MEETING OF LUTHERAN CHURCH MEN

Last (Wednesday) night at Trinity Lutheran Church the United Luther-an Church Men met. More than forty men attended the meeting planned on a Civil War Theme. Before the meet-ing the men gethered about the meeta Civil War Theme. Before the meeting the men gathered about two interesting displays. One table was laden with library books on the Civil War; Doty Robb arranged this with the cooperation of the Carroll County Bookmobile. Another table held authentic Civil War relics arranged by Wallace Reindollar; among the many fascinating items were swords, pistols, canteens, saddle bags, money, and a discharge.

Mr. Hoak, with President Hottinger's help, showed slides of certain revolutionary forms of mechanization which, for example, enable the United States' 15 million farmers to produce 10% more milk than Russia's 35 million. In 1960 our 300 million acres netted 60% more farm crops than Mr. Kruschev's 500 million.

First there was the modern bulk tank with its concomitant glass-lined piping and automatic wash-up appar-

Next the Trinity Men's Chorus, directed by Henry Reindollar and accompanied by Mrs. Dean Reindollar, presented three-alections. sented three selections. First were the familiar and spirited marching songs "Dixie" and "The Battle Hymn of The Republic." Then in contrast the group sang a folk song entitled, "Goober Peas."

Following this, the Reverend Howard W. Miller, pastor of the church, introduced the speaker for the even-ing, Dr. Charles H. Gladfelter, acting Dean of Gettysburg College. Dr. Gladfelter, an historian by profession, gave an interesting and informative talk on "Some Random Thoughts on The Gettysburg Campaign." In his talk he traced some of the movements of Lee's troops and Hooker's prior to the famed battle of Gettysburg. He also pointed out the circumstances of Meade's assuming Hooker's command. The speaker indicated that Meade spent June 30 and July 1, 1863, in Taneytown. Dr. Gladfelter concluded by stating that, when Meade determined to defend the battle line at Gettysburg, at the same time he had determined for Taneytown, Hanover, and any number of towns a second place in Civil War history.

Glenn Reever, president of the United Lutheran Church Men, expressed the appreciation of the group to Dr. Gladfelter for his truly outstanding presentation. A short business meeting followed. The meeting was dismissed with the benediction by the pastor. Light refreshments were served

TANEYTOWN LIONS ENTERTAIN FAR MERS

"Automation On The Farm" was the Theme

"Farm Mechanization — the Revolution on the Farm" was the subject of a provocatively entertaining talk illustrated with slides by Gerald E. Hoak, Hagerstown, Farm representative for The Potomac Edison Company before Taneytown Lions and their farmer quests in Taney and their farmer guests in Taney Inn last Tuesday evening.

President John T. Hottinger opened the meeting by welcoming the assem-bled guests from the local farming community following an invocation by Murray M. Baumgardner, group singing led by Lion tamer Stanley W. King to John H. Harner's piano accompaniment, and the Inn's excellent Ralph W. Stonesifer introduced the speaker on behalf of program chairman Raymond W. Baker, and Mr. Hoak prefaced his slides with statistics to show the changing farm economic picture and how necessary automation is, even though costly in its huge capital investment. "We know how every American production worker," he said, "has 374 others working for him through electricity." This industrial revolution is now reaching the farm." Since 1850 there has been a steady rise in the average At their February 27th meeting the Classical Record Club decided to go to a concert towards the end of March.

After their business meeting, the club listened to several short selections of such well-known composers to selections of such well-known composers. $8300 in 1930, rose to $23,000 per farm in 1950, to $40,000 in 1958, and it is estimated that by 1975 it will reach $250,000. Gross income naturally has risen, but in terms of net in-come the farmer is not nearly as well off as his gigantic investment would on as his grantic investment would seem to warrant. Before any wages for himself, his return today is about 7%. In 1933 a dairy farmer could handle 20 cows; thanks to mechanization 100 is the average today. In poultry farming, where the greatest automation exists, one farming plant will manage 5000 layers or 40,000 broilers.

Mr. Hoak, with President Hottin-

Silver Run; and Mrs. Detour, went to help d in their new home.

The meeting opened with the singing of the Hymn "God of Our Fathers." James Fair was the piano accompanist. Clarence Harner read the barn cleaner which delivered the mandard special scripture for the evening, Isaiah 2:1-5, which contain the familiar words, "And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up eword against nation neither without human handling was the lift up sword against nation, neither without human handling was the natural next step.

Other refinements are electric heating cable in floors to keep them free of ice formation, or infra-red heat-ing units which may even be employed out of doors where there is a minimum of wind. The final slides depic ted the automatic "mammy" which serves milk replaces to up to 15 calves in the same pen, mixing the powdered milk with water at 105°, a solenoid allowing the mixture to go down into the mechanical nipple only when properly mixed, the slap of the solenoid alerting any 5-day old calf to the presence of its dinner at the suggestive dispenser.

A prerequisite for all above, of course, is a good wiring job, laid in conduit, leading to well-spaced separate panels from a central distribution pole, thus avoiding costly and wastefully long runs of wire. There was no wandering of attention during the entire discourse.

A commemorative plaque in honor of his outstanding 4-H club achievements was presented by Lion Frank O. Wargny on behalf of Taneytown (continued on page four)

MORE MECHANIZATION IN DAIRYING IN THE 1960's

More mechanization in dairying and improved herd management and feeding during the 1960's are predicted by John C. Thompson, nationally known authority and manager of dairy research for the Ralston Purina Company.

Thompson feels that breeding continues ahead of feeding and management in most herds. The rapid development of artificial insemination of dairy cattle has made available the best bloodlines of every breed to all dairymen, regardless of where they live, according to Thompson.

Advancements toward better feed. ing and more mechanization in dairying are already evident, he says. Much recent college and commercial research has led more and more authorities to encourage heavier grain feeding so that the bred-in capacity of today's animals may be utilized.

Experiments with self-feeding the milking herd have opened up new possibilities in dairy mechanization. Research is in progress at the Purina Research Farm in Missouri with milking cows eating a complete ration from commercial type self-feeders in dry lot. They are given no hay, silage or pasture. According to Thompson, early results from this research suggests that this type of feeding program can show significant both are sponsors of the Luther League. Thousands who watched the tour of the White House were thrilled when Mrs. Kennedy made the circuit of the rooms. It was truly most interesting to see those origional pieces of furniture owned by Dolly Madison, Monroe and many others. The Dolly Madison Sofa was a charming piece. It was wonderful to learn of the donors, those who presented some of the furniture belonging to the past White House and those who sold many pieces to Mrs. Kennedy. Of course it all is a nice gesture and so befitting in any way you look at it but many were disappointed in the voice of Mrs. Kennedy as most of the time, her voice seemed to be lulled. time, her voice seemed to be lulled. The vital subject of First Aid formed the basis of January themes and inter-patrol competitions, from the buddy bandaging of James Frock through the much more complicated problems staged in patrols by theme leader Assistant quartermaster Ronald Martin to the snakebite and pressure point demonstration of Patrol leader Samuel Bowers.

First Aid also was demonstrated before both the Lions Club and the Jaycees in special programs by Bower, Frock, Quartermaster Philip Martin, and Thomas West, while a Morse code message was sent and received using a buzzer by Assistant patrol leader Rickey Clingan and Ronald Martin. Assistant patrol leader Ralph Hoffman tied 12 knots required for Pioneering merit badge, assisted by Robert Miller, while in the Jaycee presentation Leroy Smeak spoke on displaying the flag, Wayne Baker showing how to fold it properly and the significance of the badge related by Tenderfoot emblems were presented to Gary Eckard and Smeak; and the closing subject was firemaking with flint and steel by Bower and Assistant scoutmaster Larry E. #### MONKEYS AND SNAILS AND TAXPAYERS

The Federal government plans to spend $1,201,925 to see why baby monkeys love their mothers. The Government also wants to spend taxpayers' money to study ways of using shellcracker sunfish to control the habits of snails. Small potatoes, you say? Well, multiply this by thousands and you will begin to see why some of us are so gravely concerned over Federal spending.

The most important single problem facing Congress on the domestic front is, in my opinion, to find some way to stop the incredible increase in Federal spending which has developed in recent months. With the budget jumping more than $11,000,-000,000 (if you got tired counting those naughts, that's 11 BILLION DOLLARS) in just one year, and with Federal civilian employment increasing at the rate of almost 100,-000 a year, it is obvious that something must be done to reverse this

People who wanted to hide enormous government spending quit using naughts and started spelling out the word "billion". That way it didn't look quite so big. It's hard to grasp what a billion dollars is. To help you picture the enormity of a billion dollars, we once told you in the Senate Cloakroom that a billion-dollar stack of thousand-dollar bills would be as high as an 88-story building. Someone has worked out another formula: If a company started out with 1 billion dolars in the year 1 A.D. and had so mismanaged its affairs that from the first day it lost $1,000 a day every day, year in and year out down through the centuries, today, February 26, 1962, it would still have enough capital left to keep on losing $1,000 a day every day for the next 777 years. That's 1 billion dollars!

The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Hasting. Mrs. Barnes is survived by her husband and five children ranging in years from 12 years to an infant son of 4 weeks..... Wilbur Delphey and years from 12 years to an infant son of 4 weeks..... Wilbur Delphey and bride are spending some time with the former's parents, George Delphy and wife..... QUICK'N'EASY BREAD

White Batter Bread is the simplest, quickest loaf of yeast-raised bread you can make. It's the simplest because it uses only the most basic ingredients. It's the quickest because its two rising periods are very short. And it's the easiest because it's made from a batter, so there's no kneading of the dough or shaping of the loaf to do. For all this, it's one of the best breads you can make, with all the superb flavor you can expect from a yeast-raised treat. yeast-raised treat.

WHITE BATTER BREAD

11/4 cups very warm water 1 package or cake Fleischmann's Yeast, active dry or compressed 2 tablespoons sugar

2 teaspoons salt 2 tablespoons Fleischmann's Margarine 3 cups sifted flour

Measure very warm water into large mixer bowl; sprinkle or crumble in Fleischmann's Yeast. Stir until dissolved. Add sugar, salt, margarine, and 1½ cups of the flour. Beat 2 minutes, medium speed on mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl frequently. Stir in remaining flour. Blend in with spoon until smooth, about 1 to 1½ minutes. Scrape batter from sides of bowl. Cover with clean cloth and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes. When batter has risen, stir down by beating about 25 strokes. Spread batter evenly in a greased 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. (Batter will be sticky.) Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until edge of batter reaches ¼ inch from top of pan, about 40 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 45 to 50 minutes, or until brown. When done, remove immediately from pan, and brush top with melted matgarine. Cool. Makes 1 loaf.

Southern States Reports Six Months Business Volume

Overall volume for Southern States Cooperative and its affiliates for the first six-months of the 1961 - 62 fiscal year showed an increase of about $644,000 over the same period last year, but net savings dipped sharply, according to a report presented by Mr. Luther E. Raper of Richmond, Va.; to members at a regional board meeting held in Westminster, on Tuesday, February 13th. Total volume was reported at $98,726,589 as compared with $98,071,826 for the same six-months of the previous year, an increase of Feed tonnage was down 10% for the period due largely to planned cutbacks on broiler and turkey contracting. Total tonnage was 266,900 tons.

Fertilizer tonnage was up 2.4 percent. Total tonnage for the period was 94,900 tons, an increase of 2,700

Seed volume-up 5.4 percent amounted to $2,029,810. Miscellaneous farm supply volume showed a 7 percent increase. Total volume for the six-months was $7,444,432 as compared to $6,957,000 last year.

Volume in petroleum products was 39,739,025 gallons, an increase of 4 percent over last year.
Grain marketing reached 7,025,798 bushels, down 5.3 percent from last vear. Net savings amounted to $32,000 for the six-month period as compared with $1,507,000 last year. This de-crease was brought about by unprecedented low broiler and turkey mar-kets during the first six months. "Since 1959," Mr. Raper pointed out "contracting operations have been one of Southern States major concerns. Until then, poultry contracting was quite profitable.....and it brought everyone into the act. Over productions in 1959 caused disastrously low broiler prices.

"As a result, Southern States embarked on a program to reduce the number of birds under contract, and to adjust the contracts to a more realistic basis. This planned reduction has had a marked effect on feed tonnage and other volume. From 75,000,000 broilers produced in 1959 under contracts, Southern States placements have been reduced to a level of about 30,000,000 this fiscal year. This is a reduction of about 60 percent." Mr. Clarence H. Shaw of Westminster, a director of the cooperative, presided at the meeting. He told the group that the building of "Southern States.....year after year into a strong, more efficient.....farm tool, is a continuing challenge. Since its beginning, its members have exerted a tremendous influence without which the organization could never have grown as it has. The more we use the cooperative, the better it can serve Turning his attention to the young farmers who attended the sessions as special guests, he declared that "much of the responsibility for the future of Southern States, other farm organizations and agriculture.....rests on the shoulders of today's young farmers. I am confident that with their ambition and initiative ..... they will build on the foundation that has been laid for them.'

afternoon session of the meeting was a discussion by the members of how they could use their cooperative to make their own farming enterprise more profitable. The meeting was attended by members of Southern States community advisory hoards, directors of affiliated cooperatives, stockholder com-

Luther did not start a new churchl

He merely began where he was-with the church of which he had been a member-and set about reforming it.

He dug deep to restore a "gospel-oriented and Christcentered" theology to the church.

He removed from The Service elements that were not evangelical, and restored congregational participation to the worship life of the church.

Only after Luther's death was the name Lutheran used to designate a communion of the holy, catholic church.

MEETING OF HISTORICAL SOCIETY

"Highlights of Carroll County in January 1862" was the program fea-ture at the meeting of the local Historical Society on the evening of January 18. Miss Elinor Ebaugh reviewed interesting items which appeared in the columns of the American Sentinel 100 years ago.

The Ladies' Relief Association listed many donors of articles, ranging from hem-med wash rags to red flannels.

The ads are especially revealing. The Eagle, the Westminster, and Western Hotels were all "delightfully situated, with bedding and board first-class, with adequate stabling and reliable ostlers." One had accommodation for 50 horses.

Entitled "Maryland Remembers", this attractive publi-cation serves as a comprehensive guide to historic places and people of the Civil War in Maryland. 450,000 copies will be available before the end of February to any one who desires them. Application should be made to the Maryland Civil War Centennial Commission, Hagerstown. Large maps especially suited for classroom use will also be available.

LETTER FROM ANNAPOLIS

With the great interest that is pre sently being expressed in the field of physical fitness, we thought it ad-visable to report on the recommendations to the Governor and the Maryland General Assembly of the Maryland Commission on physical fitness which was made this past week. It is recommended that there be created a permanent State Commission to be known as The Maryland Physical Fitness Commission. This would be composed of 20 dedicated men and women interested in promoting the fitness of the citizens of Maryland, who ness of the citizens of Maryland, who shall serve without pay. It is intended that the Committee publicize and alert the public as to the importance of physical fitness programs and maintain liaison with the President's Council on Youth Fitness and with the Counties and City of Baltimore Commission. A full-time paid Execu-Commission. A full-time paid Executive Director is authorized.

Much interest has been exhibited in the current "Public Library Bills". There are similiar bills in both the Senate and the House of Delegates which would establish a local-State cooperative program for supporting the current operating expenses of approved public library programs on a per capita basis starting as of July 1, 1962, at $1.20 and increasing by 30 cents annually to a maximum of $1.80. The taxable wealth of each $1.80. The "Sunday Observance Bill" has been the subject of a hearing recently and in which opposition has developed to this bill. The stated purpose of this piece of Legislature was not a matter of religion but was of public policy and economics. The Commission which studied this problem and made the recommendations felt that Sunday should be preserved as a day of rest, recreation and family activities. It was the intention of the Commission that Sunday should not become a day of general business activity. Therefore, those public places essential to human needs or required for public rest, recreation or family activity on Sunday should only be permitted to open. The proposal establishes a general State-wide closing law for all kinds of business places with certain exceptions. The bill contains an exception for those persons who observe Saturday as their Sabbath and for those of the Jewish faith, requiring them to close on their Sabbath if they wish to be open on Sunday. If this bill is passed, there will undoubtedly be additional exceptions added to those set forth in the origional draft.

Senator Harry Phoebus of Somerset County has introduced Senate Bill 91 which would permit ministers to be elected to the General Assembly. This would be an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland as Article III, Section II provides that "No Minister or Preacher creed, or denomination, and no person holding any civil office of profit, or trust, under this State, except Justice of the Peace, shall be eligible will much oblige us by sending us a few loads of good Oak or Hickory Wood. We would like to have it as early as possible."

Justice of the Peace, shall be eligible as Senator, or Delegate."

Numerous bills have been introduced providing for emergency powers of the Governor in the case of an emergency caused by military action of war. Further measures along the same line would effect our Civil Defense provisions. Among these is an authorization for a State bond issue for Six Million Dollars for the construction of Civil Defense shelters fer.

When pudding is cool, blend dessert topping mix with remaining 1/2 cup milk and the vanilla in a deep bowl. Whip at high speed of electric mixer or sturdy hand beater until topping forms soft peaks. Fold into the cooled pudding. Then pour into nut crust. Garnish with chopped nuts. Chill about 3 hours before serving.

Buried With Honors

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IOWA-A 16-foot galvanized corrugated steel culvert pipe has been "buried" with honors. An historical plaque marks the location of the water-drain pipe which is being used in the Pottawattamie County highway improvement program.

The forty-two-year-old galvanized steel pipe—24 inches in diameter — was removed from its old site. Engineers checked its condition, found it excellent, and ordered it put back into the ground for further duty. The plaque above it notes the currents of the condition long life, recording the original date of installation and the date when it was reburied.

The Committee of Galvanized Sheet Producers said this long life is typical of galvanized steel culverts, many of which are still in use after more than 60 years, and noted that the durability of the culverts is saving taxpayers' money in the construction of the cuiverts is saving taxpayers money in the of modern roads and highways.

Modern production techniques continue to make available galvanized corrugated steel culverts which are not only economical, but should have even longer life, the Committee said. It stated to the use of calvanized steel culverts these features contributed to the use of galvanized steel culverts in the Interstate Highway network, and other highways, because of their efficient operation and long life.

HEALTH HINTS FOR THE FAMILY . DRY COUGHS

by: Margaret Little*

A dry hacking cough is uncomfortable to the person who has it and certainly annoying to those who must listen to it. And, unlike a wet cough that helps the body by clearing the respiratory passageways of accumulated mucus, a dry cough is absolutely useless. a dry cough is absolutely useless.

Dry coughs are caused by some kind of irritation that is tickling the throat or the large bronchi.
The irritation can come from a cold or it may be the result of breathing in a lot of dust or other irritating substances.

The best way to get rid of a dry cough permanently is to eliminate the irritation that's causing it, but in the meantime it's often useful to treat the cough itself. A cough medicine with what's called an anti-tussive agent in it is often helpful. Such a medicine helps stop the desire to cough and since the cough is increasing the irritation it's good to stop it.

coughs should never be cause these drugs dry up secre-tions and make the throat drier than it was before.

Dry coughs also can be treated with a vaporizer which moistens and soothes the irritation in the throat.

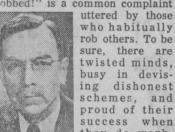

Any cough that doesn't im-prove with simple remedies may coughs should never be with a cough medicine in which case a visit with your family doctor is advisable. I Pediatrician, Consultant to Pertussin Laboratories

No Stealing Lesson for March 4, 1962

"THIEF" is a bad word. No-body wants to be called one. Even a thief himself will complain about other thieves. "I've been robbed!" is a common complaint who habitually rob others. To be sure, there are twisted minds, busy in devising dishonest schemes, and proud of their success when they do work.

Dr. Foreman But then there are twisted minds clever in all ways of crime and sin. What we can call normal people don't like to be called thieves. It is a fatal objection to a man that he is dishonest. Nothing else makes up for the lack of honesty. "He is a generous, hard-working manbut you have to watch him every minute." "He's a pleasant gentleman, but don't have any business dealings with him." Those are not "recommendations" any of us would enjoy over-hearing about ourselves.

But are we honest?

Nevertheless, such is the strange nature of the self-deceiving human mind, that it is easy to "kid" ourselves into thinking we are more honest than we really are. One way we deceive ourselves is by taking refuge in what is undeniably a fact: It does make a difference where the money is taken from. It is worse to take money from a child than from a man big enough to fight; it is worse to take money from a poor man than from a rich one. Of course; but stealing is still stealing; even if not all forms of stealing are equally bad, all forms are bad. It is not true, for example, that if the person from whom we withhold what is their rightful due is rich enough,maybe not a person at all but a corporation or a government, then it's all right to do them for all we can get by with. Jesus or one occasion gave a strong hin to the Pharisees that they were cheating the Roman government by not paying taxes. Saint Paul (Romans 13:7) found it necessary to instruct his fellow-Romans to pay their taxes. One of the commonest forms of theft in America is beating the governme of tax money. Business firms would even make a joke of it; expense accounts were known as "swindle sheets."

Another common form of stealing is to take money from people who are helpless. To be sure, few grown Americans would actually take money from a child; but some Americans have slow and creaky consciences when it comes to taking advantage of their position by charging much too much. Those price-fixing cases we all read about were like that. A city would have to pay enormous sums for electrical equipment, because the bids were "rigged" and not competitive. A landlord will charge exorbitant rent for his property, all because he knows the tenant has nowhere to go. A union will charge its members, or a surgeon his patients, or a plumber his customers, with a bill that is all out of reason; just because the workman or patient or customer has no choice but to

In good cause

The incident of the money-changers in the Temple (Mark 11:15-19) illustrates two forms of stealing at once. The temple taxes had to be paid in a special currency. These money-men would exchange (say) Roman money into temple money, charging a very high fee for the service. Now they were cheating the public on sacred premises; but stealing is stealing no matter where it's done. In America uncounted sums are lost every year in gambling devices in certain church "festivals" and "picnics" and the like, not to mention double-priced white elephants at church bazaars. It's all for a good cause, we are told, and even prominent public leaders set a bad example of gambling even if it is for the benefit of a cancer fund or some charitable organization. But it's still stealing, more is lost than won. Or to take a different example: How many churches pay their janitors and other servants even the minimum standard wages? A church has no more right to underpay employees than any individual has. Keeping what belongs to people out of their hands is still

CHEESE, COFFEE AND DAFFYDOWNDILLYS

Cheese, coffee and daffydowndillys (as the children call them) make up a trio that will win any hostess a niche in the Hall of Culinary Fame. For at this time of year when we are all winter-weary, how we welcome the first flowers that thrust their tender green stalks above the frozen earth and open up their golden green stalks above the frozen earth and open up their golden petals for our pleasure.

In Scotland, where winter is a season regarded with respect, the ladies of each parish start the spring season with a Daffodil Tea. But we Americans are more apt to entice silver offerings (and applause) with an invitation to a Daffodil Coffee Hour. Set each table with pretty coffee cups, a wedge of superb Danish Blue Cheese, a bowl of crisp, juicy apples, and set the whole thing off with a casual arrangement of the yellow daffodils.

Imported Danish Blue Cheese has a tang and zest dear to the hearts of cheese connoisseurs. For these experts know that the art of dairy-making in Denmark reaches an all-time high in quality and flavor. This small country has to depend on quality, the and flavor. This small country has to depend on quality, the Danes say.

The Blue, as it is affectionately termed, is a rich, semi-hard cheese, with a creamy texture, distinguished by the network of blue-green veins running through it.

For the Daffodil Party, serve the cheese in a wedge as is; it's handsome enough in its own right. Or if the hostess prefers, prepare a rich, zesty cheese spread ahead of time. Serve with slices of dark pumpernickel bread, spread with unsalted butter.

DAFFORDL CHEESE SPREAD

DAFFODIL-CHEESE SPREAD One part Danish Blue Cheese, pressed through sieve

One part cream cheese One part unsalted butter

Heavy cream to moisten to spreading consistency

Soften cheeses and butter at room temperature. Add cream gradually. Beat until smooth and well-blended. Press mixture into custard cups or into large decorative mold. Chill in refrigerator. Do not freeze. Turn out when ready to serve 30 minutes in advance. Serve apples well chilled: Golden, Red Delicious, Macintosh.

Good freshly made coffee provides the right finish to any meal and is the perfect accompaniment to any dessert. Serve fresh and hot making it, of course, from a premium-blended coffee and presented in your prettiest cure

Chocolate Bread Easy to Make.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT to serve with tea or for sandwiches in the lunch box is this delightful chocolate nut bread . . . unusual, but delicious and easy to make. Prepared biscuit mix short-cuts the mixing procedure, and the tang of orange juice delicately complements the rich, satisfying flavor of unsweet-ened chocolate. Nuts and allspice add to the flavor of this bread, which may be spread with softened butter or cream cheese for dainty sandwiches.

QUICK CHOCOLATE NUT BREAD

2 squares unsweetened 1 cup sugar chocolate, melted 1 egg 1¼ cups orange juice ¾ cup chopped nuts 3 cups biscuit mix 1 teaspoon allspice

1 teaspoon vanilla Combine sugar and egg, blending well. Add orange juice and biscuit mix alternately, stirring well after each addition. Blend in remaining ingredients. Pour into a greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 50 to 60 minutes, or until done.

Serving Needs of "Little Man" Built World's Largest Bank

One of the most absorbing stories in the history of banking, describing how a "little man's" bank in California rose to world preeminence in a half century is told in Investornews, monthly magazine published by Francis I. duPont & Co., one of America's largest investment firms.

An analysis of Rank of America's deposit total is the result of some

An analysis of Bank of America's rise to its current position as the world's largest non-Governmental bank attributes its dramatic growth chiefly to catering to the needs of the little man and a habit of reaching way beyond traditional banking practice to pioneer new services and methods.

The interaction of these growth factors, under the catalytic climate which is the growth state of California, was repossible for the paradoxical sponsible for the paradoxical location of the nation's largest location of the nation's largest bank a continent away from the Wall Street sanctum of big money. Blessed by the great growth of the golden state and by regulation which allowed it statewide scope, Bank of Amer-ica is the fortunate sum of a string of 738 small banks span-ning California from Mexico to Oregan and from the Sierras Oregon and from the Sierras to the Pacific.

Its day to day problems and routines are more peculiar to the thousands of country banks in the U.S. financial system than they are to other giant banks located in money market centers.

Investornews describes A. P. Giannini, the bank's founder as the "Christopher Columbus of modern banking" and reports

Now Bank of America's deposit total is the result of some 7,500,000 a cc o unts—about 2,500,000 checking (average balance: $1,500) and 5,000,000 savings (average balance: $900).

At 1961 year

end, resources totalled $12.7 billion. It is he nation's largest savtion as well as the largest commercial bank. Though the bank can make Though the bank can make whopping loans of up to $66 million, its loan portfolio is dominated by little man commitments, i.e. about 35% of its loans are on real estate (average commitment: $8,000) and another 20% is out on timeplan consumer borrowings. Even among the remaining 45% out in commercial loans, a good portion represents financing for small businesses.

The Francis I. duPont & Co. publication reveals that Bank of America's herculean task of figuring interest earned on 5 million savings accounts, real estate and installment loan accounting, general bookkeeping chores, etc. has been handed over to a group of talented elecover to a group of talented electronic employees — all named ERMA. The deceptively feminine designation actually stands for the eminently scientific Electronic Recording Method of Accounting—involving computer equipment costing $40 millions.
