Road Maintenance for Carroll County

Additional action was taken this week by the Board of County Commissioners in formulation of a maintenance program for county roads by retaining Frank A. Dorsey to supervise a program of maintenance.

Mr. Dorsey, a native of the Sykesville area, has previously been assigned certain inspection work with the County over the past year. In this new assignment he will be assigned to the Roads Department and will be in charge of all phases of maintaining county roads. Such work includes repair of bridges, drainage and surfacing repair correction and other work normally considered in the maintenance category.

This is a second step in trying to obtain a top maintenance program in the county. Last week, the County Commissioners announced an emergency crew for purposes of speeding up minor repair work ordinarily having to wait for larger crews to work in routine schedules.

Galaxy Reading Program

Francis E. Smith

Currently being initiated in grade 9 throughout Carroll County is the Galaxy Reading Program. Basically a teaching tool produced by Scott, Foresman and Company, the program is designed to do two things: first, to prove to the student that the printed page contains something he wants to know about, and second, to give him the skills which will enable him to get from the printed page that which it offers.

The program is a fine compliment to the SRA Reading Laboratory which was formerly used in grade 9, but which is currently being introduced in grades 7 and 8. Galaxy is therefore, another approach, another attempt to remedy reading weaknesses and to strengthen good reading habits. To use educational terminology, it is both remedial and developmental.

How does the program work? Look at the tools. First, there is a textbook, Vanguard, a beautiful new book which contains literary selections and a "Handbook of Reading." The literary selections range from classical stories, poems, and plays to ultra-modern news features, cartoons, travelogues, TV and Radio plays. An "appetizer" introduces each selection, and at the end of each there are questions for discussion, words in action, and related projects.

Throughout the text there are references to the "Handbook" of Reading found in the back of the book. The idea behind this arrangement is to teach reading skills in relation to the selections which require these specific techniques. The textbook, therefore, has a two-fold purpose, containing both literature and skill building. Hence the "Handbook of Reading" is the second tool of the program.

The third tool is a set of individual skill-building exercises contained on 50 cards which are stored in a Tactics in Reading kit. There are classroom quantities of each card, dealing with basic and advanced concepts in reading. It presents a handy individualized teaching and testing procedure which begins with diagnostic tests which are complemented with evaluation tests to be given at the end of the program.

Before the students read literary selections in the text, difficult words are written on the black board, along with the page number, column, and paragraph where they appear in the selection. Meanings are discussed, 1st, from residual knowledge; 2nd, from context; 3rd, from word structure; 4th from word sound; and 5th, and emphatically last, from the dictionary. The reason for this emphasis is that usually one does not have a dictionary handy while reading so he must puzzle out meanings for himself - most frequently without the aid of a dictionary.

After the students copy these difficult words and come to a written meaning, someone reads the introduction or appetizer, then the students read the selections privately. The teacher then gives a check-up quiz, often of the True-False variety, and the discussion topics are taken up.

Where indicated in the text, the class refers to the "Handbook of Reading," to learn or to review specific reading skills. The handbook may refer to the Tactics kit and then the class works on the exercise cards.

The program is well-integrated; literature, reading skills, and exercises in reading - all working together for one aim, to improve the reading habits of our students.

MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Plans Started for Celebration of County's 125th Anniversary

The Taneytown Chamber of Commerce met in regular monthly dinner session at the Tane Inn on Monday, April 16th at 6:30 p.m. with President M. S. Ohler presiding.

Invocation was given by Rev. William M. Hendricks after which the twenty-three members present enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner for which the Tane Inn is famous. A very interested and detailed report of the previous meeting was given by Secretary, Ted Albright, after which President Ohler called for reports from the various committees. The President then gave a report on plans being formulated by the County for a 125th anniversary celebration of Carroll County to be held in August. A Chairman and committees were appointed at a recent meeting held in Westminster. These committees will be responsible for arranging the various programs to be held throughout the County during the ten day celebration. The main pageant to be held in Westminster, the County Seat.

Secretary Albright read a letter of invitation to the Chamber members to the dedication of the Carroll County Memorial United States Army Reserve Center to be held on May 5th at the Center, 15 North Malcolm Drive, Westminster. The Westminster Municipal Band will furnish music from 1:30 to 2:00 p.m. Deductory speaker will be The Honorable Judge James E. Boylan, Jr.

Mr. Norville P. Shoemaker brought to the attention of the Chamber the plans of the Division Corps of Engineers of Washington, D. C. for the construction of proposed dams on the tributaries of the Potomac River and the Monocacy River and how it will effect us. There was extensive concern shown regarding the construction of the proposed Monocacy River dam from the viewpoint that such a dam on the Monocacy River in Frederick County will effect approximately one hundred or more property owners in the northern area of Frederick and Carroll Counties. Figures released by the Corps of Engineers indicate that the conservation pool (normal and impoundment) on the 375 foot mean sea level line would flood approximately 350 acres. The maximum water level (flood level) at 388 feet mean sea level, would flood 5,480 acres of fertile farm land and inundate about 83 homes. Mr. Shoemaker suggested that as many members as possible should attend a public meeting on this subject to be held April 19th at 8:00 p.m. in the North Frederick Elementary School in order to voice their concern. He also suggested a Committee be appointed from the local Chamber to contact the Carroll County Zoning Commission and request what action they could take to protect the waters of the Monocacy River and secure their feeling on the matter.

Through the Courtesy of Mr. Frank Dunham, local Manager of the Potomac Edison Company, President Ohler showed a very interesting and timely film on the Civil War secured by Mr. Dunham through the Potomac Edison Company from the Washington County Chapter American Red Cross of Hagerstown, entitled, "The Clara Barton Story". This film depicted the various battle campaigns of the Civil War and the birth of the American Red Cross by Clara Barton. Thanks to President Ohler for the use of his sound projector. The meeting adjourned at 8:45 p.m.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health-life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way-help to bring you happiness!

Forsythia is just about everywhere in full bloom and many homes have it for their "Living Fence" which I am trying to do on the back and entire side of the house. I am hoping that those pieces will take root. Forsythia always follows the Crocus and down at the State Building there are many Magnolia Trees in full bloom. All the Tulips will be full grown and blooming by Easter weather permitting. Then comes the beautiful Azalea in reds and pinks covering all the lawns which is truly a beautiful sight. All this beauty remains such a short time.

Word comes from Mr. Forbes—director of Corporate advertising stating that "Chrysler Rainbow of Stars from Rockefeller Center" will be on T.V., Tuesday April 17, and "The Andy Williams Special" on Friday, May 4. Hope they will be as grand as the recent "Hollywood Melody".

The other day at the Mondawmin Shopping Center, I saw a table with two "Girl Scouts" standing there with a few articles to sell. There was one in the shape of a large bowl made of more than 800 ice cream wicks and the bowl was octagon shape! One of the Girl Scouts made it and I bought it. It is very rich in appearance and looks like teakwood in coloring, too. Congratulations to those nice Girl Scouts as there were other handmade articles there, too. Of course, those famous Cookies were for sale!

This week is the opening date of that grand Chiropractor's office of Dr. Calvin Hornstein at 8804 Liberty Rd. Never have I seen any office so beautifully equipped in those new eleven rooms! His office hours are from 9 to 1 o'clock on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays and in the evenings on those same days from 6 to 8 o'clock and also by appointment. His nice little wife is a most enthusiastic individual and has been most encouraging and that is just how any wife should be in any business or in any profession. Eh? I could not begin to write in this Column of all the results of his wonderful treatments as he is most conscientious and kind. There is immediate confidence in him as soon as you meet him. He really tops anyone I have ever met. Folks and you know that I write always from experience. His telephone numbers are—OL 5-4704 or PL 2-2154.

Mothers, if you have daughters who are really talented for sewing on the machine by all means enter her in the contest of the "SINGER" sewing machine. There are Jet trips to Paris and Cash awards. There are three great contests in one. The Misses and Mrs. Division from 18 to 21, Teen Division from 14 to 17 and Tween Division for Girls from 10 to 13! So your girl can win fame and fortune—and have a rewarding experience at the same time! The 1962 Singer young Stylenmaker Contest offers this grand package and it is so easy to qualify. Just enroll in the contest and make your contest entry while you learn to sew. There are eight lessons 2½ hour ones which cost only $10.00. You do not even need to purchase a sewing machine or own one—you can win though you have never sewn before. There are 4,500 prizes! $130,000 Contest! I have seen beautiful garments made by very young girls who really have plenty of what it takes. So go to your nearest Singer Company and make inquiries yourself. The judging takes place in New York and the all-expense paid trip to that city for TWO! Just obtain a blank and fill it out right away. Good luck!

Hope you did not miss the 34th Anniversary, presenting those Oscars to the talented on Monday night. This is one big affair that is not fixed and I think you know just what I mean. Never have I seen Bob Hope more charming! As to Joan Crawford and Greer Garson, there were truly many who were so pleased as their appearance to hand out the Oscars. The evening was filled with glitter—all the way!

A letter arrived from a young girl who asked me about my life as a little girl and when I was a growing girl or as she put it a "Teenager". She asked, "You must have been very happy. Were you not?" To all those questions in your letter G. M. I will write a special Column of it, Next week.

Hope you like the following —
When melting snows
The rocky mountain tops disclose
'Tis spring, revealing spring,
When bursting bud
But echoes bounding, pounding blood,
When surging youth
In love does prove but NOW is truth.
'Tis spring, sweet singing spring.
Have a grand week and folks. Be so very careful when you drive. Until next week D. V.

I am Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER

FACTS AND OPINIONS

Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania says: "Millions of Americans who are now leading productive lives would be dead or crippled if it were not for drugs, many of which were unavailable as few as 10 or 15 years ago. The emptying of TB sanatoriums, the decline in the population of our mental hospitals, the alleviation of crippling diseases such as arthritis; the successful treatment of pneumonia, scarlet fever, syphilis, meningitis, and other virulent diseases—all this represents a scientific achievement just as remarkable as, and perhaps even more important than, man's breakthrough into space. Amazingly enough, medical science has advanced more rapidly in the last two decades than in the preceding two centuries. We have become so accustomed to the so-called miracle drugs that we forget just how miraculous today's treatments would once have seemed."

According to a survey by the Bureau of National Affairs, wage increases becoming effective in 1962 under contracts now in force will average eight cents an hour. It adds that these increases will exert a strong influence on next year's wage negotiations, in many areas virtually establishing a settlement "floor".

Defense expenditures for our own military forces averaged about $40 billion a year over the last five years. During the next five it is believed likely that the figure will be about $50 billion a year, and, if military assistance and atomic energy costs are added in, will reach or approach $55 billion.

Ralph T. Moore writes, in the Oregon Voter: "The practice of organizing useful work programs to employ applicants for relief under our national welfare system seems to be spreading. It is also beginning to pay dividends in an unexpected way. It is teaching many men how to use ordinary tools properly and so contributes to their ability to compete for employment, a most constructive circumstance and one not contemplated under the relief program. At first there was a wide-spread resentment over making these applicants work for their pay. But taxpayer pressure, plus the fact that the applicants are actually happier when doing something useful, forced the issue."

A killed virus vaccine has proved effective in preventing measles without causing fever and other symptoms of the disease associated with live measles virus vaccine, according to an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association. Effectiveness of the killed virus vaccine among more than 300 children who were given a series of three injections was estimated at up to 96 percent. Side effects were minor and relatively rare. Further studies of both vaccines are needed, however, before a fixed conclusion can be reached.

According to Comptroller General Campbell, financial statements of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation are misleading. The law requires, he said, that tolls be set at a level that will produce enough money to cover nearly as practicable all costs, including depreciation. However, depreciation costs were not included in the base used to establish tolls. As a result, the Corporation's financial statement for 1959 showed expenses of $993,601 and operating gains of $2,210,893. If depreciation and bond interest expenses had been included, Mr. Campbell observed, the 1959 operation would have shown a loss of $1,095,670.

THE DAY THESE WIRE PLIERS CUT THROUGH ROPE

It was a quiet day in a quiet Baltimore neighborhood. Not that telephone lineman Clarence Bivens particularly noticed. He was absorbed in work, at his high perch atop a utility pole.

Suddenly Clarence heard the frightening sound of a child choking. He looked in all directions and at first saw nothing. Then, some hundred yards away, he spotted a small boy hanging by his neck, from a rope tied to a tree limb.

Hardly believing his eyes, Clarence clambered down the pole, dashed to the tree and severed the rope with his pliers.

Happily, the four-year-old boy escaped with just mild rope burns on his neck. Lineman Bivens had prevented a tragic ending to a child's game that had toyed with danger.

For five years, Clarence Bivens has been using his skill and tools to provide dependable telephone service. But his lineman's pliers never performed a more important service than on the day he cut the rope.

HEALTH HINTS FOR THE FAMILY

Don't Live in the Medical Middle Ages

by Margaret Little*

In times past, little children had a great many serious diseases — smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, yellow fever and lots more. Some of these little people became so sick they didn't pull through and death rates were very high. But nowadays we know how to protect our children against all sorts of serious diseases. We have so many "shots" to give them it seems at times as though the youngsters are nothing but pin cushions — at least the children think so!

Mothers don't like to see their children given an injection, but never let your kind heart prevent your child from receiving all the protection doctors know how to give him. Be very sure every one of your children is protected against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio when he is a baby and also given "booster shots" as often as your doctor tells you it is necessary. You would never forgive yourself if a child of yours became seriously ill with a disease we know how to prevent.

Would that we had a way of protecting little children against colds. But a "shot" against colds just hasn't been discovered as yet. Maybe some day it will be — but in the meantime children have to live through a lot of colds. It's the only way for them to build up some resistance.

Take your child's colds in your stride — expect them and treat them in the beginning so they do not become serious illnesses.

When the tell-tale drip on the upper lip shows up, put your youngster to bed, or at least keep him quieter than usual. Give him extra liquids to drink, use a medicated spray vaporizer to ease his throat and open up his nasal passages. Give him a simple cough syrup if he needs it.

PUBLIC NOTICE

We, your Representatives in the General Assembly of Maryland, have considered your request for legislation designed for the protection of your field hounds.

After some extensive study, we have discovered that your field hounds are now covered by the laws presently in existence. We find that Article 56, Section 196 of the Annotated Code of Maryland provides that all duly licensed dogs are personal property. We further find that Article 27, Section 109 of the said Annotated Code of Maryland makes it a crime to destroy personal property, providing a penalty of one year imprisonment or a $500 fine.

In addition, we have amended Carroll County on to the House Bill No. 852. We now believe that you have the protection which you wish.

Sunday, April 15, brought forth a snow flurry. It lasted about 15-20 minutes only, but a good bit of snow fell during that time. A flurry like this in the middle of April was always called an "Onion Snow" by my grandmother. It was supposed to be the time to put out the onion sets, I gather. Anyone have anything to add to this, or any other reasons for the name?

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Dick) DeBerry of Detour (they live in the home owned by Mrs. Cora Coyer) are receiving congratulations on the birth of a second daughter, Candy Sue, born Wednesday, the 11th, and has a big sister, Nancy Lee.

It was good to see Charles Conover recuperated enough to be able to get to Palm Sunday Church Services. He said his leg still troubles him but is definitely better.

Mrs. Gregg Kiser had also hoped to attend the Service, but has had somewhat of a setback by way of a fever. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide visited with the Kisers on Sunday.

School children are looking forward eagerly to the Easter Vacation from Thursday, April 19 through Monday, April 23.

Mrs. Ralph B. Fleharty of Washington, D. C., spent Friday and Saturday of last week visiting with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Fleharty, and children of Forest and Stream Club Road.

That number again for the Dial-A-Prayer is 848-8008.

Recent visitors with the William Weishaar family were Mrs. Roger Grimes and son Wheeler of Union Bridge. Wheeler is now going to school in Reisterstown.

Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Keyton, celebrated his first birthday Sunday. There was a small party for him to mark the occasion.

Mrs. Inez Colwell of Union Bridge called on Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar and family last Friday evening. The new house of William Fleharty and family is moving along rapidly. It is now ready for the plasterers to move in.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schnappinger and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Gross, all of Baltimore, were Sunday supper guests with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and family.

There were nine young people who completed the Thursday evening Confirmation Classes and joined the Keysville Lutheran Church on Palm Sunday. They were Ruth Baublitz, Edward Clabaugh, Jimmy Coshun, Jerry Devillies, Robert Dinterman, Elanore Haines, Bonnie Ohler, Danny Wilhide, and Beverly Young.

The papers are going out from Elmer A. Wolfe School to the parents of the next year's First Graders. Registration night will be May 1 and the week for the children to visit will be May 21 thru 25.

Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Jane went over to Clear Spring last Saturday for a busy afternoon. Jane visited with the Daniel Seibert family and Mrs. Wilhide attended a luncheon and shower given in honor of her daughter-in-law - to-be, Miss Cassie Seibert, Cassie's Maid-of-honor, Miss Betty Ann Ernest was the hostess.

That same afternoon, Mrs. Seibert, Cassie, and Mrs. Wilhide called on Mr. and Mrs. Donald Haugh, Mrs. Baxter Haugh, and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Miles, all of Clear Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar and Randy visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Clingan of Thurmont.

Miss Cassie Seibert and Mr. Richard Wilhide journeyed to Baltimore on Sunday to see the ballgame. Afterwards they called on his aunt and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fry.

Eileen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kiser of Naylor's Mill Road, was on the sick list for several days last week.

Mrs. Philip (Linda) Gist of Westminster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stambaugh of Keysville, is in the hospital in Baltimore recovering from surgery. She would undoubtedly appreciate cards and her address is Women's Hospital, Lafayette and Johns Streets, Baltimore, Md.

The Terra Rubra 4-H Club met Monday evening at the home of their Organizational Leader, Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, and their President, Miss Jane Wilhide. There were 4 members, Ruth and Mary Jane Smith, Jane and Beth Wilhide, one prospective member, Miss Helen Fossett, one visitor, Miss Cassie Seibert, and the Foods Leader, Mrs. Daryl's Fleharty, present besides Mrs. Wilhide. I thought you would enjoy reading, "The Easter Tidings," by Margaret R. Seebach.

Two Angels sat in the empty tomb, And the one to the other said, "We know that the Lord has risen again. Though the whole world thinks Him dead."

"I wish I might go to the city now, Where they weep in the Upper Room; I could bring glad news to the faithful ones That would drive away their gloom! I should like to go to scribe and priest, And the Roman in his hall, And bid them look upon Him they pierced, Who liveth, the Judge of all! "And then I would go into all the world, Wherever men draw breath, And tell the news of the risen Christ, And the broken gates of death!" Then the other sweetly answered him, "Nay, God hath a better plan; We may sit and point to the empty tomb, But the word shall be borne by man! "For that poor, sorrowful Magdalene, Who wept when they laid Him here, Shall bear the news to the faithful band Lamenting their Master dear. "And Peter, the man who feared and fell, And mourneth in deep chagrin, Shall boldly stand before scribe and priest, Convincing them of their sin. "And John and Andrew, and all the rest, Shall hasten forth with the word, And soon shall the whole world hear the news Of the slain and risen Lord!" The years have come and the years have gone, And centuries passed since then, And still the angels are longing to go, But the word must be borne by men. For the pardon of sin no seraph knows, Nor the victory over death; These are the gifts that are given alone To the children of mortal flesh. And I think the Shining Ones marvel much, As they gaze from the world above, To see how slowly we spread the news Of that sacrifice of love!

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

The Elmer Wolfe School can take great pride in having one of its alumni appointed Superintendent of Worcester Schools recently. Mr. Paul Hyde was selected by the Board of Education to replace Dr. Cooper, who relinquished the post to accept another position. Mr. Hyde was graduated from the Elmer Wolfe School and from Western Maryland College. He earned his Master's Degree from Columbia University in New York City. During the second world war he served in the Pacific as a Lieutenant in the U. S. Navy. Following this service he taught in the public schools of Worcester until he became a supervisor. He lives with his mother, Mrs. Carrie Hyde in Salisbury. The Hydies are well known in Carroll County having lived in Middleburg prior to moving to Salisbury.

Miss Lillian Shipley, curator of the Historical Society of Carroll County, is often asked the purpose of the local society. Her answer is, this: The purpose of any Historical Society is to preserve the social, political and religious history of the community and to promote interest in the study of the history of the county and state. Also to preserve the early Americana of our section. To illustrate how well the Carroll County Society is doing its work, over 700 members belong, many from other states. Four newsletters are published each year dealing with the history of Carroll County. Membership is open to all people interested in Carroll County and the dues are two dollars a year. The Historical Home, built in 1807, is located on Main Street in Westminster. It is furnished with gifts of period furniture; the basement a museum of pre-machine age tools and early household gadgets. It is a house to visit from which to learn a great deal of our early history.

Fifty years ago this month the unsinkable Titanic sunk. Fifteen hundred lost their lives because its builders believed nothing could happen to it and failed to provide enough life boats. Wonder how many of you can remember gathering chestnuts, I have. I can remember when the Blue Ridge Mountains were mostly made up of chestnut trees. And I remember them dying of the blight one by one. It was sad to see their death. They turned a red-brown and stood out against the background of the green living trees like tombstones in a graveyard. It was their graveyard for not one chestnut tree survived. I remember standing with my grandfather looking at the mountain and though I was very young the tone of my grandfather's voice filled me with sadness and instinctively I knew that something awesome was happening. Really there was an article in one of the trade magazines that a Chinese chestnut tree had been found that resembles the American Chestnut both in foliage and fruit. I hope its true and that once again the chestnut tree will grow again in America and that children will know the fun of gathering them wild in the fall of the year. Ham is the traditional meat for Easter but with our family its roast chicken from the beginning to the end. That's true. Eggs, for breakfast, chicken consommé for lunch and roast chicken for dinner.

The shortest grace at mealtime is the most effective in my opinion. My nephew, age 7, was once asked to say grace. He didn't really want to but his mother thought it good training, and so he was finally persuaded. He said: "Thank you, God, and now may I eat?"

It may be spring for many but all we can think of is that its grass-cutting time again. Our sleep is disturbed by dreams of the grass growing taller than the house. My spouse had a nightmare Sunday night and when I awakened him or tried to all he could say was: "Where is it? Where is it?" Finally he became conscious and I got some clues. He had been dreaming that the lawn mower was lost in the grass and the grass was so thick and tall he couldn't find the mower. Americans have really developed a complex about their lawns. We have friends from the city who spend a weekend with us now and then. From Saturday until Sunday evening the conversation is mostly about grass, especially crab-grass. Our friends have spent hundreds of dollars and hundreds of hours of labor tracking down crab-grass. Imagine a little weed being that important. With the world filled with big problems can you imagine anyone being so silly as to worry about grass or the lack of it? On second thought I had better worry for the head of our house just informed me that there will be no Easter finery in my closet. He has to buy a new lawn-mower. He really can't find the old one.

President Kennedy and the public won in the steel rise commotion. Some people are grumbling about the government meddling in private enterprise but no group has a right to upset the economy of 180 million people. And that's what would have happened if the increase in the steel price had not been rescinded. The farmer who is in a tight price squeeze himself would have had to bear the brunt of the increase by paying higher prices for machinery. He can't adjust his prices to meet the cost of producing so why should steel companies hope to enjoy privileges that are denied another segment of our economy? President Kennedy did everyone a favor including the steel companies, but they will never acknowledge it.

Billy Graham says that God has given us two hands....one to receive with and the other to give with.

The argument about whether school teachers should belong to a union erupted again last week when the New York City school teachers went out on strike for more money. When the public and the officials fail to respond to an unfair situation and all other avenues have been explored, we believe as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt that school teachers do have the right to join a union and use a strike to shock the public into facing up to its responsibility.

I buy detergents, scouring pads, and listen to the T. V. ads; And with them scrub those greasy spots, that cling so tight to sink and pots.

Sometimes these marvels often fail. Thats when I use my old thumb nail.

"HE WENT A LITTLE FARTHER"

Matthew 26:39

by John R. Hamlin

"And he went a little farther." Are the simple words we read. In the story told by Matthew of the Saviour's hour of need. Not a soul could share that burden, Soon for Sin he must atone; Though his sweat became as blood drops

He must bear it all alone. All alone he had to bear it. There in dark Gethsemane There, the struggle of the ages, Came to Pass for you and me. Only he, "a little farther."

Would be able there to tread. For the sin of all the ages Would descend upon his head. Yes, "he went a little farther," And it led him to the tree, It was not his sins he bore there; They belonged to you and me. Little wonder that he suffered, And his sweat became as blood.

But for joy that was before him He withstood the awful flood. Hear the Blessed Communion. "Not my will, but thine be done! What a Peace! What consolation! As the Victory is won. Yes, he went a little farther."

On the Cross atonement made. So that now we hear him whisper, "It is I, be not afraid."

Lutheran Faith

The Bible is drama.

In places the Bible shocks. Sometimes its events are hideous. And sometimes it sounds childish. Yet, through it all runs the thread of the world's most wonderful love story—the love of God.

Men of faith wrote about their experiences with God in the work-a-day world, to share their conviction that God is love—that God does care...that God is just...that God still reigns.

Lutherans believe God is not dead! He still speaks to 20th century man through the drama of the Bible.

How We Pay For Government

The 9B Civics class at Taneytown High School has just completed a unit on taxes. It may soften the blow if citizens would reconsider the value and purpose of taxes. Read what these three future citizens have to say.

OUR FRIENDS, THE TAXES

by Bill Shank

Ever since there has been government, we have had to pay taxes, that is how we pay for government.

I have already told you that we pay for government by taxes, but there are many kinds and types of taxes. I am going to tell about them and what they do. The first one is on property; this has been the favorite kind of taxation in city and county governments and in school districts.

There are two kinds of property taxes — a tax on real estate or realty, and a tax on what is called personal property, or personality.

Most local communities often get part of their revenue from licenses and fees, and vehicle tax. This money is used for repairing and keeping the streets clean.

There is still another tax; it is the sales tax. This is the most widely used tax today. That is when the retailer collects for the state government a certain number of cents, two or three on every dollar's worth of goods he sells.

One more tax is the tariff, when we charge foreign countries tax on incoming products so that their prices are near the American prices.

The last one is income tax. The income tax is the main source of revenue for the National government. There are arguments about income tax. It is that income tax is based on the ability of a taxpayer to pay taxes.

Now one against the income tax is that one year is too short a period to determine one's ability to pay. I think income taxes are all right because they help to pay for our running of the democratic government.

WE PAY FOR GOVERNMENT

by Carole Koons

Government costs money and to get the money needed, people of communities, states, and the nation tax themselves. We share the expenses of government by taxes. Taxation is a way to divide up the cost of running a government.

It is one of the jobs of many government bodies to decide the amount and kinds of taxes to be paid. We can tell a good tax if it is fair, easy to collect and to figure out, and if it brings a dependable supply of money to the government.

Most of the arguments about taxes come from the fact that it is hard to find a tax that has all three good points. The principal taxes are property, licenses, fees, sales, tariffs, and income taxes. Property tax is a tax on real estate and personal property. Local communities get part of their income from licenses and fees. Licenses and registration fees are vehicle taxes. Sales tax is a favorite method of taxation. The retailer collects for the state government a number of cents on every dollar's worth of goods he sells. The consumer really pays the tax.

Income tax is the main source of revenue for the national government. It is a tax that must be paid by a family or individual on his yearly earnings.

Although there are many other ways to pay taxes, these are the most important and the best way of paying for our government.

WELL!

by Linda Ohler

"Taxes, taxes, taxes; a pain in the neck! Just another way of robbing the poor people!"

That's what Bob Robinson says every year about this time. He sits at the same desk adding columns of figures, erasing, and getting madder all the time.

Poor Bob, he just doesn't realize that taxes are a way in which we pay for our government. Also every citizen, rich or poor, has the duty of paying his taxes and seeing that his money is spent wisely by the officials he helped put in office.

I've tried to explain to him, but it's useless. I've tried to tell him that there are other kinds of taxes besides the income taxes he racks his brain with.

"Bob", I've said, "there are income taxes, property taxes, licenses and fees, sales tax, and tariffs or customs duties."

"You mean", he'd say, "that when I buy my car tags I'm paying a tax?"

"Yes", I said, "often automobile tags money is used to repair streets."

Even when you and Mary got your marriage license you paid a tax in the form of a fee."

"But do I pay all those kinds of tax?"

"You know you pay income and property taxes all too well. And, of course, you pay sales tax and license fees with very little thought about it."

"Well, what about this tariff or custom's duty?"

"You don't have to worry about them, for the present at least. You see, tariff is the tax which foreign producers must pay before they can bring their product into the U.S. The custom's duty is a tax on certain articles which must be paid before they can be brought in to the U.S."

"Oh, I see. But do you mean that I'm helping support the government of the United States of America when I pay my taxes?"

Exactly! Like I said before, taxes are a way in which the people pay for the government they receive."

"Well, that is nice to know."

As Connie Crowl concluded in her essay, "We have to pay these taxes in order to have a free and strong government."

A word of caution is issued from the Office of the Zoning Administrator. Do not neglect to obtain a building permit before construction is started. In part, the Zoning Ordinance and other County regulations make it unlawful to construct, alter, or enlarge a building, regardless of construction cost, without first obtaining a building permit. Attention is called by the Zoning Administrator to the fact that the proper building set-back line provisions as outlined on the back of the building permit are complied with. This distance will vary, depending upon the building location. Should you have any problem in this matter, contact the Office of the Zoning Administrator.

Building permits are issued in Room 203 of the County Office Building in Westminster at no charge to the applicant. Application may be made by the property owner, his agent, or by his builder. ## Farm Area Lighting Would Astonish "Old Mac Donald"

Area Lighting is a new aid to farmers.

Groping around in the darkness to do farm chores is as antiquated as a hex sign on an old barn.

Today's efficient farm operation uses the latest lighting methods, including photo-electric controls. The latter do not depend on an individual being at a switch, or remembering to turn on lights as needed. The control in each luminaire does the "thinking".

As darkness approaches and the light level decreases, the photo-electric mechanism is triggered into action. Conversely, an increase in natural light disconnects the power. This control operates regardless of weather, climate or temperature, and farm management is finding it dependable and economical.

Lighting installations around barns, supply buildings, stock centers and loading areas are as much a part of today's farming as mechanized equipment.

During peak production and marketing times, nighttime working hours are essential. Lighting lightens the task. It facilitates loading and unloading of produce and supplies. In addition, it is an important aid in the ever-present task of repairing heavy farm equipment.

Farm owners are particularly aware of the value of automatic night light as a protective device. It is another modern means of removing drudgery and hardship from life on the farm.

Spring Planting News It's Green-up Time

If you think you have trouble with your lawn, consider the man in the Mid-West who, in admission of absolute defeat, cemented his entire yard and painted it a bright green!

Whether you're getting ready to plant a new lawn, or renovate a lawn in poor condition, there is an alternative to cement and paint.

Studies show that in some areas up to 80% of the lawns are seeded with the wrong grasses. Actually, turf authorities recommend mixtures of permanent grasses over a single grass, especially for Spring.

Mixtures of at least 40% Merion Bluegrass with other improved grasses, give the best results—thicker turf, greater weed and disease resistance, a beautiful green all summer long. Merion is more economical too—one pound of its small seeds covers an area requiring 2 to 6 pounds of other grasses. Your lush new Merion lawn begins with preparing a seed bed rich in organic matter. Turning over the soil and raking are next. Your local dealer will guide you to the right fertilizer for your lawn. Rake the seed in and top-dress lightly. In renovating an established lawn you may have to use weed control chemicals several weeks before seeding. Apply strictly as directed. Then mow short and remove the clippings.

Overseed Merion Bluegrass by hand in small patches or with a spreader for larger areas. Top-dress as with a new lawn. The sooner you get to work the better. Velvety green beauty in your yard beats cement every time!

Christ Reigns

Lesson for April 22, 1962

WHAT does Easter mean? Most grown people know it means more than Easter parades and Easter music. Perhaps most grown people, whether they are Christians or not, are aware that Easter goes back to a story of long ago, when in a springtime garden One who had been killed rose again in glorious life. Most Christians believe this Dr. Foreman story is true; but even those who do not wish it could have been. Perhaps there is nothing in the Bible which an unbeliever would like to believe, more than the story of Easter.

The reason for this meets the eye at once. If the Easter story is true, if it actually happened, as the Bible witnesses plainly say it did, then "life and immortality have been brought to life" as one New Testament writer says. What assurance have we that death is not the last word for man? The Resurrection of Christ is the best assurance there is.

Christ the conqueror

There is another side of the meaning of Easter, often overlooked, yet very important in the New Testament picture of things. It is expressed in the ancient Latin expression, "Christus Victor," Christ the Conqueror. This is brought out in a little-read chapter of the Bible, Hebrews 1. Here the emphasis is on power. The Resurrection (odd as this may seem) is not mentioned; the thought of the writer goes from the Cross ("purification for sins") to the Throne of the universe. Christ's appearances to the disciples are all by-passed in silence here. Christ is seen as sharing the Throne of God himself. It makes no difference whether we take the expressions literally or not; the meaning is clear enough. This is what we are challenged to believe: that Christ now shares the power of the "Majesty on high," the God of all the universes. The letter to the Hebrews was first read by people who lived in the Roman Empire, perhaps in Rome itself. They would be familiar with the custom of an emperor sharing his authority with a general who had been victorious in war.

—Over sin and death

What has Jesus conquered? The short but thrilling answer is: Sin and Death. These are the two great enemies of mankind. They have not been conquered even yet in the sense that they have been abolished. But it can be noticed that when an individual identifies himself with Christ, he no longer cringes at the threat of sin and death. He is enabled—as Paul said, by the same power that brought Jesus Christ from the dead—to rise above sin, to be "set free from sin." And although he faces death as much as any other man, the Christian does not fear it. This is not saying that no one can be a Christian who fears death. But we recall the familiar story of John Wesley and the storm at sea. Wesley was at that time a Christian, but that storm frightened him terribly. Then he discovered a group of Moravians happily singing hymns, not worried by the storm at all. They expected the ship to go down, just as Wesley did; but he was looking at death while they were looking through it. Wesley's whole life was changed by that incident.

—Over ourselves

So Christ has set men free... yet not free to do as we please. Whatever "at the right hand of the Majesty on high" can mean, it must mean at least this: that the authority of Christ is on a level with the authority of God. Christ does not set us free for a kind of anarchy; a Christian is not a masterless man. He who is Lord over sin and death, over all the "powers of darkness," is Lord over those who are called by his title—Christians. But is this really so? Isn't it true, too often, that the only difference between Christian and non-Christian is in words only? The non-Christian says: Jesus Christ is not Lord nor Savior. The Christian says, Christ is Lord and Savior. And there too many Christians-in-word leave it. We are all quite willing to be saved; we are not so willing to take orders. The Christian-in-word begins to become a Christian-in-fact when as he begins to ask the same question Paul did: Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?

Another "FIRST" for the Farmer-Owners of Southern States Cooperative

"Turn left at the big tree." Truck enters drive-way of Lee Barnhard's Woodlawn Farm near Olney, Maryland. Here, 3500 laying hens are waiting to convert "the first load" into added profit for him.

Lee Barnhard (center) watches while "the first load" is air-hosed into his bulk feed bins. Thus ends a historic first for farmers in the Baltimore mill area—the first of countless future deliveries of Southern States top quality "feeds for every need."

If you are not using Southern States Feeds now is a great time to start!

ZONING BOARD REPORTS

The Carroll County Zoning Board of Appeals at its meeting April 6, heard six cases. The following Zoning Certificates were granted: Stanley D. Davis, Arthur Avenue, Sykesville, Md., a trailer permit; Francis C. Harrington, Oklahoma Road, Sykesville, a variance of the setback line requirement; Richard Dixon, 36 Charles Street, Westminster, a trailer permit and variance to lot size requirement.

The application of John H. Muller, Crouse Mill Road, Middleburg, for a junk yard and used car lot was denied due to its close proximity to Middleburg.

The trailer application of Ernest Dey for a trailer location near Deer Park was denied because it is adjacent to a residential area.

James M. Watkins was denied a trailer location at Maryland 31 and Snyderburg Road because the applicant's lot is of insufficient size to support both a house and the proposed trailer.
