MEMORIAL DAY IN TANEYTOWN

Parade and Appropriate Service to be Held Tuesday Afternoon

Plans are very nearly complete for the annual observation of Memorial Day in Taneytown.

One unfortunate situation has developed however; the speaker that had been planned on finds that he will be unable to be here. Efforts are still being made to obtain an alternate. Even if an alternate cannot be secured, the observation will be carried out as planned.

A parade with a brief appropriate ceremony following has been planned. The parade will form on Uniontown road opposite Taney Inn at 12:30 p.m. and move out promptly at 1:00 p.m. proceeding directly through town to Memorial Park entrance where the ceremony will take place.

Memorial Day is, indeed, a solemn occasion and should not take on the aspect of a gay and gaudy celebration, but should be observed with a high degree of reverence for our honored dead. Certainly we cannot turn out in great enough number to pay homage to those who made the supreme sacrifice for us, the living.

Plans are in charge of Hesson-Snyder Post #120, The American Legion.

Dear Editor:

Would you please publish this letter in answer to the writer of a letter published in your paper last week, concerning Taneytown.

"To Small Animal in Zoo of Taneytown." Hurray to you for having the backbone to speak out in behalf of all of us $1.00 an hour wage earners, who agree with you completely. Until the Industries that are now here in our fair communities of Taneytown, Union Bridge, New Windsor, has cleaned up their own door steps, can we expect new industries, better working conditions and decent wages, that we have earned but not received, be a reality instead of a dream?

It will continue to be a dream and our towns at a stalemate until our die-hard citizens, Councilmen and the Chamber of Commerce Department, quit hogging it all for themselves and give the working people a chance to grow and prosper. They do not want new industries in Carroll County, it would surely upset their apple cart and they couldn't continue being the big wheels who turn the screw as they see fit.

Without the lowly wage earner where would they be? Do they ever give it a thought? NO.

As a worker and citizen, I say, let us arise and start our all-out battle for our rights and respect as a wage earner who deserve much more than we have or ever will have, until we take a firmer step and let it be known to the public exactly what we are up against and demand their support.

So keep a digging small animal, we may get our nose out the ground yet.

At least the stripe down your back isn't yellow.—Small animal in Union Bridge.

Sincerely,
Evelyn Lynch

WORSHIP TOGETHER

A preacher in a Scotch village went into the home of one of his members who had declared boldly that he could find God as well in his garden, or in the fields, as he could by attending services in the village church.

The minister sat in silence with his friend before the open fireplace. The man knew that the preacher had come to take him to task for his boastful spirit. The preacher knew that he was expected to give a deserved rebuke. Yet both remained silent.

At last the preacher arose from the chair and went to the fireplace. Taking the tongs, he lifted a single coal from the embers and placed it alone upon the hearth. He waited in silence as it quickly burned into a black ash while the fire in the fireplace continued to burn brightly. Then he quietly went back to his place.

"You need not say a word," said the man of the house, "I understand what you mean. I cannot live alone. Next Sunday I'll be in my place at church."

This little story underlines the message of the Religion In American Life Program, which urges you to find the strength for your life by worshipping together every week.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

On Friday evening, April 28 at 8:30, Your Observer attended The ESTELLE DENNIS BALLET COMPANY AT THE MERGENTHALER AUDITORIUM in a Benefit Concert for the Maryland General Hospital.

It was with much anticipation that the enthusiastic audience awaited the parting of the curtains!

Miss Dennis presented a delightful program which was varied with a charming title of "Around The World" for the numbers which included first the Swan Waltz (excerpt from Ugly Duckling Ballet) That was truly sweet and winsome! Miss Dennis then danced one of the most graceful dances I have ever seen—"Eugene Onegin". Never have I seen any prominent dancer hold the expression of face and as talented with the dramatic ability of which Miss Dennis displayed. That of course makes the numbers much more interesting and real.

"Spring Breeze" was delightful and so very original danced by Miss Louise Muse.

"Tragedy of Madness" danced by Miss Dennis is truly in a class by itself and nothing else as to comparison. She was called out many times for curtain bows.

The highlight of the evening was the music—the Pianist—Mr. Emilio Del Rosario. Superb is the word!

He accompanied all numbers plus presenting "Piano - Carnival" by Schumann and "Ritual Fire Dance" (Spain) de Falla. The audience was thrilled!

The dance of "Beseda" Authentic (Czechoslovakia) made one think they were really viewing dancers right from that country.

The "Mexican Suite" Mexican Authentic dances were fascinating which were brought back from a Concert tour by Miss Dennis from Mexico. The first number, "The Mexican Hat Dance" B—A Comedy of an American girl doing the "Sandunga" for the first time by Miss Dennis. That was danced as no other dancer could perform exactly as the title, "for the first time!"

"Soaring" was most original with a huge piece of silk by Miss Dennis assisted by Paula Morgan, Ellen Goldberg, Betsy Muhly and Louise Muse. This was filled with grace in every step.

"Freedom" another number danced by Marie Beck, Vera Dobson and Jerry Bedell was original and as to "Can-Can" that brought whistles from the audience! The Oriental number danced by Miss Dennis was outstanding with the movements exactly of the Cobra and the costume worn by Miss Dennis was brought from the far East by Ruth St. Dennis. Without a doubt, Miss Estelle Dennis is a genius in her field of talent. Plus her originality and own individual personality with her combination of Ballet and modern style. Miss Gloria Libowitz and Miss Louise Muse were outstanding with a number of other performers.

The evening was much too short as I could have sat there for another two hours and I know the audience agreed with me. It was just a different type of dancing and each dance or number held the interest of those seated (and it was a huge crowd)! There were about six student nurses from the hospital who acted as Ushers. After the performance, Miss Dennis entertained many of her friends at her Studio on Monument Street. That Studio is filled with interest and all by the ideas of Miss Dennis.

Again, I state nothing can compare with dancing giving one grace, poise, confidence and a beautiful body! It means remaining young for years to come.

Have a grand week-end, Folks. Until next week D. V.

I am Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

TOLEDO, OHIO, CHRONICLE:
 "To stay free we must cut back bureaucracy. To stay free we must cut back governmental waste. To stay free we must cut back the continuous encroachment of all the upper levels of government on the time and money and freedom of action still remaining to local communities and small business and the private person -- rural, small town, or urban. Andmost of us desire to enjoy the freedom traditional with Americans."

CONTRA COSTA, CALIF., GAZETTE: "Despite...evidence that federal subsidization of farm electrification has long since outlived whatever legitimate purpose it may originally have had, REA plans to spend some $340 million in fiscal 1962...."

"REA is just one of many tenuous 'temporary' panaceas that pyramid big government into bigger government. Like Tennyson's brook, their expenditures flow on forever, draining the public purse and enriching the ever-growing flood plains of bureaucracy."

DOVER, DEL., STATE NEWS:
 "One of the most dangerous aspects of growing Federal intervention in the personal lives of all of us is the quiet, almost sneaky, way it comes about...."

"The most powerful point used in getting city fathers, all over the nation, to get on the Federal aid program is a simple one. 'Here is something others are using. We would be foolish to pass up this money and these advantages....'

"The facts are simple if we just remember them. Government does not create wealth. It creates nothing. It takes the fruits of effort and production in the form of taxes. And we pay and pay--and turn around and beg for the return of our own money."

MOSINEE, WISC., TIMES: "Will the proposed minimum wage increase (up to $1.25 an hour) hurt the ones it's supposed to help? Let's dig a bit."

"Sure we favor everyone getting a fair shake on the job. But since when did raising the cost of labor increase the number of job opportunities? We've always found the reverse to be true."

GILLESPIE, ILL., NEWS: "Just WONDERING—What our parents and grandparents did when hard times hit them, they had no taxpayers aid to fall back on? Who took care of the old folks, when there were no nursing homes? Why we think other countries should live as we do, even though they don't wish to? Why do we try to support the world? But then why do we try to support everyone in this country whether they work or not? Why do we keep hearing more taxes, higher taxes, but never a word about economy?"

JUST WONDERING.
EMPORIA, KANSAS, THE GAZETTE: "The farmers of America may be delegated some of the duties of the President if a proposed 'radically new farm setup' sought by Mr. Kennedy is adopted...."

"Under the plan, farmers themselves would be asked to agree on the type of federal controls, price supports and other government props they believe are workable...."

LOUISBURG, N. C., FRANKLIN TIMES: "The average American is now aware of the fact that the United States is losing gold to foreign countries. This is true, to put it as simply as possible, because we are buying more from foreign countries than we are selling to them."

"Two things have caused the flow of gold out of the United States, to a large degree. First, we have been spending three to four billions annually on foreign aid for many years. Second, and probably more important, ant, is the effect of inflation on the prices of U. S.-produced goods."

WEST POINT, MISS., DAILY TIMES LEADER: "The Supreme Court...turned its back on those who would hide behind the Constitution as a shield to protect them while they went about the business of undermining it. It held in effect that the First Amendment did not protect those who would overthrow the government through subversion, communist infiltration and propaganda...."

"We think that the Court's rejection of the misuse of the liberty-giving freedoms of the Constitution to mask subversion is long overdue."

"How-to" Corner

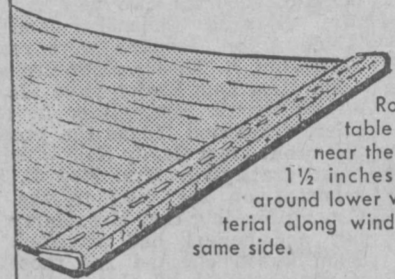

BY MARKWELL

MAKING OR REPAIRING WINDOW SHADES

Now that window shades in all colors and styles are returning to popularity, you can redecorate and economize at the same time, by making your own shades. You will need a staple gun, fabric or plastic, sewing supplies, a wooden shade roller, a wooden slat or weight and a braided pull-cord.

Cut a pattern that is 4 inches wider and a foot longer than the window and frame. Cut your material to the pattern and hem 2 inches.

Roll out shade material on a table—place lower wooden slat near the bottom. Allow approximately 1 1/2 inches of shade material to fold around lower wooden slat—then staple material along window side. Staple pull-cord on same side.

Makers of the Markwell all-purpose staple gun advise stapling the top hem to the roller every 2 inches so the shade will fall evenly. Markwell staple guns, available from hardware and lumber dealers (purchased or rented), simplify dozens of chores in workshop, home and office.

Latest fad for youngsters—and adults, too—is personalized nameplates. They have a hundred and one uses—on boats, clubhouses, dog kennels, you-name-it. One of the most unusual applications we've seen is on this snappy three-seated bicycle owned by the George Gilfillens of Dayton, Ohio. With the varicolored nameplates, it's easy for son Robert, Mom, Dad, even Fido (reading from right to left) to know exactly where to sit when they go for a spin. Because nameplates are so popular nowadays, The Nestlé Company Inc. is offering them as a premium with packages of Quik strawberry and chocolate flavoring. Which means, of course, "open season" on any and all ingenious uses of nameplates, even on a bicycle built for three.

Shell test drivers add a "fifth wheel" to their cars for precise distance measurement during mileage tests. It helps them record performance to a decimal point.

Shell reveals how to increase your mileage up to 30 extra miles per tankful

Here are some tips from Shell's experts on how to get maximum mileage from your car. If you practice these good driving habits—and if you use today's Super Shell, with 9 ingredients for top performance—you may well save a pretty penny on gasoline bills.

1. Don't race a cold engine. When your engine is cold, it uses up more fuel. Today's Super Shell contains Pentane mix—for fast warm-up. (A properly operating thermostat helps.)

2. Use a light touch with the accelerator. Tromping down on the pedal is an expensive habit. Starting up, it holds your automatic transmission in a lower "gear" longer. This makes the engine turn faster, wasting fuel.

Under way, uneven pedal pressure is costly, too. Instead, feed just enough fuel to maintain even speed.

3. Drive "ahead of your car." Watch for slowing traffic and red lights as far ahead as you can see. You'll be able to coast up to the stopping cars, instead of braking heavily when you get there.

4. Don't let fuel costs creep up. If your car "creeps" when idling with the automatic transmission engaged, have your engine idle speed adjusted. You may save plenty.

5. Don't indulge in jack rabbit starts. Racing starts are fine on race tracks—but the drivers are lucky to get 6 miles per gallon.

NOTE: One thing you can't do anything about is the weather. Yet it's interesting to know that air resistance at high car speed is the biggest single drain on power. It increases approximately as the cube of the vehicle speed. Even fox tails on aerials may cost you gasoline.

6. Check tire pressure—regularly. Keep tires properly inflated. Under-inflated tires increase drag and friction and cut mileage. Not to mention extra tread wear.

NOTE: Tire pressures build up during a long run. Don't let air out to bring the pressure down—it makes the tires run even hotter. Check cool tires only.

7. Check for dragging brakes. Have your Shell dealer check for wheel drag next time you're in for a lubrication. If brakes drag, you pay for it every mile you drive.

8. Get these fuel-saving adjustments for top performance. If spark timing is off, for example, you pay for it in wasted gasoline and possible engine damage.

Have the compression checked—it can reveal power-wasting valve and ring conditions.

Use Super Shell with TCP* to give spark plugs extra life. Replace worn plugs.

Adjust carburetor for correct air-fuel mixture and proper idle speed.

Have automatic choke checked for correct operation. Clean or replace filters for air, fuel, oil whenever manufacturer recommends.

Have automatic transmission or clutch checked regularly.

9. Get regular oil changes and lubrication—including transmission and differential. Your Shell dealer knows what to do. He has the finest equipment and lubricants to do it with. There's a good chance your car and your gasoline will last longer.

10. Show this advertisement to everyone who drives your car—especially if you pay their gasoline bills. Insist that they stop for service at the sign of the Shell.

While we can't guarantee 30 extra miles per tankful, the closer these suggestions are followed the better your mileage is likely to get.

To start off right, fill up with today's Super Shell. Its nine ingredients mean top performance.

Super Shell's 9 ingredients

#1 is TCP for restored power, added mileage and extended plug-life.

#2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr.

#3 is Butane for quick starts at all times.

#4 is Alkylate, noted for knock control in hot engines at high speeds.

#5 is anti-knock mix for knock resistance.

#6 is an "anti-icer" to check the cold-weather stalling that can occur even at 45° F.

#7 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.

#8 is gum preventive—to help keep carburetors clean inside.

#9 is Platformate—to add the extra energy that shows up as extra mileage.

Try Super Shell. You'll soon feel and hear the difference in the way your engine runs. That difference is top performance.

A Bulletin from Shell Research—where 1,997 scientists are working to make your car go better and better.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U. S. Patent 2839212.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

We live in an age where nearly everybody wants to be normal and happy. God forbid! To be normal is to be dull and without any imagination. It means to sit in a nice safe world without any desire to step out into space and try one's wings. It means having no desire for the new for they are never discontented with the past. Happiness is fine in small doses but too much acts as a sedative to the mind and the will. If Americans can claim one trait for its own it will have to be "discontent," and discontent is not exactly the prescription for a normal and happy personality.

When we look back upon our history we soon learn that the men and women who have contributed the most to our culture and history were neither happy or normal people. Washington, Lincoln, Jackson, Poe, Cooper, and hundreds of others never wasted their time wondering if they were normal for they were too busy creating fresh ideas. We hear so many people today express the thought that the world is going crazy. Not really. There are just an awful lot of people with new ideas which some of us don't care for and so we take refuge in the thought that we are normal and they are crazy. It may just be the reverse, . . . who knows?

Our reference to our old but honored refrigerator brought four letters from homemakers who have electrical iceboxes that are older than ours. One woman writes: "How comforting to know that there are others as sentimental and foolish as oneself. We too have an old 'family retainer' skeptically adopted June 1937. Having used an ice-box, I was a little fearful of this new monster. Later, as summer approaches, my better-half urges that now is the time to buy a new one as this one can't last much longer! All it has ever demanded was a steady diet of P. E. electricity, weekly defrosting and an occasional new light bulb. Never a new cord nor rubber gasket around the door. Who could estimate the number of times that door has been opened and closed, all without benefit of magnets, magic eyes or electronic devices. And the original handle is still there operating efficiently without even a drop of oil once a year. So add my three cheers for the engineers of those by-gone years." Another woman writes:

"I was talked in to getting rid of my old electrical refrigerator after serving me faithfully for 24 years by a friend who had just bought a new one with all the latest gadgets. As it turned out she wasn't a real friend for she persuaded me to turn out a tried and true piece of equipment for one as temperamental as a young heifer. These young engineers may put a man into space, but they can't build kitchen equipment (refrigerators and stoves) like they did 25 years ago!"

Mrs. Shirley Roop Cheeks, wife of Dr. Sherrill Cheeks remains critically ill at the Akron General Hospital in Akron, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Roop of Mt. Union are in Akron while their daughter remains so ill.

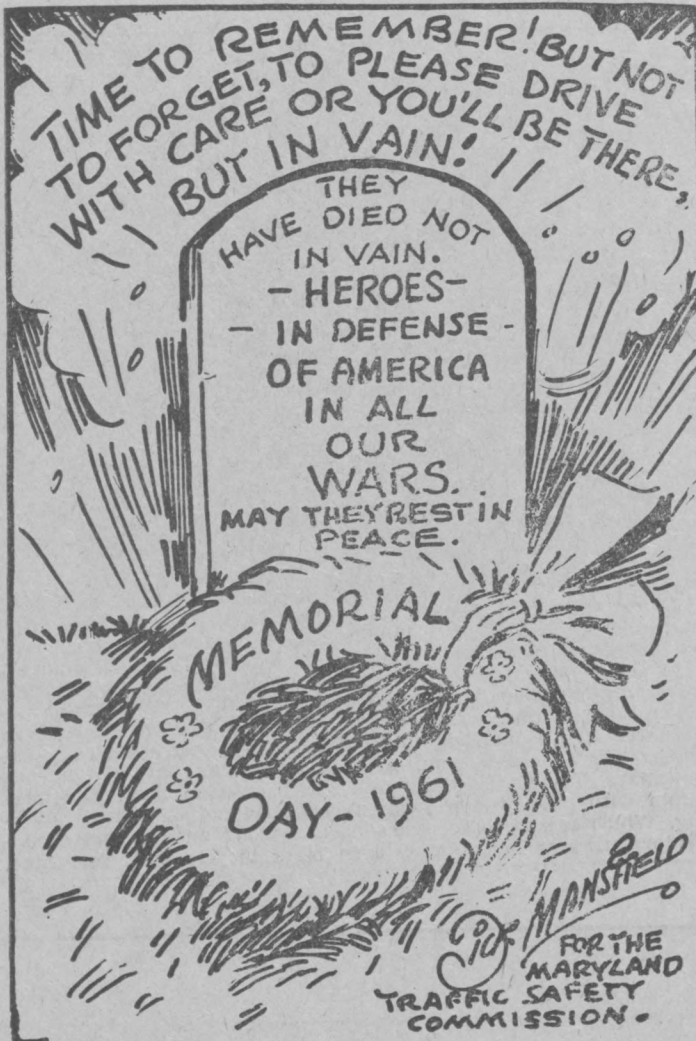

Russell Bohn of Mt. Union is a patient at the Frederick Memorial Hospital. He is undergoing tests to determine the nature of his illness.

A fellowship supper will be held at the Mt. Union Lutheran church, May 24 by members of the congregation to honor their present pastor, Seth S. Hester and Mrs. Hester.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Haines of Linwood entertained at a dinner Sunday May 21. Mr. and Mrs. William Segafosse of Uniontown, Mr. and Mrs. George Roelke of Union Bridge, Mr. John Dintaman of Brunswick and Mr. and Mrs. A. Millard Roelke of Uniontown.

Many of us do not understand the veto power of the President so for our benefit and yours we looked it up. When the President vetoes a bill, he must send it back to the house of origin with his reasons. If the veto is over-ridden by a two-thirds vote in each house, the bill becomes a law. If, while Congress is still in session, the President keeps the bill for ten days, Sundays excepted, without signing it, it becomes a law. However, if Congress adjourns within the ten-day period, the bill is killed. This is known as a pocket veto.

Castro of Cuba is demanding 500 tractors for the release of 1200 Cubans that took part in the recent so called invasion and some Americans are calling it blackmail. There is no doubt but that is what it is but we don't see how we can get out of complying to Castro's demands. For we send the Cubans on their ill-fated adventure and are responsible through mis-leading intelligence for the failure. It is the very least we can do for them and their families now. Furthermore it will be a small boost to our economy by sending him the tractors which our own farmers can't afford to buy, providing they are paid for by private citizens and not the tax-payers. We are up to our neck in trouble with Castro but we must be Memorial Day—In memory of the heroes who gave their lives for their country. The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission warns that traffic accidents produce no heroes. They are just unfortunate victims whose passing is lamented by their families and friends. They forgot to practice the rules of safe, sane driving. Remember the killer—SPEED. "Slow Down and Live" is a timely reminder that should be adhered to by everyone. It could mean the difference between life and death—YOURS! Make this day and every day a safe one—Drive with care.

big enough to admit, much of it we have brought on ourselves.

We wish to congratulate the writer of the letter to the Editor which appeared in the Carroll Record last week for having the courage to speak his mind. Since we are not a resident of Taneytown we refrain from further comment but its a healthy sign for any community when a citizen takes his pen in hand and writes to the community paper expressing what's on his mind. One cannot just be neutral on any subject. And its best to express out loud what you are thinking even though the majority doesn't agree.

The old saying that silence gives consent is certainly true. Too often the best citizens keep quiet because they don't want to get roughed up. But that is no way to remain a best citizen for long.

A boyish-looking Lutheran minister, who was serving his first mission in the coal fields of West Virginia, noticed that one of his faithful members had been absent from services several Sundays in a row, so he decided to go see her and ask why. She shook her head and looked at him pityingly. "Son", she said, "you ain't old enough to have sinned enough to have repented, enough to be able to preach about it."

MAYBERRY

Our oldest citizen who is 94 years young and has been shut in for a while seems to be better now that spring is here and has planted a garden. Who could do better at 94.

Corn is slowly getting planted around the community, due to the cool wet spring.

We are hearing so much about Communists these days. How they are getting in our churches. We should all get on our fighting spirits. Hope everyone that can will tune their radios to Red Lion, Pa., station about 7:30 o'clock each morning except Sat. will be worth your while.

Bethel Church, Mayberry will have its Memorial Service June 4th at 2:30 p.m. Rev. John Gonso will speak. Hope every one who reads this will come out especially those in the community here. This is something we might not be doing if we lived in a communist ruled country. So let us thank God we aren't as yet.

Do You Take the Children to Sunday School?

Since juvenile delinquency is still rampant throughout the world, we are thankful to have the kind permission of Gordon R. Davis, of El Paso, Texas, to use the following poem, which carries his copyright.

This story I tell you
May seem a little sad,
But I tell it to you, thru shame and love
That it may help some Dad.

With pleading eyes, my little girl
Would come to me and say,
"Daddy, it's time for Sunday School,
Won't you go with me today?"

I thought I lived a pretty good life,
I tried the Golden Rule,
But I never took her little hand
And went to Sunday School.

Her little eyes would shine so bright
As she looked up at me,
And in a simple, child like way
She told of Calvary.

She said that Jesus died for me
And that He rose again,
"Please, Daddy, place your trust in Him
And take his nail-scarred hand."

But I thought I was too busy then
She was just a child, you know;
So I turned a deaf ear as she begged,
"Please, Daddy, won't you go?"

You see I had to mow the lawn
And spade the flower bed,
But I would have stopped and gone
Had I known what lay ahead.

Well, the months turned to years,
And as she grew so fast,
Her thoughts turned to worldly things
And her childhood days were past.

Yes, the years have slipped: as I grow old
I find time for Sunday School,
But now my daughter tells ME "No",
She lives for Gold—without a Rule.

One by one the years have gone
I hear her plea no more,
"Please, Daddy, won't you go with me?"

For her childhood days are o'er.

It seems when I am all alone,
I can see her little face,
As she went alone to Sunday School,
ALONE! to fill her place.

Neglect has brought me heartaches
That time cannot erase,
If only I had gone with her
And been there in MY place!

So, Daddy, TAKE your little girl,
Don't wait for her to say,
"It's nearly time for Sunday School,"
But, Dad, — YOU lead the way.

CARD OF THANKS

Words are most inadequate to express my sincere appreciation to each and everyone who was so very kind to me and my family during the recent "Homegoing" of my Mother. The many kind favors, the lovely floral tributes, the numerous cards, the little notes and the kind words of sympathy help to ease the pain in the loss of our loved one. Truly, she is absent in the body, but present with the Lord. Like the Apostle Paul said, "For to me to live is CHRIST, but to die is gain."

HELEN K. UTERMÄHLEN

May Is Better Hearing Month

Anne Bancroft, honorary chairman of Better Hearing Month in May, looks at a poster bearing her picture containing an invitation to the 15-million hard of hearing Americans to investigate the services of the American Hearing Society. The posters were distributed by the Zenith Radio Corporation in observance of the Society's 33rd annual educational campaign. Miss Bancroft will star in the movie version of the "Miracle Worker," repeating the award winning role she created on Broadway.

Out of This World Kitchen

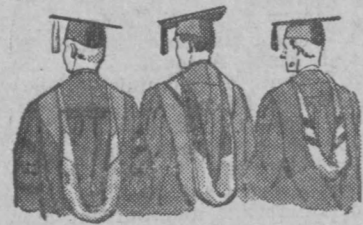

When it's mealtime in outer space here's where the crew of an American space vehicle could have it. This mockup of the Space Kitchen recently constructed by Whirlpool Corporation for the Aeronautical Systems Division, Air Force Systems Command, shows how all foods and beverages required by a three man crew on a fourteen day space mission could be stored and prepared.

Canned and dried foods will be stored in pull-down pivoted bunkers, one of which is shown swung down for demonstration purposes. Bunkers run the entire length of the kitchen. Below bunkers at far left with door open is the freezer. Door of freezer contains racks of bite-size sandwiches. Immediately above head of the make-believe spaceman is a three cavity heating oven. Canned foods are placed in oven, automatically heated to 170°F in approximately 30 minutes. Partially visible below oven is rack of feeding nipples. Nipples are attached to canned foods, then cans are attached to food expelling devices shown fastened in place in feeding tray located in front of the man. Would-be spaceman is reaching for polyethylene tube containing coffee.

To his right is the cold water nozzle for reconstituting liquids such as milk or fruit juice. Next to nozzle is water transfer pump. Stored within the interior of the refrigerator shown at far right are tubes of reconstituted liquids, sandwiches and canned foods which the astronaut has removed from freezer, placed in refrigerator to thaw. Below refrigerator is hot water nozzle, disposal areas for wet and dry waste. Although containing versions of most appliances found in American homes, the Whirlpool Space Kitchen weighs only 800 pounds, is 7½ feet high, 10 feet long. Following delivery to the Air Force, the Space Kitchen will undergo extensive ground testing by Aerospace Medical Laboratory personnel at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

How To Watch A Graduation

If you are planning to attend a college commencement exercise, take along a "score card" which will help you to tell the doctors from the masters, the masters from the bachelors. E. R. Moore, president of E. R. Moore Company, leading supplier of caps and gowns for such ceremonies, advises a short study for making the proper identification.

Dimensions of a graduate's hood indicate the degree to be conferred. Bachelor's hood is three feet long. Its binding or velvet trim measures two inches across at shoulder level. Master's hood is three and a half feet long, and binding measures three inches in width at the shoulder. Doctor wears a hood four feet long with a 5-inch shoulder width.

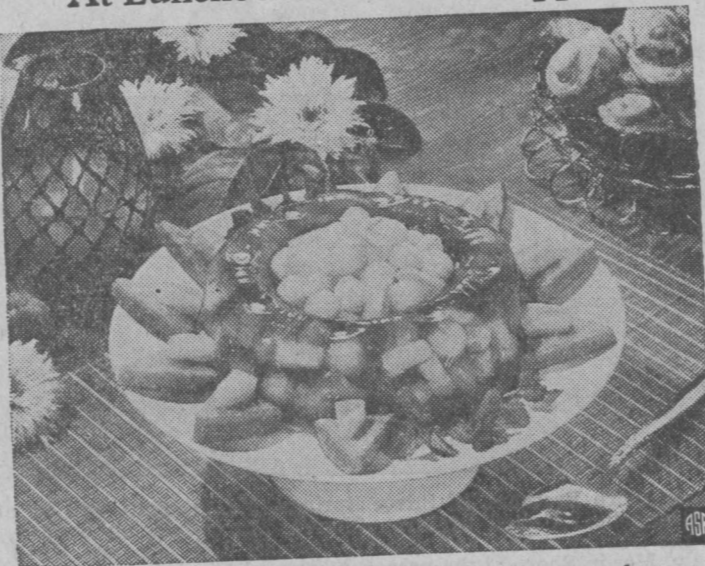

It's one thing to mistake a short stop for the second baseman at a ball game or fail to distinguish a defense man from the goal keeper in hockey. It's something very different watching exercises where graduates may even be distinguished by use of cap tassels in official department of learning colors. Black tassels, however, are correct for all degrees. Doctors, for example, wear gowns with three black velvet bars on each sleeve and black velvet facing and may wear gold tassels on their caps. College presidents, regardless of degree, are also entitled to wear gold tassels. The master's forearm protrudes from the traditional closed crescent sleeve, but now, marking the first official change in more than 60 years, is concealed in a sheath.

The bachelors gown has long pointed sleeves and women add a white collar if no hood is worn. School colors are used in the hood lining but the binding of the hood is of one of about 30 colors that indicate fields of learning — maize trim for agriculture, white for arts and letters, russet for forestry, pink for music, apricot for nursing, yellow-gold for science, scarlet for theology, etc. At most schools the cap tassel is worn on the left side, following the military tradition of wearing decorations "over the heart".

The New Way To Relaxed Living

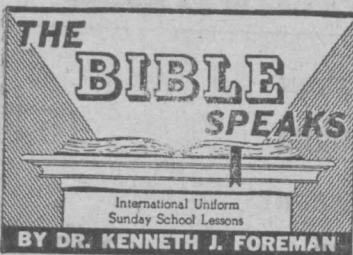

In these days of hustle-bustle a quiet, relaxed atmosphere is something we'd all like to achieve in our homes. That's where insulation tile enters the picture.

Building a new home? Of course you'll want the ceilings covered with insulation tile, for a modern look and ease of cleaning. Remodeling an older home? Cracked, uneven ceilings are particularly unsightly so why not just cover them up? You re-surface the ceilings, insulate and deaden sound, all in one easy operation... one the handy man of the house can do.

Certain-teed insulation tile, pre-finished in a velvety, non-glare white, needs no additional finishing. However, the flame-resistant surface coating forms a perfect primer should you wish to paint it. A "perforated" pattern is also available which absorbs up to 70% of the noise striking its surface. The random perforation creates an interesting decorative effect as well.

And perhaps the best feature of all for busy housewives—only an occasional wiping with a damp cloth is required to keep your tiled ceilings bright and new looking.

Bible Material: Genesis 26:12-32; Proverbs 2: 7:1-5; 14:29-30; 16:32; 17:27; 20:1; 23:19-21, 28-35.
Devotional Reading II Peter 1:3-11.

Self-Discipline

Lesson for May 23, 1961

"SPARE the rod and spoil the child," an old proverb says. We can all "sound off" about the younger generation, how it's going to pot, and about the juvenile delinquents and what ought to be done about them. We have big ideas about educating parents to feel responsible for the kind of boys and girls their children are. This is all good, so far as it goes.

But do you know the most common reason why parents don't discipline their children? They don't discipline themselves. One rod that must not be spared is the rod reserved by myself, for myself. If I make a bad job of self-discipline, I shan't be likely to be good at disciplining others.

If You Want It!

It can be said in simple words what discipline is. It means training a person to take, or do, what he doesn't like, or to keep from doing or taking what he does like. Self-discipline means learning this for yourself, and practicing it without anyone standing over you to make you do it.

There is one single requirement that must be met first of all. You must want, very strongly, what self-discipline will do for you. The writer of Prov. 2 puts it into a nutshell: insight and understanding. Do you want these qualities in your character? They don't glide into your room on a moonbeam. No one ever was born with perfect insight and understanding. Nobody (except Jesus) ever achieved perfect insight and understanding. Nobody ever achieved enough of it to be worth while, without working at it, without wanting it. It comes hard enough at best, it never comes at all to fools who don't care.

Not Only Women

The Bible is a very frank and outspoken book. There are parts of the Proverbs that plainly say the object of wisdom is to "preserve you from the loose woman." This might mean a professional prostitute, or it might not. Then, as now, the "young man without sense" (Prov. 7:7) is easily taken in by the wrong kind of woman. No amount of warning, no amount of law-making, no good example,—nothing will keep a young man from being fatally foolish here unless he is self-disciplined from within.

And yet, while some people think that the "loose woman" is the one real danger to youth, the book of Proverbs would make us aware that there are other dangers. There is anger, for example. How many murders are committed out of anger, only God knows. But you may be pretty sure that the fit of anger which brought forth the murder was not the first to which the killer had given way. Some criminals will even put up as excuse the fact that they were emotionally disturbed. Such an excuse should deceive no one. A fit of anger may be irresistible when you are in the middle of it; but it is possible to work on yourself so that you know the signs of anger coming up, and you can nip it in the bud before it starts. Diplomats and politicians can do this, and they don't claim supernatural help; how much more should a Christian, by the help of the Holy Spirit, be able to discipline himself away from acting like a barbarian or a spoiled child! Again we say, laws and good advice can perhaps prevent murder, but they can't prevent anger, the seed-bed of murder. Any self-discipline can do that.

Red-Eyed Woe

One other trouble which is common in mankind is liquor. The writer of the 23rd chapter of the Proverbs gave as good a description of a hangover as you can read anywhere. It's nothing less than red-eyed woe. Now all the troubles of the drinker, whether he gets to the stage of being an alcoholic or not—all his troubles are actually artificial troubles. They are real, to be sure, but they are not natural. Sex and the acquisitive instinct and anger are all natural, however we may control them; but the taste of liquor is not born in any one. The way not to have the drinker's problems is simply not to drink.

Nursery Dust Catchers Can Be Health Hazard

There's nothing more appealing than a floppy, fuzzy, cuddly toy, whether it's a droopy-eared hound dog, a perky poodle, or a plain old-fashioned teddy bear.

But these toys are notorious dust collectors, and child experts warn that a sensitive youngster may well become allergic to his favorite toy. Wise mothers, therefore, include the fuzzy toys in the vacuuming schedule, using the upholstery brush attachment to remove dust and brush up fur.

Experts from the Singer Floor Care Council point out that a good canister vacuum, fitted with suitable attachments, is a lifesaver for mothers with toddlers. At this age, children explore every corner of the house, and would just as soon suck a dirty thumb as a clean one. Extra-conscientious cleaning is needed at this time, and a good vacuum cleaner reaches areas which are inconvenient or impossible to dust with a cloth.

Though most mothers are careful to keep the nursery clean, a little special spring cleaning is now in order. Every inch of the room should be vacuumed, including the insides of drawers and closets, the springs and mattress of the crib, and the inside of the toy chest. Get rid of broken or outgrown toys, vacuum the fuzzy ones, and create the most healthful setting possible for your child.
