MONEY IN NOT FARMING

A recent Baltimore Sun editorial called attention to our silly farmsubsidy system under which the Government pays farmers for not farming. One shocking case was described in detail, and although it may be an unusual case it illustrates what can happen under this cockeyed pro-

In a farm estate settlement, one of the estate managers was allowed to buy a 6,960-acre ranch at $20 an acre, with 10 years to pay the $139,200 purchase price. Not having that kind of money, he worked out a plan: He would cut the ranch into 6 sections, lease each section to a tenant, and get each tenant to put the maximum allowable into the soilbank. The Government rental for soilbank land there was $7 an acre. This meant that over a 10-year period the Government would be paying $70 per acre to keep out of cultivation $20-per-acre land. Each tenant would pay over this soilbank money to the land purchaser as rent, having the balance of the leasehold free to cultivate. The purchaser in turn would meet the installments on the original purchase price out of this soilbank money. It's working out all right for the purchaser. The Government's soilbank payments come to $27,000 a year. At the end of the 10-year soilbank period, the purchaser will have paid off the $139,200 purchase price and have left $131,800 plus a 6,960-acre ranch, all paid for by the American taxpayers.

As you know, I have consistently opposed the principle of farm subsidy. -U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall

The dissident thought occurs: Is this what taxes are for? Are they meant to provide the necessary costs of government, or are they intended to be a magic wand that will change or cure, speed or retard our economic and social enterprises? Future Newsprint Forest?

The constant battle to keep productivity abreast of rising costs is helping shape the forests from which newsprint for future years will come, according to the Newsprint Information Committee. In this artist's conception, big machine fells, tops, and de-branches tree, deposits logs in one trailer, branches, foliage in another. Logs are reduced to chips on site for transmission to mill via pipeline, other tree material going to plant on left for by-products. Helicopter drops fertilizer, insecticides, fire-retardants.

Breeze Through Spring Cleaning!

If the mere idea of spring cleaning leaves you exhausted, cheer up. Perhaps lack of organization is your problem—and that can easily be remedied. According to the Can Manufacturers Institute, a cleaning-cáddy is an invaluable aid in saving the homemaker's

A cleaning-caddy is a lightweight basket that holds all your cleaning aids, keeps them in one place, and can easily be toted from room to room. You can use any lightweight container: picnic basket, laundry basket, or shopping basket. Be sure you get one with a handle to make lugging easier.

Before you begin your tasks, see that the cleaning-caddy contains everything you will need for your morning workout. If moths have invaded your closets, for instance, a canned aerosol spray goes into the basket, to be used in the closets as you move about the house. Other canned aerosol sprays make your work easier, too: you will need aerosol furniture polish, glass cleaner, space deodorizer, spot remover, and rug and upholstery cleaner.

And don't forget all the old standard your decaping coddy.

And don't forget all the old stand-bys. Your cleaning-caddy should contain paste wax and/or liquid wax for floors and furniture; silver, brass, copper or other metal polish; paint and varnish, should you be doing touch-up jobs as you go along. If your cleaning-caddy holds all the canned cleaning aids you will need, you'll be amazed at how much extra energy you will have for the work, once the unnecessary footwork is eliminated. A note of caution: Don't tackle too much in one day. It's better to clean for only three or four hours at a clip and, if necessary, for several days running. If you allocate your working hours sensibly, and take advantage of the invaluable canned homemaking products—spring cleaning can be a breeze!

An inner glow. Her hands? Hard toil had roughened them, And made them red,

But they were like a blessing on My down-bent head! She was my neighbor-when the day was overcast

She gave me courage—oh, she lent me Until the skies were bright again! She'd always share Her food, her roof, her hopes with me Her faith in prayer. Perhaps her face was rather plain,

Indeed, I like to tell myself that

Heaven will be A place where neighbors, just as dear, Will welcome me!

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

May Day in some countries is a political celebration, but in ours, it is a "humanitarian appeal day" to mark the beginning of a drive against mental illness. During the month of May volunteer workers will make a house to house canvass for funds to be used for research into the cause and cure for mental and emotional diseases. In spite of the many demands on the public for this and that drive. for this and that drive, all are important but none quite urgent as the one

Mr. and Mrs. John Hyle and daugh- month for mental health. Everyone is ter, Denise visited at the home of personally aware of the importance of Fox, regional officer Maryland Civil Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baust and good mental health for there isn't a Defense and Martin L. Fox, Maryland family anywhere in the United States which hasn't been personally affected by either a member or a friend becoming ill mentally or emotionally. With the pressures of daily living mount-ing, mental illness will increase and it is very important to learn how to cope with the problem. Therefore, giving a dollar or two for research is cheap insurance. Not that a gift of a dollar or two will insure you against a mental disease, but it will help to place in your hands the knowledge about mental illness, its causes, its treatment and how its conquered. Through research doctors will learn more about the human brain emotions and why both are affected by certain conditions and enviorn-ments Each individual has a tremendous stake in the outcome of this drive for mental illness can strike any person, young or old; rich or poor intelligent or genius; educated or ig-norant. Mental illness, like other diseases can be cured and is being cured, but more must be learned about the disease and better ways to treat it must be found. That is what your contribution will do.

There is no doubt about it but that the college student is turning into a conservative in his thinking and in nis actions. We have often wondered why the American college student never goes out to demonstrate while his counterpart turns out by the thousands in other countries to pro-test against whatever it is that they don't like. We use to think with much misgiving, that the American college student was too complacent, too sat-isfied with his life and desired more than anything else to be let alone in his comfortable little shell even if the world outside was being turned in side out. We are not certain at this point if he will be allowed to sit much longer and enjoy his ivory tower far above the common place. But we think he has the right to try. Too many people are malcontents; contributing nothing, only adding to confusion. Conservatives have their place in the world for someone must keep his feet on the ground while others soar off in every direction among the clouds. May the first is celebrated in many countries in honor of summer which is supposed to come in on that day. England always made it a holiday until the Puritans of the Commonwealth put a stop to the festivities and up-rooted all the May-poles. The and up-rooted an the May-poles. The rugged Puritans of New England did battle with the May-poles also. To them they were emblems of satanic rule, and all who danced around a May-pole were consigned to eternal flames without mercy. In such an inhospitable atmosphere it could not flourish very long, and soon became a thing of the past. (Poor Puritans... they were determined not to get any fun out of living.) The custom of giving May Baskets continued down to a generation ago and are still observed n some communities. A basket tastefully arranged with flowers, was left by a love sick male at the door of his lady-love. Children tied baskets and bouquets on the door knob of the house in which their playmates lived, and friends remembered each other by gifts and flowers on the morning of May Day. In America May Day was observed at one time as "moving day". At one time every family in the cities that intended to change places of living did so on May Day. Picture hundreds of families loaded down hundreds of families loaded down with belongings hurrying along the streets like hundreds of ants seeking a new hole. But today man gets up a parade with banners, soldiers and missiles and marches through the streets to impress other men. If there are any historians left in the year 2299 they will say we were just as silly as the Puritans who thought May-pole was a tool of the devil. Man will never change. He will just use different symbols.

One last note on May-Day. In the United States as well as London policemen and mail-carriers were is-sued new uniforms on the first of May. Whether the custom still exists we can't say.

On commencement day at Columbia University, a cap-and-gowned youth intently reading his diploma, stepped in the path of an oncoming taxi. screamed the driver indignantly. "Whyn'tcha watch where you are going, ya jerk!" Waving his diploma, the graduate replied happily, "DOCTOR Jerk, if you don't mind."

There seems no point in serving instant coffee and then spending an our drinking it. After a week of getting up at 6 a.m. every morning for a week our spouse has convinced the woodpecker that he isn't welcome to drill a hole in the west side of the house.

The dogwood trees will soon be in full bloom in Carroll County and their ovely white flowers will make a beaucontrast against the green woodlands which is their natural home. There is a legend, that at the time of the Crucifixion the dogwood tree was the size of the oak. So firm and strong was the tree that it was chosen as the timber for the cross To be used for such a cruel purpose greatly distressed the tree, and Jesus, nailed upon it, sensed this, and in His gentle pity for all sorrow and suffering said unto it: "Because of your regret and pity for My suffer-ing, never again shall the dogwood tree grow large enough to be sips makes many enemies. If the truth be evil or harms others, close blossoms shall be in the form cross—two long and two short petals. And in the center and outer edge of each petal there will be nail prints, smile, be cheerful, would you have brown with rust, and in the center beauty. To suppress wrong, reprove of the flower will be a crown of thorns, the wrong doer instead of talking to and all who see it will remember."

The reason why the Ten Commandments are short and clear is that they were handed down direct...not through several committees

Drive for Mental Health Funds

May is Mental Health Month. Time for a million volunteers to march across the nation and ring the bell for Mental Health. Carroll County volunteers will be ringing your bell and wearing the traditional identifi-cation card bearing the Bell for Men-

Do you know the story of the Ringing Bell? Behind the symbolic bell of the National Association for Mental Health is a real bell. It weighs 300 with cards, flowers, and visits while pounds and was cast from chains and shackles that once restrained the mentally ill, in the days when mental illness was rarely understood or properly treated. Today, that bell, cast for the box of fruit. from despair, rings with hope. A hope already realized by the mental patients who now recover. To hope that medical science will conquer mental illness as it has conquered so many diseases. This National Bell, which rings at the beginning of Mental Health Week, has a more direct meaning to us in Maryland. The metal was melted down on April 13, 1953 in Baltimore. Chairman of the drive in Carroll County Paul H. Smith, who is announcer and salesman for radio station WTTR, has announced the following chairmen who will serve during the

Make A Will For Your Family's Sake

Where there's a will, there's a way to make a will. Thoughts of making a will need not bring an icy chill or give reason for prolonged procras

Actually, a will is a legal declara-tion of intention as to how you want property disposed of after death. This s made known through a written declaration put into effect through legal procedures.

This means that anyone, married or single, who has real estate and/or personal property can state in writing who shall receive his estate in the event of death, says Joanne Reitz, extension home management specialist at the University of Maryland. If a person dies without a will, the legal term for this is "Intestate". In that event, disposition of the estate is handled by the laws of the state. Regardless of the circumstance, the estate is distributed in this way by Maryland Courts according to state laws of descent. This is what might happen if a husband dies intestate:

1. If the wife is the only heir, she receives all of the estate.

2. If there are children or descendants of children the wife receives only

2. If there are children or descendants of children, the wife receives only one-third of the estate. The remainder is divided equally among the children. If the children are minors, this distribution of the estate may bring financial hardship for the mother who tries to keep the family together.

3.If there are only brothers and sisters, the wife receives $4000 and one half of the remainder.

half of the remainder.

4. If the husband dies intestate. with father and mother only, the wife receives one-half.

If handled through courts, this may become a long, involved and drawn out affair. Meantime, family members may really suffer.

Having a lawyer write a will for you saves all this confusion and provides a means of getting property disributed according to the wishes of

The speaker told of 130 cases in a small area of a few blocks in a Maryland city and outlined, in detail, the cost to the government both etail, the cost to the government both state and Federal. The meeting and program was very

Getting Set For Seasonal Change

In the past decade or two it does seem that the phrase "spring cleaning" has become a little old fashioned. There really is no specific season for cleaning any longer. But Spring does suggest change and that's about all a do-it-yourself nation needs.

This is a season of papering and painting, refurbishing the floor covering, refinishing some of the older furniture and shampooing the sofas and

In short the energetic housekeeper has the impulse in Spring to do indoors what na-ture does out of doors in a much more lavish fashion. And it is easier than it seems if a little foresight is used.

Bissell Home .Service Institute experts have come up with many valuable suggestions.

Before you paint walls apply a first coat of shellac to form an even base and prevent un-even absorption of the paint. Skip the flips at the end of the brush stroke to reduce paint spatter and if you are using a roller do not plunge the roller too deeply in the paint, roll slowly and evenly. When painting steps, first paint every other one, allow them to dry. Later paint the remaining ones. In this way you can walk on the dry steps without injuring the paint.

To make wall paper washable, cover first with sizing then with shellac. Thereafter it will wipe clean with a damp

For ideal floor care, use an appliance that is both a floor scrubber and a vacuum cleaner. The vacuum cleans all types of flooring and carpeting. The floor washer does a variety of cleaning jobs and this ap-pliance is produced by Bissell. Carpets and rugs last longest when daily carpet sweeping is supplemented with a foam shampoo every three months.

As for slip covers, never let the soil linger in any fabric.
Do it now, the experts say, and do it as often as necessary.

Formica Cabinets Lighten Spring Cleaning Chores

Keeping kitchen cabinets clean is a housekeeping challenge that can outwit even the fussiest spring-cleaners.

Cabinets absorb year-round punishment. Children's jelly-sticky fingers, bumps and scrapes from brooms and mops, scratches from hungry family pets all leave their marks . . . often with damaging permanence.

The inside story is the same: shelves are notorious collectors of food stains and messy crumbs, especially in hard-to-wipe corners. And changing shelf paper to spruce things up is a periodic Here's the practical, modern solution—cabinets surfaced with Formica decorative laminate, the same lifetime protection that makes sink top care a breeze.

A damp cloth quickly removes stains and fingermarks from laminale-faced cabinet doors. For the more formidable scuffmarks common on base cabinets, a little soap and warm water

As an inside tip, Formica shelves mean goodbye forever to bothersome shelf paper.

The durability of laneinate surfacing is well known. It resists nicks and scratches, it won't chip or splinter and it's unmarred by today's strong cleaning detergents. The need for repainting or refinishing is erased for good.

As a decorative bones, Formica for cabinets is available in a wide selection of patterns and colors, ranging from rich cherry and maple woodgrains for Early American harmonizing to sleek solids for the Modern book. Add the appropriate hardware accessories, and the styling's complete.

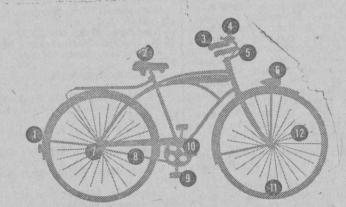

Initial cost for laminate faced cabinets averages slightly higher than wood. But convenience, beauty and long life pay the investment back . . handsomely!

American Bike Month will be observed nationally in May. During May, the American bicycle industry urges all cyclists to make certain their bikes are in sound running condition. To achieve this, a detailed self-inspection diagram, similar to that above, is being made available to all cyclists in an 8-page games booklet which you can pick up at no cost at your nearest bike store. Maintenance points indicated above should be regularly inspected for wear and repaired when necessary. Since "There's inspected for wear and repaired when necessary. Everybody Loves a Taffy Pull

HERE'S A WAY TO SHARE FUN WITH THE YOUNGSTERS, And give them a life-long fond memory of home. Gather the neighbors together and have an old fashioned taffy pull. This recipe from the Jack Frost Consumer Institute takes a minimum of prior preparation by you. Then put it on a good sized table inside or outside the house and let the assembly line go to work. Every kid in the block (young and old) will be busy pulling the taffy into fragrant snow white ropes, snipping it with buttery shears into plump cushions of sweetness and testing, testing of course.

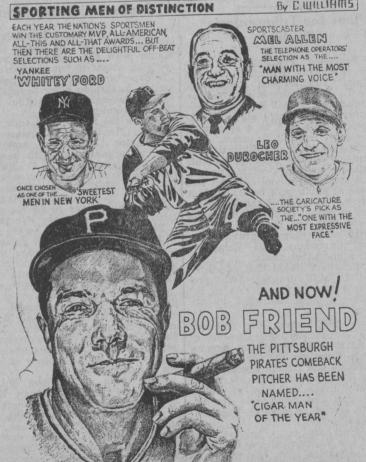

ing, testing of course. For extra excitement organize the "pullers" into teams and give a prize for the lightest, least stringy batch and the neatest job. Advise all that taffy should be pulled with the fingers (ever so lightly buttered) rather than with the whole hand, and just to the right consistency. JACK FROST TAFFY

11/2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup water 1/2 tablespoon vinegar 34 teaspoon cream of tartar

1 teaspoon lemon extract (See variations for flavoring) Place sugar, water, vinegar, and cream of tartar in a saucepan. Cook to 270 degrees, or to the soft-crack stage. Add flavoring and pour out on buttered platter. When cool enough to handle pull until white and glossy. Cut into cushions. Variations: Flavor with ½ teaspoon mint extract, or one teaspoon of other flavorings like rum, banana, pineapple, orange, etc., or roll cushions in shredded coconut; or dip in melted semi-sweet chocolate; or wrap around nut-meats. .

Sundae Cake Is For Every Day

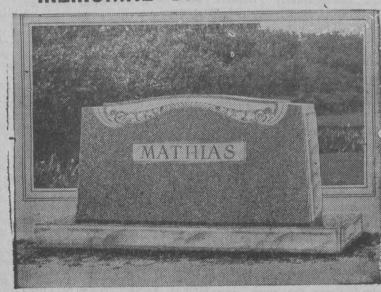

Scrumptious is the word for these fudge coconut cake squares topped with ice cream and drizzled with chocolate sauce. Easy is the word for Mom because the moist fudgy cake is made from a package of new fudge coconut cake mix. It's a dessert to delight family and friends.

Fudge Coconut Sundae Cake

1 package fudge coconut cake mix 1-1/2 quarts ice cream Chocolate Sauce* 1-1/4 cups water

Prepare cake mix with water and eggs as directed on package, baking in a 13x9x2-inch pan. Cool. Cut into serving pieces. Top each piece with a scoop of ice cream; then pour on Chocolate Sauce, using about 1/4 cup for each serving. Makes 12 to 15 servings. 2 eggs, unbeaten

*Chocolate Sauce. Combine 6 squares unsweetened chocolate and 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons water in saucepan. Place over low heat, stirring until chocolate is melted. Add 1-1/2 cups sugar and 1/8 teaspoon salt. Cook until sugar is dissolved and mixture is slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add 1/2 cup butter and 3/4 teaspoon vanilla; stir to blend. Makes about 3 cups sauce.

Out Of The Heart Lesson for May 7, 1961

"HEART" is a word which has changed its meaning in the course of time. When the Hebrews, who wrote the Bible, used it, they seldom meant the physical organ of the body-that was not understood until about 400 years ago. They usually meant it as a figure of speech. So do we. but with a difference When English-speaking people use the word "heart," they most often mean the emotions, es-

Dr. Foreman pecially connected with love or the capacity for love. But when Hebrews used that word in their language, they usually meant the whole "inner life." all there is in man that is not physical, all that cannot be observed with microscopes or cut, with microtomes, all that cannot be weighed or measured on any scale.

In The Heart

"In the heart"—when you meet that phrase in the Bible-does not mean in the place where you pack your emotions, where you get your thrills. It means in the whole inner self. It means in the mind, in the habits, in the attitudes of life. Two things are specially mentioned in the Proverbs which have been selected for our study this week, that should be kept "in the heart." One is the Commandments, the will of God for human life. That is the place where they have to be written to do any good. The Ten Commandments in a book, in a scroll hanging on the wall, carved into a corner stone or inscribed in a stained glass window—you can shut your eyes to these, or you can forget them. write them on your heart and can't forget them. Well, some one will say, I memorized the Commandments and still often F . .. t keep them—that's because you just put the Commandments into your brain, and your brain forgets pretty easily. They have to be inscribed, cut deeply as with an engraver's tool, into your whole inner life. your mind, spirit, attisudes, amotions, personality, the whole YOU. The other thing (Prov. 4:20-21: is "my words," that is to say the words of wisdom. Wisdom has to be put inside and kept inside. Knowledge can be put in books and set on a reference shelf. But wisdom has to be carried around with you, and you can't carry wisdom in a book-bag

Had it ever struck you that the Bible never uses the expression, "with haif your heart"? The English expression "half-hearted" is ant meant as a compliment. A half-hearted effort is a feeble one. A half-hearted assent is a "yes" that has echoes of "no" in it. No Joung man wants a girl to tell him the leves him with half her heart. Psychiatrists talk nowadays about split personalities, and that's exactly what half-a-heart means.

Especially is this true: "Trust in the Lord with all your heart." This doesn't mean we should never have any self-confidence. It does not forbid us to trust our friends or even (on occasion) perfect strangers. It does hold before us the truth that half-trusting God is like climbing the Alps fastened to the guide with a half-tied rope.

Out Of The Heart

Out of the abundance of the heart a man's mouth speaks, said Jesus of Nazareth. The "heart" is not a safety-deposit box opened only on rare occasions. The neart is not a slow-growing plant bicoming once in a lifetime. The heart is always outflowing, we cannot beip it. We cannot keep ourselves to ourselves, even if we shut our nicuths and refuse to speak to any one, we are still giving away what kind of persons we are. For the heart is the way you are, inside, and sooner or later the heart gives i'self away

Out of the heart flow the springs of life," (Prov. 4:23) and this means more than words. Part of the deep meaning of this great truth is this: If you are going to be a spring wi me, and not of death, to these ground you; if your life is to revive others' lives as a spring in the desert revives a fainting traveler, it can only be so if there is within you a life that overflows. The heart that hoards its life for itself perishes

THE MOON-HOW GOD WORKS-

Many things about the moon some do not yet know—
(It does more than enchant lovers, here below);
It not only gives us light, astronomers say); But, to make things grow, that is God's way.

Because of gravitation its pull is the same On the earth as it is on water, scientists claims, It causes the tides, and, makes things grow— That is one secret we have learned to know.

It pulls little seed onions out of the ground—
(Many, after planting, on the surface are found;
The Moon they say, is miles away So, that, alone, proves what I say.

The moon is the most about Satellite in space-(In all ages it has puzzled every race)
The Bible says God made it to be a light at night
So, ever since He made it, we have had moonlight.

The rings around Saturn puzzle many today, (But, to learn how God works, that is not the way); Since the moon is much closer, I can see How God handles all His machinery.

Of a few things about the moon we know;
It not only causes the tides and makes things grow;
It ripens the wheat on our farms today; So the farmers cut it, and, hauls it away.

I am not an astronomer; but, the moon tells me About all of the stars in the heavens I see; Since it is one of the luminaries in space, Why should things differ at any other place?

God made the Earth and moon patterns to be For all of the stars in space which we see; As they work, just so, on them, things shall be Through all the long years of Eternity.

The moon itself would be dark they say But, God lights it as He does the others, they say They all reflect the light of the Sun—
God lights 8 worlds as if they were one.

When I was a boy, to put in the time, I, sometimes, wrote verses, and, made them rhyme; Once I wrote about the Moon and the Sun; And the goem was liked by everyone.

I wrote: "God made the Sun to give us light-(The moon only reflects it at night); But, the moon causes the tides and, makes things grow And, spreads abundance every place we go.

Its power of attraction is seen on every hand; As it draws the water, it pulls the land; That is why grass grows and fruits expand; Then seem to be so by God's command.

It is wonderful to see how God has done; He lights 8 worlds by a single Sun— Jupiter, Saturn, Mars, etc, Astronomers say, Get their light from the Sun—93,000,000 miles away.

It is done by reflection, and, at different times, they say; Who among us, could figure things that way; God includes all such things in His plan To make the Stars we see a home for man.

The earth and moon revolves from West to East, each day;
But, to us, they do not seem to work that way;
At eve, the earth is in the West; astronomers say;
"It goes 1000 miles an hour, to greet the Sun at break of day.

The way God works we still don't understand; But, all of His creations, to us, seem grand; The way He works with the Earth, Moon and Stars Has always been a puzzle to everyone.

Everything God does is done in that way-(It is like the egg and chicken of yesterday!); The chicken must come first, oldsters say, Because there would be no hen the egg to lay.

To do things, they say, God never changes His way—
(He follows the same plan day after day)—
The chicken lays the egg, the cow gives the milk,
The Bee makes honey, the silkworm makes silk.

That God follows one plan we all know, Because things work the same, every place we go; Even the peaches we eat come from a tree; And, just so, it is with everything we see.

How God works we all shall some day know When we learn to know Him, and, learn how to go; But, until He does, like Jesus, we must try to be; For, He sent Him here to show you and me. Jesus always did what God told Him to do;

And, God expects the same of me and you; So long as we listen to man, and, do as men say; We shall have bodies which go to decay.

God gave us all "free will" to let us see
What fools earth can make of humanity;
When we learn to do like He wants us to do; Our sky shall turn from grey to blue These are things we all shall learn some day

When we learn to know God and go His way; For that very reason He sent Jesus to earth, they say Jesus said to all people: "I am the way".

As God worked with Jesus He worked with us today; But we, two often, do our own way; So, follow Jesus, and, learn God's plan To make a perfect woman and a perfect man

Many other things I would like to tell
About our Great God who came here to dwell;
God came here as a Baby to tell of His plan;
And, they called Him Jesus when He was man.

Jesus, too, said to all people: "Follow Me"; On your journey from Time to Eternity; How to live, forever, I came, to show the way, Your body must be in the endless day.

Jesus, they tell us was alive when He went away; And, just so, it shall be said of us some day; His whole life pictured how, with us, things shall be; At the end of time, and through all Eternity.

So, read the Bible, and learn God's plan To make of yourself a perfect man;
God came here Himself to show how we must be
To live forever, with Him, in Eternity.

When Time ends, and, no longer shall be; (When you walk the streets of Eternity)— You shall thank God for all He has done To make earth a heaven for everyone.

The God we worship is wonderful said to be Billions of times greater then you or me; So, all I ask is that, with us, He shall always be Not only in Time, but in Eternity.
