Meeting of Lions Club

The year 1960 was brought to a close by Taneytown Lions last Tuesday evening, December 27, at their meeting in Taney Inn opened by President Glenn O. Reever with the retional anthem and pledge to the national anthem and pledge to the flag, and a grace said by Murray M. Baumgardner. After Donald R. Lawyer, Lion Tamer, had led in a short round of songs, to the piano ac-companiment of H. I. Reindollar, and everyone had savored the Inn's baked ham dinner, the president read yuletide greetings received from Dis-trict Governor Harry B. Dougherty and Zone chairman Fern L.

Governor Dougherty acknowledged this gesture with appropriate remarks of appreciation for the assistance given him in successfully attaining his high office and bespoke the club's continued backing by a large district convention attendance, and, more especially its financial support and the sending of a suitable delegation to the international convention, both of which are to be at Atlantic City. He invited and received numerous questions on the need for this expenditure, and whether the sense of values was correct in devoting this outlay to Governor Dougherty acknowledged on Sat. An obviously frightened gentleman with an aching tooth went to see his dentist. In order to calm the man the dentist offered him a drink of whiskey The patient tossed it down and had another one. "Now," said the dentist, "got your courage back?"

"Yeah," snarled the patient, "and I'd like to see any so and so touch my teeth!"

Koliday Greetings

What can we say about the New Year—about 1961—that has not been said about other New Years that have gone before? The chance for a "fresh" start; new opportunities; hopes for happiness; wishes for success-all these things are traditional conversation pieces at this time of year.

1961 is a New Year; a bright, fresh New Year....and we should look forward with eager anticipation. We trust that the past year has been a happy and fruitful one and sincerely hope that 1961 will bring even more happiness to one and all.

May the dreams and ambitions that were not realized nor achieved during the past months find their fulfillment in the days

It is our wish that this community and all the grand people who live here will continue to enjoy prosperity-and continued growth, both materially and spiritually. Happy New Year to Watching at my window early Something to my heart was calling. Sped away into the forest, To see the snow on pine woods falling.

Save the winds which seemed to stay, High up among the tree tops Which is the pine woods way. Walking down a lonely pathway, Seemed to hear the snow flakes fall,

When from out the deeper shadows

So quiet, all the woodlands

Came so clear a wood birds call. All so brief the time to linger, Paused to breathe the air so deep, Back to homely duties turning, But the charm is mine to keep, LUCY CUTRIGHT

Carrroll County Budget

The Board of County Commissioners today adopted its budget for 1961, showing the total of prospective revenues from all sources to be the sum of $3,294,900.00. The tax rate for 1961, on real and personal property of individuals, firms and corporations to produce the sum of $2,811,900.00 of the prospective revenues, was fixed at $1.95 per hundred.

The total of budget appropriations was fixed at $3,136,285.50, and a Reserve for Educational Administrative Contingencies was set up in the amount of $33,614.50, and a Reserve for School Construction in the amount of $125,000.00 was included, making the total of estimated disbursements the above sum of $3,294,000.00 keiner the above sum of $3,294,900.00, being the total of estimated income. The appropriation for the operation of our public school system was as

Salaries & Operating Expenses Capital Outlay Debt Service

Total In addition to the above mentioned appropriation of $242,000.00 for Capital Outlay, the Board approved the request of the Board of Education for request of the Board of Education for the sum of $550,000.00 to construct a new 24-room elementary school on the site of the new Junior High School, in Westminster, and also approved a request for $175,000.00 to construct an addition to the Taneytown Elementary School.

Since it is not known just when

Since it is not known just when these two projects will be undertaken or completed, the funds necessary for them were not included in the 1961 levy, but will be provided and made available to the Board of Education as requested by it for this new construction.

new construction.
Out of the above sum of $350,931.50 levied for Debt Service, the sum of $295,294.68 will be paid on account of Carroll County's indebtedness for new school construction, and the balance thereof amounting to $55,636.82 represents interest on this debt of us to realize that our school construction program, as the result of advance planning by the Board of Education and the Board of County Commissioners, working together during the last several years, has kept abreast of the constant expansion in pupil personnel, while at the same time our indebtedness for school construction is being reduced annually No funds have been borrowed for this purpose since the 1956 State Bond Act made available to Carroll County, by loan from the State, sufficient funds to complete the Francis Scott Key High School, and this Board does not foresee at this time any need for other and additional borrowing until the comes pacessary to build a hristmas Tree to be in that area

Carroll County are adequately housed, without crowded or part-time sessions, and it is the feeling of this Board that they are receiving an education of good quality.

The budget of Estimated Revenues and Expenditures, as adopted, is on file in the office of the Commissioners,

New Year's Eve always bring back the nights when all Philadelphia was aglow with the red torches, the shooting of revolvers and the loud cheers of "Happy New Year" in all the neighborhood streets plus an older sister awakening me and placing the quilt around me, and opening the window we would lean on our elbows watching all the excitement. Altrough, we were some distance from the statue of William Penn nevertheless at that part, we could see the glow of red all against the sky and that was when I was about seven! Then, at the age of seventeen we dined at the Belleview Stratford Hotel on New Year's evening and the crowd swung along to the opening of "The Automat" one of those restaurants where you place the nickels and dimes in a slot and out comes the food you do a slot and out comes the food you de-Presently all public school pupils in arroll County are adequately housed, without crowded or part-time sesfamily across the way from our house always asked my eldest bachelor brother to call at their home early in ther to call at their home early in the morning which they stated was for 'good luck'! Now, here is the "Capricorn" sign of those born from December 20 to Jan. 20th. As many Readers continued the request of all the Zodiac. Capricorn, the ruling planet bestows upon the subjects with the most conscientious regard for duties and responsibilities that may rest upon them in fact the world could not go on without these real leaders. Woodrow Wilson and Richard Nixon are two of the greatest examples. They are truly methodical and scientific with highly organized powers of reasoning and business sagacity showing unusual perseverence in whatever they undertake. In fact Capricorn people constitute the essential framework of civilization and they may well be called "the balance of society!" These people never act on the impulse of the moment and they never are demonstrative as they are very, very deep. It is really a joy to have a 'Capricorn' around the house as one can always depend upon them to shoulder any-thing! They are cool-headed and deliberate. They know their real friends and appreciate their friendship. They are most magnetic and people are attracted to them without any effort on their part. These people are the organizers of the world and everything is done with their deep thinking power. They truly are needed in every executive position where hard, sound sense good judgement and systematic management are required. Nothing is too big for them to handle. They always are most persistent and follow any course they have started. Nothing can be stated too highly for the Capricorn and that is for both sexes! I could go on and on, Folks as ialist, Joanne Reitz, at the University of Maryland says you may secure a quite handsome. Candidy---they know of Maryland says you may secure a phamplet called "Where to Write for Birth and Death Records." You can cet a copy by sending fifteen cents of the copy are in the barren season, they they are in the barren season, they should always have heating and stimulating food. Capricorn people always soar to the top in every walk in life. Have a grand New Year Day. Go to church New Year's Eve and then keep it up for all the rest of the year. See you next year D.V. and again the Happiest year ever first of all in HEALTH for then we truly have everything!

RICH SQUARE, N. C., TIMES-NEWS:"The latest time table, measuring United States' chances for survival in the race with the communist world, have been quietly outlined in a joint Army-civilian study...In brief, the estimate is grim. It is that unless the United States changes its ways, recognizes the force which is confronting and challenging it today, it has only approximately seven years of grace left.

"The latest estimate means that the United States is at the crossroads either we make some sacrifices today, tighten our belts and do the job, or risk losing the precious freedom and democracy which we enjoy, and have enjoyed, for almost two hundred years.'

WASHINGTON, IOWA, JOUR-NAL: "Robbing Peter to pay Paul has its disadvantages. It always makes Peter mad, and Paul is seldom satisfied with the settlement."

WILDWOOD, N. J., LEADER: "....For our prosperity and wellbeing much credit is to be given to the fact that our forefathers established this nation on the belief that man is a free agent, responsible for his acts and for his relationship with others; that he is capable of improving his own condition through faith, selfreliance and individual initiative. Had America been established on the false notion that the individual should look to someone else to run his life and provide for him, it is quite certain that today we would be neither free nor prosperous.

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "The management-to refer a dispute over BUY agreement of both sides--labor and working rules on the railroads to a government study panel is historically significant.

"Congratulations are due on all sides -- to the unions, management and to the Department of Labor. FREDONIA, N.Y., CENSOR: "Drivers in West Germany can be arrested for using rude gestures toward other drivers, it is reported. That might be the way to thin out traffic here.'

LDUUTH, MINN., PUBLICITY: DULUTH, MINN., PUBLICITY: made the once-tough Roman people soft. To stay popular, their emperors gave them more and more of the ease they craved--free bread, free circuses, easier living.

"So the Romans softened up themselves for the ambitious, hard-working barbarians. And in 410 A. D. the greatest nation the world had ever seen was invaded and destroyed. The Roman emperors promised the people handouts--but they turned out to be anything but free!"

BOONVILLE, IND., ENQUIRER: "A disappointing vote was recorded in [ the United Nations the other day. The vote was taken on a charge by the Cuban government coupled with a demand for a U. N. debate, that the United States was planning aggression against Cuba. The United Nations could become a major problem for the United States if and when the communists intimidate and buffalo enough of the new member nations to have their own private propaganda show. This latest vote should be a warning to the major democracies of what might happen if we go too fast in the effort to force freedom and democracy on peoples who are not ready for these responsibilities." CARLSBAD, N.M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "There's nothing like good, old fashioned competition. The poultry industry has come up with a new plan to widen its market. In a test in Ithaca, New York, frankfurters made of chicken-they called them "bird dogs"--captured 15 per cent of normal hot dog sales."

Table Magic ... Glazed Duckling

The savory aroma of roast duckling brings to mind elegant feasts. But if you've always reserved these festive birds for guests, resolve right now to surprise and delight your own family with delicious duckling. During this season of good eating the supply of Long Island Duckling is ample and the price moderate.

Basic equipment needed is a shallow roasting pan with the rack level with, or higher than, the top of the pan. The range broiler pan with rack in place is excellent. A slow oven temperature, 325°F, is recommended. In this recipe a special glaze is added near the end of roasting. The platter is garnished with broiled orange slices with cranberry atop.

Orange-Glazed Roast Duckling 1 Long Island Duckling, 4 to 5 pounds
1 pkg. stuffing mix (8 oz.)
½ cup slivered almonds

2 tablespoons butter or margarine 1/4 cup orange marmalade

Remove giblets and neck from duckling. Wash, drain and pat dry. Prepare stuffing as package label directs. Sauté almonds in the butter or margarine and add to stuffing. Trussing is simple! Fill neck cavity with stuffing. Fasten neck skin to back with skewer. Fill body cavity lightly with stuffing. Loop a cord around leg ends and bring together; tie. Place on rack in roasting pan and roast at 325°F about 2½ to 3 hours. About 30 minutes before roasting time is up, drain off drippings. Increase oven temperature to 400°F. Spread orange marmalade over duckling and continue roasting until nicely browned and glazed, 15 to 30 minutes. Duckling is done when drumstick meat is soft when pressed between protected fingers. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Simmer giblets until tender, 1½ to 2 hours. Add liver the Note: Simmer giblets until tender, 1½ to 2 hours. Add liver the last 15 minutes of cooking. Use giblets and giblet broth for gravy or add to casseroles.

'God Grant Me The Serenity . . . "

This is the prayer all of us have heard, some of us know and most of us need frequently. The additional lines are "to accept the things I cannot change; the courage to change the things I can and the wis-dom to know the difference, Amen!" While the shops may be well stocked with seasonal gifts this year, few will have the lasting value of this muchneeded supplication. It is available, with the medallion in 1½ inch size, as a necklace, bracelet, key ring or bill clasp. They can be obtained in ageless golden bronze from Bronze Incor-porated, Dept. A., 1250 N. Cen-tral Park Ave., Chicago 51, Ill.

bank. In a recent interview by the Associated Press, Miss Brice pointed out that career opportunities for women in banking have never been brighter. "Banks hire twice as many women as men today. And the girls hold positions right on up to bank president! There are 160 lady bank presidents across the country and one in ten bank executives is a woman," said Mrs. Brice. So if you're a January graduate - and bright and ambitious - why not shop for a job at your local bank? One day, you might get to be see sections of the human body is becoming a reality. Proof of this is a recent levelopme x-ray research reported by Dr. John A. Evans, a New York radiologist or specialist in the use of x-rays. Dr. Evans uses chemicals which are "opaque" to x-ray beams, injecting the chemicals into these hard-tosee internal structures of the body which formerly were almost im-possible to examine. This kind of x-ray examination is especially helpful in finding early clues for cancer of the liver and kidneys. The chemical injection outlines the structure on film — and Dr. Evans and other radiologists can then in-

Homeowners Often Puzzled By Materials

A problem every homeowner must face eventually is deciding which building materials to use when his house needs maintewhen his house needs mainte-nance, or repairs, or when a major improvement is in order. He must judge what material will suit his and his family's tastes, and what's best for his style of architecture and his pocketbook. If the building ma-terial is visible from the street terial is visible from the street, he must consider his neighbors and the community as a whole. Most important, he must decide which material will give him the most quality, dollar for dollar.

A case in point might be the homeowner whose house needs a new roof. Four leading reasons why it's important for him to choose a roofing material carefully are:

1. Weather resistance. More than any other part of the house, the roof must withstand weath-er's roughest blows in all sea-sons—winter's grinding ice and snow, summer's baking heat, and high winds and drenching rains throughout the year for a house and its contents.

2. Durability. A roof must be durable and long-lasting, providing years of sure protection for a bourse.

3. Beauty. On most homes, the roof is one of the most visible exterior areas. It should have beauty and color and be in good taste without sun gleam or glare.
Asphalt shingles in a tasteful color and rich texture enhance the beauty of a house and improve its appearance in the neighborhood.

neighborhood.

4. Application cost. A roofing contractor's experience, plus the time and tools required to apply a new roof, can mean the difference between high and low cost. Most reliable roofers have applied asphalt shingles for years. This, plus the fact that they go in place easily and quickly, means this roofing material is low in applied and threlliable. low in applied cost. Usually it can be applied directly over old roofing material, saving the com and avoiding the mess of removing the old roof,

Gifts On The Go

Women getting ready for Christ-mas can get good ideas for gifts if they think about the motorists on their list. Here are some things for cars-and those who drive

Practical items include a combination flashlight-warning blinker, a set of emergency repair tools, a sideview mirror, a car wastebasket, a dashboard tray that holds sun glasses and cigarettes, a between-seat bin for ditto, a lap robe, a plastic container of windshield cleaning fluid.

An off-beat item is the "ah-ooo-" and on-beat teem is the an-boo-gah' horn that's supposed to make the latest model car sound like a Model A Ford. Or the variable-tone electric horn which varies from "soft call to bull-like foghorn blast."

For station wagen owners.

For station wagon owners, there are mattresses shaped to fit around the wheel wells. If your friends have a Mercedes, you can give them custom luggage that's ordered not only to go with the color of the car but also to go with the model number and year!

Then there's the giant "wind-up sports car key" to kid Volkswagen, Saab, Renault and Fiat owners. It comes with a suction cup to be attached to the trunk.

Finally, if your memory's good, you'll remember the flower vases that used to be in fancy cars. Well, they're still available. Why not?

The course of true do-it-yourself enthusiasm isn't always smooth. Sometimes questions and problems pop up that slow the progress on a project or block a needed home repair. Some of them have easy solutions that insure a well-finished job.

Take, for instance, the problem of finishing off an attractive home-made wooden cabinet or bookcase in which you want no nails or nail holes to show. It's easy to accomplish, yet some doit-yourselfers have trouble with this task

Best results are obtained with a portable electric sander.

You should, of course, use finishing nails and set them below the surface of the work with a nail set. Then use plastic wood to fill the holes made by the recessed nails. If you plan to stain as part of the finishing scheme, it's not a bad idea to tint the plastic wood with the stain, being careful to get the exact shade you

After that's done, sand the surface evenly. You'll find you get the best sanding results fast with your portable electric sander or the sanding attachment of your portable electric drill or polisher.

There's another way to handle the problem of filling nail holes. It calls for sanding the surface of the project and collecting the dust. Mix that with a small portion of glue and use this mixture to fill the holes. This is a good way to match the color of the wood, especially if you plan to use a clear sealer and a natural color finish.

YOU and your HOME

This Akron, Ohio home is like thousands in the middle west sided with maintenance-free foam insulated aluminum siding. Owner Harry H. Mouer was plagued with a serious peeling paint problem. It was easily and economically corrected by application of factory-enameled aluminum panels. It has been covered with the Alsco material for more than four years. It still looks fresh and new according to Mouer.

Typical of the heavy recurring expenditures of the average home owner today is exterior painting, which can boost cost anywhere from $150 to $500 or more. If done every three or four years, this can run into important money, researchers for the Alsco Aluminum Research Laboratory, Akron, Ohio found out. Aluminum siding eliminates the need for future paint jobs and cuts this recurring cost. The home owner pays for painting once and that's it. The siding can be easily washed down any time. In addition to the dollar savings, more efficient insulation is brought about by use of this siding. It keeps heat in the house in cold weather and keeps heat outside in hot weather. Fuel savings, research indicates, can run as high as 35% per year on the heating bill. Tests on insulation were made with this new aluminum siding — marketed throughout the country as "Rigid Bak-R-Foam". These were conducted by various independent organizations to double-check the Alsco finding. Scientists at Penn-sylvania State University and the University of Akron provided detailed reports which proved the Alsco siding's superior structural performance, insulation qualities and resistance to corrosion.

CUSTARD BREAD PUDDING MAKES FLAVORFUL WINTER DESSERT

Ever heard of a no-bake bread pudding? Or a custard without eggs? Both can be found in this tasty new Custard Bread Pudding. A nourishing and economical dish, it's a perfect winter dessert to serve with hot coffee. And it's very quick and easy when you use a package of Royal Custard Flavor Dessert Mix for the pudding base.

Custard dessert mix has an old-fashioned homemade custard flavor, Custard dessert mix has an old-tashioned homemade custard flavor, but none of the tricky problems of traditional custard-making. It requires ho baking, no eggs, and no painstaking preparation. This custard becomes a hearty bread pudding by simply stirring in freshly-made, soft bread crumbs. After chilling, the puddings unmold like a charm.

Custard bread pudding is a versatile dessert. It can be eaten plain, right out of an earthenware custard cup, or unmolded and topped with any number of tasty sauces.

CUSTARD BREAD PUDDING 1 package Royal Custard Flavor Dessert Mix 1 cup finely crumbled soft bread crumbs

Empty dessert mix into a saucepan. Stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Mixture will be thin, but thickens as it cools. Stir in bread crumbs. Pour at once into heat-proof dessert dishes. Chill without stirring. Serve as is, or unmold and top with favorite fruit or sundae sauce. Makes 4-6 servings.

With no change in the basic character of the Thunderbird, the 1961 models shown above introduce all-new styling, improved performance, and new standards of comfort and convenience. The new Thunderbird retains all the features that mean Thunderbird—the classic roofline, four-passenger luxury, the famous console and rich interiors. Although neither as wide nor as long as the previous model, the new Thunderbird has more shoulder room all around and up to eight inches more hip room in the rear seating area. An optional movable steering column permits the steering wheel to glide ten inches to the right for driver ease in getting in and out. Other comfort improvements include elimination of the "dog-leg," wider door openings and 12 pounds more foam padding in the seats. Standard equipment includes dual-range automatic transmission, power steering, new, larger power brakes that adjust themselves automatically, and a new Thunderbird 390 four - barrel V-8 WOMAN'S WORLD

Graceful Hands, Trained in Grace Reflect Your Poise

N ERVOUS tension, stiff wrists and fingers make hands look ungraceful when they go through the simplest movements or even when they're supposedly at ease. Graceful hands are rarely just come by naturally, as far as adults are concerned. They're the product of training and poise.

There are exercises to make you overcome some of the tension in fingers and wrists, and there's also know-how in what to do with hands to make them look more graceful.

Neither of these are as time consuming as going to a hairdressers! They're easily achieved if you'll think about them and do the exercises a few times daily. Hand Exercise

Hand exercises are neither strenuous nor tiresome. They're pleasant and wonderfully relaxing. One of the best of them is to flap the hands back and forth from the wrist, just as though they were empty gloves. Do this one just after you've been sewing, mixing Bold plaids are good for Fall in their bright, contrasting colors. These are styled in crease-resistant, sanforized all-weather cotton with slim, slim slacks. They're good worn with a dark sweater, then teamed with a matching blazer when cold winds blow. The blazer can be worn with contrasting skirt or plain colored shorts, too.

a cake or something equally strenuous. Do it anytime, while you're just sitting or watching television. After flapping the hands, try twisting the hand in a circle about the wrist. This may be more difficult, but it's easier as the wrist muscles develop.

Here's another good exercise: Make a fist then fling the hand as wide open as possible. Stretch the fingers far apart and as far back as possible.

Grace in Movement Train yourself to certain hand movements if you would have graceful hands. One of the easiest is using the middle finger and thumb when you hold small objects. It does a great deal towards making hands graceful.

There are lots of situations when your hands can look more relaxed if you'll just remember to use hands properly. When you're seated at a table, playing bridge, perhaps, rest the hands in the lap, both palms up, having one hand lie across the other.

Add More Space To Small Bedrooms

You can't easily push out the walls of small bedrooms, but you can change the color scheme and furnishings to give you more space. Some of it may, of course, be an optical illusion, but properly chosen furniture can add more storage space.

First of all, you must simplify the color scheme. In any small room, bedroom or otherwise, you can achieve a feeling of spaciousness by using a single color in the walls, furniture and drapes. If possible, repeat it in the rug.

One color gives a singleness of effect and doesn't cut up the room. Even a small-patterned wallpaper will destroy the unity of effect you want to achieve when space is small.

Solid Color If your furniture is blonde it's easy to choose a single color as the walls can be a beige almost to match that of the furniture. The ceiling should be painted the same color. A related color might be used in the bedspread and rug which should be a wall-to-wall type or at least cover most of the

You don't have to do without a spark of color if you have chosen beige, for instance. A chair cover can be bright red, orange or green. These same colors might be repeated in small scatter pillows for the bed. Choosing Furniture

Simple lines on furniture do much to relieve the clutter in furniture. Decide what your storage needs are and select carefully chests that can be pushed together so two or three chests can be used as one to fit your space.

FARMING AROUND By Mark Welsh

Don't say I didn't tell you that the American farmers are very important consumers as well as producers:

They are the petroleum indus-try's biggest single customer as they use 16-20 per cent of all the petroleum products produced in this country. They employ

more horsepower

Mark Welsh than all of industry combined including the railroads.

They have an investment of about $20 billion in tools and machinery. In fact, most farmers have $50 to $75 tied up in these items for every acre of land they cultivate.

They are good credit risks.
Each farmer has $100 of assets for each $11 of debt, and one out of three farms has no mortgage.

They buy about $15 billion of goods each year and sell about $30 billion but when this is processed and prepared for sale at retail, it brings $100 to $150 billion.

They own 25 per cent of all the trucks in this country and buy more gasoline than any other industry.

They use more steel each year than the whole automobile industry.

dustry.

The American farmer is a vital part of a basic, permanent but dramatically expanding industry. He is a lot of man.

An old Irish proverb says, "A full belly will dance when a new coat won't." Last year we produced 185 pounds of good meat for every one of our citizens. The Soviet citizens got about 70 pounds each. If you see a man on the moon dancing some bright night, you can make a pretty good guess as to where he came from.

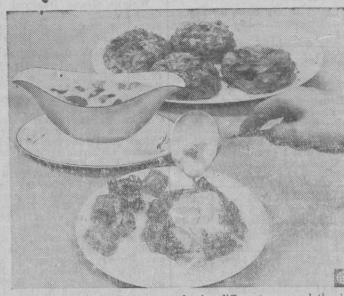

It's hard to tell whether some folk don't work enough to sweat or that the new deodorants are as good as the makers claim.

THE LAST MONOPOLY

by Vant Neff

When we think of monopolies. most of us think of them as historical, and gone. Monopo-lies, we know flourished at the turn of the century, when financiel giants manipulated jobs and men to suit themselves. Monopolies were dangerous, erude accumulations of power.
Public opinion, then legislation,
took care of them Monopoly, we think, is dead as the dinosaur. When we think this, we are wrong.

Today, Monopoly is making a last tremendous stand — as union power, stronger and far more strongant than the power of any past financial titan.

The monopoly power of modern unions is built on a double ern unions is built on a double base, easy to recognize. At present, union monopoly power dominates not only men's jobs, but the men themselves. This double monopoly has grown through the years, until today it can successfully throttle a basiness, balt a whole industry, even threaten the country's economy.

even threaten the country's economy.

Here is how this double-monopoly works:

Except in states with right-to-work laws, it's legal today for the union to sign an agreement with industrial management for a "union shop." This means that a new workman must, before a specified time (usually 20 days), join the union to keep his job. And this, in spite of the language of the Wagner Act, which guarantees the individual workman the right to join or not, as he pleases. In actual fact, however, the new man continues his job anly when he joins and pays his the new man continues his job mly when he joins and pays his ince. The union dominates his job; he is teld what he can and cannot do, how fast or slow to work. He is part of the vast union lock-step that monopo-lizes industrial jobs today.

This monopoly-power goes even further. It tells the man whether he should work or not. True, a "vote" is taken when a strike becomes an issue. But the record shows that the union leader's orders prevail. The leader has a complete monopoly over the workman. this domination established, the union leader is today lished, the union leader is today a real Monopoly Giant — with almost unlimited power.

Now, beyond the fact that this unrestrained power is completely counter to the American concept of individual freedom — it has an end-product not only inevitable, but dangerous to the whole American economy.

This is the ability of a union leader to close down an indus-try almost at whim. Formerly, the temper of the times was such that anyone who men-tioned this fact was shouted down as an enemy of the working man. But, in and out of unions, more of us every day are coming to realize the lack of self-discipline, the lack of responsibility, shown by many union leaders in their abuse of their tremendous power. Caught their tremendous power. Caught in the public eye, too many union leaders have proved not only unscrupulous, but even

Far from attacking unions and the constructive function they can perform, it is the abuse of this vast monepolypower by bad or ignorant men that is attracting the attention of all of us. Some method of restraint is rapidly becoming a necessity — as it was in the forgotten days of other, past power-tyrants.

But, before restraining such

But, before restraining such power, we must recognize it for what it is. We must understand, simply, how it grew.

It was created by public sympathy. It grew with the permission of the American public. Public opinion alone can bring about legislative reform. Labor monopoly is today a Frankenstein's monster, with absolute domination over jobs and men — an economic, everyday threat to all of us, a chief source of inflation. Do enough of us understand this arrogant double power, realize its dandour what it is a such as the such as double power, realize its danger, so that courts and public authorities will do what needs to be done to restrain this burgeoning Last Monopoly?

God Down Here

Lesson for January 1, 1961

WHEN a man writes a new book on a well-known subject he should have a good reason for breaking into print. The Gospel of John, which is going to be the object of study in the church and in this column for 14 weeks now, was such a late-coming book. By the time it was written, not only had our three Gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke been circulating for some time, but as we learn from Luke, there were others besides these three. Now a new Dr. Foreman book is justified if it brings out new facts, it is also justified if it bring out a new point of view . . provided, of course, that the author can show some solid reasons for his special point of view. John has both reasons. He has stories about Jesus to tell which had never been told—that is, told in a book, before; and he has a viewpoint which does not contradict the first three Gospels yet is strikingly different from theirs.

The Word Became Flesh

Readers of the other Gospels may surmise that more is here than meets the eye. They read the story of a great man, a teacher, a prophet, one endowed with strange powers. Strangest of all was his power over death. Not only could he wrestle death to a fall when that dread visitor came to others, he threw off death's chains when they had been wrapped about his own life. You might say that the first three Gospels give us wonderstories but very little explanation. John's Gospel flashes the explanation in the reader's eye with his very first page. Mark gives no background for lesus at all. Matthew really begins his story of Jesus with Abraham. Luke begins his story with the first man in the world. But John-He goes back before there was a human race, before this world began, before all worlds, back to THE BEGIN-NING, the beginning of which we hear in the Bible's first line-out of time into Eternity's far shores. penter waiting to be born, but one whom he mysteriously calls the Word of God, the Word that "was with God and was God." What explains Jesus? His Jewish race, his family, you might think from reading Matthew. His membership in the human race, you might think from reading Luke. No, these are part of the story but not yet the heart and the height of it. What explains Jesus? "The Word became flesh," John writes Is there a more important sentence in the Bible? This is God-with-us. This is God on two feet. This is the heavenly Glory walking the streets

Stories and Signs

"Flesh is a Bible expression for "man." "The Word became flesh" means, at the least of it, the Divine became human. John does not say that the Word looked like flesh, or the Word dressed up in flesh, but that the word "became" flesh. He says here "We have beheld his glory." Now all religions know something about the glory of God. But what would the glory of God be like if it came to earth as a human being? John's whole gospel is devoted to answering that question. He just proceeds to tell stories about Jesus-just a few, only seven before the story of his death. The amazing thing about those stories is how simple they are. You (if you were inventing the stories) would surely have thought up something spectacular; but these were not made-up stories. When God comes down to earth, he comes all the way down, to where we live.

That You May Believe

Every book in the Bible was with some purpose in mind, but John's Gospel is one of the few that tell exactly what the writer intended his book to do. "These things are written," he says at the end, "that you may believe that Tesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in his name." With that short sentence John brings out some of the great truths that besome more clear to those who give themselves to store of this book.

FARMING AROUND By Mark Welsh

Don't say I didn't tell you that the American farmers are very important consumers as well as

They are the petroleum indus-try's biggest single customer as they use 16-20 per cent of all the petroleum products pro-duced in this country.
They employ

more horsepower than all of in-Mark Welsh dustry combined including the railroads.

They have an investment of about $20 billion in tools and machinery. In fact, most farmers have $50 to $75 tied up in these items for every acre of land the railivate. land they cultivate.

They are good credit risks. Each farmer has $100 of assets for each $11 of debt, and one out of three farms has no

They buy about $15 billion of goods each year and sell about $30 billion but when this is processed and prepared for sale at retail, it brings $100 to $150 billion

They own 25 per cent of all the trucks in this country and buy more gasoline than any other industry.

They use more steel each year than the whole automobile in-

The American farmer is a vital part of a basic, permanent but dramatically expanding in-dustry. He is a lot of man.

. . . An old Irish proverb says, "A full belly will dance when a new coat won't." Last year we produced 185 pounds of good meat for every one of our citizens. The Soviet citizens got about 70 pounds each. If you see a man on the moon dancing some bright night, you can make some bright night, you can make a pretty good guess as to where he came from.

Fruits Vary Cereal Breakfasts

Have you ever tasted Pineapple Farina? Or sipped Oatmeal Nectar? Or savored Whole Wheat Fruit Pudding? These are just a few of the new rainbow of cereal flavors you can make by cooking grains with fruit. Fruit and cereal are but two of the important parts of a basic breakfast pattern; to complete it, add milk, bread and butter. During September—the 10th National Better Breakfast Month, why not try these new combos.

Pineapple Farina

½ cup farina, plain or malt-flavored 1 can (13½ ounce) pine-apple, crushed or tidbits

Drain fruit and save syrup. Prepare farina as directed on package, using fruit syrup plus water. Stir in drained fruit. Serve with milk or cream and sugar as desired. Yield: 4-6 servings.

Oatmeal Nectar

1/2 teaspoon salt

1 can (12 ounce) apricot nectar

½ cup rolled oats, quick or regular

½ teaspoon salt

½ cup instant dry milk solids

1½ cups chilled milk

Combine apricot nectar and salt in saucepan. Heat to boiling; stir in rolled oats and cook 1 minute stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in dry milk solids. Cool thoroughly. Just before serving, stir in chilled milk. Yield: 3 cups.

Molded Fruit Cereal

½ cup hot whole wheat cereal, instant or regular 1 can (1 pound) fruit cocktail

Drain fruit and save syrup. Prepare cereal as directed on package, using fruit syrup plus water. Stir in drained fruit. Pour into 6-ounce custard cups. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve with additional fruit cocktail or with cream and sugar, as desired. Yield: 4 servings.
