Ray's Country Store Museum that opened three days last week end, for the benefit of the Children's Room at the Carroll Co. Gen. Hospital in Westminster, and sponsored by the Taneytown District of the Carroll County Hospital Auxiliary was definitely a huge success.

More than 1200 people from the entire eastern part of the United States will long remember the quaint little Country Store Museum in Taneytown, with horses and buggy's, old cars, ladies dressed in old fashioned clothes, and all the unique items in the store It cortainly brought back the store. It certainly brought back pleasant memories for the older folks and really delighted the younger folks to see mother's and grandmo-

Visitors from Florida, Georgia, Virginia, Delaware, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and all parts of Maryland, and even Alaska were waiting in line. We are sorry many people were unable to get in, but with a line a block long, one can't much blame them for not waiting.

The demand of reopening again has been so great, that the Auxiliary hopes to make some kind of arrange-ment for the future, so the public would have another opportunity to

Mrs. Marcia Ray, owner of the Country Store Museum is to be highly commended and praised for her kindness and untiring loyality in letting the Auxiliary use her collection of store items for the benefit of the Children's Room.

It really was an overwhelming success and we are sure everyone that was fortunate enough to visit us, certainly enjoyed the truly "Americana" store keeping.

The regular meeting of the Carroll County Board of Appeals was held Friday, October 27, 1961 at the Coun-ty Office Building, Westminster, Md. Five appeal cases were heard by the and the following decisions

Dwight Blair's application for a permit to open a used car lot in conjunction with a garage on Bartholow Road and Rt. 97 was denied. The Board stated in its decision that this location was in an agricultural and residential area and that a used car lot there could deny the adjoining residents the peaceful enjoyment of their homes. Approximately 18 property owners from the Gist area were present with Atterney David Tay. his Attorney, L. Awalt Weller, that spring meeting of the state D.A.R. he did not wish to operate a used car

The application of Elmer Shanks for a permit to operate a used car lot on Rt. 140 in Finksburg was approved by the board. The Board based its decision on the past use history of the location and the presence of other commercial uses in the area. The Board noted in its decision that Mr. Shanks comply with Zoning Ordinance regulations regarding off the road parking and the State Roads

Commission entrance requirements.

The application of Daniel Davis for a zoning permit to locate a trailer in Finksburg opposite Murray Road was approved. In its decision the Board noted the presence of four other trailers within 1000 ft. of the proposed location. Also a County Health Department approving the sewerage facilities and lot size was already in ef-

Franklin Morefield's application for a zoning permit to locate a trailer on Brown Rd. off Westminster Pike was denied. The Board noted that the surrounding area was residential and they felt the location of a trailer there would adversely affect property values and future residential growth.

The application of Miles Moreland for a zoning permit to locate a trailer on Murray Road, approximately one mile south west of Finksburg was denied. The Board in its decision noted that the trailer site requested was in the area of a new residential development adjacent to the Liberty Lake Watershed. The Board felt that a trailer location in this area would substantially affect future orderly development and adversely affect property values. Also, there are no other trailers within approximately 2400 feet of the proposed location.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Amongst a crowded audience at the Amongst a crowded audience at the New Theatre, I sat viewing "BOBBY"—the greatest of the Walt Disney's features, a true story in Scotland in the grand Technicolor picture. The year was 1867 and no sweeter picture could be shown for either child or adult. Due to The Technicolor Comment adult! Due to The Teacher's Convention there were many children right there and they were thrilled. The pic-ture is taken eight miles from Edinburgh, Scotland and you will see those wonderful Scottish people whom I have always loved. They are such a substantial and honest set of people as they always wrap themselves around your heart and that is the way I have always felt about them. You will see the country on many sides and the old buildings with their quaint streets. How refreshing in comparison to those sexy pictures. A relief! I did not know that a license for a dog was in demand that many years ago or was the Law. I won't go into detail as to the story for the best part is to see the love of "Bobby" for his Master until death do them part! Betcha, you will go home and buy yourself a dog and that will be before Christmas! You will adore that pic-ture—"FOR THE LOVE OF A DOG!"

And as to that T.V. show of "Sing Along with Mitch" this past week it was really silly to hear the songs, "If You Were The Only Girl in The World" etc. and "The Old Gray Mare" with all costumes as to Cleopatra days! Eh? That spoiled the entire

In the five and dime were large Chestnuts on sale at their vegetable counter as you enter the door of Woolworth's on Lexington Street and those chestnuts were imported, too. Ummmmm good!

Ladies, always have your linen closet to appear glamorous at all times of course with the appropriate colors of ribbon with bows 'n everything plus "Dove" soap in a plate unwrapped to give a delightful scent as you open the door. The scent of that soap is lasting and when guests see the linen closet you will hear them say, "Oh, it is lovely!" Well, the Fall-Out Shelter at the Mondwin Shopping center has disappeared. No doubt there was no success to that one. The young man was found unconscious one morning! They say he lost ten pounds in less than a week! UGH! See what I mean, Folks? Cheapening life!

Mrs. Housewife, there are so many artificial flowers beautifully arranged in all the stores that they appear real and the nice part of that is doing it all for your home for it means only once for the entire winter and it does give the living and dining rooms a tremendous oomph! If you have gas heat, you will save dollars if you close off the registers of the bedrooms during the day and close the doors. You will then be heating only the essential part of your home in which you occupy during those hours. Here's a cute one, "Lillian", said Mother severly, "there were two pieces of cake in the pantry this morning and now there is only one. How does this happen?" "I don't know," replied Lillian regretfully. "It musta been so dark I didn't see the other

Here is the Sign of "Scorpio" those born from Oct. 20 to Nov. 20. Mars the ruling planet of this sign gives to it's subjects great courage, confidence and perseverence as well as caution. They never, never start anything they do not finish and this one big habit is an excellent one for it is really a part of their make up. They are very determined and have great will power. Their self-control is admirable and they are always sure which means you can rely at all times upon those individuals (just like Westinghouse—you can be sure if it's Westinghouse)! Many times they have a great secret in their lives. They can make the other individual very angry just by keeping quiet in fact I have seen cases where this sign is in some kind of an argument and they win out by holding their tongue. Many times through their manner, people misjudge them thinking they are without sympathy when in fact they are the most kind hearted people in the world. They excel as Supervisors or having a position where they may dictate to others and are always successful in life. They are most refined and cultured and no education is high enough for them and they should be given the very best at all times. The men are usually very suspicious and jealous and this causes much unhappiness and many Scorpio women are, too. These people are always successful in music regardless of the instrument and love only the finest. They also are brilliant conversationalists.

So long until next week end D.V. Have a grand week end. Say a prayer of Thanks for the rain which is so badly needed! Love one another and don't ever forget to say, "I'm sorry!"

had 46 home runs. These home runs had 46 home runs. These home runs were topped only by Roger Maris (61) and Mickey Mantle (54). He drove in 141 runs, one less than the 142 knocked across to lead the A.L. Gentile also equalled the major-league record of five grand-slam homers in one season; set a major-league gue record of five grand-slam homers in one season; set a major-league mark of two grand-slams in successive innings in one game; and finished the season with a batting average of .302, fifth best in the league. According to Jim, his biggest thrill on the playing field was when he hit his two grand-slams against the Minnesota Twins last May. Off the field, his greatest thrill came when the Baltimire fans gave him a "night" after he had been there only two years. When asked about pitchers, Gentile classed the Yankees' Whitey Ford as the "toughest".

Spahn & Donovan Take E.R.A. Crown Warren Spahn, a 21-game winner, yielded 88 earned runs in 263 innings for a 3.01 E.R.A.; thus, enabling him to post the highest mark ever for a National League leader. The veteran southpaw fashioned four shutouts, including the only big-league no-hitter. He also captured this title in 1947 and American League winner was Dick Donovan. The big right-hander gave up 45 earned runs in 169 innings for an E.R.A. of 2.40. He had two shutouts among ten victories. He lost ten,

Colts Turned Back final whistle had blown on Sunday, the Colts found themselves on the short end of the stick. The fi-nal score read 21-20. The Chicago Bears won the game with every con-ceivable break against them, doing most of their damage in the second half. They devoted the first half of the game to one purpose, wearing down the Colts. And this they did down the Colts. And this they did well. Unitas, taking a tremendous beating throughout the second half, was one big sore spot; Mutscheller was limping; Moore was favoring his left ankle; and a look at Donovan, Taseff, and Myhra made bystanders wonder if the Bears had been carrying knives But it soms a little more was wonder if the Bears had been carrying knives. But it seems a little more was involved than the Bears merely overpowering the Colts in the last half. The team that dominated the first half, literally fell apart in the second half. This gave the Bears a chance to regain their forces and go on to win the game. And so, the Colts add another game to their poor seaadd another game to their poor season. #### FAIRVIEW

Oh, what lovely weather we having with a few little showers once in a while. It is so nice this morning (Tues.), but nothing can compare with last Sunday, which was a perfect day. Your correspondent and her husband, Levi Frock accompanied by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker, took a little trip on Sunday afternoon to admire the handy work of our great Creator. We drove quite a bit, over one hundred miles and it was greatly enjoyed. Anyone interested in the things that have been created on this earth would really enjoy seeing the rocks in Va. How they seem to be placed in sheets, some have little pine trees growing on the outer ledge. The country is so

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

Mrs. David Roop, Linwood, was recently elected president of the Carroll County Chapter, American Gold Star Mothers. She will be installed in November. Mrs. Roop and the other officers will be guests of the Westminster Lions Club at a dinner meeting at the Westminster Riding Club this Thursday.

It may be a little early for most people to think about Christmas but at the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association headquarters not only have they been thinking about it but have been preparing for it. Mrs. Paul Smith, chairman of the Christmas Seal Campaign for 1961 and 28 volunteers started in October to get the Christmas seals reader. the Christmas seals ready for the opening date of the campaign November 13. Over 13,000 letters have been folded, stuffed, sealed and packed for the mail. This couldn't have been ac-complished so speedily without the help of clubs and individuals who volunteered their time. Inasmuch that the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association is made up mostly of vol-unteers it can be called an organization of the people, and for the peo-ple, because it conducts a year round health program in Carroll County. Its ilth education case finding, rehabilitation and sup-port of medical research. The public has shown its appreciation for these services by supporting the once-a-year Christmas Seal Campaign.

It is somewhat surprising to learn that 10,000 persons have paid to see the Van Gogh exhibition of 142 paintngs and drawings at the Baltimore Museum of Art. We say its surprising that there should be 10,000 persons in terested enough in art to pay an admission price because one rarely meets a person that ever expresses an interest in paintings. Art seems to be a subject that most people are shy to talk about or even admire, because no doubt they can't express themselves in an artists language. But one doesn't have to do that for if a person really admires a picture or a landscape or even a purple cow all he has to say that he likes it and let it go at that. Only the expert knows what an artist is trying to say with his paintings and sometimes the experts can be wrong. When Van Gogh painted his pictures he was starving so who can say what he had in mind when he used his paint brush. A good square meal was probably upper-most! in his thoughts. His waving lines might have been caused by anemia and not by genius; and his brilliant colors by the lack of good eyesight due to malnutrition. We point out these things out not because we wish to detract from the genius of Van Gogh but to point out that experts can appraise an artists work incorrectly too as no one can accurately read another's mind.

An old Indian stood on top of

It would be kind and even mature if the critics of the Peace Corp would keep quiet until the Corp had a chance to perform. Even if it serves no other purpose it will give American youth a chance to visit other countries and get a first hand knowledge of other cultures. They might even return and educate their fellow Americans about some facts of life. First, that citizens of other lands are as proud of their traditions as we are of ours; that the color of one's skin is not worn as badge of superiority; that indoor plumbing is no clue to one's socia standing and that ignorance isn't confined solely to the so called back ward countries. If the Peace Corp can return home and convince the majority of we Americans of these four things then the Corp will be a whale of a success.

THANK YOU ONE AND ALL

As chairman of the Children's Room Benefit sponsored last weekend by the Taneytown District, Carroll County Hospital Auxiliary, I wish to extend the Auxiliary's appreciation to all who helped make the opening of Ray's Country Store Museum such a success Thanks go to the many volunteers who manned the counters, made candy and cookies, donated pickles and pre serves and Post Office packages, and contributed behind the scenes in big and little ways. And special thanks to the dashing blades who turned out with their spanking horses and Sun-day rigs and the daring folks in their gasoline buggies who kept the waitng crowd entranced; it was a wonderful show!

We shall shortly be able to tell you how much was raised through your combined efforts for the Children's Room, and we think you will be pleased with the amount. We could never have done it without you-or had so much fun!

Grow In Concern Lesson for November 5, 1961

THE noticing reader, or one who goes to Sunday school and looks over the topics of the whole quarter's lessons, will have observed that the study this quarter (Oct. 1-Dec. 31) is all about Christians growing. First we had a study about how Jesus grew, then one about how Christians grow, in general: then a number of studies (this being the last) asking the same question Growing-in what respect, in what

Dr. Foreman ways? In what may a Christian be expected to grow? We have seen that a Christian can grow in the knowledge of God, in his Christian relationships, in his life and activity in the church; and now we shall think how a Christian can grow in "Christian concern." If anybody prefers to substitute "love" for concern, all right; only remember that Christian love is concern, not emotion alone.

Christian Materialism There is a bad materialism, or rather, bad materialisms, and there is a good one as well. With the bad materialism Christians should have nothing to do. With sacred obligation, laid on us by the Lord himself,

One bad kind of materialism is the theory that nothing is real except matter, stuff (whether visible like water or invisible like electrons or chemical energy) which can be weighed and measured. This is the kind of materialism preached and practiced in communism; Christians understand that it is false. Another bad kind is very common in America; it is the notion that material things are the most important things in the world, When you hear some one arguing that things, or property, are as important or more important than people, you may know you are listening to a materialist, not of the Christian kind. The Christian materialism declares that things are important, though not the most important, still less the only kind of real things. But the Christian goes on to say that part of our "love"-that is, concern for our neighbor, must include his material welfare. That is to say, a Christian will be concerned about wages, housing, education, culture, in his community. He is not content to want a square deal himself, he wants it for all others. Jesus' parable of the sheep and the goats brings out this Christian concern in unforgettable fash-

If we could get a world at last in which every one would have a job he enjoyed, everybody would receive a decent wage, nobody would go cold or hungry, everybody would have comfortable, safe and beautiful homes in which to live; a world in which there would be no more war but only peace and prosperity,-would that lovely world be one in which there would be no need for Christian concern? You know it wouldn't. To be sure, there would be no beggars, prisoners, sick or helpless people in that world. But alas! there would still be evil in the "brave new world." Paul covers a good deal of territory in his word of counsel: "If any man be overtaken in a fault, you who are 'spiritual' restore such a man . . . " If every one in the world were as rich or as "lucky" as some people are now, it would just open more people's eyes to a fact that should be well known as it is: the rich and the lucky have their troubles too

How We Grow in Concern Our Christian concern for the welfare of others must gow, if it is to be Christ-like, until we are distressed by spiritual need not less than by physical need. A man with a starving soul is an even more tragic sight than a man with a wasted body But only quite mature Christians can see this How does Christian concern grow in us? It grows in somewhat the same way as concern grows for pets, or livestock. If a farmer wants to encourage his boy to be a farmer too, he doesn't give him lectures on animal husbandry, he gives him a calf or a p to look after and perhaps exhibit at the fair. You learn to take an interest in animals by taking responsibility for them. You learn to take interest in people, just by being a Christian friend
