more Area Council includes Baltimore City, Carroll, Harford, Howard and Baltimore counties. Although operating expenses are taken care of by the Community Chest, additional funds are needed not only for the acquisition of sites and expansion of camp facilities, but in order to provide camperships for girls who need financial assistance in order to have a camping experience. Because 80% of our girls say that they anticipate camping more than any other phase of Girl Scout program, it becomes increasingly important to provide better facilities and wider opportunities; the increasing population and the decreasing open spaces make it mandatory to secure additional sites while they are still available. In this age of mechanized living, urbanization, and mass entertainment, it is vital that we meet this need.

Good camping does not just happen. Hard work and careful planning make possible these camping facilities with trained leadership which are available to girls in the Baltimore Area Council. Girl Scout camping is a community project supported by the whole Girl Scout family and its many friends.

The 903 Girl Scout Troops who will be offering four varieties of cookies at 45¢ a box hope to sell more than a half million boxes during the two-week sale; as they reach their goal, they will be making camps and camping available to many girls never before able to enjoy such adventuring in the out-of-doors.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

There is a wide difference of opinion as to this country's military strength and politics. Typical examples: Life magazine says editorially, "President Eisenhower's defense budget is dangerously deficient. He has great military experience and deep confidence his $41 million program is adequate. But harsh facts argue it isn't. The harshest fact is that by the President's own intelligence estimates, the Soviets by 1963 will have twice as many ICBMs as we—enough, by SAC Commander Thomas Power's warning, to wipe out all our bases and retaliatory planes in one salvo". By contrast, David Lawrence writes in U. S. News & World Report. "When General Power of the Strategic Air Command testified that the Soviets might, with 300 missiles, destroy our bases in this country, he was confining himself to a hypothetical situation that illustrated to him the importance of maintaining an airborne alert 24 hours a day, every day in the week. This would require a large and perhaps unnecessary expenditure. For when a crisis is on the horizon—and there are no signs of it in the immediate future—such an airborne alert can be ordered".

"Every American, therefore, should impress upon his elected representatives in the Senate and the House of Representatives the seriousness with which he views our recent extravagance and waste. Unless Americans, acting jointly, exert a restraining influence on government, the country's security and financial stability is definitely endangered in the sixties by the possibility of a continuation of fiscal policies followed in the 1950's."

An improved and simplified method of oral resuscitation is recommended by nine physicians in the Journal of the American Medical Association. It is known as the head-tilt method. Instructions are: Lift the neck of the victim. Tilt the head as far back as possible by holding its crown with one hand; sufficient tilting usually opens the victim's mouth. Pull the chin upward. Inflate the lungs through the nose or mouth or, in an infant, through the nose and mouth. Remove your mouth to let the victim exhale passively. In babies and children care must be taken to pull the chin upwards without exerting pressure on soft tissues, which could encroach on the air passages.

During the current session of Congress, the American Farm Bureau Federation recommends that we should seek, among other things, a balanced budget; a realistic wheat program; expansion of the conservation reserve; no expansion of social security; defeat of federal aid to education bills; passage of a water rights bill; enactment of a states' rights bill; no weakening of the 1959 labor reform act.

J. E. Sorette, president of the Edison Electric Institute says: "Based on the trends which have been in effect for the past 25 years, I see the following problems which could destroy America's prosperity: First, the Government in business; second, totally or partially tax-free business; third, unnecessarily large Government expenditures; and fourth, unbearable taxes."

In the last decade, Economic Intelligence reports, the total national income has virtually doubled, and so has compensation of employees. Corporate profits, on the other hand, have increased by only about 20 percent.

Attention Farmers:

After many years of purchasing farm separated cream we are now expanding our operations to include the purchase of whole milk also.

This milk which is used for manufacturing sweet cream butter and milk powder will not require any farm inspection. The only requirements are that the producers have good milk cans, a milk strainer and an electric milk cooler.

We are interested in hearing from any one in this area who would be interested in this type of milk market. No producer too small to take advantage of our market. We expect to receive milk from distances up to fifty miles or even further from Hagerstown, Maryland.

The price of this milk will be based on the value of butter and milk powder as established by the Government support program.

We are also interested in contacting any one who feels he would like to work up a milk route from this area.

Notwithstanding a great amount of ice and cold the past winter, the public roads, this Spring are better than for years. There is an absence of ruts and chucks, so that a very little work will be required to place them in fine shape for travel.

Good gracious! Herring 40c a dozen? Cheap enough, considering the price of chickens, pork and beef.

We have in process of completion 6000 large pamphlets for Wm. M. Mehring of Keymar descriptive of his milking machine, which he is selling extensively, even as far as Canada, Mexico and South Africa.

Reindollar-Leister.—On Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Norman R. Reindollar and Miss Elsie V. Leister were united in marriage at the Lutheran parsonage, by Rev. Wm. E. Wheeler. The ceremony was private, the only attendants being Mr. G. Walter Wilt of Taneytown and Miss Bessy Zile, of near Frizellburg. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Reindollar were driven to Keymar where they took the afternoon train for Baltimore. Mr. Reindollar is a salesman in the general store of D. M. Mehring and his bride is a daughter of Mrs. A. H. Bankard of the Hotel Bankard. On their return from a brief wedding trip, they will continue to reside in Taneytown.

A Pair of 4-H Project Winners

Two Maryland youths won 1959 state awards in the 4-H garden and boys' agricultural programs, according to the State Extension office.

Both were awarded expense-paid trips to the 38th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Carroll Eaves, 21, of 28 Pennsylvania, Walkersville, was the garden project winner. He and his wife now have only an acre of ground with their home. However, this nine-year 4-H'er grew up on a large dairy farm where he began gardening.

Eaves Perdue

For several years he has won state and county fair blue awards for his vegetables.

Eaves is vice president of the Walkersville Boys 4-H Club.

His award trip was provided by Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co.

Roy Perdue, 17, of Salisbury, was boys' agricultural program winner. During his eight-year 4-H career he saved about $500 from agricultural projects toward his college education.

Young Perdue also helps his father with a 320-acre farm. He has charge of milking 15 cows and cultivates and cares for his father's corn.

A junior leader, he is Wicomico County Council treasurer and Mt. Hermon Boys' 4-H Club vice president.

His award trip was provided by International Harvester.

36,000 TONS OF NITROGEN OVER YOUR OWN BACKYARD

It was so cold out, the first gulp of air I took seemed to put a thin coat of frost on the inner lining of my lungs. Right then I wondered why I was going out to the woodshed for a couple more logs instead of heading for the nearest airline that could jet me to Florida in an hour and 45 minutes. A pat on the wallet gave the answer.

Sure, I got feeling somewhat better when the log was on the fire and I was settled in my easy chair looking through a picture window at the bleak, ice-gripped fields.

I knew before too long I'd have to start feeding those fields, and it kinda hurt to think of all the nitrogen sitting right over them — but I won't be able to use it.

In the soil from Maine to Florida, nitrogen probably is the most important limiting plant food element. And there are approximately 36,000 tons of it in the atmosphere over every acre of the earth's surface. Trouble is, it is in a molecular combination that most plants can't use.

If farmers and fruit and vegetable growers along that airline route from New England to Florida could find a way of taking the nitrogen out of the air, many of their soil problems would be solved.

If they could just take a big siphon of some kind and suck that nitrogen from the atmosphere to the earth, they'd have it made.

Most soils contain very little nitrogen—usually less than 0.1 per cent. That's why it's a good thing industry and science teamed up to make synthetic urea. This is a dry, free-flowing white material that is guaranteed to contain a minimum of 45 per cent nitrogen.

Urea is made by combining ammonia and carbon dioxide, and it can be made in pellet, form or it can be dissolved as a liquid for a spray.

When these tiny white pellets are dissolved in the soil moisture, urea is changed to ammonia which is held by the soil organic matter and clay until taken up by plant roots or converted to other forms of nitrogen by soil bacteria.

Maybe that's why nobody has bothered to invent that big nitrogen siphon. It's simple to spread urea.

WORK and PLAY

WORK CLOTHES STYLES HAVE SURE CHANGED SINCE THE DAYS WHEN EARLY AMERICAN IMMIGRANTS DID THEIR FARM WORK WITH MUSKETS HANDY IN CASE OF HOSTILE INDIAN ATTACKS.

FROM THE BUCKSKIN SHIRTS OF THE PIONEERS TO TODAY'S STURDY LIGHTWEIGHT MATERIALS, THE DEVELOPMENT OF NEAT PRACTICAL AND SAFE CLOTHING FOR WORK AND LEISURE HAS ENABLED THE AMERICAN WORKING MAN TO WIN AN ENVIABLE REPUTATION FOR NEATNESS AND SMARTNESS.

ONE OF THE MOST SIGNIFICANT TRENDS OF RECENT YEARS IS THAT OF GROWING OUT OF THE BLUE-JEAN ERA INTO PERFECTLY MATCHED SETS OF TWEED AND POLISHED COTTON—HANDSOMELY STYLED CLOTHES WHICH ARE SAFE AND PRACTICAL ON THE JOB, YET PERFECTLY SUITABLE FOR LEISURE... 'BIG YANK' TURNABOUTS ARE DURABLE, EASY TO LAUNDRY.

Busy mother
keeps tabs on phone calls

Diary shows phone saved days of time,
156 miles of travel and $11.70 in two weeks

Mrs. Harris of La Vale, Maryland, talks over Choral Society plans with a friend—while 4-year-old Carolyn keeps tabs on Mother.

Mrs. Harris is the mother of two small boys, ages 6 and 8, and a pre-school daughter. Her husband is a teacher. With youngsters this age, and a husband whose profession calls for continual contact with parents, a phone often seems like a necessity.

Mrs. Harris decided she'd find out for sure, so for two weeks she kept tabs on her phone calls with a telephone diary. The diary spelled out the value of phone service in hours saved—fewer miles of errand running—and resultant savings in dollars and cents that virtually cut the cost of phone service to nothing.

Probably you don't keep a telephone diary. But if you did, we think you'd be pleasantly surprised at the many ways your telephone pays for itself.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL (Feersburg)

From now on whenever anyone says "we just don't have winters like we use to" we can boast how we lived through the arctic weather of the '60. All kinds of records were broken pertaining to, low temperatures and the amount of snowfall. Although the snow storm worked hardships on some families, it really was needed to replenish our water supply and to protect the grain fields. There are always bright spots in every disaster. In spite of high winds and deep snow the electricity service bore up under the burden of many extra calls. The road crews worked heroically to keep the roads open and did a magnificent job. Its always amazing how people respond to an emergency and how well they take care of each other. Hardships test the mettle of men and to develop character men must be tested at intervals. Probably the ones in our section that suffered the most during the storms were the birds and other wildlife. We hoped they survived. At least we know one English Mocking bird did for he lived on our porch until the worst was over even eating out of the cat's dish while looking over his shoulder at his feline enemy. Radio proved its worth when roads were blocked with snow and mail and the daily paper were short circuited. Our local station WTR was worth its weight in gold for it's voice not only kept everyone informed on news and emergencies, but the announcers were morale builders with their good humor and foresight. The firemen and police officers too deserve a word of praise for the almost impossible jobs they were called to perform in the hazardous weather. The human spirit some how conquers snow, wind, and disaster and all this is an every day happening.

St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, whose memory is honored every year on the 17th of March, was probably born in the year 389. When about 16 years of age he was kidnapped by a band of Irish raiders and held captive for six years. During his bondage he became subject to religious emotion and beheld visions which influenced him to escape from his captors. Much of his life remains shrouded in mystery because there is so little recorded concerning him. His importance in the history of Ireland and the Irish church consists in the fact that he brought Ireland into touch with western Europe and more particularly with Rome, and that he introduced Latin into Ireland as the language of the church. The Irish later found their way to America and brought with them the folklore about St. Patrick. It is this folklore that we celebrate each year in March.

Several elderly church members were asked to what they attributed their longevity. "And why do you think God has permitted you to reach the age of 94" one wealthy old lady was asked. Without hesitation she responded: "To test the patience of my relatives."

In the Maryland Basket Ball playoffs in the class B section, Francis Scott Key team beat the North Harford squad by the score of 42 to 38.

There are only two ways to be unprejudiced and impartial. One is to be completely ignorant. The other is to be completely indifferent. Bias and prejudice are attitudes to be kept in hand, not attitudes to be avoided.

This year for the first time the Westminster Junior Chamber of Commerce initiated an unique project called "the dial-a-prayer" service. It has already become popular with the citizens of Carroll County. The service works like this: By dialing TEI 8-3223 an automatic answering device will give out spiritual guidance during Lent in the form of a religious message. The service was started on Ash Wednesday and since that time increasingly numbers of people have availed themselves of the service. Eight ministers of Westminster are taking part in the project.

At its recent meeting held in Baltimore, the Maryland Co-operative Milk Producers Inc. again chose Edgar G. Emrich of Thurmont, Frederick County as president and Horace S. Brauning of Finksburg, Carroll County as vice-president of the organization.

Like MacArthur, Jack Paar returned to his show and for the past week the T. V. audience has been given some pretty exciting evenings with Jack telling his side of the story about his fight with the press. We think some columnists go too far... much too far. They have a living to make by writing but they don't have to walk over their victims bones after they have plucked all the meat off. Freedom of the press is used by some writers to expound their personal dislike for certain public figures and it has nothing to do at all with news. A good writer knows he has a deep obligation to the public but he never oversteps the law of decency. We are of course a Paar fan. We think he has a great talent. At times he can be childish. But talented people are generally high strung and sensitive. They must be excused for their fits of temper because they give so much of themselves that their nervous system is drained of elasticity. John Barrymore once said after one of his brilliant plays that each time he performed, a part of him died. This is true of all creative people.

While shopping in a store last week we couldn't help but hear an office girl telling her friend about her bad cold she was getting and how miserable she felt. "Why didn't you ask your boss to let you go home?" the other asked. "I did," she snapped. "All he said was, 'Don't be alarmed, Miss Doe. Anybody who doesn't feel sick in this kind of weather just isn't healthy.'"—Ruth Roleke.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane Women's Travel Authority

False Economy

Wise women watching family budgets know that some corner-cutting can lead to false—and foolish—economy. How many of these fruitless attempts at cutting car costs do you recognize?

1. Trying to beat the meter. Drive around town for a half hour hunting a free space or a meter with time left on it. Saved: a few cents parking charge. Lost: time, fuel, and the wear and tear of stop-go driving (far worse than highway cruising).

2. Trying to miss toll gates. Drive miles out of your way over inferior roads, through heavy traffic. Saved and lost (about as in No. 1) vary with time and distance—unless you select real back roads for shunning. This I applaud.

3. Drive miles to get cut-rate gasoline. Saved: a few cents. Lost: the fuel used for the trip, plus possible harm from fuel of unknown quality, plus the service and car-check you get from a dealer with a well-known brand.

4. Stretch the period between oil changes and lubrication. Saved: a few dollars a year. Lost: performance, plus power, efficiency and safety.

Your modern car is a beautifully made machine, as well as a big investment. You hurt it and cheat yourself if you cut corners. Real economy comes with proper care. Any Shell dealer will be glad to see that your car gets it.

$5 Million To Work Like $200 Million!

A qualified witness, who has travelled over and around the globe some 500,000 miles in the past 15 years in the arduous task of directing the American Catholic Bishops' world-wide relief and rehabilitation agency, says that the so-called "population explosion" we have been reading about is in reality a "hunger explosion."

"The time bomb of the 20th century is the hunger explosion among millions, starving and homeless overseas," Msgr. Edward E. Swanson, executive director of Catholic Relief Services-National Catholic Welfare Conference, told diocesan directors of the 1960 Bishops' Relief Fund Appeal in recent regional meetings across the United States. "The problem is not too many people, but rather their inability to help themselves. This is an explosion of people for whom we have not done enough."

By way of example, Msgr. Swanson refers to the 350,000 Moroccan school children his organization is helping to feed, the tragic, homeless Arab refugees of the Near East it has clothed and the medical battle it is conducting against tuberculosis and leprosy in the Far East. The newest theaters of operation are Africa, with missions in 14 countries, and South America with missions in ten countries. And in all the underdeveloped areas among the 62 countries it serves, CRS-NCWC is placing special emphasis on self-help projects.

Through the cooperation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in making surpluses available, the eager assistance of more than a million volunteer workers and the high degree of efficiency achieved through its 15 years of vigorous direction and cumulative know-how, CRS-NCWC makes each dollar collected in the annual Bishops' appeal do the work of 40!

The dollars that will flow into the 1960 Bishops' Relief Fund Appeal from Americans through the local Catholic churches across the nation will deal with no mysterious biological phenomenon. Rather, they will feed and clothe and house and heal uncounted multitudes of the hungry, ragged, homeless and sick who are trapped by circumstance in a world that has been out of joint for two generations.

—(St. Matthew 7:5.)

It is said that to understand is to forgive. To understand that we ourselves are not without faults, and then to try—with God's help—to correct them, will lead us to understand and be sympathetic to the weakness of others, and in kindness and charity to be of help to them.

Thou hypocrite, first cast the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast the mote out of thy brother's eye.

It is said that to understand is to forgive. To understand that we ourselves are not without faults, and then to try—with God's help—to correct them, will lead us to understand and be sympathetic to the weakness of others, and in kindness and charity to be of help to them.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

It is with deep regret that Taney Lodge No. 28, I. O. O. F., notes the passing of Brother S. White Plank, on Feb. 25, 1960.

Brother Plank was a constantly energetic, enthusiastic Odd Fellow, being the last remaining Charter Member of Taney Lodge. He served as its first Financial Secretary from the date of institution, Mar 16, 1906, to Dec. 31, 1907, and since then has also served as Noble Grand. He continued to be interested in Odd Fellowship during his eleven years residence at the Odd Fellows Home at Frederick, Md., (where he was residing at the time of his passing), and always cheerfully shared its activities whenever possible.

Resolved, That we realize the deep loss we have sustained, and we wish to extend our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family in their greater loss and commend them to His keeping who careth for us; and be it further

Resolved, That as a further expression of our sorrow and esteem the Charter of our Lodge be draped for a period of 30 days, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, that a copy be placed on our record, and that they be published in the Carroll Record.

Walter Hiltzbrick, Birnie Staley, Norman Devilbiss, Committee.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank my relatives and friends for my beautiful cards while a patient in the Annie Warner Hospital, and since my return home to the Ladies Bible Class of the Tom's Creek Church for the beautiful fruit baskets. My thanks.

New Carpet Cleaner Makes Housework Easier

In the days of the kerosene lamp and the backyard pump — housewives relied on the old fashioned carpet beater to literally attack carpet soil by trying to pound it out in clouds of dust.

Toward the end of this marvelous century, perhaps there will be dust filtering machines in every home eliminating much of the soil that now settles on rugs and room furnishings.

Thanks to the advance already made in science and chemistry, it isn't necessary to wait for the new inventions. One of the wonderful products produced by the magic of chemistry is called Blue Lustre Carpet and Upholstery Cleaner. This new foam cleanser instantly brightens colors dulled by soil and its unique efficient cleaning action penetrates to the soil particles holding them in suspension for easy removal by vacuuming.

Once again old difficult household chores have become simple tasks. Blue Lustre helps a lot in making homework for the housewife easier.

Pain is the Problem

When man first discovered the pain relieving virtues of alcohol and extracts of poppy seed, he set off on a search that would continue to the end of time—a quest for medicinal substances to counteract pain in all its unpleasant forms.

Considering the fact that the search began before recorded history, man has been singularly unsuccessful in finding improved pain-relievers. In the ages between the prehistoric discovery of alcohol and opium and the modern era of "wonder drugs" only one major advance has been recorded. This was the development of aspirin in 1879.

At a recent two-day international conference on pain at the New York Academy of Sciences, evidence was presented that man has been on the wrong track down through the centuries.

Many methods and drugs for treatment of the different kinds of pain are needed, according to the medical scientists. They are impatient with the belief, held by our ancestors, that one day the "ideal" drug for killing pain will be found to supplant all others.

A new "tailored" compound for a specific kind of pain was examined at the conference. This was, Soma, effective in relieving pains in the muscles and joints. Acting as a muscle relaxant, also, Soma relieves pain due exclusively to muscle spasm, such as the common "Charley horse," and certain types of headache.

Dr. Arthur C. Jones, professor of physical medicine, University of Oregon, described in detail how 84 patients reacted to Soma. Patients suffering sprains, muscle strains and contusions received varying degrees of relief. Most dramatic Dr. Jones' report was marked improvement by several patients who complained of bursitis and tendinitis.

Why a multiplicity of pain relieving drugs? Why not settle for aspirin or morphine-like substances? Part of the answer goes as follows: no matter how chemists modify the poppy seed extracts, (opium and morphine) they remain addictive or habit-forming to some degree. They can be used only in emergency and the most difficult pain situations.

Aspirin and the basic substances from which it is derived, the salicylates, are useful only in pain of low intensity. Because high intensity pain would require such high doses that they would be fatally toxic.

Old-Time Foods Make Modern Pie

Favorite family recipes, handed down generation after generation, invariably include one for a cream pie. What's more, the ingredients they call for are as well known today as they were in Great-Grandmother's time—chocolate, cream cheese and sweetened condensed milk. Here these old-time favorite foods are combined to make a modern dessert—"Chocolat Creme Pie."

Chocolat Creme Pie (Makes one 9-inch pie)

- 1 (9-inch) pastry shell, baked
2 (1-oz.) squares unsweetened chocolate
1 (15-oz.) can Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk
1/2 teaspoon salt

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1/4 cup cold water
1 (6-oz.) bar Plain Cream Cheese
1 cup hot water

Put chocolate, sweetened condensed milk, and salt into top of double boiler; heat over hot water, about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally until chocolate has melted and mixture has thickened. Soften gelatine in cold water. Cream the cheese, (with electric mixer or rotary beater) until light and fluffy. Blend into the chocolate mixture. Dissolve gelatine in hot water; chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold into chocolate mixture. Pour into baked pastry shell. Chill until firm, about 2 1/2 to 3 hours. If desired, decorate top with additional whipped cream cheese, shaved chocolate, dates and walnuts—or, use just plain whipped cream.

Glamorous Tuna Dinner for 2-Bits a Serving

Up where the buildings scrape the sky, they call this dish Tuna Tetrazzini, after a famous opera star. It's served in the fanciest restaurants where it often costs more to check your hat than it does to make a serving of this dish at home by our own special recipe. Wonderful for Lent, the dish is basically tuna in a sauce as smooth in texture as it is easy on your pocketbook because its creamy richness comes from economical evaporated milk.

The chafing dish is just to suggest this tuna treat's metropolitan origins. Home folks make Quick Creamy Tuna Dinner in a saucapan, skip the big town restaurant routine, and find the dish tastes simply wonderful.

QUICK CREAMY TUNA DINNER

- 1 cup evaporated milk
1 cup water
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cans (6 1/2 or 7 ounces each) tuna
1 teaspoon minced onion

- 1 medium green pepper, diced
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 ounces macaroni or spaghetti, cooked

Combine evaporated milk, water and Worcestershire sauce; reserve. Drain oil from tuna into saucapan or chafing dish. Add onion and green pepper; cook until tender. Blend in flour and salt. Add reserved evaporated milk mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to

Livestock HEALTH HINTS

Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health

A disease with a misleading name is now costing farmers a heavy price in lost milk production.

The disease is called "milk fever," although there is no fever involved. Unfortunately, the problem strikes most often in the years of highest milk production, when cows are 4 to 9 years old, and around calving time.

Another unfortunate thing is that cows stricken by milk fever are likely to have it again during later calvings.

Milk fever often strikes cows during period of highest production. To add to the complications, the disease resembles another cattle problem, ketosis. Both diseases are likely to strike at calving time, both have similar symptoms. Yet the treatment for the two is quite different.

Signs of milk fever may include either dullness or excitement, possible spasms in the hind legs, or a staggering gait. Finally, the cow will go down, with head and neck drawn to one side.

After the cow goes down, death may follow soon unless a veterinarian can get to the sick animal very quickly. If treatment can be given soon enough, recovery is often very dramatic. A cow which appeared on the verge of death may be back on her feet within a few hours after treatment. Today's veterinarians use intravenous injections in these cases.

Can a farmer do anything to help when a cow goes down? Yes—he should keep the animal under observation, because she may injure herself in trying to get back on her feet; or she may develop bloat.

What about prevention? Unfortunately, no proven preventive program is known as yet, although present research offers some promise for the future. However, the picture is vastly better than a few years ago. At one time, 90 per cent of the cows stricken by milk fever would die. Now, with modern methods of treatment, the death rate can be cut almost to zero.

Hearty—Not Heavy

Take the "Brrr!" out of an extra bracing, blowy morning with a hearty—not heavy—breakfast. These Corned Beef Hash Cups accompanied by hot toast, sliced oranges and a beverage will be the warm-up needed to start the day. The Cups, slices of corned beef encircled with bacon strips, may be made in advance. Then, add the eggs and herbs while breakfast is readied.

Corned Beef Hash 'n Bacon Cups
 1 (1-pound) can corned beef hash
 8 slices bacon
 4 medium eggs, beaten
 Remove corned beef from can and cut it into 4 (1-inch) slices. Place in a shallow baking pan. Wrap 2 slices of bacon around hash; fasten with toothpicks. Hollow out the center of slice. With the scooped-out hash form a 1/2-inch rim. Fill hollow with beaten eggs. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for 25 minutes.
 Yield: 4 Corned Beef Hash 'n Bacon Cups.

PRE-EMERGENCE HERBICIDES
 KILL WEEDS WHICH STEAL MOISTURE AND NUTRIENTS NEEDED FOR HIGHEST CORN YIELDS. FARMERS NOT ONLY GET MORE BUSHELS OF CORN TO THE ACRE, BUT SAVE TIME AND LABOR.

FOR A HERBICIDE COST EQUIVALENT TO THE PRICE OF 3 OR 4 BUSHELS OF CORN TO CONTROL BROADLEAF WEEDS AND GRASSES YIELD INCREASES FROM 9 TO 16 BUSHELS PER ACRE HAVE BEEN OBTAINED. INCREASES FROM 25 TO 30 BUSHELS PER ACRE ARE NOT UNCOMMON AND IN SOME CASES UP TO 40 BUSHELS!

SIMAZINE OR ATRAZINE APPLIED AT PLANTING TIME CONTROL GRASSES AND BROADLEAF WEEDS IN THE CORNFIELD FOR AN ENTIRE SEASON. WEEDS DIE BEFORE OR JUST AFTER THEY BREAK GROUND. HERBICIDES WORK BY ABSORPTION THROUGH WEED ROOT SYSTEM, BUT ARE COMPLETELY HARMLESS TO CORN. ALSO SIMAZINE AND ATRAZINE ARE SAFE TO HUMANS AND ANIMALS, SAFE TO HANDLE BECAUSE THEY ARE NON-IRRITATING TO SKIN. THERE IS NO HERBICIDE RESIDUE IN THE CORN CROP.

THESE HERBICIDES WILL DELAY OR ELIMINATE THE NEED FOR DIFFICULT SLOW AND DAMAGING FIRST CULTIVATION-MAKING LABOR AND EQUIPMENT AVAILABLE FOR OTHER SEASONAL FARM OPERATIONS. THEY WILL ALSO CONTROL THE MID-SUMMER GERMINATING WEEDS THAT INTERFERE WITH CORN MATURITY, DRYING AND PICKING. MAY BE APPLIED AS A BAND (SHOWN) OR BROADCAST TREATMENT.

Camels, Look to Your Laurels— There's a Long Dry Spell Ahead

Joan Roberts drew a puzzled expression from Sheba, a Bactrian (two humps) camel, when she pointed to the Corvair aluminum engine as the undisputed champion of machine or beast operating forever without water. Sheba, though passive, was content to relinquish the camel's historic endurance laurels to the new compact car's rear-installed air-cooled engine which never needs water. At any rate, the camel can hold the "no water" record until 1959 BC (before Corvair).

Shipwreck

Lesson for March 20, 1960

"ALL these things are against me," said a down-hearted old man once. Even the young and strong get the feeling that certain kinds of things are against them. We all do, more or less. When bad weather sets in; when people won't take our advice; when we see trouble coming and have no way to stop it; when we are alone in the midst of strangers; when we've been in jail for two years; when we are the "low man on the totem pole;"—we feel these things are against us. We seldom think of them as open doors to opportunity.

Dr. Foreman

Situation Out Of Hand

When we are riding the situation, so to speak, when we are in the driver's seat and have everything well in hand; when things are happening because we ordered and arranged things that way; then we sing that everything's coming our way. But when the situation is not in hand, when every thing about the situation is either unexpected or unwanted and nothing good can be said about it, then we groan that everything is against us. Nothing is more depressing than a situation out of hand.

However, there was a remarkable Christian whose story is told in the book of Acts, who never would admit that everything was against him. He always knew God was for him, and that was the main point. Situations might get out of his hands but not out of God's hand. Consider Paul, one of a batch of prisoners aboard a grain-ship on a grey November day, bound across the Mediterranean to the empire's capital.

When he stepped on board he was already at the bottom of the heap. He had been two years in jail, he was then actually shackled with a chain, he was probably not in good health, he had only one or two friends with him, the rest were all prisoners, soldiers and sailors, a pretty rough crowd for a preacher. Not only that, but he had given good advice (Don't sail, the stormy season is starting) but had been turned down. Paul was an old Mediterranean hand, he knew the weather signs. But nobody paid him any mind. Then came the storm and the shipwreck. Read all about it in Acts. It was a narrow squeak.

Little Man to Big Man

The point is, Paul never spent a minute wishing he were in a better situation. He never put in a complaint that all these things were against him. He used the opportunity all these disasters gave him. But he did not use it for himself, he used it for others. To be sure, he could not resist saying in effect "I told you so." But he did not stop with that. He became the most useful and most respected man on the ship. When they started he was just another prisoner, a little man in every sense; when the crash came he was the big man. For one thing, he brought courage to the others by his own faith. He talked language they could not understand. Get something to eat, he said. And don't let anybody steal the life-boats.

Always A Witness

Paul did preach, though. He was not a man to let a chance go by. He preached by his very attitude, but he also gave witness in words. He said just why it was that he was so confident. His faith was not in himself nor in the ship's captain, it was in God. Now it is no news that men pray in hurricanes. But it is news when men in hurricanes do not pray mostly for themselves. There is a lovely touch in what Paul said to the other seafaring men on the stormy deck. The angel of his dream had said to him: "God has granted you all those who sail with you." Paul thinks of his fellow-passengers—even of the soldiers who had him in charge, the crew, everybody—thinks of them as his own because God had given them to him. A man who does not ask special favors for himself, a man who, if he is going to be saved, wants others to be rescued with him—a man like that will get a hearing when he speaks a good word for the God to whom he belongs and whom he serves.

"Pat" Nixon Honored By Cosmetologists

Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, wife of the Vice President, was honored by the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association in Washington at a preview feature of National Beauty Salon Week, February 7-13. In above photo, "Pat" Nixon is shown with (left to right) Florian W. Harvat of Fond du Lac, Wis., national president, and Joseph Weir, Knoxville, Penn., vice president. The Washington event was a benefit luncheon, highlighting the premiere showing of the new Spring and Summer hairstyles of which the "Pat-Tress" was named for Mrs. Nixon. The Association presented Mrs. Nixon with a silver bowl, inscribed "To Mrs. Richard M. Nixon in recognition of her excellent representation of American Womanhood in the U.S.A. and during her extensive travels in foreign lands."

Impacted Ear Wax Is No Simple Problem

Mrs. M. G. wrote her doctor: My question may seem a little frivolous, but I assure you that I am very much in earnest. My family is continually cautioned not to put anything in their ears "smaller than an elbow." Yet the ear wax keeps collecting and does not prevent excess wax from causing my ears to clog up and dull my sense of hearing. Have you any suggestions on a good safe way to keep the ear passage clear and is this condition a common one?

Every physician has had this question put to him by at least 3 out of every 5 of his patients.

Excessive wax formation in the ear is a commonly encountered troublesome condition which causes dizziness, ear itching, pain and afflicts people of all ages. Hearing is also impaired when the canal is blocked by this material.

Happily these symptoms can be cured quickly by removal of the ear wax. Attempts, however, at self-cleaning with the careless use of hairpins, matches, toothpicks and fingernails often result in infection, injury to the canal, or further impaction of ear wax against the ear drums.

Looking into the ear is the easiest of all medical examinations and today the removal of excess wax has been made less difficult through the use of a new scientifically proven formula, Kerid Drops, a medication specially adapted to cope with this problem.

The drug, which is available at all local drug stores, is easy to use, safe, painless, quick-acting and remarkably effective in emulsifying and loosening the impacted wax making removal of the material simple by syringing with lukewarm water.

The external ear canal is about 1 1/4 inches long but only the outer third contains hair follicles and wax producing glands. Wax serves its purpose in keeping the parts clean and lubricated. Trouble arises only when it accumulates, hardens and blocks the passageway.

Until the development of New Formula Kerid Drops, the accepted technique for the removal of ear wax was accomplished through high pressure irrigation and instrumentation, which, besides causing extreme discomfort, sometimes resulted in irritation, pain and inflammation.

Maryland Banker Named for National 4-H Alumni Recognition Award

An agricultural banker has been selected as a winner of the national 4-H Club Alumni Recognition award for 1960.

Abram Z. Gottwals

He is Abram Z. Gottwals of Upper Marlboro, Md., agricultural and public relations representative of the First National Bank of Southern Maryland.

To Receive Gold Key

And he will be honored at the annual alumni banquet during the 39th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next December. There he will be given a gold alumni key which is presented each year to eight former 4-H'ers who have "continued to live by 4-H ideals." The announcement comes from the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

A native of Greensboro, Md., Gottwals devoted eight years to 4-H Club work in Maryland's Caroline county. His main projects included dairy and gardening.

Was Vo-Ag Teacher

Gottwals went on to become a vocational and agricultural teacher in Arundel High school (1938-41) and then secretary-treasurer of the Southern Maryland National Farm Loan Association and Southern Maryland Production Credit Association (1941-52).

He served as president of the 4-H All Stars and organized the first Federation Boys 4-H Clubs in Caroline county.

Gottwals engages in extensive travels over Maryland to speak on careers in agriculture.

Among other offices he has filled are: director, Social Service League, Prince Georges county; director, Prince Georges County chapter, American Red Cross; chairman, agricultural committee, Prince Georges Chamber of Commerce. He also is on the board of directors of the Agricultural Alumni Association, University of Maryland; president, Alpha Gamma Rho Alumni Association, and director, Maryland Tobacco Improvement Association.

Gottwals organized the first 4-H Foundation campaign among Maryland bankers and then served as vice chairman of the campaign for two years. As chairman of the agricultural committee of the Maryland Bankers Association he was instrumental in getting a budget approved for 4-H work.

A member of the board of directors of the Maryland 4-H Club Foundation, Inc., he was one of the six original signers of the group. Meanwhile, he has served as chairman of the finances committee of the foundation.

Cited as Example

Observes Ella F. Smart, assistant home demonstration agent: "Mr. Gottwals' day-to-day life is an example in attitude and action of the ideals and high principles for which 4-H Club work stands and which he values so highly."

And she adds: "He is indeed dedicated to loyalty, service and a good life which he states is a tribute to his 4-H training."

Gottwals often has explained in appearances before groups around the state that in essence the inspiration he received in his early years of 4-H Club work undoubtedly gave him the incentive and drive necessary to carry out his active schedule of professional and civic duties as well as contributing to the 4-H program, however needed, on the local, state and national levels.

The 4-H Alumni program, conducted nationally by the Cooperative Extension Service, is supported by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., Plant Food Division, of Little Rock, Ark.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

ained from the auto show and upon entering there was really SPRING right there with all the beautiful boats in white and pastel green and white and pastel blue. There must have been about 200 boats on display. Of course, all boats are good as to the appearance as automobiles—some having superior qualities—but the finest, most beautiful and substantial boats which I examined thoroughly as to every detail is the company of Gates & Sons—Edgewater, Md. All those boats are made of FIBREGLOSS. Be sure and see these boats before you attempt to make any purchase. Route 214, Central Avenue or call Colonial 2 2492 or C O 8-5433. The Outboard Motors are the Mercury and the Optional Equipment is up to you. They sell the Tomahawk, Trojan, Glass Magic, Winner, Whirlwind, Duratech, Penn Yan, Beall Skiffs and Aristo-Craft. It truly is the MOST for YOUR MONEY! They are and have been Engine men since 1905. They are open evenings and Parking is free. Send for a booklet and directions to the place.

The Aristo-Craft seats 8—two tone—Full custom and Fibreglass. Why not have a vacation all summer long by owning one of these boats instead of an expensive trip, away. Take week ends alone would mean so much pleasure plus having the boat when your vacation is over. Boats can be used more than six months of the year as we only have a few months of real winter. You will say, Mr. Husband it is the best thing you ever did! Don't forget the name Nat Gates & Sons.

The very first opportunity, I will take a ride in one and in a later Column tell you all about as you know, as always I like to write from experience.

I think that I could have spent the entire afternoon and evening right there in that Armory. Never were the boats so beautiful before!

As I stepped out in the cold air again instead of using my transfer or going on a bus, I walked down Howard Street along Antique Row and believe me, there was no one else walking! I really was compelled to walk into one store or shop to get my face warmed as my chin felt stiffened from the cold breeze. (Brought back the day out in Kansas City, Mo., when everyone wore ear muffs!) Brrrrrrrr!

Don't forget The Maryland Hobby Show, Folks which will be open to the public for free the second Sunday in April at the Jr. Order of Mechanics Bldg. on Paca Street.

Other years, I have exhibited the lovely Scrap Book of our late President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt. This year, I will exhibit Models, hand made of furniture of the Pennsylvania Dutch.

Here is one thing, Ladies while I do not quite understand. When the men Folks purchase a suit or a coat—alterations are free and when the ladies purchase any garment and must have it altered, the price is extremely high! Should be a must for that one. Eh?

And don't forget, if you were presented with any perfume, keep it when not in use in a dark place so as it does not evaporate.

Have the girls called for you to purchase those good Cookies—The Girl Scouts? Be sure you help them for it means, wonderful things are done with the money they make. Just ask them when they call and they will tell you about it.

So long, Folks. Have a grand week end. Will be seeing you next week D.V.

And remember the saying of that wonderful man—Abe Lincoln—"I have found that most people are about as happy as they make up their minds to be!"

I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

The project was explained to the group by Mrs. Darthean Fox and all members that are interested in sewing are requested to contact Mrs. Mabel S. Reese, 103 Anchor St., Westminster or hospital headquarters. All the draperies in the new hospital will be furnished by the auxiliary.

Several new members were taken into the auxiliary. They were Mrs. Paul S. Bixler, Sr., 77 W. Green St., Mrs. Frank R. Swoger, 309 Margaret Ave., Westminster; and Mrs. Emil Swanson, Woodbine. Active member dues are $1.00 per yr.

Two charter members, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton W. Warner, Manchester gave life memberships to the auxiliary will be June 13 and the program for the evening will be handled by Mrs. Doris Pinckney and Mrs. Betty Mathias. One of the events already on the program for that date will be a white elephant sale under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fred Shipley and the co-chairman Mrs. Gold Townshend, Mrs. George Zepp, Westminster and Mrs. Roy Kiser, Taneytown. Each auxiliary member is to bring an item for sale and their friends. Items for the white elephant sale may be left at hospital headquarters.

Mrs. Eva Burgoon reported the 29th Division Auxiliary are planning a Corner Craft party in April at the V.F.W. and proceeds will go to the Carroll County General Hospital Auxiliary.

Message for Year 1960
By G. H. Enfield

A new year means another chance. It offers another opportunity. It is a human division of time. A new year leads to a destination. Each person sets up his goal. If he arms himself with courage and confidence he can approach it with assurance and without fear. If he gives himself in unselfish services and kindnesses, in encouraging others, and walks life's way through an abiding faith, each succeeding sunset will be glorious.

A new year affords time to read, study, adventure, discover, and to create and cement friendships. God created Time not for Himself but for us humans. Time is one of God's greatest gifts to men. A foolish excuse frequently heard, "I haven't got time". On the other hand there are those who seem by think they have so much time that they can spend it with impunity. One may "kill" time but he will never be able to restore it to life. There is nothing more valuable than time. It is given us to use in which we can sow and cultivate and reap. A new year should mean a resurrection of hope. It affords another chance to attain the heights.

Someone has said, "However completely we may have squandered the year just past, however, listless we may be as we face the year just ahead, if we only dare to remember now, life for us will be remade".

God give you FAITH this coming year!
The faith that will not fail in keenest test,
That trusts and sings in midst of fire and storm,
And dares rely upon His Word, and rest.

God give you HOPE this coming year!
The hope that through the warkness sees afar,
The purifying hope that fondly waits
The rising of the Bright and Morning Star.

God give you LOVE this coming year!
The love that yearns like His to seek the lost,
That intercedes, and waits, and suffers long—
That never fails, nor stops to count the cost.
