GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "Public apathy has replaced consciousness of the dangers inherent in a continually upward spiral of prices. Inflation has been present so long it is accepted by many persons as an unalterable condition, as witnessed by wage increases geared to cost of living indexes and a general expectation that wage increases automatically call for higher prices."

CLEWISTON, FLA., NEWS: "We must remember that the United States reached its present strength and freedom, through strength and vigor, not through laziness and indifference."

NOGALES, ARIZ., HERALD: "It is true that featherbedding 'makes jobs', but it can cost more jobs than it makes. The cost of featherbedding is to be found in prices. When product or service prices go up there are fewer customers. Fewer customers mean fewer jobs."

RIVERSIDE, CALIF., RECORD: "A foreigner was quite proud of the fact that he had learned the English language. 'But I had to read an awful lot of comic books to do it,' he said."

LISBON FALLS, ME., NEWS: "There are many tips given to newspaper readers, in editorial columns, and we will proceed to offer one at this time. It may be worth twenty-nine cents, or it may be worth a good bit."

"The advice we offer is for every high school or college student to learn to write well enough to express his views. Being able to express oneself clearly is an advantage in almost any avenue of life. It can make the difference in getting jobs, in salary increases and in achieving agreements, and in almost every other field."

KNOXVILLE, IOWA, EXPRESS: "Who is preaching saving today? Who is using the old proverb of laying up a few dollars for a rainy day? The general idea is to spend everything you have and then go on relief of some kind."

SPOKANE, WN., HERALD: "If a fraction of the money appropriated for armament were directed toward true assistance of the underprivileged nations, the whole earth could be transformed into a garden of Eden, provided men do not forget the art of work and enterprise."

CLARISSA, MINN., INDEPENDENT: "Over United States objections, the Social Committee of the United Nations General Assembly decided that reporters should 'gather' news, not seek it. The vote was 30 to 29 with 7 abstentions. The discussion brought out that the public in the West expects to be informed on world affairs by 'probing' reporters, whereas the communist bloc and other dictatorial-minded nations regard them as international gate crashers, noisy trouble-makers and spies. We prefer the freedom of the press of our country, which enables the press to make Americans the best informed people in the world."

GRAND JUNCTION, COLO., SUN: "Poor public officials are elected by good citizens who don't go to the polls."

SILVERSPRING, MD., RECORD: "Many Americans have preferred more leisure to more goods. That is perhaps the main reason why economic growth in this country has slowed down."

SPOONER, WISC., ADVOCATE: "Hard on the heels of winter comes a wave of tragic fires and asphyxiation."

"Check your own home for fire hazards, and at the same time make sure your heating system is properly vented so that all fumes are carried safely away."

PITTSFIELD, ME., ADVERTISER: "The State of Michigan, sixth wealthiest in the nation is still—despite a strange news blackout—in real financial trouble. 'States as well as businesses are liable to failure and bankruptcy; free spending and unbalanced budgets can hardly lead elsewhere. 'This fact cannot be impressed too much on the mind of the average voter who indirectly controls the affairs and paths of state'."

JOIN THE DOOR COUNT ON 3 CRIPPLERS

A Marching Mother will ring your doorbell one evening this month. Please answer.

She is one of the two million New March of Dimes volunteers seeking information on the health of the nation and support for the fight against birth defects, arthritis and polio—three cripplers that affect one out of every four American families.

She is counting on you to help define the problem of crippling in our community.

She is counting on you to help prevent crippling diseases with your contribution to the New March of Dimes.

NEW MARCH OF DIMES

QUIET NOISY PIPES

Noisy, vibrating pipes can be stopped with a water pressure cushion. This is made with a capped 18-inch vertical pipe connected to the horizontal main water supply line. The air in the vertical pipe cushions the water pressure that causes the vibrations and noise.

ICED LOCK THAWED

A frozen car-lock can be thawed quickly by squirting lighter-fluid into the lock. Don't light the fluid. Its chemical action melts the ice inside the lock. If no fluid is available, heat the key with a match or lighter.

SOLDERING SIMPLIFIED

Spare tips for a soldering iron can be kept handy in the hollow core of a soldering spool. Apply tape over one end of the spool and plug the other with a cork.

Fashion in Fishnet

FISHNET FABRICS for Spring outerwear... You're looking at the newest fashion for 1960, introduced by Mighty-Mac, outerwear specialists for the American man, boy and female, who want something different, versatile and light as the breeze. Woven cotton fishnet is imported from Milan, and made into sport jackets, beachwear, pullovers and hooded jackets at Mighty-Mac's Gloucester, Mass., headquarters. Here Richard Bell, company president, serves as the first model for the new Spring style. Mr. Bell's beard represents a staff-wide observance of Mighty-Mac's 50th anniversary in the outerwear field.

Soaring Into The Jet Age

Twenty-five years ago, G. T. (Ted) Baker, now president of National Airlines, was an enterprising young pilot whose only assets were $2,000 and a four-place monoplane. The plane zipped along at 85 miles an hour with a helpful breeze.

Baker applied for and was awarded the air mail contract from Daytona Beach to Jacksonville, Fla. The first flight of what was to become one of America's leading airlines took place in October, 1934.

Baker's single-engine monoplane carried 400 passengers in its first year of operation—less than a full day's work for just one of National's big 707 jets today. The "Airlines of the Stars," incidentally, offered the first pure jet service in the U.S.A.

In 1934 it took 11 hours to fly from New York to Miami. Today's sleek jets make the trip in a short 135 minutes.

Once, when Baker was having lunch aboard one of his own planes, he spilled some food on his shirt. He promptly invented a napkin with a hole that would fasten to a shirt button.

Even with today's jet-smooth flights, National's stewardesses carry a few buttonhole napkins—out of sentiment. If you'd like one, just ask the stewardess.

labor costs since the units arrive from the factory assembled and ready to be nailed into the door or window opening.

Old House Plus Remodeling Solution to Low Cost Space

If you're looking for a house with lots of space at low cost, don't ignore the possibility of buying an older home and remodeling it.

If it is structurally sound, even a house that appears uninhabitable at first glance often can be modernized into an attractive, comfortable home at below the cost of a new house of comparable size.

One reason for this is modern building materials and techniques. A new roof of asphalt shingles, for example, provides maximum protection and good looks, yet can be applied over the old roof quickly and competently by a roofing contractor at a cash savings on labor.

Modern mineral wool insulation also helps save remodeling dollars, since it can be installed by the home owner in many areas of the home during the remodeling process. Installed in thick enough quantities, the mineral wool also can save as much as 40 percent annually on heating fuel.

Other cost-saving materials include window and door units of ponderosa pine. These cut

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day!

New Dollar-Saving Prices Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

Plus Improvements All Through the Line A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.

YOUNG IDEAS from Polly Ponds

Q: "I have a chubby face, even though I'm not overweight, and it makes me look plump. What can I do to thin it a little?"

A: You can create an illusion of slimmness by applying rouge very lightly on the sides of your face. Make sure this is hardly more than a subtle blush—and you'll find it will make your face seem thinner.

Avoid high round collars, turtle necks and any kind of neckline that repeats the round shape of your face. Pointed collars and V necks will appear to add length.

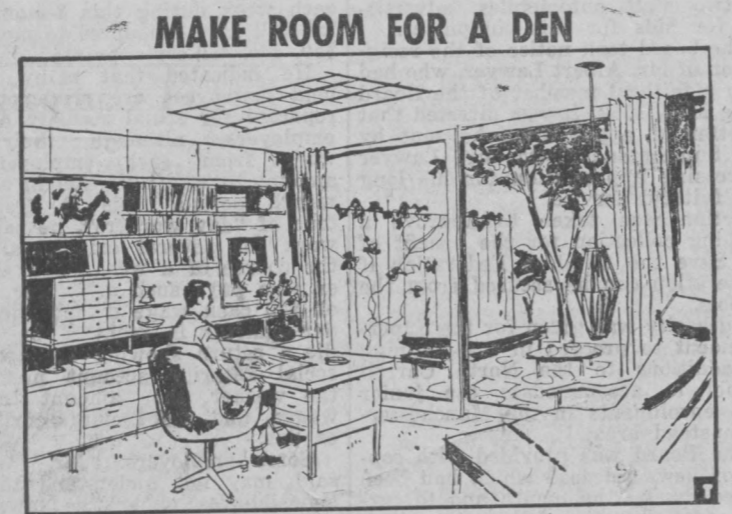

Your face will also seem less chubby if you wear your hair smooth at the sides of your face and almost shoulder-length.

MAKE ROOM FOR A DEN
 If you've been thinking of adding a den to your home—on a budget—home designers suggest re-doing the garage. They say you can make the garage into a den for about half of what the same space would cost in a ground level addition.
 The luxurious privacy of the room shown here is a result of this transformation. At a reasonable cost, this family combined the utmost in good design with adequate light, space, ventilation and heat.
 The floor-to-ceiling sliding glass doors are installed in place of the garage doors to provide an expensive, smart look as well as ample light and ventilation. Bookshelves can be built inexpensively into the walls. And, if your budget permits, you can add a small private patio just outside the doors.
 In converting an attached garage into a den, the biggest problem usually is in making it warm and comfortable. You can solve this by installing perimeter ducts or outlets that exhaust hot air close to outside walls. Chances are you might be able to have the warm-air system extended without adding extra circulating pumps.
 What about a place to keep the car? A new carport is one suggestion, because it is easy to build and low in cost.
 Ideas and suggestions on adding a den to your home are offered in a new booklet—“Home Remodeling On A Budget”—published by Aluminium Limited, a leading producer of aluminum. The booklet also contains ideas on improving the kitchen, basement, attic and other areas. Write P.O. Box 1558, New York, New York, for your free copy.

Marching Mothers to Collect Facts, Funds

"If you can answer no to the questions inside, be thankful! If you must answer yes, take hope!"
 American mothers will carry this message to over 30 million homes this month. The mothers, volunteers in the annual Mothers' March for the New March of Dimes, will be seeking information and support for The National Foundation's fight against birth defects, arthritis and polio. These cripples, initial targets in The National Foundation's campaign to prevent crippling disease, affect the lives of one of every four American families.
Two Million in March
 An estimated two million women will join the nationwide mothers' appeal for facts and funds. In most communities the mothers will march Thursday evening, Jan. 28, bringing to a climax the New March of Dimes January campaign.
 The mothers will present each household with a copy of "Door Count," a concise fact-finding folder in which a family may indicate if any of its members has a birth defect, arthritis or polio and how many have had three or more Salk vaccine shots. Each family record will be confidential.
Salk Shot Reminder
 The Mothers' March door count will focus family and community attention on the majority of Americans still without Salk shot protection against paralytic polio. It will remind the unvaccinated to start shots in time for summer polio protection and it will help communities plan local programs to further encourage

This questionnaire will go to more than 30 million homes in every part of the country to provide information about three crippling diseases that affect one of every four American families.

the widespread use of Salk vaccine.
 Although the house-to-house poll is in no way planned as a statistically valid survey, the sum of information taken in the door count will provide a working estimate of the number of persons suffering from arthritis; the number born with birth defects and the number who have been victims of paralytic polio. This tabulation will help guide National Foundation county chapters in formulating local programs to aid the disabled.
 Mothers making the house-to-house door count will also seek contributions to the New March of Dimes for its attack on birth defects, arthritis and polio. The New March of Dimes is combating these disabling disorders with the same effective weapons used to conquer paralytic polio: medical scientific research to find causes, cures, preventives; patient aid for medical care; and training for medical workers needed to treat the sick and disabled.
 Two million mothers like this one will conduct a house-to-house door count this month seeking information and support for the New March of Dimes campaign against birth defects, arthritis and polio.

God Changes Lives

Lesson for January 24, 1960

THE CHRISTIAN religion did not burst into the world as a brand-new set of ideas. Christians were not then—and right Christians are not now—just the same people with new ideas. A man does not become a Christian by believing something on Sunday that he hadn't believed on Saturday. It is true, a Christian does believe what he didn't believe before, or maybe had never even thought about. But the point is, Christianity doesn't stop with thinking. It goes on to doing, becoming. Something happens to the people who believe.

Dr. Foreman

The Second Mile

In the book of Acts we have glimpses of the changes that come into life that God has touched. The writer of Acts was not a philosopher or a theologian, he was a doctor, he was interested in symptoms. In his story of Paul's first visit to the little city of Philippi, he gives us the symptoms of being a Christian. First there was this woman, Lydia. Women had more freedom in the Greek world than in the Jewish world. This lady was a business woman, an independent merchant, presumably successful for she owned a house large enough to hold a number of house guests. You might have thought Lydia did not need to be converted. She attended prayer meeting, she was a worshiper of God. But she wasn't already a Christian, though she was on the way. This good woman read, "opened her heart" to what Paul was saying. We know that Paul would be telling the story of Jesus. This God in whom Lydia already believed, this God she already worshiped, had actually come to earth, lived, suffered, died, risen again, in the person and the life of Jesus. Paul would certainly be saying that Christ died for us . . . We don't know for certain what Paul said, but we do know this good praying woman opened her heart. Just as simple as that. Now she was not a wicked person . . . The change God wrought in her was not bad-to-good, it was good-to-better.

Sanity

Then we have the strange little story of the poor slave girl who told fortunes. Today they would send her to a psychiatric hospital. In the language of that day, when Paul spoke to her the evil spirit came out of her. Now this girl was not bad, she was weak. She was no better than a trained seal, a thing to make dishonest money with. She was not running away from God or hating him, she very likely hated the sort of life she had to live. What we know about her is that the change which came over her took her out of the class of half-human things and made her a true person. She was no longer controlled by her masters, no longer by an uncanny spirit. She was a human being in her own right. The change Christ made in her was not wicked-to-good, but weak-to-strong, mental sickness to mental health, sub-human to human.

Conversion of a Brute

Finally we have the story of the jailer in that same city. Here was a genuine bad-to-good change. You would probably have said there was just no use hoping for anything good to come into his life. He was a man brutalized by his occupation, a man who made his living by being cruel to helpless people. Paul himself had (so far as we read) made no effort to convert him. But from the moment Paul said to him, "Believe—", something amazing happened in that man. It is a mistake to expect that when you have faith, something is going to happen to you. It may, or it may not. What is certain, if you are really converted, is that something is going to happen in you. We do not read that Lydia began to make money faster than ever. We do know the poor slave-girl was out of a job—and so was the jailer, perhaps. What was important, what they all experienced, was the power of God. In one person that power took a woman farther along the road she was traveling; in another that power took a girl out of degradation to dignity; in another, it changed cruelty to mercy. But always the same God!

Bright Ideas

YOU CAN HELP your baby's eyes develop properly, say researchers for the Murine Company, by remembering these checkpoints: Keep the infant in a room with diffused lighting, rather than bright lights or total darkness. Avoid making the infant look sideways at you. Infants are likely to move their eyes rather than their heads to see something not in their line of vision, and this, if overdone, can injure their eyes. Try to hold your baby in one arm for one feeding and in the other arm for the next. This helps give both eyes an equal amount of use. Keep fingernails trimmed and sharp objects out of reach. Be alert for the first sign of crossed-eyes, which usually begin before the age of five. Have your child examined by an eye doctor (ophthalmologist) by his fourth birthday—sooner if you have reason to suspect anything wrong.

IT'S ALWAYS OPEN SEASON on dogs and cats where fleas are concerned. But you can keep the pests away from your pets if you understand their habits. The common flea lives about 18 months. It lays eggs in your pet's fur, and when the animal rubs against anything, the eggs fall and develop into larvae. Then, if conditions are right, the larvae grow into adult fleas. Any dog, from the most pampered toy "lap" dog to a big rugged hunter, can "catch" fleas. If you notice your pet scratching, use one of the flea killing powders to rid him of the pests. One chemical—Black Flag's Flea, Tick & Louse Powder—comes in a handy squeeze can for easy application. Dust your dog (and his bedding) thoroughly to control the pests.

LIKE WOMEN'S CLOTHES—house plant fashions change with the years. Following this trend, one plant enjoying a comeback these days is the potted palm. An undemanding, adaptable plant for indoor gardens, new varieties are being imported constantly from Central and South America. With most palms, the major potential source of trouble is water. So find the watering schedule that is best for your particular palm—and stay with it. Palms also are susceptible to attack from mealy bugs, red spider mites and scale insects. These can be combated before they damage the plants by using an insecticide spray preventively. A handy aerosol bug killer—such as Antrol's African Violet & House Plant Insect Bomb—is easy to use, and it keeps the pests away the year-round.

Beefaroni Makes a Quick and Easy Meal

BEEF AND MACARONI GO TOGETHER as naturally and perfectly as ham and eggs. Luckily you can get this delicious combination, called Beefaroni, in a delectable tomato cheese sauce in a can, already to just heat and serve.

The tender macaroni is combined with rich, juicy browned beef in a savory Italian-style sauce made from the authentic recipe of an internationally famous chef. Made of slowly simmered tomatoes, it has special tantalizing spices and aromatic cheese added for a perfect blending of flavors.

This brand new treat comes in a 15 1/2 ounce can. To round out a delicious meal serve Beefaroni in the center of a spinach custard ring.

SPINACH CUSTARD RING

- 2 packages frozen chopped spinach, thawed and drained well
- 2 cups milk
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 1/4 cup finely grated American cheese

Thaw spinach, drain well. Beat milk and eggs with rotary egg beater until well blended. Add salt and paprika and grated cheese. Fold in drained spinach and pour into well greased 9" ring mould. Bake 325° F. for 30 minutes or until custard is set. Allow to stand for 5 minutes and then unmould, filling center of ring with Beefaroni.

4-H Campaigns For Traffic Safety

Safety knows no party—everyone's platform calls for improving the nation's highway traffic record.

Leaders in the campaign include the eight national winners of $400 General Motors scholarships for outstanding 4-H farm, home and highway safety activities.

Urging the unanimous election of Mr. Traffic Safety in every community throughout the country, the 4-H safety specialists recently told newsmen in Chicago that "a vote for safety is a vote for a longer and better life for all of us."

The national winners and all state safety winners received all-expense trips to the 4-H Club Congress from General Motors in recognition of their house-to-house, bell-ringing efforts to have Mr. Safety represent everyone.

Typical of the group is Caroline Ware, 16-year-old national winner from Benevolence, Georgia, who received a commendation letter from her town's mayor for her safety efforts.

"With all the nation's youth—especially the 2,250,000 4-H members—waving banners, making speeches, parading and campaigning for a safer America, we hope Mr. Safety gets everyone's vote every day of the year," she said.

General Motors is in its 16th year of sponsoring awards in the 4-H safety program which is conducted by the Extension Service of state agriculture colleges and the United States Department of Agriculture. More than 900,000 4-H members participate annually in the safety program.

Other national winners include: Theresa Criscio, 17, West Springfield, Massachusetts; Patricia Kallio, 18, Chisholm, Minnesota; Lawrence Klepetko, 17, Golden, Colorado; Carol Rae Larson, 16, Lusk, Wyoming; Raylene Scott, 17, Rozel, Kansas; Wesley Spear, 19, Oakes, North Dakota, and Ronald Ulom, 18, Valier, Montana.

Their recommendation to all voters: GO SAFETY—VOTE FOR SAFETY IN '60!

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

Curiosity killed the Cat! And there surely were many 'curious' like Your Observer to gaze upon, "Images of Man" at the Museum of Art.

The only adjective is "HORRIBLE" and I can assure you if man appeared like those images, I know there would be thousands and thousands of Bachelor Girls—forever!

The Artists have designed man to be animal like and it is disgusting! I tried to catch expressions of the Male viewing all this trash and frankly, they appeared humiliated as there were many more Males right there than Females!

So you see, Folks it is not my own sex I am defending but MAN! There is nothing fine to remember as one leaves that lovely building!

Straw hats are being shown in the stores in fact I have seen many heads adorned with them on the street. Too early if you ask me especially when there is so much cold weather ahead.

My Minister loved the Hebrews so much! Well read on—I went into the study of the Parsonage to dust which I did daily and I found my Minister with his head bowed down in his arms on his desk.

Well, Folks, Hope to be seeing you at the Auto Show next Saturday 23. Until then D.V. I am, Faithfully, YOUR OBSERVER.

The dining room was tastefully decorated with arrangements of white and pink pom-poms, snapdragons, white streamers and wedding bells.

Guests present were relatives, members of the immediate family including Jeffrey Allen Bowers, the couples only great, great grandchild, and their pastor, Rev. Morgan Andreas.

Among the many gifts, flowers and cards they received was a message from the President Dwight D. Eisenhower, congratulating them on 60 years of companionship.
