Public Hearing on Zoning

A public hearing on the proposed interim zoning ordinance was conducted last Friday, July 21 by the County Commissioners of Carroll County. The hearing was held at the Agricultural Center in Westminster and was attended by approximately 136 persons.

The ordinance had previously been recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission and had been given a previous hearing by that Commission in February. Counsel to the Planning Commission, Mr. Ralph G. Hoffman, conducted the hearing and George A. Grier, Planning Director, reviewed the details as proposed in

A majority of the comments heard at the hearing indicated that the or-dinance was satisfactory for Carroll County at this time, however, a num-ber of comments heard indicated that the ordinance was not strong enough, A number of persons stated that they felt zoning was not necessary at this

At the end of the meeting it was determined by a show of hands that the majority favored the adoption of a zoning regulation for Carroll County. Nine persons felt that the ordinance should not be acted upon by the County Commissioners.

The County Commissioners indicated after the hearing that the comments received would be reviewed carefully and that any action by the Board would be determined at a later

GRIER APPOINTED EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT TO THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

The Board of County Commissioners on Tuesday of this week appointed George A. Grier to the position of Executive Assistant to the County Commissioners. Such appointment was made in accordance with a local law passed in the General Assembly in 1959.

The County Commissioners in ap-pointing its Executive Assistant indicated that, among other things, that orimary duties would be in the field of planning, roads and sanitation. The term of office would extend through the duration of the present Board of County Commissioners.

Mr. Grier appeared before the Clerk of the Circuit Court immediately after his appointment and took the oath of office.

SOCIAL SECURITY LAW CHANGED

Changes in the social security law recently signed by President Kennedy directly affect many persons in Carroll County aged 62 years or older, giving them social security benefits for the first time or increasing benefits already payable to them, L. J. Gillespie, Field Representaive of the Baltimore (North) Social Security District Office, said today. The new law makes the following

1. Men now have an option of retiring at age 62 with lower benefits or of waiting until age 65 and collecting higher benefits.

2. Aged widows' benefits are increased by about 10 percent.

3 Minimum benefits are raised. The amount of work under social security needed to get benefits is lowered. 5. People who receive only part of their benefits for a year because they will earn over $1500 will have a smaller amount deducted.

Social security taxes go slightly beginning January 1, 1962. For more information about the changes made by the new amend-ments to the law, ask your social security office for your free copy of Leafet No. 1. The social security of-

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Henry Hazlitt writes, in Newsweek "In the United States, in 1932 and 1933, the confidence of holders of Federal Reserve notes that they would be able to convert into gold at any time they wanted collapsed. They rushed to convert. Their distrust proved justified. Gold redemption was suspended, The government did not blame its own monetary policies. It denounced the people who had lost confidence and had demanded gold. It devalued the dollar, thus breaking faith with everybody who had relied on its most solemn pledge. It not only terminated the right of its own citizens to demand gold for their notes; it made it a erime for them to buy or own gold no matter where they got or held it ... when the unit of money represents no real tangible value, but a scrap of paper whose supply is determined by the mere discretion or caprice of the politicians in power, history shows that the inevitable end result is monetary instability and uncontrolled in

The railroad industry has proposed a Magna Carta for Transportation, comprising these Four Freedoms: Freedom from destructive taxation freedom from stifling regulation; freedom from subsidized competition; freedom to diversify. If these goals are attained, it is estimated, 400,000 jobless people will be put back to work. One fourth of these would be on railroads, and others among manufacturing companies supplying the carriers with increased purchases.

The Portland, Oregon, Journal, says editorially: "AFL-CIO Vice Pres. Walter Reuther, if he has a sense of humor, must still be chuckling at the attack on him by Fidel Castro in which the Cuban dictator labeled Reuther 'an agent of management' who 'has never said a word against capitalist exploitation of the workers of the United States'... The very fact that he is attached by the Communist as a defender of 'capitalist exploitation of the workers' at the very time he is leading one of the nation's most powerful unions, the United Automobile Workers, is the best proof in the world that under U. S.-style capitalism the workers are not exploited."

Since the turn of the century, according to the Health Information Foundation, the number of active professional nurses in this country has increased from less than 1,000 to 504,000. It also says that in recent years the nation's supply of health workers-physicians, dentists, nurses, and others-has grown more rapidly than the population as a whole.

From Farm Journal: "The U. S. government has lived within its income just six times in the last 30 years! It faces another deficit in 1962-of perhaps $6 billion. It owes $290 billion, which is more than $1,600 for every man, woman and child in the country. More than that, its future obligations, already voted by Congress, come to $750 billion. That means every person in the U.S. has been mortgaged nearly $4, 100 worth -before any of the new current legislation is passed...All this can mean only that your dollar will buy less and your taxes will go up."

Tax Foundation reports testimony given before a Congressional subcommittee showing that the Army estimates the average cost of transporting a privately-owned vehicle overseas at about $300. A witness said that in fiscal 1961 the Army expected to move 44,635 privately-owned vehicles of military personnel to or from foreign countries. The cost could thus be as much as $15.2 million.

Shell experts test for knock by accelerating up steep grade. In another test, that "fifth wheel" in the back is lowered onto the road to measure mileage precisely.

TOP PERFORMANCE:

Shell test crew reveals five ways to test your car for top performance—and how the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell can help you get it

To John Baker and John to give you quick, easy starts.

Watson (below) of Shell Research, top performance is a scientific standard. They measure it with precision instruments. But any good driver can run a version of their basic tests. Here are five they recommend.

Test #1. Quick starting

Count the seconds it takes to start your car. The engine should 'snap to" in about two to three seconds. A slow start drains your driving. battery. And it may flood your cylinders, causing performance

If your engine is balky, try accelerate suddenly from about Super Shell. It's blended with a . thirty miles an hour to the legal Test #2. Smooth running Pay close attention to your engine in traffic. Does it vibrate roughly when you stop for a traffic light? Does it seem to "surge" as you pull away, then falter and fade? The problem may be the wrong blend of gasoline. In summer, for example, excessive heat can make winter grade gasoline bubble in the fuel line. Bubbles can interfere with the flow, causing rough running. Shell scientists don't let that happen with Super Shell. When hot weather threatens, they adjust Super Shell's 9-ingredient formula to give it the correct volatility for smooth summer

Test #3. Reserve power

bogging down? 2. Do you have plenty of power to spare? If you feel you've "run out of engine," it's time to do some thing about it.

Super Shell may be your answer. It contains TCP,* to help restore power lost to combustion chamber deposits.

And another Super Shell in-

Super Shell's 9 ingredients for top performance

Super Shell now contains 2 octane boosters, 1 mileage booster, 1 quick-start component, 1 fast warmup ingredient, 1 anti-knock mix, 1 gum preventive, 1 anti-stall ingredient, and new, improved TCP. These nine ingredients all work together to give your car top performance.

Test #4. Knock

Accelerate up a long, steep hill and listen carefully. If you hear a sound like marbles falling into an empty oil drum, you've got fuls of Super Shell. You'll see knock. It could cause engine what top performance really is.

Take no chances. Switch to Super Shell. Its formula includes no less than three ingredients to fight the various causes of knock.

Test #5. Miles per gallon

Don't trust your fuel gauge when you measure miles per gallon. Take these three simple steps and be sure.

1. Start your test by filling your tank. Make sure the gasoline comes up to the brim. Write down your mileage reading.

2. Drive in your normal manner for at least three tankfuls-

Fishin' Time Is Fun Time!

For more fishing fun and out-door comfort, fishing enthusi-lent and sun tan lotion in asts should follow a few tackle tips from nationally known outdoor writer and angler Dick Wolff of The Garcia Corp. Wolff, whose outdoor career has spanned the continent, suggests that anglers:

1. Use polarized sum glasses to cut surface glare on water and to help see the fish beneath

2. Wear an old hat lined with aluminum foil. The foil insulates the hat for a cool head even in hottest sun. lent and sun tan lotion in your tackle box.

4. Be sure to pack a jar of Nestea instant tea. It provides a quick pick-me-up, hot or cold, no matter what the weather, simply by adding water.

And one final tip from Wolff: Clean and scale your catch at streamside before going home. Quick cleaning preserves the taste of the fish — and it will make a big hit with the 'little woman".

Aluminum To Cross The Patapsco

Maryland will get its first aluminum highway bridge this summer, a struc-ture of sheet aluminum and extruded

Clark Shildt and Miss Mary Jeanette alloy angles that make up its inner framework.

The bridge, 300 ft. long and 40 ft. wide, will cross the southern branch of the Patapsco River and tract of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad as part of State Route 32 near Sykesville 20 miles from Baltimore.

The State Roads Commission says

terested in the rust resistance of aluminum and the fact that it need

The eight bids submitted for the job ranged from a high of $502, 103 to the low of $342,943 from Peyton, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carr and Inc. the Baltimore construction com-tory to erecting two reinforced concrete piers that will support the bridge's three 100-ft. spans. Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. Oakland, Calif. will fabricate the bridge. "We've never built an aluminum bridge before", says Peyton's Harry

J. Peyton. "But we expect to be able to erect the spans as fast as the men can get the beams off the trucks." The contractor will place a 7-in. concrete slab over the aluminum structure. The State Roads Commission will let a contract later for a 2-in. bituminous wearing surface.

The Sykesville aluminum bridge resembles two aluminum semi-monocoque bridges scheduled for erection in Amityville, N. Y. this summer. -Engineering News-Record Unselfish work for the common good is somewhat rare in this day of looking out for selfish profits, but it still pays big dividends.

Little People Like To Help

This six year old's mother is a busy and very wise young woman. She understands the joy, the sense of importance and the feeling of being loved that come to a small girl when permitted to do simple, useful chores. She also knows that a teen age daughter may suddenly acquire an uncanny ability to sense, and to tiptoe out of sight and hearing, when the words kitchen, canning and cooking are about to be spoken. But at twenty, she'll be right back in the kitchen, feeling at ease because she will recall much of what she learned and observed when helping was fun.

Just what can a six year old do other than get in the way? Many things! Shell peas, snap beans, roll cookies, squeeze grapes to separate skins from pulp, and run fruit for sauce or butter through a colander or food mill.

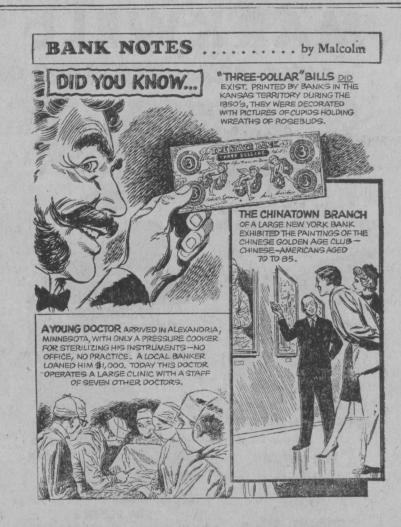

When she is three or four years o'lder, she will take pride in doing the whole butter making job on her own. This simple, but flavor-some recipe will be one she'll cherish in those future years.

Peach Butter

A wholesome, delicious, inexpensive and easy-to-make spread for toast and other hot breads.

½ teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon pure vanilla 8 cups peach pulp 6 cups light brown sugar Wash, scald, drain, pit and peel ripe peaches. Put peaches into kettle with 2 or 3 cracked pits; if needed to start cooking, add about ¼ cup water. Cook peaches until soft; put them through colander or food mill. Measure peach pulp, add sugar and salt and boil until thick. Add vanilla. Pour boiling hot butter to within ¼ inch of top of pint or half pint fruit jars. Put lid on jar; screw band tight.

Low Calorie Barbecue for Indoor or Outdoor Cooking

DON'T LET UNNECESSARY WEIGHT WATCHING spoil the fun of a barbecue, when food can now be prepared with a minimum of calories. The secret's in the basting sauce. This recipe uses sugar in place of oil and has only 15 calories per tablespoon compared with 25 in the average sauce. Calories are pared even further when seafood like lobster tails or shrimp is used. The sauce can be used as a marinade too, for any foods where a sweet and sour sauce is desired.

"Potatoes Margaret," a recipe featuring these two ingredients, has been developed by the Borden Kitchen especially for summer cookery. Full warm-weather meal.

Potatoes Margaret (Makes 6 servings)

3 cups Borden's Quick Cook Potato Slices 4-1/2 cups water 1-1/2 teaspoons salt 1 tablespoon fine bread crumbs

2 cups (1 pint) sour cream 2 tablespoons flour

1 teaspoon salt 1/8 teaspoon pepper 2 tablespoons finely minced

chives or onions 3 hardcooked eggs, sliced 2 tablespoons butter 1/4 cup fine bread crumbs

2 tablespoons butter, melted Combine potato slices, water and salt in medium size sauce pan; cover. Bring to a boil and boil 8—10 minutes. Drain. Lightly sprinkle a buttered (9-1/2 x 6-1/2 x 1-1/2) casserole with 1 tablespoon of bread crumbs. Combine sour cream, flour, salt, pepper and chives or onions. Place a layer of potatoes on bottom of casserole; cover with one-half of the egg slices. Dot with 1 tablespoon of the butter and one-third of the sour cream mixture. Repeat, ending with a third layer of potatoes. Top with remaining sour cream mixture, sprinkle with 2 tablespoons melted butter mixed with 1/4 cup bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 20 to 25 minutes or until lightly browned and thoroughly heated. If desired, garnish with quartered hard-cooked egg and watercress. hard-cooked egg and watercress.

Fall Planting News -

For Luxury Lawns

For lawn lovers, Fall is planting time-or time to over-seed present turf. Cool nights and autumn rains increase root growth of cool-climate grasses, while falling temperatures keep weeds to a minimum.

The lush turf pictured above is Merion Bluegrass, traditionally used in ball parks and golf courses and, in the past few years, a popular favorite with homeowners. When 15 bluegrass and in 1000 grasses were compared in 1960 tests, Merion received first place for density, color and place for density, color and character appeal.

Merion's deeper roots give it anusual resistance to heat and drought. The thick turf stays green all summer when lighter grasses are semi-dormant and turn brown. Wide-spreading underground stems crowd out crabgrass as the turf is thickened!

More resistant to weeds and especially leafspot disease than any other bluegrass, Merion is economical as well — one pount of small seed covers an area requiring 2 to 6 pounds of other grasses. Mixtures of at least 40% Merion with other improved grasses can aid in early greening and overcome special problems in climate or soil con-

This Fall, give your new Merion lawn care and patience. During the year, mow frequently, water sparingly and fertilize regularly. Guaranteed: a lawn that will be the jewel of the neighborhood!

Simple And Elegant Summer Supper

-Oiney and Carpenter, Inc., Photo Supper, on a sultry, summer evening, should have a special appeal for humidity-jaded appetites. It should be simple and can be elegant! The ideal is a menu which is as refreshing as the sight of a tall, tinkling, frosted glass.

Ideally too, it must be easy to prepare so the hostess can be as fresh as her crispest salad! Our main dish, salad and dessert selection meet all the above requirements. And, with the addition of a cold soup course, this supper will sustain your family or guests 'till the cool, cool, cool of the evening eventually arrives

The Realist

Lesson for July 30, 1961

THOSE who are converted to faith in Christ bring their temperaments with them. Some people are temperamentally optimistic, others are by nature pessimists, and they stay that way after conversion. It is like two aircraft on the same course. one a transport, the other a light plane. A storm shows up ahead; both planes make a 45-degree turn to the right, or perhaps they turn clear around with Dr. Foreman a 180-degree turn. After the turn they are still transport and light plane, not two of either, not something else like helicopters. That's what "conversion" means, just turning around in Presence Of Danger

Thomas, one of the "Twelve." was a man set apart from the other eleven by his dark mind. Not that he was stupid; on the contrary he was pretty bright. He had a very logical mind, but it was easier for him to believe unpleasant facts than to believe what would have suited him better. Some call him a pessimist. Perhaps he was; but we may think of him as a realist. The optimist has lovely stained glass windows in his house of life, and so the world always looks gay and bright to him. The pessimist paints over his windows, can scarcely see at all, and says, What a dismal world this is! The realist has clear plate glass windows and keeps them polished. When it's raining outside the realist says so The optimist says, Go on, you're a pessimist! See how lovely the world looks from my window! I never see it rain at all. But the man is not a pessimist, really

Thomas, like others of his sort, sometimes slips over into pessimism, but (again like all Christian realists) even when he takes the darkest view possible. he does not lose his faith. On the occasion when Jesus went to Bethany just after his friend Lazarus died, it was a wellknown fact that the authorities wanted to have him arrested. Thomas thought it would come to worse than arrest. "Let us go too, that we may die with him," he said. He did not think Jesus was riding the road to success.

In Bewilderment

At the Last Supper we hear the voice of Thomas only once. "Lord, we do not know where you are going, how can we know the way?" He was evidently completely bewildered. But he did not leave the table, as Judas did, to go out into the night. He was at a low point. He as good as admits he does not understand Jesus at all. "We don't know where you are headed" sounds very much like what the English call a vote of no-confidence. But Thomas stayed on. Where was Jesus headed? He did not know. But he was sure Jesus knew. That's faith.

No Second-hand Faith

Thomas is best known for his refusing to believe that the resurrection of Jesus was an actual fact. To be more exact, he refused to believe on the evidence of his friends. Thomas never said, "The thing's impossible, I'll never believe it." What he said, in effect, was, "It may be possible but I can't take it at secondhand. I must see for myself. If I believe, it will be only if Jesus himself proves the story you are telling."

Now the Eleven (or Ten, to be exact) may have been offended. When one of your friends tell you he doesn't believe you, doesn't believe the lot of you, it gets under the skin. But they did not put Thomas out, and he did not put himself out. The next time they met, he was there too Thomas is called the Doubter. Is this fair to him? Should a man be called a doubter who is willing to die with Jesus? Should a man be called a doubter when it is not doubt but ignorance that rides him? Should a man be called a doubter when he seeks the company of those who believe? Some men are skeptics who don't want to believe But those skeptics who want to believe, can find faith best within the community of the
