There will be an Open House at the Taneytown High School on Friday, March 10 from 7 to 9 p. m. The members of the Future Teachers of America club will register and take visitors on a tour of the school. After the tour they will go to the cafeteria for refreshments while a special group of the orchestra will entertain with fine music. There will be a display of the industrial arts class projects and also displays in some of the class rooms. Teachers will be in their rooms. Everyone is invited to this open house, not only parents of the students but also friends and any interested in the school. There is no admission charge.

The Westminster High School Band will play the Taneytown High School Band in a basketball game on Tuesday, March 14, at 7:30 p. m. in the Taneytown High School gym. The price of admission will be 25¢ for students and 50¢ for adults.

Thirteen senior girls' home economics class served a French lunch on Tuesday, March 7, which they planned and prepared in their study of foreign foods. Mrs. Sanders, French teacher, was guest of honor.

Thirteen students at the Taneytown High School plan to take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, Ned Musser, Principal, announced today. The test will be administered at the High School at 9:00 a.m. Saturday, March 11. All students who wish to be considered for Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1962 must take the test at that time.

The qualifying test is a three-hour examination of educational development. The test is the first step in the seventh annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and by sponsoring corporations, foundations, associations, and individuals.

The number of scholarships awarded in any year depends upon the extent of sponsor participation. In 1960, 831 scholarships were awarded; 514 were provided by 115 sponsors and 317 by the Merit Corporation. There are 3,132 Merit Scholars attending 391 colleges in the current academic year.

The scores of students who take the test on March 11 will be reported to their schools before the end of the spring semester in time for use by class advisers. The scores are used in many high schools to help students make decisions about college attendance and field of study. Many students who do not expect to win a scholarship take the test in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses in the areas measured by the test.

Some 10,000 Semifinalists, the highest scores in each state, will be named early next fall. Names of Semifinalists are published in a booklet which is distributed to all colleges and to other sources of financial aid for undergraduates. Further, their names and test scores are sent on cards to the colleges they express an interest in attending as their first or second choices. The order of preference is not shown.

Each Semifinalist will be asked to take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance will become Finalists in the Merit Program. Winners of Merit Scholarships will be selected from the Finalist group on the basis of school records and recommendations, test scores, extracurricular activities, leadership ability, and accomplishments outside the classroom. Each Finalist is awarded a Certificate of Merit attesting to his outstanding performance.

The scholarship stipends are based upon financial need. The minimum award is $100 and the maximum is $1500. The average stipend awarded to freshman Merit scholars in 1960 was $827. Each scholarship constitutes a form of "educational insurance," since the stipend may be increased at any time if the student's financial situation changes during the four-year term of the scholarship. Supplemental grants are usually made to the colleges which the Scholars attend.

An additional 25,000 students, selected on a national basis, receive Letters of Commendation for their high performance on the qualifying test. These students are considered for special awards made through the Merit Corporation, and their names and test scores are sent to their first and second choice colleges.

MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL MEET

Plans Considered for A Recreational Building In the Park

The regular monthly meeting of the Mayor and City Council, Taneytown, was held Monday evening, March 6th.

The Treasurer's report follows: Receipts $2,097.11; Expenditures $5,563.44; Balance $16,259.12. Parking meter fund balance $2,813.95.

It was reported that the total cost of snow removal this winter, including opening of side streets, was $1,495.79.

Complaints were received by the Council regarding dogs barking and howling after night. It will be appreciated if the owners concerned will take steps to correct this situation.

A delegation, headed by Mr. John Chenoweth, representing the A. W. Feeser Co. appeared before the Council. The purpose of their visit was to determine what steps could be taken to enable the Feeser cannery to again use the Sanitary Sewer so as to eliminate the objectionable odor from the cannery Lagoon during canning season. The best thinking of the delegation and the Council as well as several other engineers who have been consulted in the past seems to be the installation of a holding tank. By use of a holding tank the influx of cannery waste can be equalized over a 24 hour period thus enabling the disposal plant to handle it. Mr. Chenoweth stated his company is willing to install a holding tank if the Council will agree to take the cannery waste into the Sanitary Sewer system on a trial basis. The Council agreed to this proposal and wishes to commend Mr. Chenoweth for his civic mindedness. Certainly the elimination of the odor referred to will be cheered by every resident of Taneytown.

The Mayor reported studies are continuing on some method of correcting the sewer flooding which occurs at George Street during heavy rains. Prices are being awaited on a float operated pump which would be installed in the manhole at George St. This pump would be automatically actuated when the water reached the danger level; the surplus water being pumped from the manhole into the storm sewer.

The Park Board presented, through Mayor Perry, plans for a proposed community recreation building to be erected in the Taneytown Memorial Park. This project, still in the planning stage, is to be a Lion's Club endeavor. The Lions, through the Park Board, requested of the Council, permission to erect the proposed building on the Park grounds if and when the project reaches that point. Permission was granted with the stipulation that all phases of the project be cleared through the Council and the Park Board.

The Council decided to participate in the State sponsored, County wide mosquito control program. This has to do particularly with the control of breeding places. It is handled through the County Commissioners of the various counties. The state pays 50% of the cost, the County Commissioners 25% and the town concerned 25%. This program will not, of course, completely eliminate the need for spraying as we have done in the past but it should certainly reduce it.

Representatives of the Pennsylvania RR have contacted Mayor Perry concerning the recommendation of the Council to have a warning light installed at the railroad crossing on Baltimore St. After consultation they agreed to request the State Roads Commission to install a blinking caution light. The Council has no knowledge, as yet, as to whether the State Roads Commission will honor this request.

The next meeting of the Council will be held Monday, April 3rd.

TANEYTOWN BASEBALL TEAM ENTERS SOUTH PENN LEAGUE

GIRL SCOUTS TO ATTEND CHURCH SERVICES

On Sunday, March 12, the Brownie Troop of Taneytown will attend the United Brethren Church in a body. The Girls Scouts will attend St. Joseph's Catholic Church. This is to commemorate the Girl Scout Week, and to celebrate the birthday of Girl Scouting in the country. It was on March 12 that the very first troop was started by Juliette Low in Savannah, Georgia. Since that time Scouting has grown by leaps and bounds. Today, there are many troops all over the world.

One of the important things stressed in scouting is devotion to God, and country. In fact the first words of the Girl Scout Promise are: "On my honor, I will try: To do my duty to God and my country." Girl Scout Sunday is therefore a most fitting way to begin the celebration of Girl Scout Week.

Taneytown Scout Paper Collection Saturday, Mar. 11

The Boy Scouts of American Legion Troop 348, Taneytown, will make their regular bimonthly drive for rags, magazines, and newspapers starting at 8 a. m. on Saturday, March 11, weather permitting. Bundles tied securely are always appreciated, although Scouts gladly fetch from the house if called upon while the collection is in progress. Early and continuing rain will necessitate postponement, for which a new date would then be announced. Telephone calls requesting paper pick-ups should be made by Friday evening, for Saturday is too late.

Recent Program Although three meetings in January had to be cancelled due to snowstorms hitting on successive Thursdays, some new themes have rewarded those faithful in their attendance. First aid bandaging in pairs (and in the dark, a safety quiz taken from "The C. and P. Call" and work on the merit badges of signaling (concentrating on the semaphore code) and astronomy (major constellation, some from the zodiac as well and the principal first-magnitude stars).

Games have also been varied, including Simon says bull in the ring, dual contests intercept the ball, buzz, prince of Paris, and poison.

On Incolun's birthday the troop attended Sunday worship services in Grace United Church of Christ, Taneytown.

Stuart Dom was promoted to patrol leader of the Foxes, with Ralph Hoffman elected assistant, and Philip Martin patrol scribe. Ronald Martin was elected scribe for the Racoons. A recent recruit is Second class Scout James Green, from Carrollton, assigned to the Flaming Arrow patrol under Patrol leader Robert Shaffer. He will be the first new member to enable the troop to begin qualifying for the 1961 Boy of the month membership award of the Baltimore Area Council.

Contest Prize On Saturday, March 18, the Foxes, winners of the 1960 patrol contest, will enjoy their prize trip to Hershey Sports Arena where they will see the Quebec Aces play the Hershey Bears at ice hockey. Members of this group are Scouts Dom, Hoffman, James Frock and Philip Martin, to be accompanied by the senior leaders, Scoutmaster Wilbur O. Thomas and Senior patrol leader Larry E. Six.

Most advancement is being held off awaiting the imminent start of the 1961 contest. With the advent of balmy weather, an overnight camping trip should be not too far in the future.

Scrap Drive Scouts able to help with the paper collection Saturday are requested to report promptly by 8 a. m. In case of unfavorable weather, a new day will be announced.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you joys near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Somehow, I always thought that my sex was the sweetest but I must admit that I do think the male sex is more patient after seeing "Candid Camera" a few weeks ago as to the empty cat-up bottle being handed to the male customer over and over again. Now, you know, Ladies as well as I that we wouldn't have said something about it to the waitress BUT—nary a male made the slightest complaint! I am requesting that program over again at a future date.

Just think of it now it will mean 2 hours and 15 minutes from Baltimore to Miami by Jet. Not for me, Folks as I dislike Planes—period!

No doubt, you have read of our grand "First" Lady of the screen, Miss Helen Hayes making her final stage tour as a "Farewell" and thousands are saying, "Say it isn't so!" Don't forget to plan right now for the Maryland House and Garden Pilgrimage beginning April 25 to May 14. The Cruises these dates—May 20, 27th and 28th. This year, they have added an apartment tour in Baltimore and that will be all on North Charles Street.

The Minister's wives and widows met for their Annual luncheon and meeting at Hochschild's on Monday and a Mr. Seigal of The Emersonian Apartments demonstrated with vases and artificial flowers. All were beautiful and most effective and appeared real.

The showing of reproductions of gowns which our "First" ladies wore years ago and up to date of all the Inaugural Balls were on display at Hochschild's and the copies were authentic from The Smithsonian Institute in Washington. The most elaborate and beautiful was the gown of the wife of President McKinley. The dress of Mrs. Kennedy appeared too plain. I think there were about sixteen in all and the ladies were most pleased.

Here is a cute one I read in the paper—titled "11 As Name is Confusing" and that from Okla. "Eleven Moore" at times throws people with his name. When he became ill, the Dr. advised him to go to the hospital. Consternation reigned at the hospital when the news spread, "They're bringing in 11 more!"

Ladies, you surely will be in the pink if you wear that color of any shade of pink to even a deep rose this Spring and as to skirts—WHEEEEE—they seem shorter than ever and I do not think it is graceful. To have a blue outfit with a pink hat, that is most attractive—very French and Chic. And as to your Chapeau, don't fail to see the best values in the city—hats that other stores are asking as high as $35.00. The Buyer of Bragger-Gutman purchases all his entire department in New York and they truly are glamorous! Then walk up to Howard Street and in Read's window you will see the Inaugural Photographs by Leon Perskie. The one that I was most interested, no doubt was the last one of our late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt. It is the most beautiful photograph of him that I have ever seen and I do have a big "Scrap" book from the time he was a baby to the funeral procession and for that I won a Blue Ribbon!

When you come to town be sure and park at the Lexington garage for the day and you will find as I stated in previous Columns that Mr. Jos. Baracco surely knows how to conduct a business. The pleasure is all yours! 80 cents all day!

Now, as to the Boat Show which is the Seventh Annual affair at the Army and I hope you did not miss it. It was superior to any year and simply magnificent! As I entered the door, it took me so by surprise that I just stood there and imagined the water right before me. There are more sail boats than at any time and the ladies are beginning to be as interested as the men. There are ocean-going Cruisers, powerboats, racing gear and luxury boats or yachts. It all is beyond—describing—simply fantastic! I expect to go down again!

Nowadays, any family can own a boat in the most modern circumstances not as yesteryear, it meant that you had to be rich for this type of luxury. It is too bad that such a display is not held over for two weeks. Some of the boats were so large that the door jams of that old building at the entrance had to be removed! Folks, don't miss it!

Have a grand week end, Folks. The days that you think are gloomy will cause you to appreciate the warm sunshine, the birds and the flowers and warm air and all the beauty in two more months.

Will be seeing you next week D.V.I!
I am Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER

WAGES, EMPLOYMENT

Raising wages by fiat got its start back in the 1930s when there was some conceivable depression need of minimum standards. The rate—which continued in effect until after World War II—was 40 cents an hour.

There is less to be said, however, for the current proposal to hoist the Federal figure to $1.25 per hour from the present $1 per hour. Its stated aim is to do away with an "underpaid class" by adding 25 cents per hour to minimum pay.

This theoretically would put more spending money into consumer pockets and set off a prosperity rocket into the wild blue yonder. Some practical considerations are ignored, one of which is that employers generally are in a cost-cutting phase. The principal cost for most of them is wages.

Instead of touching off a boom, it would be more likely to end in a job reduction trend, particularly in the retail field. Wages are fixed in the general analysis by the state of the general economy and the profit sheets of employers.

And, as the Wall Street Journal says, if there is anything to ordering wages by law, why be a piker? If $1.25 an hour is good for the country, why wouldn't $2 an hour be much better?

—Frederick Post

OFF TO THE RACES

An editorial in Life magazine has this to say about the proposal to increase the federal minimum wage and extend its coverage: "That is certainly not going to help the unemployed any. Some jobs just aren't worth more than $1 an hour and to make them illegal is to eliminate them."

The words are blunt, but justified. The extended coverage that is proposed, for example, would be primarily in the retail industry. This industry provides marginal employment for beginners, teenagers, part-time housewives and others whose productive worth is strictly limited. An out-of-line wage would force the elimination of as many of these jobs as possible.

Also, it is hard to square the minimum wage proposal with the President's urge that labor accept wage stabilization in order to help prevent more inflation. An increase in the lowest wage means increases all along the line—the higher-paid, skilled workers naturally demand that their differential be maintained. Then the wage-price spiral is off to the races again.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Raymond Moley writes in Newsweek: "If the new President and those associated with him in conducting foreign affairs fail to check the spread of Communism, it will not be because of any sympathy for that ideology. We may be assured of their antipathy for Communist doctrine. But such a failure could come from a misunderstanding of the mentality and spirit of the dedicated Communist fanatic. Too often our bureaucrats, as in the cases of Red China and Cuba, have equated the mentality of Communists with what they know of the aspirations of normal people for greater freedom and more of the goods of life. Such a misunderstanding prevailed with Presidents Roosevelt and Truman in their dealings with Stalin. In all such cases the basic mistake took a dreadful toll."

In his message on "Economic Recovery and Growth", President Kennedy strongly urged tax incentives of a kind that will encourage corporate spending on plant and equipment. Specific proposals along this line are to come later. It is expected that one of them will be for more liberal and realistic policies concerning depreciation for tax purposes of physical facilities.

According to Chain Store Age, the chains will spend more than $58 million on refrigerated cases for new stores during this year. Close to half of it will go for meat cases to insure housewives of well-protected fresh red meats.

A report by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States characterizes the rise in the extent of voluntary health insurance coverage in the United States as "meteoric." From 29 million persons protected the first day of 1945, nearly 128 million or 72.4 per cent of the civilian population, had purchased some form of voluntary private health insurance by the end of 1959 and the number has increased since. Major medical insurance, providing protection against the costs of catastrophic illness, has been in existence only nine years, but nearly 22 million people had purchased it by the end of 1959.

A late report says that the salaries of American public school teachers rose 72.4 per cent in the last decade, from an average of $3,126 to $5,389.

Veteran Washington observer Arthur Krock writes: "There is... a demonstrable check against waste and inflationary spending that the President has not mentioned in his messages and statements thus far. It has been sought by and for presidents ever since 1876, and was steadily denied by Congress, although most of the states have granted it to their governors. This is the so-called 'item veto' power whereby the President can refuse to approve certain appropriations in a federal supply bill without disapproving the entire measure... If Pres. Kennedy could get this authority he would have a most effective, immediate and self-evident means of regularly balancing spending and revenue."

According to the Tax Foundation, government spending, federal, state and local, will break all records this year for an estimated total of $161 billion over last year. That works out to $2,850 for every family in this country.

Average life expectancy in this country has increased by more than 22 years during the present century, according to Health Information Foundation.

We can learn much from listening to others—nothing from ourselves, because whatever we say is just a repetition of what is already known.

Smooth, spicy and special is the dressing for this colorful vegetable salad. The creamy dressing is made with an inexpensive dessert topping mix which stores on your food shelf, handy for desserts or salad dressing.

The recipe makes three cups of dressing. Because the dessert topping will keep in the refrigerator for three or four days, you can use any leftover dressing on another type salad later in the week.

Vegetable Salad Dressing

- 1/2 cup cold milk
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 envelope Dream Whip
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1-1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1 teaspoon grated onion
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon celery seed (optional)

Combine milk, vanilla and dessert topping mix in a small bowl with a narrow bottom. Blend, then beat vigorously until topping forms soft peaks. Combine remaining ingredients and fold into whipped topping. Makes about 3 cups.

Bright Ideas

FROM THE HEART of Raisinland comes an exciting idea for a glamorous cake topping. Try this fabulous rocky road filling and frosting combination between and on top of chocolate cake layers. Coarsely chop ½ cup dark or golden raisins and ¼ cup walnuts. Mix with ¼ cup miniature marshmallows. Beat one cup heavy cream until soft peaks form. Beat in 2 tablespoons cocoa and 3 tablespoons sugar. Fold in 1 teaspoon vanilla and the raisin-marshmallow nut mixture.

To remove cellulose tape from paper or cardboard without tearing the surface, heat tape with point of warm iron. This will soften the adhesive so tape can be pulled off.

MOTION PICTURES of x-ray examinations are becoming more important in the detection and diagnosis of internal disease—as, for example, in finding an ulcer or diagnosing a cancer. In a recent report by Dr. Joseph Jorgens, a Minneapolis radiologist, or specialist in the use of x-rays, it was shown that motion pictures can be taken of a fluoroscopic examination that will provide a bright and detailed picture. The camera records the contractions of the stomach and other internal movements so the radiologist can see things as they actually work. Besides this, the motion picture provides the doctor with a permanent record in motion he can use for later study and reference.

When working with plants in small pots, try using a shoehorn as a trowel, bending the horn slightly if necessary.

EASTER BUNNIES are yeast-raised buns shaped as bunny heads. The Fleischmann's Yeast Kitchens suggest using sweet dough as for cinnamon buns. After it has doubled, punch down. Roll small pieces between hands to form ropes ½ inch thick, 12 inches long. Tie each in loose knot; bring ends up straight for ears. Press 2 raisins in for eyes. Let rise, bake about 15 minutes at 425° F. Cool; frost cars pink.

Crosses, snow drops & a few early jonquills are in bloom. I believe the snow has all melted having been with us since the 11th of December. I'm sure everyone is glad to see the bright sunshine this morning (Tuesday) and the green of the lawns and fields.

Are the summers too hot? Are the winters too cold? Do you have any fun? Are you just growing old? Does everyone else seem to have more than your pleasures few? Stop! Count your blessings. Didn't God give you eyes to see the blue of the sky? To see the flag of your land flying on high? To see the green of the trees. And the flowers of the Spring? To see the ones that you love and the birds that sing? Yes, these are blessings. Yes, count your blessings, that God has given to each one. The air that we breathe, the warmth of the sun, the ones that we love and the sounds that we hear, the laughter of a child, and everything we hold dear. There are many, many blessings that God gives to us each day that we accept without thanks, as we go on our way.—Mrs E. G. Smith.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

We enjoy President Kennedy's news conferences except, for one thing... the reporters. Sometimes it appears to us that the newsman asks questions, not to seek information, but to seek publicity for themselves and the paper they represent. Often the questions are so rude that they leave the viewer embarrassed and shocked at times the lack of good manners on the part of the reporters. It seems to us that the man holding the high office of the presidency should not be subjected to answering every silly question that an ambitious reporter wants to ask. Newsmen should act with dignity at the President's news conferences and not do what one pushy female did at the last one...keep on shouting even after the President had recognized her colleague. If the reporters persist in their disrespect toward the President, the public may become so critical that a new method will be worked out to limit the number of newsmen and the type of questions that can be asked. "This of course will set up a howl of protest about "freedom of the press". But American newsmen have become so obnoxious at times that some Americans are beginning to wonder if "freedom of the press" gives a reporter the right to pry into a persons private life. A newsman enjoys many privileges in reporting the news but he must also be self-disciplined in reporting for there is a clear distinction between news and trivial prying. We take for granted that every American home has television set or two but in France in some small towns it is not unusual for the people to buy a set and have it installed in the schoolhouse. The people then gather regularly scheduled times to watch programs together. We wonder if they're trained to keep quiet while watching television. Here in the United States we turn the set on, not to watch the programs, but to talk to each other over the sound. Recently we were invited out for a game of cards. The television set was off when we arrived at our friends house, but soon after someone turned it on. No one watched the program but we did try to play cards and talk to each other over the crack of guns and the thunder of hundreds of stampeding cattle in the T. V. western. This isn't an isolated instance. In every home the same thing happens. Television is for confusion...not viewing.

Girl Scouts were out in droves last week selling cookies. Watching them in our small town, we couldn't help but think that it was the best organized campaign since Mr. Kennedy's campaign for the White House.

Farmers may find after the ice melts off their farm ponds many dead fish floating on the surface. This is no cause for alarm. The long period of the ponds being completely frozen over took some of the oxygen from the water. Some fish didn't get enough air so they died. Since most farm ponds are over stocked anyway, losing a few fish will not matter. However, if anyone feels that he is losing too many fish it is best to get in touch with the wildlife Conservation office in Westminster.

Architects cover their mistakes with ivy, doctors with sod, and brides with mayonnaise.

We have just found a book by the NBC commentator Irving R. Livine written about Russia titled "Main Street, U. S. S. R. Mr. Livine wrote the book because hundreds of Americans wrote him letters asking all sorts of questions about Russia. The chapter that should interest the reader most is the one on the school system in Russia. The American schoolboy or girl, who is already homework shy will be delighted to learn that in Russia homework is forbidden on week-ends and holidays, but there is a catch to that, for Russian children have to go to school on Saturday. Sunday is the only free day. School begins at the age of seven and education is compulsory for ten years in cities and seven years in farm districts. Both boys and girls wear uniforms to school. The girls hair is worn in two braids with red ribbon bows. The reason for dressing school children in uniforms is to make them all feel equal with no one trying to outdo the other in dress. Classes are kept small with no more than thirty-five students to a class. Classrooms are primitive in furnishings without any attempt to make them attractive with color. Schools do not bear names but are given a number instead. The course of study includes the Russian language, literature and grammar, mathematics, penmanship, spelling, history and a foreign language, either English or German.

There are special schools for handicapped children. By Soviet standard their teachers are paid well. A sixth grade teacher has a beginning salary of 800 rubles ($80) per month. Academic work in Russia commands great respect. The system of grading student's work is quite different than the United States. Five is the highest, and is given for excellent work; four is good; three is satisfactory, two is poor and one is very bad. Marks are entered in a small copybook by the teacher and kept by the pupil. The book is taken home each week and signed by the parent. There is much more in the chapter and all of it worth reading, especially enlightening are the pages on higher education. The book can be borrowed from the local Bookmobile.

Unless winter challenges it again, spring has taken over for 1961. These days makes one feel like doing ten jobs at the same time, but we must remind ourselves that often "haste makes waste". Too often we plant a garden and a sudden frost night wipes out all the work.

With all the news about violence screaming from every paper it may be wise to warn women drivers who travel alone to keep their car doors locked and under no circumstances stop car along a lonely stretch of road. Last week a woman driving alone on the Middleburg-Uniontown road was flagged down by a man walking along the highway, who pretended by motions of his hands that there was something wrong with the front end of her car. She didn't stop because some instinct told her not to. When she got to Westminster, she pulled into a service station and had her car checked. There was nothing wrong with the car. Beware of any ruse to get you out of your car along a highway.

What every country needs more than space ships, more than wealth, yet even more than education is for a majority of its citizens to believe and practice sobriety, honest work, paying his debts, loyalty to his mate and his friends and disdain of soft living.

Letter to Board of Education

Board of Education of Carroll County, Maryland

Gentlemen: In your budget request for school funds for the year 1961 there appeared an item of $175,000.00 for the construction of an addition to the Taneytown Elementary School, and we were informed by you that this had in contemplation an addition of eight classrooms and a cafeteria.

Subsequently your architect prepared plans and specifications for a four room addition and also the contemplated eight room addition, and although your estimate for the eight room addition was $175,000.00, nevertheless, when the bids were examined on January 17th it was disclosed that the eight rooms and cafeteria would cost $129,322.00, or about $45,000.00 less than you had asked in your budget.

Notwithstanding that we approved and allowed the sum of $175,000.00 in your budget for 1961, without the necessity of a tax increase, there appeared to be some reversal of your earlier thinking with respect to this addition, because you awarded a contract only for the construction of the four room addition at a cost of $95,412.00, of the sum of $39,310.00 less than would have been the total cost of the eight rooms and cafeteria.

Since January 17th we have been importuned by numerous responsible citizens residing in the Taneytown area to reaffirm our previously stated willingness to provide all the funds necessary to build the addition as designed for eight rooms, and we now have been advised that at a meeting in Taneytown on Monday night, February 20th, sixty-four citizens representing different civic and community organizations of the Taneytown area, the group there present unanimously adopted a resolution requesting this Board to again advise your Board that we are still willing to provide the necessary funds for the construction of the eight room addition.

While it undoubtedly can successfully be argued that eight additional classrooms are not presently needed for the accommodation of the Elementary School population, and it may even be successfully contended that the five hundred children under school age now residing in the Taneytown area will not completely fill eight additional classrooms upon their admission, nevertheless the resident proponents of the larger addition contend that consideration also should be given to the assured potential for further increase in the school population by the addition of new families moving into the area.

For some years this Board has advocated that provision be made in all plans for new construction to cover a period of years beyond present needs in the different areas, in order to avoid the necessity of making additions to new buildings at a much higher cost than would be required if the additional space were provided in the initial construction, and as the responsible agency for the raising of revenues necessary to support the public school system in Carroll County, it has been our feeling that the provision of additional classrooms at Taneytown, beyond what may be urgently needed during the next four or five years, would be in the public interest, and since learning from the successful bidder for this addition that at present day prices it would cost at least $16,000.00 more than the $33,910.00 to add the other four rooms at a later date, we are further convinced that the larger addition should be made at this time.

We do not pretend to be specialists in the field of education, and we certainly have no intention of usurping any of the legal functions and duties of the Board of Education; but we do wish to reiterate our willingness to provide all the funds necessary to build the larger addition to the Taneytown Elementary School, and it is our feeling that the expressed wishes of such a large group of citizens in the affected area should not be ignored.

Sincerely yours, Edmund L. Carr Charles W. Saylor Francis J. Crawford COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF CARROLL COUNTY 4-H CLUB HONORED

Hat Chat

BY HATTIE MOORE

Six of America's most chic women have been awarded the 1960 coveted Golden Hat Award! Irene Dunne, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Jr., Loretta Young, Roberta Peters, Arlene Dahl, and Joan Fontaine were the winners chosen by the votes of hundreds of women's page fashion editors from all over the country.

Comments from the newly crowned queens of millinery clearly summed up six reasons why the hat has become the outstanding symbol of the well-dressed and attractive woman.

Irene Dunne, representing women in Business and Government, believes that a pretty hat brightens up dreary days and keeps a woman working in a predominantly male field looking feminine and charming. Said Miss Dunne: "I can never have enough hats. It seems there's always one more I just can't live without."

Mrs. Hearst, an outstanding leader of American and International society, said: "No outfit is chic without a hat. A hat becomes a personal signature more than anything else that you wear."

Loretta Young, whose clothes on camera are the talk of the feminine world, was the winner for Television. Said Miss Young: "The Golden Hat Award is a wonderful honor. Hats have always been a part of my life."

The singer voted as best-hatted was Roberta Peters, who finds hats particularly delightful when she goes on tour. Commented Miss Peters: "One of the nicest things about winning this award is that my husband is so pleased too. He always likes to see me in pretty hats."

Beautiful Arlene Dahl was the winner for Motion Pictures, in acknowledgement of her choice of hats as glamorous accents to her costumes. Stated Miss Dahl: "I'm really thrilled. I've written about the Golden Hat Award in my column, but I never thought I would win one."

From the Theater comes the sixth winner, Joan Fontaine, who has over thirty hats in her wardrobe. Stated Miss Fontaine: "I love all hats but my special love is evening hats because they make me feel glamorous during the most glamorous time of a woman's day."

Have you ever noticed while on a summer camping trip, when the campers gather about the evening camp fire, how many of the stories told begin with the sentence, "I remember once?"

Why do our yesterdays all spring to new and glorious life when the flickering flames are lighting up our faces? Why, by the side of the fire do we always think of the Past, dream of the Past, talk of the Past? The fireside is sanctified by a great and glorious tradition. It enshrines all that is most mystical and most wonderful in our civilization. The triumph of humanity is the creation of "Home" and the soul of the home is the fireside.

Balmy summer evenings with a wide range of attractions, tend to discount the attractions of the fireside and depreciate the value of domestic intercourse. We enter hurriedly and rush out again, but winter furnished a salutary corrective, when the day is done, when home is reached and darkness falls, the whistling frosty wind or whirling snow conspire to enhance the seductive charms of the fireside, while the cheerful hum of table talk and the genial hospitalities of home make such a resistless appeal that for centuries the fireside has been regarded as the natural emblem of domestic felicity.

In days of old, before matches were invented, when the lighting of a fire was a laborious business, the first fire in the home of a newly married pair was started by the bearing of a burning brand from each of the homes from which bride and bridegroom came. It was a kind of ritual. The communication of the flame from the old hearths which they had left to the new one which they had established was designed to symbolize the perpetuation of all that was worthy or sacred in the homes from which the young people had come. It was a transfer of the radiant and tender past to the roseate and unborn future.

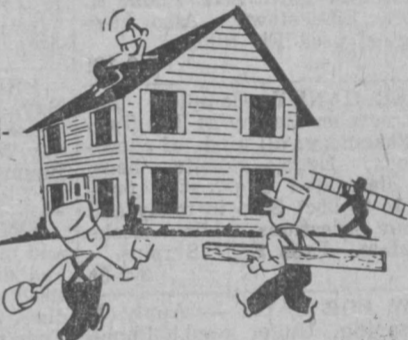

The fireside, however, is no lover of loneliness, it is the emblem of hospitality. Though we close the door and draw the blinds, yet when a friend looks in we suddenly discover that our happiness consists not in closing the door but flinging it wide open and the best we have is given as eyes sparkle and genial conversation grows in interest and surprise. Pleasure is by no means the monopoly of the host; the guest shares it to the full. The fire blazes; the buzz of conversation rises and falls, sink and swells, for the fact is the fireside is a sort of magic observatory that stimulates the memory, spurs the imagination brings back all our lost loves and all our veiled landscapes and beautiful and idealized form. A kind of camera-obscura revealing the faces of old friends, playmates, blue skies, and wonderful yesterdays. The slumbering Past, the days of auld langsyne, the old familiar faces all come back in the flames.

The glory of America did not come from her great natural resources, but from the religious, moral and ethical precepts that were born in the fireside circle and inspired her men and women her Lincoln, Washington, Franklin Jefferson and hosts of others as they gazed on faces of the Past and dreamed of glories of the future.

Savings Bonds Have A Birthday

Retiring Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson (left) and the new Secretary of the Treasury, C. Douglas Dillon, joined in ringing a replica of the Liberty Bell to signal the 20th anniversary of the U. S. Savings Bond program. The recent ceremonies took place on the west steps of the Treasury Building, opposite the east entrance to the White House. Americans now own over $43 billion in series E and H Savings Bonds. This is an all-time record high.

The Liberty Bell replica in the Nation's capital has counterparts in every state, donated by leading American companies as a feature of the Independence Savings Bond drive in 1950. State governors, as honorary bond chairmen, will rally their volunteer forces with similar bell-ringing ceremonies this spring.

Home of the Spirit

Lesson for March 12, 1961

"YOU know him," said Jesus to his friends, speaking of the Holy Spirit. Could he say as much to the average Christian today? On the contrary, the ordinary Christian nowadays finds the Holy Spirit a hard problem. His notions about the Spirit are very hazy. His immediate reaction to Jesus' words, "You know him," would be a denial and a question: "No, I don't know him. How can I know him?"

Dr. Foreman

One reason why we are confused and uncertain about the Holy Spirit may be that we start thinking at the wrong point. We wonder what "Spirit" means, and what "Holy" means. Since they are two X's in our minds, of course the Holy Spirit means nothing definite either. A better place to start is not with some definition, but to look at what Jesus had to say about this. We must remember that this "You know him" was spoken before Pentecost. There had been no "descent of the Spirit" on the first Christians.

"In My Name"

As a matter of history, many persons have claimed to possess, or to be possessed by, the Holy Spirit; but not all these persons have been acknowledged by the Church. In I John 4:1 (an epistle written by the author of the 4th Gospel) Christians are told not to believe every spirit but to test them to see whether they are truly "of God." The test spoken of in the Epistle is suggested already in the Gospel: Is the alleged "Spirit" in harmony with Christ? Does the Spirit "confess" Jesus, is the Spirit "in the name" of Jesus? There have been in American history several self-styled prophets or Bearers of the Spirit, but the church has not accepted them just on their own say-so; indeed, (though it's a feeble false prophet that can't get somebody to believe him!) the church has rejected nearly all these prophets so-called, largely because their lives were not Christlike and many of their teachings contradicted or distorted the teachings of Christ.

"Spirit of Truth"

Another sign by which we can know the Holy Spirit is the simple sign of truth. God does not sponsor lies. "I am so full of the Spirit that I can't sin any more," a man told the writer of these lines some years ago. Well, that man, still claiming to be full of the Spirit, first coveted and then ran away with another man's wife. He had convinced her, poor soul, that since he was filled with the Holy Spirit anything he wanted to do would be free from sin. A Christian with better sense would have a right to suspect a man who claimed that it is right to break the Ten Commandments and to do what God has condemned as sin. So when people who claim to be "spiritual" make Bible interpretations that twist and destroy what the Bible actually teaches; when they make prophecies that do not come true; when they claim to have the central place in God's kingdom which rightly belongs only to Christ, then we have every reason to know that whatever they may be filled with, nonsense, madness or wickedness, they are not filled with the Spirit of Truth.

Conditions

The Christian church very early in its existence concluded that the Holy Spirit is nothing less than God. In other words, the doctrine of the Trinity meets us here already in these simple yet profound sentences from Jesus' last supper with his friends. If it seems too hard to understand, remember three simple truths. One: If you could understand all about the Trinity, you would know all about God—and only God can do that. Two: You will never be any nearer God than you are to the Holy Spirit, no nearer than you are to Christ. Three: If Father, Son and Holy Spirit are to "make their home" with you, there are two conditions. First is love and the second (a test of the first) is obedience. God is Lord of all men; but he comes to make his home only where the door of loving obedience is open to him.

Summertime Frozen Dessert

Summer is the time for frozen desserts which are light in texture and refreshing to eat. Take advantage of seasonal fruits, and combine them with whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals in a delicious freeze everyone will welcome on a warm day. The home economists of the Carnation Company recommend a Peach Chiffon Freeze. Whipped magic crystals are an ingredient, and create the desirable lightness in texture. Try this recipe from the Carnation Company:

PEACH CHIFFON FREEZE
(Makes about 1 1/2 quarts)

1/4 pound (16) marshmallows	1/2 cup Carnation instant non-fat dry milk crystals
1/2 cup water	1/4 cup lemon juice
1 3/4 cups diced peaches	1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup ice water

Cut marshmallows in half. Place in saucepan. Add 1/2 cup water. Heat over medium heat until marshmallows are melted. Mash peaches in bowl. Add peaches and 1/2 cup sugar to marshmallow mixture and mix well. Chill until slightly thickened. Pour 1/2 cup ice water into mixing bowl. Add instant crystals and whip until soft peaks form (about 3 to 4 minutes). Add lemon juice and whip very stiff (about 3-4 minutes). Gradually beat in 1/4 cup sugar. Fold into peach mixture. Pour into refrigerator trays. Freeze until firm, about 3 hours.
