TANEYTOWN CITIZENS INTERESTED IN THE SCHOOLS

The citizens of the Taneytown community began to take a stand for local rights in the educational realm last Friday as 6 of its many interested citizens met with the Superintendent of Carroll County Schools, Mr. Samuel Jenness. In this simple meeting in the Board of Education chamber warm-hearted and sincere feelings of the local citizenry were laid upon the heart and before the head of the county's educational program.

On Monday the united efforts of the local people were greatly multiplied and demonstrated as 22 people representing the Elementary and Jr.-Sr. High School P.-T.A. organizations, business interests, the Chamber of Commerce, the Christian ministry, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lion's and Kiwanis Clubs and dedicated parents who are faithful and devoted homemakers met in lengthy sessions with the County Commissioners, the elected representatives of the people in a democratic government.

Messrs. John Hottinger and Glenn Bollinger, presidents of the High School and Elementary P.-T.A.'s, led the delegation with the former as the chief spokesman. The purpose of the visitation to the County Administration Building was to have a hearing and to present a petition with no less than 821 signatures of the citizens. This is by no means to be ignored by the elected representatives of the people if they choose to serve the people who have entrusted them with the high office to which they aspired.

The primary aim was to impress the peoples' representatives with their united feelings and to endorse their support in their legitimate request. This was that none of the Taneytown pupils with the exception of the agricultural pupils, of which there were about 10 last year, should now or at any time in the future be moved to the recently erected Francis Scott Key High School. Taneytown needs and wants and is large enough to keep its local schools just as it needs and wants and is large enough to keep its churches, its businesses, and whatever else goes into giving a good community a sound and basic reason for being and for serving its constituency.

It was pointed out that this opposition was based on the sound, logical and reasonable understanding and conception that the Francis Scott Key School was NOT built for any Taneytown pupils, but for those of New Windsor and Union Bridge, that it was by no means strategically located to serve the Taneytown community in a logical manner; that the narrow and unimproved road leading to the out-of-the-way place of the school is too hazardous and dangerous for any vehicles, to say no less for buses carrying many of our tomorrow's leading citizens—our children; that the distance from Taneytown is too great for practical purposes so far as legitimate use of the school including extra curricular activities are concerned; and that there are no better educational advantages there afforded than in Taneytown High School, except for the agricultural students.

It was pointed out that there would be no distinct advantages gained by the students in being transferred from the local school to a larger school at such an inconvenient and impractical distance from the hub of their normal activity. In fact, it was recognized that in the local school there were, in addition to the logical and practical benefits, the advantages of more direct and personal contact between the teacher and pupil and helpful, individual attention to the advantage of all.

In regards to the Elementary School, due to the population explosion which this year makes it necessary to have a third class for first graders, with the probability that this trend will continue in immediate years, request for additional facilities was strongly made. The school was built 10 years ago and practically from the start it was almost too small, causing an over-crowding which professional educators would agree was not good. To accommodate the influx of 1960-61 the library is now being placed on the rear of the auditorium stage, and the fine, excellent library room, which in any school should be the center of educational activity, is being converted into the necessary class rooms. To remedy this unhealthy situation the delegation asked the absolute, necessary minimum of which the community is worthy and deserving, and which the educators would have to recognize as being essential and legitimate—a $175,000 building of 8 class rooms and a cafeteria attached to the present edifice according to studies made by recognized and authorized architects. This figure, of course, is arbitrary, give or take a little in either direction. There would be 4 rooms on each of 2 floors and the cafeteria in the basement with no hindrance or obstruction to the beauty and attractiveness of the present school building.

A group of citizens is planning to meet with the Board of Education at its next regularly scheduled meeting to continue appealing its case to the powers that be so that what is right and just and legitimate may come to the oldest Carroll County community, which is one of the largest contributing and best supporting districts to the chest that holds the coffers which undergird the erection and enlargement of public school buildings. And with this being the case the requests are certainly well within reason when it is realized that educationally speaking nothing came to Taneytown since the construction of the present high school building in 1927 without a hard fight on the part of the interested citizens.

At a later date it is hoped to have a meeting and hearing jointly with both the Board of Education and the County Commissioners. At such a time it is hoped that a definite and absolute statement may be forthcoming so that Taneytown may know what to expect and how to respond to others when the local school situation is brought into conversation by interested and questioning newcomers to the town.

Hospital Auxiliary Ready to Sew Alumni Plan Outing at Beach on July 17, 1960

The first cutting of the infants gowns for the Carroll County General Hospital Auxiliary was completed at the Church World Service Center, New Windsor by Mrs. Elsie Yohn.

Thread for this project has been donated by Mr. Frank Battaglini of the Carroll Manufacturing Company. Persons interested in sewing are to contact the Co-ordinator of Workers, Mrs. Mabel Reese, 103 Anchor Street, Westminster.

The cost of the infants gowns is thirty-six cents each. It has been indicated that persons as well as organizations who are unable to do the actual sewing but who wish to show their interest and a desire to promote the sewing project immediately may donate funds for the purchasing of the material. Either effort will be greatly appreciated.

The various articles to be made will be grouped into units with materials, thread and instructions. Organizations or persons wishing to help with this work may indicate the units they can handle. At present the unit now is 150 infants outing flannel gowns. Sewing projects can be handled in the individual homes or at churches or halls.

Discarded white sheets are being received at hospital headquarters next to the railroad. "T" binders can be cut several inches in width. Parts of sheets or sheet remnants can be used as well as white pillow cases.

Alumni Plan Outing at Beach on July 17, 1960

The Taneytown High School Alumni Association will hold its annual outing at Beverly Beach this year, located about 2 miles south of Annapolis. Beverly Beach has become quite popular with members of the association as it provides a nice clean beach, with plenty of play area and amusement for the entire family.

As in the past, all those desiring to go to the Beach should meet promptly at 8 A. M. at the High School on Sunday morning, July 17, and leave Taneytown in their respective cars, in a group. This outing, which is for the entire family, has been well attended in the past, and an even larger group is expected this year.

In the event some of the members are unable to leave with the group at 8 A. M. they may meet with James Fair at the school, at 10 A. M. sharp, and proceed from there to the Beach. Pack your basket lunch and your swimming gear and we'll see you at 8 A. M. sharp on Sunday, July 17th, at the High School, for another grand day at Beverly Beach.

Plans have been completed for the Chambers summer outing and tickets for this affair are available from Vice Pres. Raymond J. Perry. Members who are planning to attend on Thursday, August 25, 1960 are requested to secure your tickets at the earliest possible date so that transportation may be arranged.

Farmers are always admired, but never envied.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Returning from St. Pete to Jacksonville, Fla., a man called out, "Free orangeade is being served to the train guests!" This was quite a surprise as I never knew previously with all the traveling that the Pennys gave out anything for free!

When the orange juice was passed around, it was warm and it had been left over from the dining car which was to be taken off! Ugh! Going down just before arriving at Jacksonville, a representative of "Coppertone Suntan Lotion" presented a free sample to each guest and on it was — "Compliments of Seaboard Airline Railroad—the route of Courteous Service"—Whee! Nuff Sed! No service is as fine as the B & O and Your Observer will remain right at home rather than ride on the Pennys and I heard a number of others state the same right there. If you can't go B & O it is best to drive!

If you are having guests this summer, folks and you want to give them a real Sea food dinner (of which Maryland boasts) by all means dine at 40 Fathom Seafood House 10 N. Liberty Street. (a few feet from the Universal Optical Salon) Ummm good!

The Chiropractor (for those hurty feet) is still right above Lexington Street in the 200 block of Liberty Street. Dr. Grooms. The white sign is right outside and you cannot miss. You do not have to make an appointment—just walk up one flight of stairs. He has been in that one office for FORTY years! He really treats your feet like babies! Everyone loves him. And be sure, folks these days, place your shoes in the closet and go barefoot.

Dresses seem to be plentiful in all the stores and at fabulously low prices on sale. And while in town, Ladies don't forget your grand free face-do at the Torner Shop in Hochild's. It surely will give you a liferuler!

Two splendid shows are in town. Lana Turner in "Portrait in Black" and they say she will clear about four million with that one. She is truly a beautiful woman in fact much better looking than her other late picture. The gowns are dreamy and that will please the ladies.

"Ice Palace is at the Century and the acting is a wow! Don't miss it!"

A new bread is now on the market so word comes from Philly which is a protein bread called, "V-10". More about that in a later column!

For more zestful living those "Niagara" chairs are still going over big—the kind that Arthur Godfrey uses daily for health. When next you purchase a lounging chair investigate in this wonderful chair for it will answer the living room chair plus the health chair. It is now used in over one million homes and they are really beautiful in any color desired.

This 4th of July there was quite a difference as many flags were displayed from the Baltimore city homes. One thing which was most evident which I have never seen before and that was the teen-agers driving past shooting revolvers out of the windows!

As to your Flag—be sure and make those two additional Stars for the new states and do not discard the flag as there are no dates upon it. To make those Stars is most simple. I called several concerns and they do not sell the stars separately.

And now from Conn.—and the Duke Laboratories comes the finest cream for any skin blemish—called, "NIVEA". Be sure to ask your Druggist about that one. It heals almost overnight.

After bathing, one night, Your Observer used what she thought was the "Evening in Paris" Cologne stick rubbing well all over the body and face. The next day a dreadful rash broke out and not realizing what was the cause, I read the label on the bottle and instead of the Cologne stick, the saleslady had sold me a Deodorant! And that itching and rash kept up for an entire week and I looked as though I had the Chicken-Pox! I purchased "NIVEA" through a friend's advise and the rash was gone the next morning!

So long, folks. Until next week D. V. Have a grand week end.

I am,
Faithfully,
Your Observer.

UNITED CHURCH WOMEN MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the United Lutheran Church Women of Trinity Lutheran Church was held July 13 at 8 P. M. The topic, "Am I Informed?" was presented by Group 4, Mrs. Ernest Dunbar, chairman.

The film, "A People Without Fear" was shown, and portrayed vividly the difference Christian faith makes to those who live behind "curtains" in Germany and Russia, or who face problems of existence beyond human strength in India, Korea and other lands.

The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Stanley B. Jennings. The August meeting will be the annual picnic at Memorial Park August 10 at 6:30 p. m. Group 1 will serve the picnic supper. Group 6 will present the program and present a recreational period.

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

KLAMATH FALLS, ORE., HERALD & NEWS: "...private individuals are having a difficult time trying to save money because it is being sapped away by taxes.

"The strength and the wonder of this nation still rest in the fact that it can offer unique opportunities to rich and poor alike...that a man can rise as far as his ability and his initiative will carry him.

"When you kill this incentive, you have also slain the America that our forefathers hoped for, and that millions of men fought for in the intervening years."

VIRGINIA, MINN., DAILY NEWS: "How tragic for the West that we did not pursue our victory in World War II to the goal which included all of Germany? Our leaders were not smart enough to cope with Stalin and now the world pays."

TONASKET, WN., TRIBUNE: "If everyone engaged in agriculture, including politicians, took the realistic view of the 'farm problem' that the cattlemen do, the problem of the farmers would not seem so insoluble.

"Of all segments of our increasingly complex economy the cattlemen have displayed the greatest grasp of the fundamental facts involved in the immutable law of supply and demand. They want no part of governmental controls or regimentation.

"Just as compulsion in any form is repugnant to all who love freedom, so do the men who ride the range abhor the dictation of bureaucrats."

ORLAND PARK, ILL., HERALD: "It sounds fine to hear that the government is going to pick up the tab for us on this or on that but remember this—the only money a government has comes from its people.

"Anyone who thinks that because he doesn't own real estate or his income is low that he doesn't pay taxes is just living in a fool's paradise."

TEERE HAUTE, IND., TRIBUNE, "It is the business of the Post Office Department to deliver the mail. It is the business of the law to determine what is morally unacceptable for mailing. It is the business of the courts to interpret and clarify the law when questions about what can be mailed arise.

"These distinctions are important. If they are merely acknowledged in theory but ignored in practice, the result will be to place unwarranted powers of censorship in the hands of postal authorities."

HAMILTON, N. Y. WEEKLY: "According to George Gallup, the public opinion pollster, only one U.S. family in nine has taken any steps to prepare for an all-out nuclear war; very few persons have any clear notion of what to do in such an emergency, aside from getting to the nearest shelter or to the basement of their homes. And yet, one person in three believes there is much danger from war. Finally, authorities claim that half the people who would otherwise be killed could be saved if they had proper instruction and had made provision for an emergency."

TOPEKA, KANS., INDEPENDENT: "J. Edgar Hoover, whose experiences with law enforcement and with criminals in every category, rates him as top man in the nation in that capacity—and also perhaps as top man in the Universe, says that the United States should go slow in frowning on capital punishment. There are elements in every nation that demand supreme sternness and the crimes that demand capital punishment is one."

CORVALLIS, ORE., TIMES: "It is interesting to note in a time when states require inspections of almost everything from elevators and boilers to barber shops and cows, that 34 states do nothing in regards to the biggest cripple and killer of all—the automobile."

U. S. News & World Report provides this outlook for the remainder of 1960: "Business will be good, but not booming. The economy, over all, will hold close to present levels. Latest developments suggest no steep climb, no new round of inflation and no major setback this year."

Car Washing Drudgery Ends

"It used to be 'man's work', but a new wash-and-wax liquid just introduced is so easy to apply that even a fair young maid can now wash and wax a car in one simple operation. Wax-O requires no 'elbow grease', no garden hose, no old clothes, no muss, no fuss—just a half pail of water.

Now modern science has succeeded in mixing wax and water—and, for the first time, you can wax your car as you wash it. Development of the revolutionary new formula, which effectively combines cleansing agents with a polishing wax in a water base solution, has been announced by the Simoniz Company, leading manufacturer of polishes and waxes.

This remarkable new liquid product is the result of more than two years of research in Simoniz laboratories, according to Dr. Paul Wenaas, vice president, technical research. It is the first single product developed which actually washes a car clean and also imparts a visible, hard wax finish, he said.

The new product's simple application requires no rinsing, no garden hose, no old "car wash" clothes, and no "elbow grease." Just a half pail of water and some clean, absorbent cloths are needed to apply.

It can be applied with ease by a woman or child as well as by a man, and the user need not get drenched or dirty. The entire process takes no more time than just washing the car.

A four-ounce can is poured into a bucket, and one gallon of water added. One section of the car is washed with a cloth saturated with the solution. Next, the surface is wiped off, removing dirt, grime and moisture. The wax remains, leaving a high polish when it is buffed with a clean, dry cloth.

The company disclosed that its chemists prepared and tested 307 different formulas "mixing wax and water" before Wax-O was perfected.

The secret of the new formula involves a chemical "double play." During the washing stage, the heavy wax content is suspended in an emulsion, permitting the cleaning agents to perform. When the moisture and dirt are removed, the wiping down process converts the emulsified wax to an insoluble substance which remains on the car, ready to give a shining gloss finish.

Dr. Wenaas said it is especially effective on the new "miracle" melamine and acrylic finishes, cleaning them and giving them a protective covering of wax which not only adds to the gloss but also preserves it. It also is effective on chrome and other metal trim.

Come Over to Our House!

DON'T STOP SEEING YOUR FRIENDS THIS SUMMER because it's hot and you're in a lazy mood. Instead, invite them over for a snack with a cool, refreshing drink such as this Tangerine Pineapple Punch. Cookies or pretzels with this are sufficient for a snack.

The punch is easily prepared with the new tangerine-flavored instant soft drink mix. It's pretty and colorful, too, served from a large bowl with plenty of ice cubes. Lemon or Lime slices or both add a bit of extra color and flavor.

TANGERINE PINEAPPLE PUNCH

- 1 package Tangerine
- 2 cups pineapple juice
- Kool-Aid Soft Drink Mix 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 quarts water with ice cubes.

Combine all ingredients. Stir until soft drink mix and sugar are dissolved. Makes about 2 1/2 quarts, or about 10 servings, 8 ounces each.

Nixon Policies Are Outlined in New Book

"We must have the courage to take firm and clear positions on the great issues of our times."

"It is the responsibility of a leader to lead public opinion—not just to follow it."

"We politicians, Republicans and Democrats both, owe it to our country and to the principles we stand for to put on nothing less than a fighting, hard-hitting campaign on the great issues confronting the nation. That is the kind of campaign we are going to have."

These are the words of Vice-President Richard M. Nixon in a new book published this week. The Challenges We Face, compiled by the editors of McGraw-Hill from the speeches and public papers of the Vice-President during the years 1956 to 1960, covers a vast range of leading issues—from personal observations of Khrushchev to civil rights, from U.S. defense policy to a detailed prescription for sustained economic growth. And without equivocation, the Vice-President lays down the guide-lines for a program of action in nearly every major area of public policy.

The publishers have re-arranged and pieced together material drawn entirely from the public record into a consistent presentation of the Vice-President's views to date. The result—officially authorized for publication by the Vice-President—is a systematic statement of government and of the major principles on which he bases his policy recommendations.

There are two keynotes to his views. In the area of foreign policy and national defense, it is the principle of "strength for peace and freedom"—maintaining overwhelming American deterrent power "in the cause of freedom, worldwide." "The American challenge in the next half-century," in Nixon's words, "is to fulfill the mission implicit in the . . . American revolutionary tradition" so that "throughout the world, nations have the right to be independent" and "individuals to be free." This "American revolutionary tradition" is, in his view, "the real way of the future."

In the field of domestic policy, the Vice-President affirms his "unshakable faith that the way to achieve our goals is by the free choice of millions of individual consumers" and "by the productive efforts of free management and labor." He argues that our phenomenal national development has been a case of "growth with and because of freedom"—with the role of government one of support and stimulation of individual and private initiative.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kahelin of Plant City, Florida, couldn't be happier with the way their new Corvair has worked out as a combination family and business car. On their newspaper distribution route alone they travel more than 400 miles a week over all kinds of roads. Little wonder they're so pleased with the gas mileage they've been getting—"at least twenty-three miles to the gallon with an automatic transmission . . . and we've had no trouble with our Corvair." The Kahelins have equally good things to say about Corvair's easy-going comfort and unique convenience features. They especially like the way the fold-down seat doubles as a built-in baby sitter.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

James Conant, distinguished scholar and former president of Harvard College, speaking on the subject of High Schools once said that any High School that did not have one hundred students in its senior class shouldn't exist as a senior high school. We think he is correct and that is why we approve of what the school officials and commissioners are doing in our county. If we keep in mind the welfare of our children instead of the supposed prestige of our own particular community, we will be realistic about the situation. The Francis Scott Key was built and equipped to serve three communities, and do it well. It cost the taxpayers over a million dollars, but it serves three localities. It will save the citizens a great many tax dollars. The primary purpose of a school is to educate its students. It matters little where it is located just so boys and girls are given an adequate education so that they can grasp the problems that they will have to meet. No one community has its own set of problems for every town, hamlet and city in America have the same problems. We all know that this scientific age calls for quite an elaborate science laboratory in the schools. A small school cannot be equipped with this expensive material but one serving a large group of students justifies the expense. Change is necessary. Unfortunately some of us fight it for one reason or another. For those who want to cling to a small high school all that is needed to prove how wrong they are is for them to send a son or daughter to college where they are forced to compete with students from large city schools. After they watch the struggle their children put up just to maintain a passing grade they will wish their son or daughter could have attended a grade A school too. Remember how sentimental some of us were over the abolition of the Little Red school house? It served its purpose when all a person needed to learn were the three R's. The small high school has also served its purpose. Let's face the facts. The supermarkets have replaced the small stores, the drive-in movie-houses and the large farms have taken over the small ones. Everything is changing. No town should feel that it is an island all to itself. Some of its citizens may want to cling to its own particular way of life but life itself has a way of catching up with each of us. Why not accept it gracefully and work together for the good of the many?

Unless news sources are entirely wrong, it looks like the Democrats are not going to have a fight at their convention after all. According to the dispatches this Monday morning Kennedy is in. But the convention hasn't even started and like a horse race, the favorite sometimes can be out of the money. Our favorite is Stevenson and although we know its an impossibility we would like very much to see a Stevenson and Rockefeller combination. Both men are liberals and know what is best for our country. But the best men don't always get nominated or elected. Our method of nominating men for the presidency could be improved upon, and maybe in the future we will be forced to find a different method of selecting our presidents.

Two smartly dressed female tourists in a car with an Eastern state license tag somehow got off the highway far enough to become stuck in a mud hole. A cowboy rode up. Before he could offer help, the driver called, "What'll you charge to pull my car out?" Ignoring what he regarded as an insulting question, the rider got off his horse, jacked up the rear of the car, scooped out mud, and jammed rocks and branches under the wheels. Meanwhile, he could hear the driver audibly worrying how much she might have to pay him. Tying his lariat to the front bumper, he remounted, advised the driver to get the motor gently when she saw the rope tighten, and quickly rolled the car out of the hole. When he came back to untie his rope, the woman vaguely waved a five-dollar bill in his direction. "It was a lot easier than I expected," she said. "I don't believe you really earned this, but it's the smallest I have." "Keep it, madam, the cowboy said dryly. "I would have done the same for a cow."

Several days before July 4th we passed the birthplace of Francis Scott Key near Keyville and noticed the flag flying gaily from the pole on the spot. It was tattered and torn though still flapping gallantly in the breeze. At this momentous period in our country's history it seemed a poor symbol of respect to our own country's dignity to allow the flag at the birthplace of our nation's greatest hero to become ragged before being replaced. It makes no difference who is responsible for keeping the flags flying at our national shrines, every American should be interested enough to see that our National symbol is displayed correctly and with dignity. When we display our flag torn and faded it just seems the respect of our people are at a low ebb and they don't believe too much in what the flag stands for. It is my belief that the American Legion or the Veterans of Foreign War would concern themselves with replacing flags at our shrines before they become shredded by wind and rain.

The Kutztown Pennsylvania Dutch Folk Festival attracted over 103,000 visitors during its eight day meeting. Quite a few persons attended the festival from Carroll County. The main attraction seems to be the food. According to reports people ate their way through mountains of ham, baked potatoes, pickles, apple sauce, pies and bread. The Pennsylvanians worked around the clock to keep the food supply replenished.

This is the time of year when children of all ages hunt for a swimming pool or a stream of water to play in. For this reason every child should be taught to swim just as he is taught to walk. Playing in water is dangerous, even a small amount of it. The Red Cross offers free swimming lessons every summer and every parent should see that their children take advantage of them. Too many children each summer lose their lives by drowning. Most of them didn't know how to handle themselves in the water.

Ft. Detrick, located near Frederick, Md., is still being picketed by about 16 persons from many states in protest against chemical and biological warfare. Most of the picketers are professional people including doctors, ministers, scientists and teachers. Education is the greatest defense of a nation. . . . and the cheapest.—Ruth Roleke.

Women's Travel Authority
When To Trade It In?

Every woman enjoys a change-of wardrobe, of hairdo, of furniture—and the family car. When is the best time for a trade-in? Statistics show that—for low-priced cars—the best time is when the car is about 31 months old.

Two chief things to consider when thinking of a trade-in are maintenance costs and depreciation. On the average, a car that costs $2300 when new, if driven 15,000 miles a year, costs about $60 for maintenance the first year, about $112 the second. The maintenance cost jumps to $180 in the third year. It reaches a top of $325 at 60,000 miles. Even in its first year, a low-price new car depreciates about 27 per cent—just because it's not "new" any more. In the second year, depreciation averages 16 per cent, then 12 per cent, then 10 per cent. When your car is 2 1/2 years old, figure carefully what it's costing you, and how much it's worth. It might be false economy to keep the old car.

Beware of 2-for-1 & "Free" Paint Deals

When you buy paint, be sure you select one that gives your home long-lasting protection and retains its color brilliance for years. If you buy an inferior paint, you will have to repaint years sooner than if you had bought a quality product, warns General Joseph F. Battley, president of National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Since the cost of applying paint—either the painter's charge or the value of your own labor—runs several times the cost of the paint, what you "save" by using inferior paint is lost many times over because of the need to repaint soon, General Battley explained.

Unfortunately, it is not possible to tell how a paint will perform by looking at it or even by reading the formula. How, then, does one select quality? "It's actually easy," General Battley says. "The raw materials used to make quality paint are expensive. This means that good paint cannot be sold on the basis of two cans for one or be given away 'free.' It follows that a paint sold on two-for-one, extra-gallon-free and similar deals is undoubtedly inferior paint. "Why pay for a mink and get two skunks?" General Battley asks.

Put A Pink Cap On A Creamince Pie

Like your pies light and palatable? You should, for they rate high on the dessert list and are particularly favored by men. A new pie with a flavor very similar to popular Nesselrode is recommended by the Borden Kitchen. It is a Pink Capped Creamince Pie. It consists of three layers. The bottom layer is a luscious cream made with a "magic" ingredient—sweetened condensed milk. This layer is covered with rum-flavored mince meat. Then, top all with a cherry-flavored whipped cream. Pink Capped Creamince Pie is the dessert to serve the VIP of the house—or when he plans to bring home important business guests.

- Pink Capped Creamince Pie (Makes 9-inch pie)
1 baked 9-inch pastry shell
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
1 (15-oz.) can Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk
1 egg, separated
1 (9-oz.) package None Such Mince Meat
1/2 cup light rum
1/2 pint (1 cup) heavy cream
1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar
1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries, well drained
Whole maraschino cherries, optional
Shaved chocolate, optional
Soften gelatine in cold water in top of double boiler. Let stand 5 minutes. Stir over hot water until dissolved. Add sweetened condensed milk and beaten egg yolk. Stir over ice water about 2 minutes until mixture thickens slightly. Beat egg white until it forms soft peaks; fold into chilled mixture. Pour into pie shell. Chill 15 minutes. Break mince meat in small pieces in a saucepan; add rum. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Cool slightly. Spread on pie filling. Chill. Whip cream with confectioners' sugar; fold in chopped cherries. Pile on top of pie. If desired, garnish with whipped cream, whole cherries and shaved chocolate.

Getting Ready to Launch HOPE

Everything's a jumble now, but come September the SS HOPE will be newly outfitted and set forth to Southeast Asia on a dramatic medical training mission. The mothballed Navy hospital ship is being readied in a Seattle shipyard. It will carry 100 American medical people to Indonesia and Viet Nam, bringing modern medical knowledge and techniques. The project is supported by business, labor and the public. Contributions may be sent to HOPE, P.O. Box 9803, Washington 15, D.C.

False Security

Lesson for July 17, 1960

ALARM whistles blew, sirens sounded, signals flashed. The whole city should have been in an uproar, but it was going about its business as usual.

Dr. Foreman

That little story, if true (it got into the newspapers at one rate), shows up very nicely the American state of mind.

As It Was, So It Is

The prophet Amos, speaking for God, faced a nation (Israel) smaller than ours by far, but just as complacent, just as sure that nothing could go wrong.

Wealth and Culture

The little country of Israel was not only safe at the moment from military attack, it was prosperous. People built homes of ivory—that is to say, decorated with ivory in a lavish way.

The Enemy Within

After all, enemy armies were not the greatest danger to Israel as a nation. When a wind blows down a tree in the forest, we say that the wind was to blame.

Twenty years of growth is the record claimed for the national 4-H clothing award program which today involves nearly three-quarters of a million girls between 10 and 21 years of age.

This report comes from the National 4-H Service Committee which developed the program over two decades ago in cooperation with the Extension Service.

Right now across the nation young seamstresses are putting the finishing touches on skirts, dresses and coats.

Many hopeful models also are rehearsing for a fashion show and exhibit of their handiwork in competition with other club members for county, state and national 4-H clothing awards provided by Coats & Clark.

For more information about joining a 4-H Club contact the county Extension agent.

Apple Butter - Spreads 'N Fillings

In bygone days, it was common practice to cook apple butter for six or eight hours. The recipe given below doesn't take so long because the quantity is smaller and less cider is used. If you can't come by sweet cider, substitute apple juice plus 4 or 5 drops of red food color.

Better make an extra batch or two to use for pie filling. For a nine inch pie, add a few dates or raisins, chopped nuts if you have them, and a dab of dairy butter to two cups homemade apple butter. Your favorite lunch toter will surely bless you if the pie shows up as halfmoons or turnovers. For these, cut pastry into rounds or squares, put spoon of apple butter filling slightly below the center, dampen edge of lower half of pastry with water, and fold upper half over lower. Seal edges together by pressing with fingertips or fork. Prick with fork. Bake in hot oven for 10 or 15 minutes, or until brown as liked.

To Make Apple Butter—Wash, drain and slice 6 pounds (about 1/2 peck) tart apples into kettle. Add 1 pint cider and cook until apples are mushy. Press apples and juice through sieve to remove skin and seed. Boil apples until thick, then add 1 1/2 teaspoons ground cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon each cloves and salt and from 1 to 3 cups sugar, brown or white, to suit your taste. The general rule is 1/4 cup sugar to 1 cup sieved apple, but you may prefer more or less. Cook mixture until thick enough to round up in spoon. Watch it! Takes a heap of stirring to prevent sticking and scorching. Butter spatters, so stir with long handle spoon or paddle. Pour boiling hot butter into fruit jars. Put Dome Lid on jar; screw band tight. Process pints and quarts 10 minutes in a boiling-water bath.

Sets New World's Outboard Speed Record

SEATTLE, WASH.—A new world speed record for outboards is set by Burt Ross, Jr., Spokane, Wash., salesman, as he pilots this hydroplane powered by a production 60-cubic-inch Mercury outboard motor through a one-kilometer course on Seattle's Lake Washington at an average of 115.547 mph.

Ross, who went faster than any outboarder in history, eclipsed by almost eight mph the old internationally-recognized world record of 107.9 mph. He exceeded all but three of the largest inboard motorboat speed records set with engines at least 400 per cent larger than Ross' Mercury.

Ross' run establishes a new Union of International Motorboating (UIM) Class X outboard speed record. His 14-foot-hydroplane was built by Ted Jones, famed designer of Gold Cup speedboats. It is of streamlined three-point cab-over design with the pilot placed well forward in the hull. At full speed (above), the entire hull rides out of the water with just the lower half of the propeller biting below waterline.

Ross also bettered the National Outboard Association's speed mark of 114.6 mph set recently by a specially-modified 90-cubic-inch engine which had 50 per cent greater displacement than the 60-cubic-inch Mercury. The NOA unlimited class speed marks, not recognized internationally, allow engines of any size, while official UIM international rules limit displacement to 61 cubic inches.

The new official international record was timed and observed by American Power Boat Association officials. Following the runs, and in accordance with UIM and APBA rules, the engine was inspected by officials and found to be a stock Mercury Mark 75H.

New Trick Cuts Silage Loss

From the time of the first American farm silo, erected in Maryland in 1876, until quite recently, one big problem has plagued silage production — spoilage.

The latest techniques show that this loss can be virtually eliminated through use of black Du Pont polyethylene film for silo caps or covers, plus good planning and care.

Here's how. Check your county agent or state university on correct silo size for your herd, and the procedures and additives required for making the best quality silage from the forage to be used. Be sure to pack rapidly and well to expel as much air as possible.

Tower Silos. Cut circle of four mil black Du Pont polyethylene film two feet greater than inside diameter of silo. Press down tightly over silage. Turn edges up. Weight down (old rubber tires are excellent).

Bunker Silo. Slope top of pile so that rain and seepage can drain away. Round and smooth top and open end of pile, cover with six mil black Du Pont polyethylene, allowing one foot excess on each side. Turn edges up to form drain gutter.

Trench Silos. Fill so that the top and edges of pack are slightly higher than ground level. Slope for drainage. Cover with six mil black Du Pont polyethylene, wide enough to extend several feet beyond trench sides. Cover edges with earth. Weight down top. Fence off animals.

Stack Silos. Round top and smooth sides for good drainage. Cover whole stack tightly with six mil black Du Pont polyethylene, allowing two foot excess all around. Bury edges, weight top and sides. Fence off animals. Remember: Keep silo closed, tight until ready to start feeding. Then keep feeding silage at steady rate until used up.

Mr. Richter will assume his duties as Superintendent of Schools in Talbot County on August 1 and expects to move his residence to Talbot County as soon as possible. His wife, the former Marjorie McWilliams, has been a very successful teacher in the Westminster East End Elementary School.
