Khruschev's actions in Paris are more easily understood when ane accepts the basic fact: Khrushehev and the other Soviet leaders picture themselves as ruling the whole world; their ultimate aim is world conquest. The time has come to recogrefluence in the world, and this can best be done by exposing to the world munist aggressors.

In front of cameras and microphones giving him a world-wide audence, Khrushchev demanded that the President of the United States of America humble himself and the 180 million Americans by publicly apologizing for our having sent reconnaissance planes over Russia. He went to Paris apparently determined to bring us to our knees. If it had not been the reconnaissance plane incident, it would have been something else. Had we not faced up resolutely to this insult and threat of a would-be agressor and held firm against his inflammatory actions and statements, we would have found ourselves in worse trouble.

We want peace, of course, but not 'peace at any price" - not the Soviet brand of "peace". Are we afraid? Are we tempted to appease our enemy? Cowardice in human relations has always led to disaster. Appeasement has brought us major wars in the past. There was no cowardice or appeasement in Paris. Instead of being alarmed by the firm stand taken by our President on matter of principle, the American people welcome

Newest Electric Appliances Chase Drudgery Blues .

A kitchen is a room devoted to cooking, Webster's dictionary says. Any housewife will tell you it's also a room devoted to storing food and doing dishes.

Just as modern cooking units are equipped with automatic timers and other work-saving devices, new electric refrigerator-freezers and dishwashers are designed to give the homemaker extra hours for other activities.

More storage space for fresh and frozen foods in the new refrigerator-freezers makes it possible to cut down on time-consuming shopping trips. Thanks to better design and engineer-ing, a 1960 electric refrigeratorfreezer occupies no more floor space than an older model, yet may have up to 50 percent more food storage area. Many new models need no defrosting—another time-saving feature.

Three or four shopping trips a week can be cut to one or two by the homemaker who has a new electric refrigerator-freezer. More food storage space and specially cooled and humidified compartments hold more food and keep it fresh longer in the new refrigerator-freezers. There are special compartments for two-quart containers of milk, butter, cheese, eggs, fresh vegetables, fruits, and frozen citrus juices. Since an automatic dishwasher uses water much hotter than hands can stand, it gets dishes food and keep it fresh longer cleaner than older refrigerators can.

Time hangs heavy over the head of the woman who has to do dishes three times a day when she's eager to get on with more important family activities. But this housewife easily gains extra hours by simply scraping the dishes and stacking them in her dishwasher.

A full hour a day can easily be saved by the homemaker with an automatic dishwasher. with an automatic dishwasner. She just places the dishes in the dishwasher after each meal and leaves them out of sight until it's fully loaded. A pre-rinse cycle in many new dishwashers climinates hand ringing Dishes eliminates hand rinsing. Dishes need only a quick scraping be-fore being placed in the dish-

NOW LOOK WHAT GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the surefootedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak-and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other careven specially equipped-had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

For Outdoor Living

To help you and your family enjoy the great outdoors this summer, the makers of gadgets have come up with some dandy new ones. Here are some you might want to consider: For inflating air mattresses, life rafts, etc., there's a pump unit that runs on your car's engine. Remove a spark plug, screw on the unit, idle your engine, and—presto!—air is pumped in while you sit back and rest. Be sure the plugs on your engine are easy to reach and the pump you get fits the plug opening.

To save trunk space when you're carrying an outboard motor, there's an accessory that enables you to clamp the outboard to the lid of the trunk. It's secured by vacuum cups, screw clamps and web safety straps. When you want to open the trunk, the motor can be swung away to rest on the ground.

For campers, there's a combina-tion tool that can be used as a hatchet, hammer, chisel, nail puller, bottle cap remover, saw, screwdriver and spade. It comes with a drawstring carrying case.

A stove that burns canned propane does double duty as a broiler when turned on its side. It cooks with a flameless, red-hot grid. It broils meat as fat drips off. Tilted back, it can be said with eaching utynsils.

Another cooking device is an electric toaster and broiler with a griddle in the middle. It works off the car battery through the cigarette lighter socket. Toaster pops up, griddle and broiler temperatures can be regu-

Pre-Vacation Checkup

Women's Travel Authority

A vacation should be a time when everything goes right—and that in-cludes the family car. To make sure you spend your time sightseeing, and not standing around a repair shop, have these points checked:

the battery—recharge if necessary; the exhaust system—make sure there are no leaks; the engine thermostats—assure correct cooling; all lights and blinker signals;

brakes, clutch, steering mechathe shock absorbers-replace if necessary; the wheel alignment and balance; all the tires—cross-switch them (including the spare) if it's time; the engine—minor tune-ups for economy, good operation, and insurance against trouble en route.

All these things can be done promptly by your Shell dealer, who can also give the car a thorough lubrication, washing and waxing.

This pre-vacation checkup will pay dividends in a happy, trouble-free trip. Drive carefully and have

A TRIP TO WASHINGTON DESCRIBED

STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PARTY

The annual trip sponsored by the Ladies Bible Class of Tom's Creek, was made on May 21st. This year it was a trip to Washington, D. C. Our first stop was the Islantic Temple. This is a magnificent building, it is a church of the Mohammendan faith, we were asked to remove our shoes upon entering, the only chairs which we saw were outside for us to sit on to put our shoes on. Our next stop was the White House where we found people waiting in line for several blocks, but the lines kept moving and it wasn't long until we were in the White House. We next visited the Pan American Union which is headquarters of Organizations of American States the oldest international organization in the world. Contributions from each of 21 republics together with a generous gift of money from Andrew Carnegie paid for this beautiful marble building of Spanish Architecture situated in the midst of beautifully landscaped gardens.

We then proceeded to Smithsonian Institution which was established by Congress in 1846. An Englishman who in 1829 bequeathed his entire property to the United States of America which now is to be found at Washington an establishment for the increase and diffusions of knowledge among men. Our next point of interest was the National Historical Wax Museum, this Museum is a modern development of an ancient art. It is unique in that it has thermatic unity. The theme being American History beginning with the landing of Columbus to modern times. The bus then carried us to the Francis can Monastery, this is a beautiful building it is reminiscent of the early Franciscan Missions in California the visitor saw before entering the monoastery gardens is known as the Pilgrimage Hall. The Catacombs were next from which the visitor could form an accurate idea of those in Home. It was in these subterranean passages that the Divine Services were celebrated during the ages of persecution. As is evident from the numerous altars found there today. We were told that more than three thousand people had already made the pilgrimage that day.

Our last stop was Prince Georges Plaza at which we spent an hour or more shopping and dining at the Hot Shoppe then home.

Those making the trip were our pastor's wife, Mrs. Cameron Johnson and the following ladies of the Bible Class and some friends: Lucille Beal, Emmer Glass, Mattie Glass, Edna Glass, Della Glass, Ethel Baumgardner, Maude Baumgardner, Lois Baumgardner, Pauline Sabrooks, Carrie R. Keilholtz, Beaulah Phillip, Lemara Stonesifer, Ruth Copenhaver, Julia Roop, Dorothy Valentine, Jan-ice Valentine, Lucille Valentine, An-na Grimes Edith Ohler, Carrie F. Martin.

The trip was made via Rosensteels Bus Lines, Mr. Eugene was our driver. To my knowledge everyone had a very enjoyable time. All arrived home safely and looking forward to our next year's trip.

THE HOMETOWN MOVIE suggested the basic idea for an impor-tant new development in medicine - a time lapse movie of bone growth. Instead of movie film, however, x-ray film was used. The idea was developed by taking x-ray films of experimental animals' damaged bones at four-hour intervals over a period of weeks or months. When the films were put together, they created the impression of movement—so you could actually see the bones grow. "The new process will be of immense help in the study of bone growth and the heal-ing of fractures," says Dr. Howard Barnhard, Philadelphia radiologist and originator of the process.

TEARS ARE NA-TURE'S WAY of washing the surface of your eyes. The salty

from two glands, one to each eye. The tear gland for the right eye is located above and to the right of the eye, while the other is above and to the left of the left eye. According to researchers for the Murine Company, tears travel from the glands through tiny tubes to the surface of the eyeball, and depart from the eye through tubes at the inner side of each eye. Weeping, of course, causes an over-flow and the tears roll down the cheek and nose. Eye drops which are isotonic blend with your tears and help relieve tired eyes. In washing the surface of your eyes, they act in the same way your tears do.

Make a series of small 2-inch diameter holes in the ground under the drip of the branches in a zig-zag fashion. Be sure to keep all the holes at least two feet away from the trank, and space the holes about two feet apart from one another. Then pour about a cup of fertilizer solution into each hole. A water soluble plant food, such as Heller-Gro, comes in paste form and is easy to dissolve and apply in this way.

Paint the outside of your improvised planter so it blends well with your outdoor color scheme, fill the bottom with stones (for drainage), then add good topsoil and you're ready to plant your favorite flowers. If you choose a container that's been used for storing dirt, spray the inside of the tub or basket to make sure that soil diseases or insects are wiped out. In the Deluxe version, a living-dining-family-room-kitchen center is grouped around a service core containing heating and laundry. Good Pastures Aren't Good Enough

There probably are no better pastures in the United States than around Mineral Point, Wisconsin. Many people think good pastures, with plenty of salt and water, will put the cheapest gains it is possible to put on cattle. But the people around Mineral Point saw an experiment last summer that proved the type of salt made a considerable difference.

Results of a controlled experiment conducted at Kenyon Farms, Wisconsin, last summer prove beyond any reasonable doubt that the use of trace-mineralized salt in cattle feeding not only saved feed costs but appreciably increases the weight of the fattened cattle thus incurring a higher market value. Exactly fattened cattle thus incurring a higher market value. Exactly what happened?

In April 1959 a total of 298 head of grade black cattle were shipped to Mineral Point, Wisconsin from Texas and turned on pasture until May 11. The pasture selected for the experiment had received 300 pounds of 10-10-10 fertilizer per acre in 1955 and had been fortified with approximately four tons of lime per acre in 1957. It was native bluegrass in excellent condition due to abundant rainfall and to the

Money, You and God

Lesson for May 29, 1960

MOST people find money a fascinating subject; and Christians are no exception. Yet it is strange that so many Christians never think about money from a Christian point of view. You may set this down for a fact: If a Christian takes precisely the same attitude to money as is taken by most persons who make no claim to religion, then his Christianity is sorely missing at that point.

Dr. Foreman

Slaves of Money

In a few sentences from the Sermon on the Mount we can get, not all of what Jesus taught about money in relation to the Christian's life, but some of the main points. "You cannot be slaves of God and money," he said. (That is a literal translation of the Greek sentence at the end of Matt. 6:24.) Very few people worship or serve carved idols. God's chief rival for man's allegiance is not some gold-plated idol from the primitive world, it is money. What you think most of, what you think most about, what you work for, what you depend on, what you treasure about anything else,—that is your God, that is your master, that is your reason for living, in that you put your hope. Jesus says it can't be God AND money, it is God OR money. Jesus does not say you cannot serve God with money, or that if you serve God you must not have any money. He says you cannot belong to God and belong to money at the same time. (Let the reader think: What are the signs of becoming a slave of money?)

You Can't Take It With You

Everybody knows you can't take money with you out of this world. Japanese coins are no good in America except as souvenirs. But the coin of no realm is any good in heaven, not even for souvenirs Jesus told a parable of a rich farm. er whose crops were so fine that his barns would not hold them. So he planned to build bigger bains He gave no thought to what he might do with his wealth to help other people, only to help himself. And one night God sent for his soul so then he discovered that his soul was poor. It did not even have credit. He was not "rich toward God"-that is, from God's viewpoint he had nothing to his name.

That's a thing Christians ought always to remember about money. Its value to a man is only temporary. It isn't true that "you'll be a long time dead." It's more true that you'll live enormously longer, in a world where money is no good, than you can ever live in this moneyed planet.

Your Father Knows

Another thing Jesus said: (Speaking of property of different kinds) "Your heavenly Father knows that you need them all." He was not speaking of luxuries, but of necessities. There are religions in which "holy" men go about with begging-bowls, depending all their lives long on hand-outs from the (presumably) unholy wage-earners. Christianity is not that kind of religion. Refusal to earn a living in ordinary ways is not a mark of holiness in the Bible, and it is not with us. But there is a difference between earning the things that are needed to sustain our lives, and living for these things alone.

Seek the Kingdom

When a man is writing, his mind is not on his pen, it's on what he is saying. When a man is walking, he is not conscious of his shoes, or ought not to be. Pen and shoes are necessary, but they are means, tools, servants not masters. So it should be with money and the Christian. It is a means to an end .. But to what end? Some readcas wish Jesus had gone into more de tail. What should be my centra; aim in life? "Serving God" to be sure, but how? Can he be served by everybody or only by preachers. while the rest of us have to struggle for "Mammon" the best we

Jesus hinted at the answer to this question. Seek first the Kingdom of God, he said. "Set your heart" on it, as J. B. Phillips translates it. That is, whatever we do, whatever our occupation, trade or profession, our first aim should be to do it in 'ine with the will of God.

By DICK WOLFF

The subject of "ultra-light" tackle comes up every time anglers get together, and not surprisingly, the opening days of the fishing season usually produce more tackle talk than fish.

For such small tackle, ultra-light draws a lot of angry talk. Some say "It's Great!" and some "It's Terrible!" Let's talk sense—it is "great" BUT used with moderation.

Miniature tackle is designed to give the fish a 50-50 chance of getting away. From here on let's call this combination of willowy rod, precision reel, and gossamer line - "ultrasports" tackle.

The true ultra-sports outfit is a palm-sized reel of some

7-ounces, a limber 41/2 to 5foot, one or two-piece rod hooked up with 3/4 to 2-pound test monofiliment. The set-up is designed to cast lures weighing 1/16 to 1/4-ounces. Combinations such as the Garcia Mitchell 308 spinning reel and the five foot Companion rod are balanced light enough to cast a "kiss".

Any catch over 2-pounds is worth bragging about. Fishing weedy lakes or rushing rapids puts undue strain on tackle and angler alike. Big fish find safe refuge in the weeds - and require more practical gear. This precision tackle is designed to make the catch of a 10-incher a real sporting event. Weeds tangle lines and fine line will snap without much crying. Rushing rapids put a strain on line and rod and fighting a fish to boot, is tricky. Down stream chases in waders or hip boots is a touch and go business. With gossamer line, switch like rods, and tiny reels-care must be a catchword. Line must be tested for weak spots and cut back to avoid breakage while on the stream. Hooks must be honed to new sharpness to make up for the strain of setting with thin line. Guides must be regularly inspected for wear or rough spots. And, knots - a bugaboo with all tackle - are even more vital with ultra-light.

If you want to argue the merits of the ultra-light outfit -say "It's great"-put remember-use it with moderation.

Strawberry Mist -A Delicious Summer Dessert

oon the warm weather will be here in earnest and lighter fare will be in order. Your family will enjoy drinking their dessett, especially if it's a refreshing Strawberry Mist. This delightful milk-and-ice cream cooler has luscious fresh strawberries sit through and an extra scoop of ice cream on top.

It's more nourishing, too, because you use nonfat dry milk. In this way, you get more milk protein, calcium and B-vitamins without the added liquid. And in warm weather, your family can use extra milk nourishment to rebuild energy.

Serve Strawberry Mists for a delicious climax to patio suppers, for a glamorous treat when friends drop in or to delight children

(Continued from first page) left shows up the street and the other down. When I was a little girl—they were plentiful in the Quaker city and now they are sort of an antique and I understand it quite valuable.

They are very, very scarce.

And as to ORGANS, Folks no other can compare with the Hammond! Down in the HAMMOND STUDIOS is one of their first organs as to going around the world with the wonderful organist, Milt Herth. It is a cream color as to the exterior and still in a perfect condition after 24 years of traveling! Do drop by to see it at 524 N.Charles.

Now, the ice cream men with their white trucks are plentiful on the streets of Baltimore—Mr. Softy and Mr. Good Humor. I just recently learned that the Good Humor has two types of ice cream and one is the delay which of course is much is surely cheapening life by that continuous walk daily! Her feet were so affected with callouses, corns, strained muscles and swollen ankles that she was compelled to remain in a hotel plus a visit to a foot Dr. who advised her to stop the walk. She is 56 years of age, a vegetarian and Russian-born and claims she will reach New York by June 10. She also had to have massage treatments. Her feet are swollen by more than one shoe size since leaving San Francisco!

It was truly "Paris in Baltimore" last Sunday around Lake Drive where I headed immediately after church. The many artists all around the Lake with their painting displayed on the iron rail plus their canopies over head. It was most interesting not just for those paintings but the individuals who painted them seemed to be to me in a world by themselves as I studied each character. It is said that about 40,000 people were there walking a-round and each year there is a bigger crowd. The sun shone brightly and many artists were dressed for the affair plus the sandals, beach chairs and umbrellas although most all decided to be sunburnt.

Some of the paintings were excellent but then, of course there were many huge splashes of paint of which I must admit that I do not understand nor would I desire to possess.

After voting, went down to the Armory to view "The Thirteenth Antique Show" for this Column and it was more interesting and lovelier than ever before. Glamor would be the word for those wonderful antiques which I do think were better displayed plus the lighting feature than previous years. It is too bad it lasts feature pictures, plus shorts and etc. for only a short stay—just five days 65c admission for each adult and children and c to only a short stay—just five days 65c admission for each adult and chilback to 1607. There were a pair of twin lamps which was priced at $200.—those type that were contact that were contact to the state of the s $200.—those type that were on the wall of a fashionable living room all brass and beautifully carved. Cut brass and beautifully carved. Cut glass Cologne bottles were $5. each. Just plain oil lamps as you would perhaps have in your attic before electric came to the farm or in many homes and they were $15. a pair and up. What amazed me was the "Sugar Tongue" for the price of $10.00. Many Tongue" for the price of $10.00. Many came from out of town and I observed mainly from the New England States-who had the merchandise of antiques for sale. There was a chest from Virginia dated 1750 and that was $795.00! There was a genuine English shaving stand which was interesting.

Miss Betty Rote of 919 N. Charles St. added much to her display by placing flowers on the old tables and odd pieces which gave it much charm. Mrs. Mary Archer had lovely pieces from Westminster and one big thing the prices were the lowest in the entire Armory and they were beautiful and she has a gift for arrangement to their best advantage.

Don't forget, Folks when you are coming to town, the Friendly garage on N. Paca at the Lexington Market still boasts of the same price— 80 cents. Will be seeing you next week D. V. Have a grand week end. I am,

Faithfully, Your Observer.

THIS IS THE WITNESS

Romans 8:16. The spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit that we are the children of God.

If we have no witness in ourselves

ve are a lost soul. John the Baptist came preaching repentance In the third chapter of St. John Jesus said to Nicodemus, "Ye must be born again", Jesus did not say another way to get to heaven, it was positively, ye must. He tells in another place he that humbleth himself shall be exalted. People have exalted themselves in a modern form; exalted themselves in a modern form; and sat aside the doctrine of the Lord Jesus Christ, and set up their own doctrine. Don't be deceived one little step from God's commandments is a million miles from the gates of peace. Its not by works, its by grace we are saved.

Paul the apostle tells us in the 13 Chapter of Corinthians, Though I speak with the tongues of men and of more expensive.

This, I just learned that it really is good manners to place salt right on the tablecloth when the salt shaker is not convenient to one's plate. And that by Emily Post. Yet I recall years ago that it was very much the custom in Philadelphia.
