge Road just outside of Westminster. They have two children, Neil, three, and Lori Lee, four months old.

Mr. Milton C. Basler, a native of Carroll County, served in the armed forces during World War I. He was not a 4-H member but became interested in 4-H work when he began to take his son, Milton C. Basler, Jr. and his son's friends to and from club meetings.

The Westminster Boys 4-H Club was without a leader in 1939 when Stephen Morelock moved to Baltimore. Mr. Basler was nominated to fill the job. Soon after 1949, as an outgrowth of building the Hillsdale Homemakers Club house, the Hillsdale 4-H Club was formed with Mr. Basler as their leader. He continued working successfully with the Hillsdale Club for the past 18 years. Some of the accomplishments of the club include being an Achievement Club, a "Banner Club and Honor Clubs for 2 years and having three members win State trips to Club Congress in Chicago. In addition to this 3 members of the club have been accepted into All Stars, the 4-H honorary. In 1956 the club was awarded a Safety Plaque and helped Carroll County win a Safety Plaque. In March, 1959 Mr. Basler was awarded his 12 year tractor leader.

Both Mrs. Frock and Mr. Basler have made great contributions to the 4-H Program through their leadership. Carroll County can well be proud of them!
