Carroll County Association for Retarded Children, Inc.

The annual summer day camp for retarded children has been in session during the past two weeks at the Westminster Riding Club. The use of the grounds, the banquet room, and the pool were donated by the club membership with Henry Redmer, Jr., president.

The major cost of the camp program is being underwritten by the Westminster Civitan Club. A scholarship for teacher training in special education is also being underwritten by the Civitans. It is being used this summer by Mrs. Catherine Copenhaver, teacher of one of the Westminster special classes in the public school system. She is taking her training at Western Maryland College.

The camp program which includes physical education training, swimming, gymnastics, and arts and crafts has been under the direction of Mrs. Ann Wagner. The staff is as follows: Teachers: Mrs. Roberta Rill, Mrs. Janet Martin, Mrs. Winnie Shipley, and Fred Baker; Assistant teachers: Mrs. Geneva Selby, Mrs. Lula Mullinix, Mrs. Mildred Haler, Diane Haight and William Franklin; Swimming instructor: Dean Griffin; Assistant swimming instructors: Sally Mather and Mrs. Agnes Allgire; Swimming aides: Mrs. Sally Albright and Lydia Rhods; Canteen: Mrs. Kay Phillips and Mrs. Hilda Specht.

Many community clubs, individuals, and businesses have cooperated to make this camp a very happy and rewarding experience for the forty-one children who have attended. Swissvale Dairy furnished the first week's supply of milk and the Civinettes and Soroptimist Club shared the expense of milk for the second week. Willow Farms Dairy donated ice cream cartons for craft work. Two Boy Scouts from the Ascension Episcopal Church Troop with Ralph Gorrell, Scoutmaster, assisted each day with clean-up.

A picnic is planned for the closing day of camp, July 21, at Big Pipe Creek Park where the children will use the roller rink, bowling alleys and park grounds.

BOY SCOUTS WILL COLLECT PAPER

Other Activities of the Scouts Reported

The fourth 1961 scrap drive will be conducted Saturday, July 22, by Boy Scouts of Troop 348, Taneytown, sponsored by Hesson-Snider Post 120 of the American Legion. The collecting will begin at 8:00 a. m., and in addition to Taneytown itself, the roads leading to Copperville, Crouse's Mill, and Bridgeport will be covered. Bundles tied securely are always appreciated and more expeditiously handled although Scouts gladly fetch from cellar or attic if their attention is called to this need while the gathering is going on. Early and continuing rain will force postponement, in which event a new date will be announced during the month of August. Telephone calls requesting special, individual pick-up should be made beforehand so that they may be carried out on Friday evening. It is expected that the generous assistance of Cambridge Rubber Company in the use of a truck will again be available.

ADVANCEMENT

At the most recent Board of review conducted by Legionnaire Clarence A. Harner, troop committee chairman, Assistant patrol leader Samuel Bower was advanced to First class scout rank, making the fourth one of the present roster, while Thomas West attained the rank of Second class, to join eight others. The latter continued towords First class and James Frock got started at Second class when the Raccoon Run Leantos camping trip was enjoyed.

CAMPING

On June 9th a three-day outing at Raccoon Leantos along the Appalachian trail near Caledonia began in rain, but turned out to be one of the most effective in the troop's recent history when the weather turned out to be beautiful on the ensuing days. Senior patrol leader Larry E. Six waterproofed the leantos and the space between them by means of his huge canvas, cooking was of course done outdoors despite the dampness, and a night hike was taken to meet the expected Assistant patrol leader Ralph Hoffman—but we missed each other, and the site proved too hard for him to locate in total darkness after he got off work Saturday. Swimming at the Caledonia pool is always a pleasure, and on this trip too it attracted everyone.

CIVIC SERVICE

Participation in the Memorial Day parade was unusually light this year, but special credit for helping park cars during the Taneytown and Harney Volunteer Firemen's Carnivals goes to Bower, Willard Candler, Samuel Fleming, Frock, Hoffman, Ronald and Philip Martin, and West, with the last-named, Rickey Clingan, and Stuart Dom also assisting at various stands from time to time. On June 24th Assistant patrol leader Gerald Tracey and the scoutmaster set up a First aid tent for the Jaycee Fishing Rodeo.

The menu and equipment lists required of all contestants early in May by Senior patrol leader Six proved helpful for the Raccoon Run camping expedition, Tracey used map drawing employing conventional symbols for another theme, Quartermaster Philip Martin refreshed us in First aid bandaging for his theme and contest, while the track meet engineered by Patrol leaders Dom and Robert Shaffer, June 1st was divided into events by weight and age classes. In the latter Dom's Foxes won by 64½ to Shaffer's Flaming Arrows' 44,, and the Panthers under Donald Koontz and Bower were close with a score of 36.

Volleyball, a suggestion of Bower, proved one of the best games ever tried recently, and softball held sway for a few meetings, but following the Taneytown carnival, swimming at Natural Dam took precedence, followed always by a wiener and marshmallow roast at waterside.

The next big program highlight will be the week of summer camp, scheduled to start on Saturday, July 29th, plans for which will be made at the meetings on Wednesday this week next.

PAPER COLLECTION

Scouts able to help with the scrap drive Saturday are requested to report promptly at 7:30 a. m. so that the undertaking may be in full swing by the regular starting time and finish before the heat of the season is too intense..

Dedication at Keysville

Keysville, Maryland, July 9, 1961: Two special Worship Services marked the completion of a new Christian Education Building at Keysville Lutheran Church. The present Church edifice was erected in 1920 at the cost of $25,251.00. The congregation, now consisting of 222 confirmed members broke ground for the new Educational wing on Aug. 7, '60. The building, planned by Buchart Associates, York, Pa., and constructed by I. H. Crouse and sons, Littlestown, was completed June 30, of this year.

In addition to the construction of an educational wing, the Chancel area of the church has been remodeled. The total cost of new construction and remodeling was $74,253.00. The building was dedicated with an unsubscribed debt of $38,000.00

Assisting Pastor Donald C. Brake in the formal Dedication Service on Sunday, July 9, was the Rev. J. Frank Fife, D. D.; President of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Maryland. Some two hundred members and friends joined their voices in dedicating the new structure, "..... to the glory of God and the teaching of His Word in both precept and example."

On Monday evening, July 10, a service of "Dedication to Youth" was held.. The Rev. Dixon A. Yaste, a former Pastor of the congregation, delivered the dedicatory message. Mrs. W. O. Ibach, widow of the Congregation's Pastor during their first building program, was present to bring greetings. Following the Service a social hour was held and light refreshments were served..

The members of the congregation do not view Dedication as the end of a program, but rather, as the herald of a new era in the life of the Church and its on-going witness to God and His Son, Jesus Christ.

ACT NOW TO CONTROL DUTCH ELM DISEASE

The American elm is a valuable shade tree as well as a street tree in Maryland. There are many beautiful elms within the State. Preventive measures and a program of control must be followed to keep elm trees healthy and reduce losses to Dutch elm disease, according to Dr. L. O. Weaver, University of Maryland state plant patholigist. A good control program should include pruning, fertilizing and spraying, he adds.

Infected elm trees may suddenly wilt in midsummer or may decline over a period of years. In diseased trees brown streaks appear on the wood under the bark. This condition may be found in the twigs.

Sanitation or pruning is an essential part of the control program. Elm bark beetles are attracted to weak and dying trees. If Dutch elm disease is in the area, the chances are that beetles entering the tree will carry the fungus with them. Any elm tree with bark beetles present is a hazard. Therefore, remove elm trees that are weak or low in vigor. Also, prune dying limbs that have been damaged by ice storms or wind. Removal of diseased trees, particularly those that have Dutch elm disease and the pruning of damaged or weak limbs is very important for conservation of elms in a community, he says.

Fertilizing elms to maintain growth and vigor tends to reduce the number of bark beetles. On average soils along streets or in lawns, fertilize elms with a 5-10-5 mixture applied at the rate of 2 pounds for ea. 1 inch of trunk diameter, measured about 4 feet from the ground.

Either broadcast the fertilizer under the spread of the limbs or place the fertilizer in holes 2 feet apart over the area covering the feeding roots.

The disease of the elm is very prevalent in Taneytown and for further treatment and removal of diseased trees see: L. L. White, Taneytown, tree specialist or any other qualified person.

TANEYTOWN NIPS WALKERSVILLE 3 - 2, THEN LOSES 8 - 4

The Taneytown Babe Ruth team beat Walkersville 3-2 in a well played game last Thursday evening on our home diamond. Two first inning singles by Wayne Putman and Donnie Koontz and a blasting triple by Jim Myers, scored the first two runs for the home team. Myers then trotted home on a wild pitch which gave our boys three runs. This was all that was needed as the defensive unit upheld the 3-2 lead and went on to win.

In the second game at Walkersville the defense seemed to falter as the Walkersville team obtained and upheld a 8-4 lead, although a 2 run homer by Donnie Koontz and alert pitching by Wayne Staley helped the Taneytown cause.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Like my poem above with the wording—"I wish you always near!" and here I am located in Randallstown—or just four minutes drive above the little town, "ROLLING GREEN" and it is just that! So do drive to see me any time. You know, that I would love!

On July 4th was a guest at the Stadium to see the Orioles and as you know it was 5 to 1. That game was exciting and never, never have I seen the Stadium so packed even to standing room! It was a beautiful night! The display of fire-works, I would not want to have missed either! Even to faces lit up as to Kennedy, the Vice-President, Roosevelt and others. It was truly a sight to behold and the audience screaming with "OH'S AND AH'S!" One did not know what to expect next. I would not want to have missed that night for a pretty penny!

Ladies, the dresses are still going up and many I have seen worn above the knee but please don't attempt it unless you have everything that is attractive with it and I think you know just what I mean. Eh! The evening gowns are coming in long and graceful. As to the winter coats —must be some relation to that awful S A C K dress! They are hideous! As to hats— they are still wide and handsome for the summer.

How charming it must have been entertaining Ayub Khan, the President of Pakistan at Mt. Vernon — the home of the first President of these United States. Think of it — only one other person was feted there and that was Rumania's Queen Marie in 1926. It all was truly something very special for the Kennedy's to entertain in this manner. The guests numbered 140 with an orchestra of 74 pieces! It was truly fascinating to read. That as it should be!

A little Beagle puppy was brought to me the other night by that nice Chiropractor, Dr. Calvin Hornstein whose office is 8804 Liberty Road. I named the puppy, "Lady" as she is very gentle and refined.

No doubt, you have been reading that Eichmann is now blaming the entire German population as to his higher Officers for the MASS M U R D E R of S I X M I L L I O N HEBREWS! Ugh! He says he feels sick! Wonder what he really thought just how those dear Jewish people felt? For punishment, he should be made to trace the very steps of which he subjected God's Chosen People!

Here's to those awaiting their sign of Astrology—those born from June 20 to July 20. This is called "The Crab" sign— like the crab, whose progress forward seems to result from a backword motion—they are retrospective. These people not just alone the male sex but the female are gifted with great mechanical ability in fact many times the men are real geniuses! They are tactful and very diplomatic and have commercial sagacity. This sign truly makes the ideal mother and they always sacrifice much for their children. At this time of the year the very atmosphere broods with maternal tenderness over the earth. These people are most attractive and their talents run high in every direction but they should make up their minds to remain at one thing and become perfect in that score. Many times the women are very talkative and at times handle the truth carelessly whereas the men are just the opposite as they are very, very quiet and have few close friends but many acquaintance. They must remain away from all sorrow as at times they are given to melancholy and despondency. The men take frightful chances in all kinds of games of chance.

Have a grand week-end, folks. Will be seeing you next week. D. V.

Do take a drive down to see your Observer for the key latch will be always open for you.

Faithfully,

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Ralph T. Moore writes, in the Oregon Voter: "It is said that to be successful in American Politics one must learn to shun logic and to acquire, instead, a consummate skill in sloganizing and posturing. This is because of the American Weakness for, and resort to, the catch-word or phrase that seems to sum up the issue in a neat and attractive package. Just about every public issue is inevitably so characterized that the individual can grasp the meaning without much, if any, material effort. But, to the thinking person, this trait all too obviously lends itself to gross imposition and deception since no slogan nor catch-phrase can possibly be devised to tell the whole story honestly and completely. The enemies of freedom find a happy hunting ground in our public habits of apathy and superficiality."

Nation's Agriculture, which is published by The American Farm Bureau Federation, reports that in 1947 farm operators received a gross income of $34.4 billion, had operating expenses of $17 billion, and realized a net income of $17.3 billion. By 1960, gross income rose to $37.9 billion, but production expenses had increased to $26.3 billion, and, as a result of this inflation, net income had dropped to $11.6 billion.

Colleges and universities hold more stock in oil companies than in any other American industry. Market value of these investments is in excess of $93 million.

Writing in the magazine Quest, J. C. Furnas says: "The American Trucking Associations are now attempting to convince the Interstate Commerce Commission that the railroads, by setting low rates for products competitively carried by trucks, are deliberately losing money on piggyback operations in order to hurt trucking. This the railroads hotly deny .....On such progress the trucking companies and the Teamsters cast a jaundiced eye. When Hoffa recently spoke of the truckers who might lose their jobs because of piggybacking, the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers retorted, 'Would it be in order for the 450,000 rail employes who have lost their jobs because of the trucking industry to send condolence cards?"

Tax Foundation, Inc. says that the federal government's world-wide real and personal property assets rose to a record $276 billion in fiscal 1960, and Uncle Sam paid a rental charge of $174.3 million in that year.

Surveys made by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the American Forest Products Industries show that more than 180 firms in the mining, water and power, forest products, petroleum and other resource-based industries have opened much of their lands to the general public for recreational use; that about 50 such firms are adding new recreational facilities this year; that nearly 100 more plan to develop additional facilities in the near future; that upwards of 70 million acres of company-owned scenic land and waterways are now open to public use, and that millions of Americans are taking advantage of the opportunity to enjoy these areas.

America's practicing physicians will have available, complete, accurate and up-to-the-minute data on all new drugs under a far-reaching Drug information Program which will soon be inaugurated by the American Medical Association, and will be implemented over three years. The program will have many facets, seeking to relay data to physicians through every possible channel. Its outstanding aspect, says the AMA, will be an expanded and accelerated program of drug evaluation.

Reports from London say production of the fabulous Rolls-Royce car may cease. Reason: A heavy slash in the amount of income tax deduction for automobiles allowed British company executives.

According to Dave Roberts of the Cincinnati Enquirer, there has been a sharp decrease in tenant farming in this country. In 1920 there was one tenant farmer for every 100 acres of cultivated land; the current figure is one for 450 acres.

Telephone calls save Baltimore family $21.43 over two-week period

Mrs. Marbury L. Councell recently kept a diary for us, of all the telephone calls her family made over a two-week period.

The purpose: to see how much time, traveling and money their telephone saves them.

At the end of the two weeks, this is what Mrs. Councell estimated she saved, in money—$21.43. Also she saved 192 miles of traveling around, plus 18 hours of working time. And to Mrs. Councell, the busy mother of four young children, those "extra" eighteen hours probably were the most important.

If you kept a telephone diary, chances are your totals would be different. But one thing is almost certain—you'd find, too, that your telephone does far more for you . . . than the small amount it costs.

Fleetside Pickup and Series 60 with high rack

NOW'S THE TIME to save more truck dollars on the more-for-your-dollar trucks!

Your truck dollars are worth a whole lot more at your Chevrolet dealer's right now! First off, you get a head start on saving because summer's the saving season. Then, with a harder working, easier riding Chevy truck, you're set to save every mile you haul. And, finally, at trade-in time, you can expect an extra dividend because of Chevy's traditionally higher resale value. What could be better?

Summer's the season to get extra mileage from your dollars on the trucks built to give you extra miles of hauling. With Independent Front Suspension, Chevrolet trucks keep going thousands of miles longer because far less destructive jar and shake are transmitted through the truck. Chevy I.F.S. trucks work harder, too, in areas where other trucks have to be pampered. And, with Chevy's wide choice of thrifty 6 and hardy V8 power, you can tailor your truck exactly to your job. So how can you miss—especially now during the summer saving season?

The clock of life is wound but once, and no man has the power to tell us when the hands will stop, at late or early hour. Now is the only time you own; live, love, toil with a will; place no faith in tomorrow for the clock may then be still.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

When we were young this time of year was known as "dog days." This was the time in the summer when our parents would not let us go in swimming, warned us about playing in the sun without a hat, forbid us to eat wild berries and cautioned us about going barefooted. All in all it was a very miserable time for it kept us from doing the things we really wanted to do. Where our parents and all the other parents at that time got these ideas about the hot sultry season of summer its hard to learn, but the origin for these beliefs have been traced to Egypt. The dogstar, Sirius appeared about the same time that the summer rains caused the Nile river to overflow, and as the river was a source of fertility of Egypt, the period was regarded as sacred, and the influence of the dog-star held in deep reverence. But, while the rising of the dog-star was hailed in Egypt as a sign of plenty and prosperity, the Romans had different ideas. They looked upon the dog-star as a sign of trouble and evil for it came at their most unhealthy time of year. The dog-days are still talked about in both Europe and America but most of the superstition has been lost. Officially the dog-days begin July 3 and ends August 11. If the parents of today's children tried to impress them with the old beliefs, they would think their parents were suffering from over indulgence in weather reports and would advise them to see a doctor.

Japanese mothers instead of naming their daughters after movie stars or television actresses, name them for trees, because being named thus insures them of a long life, happiness and good fortune.

Some male last week took his life in his hands and proclaimed to the world that what our country needs is to take away from the women their electric washing machines and give them the old fashioned wash board and wooden tub. He thinks that this would keep women busy and out of department stores running up bills for their husbands to pay. Anytime he wants a revolution let him try to put his suggestion into action. He would soon learn that it would be easier for him to take Russia away from Kruchev then it would be to take the electric washer away from women.

The Women's Literary Club of Union Bridge held a picnic at the Pipe Creek Church, Thursday, July 13. There were eight members and four guests present.

The Carroll County Tuberculosis Association has on display at the Carroll County National Bank, Westminster and P. G. Coffman Co., main street, Westminster; many lovely articles made of ice-cream sticks by patients in the T. B. hospitals of Maryland. These ice cream sticks were donated by individuals throughout the state. If you have some why not drop them off at the office of the local association in Westminster?

The Historcial Society of Carroll County has on sale at the present time two Civil War Centennial plates depicting scenes and personalities of Maryland that played a part in the Civil War conflict. These plates as the years go by will become collectors items. They can be bought at the Historical House on Main street, Westminister.

We should never notice slights. If we are wise we will not expect much consideration from others. We can go through life tranquilly and peacefully if we only like people and show it.

Very few people show up at the meetings of the Carroll County Zoning Commission. Why? Aren't Carroll Countians interested in keeping their beautiful County safe from exploitation, or don't they really understand what zoning means? Would anyone want to build a thirty five thousand dollar home on a lot and a year later have someone put up a garage next to it. This is part of zoning. Would you want a trailer camp locate next to your farm? This is part of zoning. Zoning laws effect each land owner in one way or another. All citizens should be interested in it and learn what is being done by the zoning Commission. The time for good zoning laws is before the damage is done and not after. A good citizen takes an interest in what is going on in his country especially in a county like Carroll with its beautiful farmland, its tidy little towns and its potential growth population in the future. More and more people from Baltimore are casting their eyes in this direction. Before the exodus begins from the city, proper zoning laws should be on the books.

The most desperate need of men today is not a new vaccine for any disease, or a new religion or a new way of life. Man does not need to go to the moon or any planet. He does not need better jets or bigger bombs. He will not die if he does not get better housing or his children cannot go to college. His basic needs are few and it takes little effort to acquire in spite of all Madison avenue may tell you. He can survive on the smallest amount of food and in the worst shelter. His real need, his most disparing need, is for someone to listen to him. He needs to tell someone of what he thinks of the bewilderment he encounters when he tries to discover why he was born, how he must live, and where his destiny will end. He needs someone to listen while he pours out his soul in despair over anxiety, loneliness and neglect. How many of us really listen with our heart as well as with our ears. Few of us listen at all. We are so busy looking for someone to listen to our own troubles. A little girl of four recently tugged at her mother's dress and said, "Listen to me Mother!" and then in dispair added: "You never listen, you are always busy." What is life worth if you can't communicate with one another; tell each other your hidden thought, your silent dreams? The whole world needs to listen. There is too much chattering. Be still and learn what your friend, or your husband or your wife or your child is really thinking. It will be good for them and it will be good for you.

Uncle Henry, a native of Maine, was visiting the big city for the first time, and among the spots he visited was a night club boasting a gaudy girlie show. We asked him what he thought of it. His reply touched off hysterics. "Half of them" said Uncle Henry "has had appendicitis."

Laugh and the world laughs with you. Weep and you may learn you are out of Kleenex.

A Trip to International Christian Endeavor Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Kiser attended the 46th International C. E. Convention in Chicago, Ill., July 5 to 8. All Sessions were held in the Conrad Hilton Hotel, (largest Hotel in the world). There were 3000 C. E. Delegates, housed, fed and instructed by Messages, Conferences, Quiet Hour, Bible Study and Song in this great building with 2200 rooms, spacious halls, and magnificent Ball Room, etc. Main sessions held in the Ball Room. Here the Convention opened on Wednesday morning with a United Youth Communion Service, with Dr. Clyde W. Meadows, Chambersburg, Pa., President of International Society of C. E. assisted by ministers, Timothy J. Kribs and Bishop William J. Walls. Evening session message, "Venture With Christ by Dr. Clyde W. Meadows. Presentation of the Endeavorer of the year, by Gen. Secretary, Harold E. Westerpoff, as Miss Beverly V. Baxter, Roseburg, Ore. Welcomes extended by Illinois Governor, Mr. Otto Kerner and Chicago's Mayor, the Honorable Richard J. Daley and Illinois Christian Endeavor Union President, Mr. Warren Parr. The Convention choir directed by Rev. Edward S. Nelson rendered heavenly music.

We attended the Conferences and Quiet Hour led by Mrs. Daniel A. Poling, Philadelphia.

The installation of International Society officers was conducted by Dr. Daniel A. Poling. Evening session when the message, "Training for the Venture With Christ", was given by Dr. Burris Butler, Executive Editor Standard Publishing, Cincinnati, O. All congregational singing was led by Dean S. Jacoby, Crown Point, Ind., with his son Stephan, as organist.

Each State and Province sat in the order according to percentage of registrations for the Convention. Maryland ranked 16th. This is the order: Indiana, Mexico, Michigan, Wisconsin, Golden Rule, Washington, D. C., Ohio, Guatamala, Illinois, New Jersey, Ontario, North Carolina, Texas, W. Virginia, Connecticut, Virginia, Maryland, Missouri. Kentucky, Colorado, New York, Oregon, California, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Mexico, Washington, Delaware, District of Columbia, Minnesota, Nevada, Alabama, S. Carolina and Tennessee.

The annual Banquet was held at 5:30 P. M., Friday evening, Dr. Billy Graham, world-renowned Evangelist was the ninth recipient of International Youth's Distinguished Service Citation. Previous recipients were: Rear Admiral E. Byrd; Herbert Hoover, former Pres. of the U. S., Dr. Harold E. Stassen former Gov. of Minn.; Dr. Daniel A. Poling, Pres. Worlds C. E. Union; the late Mrs. Joseph Holton Johnes; V. Pres. International C. E.; Theodore R. McKeldin, former Governor of Maryland; Dr. Walter H. Judd, U. S. Congressman, Minn.; and Richard M. Nixon, former V. Pres. of the U. S.. Dr. Graham spoke on, "Communism". 4000 delegates and visitors heard Evangelist Billy Graham ask, "Unless we leave this vacuum in which we live, what better are we than the Communists?" Waving the new English Bible saying, "Mr. Khrushcev teaches he will write the final chapters in history, but I tell you that Jesus Christ will write the final Chapter." "Krushchev rules a land which can claim only 3% of the population as Communists, taking only a handful of dedicated men to achieve their goal." Dr. Graham compared the Russian resolve with American indolence; "What are Americans doing?" They're spending more time on the beaches, sitting in front of television sets, and going to mountain resorts, gambling." We're a nation of 8 million alcoholics and the use of drugs is staggering". He emphasized it is up to youth to set a new pattern. Even the "Peace Corps" will fail unless we give to others something more than butter and guns." Several hundred decisions for Christ and full-time recruits were made at this session. Since Christian Endeavor is International Inter Denominational and Interracial

Saturday afternoon the Christian Witness Parade, with colorful regalia, music, floats, etc., marched 16 blocks down Michigan Ave., (Maryland's six delegates marched too—we held 15th place.)

The closing session on Saturday evening with message on, "Research, Reason and Revelation" by Dr. Geo. K. Schweitzer, associate professor of Chemistry, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tenn. This speech with colorful illustrations, very truthful, made your blood run cold.

There were sightseeing trips by bus each afternoon with a descriptive talk of Chicago, around the Loop and along Lake Michigan. We enjoyed this Friday afternoon. Mr. Arch J. McQuillin, and Mr. Cecil A. Jeffrey were toastmasters and song leaders at meal time in Cafeteria. We really made the song, "We're On The Upward Way," ring. We had one National and State Trustee in Maryland in our group, being Miss Nellie V. Griffin, Mt. Rainier, Md. and Roy and I have been members of C. E. just 40 years now; attending Conventions in Portland, Ore., Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and Chicago, Ill., besides our State Conventions each year. We remained in Chicago for Sunday services at the Chicago Temple, First Methodist Church, on Clark and Washington Street. Dr. Robert Bruce Pierce, minister and Rev. Guy Chester Jones, associate minister. Dr. George W. Crane, teacher of Bible Class for men and women (columnist and marriage counselor). Also heard a report by Mr. Watt on "Skid Row of Chicago." There were 45 regular members and 70 visitors in the Church School Class, everyone was recognized before lesson began. Visitors were recognized before the Church Service also. This is Chicago's oldest and tallest church, the cross 568 feet above the street. Organized in 1831; Methodist in affiliation, but ministers to all faiths. Visitors from 25 states, Sunday, as well as several foreign countries. A pilgrimage to the chapel in the sky 400 ft.; immediately after each Service. The parsonage is 330 ft. above the street level; in the tower occupying 4 rooms, 2 floors in the tower. The tower was dedicated in 1952. 173 steps above the 22nd floor to reach the Chapel. Altar shows Christ looking over Chicago's skyline and brings to mind the text, "He beheld the city and wept over it." 16 windows are divided in 4 groups representing the Old Testament, the New Testament, the Old World, the New World. Sanctuary is air-conditioned, soundproof; seating 1200. The Skinner organ with 6200 pipes and echoes, is one of the greatest. The Altar depicts, Christ viewing the City of Jerusalem, with words, "If thou Hadst Known."

5 days well spent, after travelling 2200 miles by rail on B. & O. We arrived back in Baltimore on Monday at 11:30 a. m.

Women Friends

Lesson for July 23, 1961

IT IS a big mistake to suppose that a man cannot make friends with a woman without getting tangled up in romance. Too many good men have had long-trusted women friends who never wanted romance. A prime illustration is in the story of Jesus. Our Lord seemed remarkable to his contemporaries in many ways, and among these was the fact that although a teacher of religion, he did not hesitate to make friends of women as well as men. The official teachers of religion, the Pharisees, leaned over backward never to be friendly with women. Some of them were even called "bleeding Pharisees," getting their foreheads banged up by running into trees and poles with their eyes shut tight for fear of seeing a woman!

Dr. Foreman

He Gave Them Time

Jesus, let it be said again, never was "entangled" with any woman. His worst enemies would have liked, no doubt, to smear his reputation, but he never gave them the least chance. But Jesus did have some warm friends who were women, among these the best-known to us being Mary, and Martha of Bethany. He never brought them flowers nor any usual presents. Yet he did give them what friends always desire, and so made his friendship with these two women a kind of model for friends everywhere and always. First of all, he gave them time. He had nothing to get out of them, he did not need to convert them for they were already his loyal believers and friends. He spent time in their home just sitting and talking, he went to at least one dinner party there. Friendship calls for leisure, it will not ripen in a hurry.

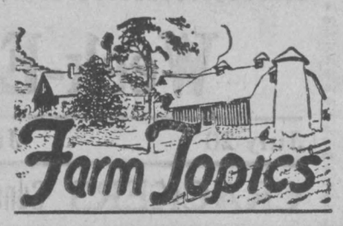

He Gave Them Understanding

Men, women and children are all alike in wanting to be understood. Understanding some one else is simply (only it's not simple!) a matter of putting yourself in the other person's place, seeing and feeling as he sees and feels. This is particularly difficult when a man tries to understand a woman, and vice versa, just for the reason that man can never really be a woman, nor she a man. Men, to save the trouble of trying to understand, too often think that romance is a fair substitute, which of course it isn't. Even romance without understanding "goes phhht," soon enough. Now Jesus understood Martha and Mary. They had different temperaments, these sisters. Jesus never suggested that Martha should be another Mary, nor Mary another Martha. Jesus knew what they were like, he knew what to say to each one. In the most embarrassing situations, as when Mary broke the ointment over Jesus' head, other people might laugh or feel indignant, but not Jesus. He could understand why it had been done, he knew what was in Mary's heart.

He Gave Them Help

Jesus gave these two friends of his what cannot well be given without understanding,—namely help. Trying to help some one we do not understand is wasted effort. Jesus did not help these women with money. They were evidently better off than he, who had "no place to lay his head." But he gave them help that was longer-lasting and no doubt more cherished than financial or physical help could have been. How can the poor help the rich? They can help only if they have something those they wish to help do not have. This was the case there at the home of Martha and Mary. Their time of sore trouble came with the death of their only brother, Lazarus. Jesus gives the sisters help on the deepest level. It would have been astounding news, and most welcome besides, if Jesus had said to them simply, 'Do not cry. Your brother is going to come back to life." Instead of telling them he is about to perform a mighty miracle, possibly the only one in that town,—instead of saying "Your brother will be back again," he says, "I am the resurrection and the life." To know what that meant, and to respond to it as Martha did, is to receive help that never grows less.

Irrigation Can Be Profitable

Increase Profits On Specialty Crops

Irrigation may be profitable on sandy soils where the water supply is close or where specialized crops are grown, says R. C. Hay, University of Illinois agricultural engineer.

On major crops in most of the Illinois soils there is no great need for irrigation, as the soil can hold enough capillary water to give sufficient plant growth. Irrigating soils like clay loam would not increase yield enough to pay for the equipment and labor.

Irrigating high-value specialty crops and hybrid seeds, however, will increase profits enough to justify the cost of expensive equipment.

Availability of plenty of water is often the major problem in irrigation. It takes plenty of water to do the job.

Hay says water supply is usually the major problem in irrigation. If you are located along a large stream of water or over a high well-water table and have a sandy soil that won't hold capillary water, it would probably pay you to irrigate.

If you intend to have an irrigation well, it must have a minimum capacity of 500 gallons per minute. It takes 27,000 gallons of water to put an inch of water on one acre of land.

The irrigation well will cost as much as $30 a foot to develop, and the pump and power unit will cost $2,000 or more. The pipe, sprinkler heads and fittings to irrigate a 160-acre tract of land will cost about $13,000 on the average.

Feeding From Farm Ups Beef Profits

Corn silage can be worth up to $200 an acre when it produces yields of 18 to 19 tons per acre and is fed to quality beef cattle.

That's how Warren Huff figures he can make the best return from his 240 acres of crop land.

According to John Doneth, extension farm management specialist at Michigan State University, Huff is aiming for this kind of return with silage by using a high-powered fertility and soil improvement program on a straight corn rotation.

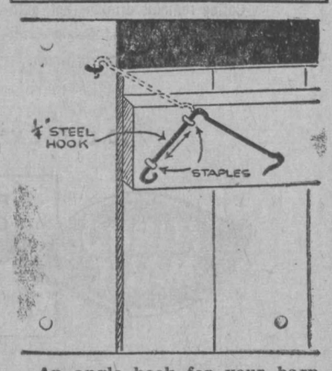

Besides that, Huff is an experienced hand at feeding quality cattle and has some top-notch ideas about labor efficiency, says Doneth.

Huff has the capacity to turn out 1,000 head of fat cattle a year. He buys some shell corn to put on a choice to prime finish, but says the profits come from turning farm produced feed into marketable beef.

Feed handling on an operation of this size is a big job, but Huff is equipped to do it with the least possible effort. He uses a self-unloading wagon to haul both silage and grain in one trip from the silo unloader to the feed bunks in his completely covered feed lot.

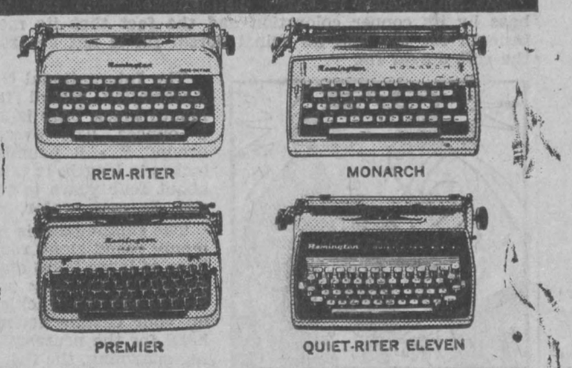

Huff prefers this system to a conveyor feed bunk directly from the silo because it gives him a chance to make more changes in his plans as he moves through the feeding period. He says, "Conveyors tie you to a frozen position."

An angle hook for your barn door is easily made by bending a piece of ¼-in. rod as indicated. Hook is pivoted inside the door by means of two large staples.

Farmers breathed easier when customs agents foiled a Cuban plot to smuggle choice U.S. tobacco seeds out of the country last year. U.S. tobacco is prized around the world — and the smuggled seeds could have produced 50 million pounds of leaf.

There are 350,000 seeds in each ounce of tobacco, enough to plant up to 10 acres.

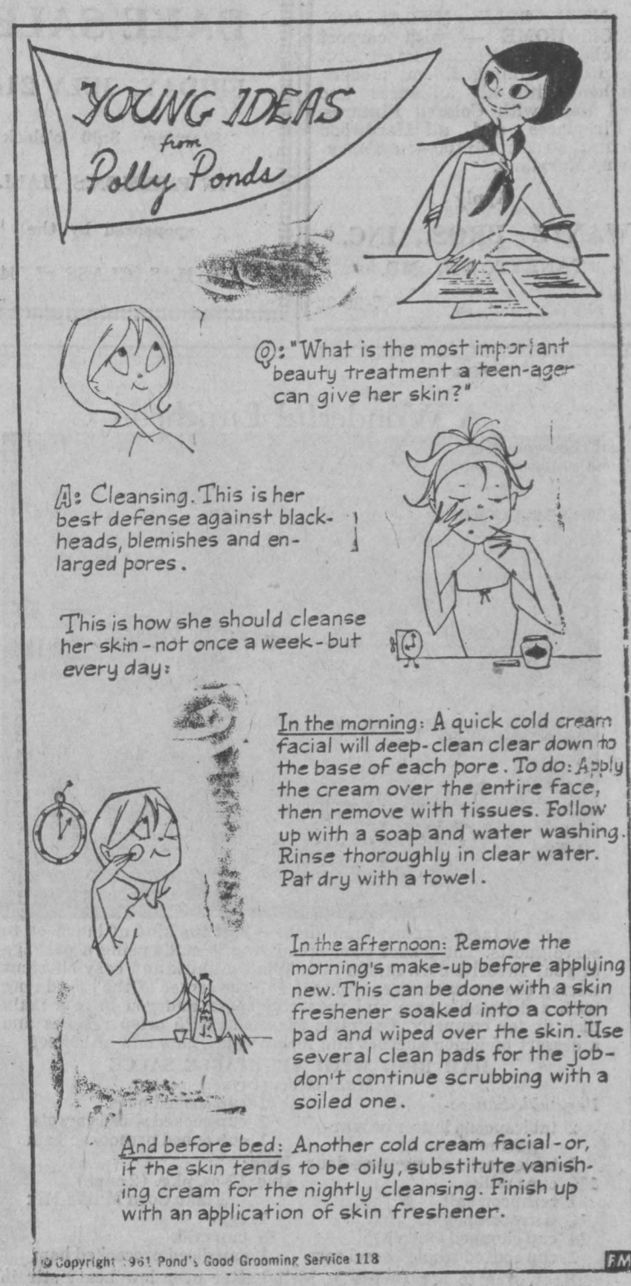

Growing tobacco calls for more hand labor than any other crop. An acre of Bright tobacco produces about 170,000 leaves — the leaves are examined up to 10 times before hand-picking.

Pearl divers of the Pacific's Solomon Islands brave sharked-infested waters daily, armed with a knife and mystical good luck talisman adorned with shark's teeth. Considered gods, sharks are believed to be reincarnated elders from their island villages.

Seeking more reliable protection for fighting seamen and fliers, the U.S. Armed Forces developed a chemical shark repellent credited with saving thousands of lives during World War II and the Korean War.

The same Shark Chaser, a chemical repulsive to sharks, is now available for the first time to boatsmen and skin divers. Marketed by Presto Dyechem Co., Inc., Yonkers, N.Y., Shark Chaser dissolves in water, forming a protective chemical cloud around the swimmer, keeping killer sharks from attacking.

All-Bran Beef Filling Makes Delicious Stuffed Peppers

One popular way to prepare fresh green peppers is by stuffing them.

For an unusual filling, try this delicious combination of well-seasoned cooked tomatoes, whole bran cereal and ground beef. Serve with fresh buttered corn and parslied potatoes. A cooling dessert to top off the meal is a fresh melon, served in wedges.

STUFFED PEPPERS

- 6 medium-sized green peppers
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 3 tablespoons minced onions
- 1 cup cooked tomatoes
- ¾ cup Kellogg's All-Bran
- ¾ pound ground beef

Cut slice from stem ends of peppers; remove fibrous portion and seeds; wash. Parboil about 5 minutes in boiling salted water. Drain. Combine egg, salt, pepper, onions, tomatoes and All-Bran. Let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add ground beef and mix well. Fill green peppers with meat mixture and arrange upright in greased baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 40 minutes.

Yield: 6 servings.

FRIED CHICKEN DAYS are here again, so this young teenager sets an amusing barbecue table for her Party-of-the-Month. The honeycomb chef for the centerpiece has the rotund figure one should expect for such an occasion. The young hostess has wisely chosen almost unbreakable melamine dinnerware in a pretty modern design for service. Napkins and cups are decorated with the barbecue theme and are coordinated with the centerpiece. A modern grill that may be used indoors or outdoors will barbecue the chickens to perfection.

New Colonial-Style Homes Continue as 'Best Sellers'

Panel doors of ponderosa pine—two of them—make entranceway to this Colonial-style home in Waco, Tex., twice as inviting.

Sensible design, beauty inside and out, traditional warmth and charm—these are the principal reasons modern Colonial styling continues to increase in popularity today with home builders and buyers alike.

A Waco, Texas, family built the modern Colonial house shown in the photograph. Its design, typically simple and uncluttered, features the use of contrasting materials like wood and used brick.

The panel doors are nine-light, wood units painted white. Like all doors of ponderosa pine they are chemically treated to make them weather-resistant.

Wood posts, board and batten siding, and a large overhang supported by decorative rafter extensions, or outriggers, are all part of the Colonial theme.

Windows are flanked by "barn door" shutters and feature Colonial-style diamond-pattern wood grills. All exterior woodwork is painted white.

Asphalt shingles, always compatible with Colonial architecture, are used for the roof. A light shade was chosen because it helps keep the house cool by reflecting the heat of the summer sun.

FISHING LINES

By DICK WOLFF

Mention trout to a bass fisherman and you've got yourself an argument.

To hear him tell it, the trout "ain't worth a powderpuff!" but it works both ways . . . Nothing unreasonable about fishermen.

Both make good catching and good eating, but since the bass is a widely sought after game fish — let's talk bass for awhile. But which bass? There's a vast difference as you will soon discover, if you haven't already. Our purpose is to talk about the smallmouth black bass which is found in all but a handful of northern states.

The smallmouth is easily distinguished from the largemouth bass by its copper coloration and the fact that its mouth ends beneath the eye and its spinal dorsal fin is not separated from the soft dorsal fin.

The International Game Fish Association record for smallmouth black bass is 10 pounds 8 ounces. The average runs around 2 - 3 pounds and 12 inches in length. It takes a bass about four years to reach that size. In poor water, longer.

The smallmouth is most commonly found along rocky shorelines of large lakes and streams especially in May and June. So get out your tackle, sharpen up your casting technique and head for the nearest lake. During spawning, the fish are voracious feeders.

The smallmouth bass is an insect and minnow eater. But during and after the spawning season almost any lure will do. If you head for the local bass hole, you'll see almost every type of lure and tackle made hard at work.

The most popular tackle will be spinning and spincasting equipment. If you don't already own either, you'll find an Abu-Matic 140 or 160 spincasting reel an ideal bass fishing companion. The reels come pre-wound with 125 yards of 8 pound test monofilament and with the addition of a lure you're ready for fishing. For anglers with an expert touch looking for something different — an ultra-light 308 Mitchell spinning reel on a 5 foot hollow fiber glass wand with 1-pound or 2-pound test mono will put the fun and fight back in fishing. A two pound bass can be a lion on light line.

Bass lures come in almost infinite variety. For good results why not get an assortment of Abu-reflex lures and fish them deep. Change lures from time to time until you hit the right number and then fish it for all your worth.

Tight lines, friend, and good bass fishing.
