THE GREAT DOUBLE-CROSS

Officially speaking, the permanent ceiling on the national debt is set at $285 billion. But this has very small practical significance. Congress, because of almost constant deficits in recent years, has voted for "temporary" increases. The current boost of this nature will allow a debt of $298 billion.

Representatives Utt and Alger recently made this statement: "The Congress has proved that nothing is more permanent than a 'temporary,' tax or a 'temporary' increase in the debt ceiling."

What's the answer? So far as "temporary" taxes are concerned, it lies in a concerted public demand that they be abandoned on schedule. So far as the debt is concerned, it lies in drastic cuts in all nonessential—particularly that of the welfare state variety—that will make possible gradual debt reduction, along with a full stop to allegedly "temporary" increases. The "temporary" racket has become the greatest double-cross of American citizens in history.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the nation's largest agricultural organization says, "What the farmer really needs is public understanding of the basic fact that his net income has suffered under the twin onslaughts of unrealistic farm price support programs and inflation. What the farmer also needs is opportunity to be free of the shackles of government price fixing and controls so that the food and fiber he produces can be used to fill consumer needs instead of government bins and warehouses. Unwise government programs have caused agriculture's distress."

The Tennessee Valley Authority recently announced a reduction in its electric rates. The head of the Edison Electric Institute observes that if TVA paid taxes and the market costs of borrowed money comparable to those paid by private electric companies, rates would have to be raised 46 per cent. If this were done, electric rates in the TVA area would be about the same as rates paid by customers of the electric companies operating under similar circumstances.

The Exchange Magazine reports on the Billionaires Club—companies whose shares are listed on the New York Stock Exchange that have sales or revenues of a billion or more a year. The membership showed a net increase of one last year for a record total of 52 companies. There was four newcomers, while three lost membership by failing to reach the billion figure.

According to Changing Times, there are 193,467 bartenders in this country as against only 167,471 clergymen. The magazine adds: "The clergymen. The magazine adds: 'This suggests that a lot of folks are probably trying to send their messages to the Lord in empty bottles.'"

Next year the Fifth International Food Congress and Exhibition will be held in New York City. The previous four have all been in foreign cities—Paris, Ostende, Rome and Lausanne.

From the Milwaukee Journal: "Science truly can be of great benefit to man. Take the work of a University of California horticulturist by the name of John Madison. He has been studying grass and he finds that it takes a good five days for it to recover from a mowing. He observes: 'If you happen to be busy and let the grass go two weeks between mowings, the lawn will benefit. For years we've hunted, along with many other men, for excuses to delay cutting the lawn. None worked. But now comes science to the rescue. It's a wonderful, exciting age in which to live.'"

According to the American Dairy Association, in 1960 a factory worker was getting a great deal more food for an hour of his work than in 1947-49. For example, in 1960, an hour of factory labor on the average would buy 8.1 quarts of milk as against 6.5 quarts in the previous period. And it would buy 2.5 pounds of choice grade beef, up from 1.9 pounds.

A National Retail Merchants Association survey concerned the retail outlook for this fall. There was a record response by 416 stores, representing some $6.5 billion in annual sales. Sixty-eight per cent estimated that sales for the second half of 1961 will, on the average, be 4 per cent ahead of last year.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MT. PLEASANT, PA., JOURNAL: "We in the United States usually assume that if we carry democracy to another country the people will welcome it with open arms, make it work effectively and resist the temptations which threaten to destroy it. This is not always true. Democracy must be earned and it must be both desired by the people and understood by them. It requires the support and intelligence of the masses to succeed."

JEFFERSON, OHIO, GAZETTE: "The politicians love to talk about economy in government, but take a look at some evidence of 'economy' uncovered by the House Armed Services Navy paid $109,012 for parts that cost the supplier $20,820. Of course, the government recovered 52 per cent of the profit in taxes, but the tax-payers are still the loser."

"In another instance the Air Force purchased 44,352 armatures from an Ohio company for $32.28 each. The Ohio firm bought them from another company for $16.69 each. If some of this waste were eliminated the Frontier could really put on a firm front."

MOUND, MINN., PILOT: "This country wasn't founded nor did it grow to greatness on the basis of also been interpreted to mean: 'Thou leadership that lacked faith in ideals, shalt do no murder.' Then the 21st a willingness to vote for convictions, chapter, verse 12, says, 'He that smiteth a man, so that he die, shall our present lack of faith and conviction continues to spread.'

CHICO, CALIF., ENTERPRISE—RECORD: "It is one of the facts of life that not even the people who depend steadily upon railroads for either freight or passenger use worry very much about the financial distress of the railroads...."

"But it is another fact of life that railroads are a vital part of the national fabric, even in the realm of national defense, and that they should be healthy."

HORTON, KANS., HEADLIGHT: "The fight today is with dollars not men. The sounder the nation is financially, the louder it can speak to its world neighbors. It must not drain away the substance that symbolizes the nation's system of freedom, enterprise, opportunity and reason for labor."

WADESBORO, N. C., MESSENGER & INTELLIGENCER: "Misguided do-gooders frequently quote the Sixth Commandment, 'Thou shalt not kill,' to prove that capital punishment is wrong. This Commandment in the 20th chapter, verse 13, of Exodus has

EXCEPTIONS:

These cars could deliver top performance with only 8 of Super Shell's 9 ingredients. But they'll soon need the ninth. Do you know why?

If car engines could stay clean as new, they'd get along fine without Shell's TCP additive. But harmful deposits start building up the moment your car leaves the showroom—and can soon cut power and mileage. TCP works to keep that from happening. Here's how.

THE ENGINE of every car on the road has combustion chamber deposits. Nothing can stop them from forming. They're the inevitable result of combustion.

If your car has only a couple of thousand miles on it you probably won't know the deposits are there. But once they've built up, they can be rough on performance. Fortunately, something can be done about that. Shell's TCP additive does it.

How deposits cause trouble

Here's what can happen inside your engine. When certain types of deposits get hot enough, they can beat spark plugs to the punch and ignite the fuel themselves.

These premature explosions are forms of pre-ignition. They give your pistons a terrific hammering. Your power falls off. And so does your mileage.

Instead of purring smoothly, your engine falters—and costs you money.

How TCP prevents trouble

New, improved TCP in today's Super Shell gasoline literally alters these combustion chamber deposits. It "fireproofs" them so they no longer glow red-hot.

Result: top performance.

And as a little extra, new improved TCP can help spark plugs last up to twice as long.

NOTE: TCP can improve the performance of many older cars. Tests have shown that it helps restore power lost to harmful combustion deposits—and can add up to 17 miles per tankful.

9-ingredient formula

TCP is just one of Super Shell's nine ingredients. To get an idea of how all nine contribute to top performance, run your eye over the list at the right.

And try a couple of tankfuls yourself. If you do it soon, you'll get Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend.

It's specially formulated to give your car top performance in summer. And that's a reassuring thing to know when you're out driving on a sizzling day.

Super Shell's 9 ingredients for top performance

- #1 is TCP®—for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #2 is Pentane mix—for fast warm-ups.
- #3 is anti-knock mix—for knock resistance.
- #4 is Alkylate to control "high-speed knock."
- #5 is Butane—for quick starts.
- #6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.
- #7 is an "anti-icer." Added when cold weather sets in.
- #8 is gum preventive—for clean carburetors.
- #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889212.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. Lavina Fringer left this Friday evening on a visit to her daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown of Toronto, Ohio.

Visitors in town during the week attending the Grangers' Fair, are: Miss Mary Shriner, of Hanover, at Miss Dora Jones'; Miss Clara Hess of York and Mrs. Jacob Wolf and daughter at C. O. Fuss's; Mrs. Chas. Conover of Harrisburg, at Richard Hill's; U. L. Reaver and Misses Jane and Mary Reaver of Westminster, and Charles C. Currens of Thurmont at E. K. Reaver's; Dr. Artie B. Angell, wife and son, of Milwaukee, Wis. at Nathan Angell's; Frank LeFevre, wife and children of Sebring, Ohio at Mrs. Milton Reindollar's; Miss Dorothy Stonieser of Union Bridge at Miss Emma Bowersox's; Miss Sarah Harner of Littlestown at Chas. E. Shriners'; Robert Elliott and wife of Stevenson at C. A. Elliott's; G. H. Mitten, wife and daughter and Miss Annie Buffington of Washington and John H. Mitten of Westminster at John Buffington's; Miss Agness Murphy of Boonsboro, at Mrs. Benton Brining's; Mrs. John Belt and son of Westminster, at Mrs. Charles Hess'; Capt. Upton Birnie, Jr., of Port Riley, Kansas at Miss Ellen Galt's; Miss Ada Schultz of Baltimore, at E. E. Reindollar's; Robert Fair and wife of Baltimore at Daniel Fair's; Archie Crouse of York at Milton Crouse's.

The State Grange Fair, The Fourteenth annual Maryland State Grange Fair was formerly opened in Ohler's Grove near Taneytown on Tuesday of this week. Notwithstanding the threatening weather fully 2000 people were in attendance. The Detour Cornet Band gave several excellent concerts that were highly appreciated. After a good old fashioned country dinner by mine host John Shirk, his charming wife and handsome daughter, which all enjoyed, President E. O. Garner called the assemblage to order. He spoke at length on what the Grange had done throughout the country for the uplift of the farmers and for the upbuilding of agriculture. He introduced Rockward Nussbaum, a farmer boy, and young man of whom Taneytown is proud and whose eloquent voice will be heard in our legislative halls sooner or later advocating the right of the farmer. On Wednesday the Taneytown Band furnished the music greatly pleasing the 8000 people who had assembled in the Fair Grounds. The magnificent horses, fine lot of chickens, geese, ducks, turkeys, guinas, pigeons, etc., corn, wheat, rye, oats and fruits, the vast amount of machinery, carriages, musical instruments on exhibition attracted much attention. The speaking began at 1:30 with Mr. Thompson, Division Engineer of the Pa. Railroad at Elmira N.Y. On Thurs. as early as 7:00 a.m. people began arriving at the grove in carriages, so that by 10:00 o'clock fully 8,000 persons were on the grounds. At two, more than 13,000 were there.

Dividend
Printing

There is one kind of printing that you want—printing that pays a dividend on the investment.

A letterhead with right sort of type properly balanced is a real business asset. It wins the approval of the person receiving your letter, and while he is in this frame of mind your letter is read.

The same reasoning applies to any other job of printing. Neatness, the right weight and kind of paper, the color of the ink, the selection of the type, all play an important part in the production of dividend printing.

We are equipped to give you that kind of printing. Let us prove it to you.

Let's Go Fishin'

BY BOB BREWSTER

Outdoor Editor, Mercury Outboards

In some parts of the U.S. it's called "stump-knocking," in others "hand-fishing," but by either name it is the same thing — walking in a creek or river and catching fish by reaching into hidden holes and grabbing them.

In some states hand-fishing is as illegal as making bathtub booze, in others it is accepted, if not openly encouraged. It would be wise to check state laws before venturing forth, the Mercury outboard company fishing authorities advise, just to be on the safe side.

To those who view it for the first time, hand-fishing must seem like a crazy way to bag fish. The practitioners wade a typical sluggish river, feeling under brush piles and undercut banks for the "holes" in which catfish seem to prefer. When they feel a fish they often stroke it to quiet it down (this works and I've done it) much like petting a cat, then ever so carefully get a good grip on it and haul it out of there.

REAL SIMPLE

Which sounds real simple until you do it. One complicating factor is a hand-fisherman never knows for sure what will be in the hole until he reaches in — it could be a big snapping turtle and if so he could lose a hand. Or it could be a catfish big enough to swallow a hog, in which case, he'll need help to land it.

The hole can be difficult to reach and the fisherman may have to go in water over his head to check it out, it can be filled with snags that rip the hands, or it could be the home of a dandy catfish. And if the latter case is true the hand-fisherman can, with a little luck, bring home enough catfish to feed his family for a week or maybe a month if he successfully tangles with some of the upwards of 350-pound monsters that roam the Mississippi River and its big tributaries.

In some areas hand-fishermen go in groups for their muddy fun, with several on hand to help in case one of the group gets hold of more than he can handle. Sometimes a sack is taken down to the hole and the fish shoved in the sack underwater. Others believe in taking down a hay hook and slamming it into the fish, then landing it by brute force and shouted curses, which seem to help a lot.

BOAT DELIVERY

Sometimes they launch a boat at a likely spot, crank up a Merc 60 (ideal for a cartop boat) and motor upstream to a starting point. Then as they wade downstream the boat stays with them. As fish are caught they are dumped in the accompanying boat and finally delivered back to the car where the journey started.

The system works particularly well because catfish seem to enjoy laying up in holes under brush heaps and spots where the current has undercut a bank, thereby making hand-fishing a very efficient method.

And catfish are mighty good to eat, however they are caught.

Beware "Gyp Operator" Salesmen Brought Out By Warm Weather

Chambers of Commerce, Better Business Bureaus, law enforcement officials and government agencies again warn that clear roads and good weather bring out roving bands of "warm weather gyp salesmen."

Don't become a victim of these unscrupulous "sharpies." They usually drive up in big cars and "take" unsuspecting home folks down the line with a fast-talking sales pitch. They sell everything from septic tank cleaning jobs, aluminum painted roofs, lightning rods, furnace cleaners, coating or resurfacing driveways, to oil and textile materials.

In the case of lightning protection, the unprincipled salesman relies on universal fear of lightning and on the layman's lack of knowledge about protective systems to help him sell installations that may be either dangerously incomplete, or else using expensive but wholly inadequate materials, says the Lightning Protection Institute, 53 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago 4, Illinois.

Here is a 10-point checklist prepared by the Institute for your use in spotting these "gyp" operators. It's based on studies of gyp artists' operating patterns. Use it to determine what you are buying and from whom:

- (1) Know your salesman and the company he represents. Patronize local established reputable concerns, whenever possible.
- (2) If you don't know the salesman personally, demand bona fide identification such as: Permanent Established Residence. (Beware fly-by-night salesmen using trailer park, motel, hotel and Post Office Box ad-resses.) Record salesman's residence address and address of his Company.

- (3) Ask to see Driver's License. Record name and secure number on Driver's License (also State issuing).
- (4) Record State Auto Registration, State and Number.
- (5) Check telephone directory for listing of individual or Company in both Alphabetical and Classified sections. Record phone number.
- (6) Demand and record name of bank connection, also list of customers for whom they have done work and verify these by phone.
- (7) Ask for evidence of affiliation with the Lightning Protection Institute.
- (8) Demand proof that the Company or individual doing any work on your premises carries Workmen's Compensation Liability Insurance.
- (9) Don't pay cash when in doubt. Unless you know your installer, insist that most of the payment be deferred until you know that the installation is complete and correct.
- (10) Don't be hurried: learn about lightning protection from an authoritative source. Most "gyps" are high-pressure, hurry-or-you-lose-out deals. Resist these tactics. Buy from a position of knowledge. Buy it through regular channels as you would any equipment, utility, or service. Don't buy it from an unknown itinerant.

If you are in doubt regarding any of these points, the best way to get the answer is to write to the Lightning Protection Institute, 53 W. Jackson Boulevard, Chicago 4, Illinois, for free booklet, "Lightning Facts and Figures."

• Second Chance

Lesson for August 13, 1961

WOULD you give a second chance to a man who has shown himself to be unreliable? That was the question that Paul and Barnabas answered differently. Indeed they were so far from agreeing that they actually split up a long-time partnership. Barnabas went off into obscurity (for we never hear of him any more) rather than go without Mark. It was a strange choice, going with young Dr. Foreman and flighty Mark rather than with the brilliant and successful Paul; but it was Barnabas' choice and he had his reasons.

Personnel Board

The story really began several years before the great quarrel. Paul and Barnabas, a natural team if ever there was one, first picked up John Mark on their visit to Jerusalem carrying famine relief funds. He went back with them to Antioch, and was probably in church work there for some time. When Barnabas and Paul were sent out by the Antioch church as their first missionaries, they took John as an assistant. But at a place called Perga John Mark suddenly took a notion to go back to his mother (a lady of wealth) at Jerusalem. We don't know why Mark went back; no excuse is recorded. Anyhow, Perga was no place to resign; he was very much needed. Perga was in a malaria-infested district, and there is some indication elsewhere that Paul came down with it. The next leg of the journey extended across some high mountain ranges, and bandits were everywhere. It just looked as if John Mark couldn't take it.

Old Friends Part

At any rate, when the personnel board for the second missionary party (Paul and Barnabas again) met, the two older men could not agree whether to take John Mark or leave him behind. Luke tells us only that there was a "sharp contention" between the two veteran missionaries about their younger colleague; but we can imagine how the arguments went. Paul would remind Barnabas that Mark had been a quitter; Paul felt that taking him the first time was probably a mistake, but taking him the second time would be a mistake for which there could be no excuse. Give him a second chance!

Barnabas, however, was related to Mark, either as uncle or cousin. He knew the boy much better than Paul did, he felt. Maybe he knew some good reason for Mark's having come back as suddenly as he did. Barnabas could not deny that John Mark had been a spectacular failure. But he felt that John Mark would not fail twice. Paul, however, was not willing to take that chance. So after how many harsh words we do not know—the great team of Paul and Barnabas split up for good and all.

Mark Makes Good

It turned out that Barnabas was right and Paul was mistaken. John Mark made good—on the same kind of job, exactly, as the one on which he had failed before. He won the respect of distinguished leaders of the church, especially Peter, who calls him "my son," and Paul himself. Not Paul, surely? He was not a man to change his mind easily. Well, it may not have been easy for Paul to change his mind, especially to change it in public. But both publicly (to the Colossian church) and privately to Timothy, Paul praised John Mark in language he seldom used for any one. John Mark never was a brilliant young man, he was no more than an assistant from first to last; but the ablest of men need assistants, and Paul paid public tribute to the man whom once (to use modern slang) he had fired.

The split between Barnabas and Mark was painful, but it illustrates the wise providence of God. For under Paul's suspicious eye Mark might have failed again. But Barnabas believed in him—and so he succeeded. To be believed in may be the margin between failure and success.

Southern States announces its revolutionary new...

Cowculator

The Cowculator answers the questions that dairymen have only guessed at up to now. It gives facts not supplied by other programs... facts that can dramatically increase a dairyman's profits.

The Cowculator tells exactly how much grain to give each cow to get maximum profit return from her—based on the milk-grain price ratio on the particular farm! The Cowculator Maximum Profit Dairy Program has already proved itself on many farms. It is not a substitute for programs like DHIA; rather, it increases the value of these other programs. The dairyman not on a program like DHIA, needs the Cowculator Program even more.

Our men have been extensively trained in a special school to bring the benefits of the Cowculator to dairy farms in this area. Now, before waiting lists fill up, you are invited to come in and find out more about it.

Flour Sifter Starts Down Memory Lane

MINNEAPOLIS — Casualty of today's modern food and nutrition research and development programs is a one time essential unit of the kitchen, Mom's flour sifter. More than 2,200 of the outmoded devices were turned in at a General Mills open house here in exchange for bags of new, no-sift Gold Medal flour. It can be used in the home without sifting or alteration of present Betty Crocker recipes. Shown building up the huge heap of the sifters are left to right, Karen Peterson and Jean Paula Eberhart of the General Mills' staff. The sifters were given to park and playground authorities for use by children in sand piles.

Home Canning Wins

It's fun to make your own preserves, and they provide a perfect way of giving something with a truly personal touch—the touch of your own hand. Whether you're contributing to a community project like the church bazaar, or remembering a friend at Christmas or a special occasion, your homemade preserves are a very special gift. Such gifts cannot be bought at any price.

Try your hand at a conserve with an interesting flavor combination like plum and orange, enhanced with savory nuts and raisins. Choose Atlas Mason jars to pack it—each carton of twelve jars includes a set of attractive labels that you can fill out to give your conserve the final personal touch.

Damson Plum-Orange Conserve

1 cup (1 to 2) finely chopped orange
3 1/2 cups (1 1/2 pounds) finely chopped Damson plums
Rind of 1/2 orange, cut in 1/2 cup seedless raisins fine pieces 1 package powdered pectin
2 cups water 7 cups sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Combine chopped orange, orange rind and water in saucepan. Cover. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 20 minutes. Measure plums into a large kettle. Add orange, raisins and pectin; stir well. Place over high heat and bring to a full rolling boil, stirring constantly. Add sugar and bring to a full rolling boil, stirring constantly. Boil hard for one minute, stirring constantly. Stir in nuts. Remove from heat; skim and stir alternately for 5 minutes. Ladle into hot 8-ounce jars. Seal immediately. Yield: 8 8-ounce jars or 4 pint jars.

HOUSEHOLD HINT X CHANGE

THE American homemaker is driven by a desire to improve herself and her home.

And one means of achieving it is through the Household Hint Exchange—a market place for the free distribution of ideas designed to make the homemaking job easier:

1. When examining baby's throat, a small lollipop makes an ideal tongue depressor. The tongue is depressed—but the baby isn't.

2. If you use hot water for sprinkling clothes, they will be ready to iron much sooner than if you use cold water.

3. Sewing machine needles won't rust if you keep them covered with Vaseline petroleum jelly. Run the needle through a piece of cloth before using on material.

4. Next time you light the oven —be it gas or electric—leave the door open for about 5 minutes. This will prevent condensation and, best of all, keep the oven from rusting. Not only that, it also makes the oven heat faster.

5. If the cords on drapery traverse rods are coated with a thin layer of Vaseline petroleum jelly, they will work more smoothly. An application of the jelly reduces the friction where cords travel over pulleys and cuts down on wear and tear.

6. To keep macaroni or spaghetti from boiling over, keep a wooden spoon in the kettle while cooking. Another method is to put a piece of butter or margarine into the cooking "pasta." If you are a pessimist, you can't possibly go wrong if you do both at once.

There'll be no such thing as rained out performances of outdoor sports or theatre events in the 21st century. Stadiums and open-air theatres will have mobile roofs to protect spectators when weather is inclement.

Life-size TV screens—wall installed or portable—will be as common as the telephone one hundred years from now. Live performances will reach viewers regularly from all parts of the world.

At the Century 21 Exposition, opening in Seattle, Washington, 1962, visitors will get a look at entertainment of the future. New techniques in motion picture filming, a sampling of the world's young artists, a variety of international shows will be shown in the exposition's special arena, stadium and concert hall.

Here's a Kitchen to Delight Most Particular Housewife

New design of modern electric range gives this newly-remodeled kitchen space-age efficiency, convenience, and beauty.

A modern electric range with two eye-level automatic ovens is an important feature of the decor as well as an efficient worker in the ultra-modern, newly remodeled kitchen shown in the photograph. Setting the range on tapered legs over a planter gives the kitchen an air of grace and space. Since electric high-oven ranges such as this one can also be hung on the wall set on a base cabinet, they are adaptable to a variety of kitchen designs. For small kitchens, models with a single, roomy oven are available. Whether large or small, the new high-oven ranges have four surface burners in a sliding drawer below the ovens. Oven controls are conveniently located at eye level, and attractive glass oven doors open up vertically, away from pots and pans on surface units.
