HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

Thoughts on Thanksgiving
As another year draws to a close, it is indeed appropriate to offer thanks to God for His blessings.

There are, however, some persons who wonder if they have anything to be really thankful for. These are the people who believe that the world in which they live is the result of chance, that they are mere accidents in the universe. Others feel that they have no destiny other than to suffer cold and heat, sickness and old age, unsatisfied hunger and thirst, wars and depressions, and death and extinction. For such persons there is nothing in human life worth being grateful for.

But, in reality, everyone has some big gifts for which he can be thankful. Everyone has a Creator who is also a Father to all human beings. All men have been endowed with freedom, especially we in these United States. Every human being has been created, not for a paradise in this world, but for a heaven in the next. God may permit poverty, sickness, wars, fatal accidents, and catastrophes in this world, but He never deprives anyone of anything that is really needed to earn a happy eternity. For all these gifts gratitude is always due to God. The real spirit of gratitude is not made up of mere words; it comes from the heart. Like the love that lives in the heart, gratitude tries to prove itself by action. Moreover, genuine gratitude has within it sorrow for having been ungrateful in the past, for having taken God's goodness for granted. It has within it the hope and desire to be ever grateful in the future.

Let us, then, ever thank the Lord for His goodness to us.

School will close for the Thanksgiving vacation on Wednesday, Nov. 23, at 3:30 p. m. It will re-open on Monday, Nov. 28, at 8:00 a. m.

The grading period for the second six weeks will end on Wednesday, Nov. 30. All parents are urged to check with their children to see if all of their required work has been completed satisfactorily.

On Dec. 9th the Student Council will sponsor the annual Talent Show. This gives the pupils a chance to show what their talents are and helps them to develop poise.

Mrs. Barnes and Mr. Starnier of the Office of Employment Security administered the General Aptitude Test Battery to the Seniors Monday, Nov. 21. This test in conjunction with the Kuder Preference Record (interest inventory) is valuable for guidance purposes in discussing further plans with the Seniors.

On Saturday, Nov. 19, several members of the Taneytown Chapter of F. T. A. went to Morgan State College in Baltimore for the Maryland Association of Future Teachers of America Convention. Those who went from Taneytown High were Emma Jane Formwalt, Norma Willet, Jean Howarth, Valerie Nusbbaum, and James Carl. Miss Georg, the Club's advisor, accompanied the group.

The club program got off to a good start on Wednesday, Nov. 16, with seventeen different organizations.

This club program is designed to be of interest to young people. It is organized as an internal part of the school program and provides opportunity for students to engage in a leisure time activity. These clubs provide and encourage students to develop new interests which thus broaden their fields of activities.

The program provides for associations of students across class limitations. In one club may be found students from all grades engaged in a common activity. This is an important factor in personality development and social living.

Activities carried on in a club program are ones which are not to be found in regular classrooms. This program is designed toward the aesthetic aspects of life rather than toward the utilitarian.

Terra Rubra Girls 4-H Family Night

The Terra Rubra Girls held their second 4-H Family Night since they were organized. It was held on the twenty second of October at 8:00 p. m. in Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilhide's basement.

Lois Priest acted as the Master of Ceremonies. She opened the program by giving a welcome. The group sang the "Star Spangled Banner", after which the 4-H repeated the pledge and the Bible Verse. Following that was a demonstration on electricity given by Debbie Sappington. Next came a play in which Louise Nelson, Mary Jane Smith, Ruth Smith, Jane Wilhide, Donna Six, Libby Repp and Marion Priest took part. The 4-Hers next sang the Battle Hymn of the Republic with the audience participating in the second time through. The highlight of our show was next. Miss Arnita Dell showed her slides from Chile. She was an International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) person in 1959. Her visit was to Chile where she lived with different Chilean families. After the slides were shown, Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Ronnie Green presented a demonstration on the Indoor Flower project of 4-H. Refreshments were served and displays made by the 4-Hers were shown. I can truthfully say that everyone had a nice time and it was a happy and wonderful success.

MORE AGAINST FLUORIDATION

Many Facts Presented by Neal Powell

The Pro Fluoridationists have been harping with the same old zeal that Fluoridation is perfectly safe. They cite as an example the fact that 1137 communities in the United States, as of January '56, have artificially fluoridated water supplies. They don't tell you that in 95% of these cases Fluoridation was started without the knowledge or consent of the residents of these communities. They don't tell you that the count of 1137 communities has been arrived at by counting most cities as a number of "communities." Easton, California, for instance was listed as 8 communities. They don't tell you that over 2,000 communities, after hearing both sides of the story, voted overwhelmingly not to fluoridate. They don't tell you that 75 U. S. Cities put Fluorides in their water—but stopped it when they learned the truth about Fluoridation. Among these 75 cities - LaCrosse, Wisconsin; Akron, Ohio; Greensboro, North Carolina; Wichita Falls, Texas; St. Maries, Idaho; Bay City, Michigan; Hinton, West Virginia; etc.

Mention was made that in Colorado Springs whose water has natural fluorine in the amount of 2.6 ppm, a lower rate of dental decay may be expected to continue into the fifth decade of life. It seems strange indeed to me that this should even be mentioned when all the public schools in Colorado Springs have de-fluoridation equipment which removes the Fluorine from the water which the children drink while they are in school. Somebody out there is even afraid of natural fluorine. May I point out here that Professor H. V. Smith, former biochemist at the University of Arizona and an associate report studies regarding the relative toxicity of various fluorides in the experimental feeding of rats. They found, for instance, that sodium fluoride is 85 times more toxic than calcium fluoride, as determined by lethal dosage. The obvious reason for this disparity is the fact that sodium fluoride is very soluble, whereas calcium fluoride is practically insoluble (Sodium fluoride is the form used in artificial fluoridation, while calcium fluoride is found in natural waters.) It follows then, does it not, that artificially fluoridated water is considerably more dangerous than naturally fluoridated water.

I am still asking for irrefutable facts proving Fluoridation's safety and worth. They have not been forthcoming.

The proponents of Fluoridation still encourage us to accept with blind faith, the endorsement of certain national organizations and/or associations. Errors have been made in the past. Let me site just a few.

A generation ago an attempt was made by legislation to put iodine in the public drinking water as a preventive of goiter, and it was sponsored by the U.S. Public Health Service. It was actually done in some communities, notably in Rochester, New York. But, in a short time it was discovered that, instead of preventing or curing goiter, the addition of iodine encouraged the development of goiter and the process was immediately stopped.

In 1954, (May 25, 26, and 27) Congressional hearings were held on the subject of fluoridation of water, and one of the people who testified against fluoridation was Dr. C. T. Betts, a dentist of Toledo, Ohio, who said,

Governor Urges Support of Christmas Seal Campaign

Citing Maryland's consistently high incidence of tuberculosis cases and deaths, Governor J. Millard Tawes today urged support of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association's annual Christmas Seal Campaign. This year, the 54th campaign will run from November 14 through Christmas Day. It is the only support of tuberculosis control program conducted throughout the year by the association and its 22 affiliates in the counties.

In his proclamation which recognizes the opening of the campaign, Gov. Tawes and these tuberculosis control programs are practical in nature. In part, they consist of case-finding activities in which the associations conduct their own programs in addition to giving assistance to programs conducted by city, county and state health departments. Other Christmas Seal services mentioned by the Governor include medical research projects conducted within the state, personal services to hospitalized patients and their families, grants to individuals and organizations pursuing tuberculosis control programs, educational programs for schools and general public and medical social work services.

The proclamation stated that Maryland has been noted as a high incidence of Tuberculosis area for many years by the United States Public Health Service. All Christmas Seal services are offered in local levels in order to meet the particular needs of the community.

Governor Tawes concluded by urging Maryland residents to support these programs by using Christmas Seals on all their mail and packages.

UNSIGNED LETTERS

Frequently our office receives letters for publication unsigned. All letters should be signed, especially controversial articles. All articles signed will be published, if possible. If the name is not to appear with the article, just write "do not use my name" and your wish will be respected. If you wish your name to appear at the end of the article just say so.

We received many good articles or letters, and as they were not signed, we were unable to use them. It is all articles or letters to the editor be signed as a gesture of good faith.

An attractive widow isn't—not for long!

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning. A smile that shall last until the next day's dawn. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

A grand Thanksgiving Day to you and you and you! Be happy for your many blessings and always remember if you have had some heartaches that it all could be much worse.

And thinking about our next Holiday that of Christmas by all means when sending out those greeting cards, be sure and sign your name and even add a few words instead of that cold printed name at the bottom. The Almanac states we are to have a GREEN Christmas! When I was a little girl all the Christmases were white ones! Remember? If you do not know what to purchase the best lady in your life (and if she is a lover of birds and animals) why not a Canary? I would not know what to do without Caruso for he is surely worth his song in gold!

A very beautiful letter arrived from Joan Crawford and in it she states she has just finished filming a "Zane Grey Theatre" which will be on T.V. in January and she knows that I am going to enjoy that one as the story is most intriguing and she loved making it. So watch for that one, Folks. Her letter is nice and newsy as she is going to spend a few days in Palm Springs with the Jack Webbs.

And as for a wonderful Movie—don't miss "SUNRISE AT CAMPO-BELLA" at the New Theatre. In this picture it shows Ralph Bellamy with the awful Polio victim of the late F.D.R. It will convince you how much can be accomplished even with that dreaded disease as it did F.D.R. when he is robbed of the use of his legs. The resemblance to F.D.R. is simply outstanding as Ralph Bellamy impersonates every characteristic of our late President. The story begins at the summer home at Campobella where the family is vacationing where the future President is stricken with a chill at first, ending up being ripped. His life long friend aides him in every way and which is a cherished friendship. Greer Garson takes the part of Mrs. E. Roosevelt, the wonderful patient, brilliant and devoted wife. Even to the expression of the mouth is like Mrs. E. Roosevelt. I will not go into detail but do not miss that one by all means! It is such

Social Security Amendments

Under the 1960 Social Security Amendments, approximately 250,000 people—disabled workers under 50 years of age and certain of their dependents—are now eligible for social security benefits. Until now only those disabled workers between 50 and 65 and their dependents were eligible for monthly social security payments.

If you are under 50 and have already had your social security record frozen, you will receive a letter explaining the new benefits and what you need to do about getting them for yourself and your dependents.

Do not get in touch with your social security office at this time. It will only delay the district office in taking action to get checks to you and others who are eligible for payments under the new law.

However, severely disabled workers under 50 who have worked under social security, but have never applied to have their social security records frozen, should get in touch with their nearest social security district office now to inquire about their rights to payments.

To qualify for disability insurance benefits, a disabled worker must be so severely disabled that he is unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity. In addition, he must have worked under social security for at least 5 years out of the ten years before he became disabled.

Benefits for disabled persons under 50 and their families can start with the month of October 1960.

THE JOURNEY OF A WHITE GIFT

The annual "White Gift" service of Grace United Church of Christ will be held in the Sanctuary of the church on Sunday evening Nov. 27th at 7:30 p. m.

The service unfolds the story of Omar, a saddle maker, who had inherited a priceless pearl which had been in his family for many years. This gem, which Omar wore around his neck in a chamois bag at all times as a good luck stone, eventually was laid at the feet of the Christ Child—Thus is derived the title of our service—"The Journey of a White Gift."

The service is under the direction of Mrs. Otis Shoemaker, Mrs. D. Leonard Reifsnider, and Miss Margaret Shreeve. The public is cordially invited.

THANKSGIVING

There are many things about Thanksgiving that make it my favorite day of the year.

It is a day that brings us closer than any other to the Divine Providence which guides our daily lives. It is a time when we count our blessings and find they outweigh our burdens.

There is none among us but can find good reason for giving thanks, not alone for the food that sustains us physically but also for the spiritual strength to face the future with renewed confidence.

It is good to take inventory at least once a year, and to bow our heads in gratitude and thanksgiving for both the material and spiritual blessings we enjoy in our daily lives.

Origin of Thanksgiving
We think of Thanksgiving as an American institution, originated less than 300 years ago by the Pilgrims. The setting aside of one day in each year for special thanks is observed only in America.

But the Bible mentions thanksgiving many times. In it Paul says "Let your requests be made known with thanksgiving." That is, thanks to God should be given at least as often as requests to God are made.

The Bible tells, too, of a day two thousand years ago when the Apostle Paul and Silas were arrested, flogged and thrown into prison, though they had done no wrong.

Their jailors were startled to hear them sing a song of praise and thankfulness to God. They were thankful for the strength His spiritual guidance gave them.

We have that strength in America and in most other parts of the world a hundredfold that which existed among only a few people when Paul and Silas were being persecuted for their Christian beliefs.

Our Cup of Plenty
We in America are fortunate that we live in a land of plenty and in a time of peace. We are grateful that another bountiful harvest provides us with all we can use, plus additional food which we can share with less fortunate people in many parts of the world.

Christ said that as "you do it unto the least of these you do it unto me." This year we have again produced enough food for our own use and, in addition, enough to feed more than 20 million others who need our help.

As a nation of free people we are thankful that today we can enjoy the democratic privileges of freedom, peace and prosperity. As we ask Him for His continued guidance and benevolence, let us this Thanksgiving Day also give Him thanks for the many blessings we enjoy.

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

MENOMONEE FALLS, WIS., NEWS: "If fire strikes your home, first get everyone out of the house. Then call the fire department. If the fire has gained headway, the first two or three minutes after you discover it may be the most important minutes of your life."

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, MINN., JOURNAL: "The average husband worries about what the government spends and what his wife spends. The difference is that he's not afraid to criticize the government."

MIDDLEBURY, VERMONT, INDEPENDENT: "J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, says 'Just as through research and positive action we have isolated and conquered the germs of so many dread diseases, so can we remove the slaughterers who litter our highways with broken and battered bodies. But it cannot be done by showing pity or offering excuses for those who wantonly violate the basic rules of traffic safety."

"Two of the greatest dangers on our roads are the drunken and reckless drivers. Why should anyone feel compassion for them? Their actions show as much disregard for law and order as do the acts of a burglar who follows a carefully laid plan to steal in the night. Also, in many instances, they are a far greater threat to human safety."

CHICO, CALIF., ENTERPRISE-RECORD: "Each year during the observance of National Newspaper Week the newspapers of the nation set aside one day for honoring their newspaper boys, those young independent businessmen who constitute the final link between the newspaper and its subscribers...."

"In all America—according to such leaders as President Eisenhower, J. Edgar Hoover and scores of other top citizens—there is no better value in work training than the lessons of promptness, service, honesty, dependability, courtesy, thrift, obligation, selling and human relations learned by the newspaperboy."

"The young businessmen are learning the basic fundamentals of our business world and our free enterprise system."

ROSHOLT, S.D., REVIEW: "South Dakota motorists had a chance to... sign petitions calling on Congress to drop the four-cent per gallon tax to three cents. Congress originally had promised to drop the tax from four to three on June 30, 1961, after it was enacted a year ago for a 22-month period."

"We didn't see or have a chance to sign one of these so-called petitions. But if the gas tax or any other kind of tax goes down instead of up it will rate headlines along with the first man into space."

TERRE HAUTE, IND., TRIBUNE: "Investigation in one of the country's larger cities has disclosed that only three per cent of persons convicted of vice offenses have received jail sentences. Of these more than a third were jailed because of inability to pay fines. This situation has brought complaints from police officials, who say that light penalties for violations of vice laws makes enforcement work difficult. This police viewpoint is soundly based. Failure of courts to mete out adequate punishment often seems to contribute to an increase in vice offenses."

BEAVER FALLS, PA., NEWS TRIBUNE: "Nikita S. Khrushchev's last stay in this country served a very good purpose. It dispelled any illusions people may have had about his friendliness, created on his official visit a year ago. Frustrated at every turn in his attempt to ride rough shod over the General Assembly, he took off the mask of geniality and showed all the ugliness which hid the man who had butchered his own people in the Ukraine, crushed the youthful patriots in Hungary, and cowed a third of the world's population wherever his sadistic reign is in control."

BOONE, IOWA, NEWS-REPUBLICAN: "When a candidate promises that the federal government will do something for you, that means you'll be sending the money to Washington to pay for that something. And you won't get back many of the dollars you send."

HARTFORD, KY., NEWS: "Roman tax collectors, we learn from Newsweek magazine, nicked Vice Chairman Giovanni Agnelli of Italy's big Fiat auto works a mere $92,000 in income tax on his 1958 salary of $638,000. If Fiat and Signor Agnelli were in Detroit, the magazine points out, his take-home pay would have been $462,000 less -- or about 13 cents per earned dollar."

THE SALVATION ARMY'S APPEAL
The Salvation Army will be conducting its Annual Appeal for funds during the weeks of November 14, through November 26, 1960 according to Miss Maud Manahan acting Chairman for The Salvation Army Service Unit in Carroll County. In making this announcement, Miss Manahan had the following to say in regard to The Salvation Army.

"As we look over the years and realize the great work of The Salvation Army, our hearts are filled with thanksgiving to The Heavenly Father that an organization such as this ever came into being. "In an era of materialism and selfishness, of power politics and heavy armament we need to be reminded that someone still cares about the unfortunate and needy."

"Out beyond the security of our homes," continued Miss Manahan, "many people are trapped in circumstances where they must appeal to others for help. If right now some of these people were knocking at your door you would very likely try to do something for them. That is our American way of life. In times of disaster many organizations pool their resources to assist victims, but little do many of us realize that disaster is striking individuals every day. It may not make the headlines, but disaster is striking individuals today because of fire, death, divorce, drunkenness, etc. It will strike hard in the form of hunger, heartache, hopelessness. It will strike hard but the Salvation Army will be ready, it always is through its program of spiritual guidance and material assistance to meet needs when and where they exist."

"As acting Chairman of the Carroll County Service Unit I want to thank The Salvation Army on behalf of our committee, for giving us the opportunity to serve with their forces in the fight to alleviate suffering and want. As we conduct our Annual Appeal during the month of November, please keep in mind that it is only through your financial help that we can carry on the welfare program of The Salvation Army here in Carroll County. So I urge you, if you have not already done so, to mail your gift today to Mr. Wm. B. Yingling, Treasurer, The Salvation Army, Westminster, Md.

Top Hollywood Star Lineup In 5-Week TV Play Series

Shulton, Inc. made television history last Spring when, by individual negotiation with some 104 network-affiliated and independent TV stations coast-to-coast, they, in essence, put together their own station line-up to show a filmed documentary called "The Race for Space". Shulton had such faith in the film they were willing to undertake this back-breaking job as a public service after the major networks had turned it down on a policy basis.

The result was an unprecedented response from millions of viewers plus immeasurable support from such educational and civic organizations as the National Educational Association, the American Legion, schools, colleges, etc., in the short six or eight week build-up to the one-time showing of the film.

Shulton is famous for many firsts. The company sponsored the first of the Victor Borge specials, the first TV appearance of Danny Kaye, the first Rodgers and Hammerstein musical to be televised — "Cinderella" — and many others.

Now another first. The company is launching a series of five dramatic televised plays under the banner of Shulton Holiday Playhouse over a custom-tailored line-up similar to that created for their space documentary earlier this year.

The TV specials feature a top Hollywood star line-up throughout five weeks beginning November 21. The plays: "The Wonderful World of Little Julius", a "show-biz" story with Eddie Hodges, Gregory Ratoff and Sam Levene; "Ring of Steel", a traveling circus love-drama with Margaret O'Brien and Gerald Charleboise; "Invasion by Three", a real-life derring-do yarn about early Texas with Chuck Connors; "Underwater Agent", based on the celebrated case of the frogman who disappeared in English waters attempting to discover the secret of a mysterious Russian warship, with Reed Hadley; "The Priest and the Parolee", which goes back to the roaring twenties to present a psychological drama featuring Lloyd Nolan as the famous Father Duffy.

After-Holiday Treat

Hi Ho Baked Turkey Ring

Hi Ho Baked Turkey Ring
3 cups leftover roast turkey, finely diced
1 teaspoon instant onion
1 tablespoon dried parsley flakes
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
3 eggs
1 10 1/2-oz. can chicken gravy or 1 1/4 cups turkey gravy (homemade)
2 cups crumbled Sunshine Hi Ho Cracker crumbs
Heat oven to 350°F. (moderate oven). Grease a 1-quart ring mold. Pour 1/4 cup of the crumbs into the mold and shake it to coat the greased sides with crumbs. Combine 1 1/2 cups of the crumbs, the turkey, onion, parsley, salt, pepper and poultry seasonings in a bowl. Beat eggs well; blend eggs and gravy into the crumb mixture and pour it into the prepared mold. Set it in a larger baking pan and pour hot water around it to within 1" of the top of the mold. Bake in preheated oven for 45 minutes. Cool for 5 minutes on a wire cake rack, loosen from pan with a knife and unmold onto serving platter. Sprinkle with the remaining 1/4 cup crumb mixture, if desired, with cranberry sauce. Makes 6 servings.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

More, perhaps, has been written about the Pilgrims than any other small group in our history. And much of it is untrue or colored to suit the whims of the writers. It is about time, we think for the Pilgrims to tell their own story, especially about the first Thanksgiving. The following is a description of the days leading up to the first day of celebration that was later to be our day of thanks for all our blessings. "Indian summer soon came in a blaze of glory, and it was time to bring in the crops. All in all, the first harvest was a disappointment. The twenty acres of corn, thanks to Squanto, had done well enough. But the Pilgrims failed miserably with more familiar crops. Their six or seven acres of English wheat, barley and peas came to nothing, and Bradford was certainly on safe ground in attributing this either to bad seed, or lateness of the season or both. Still, it was possible to make a substantial increase in the individual weekly food rations which for months had consisted merely of a peck of meal from the stores on the Mayflower. This was now double by adding a peck of maize a week, and the company decreed a holiday so that all might "after a more special manner, rejoice together". The Pilgrims had other things to be thankful for. They had made peace with the Indians and walked as peaceably and safely in the woods as on the highways of England. A start had been made in the beaver trade. There had been no sickness for months. Eleven houses now lined the streets... seven private dwellings and four buildings for common use. There had been no recurrence of mutiny and dissension. Faced with common dangers friend and foe had drawn together, sinking doctrinal differences for a time. Nothing had disturbed the peace but a duel, the first and last fought in the colony, with Stephen Hopkins' spirited young servants Edward Dotey and Edward Leister as principals. As the day of the harvest festival approached, four men were sent out to shoot water fowl, returning with enough to supply the company for a week. Massasoit was invited to attend with his family... with ninety hungry braves! The strain on the leader was somewhat eased when some of these went out and bagged five deer. Captain Standish staged a military review, there were games of skill and chance, and for three days the Pilgrims and their guests gorged themselves on venison, roast duck, roast goose, clams and other shellfish, eels, white bread, corn bread, leeks, watercress, with wild plums and dried berries as dessert... all washed down with wine, made of the wild grapes, both white and red, which the pilgrims praised as "both sweet and strong." At this first Thanksgiving feast in New England the company may have enjoyed, though there is no record of it, some of the long-legged turkeys whose speed of foot in the woods constantly amazed the Pilgrims. And there were cranberries by the bushel in neighboring bogs but it is very doubtful if the Pilgrims had yet contrived a happy use for them. Nor was the table graced with a later and even more felicitous invention... pumpkin pie.

automobile accident and became a bitter, self-centered person until she became interested in welfare children and adopted a little girl which brought her a very great happiness. These are mixed blessings and they happen to each one of us.

This weather we are having must be the same kind that the Pilgrims enjoyed when they celebrated their first harvest festival.

Long may America celebrate and enjoy Thanksgiving day but may she never be satisfied until every nation in the world can have its own Thanksgiving too.

Beauty of harvest hillside,
Glory of ripened grain
Fruit of thy love's outpouring
Sunshine and summer rain,
Symbol of all thy goodness
Mercy and grace and love,

Raise me at Autumn's altar,
Incense of praise above
We who are so unworthy,
Thou who art Love Divine,
Forgive—O Lord forgive us,
Order our life's design
Teach us to share the knowledge
Of love and salvation free,
With all our earthly brethren,
Till all are one in Thee.
Daily Thy gifts surround us
Daily our praises ring.
Our prayers, our gifts ourselves,
As Thank Offering we bring.

a different type of Movie and it is interesting from start to finish.

Ladies, large buckles will be worn on Milady's shoes this winter and into the Spring—just like the Puritan type. I still have one pair which are glamorous and have held onto for many years and now will use them on a pair of dark brown suedes.

Visiting a patient in the Harve de Grace Hospital as I stepped out again, there was a young man pacing up and down the pavement smoking a cigarette clutching it nervously between his fingers. "Well, young man, I just know you are an expectant father. Eh?" He seemed glad that I stopped to talk with him as he replied with a trembling lower lip, "Yes, I brought my wife about one hour ago and it is our first!" "Well, don't worry for it will all be over soon. You must think that your wife is only one in millions and she is no different from any other woman. She will be O.K. And it is sweet to have the baby just before Thanksgiving and then for Christmas! Happy days ahead, Father!" He gave me a big broad smile as I walked away.

Here is a cute one—A teacher asked a pupil to describe the circulation of the blood. He answered quickly, "The blood goes down the leg and up the other!" (As told by that nice Sam Levenson on T.V.)

If you are contemplating purchasing a Hide-a-Bed—never, never get a cheap affair. Go "CASTRO" all the way especially if it is to be used every night. Many young couples are renting a one room apartment and purchase one of these big conveniences. They are not alone most comfortable but their beauty and build could not be compared. The company has moved from North Howard Street to the 400 block of North Charles.

A lady asks in a letter what did I think of the election and to this here is my candid opinion! The reason that Senator Kennedy chose Senator Johnson was that he knew then he would not win without that big STATE OF TEXAS! He was a foxy fellow from Massachusetts for without Senator Johnson he feared all would be lost! Senator Johnson is a real fatherly fellow, too and I think you know just what I mean.

Another lady asked if it was really so as a President being impeached. Yes, this was Andrew Johnson in 1867. He was a man who loved liquor and he had an uncontrollable temper and was always at odds and much friction with Congress and the public claimed he was unfit to be a President. However, in the end some how or other through one vote it was all cleared up. Three states were added to the Union during his office—those were Nebraska, West Virginia and Nevada. Alaska was purchased from Russia in 1867, too.

The wonderful and delicious cake, Mrs. Housewife of Ward's Baking Company will soon be on the market for Christmas—that famous "PARADISE FRUIT" Cake and no other can compare. It does not pay you to make one. It comes in a different type of container, too for it can be used as a planter. It is antiqued simulated English Brass which is especially designed in corrosion resistant metal for a beautiful arrangement of green indoor plants. It is like giving two gifts in one!

Well, again Happy Thanksgiving, folks and this year, I am so thankful for the many additional friends who write me due to this Column! Have a grand week end. Until next week D.V.

I am Faithfully,

FLUORINATION

(Continued from first page) "Years ago when I was a young man, the dentists solved many problems temporarily - by killing the nerves of the tooth. It took time to discover the disastrous effect of that mistake." Only a few months ago the American Medical Association and others were saying that the hormone stillbirths used to fatten chickens was harmless. A short time ago the Government announced stilbesterol as a potent cause of cancer and banned its use.

The same thing applies to artificial coal tar coloring chemicals used in foods. The A.M.A. keeps saying they are safe, yet one-by-one, year-by-year, another and then another of these dyes are found to be cancer causes, and removed from the safe list. There are dozens of such examples that could be cited - many of them unfolded in your daily newspapers over the years—so undoubtedly, the readers of this article could contribute other examples of their own.

Following are more newsletters covering various phases of the harmful effects of Fluorides. These newsletters have been furnished me by Mr. J. J. Rodale, of Rodale Press, Emmaus, Pa.

Fluorides Corrode Pipes and Machinery Schenectady, New York

"Please be advised that the corrosion of the fluoride pumps and pipes has rendered this apparatus unserviceable and therefore we have temporarily discontinued the process. We now find that the replacement of this equipment will cost between $25,000 and $30,000 and it will be up to the city council to decide whether or not they wish to make this expenditure and continue fluoridation."

Quoted from a letter dated March 1, 1956 from the City Manager of Schenectady, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin

Lake Geneva voted some time ago to discontinue fluoridation after three years, because of the "dirty" condition of the water as a result of the fluoride program. It seems that, according to the superintendent of water supplies, the fluoride was releasing and loosening mineral deposits formed on the pipes. He asked the city commission to discontinue fluoridation, which they did.

The AMA Admits The Toxicity of Fluorides

The following item is an excerpt from an article printed in the Journal of the American Medical Association for December 19, 1959. We strongly recommend its reading. We reprint only the conclusion of this long article whose subject is "Preventive Medicine, Its Changing Concepts," 1859-1959, by Walter L. Biering, M.D., Des Moines, Iowa. "As we approach the close of the first century of this Section, history appears to repeat itself, in that environment is again given prominence in the causation of disease involving man's management of the health hazards connected with air pollution, stream pollution, fluoridation and radiation."

We have one question to ask, and it is an important question for the future of us all: Why, if fluoridation is perfectly safe, as its proponents state, does the Journal of the American Medical Association mention it as a health hazard comparable to air pollution (lung cancer) stream pollution (typhoid fever) and radiation (leukemia and bone cancer)?"

Dr. Biering tells us that he is worried about the toxicity of more than 1 part per million of fluorides. But how is one to know how much he is getting? The more water you drink, the more food you eat which has been prepared with fluoridated water, the more fluoride you get!

How Much Fluoride Are You Already Getting In Your Food

Laboratory experiments have shown that fluoride in a water supply is concentrated when the water is boiled—in the preparation of food, for example. Chlorine, on the other hand, disappears from water when it is boiled.

The importance of this factor in water fluoridation is underlined by the following letter from the Beech-Nut Packing Company which processes baby food. Here is the letter:

"...when fluorides were added to water in Rochester, N.Y., we found it necessary in our plant in that city to install, at considerable expense equipment for the de-fluoridation of the water where it is to be used in the production of cooked dry cereals... water is added in cooking them to produce a mass of the right consistency to be dehydrated on driers. In the process of dehydration, there is a very substantial concentration of fluoride."

"...we were unable to get the fluoride content of the food down to a point that we feel is a safe one; consequently, we were obliged to install the de-fluoridation equipment. This equipment is somewhat of a nuisance as it is rather new to processing plants, and we have to watch it very closely..."

"We are taking no position on the merits of the (fluoridation) controversy..." (signed) G. W. Sharpe Vice President & Secy.

Any Possible Benefit From Fluoridation Has Been Shown To Be Temporary!

A survey by Smith and Smith of the University of Arizona reported in

FLUORINE AND DENTAL HEALTH published by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, showed the following conditions in St. David, Arizona where the water is naturally fluoridated:

1. In the age group 12 to 14—35% of the children had tooth decay.
2. Above the age of 21 years, all individuals now have or have had decay.
3. Over 70% of the individuals over 24 years of age had lost some of their teeth by extraction after unsuccessful attempts to repair them (mottling results in teeth that will not hold fillings).
4. Fifty per cent of all individuals over the age of 24 had lost all their teeth and are now wearing dental plates.

Are you interested in a future record like this for your city? Does it seem possible that members of the dental profession know these facts and still recommend fluoridation? And if they do not know these facts, how does it happen that they do not? Submitted by

Letter to the Editor

Ilchester, Md. Nov. 14, 1960
Editor, The Carroll Record
Taneytown, Md.

Dear Sir,
Your article, "More on Question of Fluoridation", appearing in the issue of October 20, 1960, appears to me to be extremely one-sided to say the least. This, of course, is understandable since the expert opinions rendered therein stem from Public Health officials and members of the American Dental Association.

It is certainly true that there is an imposing list of medical authorities behind the fluoridation scheme. It should be of interest to both you and your readers that many medical authorities of at least equal qualification are bitterly opposed to the plan. Unfortunately the findings of these eminent authorities are effectively concealed from the public in the United States. This is not true abroad, however; and the enclosed bibliographies will refer to a few of the works which point up the dangers connected with the fluoridation program as well as effectively refute the reckless claims of the proponents.

Regarding your article in more detail, the U. S. Public Health Service itself, one of the most ardent pushers of fluoridation, freely admits that 1 part per million fluoride will result in Dental Fluorosis in a significant number of consumers.

In all my study of this problem, I have never seen a point blank statement by the opposition that fluoride causes cancer, as your article might be interpreted to indicate. However, it is a matter of record the experiments on test animals, performed under carefully controlled conditions by competent medical researchers, have disclosed an alarming increase in cancer incidence when fluoride is consumed.

The claim of "75% reduction in decay of permanent teeth" is seen in the literature to be merely a delaying action with little or no lasting benefit. As a matter of fact, the city of Newburgh, N.Y., after many more years of fluoridation than Baltimore, was reported to have more practicing dentists per unit of population than it had before the start of its program.

In the name of the reputation for complete reporting which your paper enjoys, as well as in the interest of the health of your readers, I urge you to study this matter in its entirety in advance of subsequent articles.

Very truly yours,
L. W. Ballard

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Sir:
The many articles and letters appearing in the Carroll Record concerning fluoridation of Taneytown's water supply have been interesting and it is obvious that both the proponents and opponents of the issue have given much time and study to the merits of the proposal. Again, it is felt that whatever opinion is held, it is conscientiously believed to be in the best interest of the many members of our community, particularly the children.

While discussion of the chemistry and bodily effects of fluorine is again most interesting, it appears that, for most of us, such issues are far above our heads and we shall have to formulate an opinion based upon the recommendations of those whom we consider to be best authorities in the dispute. With this assumption in mind, it is significant that the practice of fluoridation is recommended by the U. S. Public Health Service, American Medical Association, the American Dental Association, the Maryland Health Department, and in our own state has been adopted in Baltimore and surrounding communities, Frederick, Westminster, Hagerstown, Annapolis, Salisbury, Belair, and other communities.

Considering both the source of recommendations and those who have already adopted the measure, fluoridation of Taneytown's water supply seems desirable.

P.T.A.'s Seek New Members In The U.S. - And Overseas

When in Rome—or Oslo or Athens, Fontainebleau or Karlsruhe, Addis Ababa or Reykjavik—American parents and teachers do just about as they do at home: they form a P.T.A.

More than 42,000 P.T.A. members in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers this fall will join in the annual October Membership Month of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Like their nearly 12 million counterparts on U.S. soil, these P.T.A. members who live overseas—from Iceland to the Middle East, most of them on American military bases—will encourage others to "serve where you are: join the P.T.A."

Serving the welfare of American children, wherever they are growing up, is the primary object of the National Congress. It has brought the P.T.A. into many areas of activity during its 63-year history.

—A European program of scholarships, similar to those provided by many state congresses in the United States, this year awarded $500 against tuition to American colleges for seven students; they were graduates of American overseas schools in Nouasseur, Morocco; Stuttgart, Berlin, Bitburg, and Heidelberg, Germany; and Vicenza, Italy.

—Concerned, like other P.T.A.'s, with the interests of mentally and physically handicapped children, the European Congress has initiated a program of special class instruction for these youngsters, providing the funds for additional teacher assistants, helpers, and materials to be used in some 20 schools.

—Foreign language education, a natural interest for children whose parents are assigned overseas, has been a major interest of P.T.A.'s in the European Congress. In Air Force schools, extending from Oslo to Libya and from the British Isles to Saudi Arabia, children in grades 3 through 8 are taking classes in foreign language this year.

—Adult education programs of the P.T.A., which in the U.S.

The midst of Europe's Bavarian Alps—it's a P.T.A. meeting. Mrs. James C. Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, confers with Fred L. Miller, coordinator for P.T.A.'s in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers, during conference in Berchtesgaden, Germany.

usually take the form of study-discussion groups, may become adult self-education in overseas areas, where American military, government or civilian members of P.T.A.'s take advantage of opportunities for learning the language of the country and for studying its cultural assets.

As these P.T.A. members, both teachers and parents, return from overseas assignments, they bring broader understanding of other countries to their state-side colleagues.

"This is one great contribution our European members can make," says Mrs. James C. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress, who acted as a consultant to the European Congress when she attended their convention last April.

"Overseas P.T.A.'s," she points out, "bring to American boys and girls living in other parts of the world some of the home and school experiences they would be enjoying if they lived in the United States."

"The richest result is the relationship between parents and teachers; there is a closer relationship in a foreign environment, because they have so many unusual experiences in common."

The National Congress has always recognized, she says, "that great differences exist among the states and communities"—and still greater ones in overseas communities. But the National Congress program "always allows abundant room for choice" of projects for local P.T.A.'s, serving "as a bank or library of ideas from which the local unit draws to suit its needs."

In its membership programs this October, the P.T.A. card will become "a passport to the best society on earth," says Mrs. Parker, "an organization working in hundreds of ways to create a better world, working for the welfare of all children—for the handicapped, the gifted, the migrant, the delinquent, the average, for all children whether they live in cities, suburbs, rural areas, or on military bases abroad—an organization that cares about the homes children live in, the schools they are taught in, and the neighborhoods they grow up in."

Strength In God

Lesson for November 27, 1960

WHAT IS needed in this world is not always better people. It's people who will stay as good as they are, just a while longer. You have your best moods, don't you? Or if you don't, some people around you surely have some good moments. Suppose those moods lasted longer? Suppose those moments became hours or days? The difference between one really good person and another who really isn't, may not always be that one is good, the other bad. They both may be good, only one of the two is able to stick with it, he has staying power, he doesn't fade; while the other one folds up in a hurry.

Dr. Foreman

Strength Against

When you read the 6th chapter of Ephesians you get the impression that life is a fight, even for the Christian. Yes, that is true, we must say especially for the Christian. The non-Christian doesn't try to swim against the tide, he goes with the crowd. If a man sets out to be a Christian he soon enough discovers that it is no bed of roses. He discovers where strength is needed: for one thing, against the pull of temptation. Strength of body may help, but one's very physical strength may be a source of temptation. Strength of mind may help; but a strong mind again may itself be a temptation to doubt and pride. It is strength inside, strength of spirit, that counts most in the fight against temptation. Many an alcoholic, or others who find liquor a real temptation even if not rated "alcoholics," know how this is! Just to say NO—how hard it is! Other people can help, but the fight is really on the inside of the one who is tempted. The battle-field may be out of sight, but the battle is terribly real.

Strength For—

Just as a Christian needs inner strength to hold out longer against temptation of all kinds, so he needs strength within so as to keep his good intentions going. All of us have generous impulses. We aim to do something for some one. We have a picture of ourselves helping some one out of trouble . . . and that's all it ever is, a picture. We hang the walls of our mind with these pictures of ourselves, all noble . . . but pure imagination. They are pictures of what we intended doing, what we maybe started to do but never finished.

Or perhaps we really do get going on these fine projects, but get too tired too soon. We are like the grain in Jesus' parable that fell on rocky soil. It came up all right, but a few days' sun and it was gone. The good start had no follow-up. There was life in the plant but it had no staying power. What we need is inner strength, the "will that says, Hold on!"

How To Find Strength

One thing strength is kept in mind at all times: inner, spiritual power is not like physical or mental power. Some people are born with better physiques than others. Some are born with high IQ's and the low-IQ people just never will catch up. Not everybody, in short, can be an athlete, not every one can be a "brain." But every one can have the inner strength about which we have been talking. If every one does not have it equally, and some not at all, it is not because any are barred off by God's decree. It is because some do not fulfill the conditions.

The very first condition, and the continuing one, can be put in a question: Do you want it? Here as in other matters, God is more willing to give than we are to receive. We do not have to make ourselves ready or fit before God's spirit comes into our hearts. We do have to do one thing, quite seriously. We must put ourselves at the Spirit's disposal. The Spirit of God will not come to the help of any one who uses, or tries to use, the Spirit for his own private ends. Only the Spirit of God within us is able to give us that inner strength which we so continually need. But the Holy Spirit is not to be bought, wheedled, harnessed or controlled. Only those who welcome the Spirit and yield to Him may have Him.

Mrs. America Partial To Pastry

"We like to do everything together." Those words sum up the spirit that prevails in the household of Mrs. George (Rosemary) Murphy, the Kentland, Indiana mother of five children whose homemaking skills catapulted her to national fame last June as the nation's number one homemaker, Mrs. America of 1961.

Mrs. Murphy, 32, won the coveted crown in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, competing as Mrs. Indiana with finalists from every state and the District of Columbia.

"With five children," says the tall, dark-haired queen of homemaking, "we have had to learn to 'do it ourselves' in work, play and family living."

Husband George is manager of a freight terminal in Kentland, a small community of 2,000 population located some 80 miles south of Chicago. The Murphy's live conservatively in a rambling home and make every dollar count.

During a recent visit to Whirlpool Corp. in St. Joseph, Mich., Mrs. Murphy had occasion to spend considerable time in the firm's home service kitchen. Here, under the direction of home service manager Virginia Van Nostrand, new RCA Whirlpool appliances are put through an array of performance tests designed to supply useful suggestions for eventual owners.

It was in this setting that Rosemary revealed her favorite pastry recipe—grapefruit cake—the same recipe she used incidentally, in her successful quest of the Mrs. America crown in Ft. Lauderdale. Total preparation time in the baking, Mrs. America said, is about 25 minutes, with the baking itself consuming approximately the same amount of time.

Mrs. America Grapefruit Cake Recipe

1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour; 3/4 cup sugar; 1 1/2 tspn. baking powder; 1/2 tspn. salt; 1/4 cup water; 1/2 cup vegetable oil; 3 eggs separated; 3 tblspn. grapefruit juice; 1/2 tspn. grated lemon rind; 1/4 tspn. cream of tartar.

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt in large bowl. Make a well in center of dry ingredients. Add water, oil, egg yolks, grapefruit juice and lemon rind. Beat until very smooth.

Beat egg whites and cream of tartar in medium-sized bowl until stiff but not dry. Pour egg yolk mixtures over whites, folding gently with rubber spatula (mixture). Pour into ungreased 9-inch layer cake pan. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees Fahrenheit 25 to 30 minutes or until cake springs back when lightly touched with finger.

Invert pan on cake rack until cool. Run spatula around edge of cake; carefully remove from pan. Gently cut through cake horizontally with serrated knife to make two layers. Fill and frost with grapefruit, cream cheese frosting.

What About Advertising?

There is no chestnut more over-worked than the critical whinny: "Advertising sells people things they don't need."

We, as one agency, plead guilty. Advertising does sell people things they don't need. Things like television sets, automobiles, catsup, mattresses, cosmetics.

People don't really need these things. People don't really need art, music, literature, newspapers, historians, wheels, calendars, philosophy, or for that matter critics of advertising, either.

All people really need is a cave, a piece of meat and, possibly, a fire.

The complex thing we call civilization is made up of luxuries. An eminent philosopher of our times has written that great art is superior to lesser art in the degree that it is "life-enhancing."

They enhance life, to the degree they can.

Indeed, that is the purpose of our unique and restless economy. It is fundamentally devoted to the production and distribution of things people don't need.

Without advertising that economy cannot exist.
