Mr. Byers compared antiques with the aged persons in our homes, they also should be given the most prominent places in our homes not in convalescent homes.

He told of one instance which was rather disgusting to him how he had sold "A Circus Outfit" that he had made for $1. and later seeing it displayed at an Antique Show and valued at $150.00 Mr. Byers beautifully decorated a heavy tin tray for President Dwight D. Eisenhower and presented it to him at his farm in Gettysburg, Pa. This tray was decorated with the Eisenhower Coat-of-Arms, "Peace Through Understanding" Eisenhower. LEARN-TO-SWIM PROGRAM

Jaycees will Assist in Training Youth

Red Cross swimming lessons will be held for the children of the Taneytown area July 5 to 15, at Meadow View Pool, Union Mills. The Taneytown Jaycees have accepted the responsibility of promoting this very worthwhile program. The need for everyone to learn the basic rules of water safety and to be able to handle themselves in the water is very evident, and it is hoped that many of our youngsters will avail themselves of the opportunity.

The program is open to all children between the ages of 8 and 17. Since instructions will be given this year at only one pool at a time, there will be plenty of excellent instructors and aides. A small fee of 50c a week is charged by pool operators to help defray the additional expenses incurred.

The Jaycees have also arranged for bus transportation for many of those desiring it. James Fair, chairman, reports the bus is filling fast, and anyone interested should contact Mr. Fair or Harry Dougherty, Jr., for particulars. Reservations for bus transportation will have to be made on a first-come, first-served basis. Due to the response, cost of this service will be slightly less than originally anticipated.

Population Increases Pose Serious Problems

Preliminary reports of the Census of 1960 for certain Maryland counties have generally confirmed the population estimates and forecasts made by State departments since 1950. The population increases are greatest in the Baltimore and Washington metropolitan areas where considerable immigration has been an important factor.

In six of the suburban counties, in which this characteristic is typical of the population trend, the changes are as follows:

County	1950 Popu-	1960 Popu-	Percent of Increase
Anne Arundel	117,392	204,855	74
Baltimore	270,273	490,465	81
Carroll	44,907	52,649	17
Howard	23,119	35,768	54
Montgomery	164,401	338,188	105
Prince George's	194,182	356,061	83

Baltimore City dropped from 949,708 in 1950 to 923,224, a loss of 26,484 or 2.7%.

Allegany and Garrett Counties both lost population during the last decade. The former dropped from 89,556 to 83,834, and the latter from 21,259 to 20,253, a 6.3% and 4.7% decrease, respectively. Calvert increased from 12,100 to 15,654, Caroline from 18,234 to 19,369, Charles from 23,415 to 32,187, Frederick from 62,287 to 71,985, Washington from 78,886 to 89,237, and Wicomico from 39,641 to 48,744.

EXCHANGE PROVISION FOR SAVINGS BONDS

Series E for H can be handled Profitably

During January, thousands of Series E bond holders, as well as numerous F and J holders, all over the nation, exchanged their E, F and J bonds for current income Series H Bonds.

A new Treasury regulation, effective January 1, 1960, allows holders of Series E Bonds to exchange them in amounts of $500 or more for Series H Bonds, which pay interest every six months by Government check. The exchange may be made without regard to the annual purchase limit, and the holder may defer reporting of accrued interest for income tax purposes until the H Bonds are disposed of or reach final maturity. The provision also applies to J Bonds and unexpired F Bonds. This exchange privilege is especially designed to benefit those who are at, or near, retirement age and now have need for current income on their bond investment.

To illustrate, take an investor who puts $7,500 in bonds in January 1943. Now, ready to retire, he wants to replace these bonds with H bonds and so draw his interest in cash.

Under the old rule, his situation was this: In January, his bonds will have had a cash-in value of $12,304. So $4,804 of interest will have been earned. If this taxpayer is in the 50 percent bracket, he would have to pay $2,402 in taxes on that interest. If he then put the remaining $9,902 in H bonds his annual interest from H bonds would come to $374.79.

Under the new provision: The investor will pay no tax on the switch, and so will have his entire $12,304 to invest in H bonds. His annual interest from H bonds will be $465.71. Over the 10-year life of his H bonds, he will earn an additional $909.20 just because he did not have to pay the tax.

In effect, the taxpayer buys H bonds with money that - under the old provision - he would have paid in taxes. The tax on the E-bond interest will have to be paid sometime, but perhaps not for 20 or 30 years. Meanwhile the tax money is earning interest for the investor.

Another advantage of the E, F and J Bonds exchange for H bonds with deferred tax liability, is that less income taxes would more than likely have to be paid, since the taxpayer in later years usually pays less taxes due to smaller income tax bracket and to additional exemption after the age of 65.

These girls made their first appearance in evening gowns on parade night, riding in convertibles.

The newly-built stage which was so useful for such an event, was decorated with palms and ferns.

Jim Elliot, a former resident of Taneytown, introduced Jim Kilian of WJZ-TV, who was the master of ceremonies for the evening.

The judges for the contest were: Mrs. Gladys Wimer of Westminster, Harold Trone of Hanover, Pa. and Larry Stump of York, Pa. Dick Myers of Hanover was the photographer.

A large crowd gathered to see the beauty contest and it is hoped that next year that even a larger crowd will attend. Since so much interest was shown, it is hoped that the Miss Taneytown Beauty Contest will be an annual affair.

Flattery is an insult, gift-wrapped.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

According to the almanac, Summer commenced on Wednesday, but according to the thermometer it commenced on Sunday, and the temperature has been up in the nineties ever since, notwithstanding a fall of hail as large as hickory nuts, on Tuesday afternoon.

That Taneytown will give a creditable display of fire-works on the evening of July 4, is entirely due to the liberality of business men of the town, who have expressed their willingness to give their patrons, and the community generally, an evening of enjoyment, and at the same time properly celebrate the great anniversary.

Rev. Dr. Henninghausen, who was ordained to the ministry in Taneytown, in 1861, or 49 years ago, has resigned as pastor of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, Baltimore, where he served 46 years. His first pastorate was in Washington, where he remained three years.

Mrs. William Kiser, living near Hobson Grove school, fell from a ladder at a cherry tree, on Wednesday afternoon, a distance of about 25 feet, and suffered a compound fracture of her right leg just above the ankle joint. So serious was the break that she was taken to the Frederick Hospital where the leg was amputated at the ankle. Mrs. Kiser is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Harmon of this place.

Words that are Out of Style. Many old English words have fallen from their high estate and are now banned in the best society. The word "dress" used to describe the outer garment of our mothers and grandmothers, but "gowns" and "frocks" are worn by women of the twentieth century. Also, we may talk of "relations" but not of relatives, and the most venerable rooster must be called a chicken, as the word "fowl" has sunk almost to the level of low language.

Our citizens will be glad to know that another entertainment course has been contracted for, for Taneytown—five attractions, one a month, beginning with November. The profit, like last year, will go to the Fire Company.

Building?

Insulate Now
For Comfort
In Future

If you're planning to remodel or build a home, yet feel you can't afford air conditioning right away, here's some good advice:

Install proper insulation for air conditioning during construction. Later, when you're financially ready for air conditioning, an important part of the job is done.

The extra mineral wool needed for efficient and economical home cooling costs no more to install than lesser amounts of insulation. And the extra cost of the thicker batts or blankets will more than pay for themselves in savings on heating fuel.

To be sure of obtaining insulation that meets the performance requirements of the All Weather Comfort Standards developed by electric utilities and manufacturers of air conditioning and electric heating equipment, insist on mineral wool batts or blankets marked with "resistance" numbers. These are R-19 for ceilings, R-11 for walls, and R-13 for floors.

Not only are there shortcuts to making repairs, but the books also tell motorists how to get better than normal speed, power and economy from their cars.

When you hark to the voice of the knocker. As you list to his hammer fall, remember the fact that a knocking act takes no brains at all.

When you list to the growl of the growler as you list to his ceaseless growl you will please recall that a dog is all it takes for an endless howl. As you watch for a kick of the kicker, as you notice his strenuous kick you'll observe the rule that a stubborn mule is great at the same old trick.

The knocker, the growler, the kicker, fault-finders, large and small—what do they need for each day's deed? No brains, no sense—just gail. —L. G.

Comment from the Capital - CRACKER BARREL COMMENTS ON THE CURRENT COMMUNIST CRISIS by Vant Neff

Nikita Khrushchev says that he has known all along about many flights by U-2 or similar planes which photographed the USSR from high altitudes. If that's so, why the big beef about this one? Could it be internal pressure back in Moscow or a calculated change of policy?

A great army of second guessers maintain that the U-2 incident was "inappropriately" timed before the summit meeting. Lest we forget, we were "meeting" and negotiating with the Japanese envoys when they leveled military installations and much of our Navy at Pearl Harbor.

If the other fellow is out to "bury you", the time to relax is never.

It is a pretty sorry turn of events when the world wonders whether Mr. Khrushchev feels buoyant or blue. . . . Can you imagine thinking that history depends on Mr. K's degree of well being!

Has anybody thought about making a proposal to Khrushchev? We to call off all our reconnaissance planes and he to call off his army of spies. And perhaps have the "workers" in the embassies behave as honorably as the representatives from free nations.

From where I sit, it appears that marchers in free countries who demonstrate at the drop of a suggestion would do well to try to march in Moscow.

Funny that in the "people's paradise" there are no labor demonstrations. The "conditioned" folks just work and do without the things, including the rights and freedoms that demonstrators take for granted.

If Mr. K. feels mad about our taking pictures from the air, how should we feel about his stealing atomic bomb secrets from us and the British? . . . and the Russian Colonel who was captured posing as a photographer? . . . to mention only two examples.

If a neighboring country looks cross-eyed at Mr. K's politics, he has threatened them with the atomic bomb. Wonder what the world would say if Mr. Eisenhower threatened some of our blustering neighbors with our missiles.

Have you noticed how "pink" people would have us sever our relations with dictators like Franco who grant us military air base rights, and yet the same "liberals" are constantly working towards the seating of Red China at the UN?

Livestock HEALTH HINTS
Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health

With the approach of the fall rainy season, livestock producers should begin to watch for a condition known as "foot rot" which sometimes develops in cattle and sheep.

Wet, muddy lots and stalls predispose livestock to the problem of foot rot.

The affected animals fail to gain, become unthrifty, milk production drops, and often the feet become permanently damaged.

There are certain warning signs a farmer can watch for... when cattle or sheep limp, or begin to show foot discomfort, it is time to have a veterinarian check them over and see whether foot rot may be causing the trouble.

Animals suffering from this condition can be cured if treatment begins soon enough. The veterinarian sometimes trims away the badly-infected tissue and uses drugs or ointments to kill the germs and promote healing.

As preventive measures, authorities suggest the following: Keep livestock out of muddy pastures and away from stagnant pools. Stalls for dairy cattle should be kept dry, clean and sanitary, and hind feet should be checked at intervals.

Above all, if animals show signs of tender feet they should be examined, and treatment should be started with all promptness.

Tips on Touring
By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority
Fishing and Weather
Every year, more families find time for fishing on vacation trips. You may be a woman who has never baited a hook, but you can help your family make better plans if you remember this: Weather plays a big role in fishing.

Experts say fish bite best just after a "cold front" has moved through. A cold front is a mass of cold air, usually accompanied by thunder storms. It makes for ideal fishing conditions. Rain has washed down insects and cooled the surface water; there's a dark sky for protection and a rising barometer that seems to pep up the fish.

When this happens, the fish forget their usual caution. They'll come into the shallows and snap up anything that looks good—and this includes your bait or artificial lures.

The important thing is timing—being in the right place at the right time. Before going fishing, check the local weather forecast. If a cold front is due, get out your gear and head for your favorite fishing spot.

One precaution: Take along a raincoat. You may find things a bit damp. But, as far as the fishing goes, it'll be worth it.

Figure Fashions
by Betsy White

"The girl who looks like a cool julep in the heat of July gave the problem cold consideration before the mercury soared," declares Betsy White, fashion director of The Formfit Company.

Start at the beginning, Miss White suggests, by building up a summer wardrobe of cool, cotton bras. A minimum of three bras—one clean, one to wear and one in the wash is the basic requirement.

Make sure that your bra selection covers your wardrobe requirements in the matter of low cut backs or sleeveless dresses.

Lowering your sights to the waist and neckline is the next step in weather planning.

For the girl of modest proportions who plans to beat the heat in shirts and swimsuits, any of a variety of pantie briefs may be the answer. For moderate to firm control and for a garment that can be worn with street clothes as well as sportswear, Miss White suggests a pantie girdle of all-around nylon elastic net with a satin elastic front panel.

"Many women," declares Betsy, "have discovered longleg pantie girdles are perfect for hot weather. The long leg is comfortable and prevents chafing in extreme heat and guarantees a beautiful figure under slacks and bermudas as well as fashion's favorite, the culotte."

The real key to comfort is to buy quality garments that are machine washable. Daily changes are essential since perspiration is far more damaging to elastic and fabrics than frequent washings.

Hand washed underthings must be thoroughly rinsed to remove soaps and detergents and briefs worn under swimsuits require rinsing to remove salt or water purifiers.

Undergarments should be allowed to dry overnight and never in an automatic dryer or in hot sunlight.

Keeping cool, concludes Formfit's Miss White, starts at the heart of comfort—in summer-inspired underfashions.

Detectives spotted a suspicious-looking man and took him along when checking a robbery only to have him identified as the holdup man. Guess you'd say he was one hold-up man held up by the long arms of the law.

On The Rock

Lesson for June 26, 1960

PLEASE NOTE the title of this column. It is On The Rock, not On The Rocks. The English language is peculiar. On The Rocks is a nautical expression referring to a ship cracking up on a rocky reef. On The Rock is a builder's expression, referring to solid foundations. You could mix the metaphors by saying "You'll never go on the rocks if you're on The Rock."

Bypassing Jesus

We are not surprised when people who make no claim to being Christians lower Jesus and refuse to consider him an authority. But it is surprising, and saddening, and besides, to find professing Christians bypassing Jesus as Dr. Foreman

Dr. Foreman

Jesus himself gave no support to such lopsided caricatures of his teaching and intentions. Everything he said indicates that he intended to be taken seriously. He speaks distinctly of "some who would one day call him... Lord—but not do what I tell you" (Luke 6:46); and he has nothing good to say of such people. Jesus talked to real people with real problems. What main-line Christians have discovered down through the ages is, that what Jesus said to the people he met face to face is still good for our day and for all time. It is nothing better than double-talk to call Jesus "Lord" or even "God" and refuse to pay attention to him when he gives directions for living.

Building on the rock

The exact word (in the Greek) is "on THE rock," not "on A rock." Anywhere in the world, if you go down far enough, you strike rock; and all the rock of the world is connected together by the mighty forces God has created. So there is one Rock on which an enduring life can be founded: Christ and his teachings. But a question may come to mind. Human beings are of enormous variety. Their problems are innumerable. Jesus could not, and did not, give us his mind as to many of the most difficult problems of our time. How then can we say that his teachings are the bedrock of all truly successful living?

Jesus could say this, not because he was a new Moses, not because he was delivering rules for everybody on all occasions. He could say this because his teachings are the universal bedrock beneath all the variety of human personalities and situations. As we saw when looking into the "Golden Rule," Jesus gave us principles rather than rules. He does not do our thinking for us. He furnishes the foundation; each of us has to build his own house on it.

Tested by storm

A house of cards will stand up so long as no one breathes on it. A house with any flimsy underpinning, or none, will stand so long as the weather is good. The test of a house is not sunshine but storm. And if there is one thing certain about every man's life, it is that the sun will not always shine upon it. Bright days may be certain to come, too; but they are not the terrible test. The dark days, the blizzards and the floods and the hurricanes, are the times sure to come for each of us. Two houses may look just the same before the storm. How they look afterwards is what counts.

THE BOOK OF BOOKS

Read your old Bible—it tells how, and, what to do—
To make your physical body like the Real you;
It also tells about God, and about His great plan
To make a perfect earth, woman and man.

God sent Jesus to earth to show us the way
We all must be in the "endless day";
To give Him first place, in all you do—
To Him, and your neighbor, always be true.

Many wonderful things in the Bible I see—
(Its pages all tell about God, you and me);
It seems to have written only yesterday;
But, it took 1600 years to write it, they say.

It is the torch God sent to light the way
Through the jungles of Time to the "Endless Day";
At every time, God's face you can see;
And, Jesus whispers: "Come; follow Me".

God, Himself, is the Author of the old book; they say;
("Don't listen to mortal man, or go his way);
It tells to all peoples about the Real you;
For, like him, God wants us to be, and, to do.

Much of the Bible is in code, they say,
Because, to teach us, that is the way;
Because, too, used parables, when He was here,
In order to make what He said more clear.

Primitive man was not as bright as men are today,
(That is why many sayings are in code, they say),
But, even today, there is no better way
To learn to know God, some writers now say.

The code language is beautiful, they also say;
When we learn to know God, and, go His way;
The Sun means God's Word the moon, His Law—
So, it is perfect, and, without a flare.

Your body it calls a house, the Scriptures say;
Your arms, it keeps, protect it, from day to day;
Clouds mean troubles; rain means truth; they say;
"It is easy to learn, when we go God's way."

God foresaw how critics would rise up today;
So, He put it in code to deceive them, some day;
But, it is really a chart to guide you and me,
On our journey from Time to Eternity.

So, read your Bible it lights the way
On our journey through Time to the great "Highway";
Christ is the Shepherd the Scriptures say,
Who is leading His flock to the endless day.

King David, was a Shepherd boy, in his day;
And, the 23rd Psalm pictures God the same way;
In it, God is the Shepherd, David the sheep; they say;
To show how God watches over us night and day.

The Lord is my Shepherd, said David one day
When he compared man and sheep which go astray;
He thought of himself, and how God pampers all
No matter how great, no matter how small.

So, learn to know God, and to others tell
What joy is with Him, to dwell;
He leadeth thee to green pasture, each day
Beside still waters as you wend your way.

"He restoreth all those who go His way";
(Who walks in the path of righteousness) they say;
And, just for His name sake, the Scriptures say;
He makes Earth a heaven, when we go His way.

"Thy rod and thy staff," David said, comfort me,
On my journey from Time to Eternity;
And "a gorgeous table for all those is spread"
Who flee from Satan, and, by thee are led.

Sheep all know the Shepherd's voice, they say;
And, they cuddle near him, at close of day;
And, just so, to God, we all should flee;
For, He is leading us all to Eternity.

"He anointed us with oil" at the close of day
To heal the bruises we get on the way;
Surely goodness shall follow us all our life;
For, where God is there is no turmoil or strife.

The Valley of Death has no terror for me—
(The cemetery is only a transfer station to Eternity);
We all have gone to it, they tell us, before;
And, we shall go through it many times more.

Until man is perfect he don't know the way;
Which leads from Time to the "Endless Day";
So God sends him back, to try, again and again
To mingle with, and, to teach fellowman.

Here is another truth we all should know;
God gave us the Bible to show us how to go;
He has made great preparations for man;
So, learn to know Him and follow His plan.

I once wrote: "A single life far too short would be
To emulate God, and, prepare for Eternity;
So, back to Mother Earth, we must return;
For, Eternal Life, we all must earn."

The resurrection of the body shall not take place
In a dead body of any race;
In a living body one must surely be
To prepare to be, with God, in Eternity.

Jesus was the Pattern God gave to man;
So, far as to be like Him is God's plan;
When man is made perfect you shall see
The kind of creature God wants him to be.

The tree which stands in the storm cloud's path
Must train its roots to encounter its wrath;
Man, too, must prepare in every way,
To weather the storms of a "thousand year day".

Life Underwriters Receive Awards

The Carroll County Association of Life Underwriters met last Thursday in the American Legion Home, Westminster. Five members were awarded the National Quality Award and officers for the coming year were installed.

Mr. Harry I. Warren, Manager for Aetna Life, Baltimore, was the speaker and presented the awards. The National Quality Award, one of the Life Insurance business' most coveted honors, is given annually to only about 15 percent of the 80,000 members of life underwriter associations who have given outstanding service to their clients. Upon presenting this year's qualifiers with their awards, Mr. Warren said: "In a day when all-too-many Americans are satisfied with doing their job in a slipshod, half-done, manner, it is a significant event, indeed, when we can pay tribute to individuals who have won recognition because of the quality job they are doing in serving the public."

Receiving the award for the thirtieth time, was C. Roland Armacost, Equitable Life Assurance Society, Westminster. Paul K. Dell, New York Life, Westminster, received his sixth award. Qualifying for the third year, were Smith A. Eckenrode, Maryland Life, Westminster, and James H. Fair, Lutheran Brotherhood, Taneytown. Carlos E. Floyd, Hampstead, with the United Ins. Co. of America, received the second-year award.

Mr. Warren, who has been active in the State Association since its inception, and who was just elected second Vice-President of the Md. A. L.U., told of the terrific work being done by the State and National Associations in many fields including the attempt to watch for legislation which might be detrimental to the insuring public. He congratulated the Carroll County group for their interest and activity and especially for leading the entire state for the second straight year in percentage of membership gain. The local organization now has 41 members, nearly double the size of just a few years ago. John Sherfy, Home Beneficial, and Robert Barnes, United of America, were co-chairmen of membership.

James Fair, President for the past year, presided at the business meeting, thanked all of the members for their excellent cooperation in making the year 1959-60 so successful, and presented both local offices of Baltimore Life and the United Ins. Co. of America, with 100% membership certificates. He then presented the gavel and a President's certificate to Carlos Floyd, who was elected to serve as President for the coming year.

Officers installed to serve the Association for 1960-61, are: Carlos E. Floyd, United of America, President, David L. Brauning, National-wide, Vice-President; G. Lewis Erb, Baltimore Life, Secretary; C. Roland Armacost, Equitable Society, Treasurer; Smith A. Eckenrode, Maryland Life, Director, and Paul K. Dell, New York Life, National Committeeman.

The next regular meeting of the organization will be held in September.

Guard Unit Leaves For Ft. Bragg Saturday

Captain Bryan McIntire, Commanding Officer of Carroll County's National Guard Unit, announced that the Battery will leave Saturday for annual active duty training at Ft. Bragg, North Carolina. The official designation of the unit is "A" Battery, 3d Howitzer Battalion, 110th Artillery, Camp Pickett, Blackstone, Va. will be the bivouac for Saturday night and the arrival at Ft. Bragg is scheduled for 3:45 o'clock P. M. Sunday. According to SGT. George F. Alban, Jr., Battery Motor Sergeant, the convoy will be composed of fourteen vehicles with eleven towed loads.

During the fifteen day training period, the Unit will undergo various Army artillery tests designed to evaluate the effectiveness of the Battery under simulated combat conditions. Battery "A" will spend the first four days at Ft. Bragg operating under tactical conditions with emphasis on security and camouflage discipline. Complete blackout conditions will be observed and night motor marches will be practiced. Although the tests to be taken will rate the Unit, training is geared to increase the efficiency of the individual soldier. According to Captain McIntire, "Each morning will begin with twenty minutes of physical training, and this will be conducted at least thirty minutes before breakfast."

This is the second consecutive year that the 29th Division Artillery, of which Battery "A" is a part, has trained at Ft. Bragg. Bragg is the second largest artillery post in the United States, containing more than 127,664 acres and is a center for airborne artillery.
