Soil Conservation Supervisors Discuss Soil And Water Conservation Needs

The Carroll County Soil Conservation Supervisors met in regular session on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 24, in the County Extension Office.

Mr. Horace Brauning presided in the absence of S. L. Hoke, Chairman. Other supervisors present were Mr. R. G. Spoerlein, Mr. Harry Koller, and Mr. D. Leonard Reifsnider, and Mr. L. C. Burns.

The discussion by the supervisors pointed up among many conservation practices, the very urgent need for water conservation. The situation throughout the county and the nation is a serious one. Many reports of wells that have dried up have been called to the attention of all people interested in the conservation of our natural resources. As the population trends continue to increase, more and more use of water becomes more necessary.

It therefore becomes the primary business of all citizens, particularly those who till the soil, to do all they can to keep the water where it falls and to use the known cultural practices that will prevent run-off during fall rains.

County Agent Burns pointed out the fact that time is running out when we as a nation can any longer ignore the very urgent need for the conservation of our natural resources—soil, water, and forests.

SAVINGS BONDS EXCHANGE ANNOUNCED

Series E and Unmatured F and J Bond Exchange will be Authorized

The Treasury has announced that regulations will be issued in December, under which holders of outstanding Series E, Savings Bonds, and ununmatured Series F and J Savings Bonds, effective on January 1, 1960, and thereafter, may exchange them at current redemption values for Series H bonds, and have the privilege of treating the increase in redemption value (to the extent not previously included in gross income) in excess of the amount paid for such Series E, and ununmatured Series F and J bonds, includable in gross income in the taxable year in which the Series H bonds are finally redeemed or disposed of, or in the taxable year of final maturity, whichever is earlier.

The effect of this proposed action by the Treasury will permit many persons who hold amounts of Series E and ununmatured Series F and J bonds on which the interest earnings are reflected in the increase in redemptions value from date of issue until maturity, or earlier redemption prior to maturity, to exchange them for Series H current income bonds on which interest is payable each six months by check issued to the bondowner.

Exchanges of the Series E and ununmatured Series F and J bonds for Series H bonds will be authorized without regard to the annual limitation of $10,000 of Series H bonds which may be purchased under current regulations. Series H bonds are issued at par. They are dated the first day of the month in which payment is received and mature ten years thereafter. Interest is payable on a graduated basis and is equivalent to a rate of 3-3/4% if the bonds are held until maturity. The bonds are issued in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, and $10,000. For each $100 of investment is paid amounting to $2.25 for the first year, $3.60 for the second year, and $4.00 for each year thereafter until maturity.

Christmas Clubs Reach All-Time High!

The sharp rebound from the 1958 recession was emphasized again today when Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas Club a Corporation released figures for the 1959 Club. The total accumulation this year is One Billion, Four Hundred and Five Million Dollars which some 8,000 banks and savings institutions will distribute to over Thirteen Million Christmas Club members.

"Evidently the American people are aware that economic strength is as vital as guns and missiles because they are certainly taking steps to ensure their individual financial security," said Mr. Dorset. "It's a significant thing that over Thirteen Million Americans have carried through a savings program which they had faith enough to start in a recession year. Of course they will use part of it for Christmas but they plan to invest over 50% of the total in long-term financial goals." To demonstrate this he cited the following figures from Christmas Club research to show how the 1959 accumulation will be used:

Christmas Purchases 30% $421,500,000. Savings and Investment for future use 51% 716,550,000. Taxes 10% 140,500,000. Year-end Bills 7% 98,350,000. Miscellaneous 2% 28,100,000. Total $1,405,000,000.

The year 1959 marks the eighth successive year that the Club disbursements have exceeded a Billion Dollars and the 1959 accumulation, following the trend of the past several years, is about 8% larger than in 1958. The average check this year amounts to $108.00 per member.

Two Hundred and Five financial institutions had Clubs in excess of $1,000,000 each. New York led the 50 States with 2,676,636 members and $284,719,888 in savings. Pennsylvania was second with 1,659,240 members who saved $148, 113, 573 and a recent addition to the top four, California, showed 1,017,733 members and $141, 942, 251 in savings.

KEY TO EFFICIENT FARMING

In the course of an account of Roswell Garst's famous experimental farm in Iowa, which was visited by Premier Khrushchev, columnist Marquis Childs touched on the vital importance of efficient agriculture. He said: "What it means in manpower, in the strength of a nation, is all too obvious. In 1930 it took one-third of the American people to produce food and fiber. Today 12 per cent of the population produce so much that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson goes to bed every night worrying about the vast amount of surpluses. In India, says Garst, they use about 85 per cent of the people in agriculture and in East Europe it is probably about 50 per cent."

This American achievement has its root in a number of factors. Improved fertilizers and insecticides are important examples. So are breeding and feeding methods that produce superior meat animals. Then, above all, is the factor of mechanization. Tractors and the other machines make it possible to produce more and more with less and less wasteful, high cost human labor. And mechanized equipment makes possible conservation technique that will save the vital topsoil for future generations.

The surplus problem is a very serious one today. But, in the long run, there is every likelihood that the pressures of the age will solve it if nothing else does. The population soars. In many areas farm land continues to be taken over in vast acreage by housing and industrial developments, roads, airports, suburbs. In years to come, say all the signs, we will need more and increasingly efficient mechanization of the tasks, just as we will need more of all the other modern tools that serve the farmer.—Industrial News Review.

Christmas Present Fudge

Homemade candy is a Christmas present everyone on your gift list will enjoy, and candy making is no longer a chore when you use recipes developed by the home economists of the Carnation Company. Smooth, velvety fudge is at hand in a matter of five minutes... the better blending qualities of Carnation Evaporated Milk are responsible for the perfect texture. There's no tiresome beating, cold water tests, no need for a thermometer when this modern method is used. These same features are true of other Carnation candy recipes such as Pecan Log and Almond Peanut Clusters.

Pine Mantel Adds Richness To Fireplace in Any Home

Gracious wood mantel lends warmth, dignity to Colonial room.

A fireplace is two things to most families: a blazing hearth that shuts out the bleak winter on a cold night, and a focal point for decoration the year around. A fireplace gets its beauty from its mantel. The most beautiful of mantels are those made of wood, as the photograph shows. Wood can be painted to match or harmonize with the color scheme of a room, or stained to bring out the natural beauty of the grain. Complete mantels of ponderosa pine can be obtained from building material dealers. They come pre-assembled, or in pre-cut parts ready to be fitted together and installed. A wide range of sizes and styles is available to fit any decor from Colonial to contemporary.

Meet the Lunch Box Crowd

RECENT statistics of a large research organization show men eat 54% of the lunch box meals! Teenagers consume only 11%, other children 20% and women carry 18%. It was determined that in 42% of all homes someone carried a lunch at least every other weekday. Soup was a big lunch box leader. Many lunch boxes now come equipped with wide-mouth vacuum bottles especially designed for soup. Among family favorites in condensed soups, tomato is the most popular; 2 million families ate it in a single day. Vegetable and chicken noodle vie for second place; vegetable beef, mushroom, chicken with rice and chicken vegetable follow in that order.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL COUNTY

Almost every family in Carroll County received a very important letter last week... and many of them haven't been opened. But the envelope is familiar to everyone - the message usually the same - "BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS!" If you haven't opened your letter and found the bright 1959 Christmas Seals, please do so at once and send in your contribution to the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association in Westminster. Your donation is needed to continue the very important effort to wipe out tuberculosis. Thinking of others is the real meaning of Christmas and when you mail in your donation to the Christmas Seal headquarters you are thinking of your fellow citizens in a very concrete way. For you are helping to buy health and happiness for some one and these are two of the most priceless gifts anyone can give or receive. Remember, that no contribution is too small to help.

E. Miller Richardson of New Windsor, was host to the members of the Western Maryland Easter Seal Council, on Tuesday, November 24th at a luncheon in Benny's Kitchen, Westminster. Those present were S. Ray Hollinger, Howard E. Kootz, Jr. Mrs. John W. Bankert, Jr., Kenneth Bohn and Mrs. Elizabeth R. McElroy, director of the Easter Seal Treatment Center in Frederick. Mr. Richardson is chairman of the Western Maryland Easter Seal Council.

We had an unexpected visitor during the Thanksgiving holiday. Our daughter brought a hamster home from college and it was our first contact with this type pet. They are about three times as big as a mouse with the cute characteristics of a squirrel. This particular hamster was a male with reddish gold fur, no tail, sharp pointed ears like an imp and beady black eyes that missed nothing. On the campus he lived in a wire cage in one of the girl's dormitories and quite naturally received a lot of attention. When he arrived at our house we placed him in a large cardboard carton and thought he would be safe. But the first night of his visit he chewed his way out of his box and for twenty-four hours he was lost somewhere in our house. We looked everywhere for him. We turned the furniture over. We searched every closet and cupboard, we looked under the carpets and in all the beds, but we couldn't find the hamster. So we gave up and decided to let hunger drive him out from his hiding place. We put his food on a paper in the kitchen and waited. Sure enough, about twenty-four hours after he chewed his way to freedom, he came back looking for food. Where he had been we don't know, but he was covered with dust and cobwebs which doesn't speak too well for my housekeeping ability. He seemed glad to be back for he offered no resistance when he was picked up. Sunday evening our daughter took him back to college and into his wire cage, but we bet from now on he will have pleasant memories of the adventure he had at Uniontown and all the worry and excitement he created.

Most schools and colleges granted a four day holiday to their students last week. Those who enjoyed the vacation with their parents were: Bonnie Munshower student nurse at the Washington County Hospital, Alice Booher and Linda Miller students from Towson State Teacher's College, Thomas Winebrenner and Eleanor Baker from Maryland University, Richard Eichman from Peabody Institute, Ned Eichman from University of Virginia, Bonnie Quisenberry from Bridgewater College, Richard Stonestifer, Kitty Reese, Nancy Roelke, Kenneth Reifsnider and Connie Arvin from Western Maryland College.

A group of parents were discussing the "beatniks" of this generation and wondered among themselves why this young generation think they have an exclusive reason for becoming beatniks. The today beatnik says he is misunderstood, has no reason for making any effort because the older generation has handed him such a mess of a world, that man is doomed anyway so he is just not going to shave or put on a clean shirt nor is he going to waste his effort on an honest job. All this would be funny if it wasn't pathetic. The parents who were talking about "beatniks" could themselves have been beatniks when they were young if they had been so inclined. Their parents too, had fouled up the world. They were just coming of age in the twenties when the world was crashing along with the stock market; jobs couldn't be had for love or influence; educational opportunities were limited and if any young person took on marriage he was considered either a fool or a hero. But that generation didn't feel sorry for themselves and go into mourning in a dirty sweatshirt and a Van Gogh beard. They decided if the world was a bit dizzy, they would just make it dizzier by being gay. They introduced some of the craziest songs and dances America ever heard, but neither did she forget them. For they expressed a spirit in America that said: "We may be down, but don't count us out." That is why the beatniks of this young generation are so pathetic. Their attitude of dejection and rejection does not do credit to the spirit of America. In this land of riches and of opportunity to breed a young generation of just a few thousand beatniks with their unhealthy outlook on life in general is really alarming and parents have every right to ask each other: "What is lacking in this age that needs to be corrected?"

Burke said that the cheapest defence of a nation is education. No one generation has a monopoly on misfortune or good fortune but one generation can grow strong by misfortune while another generation can cease to grow at all on good fortune.

Ruth Roelke

I write these lines from a church Bulletin:

Father, where shall I work today? And my love flowed warm and free, Then He pointed me out a tiny spot, And said, "Tend that for Me".

I answered quickly, "Oh, no, not that, Why no one would ever see, No matter how well my work was done, Not that little place for one".

And the word He spoke, it was not stern, He answered tenderly, "Ah, little one, search that heart of thine, Art thou working for them or Me? Nazareth was a little place, And so was Galilee".

Volunteers Build Juvenile Decency

"Volunteers," always indispensable to wars, church suppers and fire houses, have been quietly chalking up impressive accomplishments in recent years.

Some 70,000 of these unselfish adults have been materially reducing — or eliminating — the scourge of juvenile delinquency in hundreds of cities and towns. Working with and in the more than 500 Boys' Clubs of America, they have succeeded in establishing and maintaining Juvenile Decency among hundreds of thousands of Boys' Club members.

Each Club is staffed by full-time, trained professionals. Volunteers help by donating time to teaching everything from printing through painting, woodworking, music and cooking. Other thousands offer services as presidents and board members for the Clubs.

Under Herbert Hoover, board chairman for close to 25 years, a group of top-flight civic, business, and industrial leaders set the national pace for volunteers. Working with Mr. Hoover is Albert L. Cole, general manager of the Reader's Digest, and very active president of the Boys' Clubs.

Rounding out the Boys' Clubs organization is a national professional staff with headquarters in New York and regional offices throughout the country, under the direction of John M. Gleason, an internationally known youth authority.

NO TRESPASSING

THIS HOLIDAY CENTERPIECE LOOKS GOOD!

If you're an indoor gardening enthusiast, or if you just like plants, here's an idea for a Christmas centerpiece made with live foliage and flowers: combine holly and spruce boughs with red carnations, sprigs of Chinese evergreen and aralia. Add a holiday touch by placing gay peppermint striped candles in holders on either side of the arrangement. For extra sparkle, cover the holly leaves with a liquid spray, such as Antrol's Instant Leaf Shine. It gives the leaves a safe, shiny coating and makes the arrangement look its Christmas best.

Interior decorators say it's good to follow the same theme in all of your holiday decorations. So if you want to dress up a mantle or buffet top, work out a variation on this arrangement using similar foliage and decorative materials.

If you use candles in your decorations, keep them in holders safely away from the plant materials. Or, if you must place them in the arrangement, keep the plant materials well below the flame level and use wire or tape to fasten the candles firmly wherever possible as an extra precaution against fire.

Holiday Pancake Surprise!

Straight from New England come these old-time pancake treats. They are excellent to serve as a luncheon entree, with their filling of cottage cheese and their special topping of cranberry relish made with Log Cabin Syrup, to be served warm. To make the relish grind 2 cups of cranberries and a quarter of a fresh lemon (seeded, of course). Combine with a cup of maple-blended syrup, chill in refrigerator several hours to blend flavors, then heat, but do not boil.

Plymouth Pancakes
2 cups ready-mix for pancakes 1 tablespoon shortening, melted
2 cups milk 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 cups cottage cheese

Combine ingredients except cottage cheese; mix lightly. Bake 6 large pancakes on hot lightly greased griddle, using about 2/3 cup batter for each. As each pancake is baked, roll up and keep warm while remaining pancakes are being baked. Then unroll, spread each with about 1/3 cup cottage cheese, and roll again. Serve immediately with warm cranberry relish sauce. Makes 6 pancakes, or 6 servings.

Easy Refreshments For The Holidays

What would Christmas be like without the traditional punch and cookies to treat family and friends? You're right, not much fun.

Usually we think of eggnog as the beverage to serve at Christmas time, but there are many other milk punches that go along with festive entertaining that are fun to try. Holiday Punch is a milk-base drink that will have them coming back for more.

It's always more convenient to have a drink that can be served to the children as well as the grownups, and Holiday Punch is the answer. The peppermint stick ice cream not only adds to the creamy goodness but will increase the nutritive value so necessary for good health and growing bodies.

Holiday Punch
1 pint peppermint ice cream
1 quart milk
1 quart gingerale
Few drops peppermint extract
Red food coloring

Put semi-soft ice cream in punch bowl. Add milk, gingerale, flavoring and a few drops of coloring. Stir until ice cream floats in small pieces throughout. Makes 8-10 servings.

Christmas Butter Cookies
1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 eggs, well beaten
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream butter; add sugar and vanilla and continue creaming until light. Beat eggs and blend into butter mixture. Blend well. Sift flour, measure; sift with salt and add to dough, using more flour if necessary to make stiff dough. Chill 20 to 30 minutes. Roll out to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut with cookie cutter and bake on lightly greased cookie sheet in hot oven, 400°, about 10 minutes. Cookies may be sprinkled with colored sugar before baking. Remove from pans to wire racks to cool. Makes 5-6 dozen cookies.

WINTER DRIVING—READY OR NOT?

Here's some advice on how to ready your car for winter driving, care for it during the cold months ahead, and how to drive safely when streets are slippery and visibility is poor. These twelve tips come from George J. Cutler, director of service for the Plymouth-De Soto-Valiant Division of Chrysler Corporation.

1. When starting the car in the morning, depress the accelerator to half-open throttle to release the choke. IMPORTANT: Do not pump the foot accelerator.
2. After starting in the morning, DON'T let the car run at idle waiting for it to warm up. You're just wasting gas. Start gently and drive slowly until it warms up.
3. Keep your gas tank filled. Cold weather causes condensation and water will get into the gas line.
4. Have radiator flushed and fill with anti-freeze. Be sure that crankcase, transmission and rear axle lubricants are proper grades for cold weather. Have motor tuned and battery checked.
5. Keep windows clean. Be sure defroster operates properly, windshield wipers are in good condition. Put anti-freeze in windshield washer.
6. When planning a winter trip, allow plenty of time to get there. Storms slow traffic.
7. Drive with extra caution in the winter. Slippery streets and poor visibility double the possibilities of accidents.
8. Never drive a car when you have frost or ice on the windows. Take a little time and scrape it off.
9. Be sure you have plenty of ventilation in the passenger compartment. Engine fumes can have serious effects.
10. Have your car washed regularly. Salt on pavements causes rust and corrosion.
11. In "snow country" carry tire chains, a shovel, a tow rope, and a blanket.
12. Avoid excessive speed, even when the highway appears clear. There may be ice around the next curve.

New Convert

Lesson for December 6, 1959

FIFTEEN thousand, nine hundred eighty-two persons decided for Christ when Billy Graham was down in New Zealand last "spring." (It was fall down there.) What will happen to those 15,000 new converts? What has happened to converts in other Billy Graham meetings? The answer to that question depends on the converts themselves; but it depends also a great deal on what other Christians do about it. Billy himself has said, "After the obstetrician comes the pediatrician." The birth of a baby is important good news; but suppose from that moment everybody forgets the baby and nobody does a single thing for him? In that case the baby might as well never have been born.

Dr. Foreman

Getting Acquainted

Saint Paul was a new convert once. The church of the ages owes much to him, but we also owe a great debt to some people without whose help Paul would hardly have become the great apostle and missionary that he was.

He was very eager to get back to Jerusalem where he had built up his career as an anti-Christian. He risked his life, in fact, to get back there. He knew that the most effective place to give a good witness is just where you have made a bad witness in times past. It is much easier to go to a strange place for a complete new start, than to make the new start in the old surroundings. But Paul seldom took the easiest way, and so we find him back in Jerusalem... a lonely man. For not a Christian there would speak to him. He was known as a bloodthirsty and implacable enemy of all Christians. When he began speaking for Christ instead of against him, the Christians were shocked and afraid. All but one man, Barnabas. He took this new convert and introduced him to the church leaders as a fellow-Christian. And when they got acquainted with the man Paul, things began to be different.

That's the first thing a Christian can do with new converts: just get acquainted. Do you have evangelistic services in your church or community? And if so, what are the new Christians to you? Mere statistics, just a list of names? Or are they really people? If all the new converts mean to the older Christians is statistics, then that's all they'll ever be, statistics. And in the end, statistics of missing persons.

New converts are often more scared than they like to admit. Can I hold out? they ask themselves over and over. They have not yet discovered that it is not a question of their holding on, but of God's. Now put a man who half-distrusts himself in the midst of people who have no faith in him, just waiting like buzzards for him to fall so they can pick his reputation to the bone, and you start him off against terrific odds. New converts need all the encouragement they can get. It is nothing short of cruel for people who profess to be Christians, to act and talk as if they were betting on failure for any new Christian. Furthermore, we may note that good practical Barnabas did not keep his confidence in young Paul to himself. He took him personally to the leading Christians of the city.

A Job

Paul was a tentmaker, not as a hobby but as a job for pay. Perhaps he worked at that trade in Jerusalem. But whether he did or not, the job that really interested him was an opportunity to witness for Christ. He preached and he debated around Jerusalem, and we may be sure he would not have been given an opportunity to do this if the Apostles had not approved. In short, to put it into modern terms, they gave him a job in the church. Not that he was paid for it; but the point is, the church encouraged him to speak for Christ, to use his talents as thinker and speaker and debater, on behalf of Jesus. The most weakening thing older Christians can do for a new one is to throttle him down, to choke off his enthusiasm. The best thing older Christians can do for a new convert is to encourage him to win - hers.

Three-Minute Decorating Magic

Christmas decorations can be sprayed on windows, dried in three minutes and wiped away in even less time when the holiday season is over. This kind of decorating magic is possible with two everyday household aids: a vacuum cleaner with a spray or de-moist attachment, and ordinary laundry starch.

To create this gay effect in a family room, first cut a stencil of a seasonal motif—a Christmas tree or Santa head—out of shelf or heavy wrapping paper. Make the stencil large enough to cover the whole window pane. Use a double-sided masking tape to fasten the cut-out onto a window. Be sure all the edges of the stencil and design are all tightly taped down. Then cover the sill with a protective cloth or plastic.

Fill the paint-spray attachment of your vacuum cleaner with a mixture made of one cup of Lint Starch, one cup of warm water, and a tablespoon of soap flakes, stirred to a consistency of light cream. Now attach the sprayer attachment to the blower end of the vacuum cleaner. Standing about a yardstick length from the window, spray the cut-out area with this creamy white starch solution. Singer's new design wedge-shaped vacuum cleaner stands on end to permit easy access to the blower. As soon as the cut-out area is lightly covered with this starchy "paint," remove the spray attachment and use the vacuum tube to blow a light stream of air across the "painted" design. In less than two minutes, the starch-and-water solution will be dry enough so you can pull the stencil away from the window. Home economists from the Singer Vacuum Cleaner Division who tested this new Christmas-decorating trick report that their designs were still lovely after a week, and yet would wipe off simply with cleansing tissue when they were no longer needed.

Pat Boone Tells Teen-Agers Bible Can Answer Questions

Turn to the Bible for the answers to life's Big Questions, urges Pat Boone, popular television and screen star! This is his primary advice to teen-agers—and their parents—as he launches a new series of counseling articles for teen-agers in the December Ladies' Home Journal. If he could, he would put a Bible in the hands of every teen-ager, he declares.

Boone, who is equally popular as a singer and a teen-agers' counselor, singles out time-tested passages of scripture and names the problems which he believes each will remedy. The troubles range from the blues to the budget.

The verses are familiar ones. For example, if you feel lonely and unprotected, you'll find solace, he says, in the ninety-first Psalm, "The Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress, my God, in Him will I trust."

If people criticize you harshly, there is consolation in the fifteenth chapter of St. John which asks "that ye love one another as I have loved you."

If the world hates you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you. If they have persecuted me, they will persecute you."

Should you be troubled with the age-old problem of money,

He'd Put a Bible in Every Teen-Ager's Hand.

Boone says to read the twenty-seventh Psalm: "In the time of trouble the Lord shall hide you in his pavilion. Wait on the Lord: Be of good courage and He shall strengthen thine heart."

The singer, who is the author of an advice book for teen-agers, entitles his new series, "Pat Boone Talks to Teen-agers" and in his first article he tells young people how to increase their popularity.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

the beautiful Cathedral. Every one regardless of Faith, Creed or color should see the Gothic effects, the arches and bays, the towers, the 20 foot statue of Christ. Adjectives could not describe this work of art and as I stood in the center aisle and looked around, I thought of Man, the work of all this beautiful structure. More so did I gaze upon a Catholic girl who after kneeling at the altar walked slowly to a Pew and I observed her expression which was love and admiration for her church as she sat there in silence still gazing upon the beautiful sight around her. Never have I seen more beautiful windows and I then thought of the churches in far off places. Take a drive there, folks for this Cathedral is truly wonderful to have in our city of Baltimore. I walked up to the very last stair to get a better view! Breathtaking is just the word! And to think this was all made possible by a man named Thomas J. O'Neill who came from Ireland when he was a little boy.

The department stores are all dressed up now for Christmas and they are truly beautiful. The May-Hecht Company leads in all the splendor and has the atmosphere of the John Wanamaker store in Philadelphia. The decoration is all in Silver and Blue and as one enters you hear the low "Ah's" and "Oh's". Merchandise seems to be more reasonably priced this year for some reason or other. They have actually rebuilt the interior from top to bottom.

If you do a lot of walking or on your feet most of the time, you must look after your feet for those "Footies" will give you much more service if you purchase the best walking shoes. Your Observer did just that walking around for this Column for material and the name of the store is "VAN DYKE & BACON" on North Charles street just above Lexington next to the Read Drug store. You will have happy feet for all times and they will carry you any where and for miles. Dr. Rogers—the big Orthopedic man sends all his patients there.

Cleaning out the little drawers of the secretary one evening lately, I came across a tiny pair of scissors, a miniature prayer book, a snap shot of a little girl with her Mother on the rocks at Shang-hai on a skate key and a tiny, bookmarker with the words, "God Answers Prayer!" And then I sat there and reminisced with those articles in my hands thinking of "Love's Retreat!"

There was a beautiful letter marked Sept. 21, 1918 from my only brother who was in the Navy which was postmarked France—yet written on a battleship. That one I'll always keep! In the letter, he said "Our Ship is said to be the pride of the transport fleet and this is easy to believe when I tell you that we took Secretary of War Baker over to France. It's a cinch he's picking out one of the best!" "A little faded booklet 'The Kolynos' 'Parley Voo Booklet'—practical French and German phrases and to pronounce them for daily use for soldiers! That, too was with the letter.

On the wall of the nice Chiropractor at 6 W. Madison St. there is the framed following—"Do you feel sorry for yourself? Once I cried because I had no shoes. Then I saw a man who had no feet!"

To keep healthy, folks try Chiropractic treatments and then it will be a monthly visit to your Chiropractor as Your Observer does religiously. The last time, I was in to the office my Blood Pressure was 160 which was very high and immediately after the treatment it fell to 131. Wonderful?

There is much charm even more so than previously to the "LITTLE THEATRE" on North Howard Street due to the fact that a new screen has been installed plus the new ceiling and still maintains the certain 'oomph' that all other theatres lack. It is now the "Art Theatre" and will be showing productions from Europe. In the cast presenting "LIBEL" there are all English characters plus the main actress Olivia de Havilland. It will go over in a bigger way due to the fact there seems to be right there in the audience the fine 'Old Baltimore' crowd which I loved when I first came to this grand state of Maryland. The atmosphere is one of the Metropolitan Opera audiences. No other word but CHARMING!

Have a grand week end, folks. Do go to church—to any Denomination and please don't wait until Christmas! Hope to seeing you soon. D. V. Until next week.

I am,
Faithfully,
Your Observer.

Lights Outdoor Christmas Trees

Boon to the home owner is this portable, outdoor electrical outlet box with lamp holder and cord. It is ideal for lighting outdoor Christmas trees and other outdoor holiday house and lawn decorations. Made by Bell Electric company, Chicago, the unit is perfectly safe, as it is both water and weather proof. At other times of year, it provides current where you need it for many uses, such as portable barbecues, electric lawn mowers, hedge trimmers, garden and patio lighting.

The unit stands firmly by means of a spike which is inserted into the ground. It can be used in front, back, or side of house as the occasion warrants. It includes two plug-in outlets, as well as the lamp holder, which makes lighting and electric outlets available in one combination. Units may be obtained at leading department stores and hardware dealers.
