D., REVIEW: "People keep telling us that far more students will be trying to go to college than there will be places for them Therefore the federal government must step in with financial help for the construction of facilities ng other things. What was quite interesting to us was the fact that recent estimates by college authorities indicate 25,000 to 50,000 more places exist in colleges than are being filled. Thus it is interesting, if not a little distasteful, to hear all this bellering on the part of those who would seek to panic us into further extension of the already long arm of government

FRANKLINVILLE, N. J., TOWN-SHIP SENTINEL: "The Declaration of Independence easily ranks as one of the most important documents of history. In it, Thomas Jefferson, the author, set forth the inalienable rights of man and the theory that governments are instituted by men, not set up by God, and therefore, derive their powers from the consent of the governed."

CORVALLIS, ORE., GAZETTE -TIMES: "Nice little communists from Moscow to Peiping flew into a violent rage when the U.S. exploded a thermonuclear blast 200 miles up into the fringes of outer space. Considering the fact that resumption of nuclear testing by this country was forced upon us when Comrade Khrushchev broke the voluntary moratorium and began a series of heavy explosions last fall, the wails of anguish ill becomes them. Those tests showered more fallout on earth than all the tests which had gone on before by all countries put together."

CHARLESTON, TENN., RECORD: "Today it costs the people of the United States 90 times as much to govern twice as many people as it did 50 years ago This situation started in the year 1913 when the 16th Amendment to the Constitution was passed. When that Amendment was ratified without any limit beyond which the government could tax its citizens, the government began to grow.....that innocent appearing tax of 3 percent on a few rich people (has grown) until today those same rich people are paying 91 percent tax and the poor people who were to have been beneficiaries of the tax are paying 20 percent.""

PRIEST RIVER, IDA., TIMES: "In the old days a man who died with his boots on was known as a 'bad man'. Now he's a pedestrian."

Tires, Batteries, Gasoline, Oil and SERVICE

Stranded-and not a soul in sight. Read the 10 tips from Shell, below. They could help you avoid getting stuck in the middle of nowhere.

Shell suggests 10 ways to reduce your chances of getting stranded when you're miles from help

1. Make your own roadside emergency kit and always carry it in your trunk. It could save you a lot of trouble someday. Your kit should include: a spare fan belt, a strong tow rope, a gallon can of water, a flashlight with extra batteries, pliers, screwdriver, and several wrenches.

2. Check both your spare tire and jack. A flat tire is usually more annoying than serious. But it can leave you stranded if your spare is flat or your jack doesn't work. So always have the air pressure in your spare checked at the same time as the rest of your tires. And make sure your jack is in good working order.

3. Find out where your car fuses are located. Your car has fuses that do the same job as the ones in your home. And they're just as easy to replace if you know where to find them. So have your Shell dealer' show you where each fuse is. And carry extra fuses in your glove compartment.

4. Hide a spare ignition key in your car. If you've ever lost your keys in the back country, you know how important this is. Be sure that everyone who drives your car knows where the extra key is hidden.

5. Check for the three troubles that cause nearly half of all breakdowns. The American Automobile Association reports that tires, weak batteries, and faulty electrical systems account for 45 percent of all car breakdowns. So have your Shell dealer check all three frequently.

6. Don't plow through water. Here's a good rule to follow. If there's the slightest chance that the water is deep enough to reach your tailpipe, turn your car around and look for an alternate route. This may take you a few miles out of your way, but it's better than stalling in water.

EXTREMELY IMPORTANT: Test your brakes after driving through water. Even a few inches of water can cause temporary brake failure. If this happens, drive with extreme caution until the brake linings dry.

7. Don't let your gas tank get below half full in lonely country. Americans ran out of gas more than 2 million times last year. If you know you'll be driving in a remote. area, fill up before you get to it. And check your gas gauge regularly in isolated country. It can be a long way between service a) Make sure you're turning the lug wrench the right way. Some cars have right-hand threads. Others have lefthand threads. And they're not always clearly marked.

8. Try these tips if a stuck wheel nut keeps you from changing a tire.

b) Give a stuck nut a few sharp raps with a hammer or rock. (Be careful not to hit any exposed lug threads). Then try the wrench again. If the nut still refuses to budge, try turning the wrench with a sudden snapping motion.

9. Try "rocking out" when you're stuck in mud or sand. Put the car in reverse and apply power gently. As soon as the wheels start to spin, reduce power and shift into forward gear. Ease forward until the wheels spin again. With each back and forth rock, your car should go a little further-until you're out of trouble.

10. If "rocking out" doesn't work, build a pathway of sticks. Place sticks or branches in front of and under the rear wheels. Start the car forward slowly, and gradually increase speed. By the time you reach the end of your path, you should have enough momentum to carry you forward.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

Applause in one form or another is probably almost as old as civilization itself. Clapping the hands is among the most natural ways of applauding. In fact "ap laud" comes from two Latin words meaning to "strike together" Nobody can say when such Nobody can say when such gether." customs began. For even a child instinctively expresses delight by clap-ping it's hands. The ancient Greeks and Romans applauded by han Alapping as well as by snapping their fingers and waving the flaps of their clothing. About 1820, Paris theaters began to pay persons to applaud the actors, to insure the success of plays. The hired applauders were called a claque, from the French word claquer, meaning, to applaud. Some of the claquers laughed at the proper place during the play, while others wept, while others merely applauded. All this was the fore-runner of the present day television audience which is briefed in the proper time to applaud by cue cards.
Mrs. Paul H. Smith of Westminster will again serve as chairman of the 1962 Christmas Seal drive with Mr. Preston G. Coffman as co-chairman. The drive will begin in November. In accepting the appointment Mrs. Smith said: "We are starting immediately to organize the annual Christmas Seal Campaign, which provides funds for the voluntary program to eliminate tuberculosis in Carroll County. It is a continuous fight, in which every citizen must help. In the past, Carroll countians have shown their concern about the disease by contributing to the Christmas Seals, and we count upon their loyalty and their civic concern this year to make the campaign a suc-

"Water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink, is a line from The Ancient Mariner which may well become the wailing cry of every American if we don't make up our minds to conserve water. We are the most wasteful nation in the world of our natural water supply and even now we don't seem to understand that the supply is limited. Last week we visited a laundromat and beauty salon the same day and became water conscious when we saw how much was used in just two small business places. Multiply this by a million and you get a pretty good idea of how much water is used every week just to wash clothes and womens hair. No wonder the water table is gradually diminishing. If rainfall remains stationary and the use of water keeps increasing it may well be that sometime in the future the Saturday night bath will return along with the tin tub and the antique washboard will once again replace the laundromat. Unless we can tap the sea as a source of usuable water, our increasing population will force us on a water ration. History has shown us that some cities in the past were com-pletely evacuated and lost for lack of water. History could very well re-peat itself in the 20th century. "Dead silence" is an incorrect figure of speech, because silence can be very much alive. Silence can make one alert to the workings of the mind and the stirring of one's memories from a deep sleep.

In spite of the many changes that have occured in most of our lives during the past years there is one thing that hasn't changed at all and this is the voice of conscience. Often it speaks to us in only a whisper, but the penalty for ignoring it, can be almost fatal at times. Whether you consider conscience a voice of the soul or all the taboos of our cultural society, to ignore it is to invite disaster in the form of a guilt complex. Our world is full of temptations and there isn't anyone living that daily isn't forced to decide between the right way or the wrong way. To get the most contentment out of living bend your ear to the voice, of con science for it alone will help you keep your self-respect. "I, must be getting absent-minded," said the old man in the super-market. "When ever I get to complaining that things aren't what they use to be, I forget to include myself."

Every woman that cares about fashion wants to own a string of real pearls and a mink coat. Of the two, pearls posesses the stronger fascination for the woman of taste. There are many superstitions attached to pearls and probably the strangest one is that of the pearl hunters of Borneo who have a peculiar ritual. When they open the shells in search of pearls, they take every ninth find, whether it be large or small, and put it into a bottle, which is kept corked, in which is also placed a dead man's finger. The pearls kept in the bottle are known as seed pearls or breeding pearls, and the native Bornese firmly believe that they will reproduce their

When we still lived on the farm, I tried one evening to use the phone, but could not get the dial tone. Realizing that someone on the line must have the receiver off the hook, I tried to attract his attention by calling loudly, Hello! Hello! Much to my amazement I heard a Mooooooo and then another Mooooo. Then my husband's voice broke in. "I'm sorry but the darned cow just knocked the re-ceiver off the hook again." It was then that I remembered we had just put a telephone extension in the dairy barn, that day. The chirpy, busy wrens have departed from our woods and know that summer is over. And last week we saw the school buses being overhauled, which indicates that soon school will re-open and another Fall begins. The seasons rush by almost as fast as traffic and seem to change as quickly as the traffic lights, but there is nothing we can do about the changes except enjoy them.

One of our local churches issues a Sunday bulletin in which are listed all memorial gifts to the church. One week a special thank offering was listed from a couple who had just bought a home and married off their daughter. The congregation is still trying to figure out which event brought forth the thank offering.

If I'd live to be a hundred, The years would be too few To do the kindly things for folks That I would like to do. But I hope that I'll be able, In a friendly sort of way, To let them know I love them, And that none will ever say That I ever caused them heartaches, Or grief when I was here, Because I never meant to-I count friends much too dear. -MRS. FAIRVIEW

We have been talking about such a wonderful Summer we have had, in which, we have had only a few nights too hot to sleep well, but oh, last night (Monday), but all day it was quite hot and humid and it looks as though it will give us more of the same today; but as the saying goes, 'nothing pays better than the weath-

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock, Mr. and Mrs. Denton Powell and son, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lambert and daughter, were among those attending the Anique Automobile Show at Williams Grove on Sunday afternoon. "Let us join our hands together. Form a league of love and friendship. Form a league to help the weak ones. We shall make a Nation greater than the greatest of old nations, than the greatest of the present." IF MAN COULD REACH THE MOON by Mary Liles

I'm sure you've heard or read about the Satellites in space. How Russia and the United States are in the Rocket race.

To hear them talk it won't be long; for space they'll conquer soon.

And then what next will man attempt if he should next will nex if he should reach the moon? If man should ever reach the moon there's one thing that's clear; He'll ruin everything up there just as he has down here! With Sin and crimes, with lust and greed, he has enough to do To clean the mess he's made on earth, And you know that is true.

The sickness and the want and fear, the broken hearts and shame. Yes, hungry millions cry each day, And man is all to blame. I think we would better set our sights Above the moon and space. And lets explore eternity

Where there is hope and Grace. It's not the moon we need to reach. It's God who put it there. The one who went to Calvary. A rugged cross to bear. For Sins of men with wicked hearts

he died one afternoon.
With Faith in Him you'll have no fear if man should reach the moon.

The Carroll County Tuberculosis Association

Mrs. Paul H. Smith, 18 Poole Rd., Westminster, Md., this week has accepted the chairmanship of the 1962 Christmas Seal drive with Mr. Preston G. Coffman as co-chairman, which will begin in November.

The announcement of Mrs. Smith's appointment was made by Mr. Rob-ert Lee Miller of Sykesville, presi-dent of the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association, who said, "Under the dynamic and dedicated leadership of Mrs. Paul H. Smith, the 56th annual Christmas Seal Campaign will be one of which we can all be proud."

Following the announcement of her acceptance, Mrs. Smith said: "We are starting immediately to organize the annual Christmas Seal Campaign, which provides funds for the voluntary program to wipe out TB in our community. I am sure the campaign will be a success because the men, women and children of Carroll County are deeply concerned about the problem of TB. The funds that are voluntarily, and in the privacy of their own homes, contribute for Christmas Seals do much to help wipe out TB and to bring those who have TB to the care of their physicians, thus resulting in a remarkable saving of lives." Citing the association's program, Mrs. Smith said, "The Carroll County Tuberculosis Association works constantly to protect us from this disease and to safe guard our children, now and in the future. Christmas gives each of us an opportunity to support this program by contributing for, and making liberal use of,

Christmas Seals.' The 56th annual Christmas Seal Campaign opens November 13 and will run through December.

Election Laws Studied

Recently State Senator Edward O. Weant, Jr., was appointed to a special Committee to study the election laws of the State of Maryland. This appointment was made by the President of the Senate as a result of a request from Governor J. Millard Tawes. In his request to Senator Della, the Governor stated in Part:

"I strongly recommend that you,
as Chairman of the Legislative Council, appoint a sub-committee of that honorable body to study the existing election laws and to present recommendations to the General Assembly at the 1963 session I also suggest that you consider the appointment to the sub-committee of Maryland citizens who have demonstrated a keen interest in

It is proposed that the sub-commit-ee consider specifically the advisability of requiring candidates to file in person and to determine whether or not an increase in filing fees, combined with a restriction on the payment of refund in the event of withdrawal, will minimize abuses in election procedures. Absentee ballots and eligibility of absentee voters will also be considered. The committee is to report to the Legislative Council in November. Other members of the Committee other members of the Committee are as follows:

Chairman, Senator H. Winship Wheatley, Senator Edward Hall, Delegate Roy N. Staten, Delegate Richard M. Matthews, Delegate Harry J. McGuirk and Delegate Noel S. Cook.

HUTCHINS SLUGS WAY TO SCREEN STARDOM AS BATTERED FALL GUY

Actor Will "Sugarfoot" Hutchins, six-foot-one, 165 pounds, has always wanted to be a boxer — he watches prize fights on TV and shadow-boxes along with the fighters. But if his ring career were to parallel the plotting of his current starring role in Warner Bros.' "Claudelle Inglish," opening August 29—30 at the Monocacy Drive-In Theatre, and that of his TV series, he would quite probably become known as "Horizontal" Hutchins.

Because of the characterization mapped out for "Sugarfoot," Hut-chins was perpetually on the receiv-ing end of punches that sent him sprawling. Now movie-goers will have a chance to see him slugged to a sitting position in a bitter fight his 50th on camera in two years of acting — with Robert Colbert in the turbulent screen adaption of Erskine Caldwell's novel.

Diane McBain, in the title role Arthur Kennedy and Constance Ford star with Hutchins in "Claudelle Inglish," written and produced by Leonard Freeman and directed by glish. Gordon Douglas.

TV's hour-long "Sugarfoot" series was written specifically for Hutchins and won him a wide following.

CAUSE OF AUTO FATALITIES OUTLINED

There were 14 fatalities on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly summary issued by the Maryland State Police for the week ending August 19, 1962. Seven operators, 3 passengers and 4 pedestri-ans were the victims for this period. In 11 of the fatalities a driver error was a contributing factor.

Speed was a contributing factor in 8, and in 6 of them alcohol played a prominent part.

"Week after week," said Colonel Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, "the figures clearly indicate the need for more positive action along the following lines:

"First, a licensing system that focuses attention on mental attitude, driver competence and driver responsibility to himself and to others. "Second, penalties that will impress unequivocally upon the violator the importance of his license. "And third, positive action aimed at the driver under the influence of

World Community Day

The Carroll County Committee for World Community Day met at the home of Miss Dorothy Elderdice, chairman, on the afternoon of Aug. 15. WCD, an annual project of United Church Women, will be observed on or around the first Friday in November, in seven different areas of the county. Last year approximately 70 different churches observed the day, with emphasis on Latin America.

KEEDYSVILLE DAY

The people of Keedysville will turn the pages of history back on Tuesday, September 4. A community-wide centennial observance, Keedysville Day, is planned to involve practically every man, woman, and child in this little community near the Antietam Battlefield. Feature attractions will include guided tours of historical houses and farms, an antique show, a genuine "old-fashioned" picnic supper, band concerts, a really big parade rade, and a pageant type evening of entertainment depicting as authentically as possible Keedysville community life as it was 100 years ago.

Keedysville Day is planned for area residents and visitors as part of this year's Civil War centennial observance activities in cooperation with the Antietam-South Mountain Civil War Centennial Commemoration Association

Mrs. Grace Fleming, Chairman of the Keedysville Day Committee, said today that final arrangements for the many parts of the program are being made, that "everyone is cooperating beautifully," and that "Keedysville Day is going to be something far beyond the ordinary—it is going to be Among the many famous historical sites to be visited on the guided tours, three are especially significant. These are McClellan's Headquarters, the Getting farm, and the Reformed Church. General George B. McClellan established his headquarters in Keed-ysville when he arrived at the front with 84,000 men to try to stem Lee's invading force of 41,000. Both the Getting farm and the Reformed Church were used as a hospital during the War.

The antique show, to be held in the Pythian Hall, will present well organized basic groups-collections of antique clothing, a completely furnished antique kitchen, firearms display, antique furniture and decorative pieces, and items used for en-tertainment.

The old-fashioned picnic supper will be just that—no frozen foods or TV dinners. The food will be cooked in the old cast iron skillets and pots, and there will be, among other victuals too numerous to list here, corn on the cob, Keedysville fried chicken, country ham, and all home-grown and home-cooked vegetables.

Band concerts will be presented during the picnic supper by several dif-ferent bands, including, of course, the famous Boonsboro H. S. Band, which recently won top national honors.

Featured in the evening parade, at 6:30, will be the Blue and Gray Youth Brigade, consisting of boys age 7 through 12, formed last September when former President Eisenhower when former President Eisenhower dedicated the Civil.

These little soldiers will march and perform all regulation Civil War drill exercises. They have been selected to appear in the re-enactment of Chasapeake Bay commemoration, Chasapeake Bay commemoration, Seiss, 1 mile South of St. Anthony's, along old U. S. 15, between Thurmont and Emmitsdedicated the Civil War cemetery, floats, ante-bellum groups, re-enactment troops, and representatives of schools, businesses, clubs, and other organizations, many in period cos-

Re-enactment of the culture of 100 years ago will form the basis of the evening's pageant. Children and adults, playing appropriate parts, will re-enact home life, old-time dancing, church and school scenes, and many other phases of community life.

Nothing Is harder than beginning again, especially beginning again on the scene of a failure or a disaster. Yet that is just what the Hebrew people, exiled from their beloved Jerusalem, had to do. Really, their home city was not there any more. The glories of the city Solomon built have never returned, to this day. All around the returning exiles were the ruins of the old city, in the midst of which they must slowly build a new one.

We remember that the little nation of Judah had been smashed, and that its destruction was God's will, to punish the nation for its sins. Before the crash, few would believe it could happen. But after the crash, the mood of the nation changed at once from a silly op-timism to a deep and bitter pessimism. From singing the song "We are God's people and he will not let anything destroy us," they sang a different tune-how different can be seen by reading the book of "Lamentations" written at this time. From being all hope, they plunged violently to no-hope. God had turned against them they felt. And so he had. But until the prophets persuaded them otherwise, they did not think God could ever forgive them. The prophets had to preach over and over again: Just as for sin there must be punishment, so for repentance there is forgiveness. God punishes his own children, but he does not disown them.

After Disaster

The clock and the calendar do not run backward. What's done is done. Not even the Lord in heaven would restore Jerusalem as it was. But few disasters are totally without remedy. The storm leaves wrecks behind it-but it passes on. There is always an afterwards to the worst of calamities. It may be that a few readers of this column will be able to survive the terrors of a nuclear war, socalled. It would not be like any war ever fought before, and if you do survive, it may be five hundred miles to the nearest person who survived as you did. You will have many other problems and much distress; but one thing will be sure-that kind of "war" can happen once but not again. You will have lived through the worst disaster in human history; and after that, other things will be mild and tame by comparison. But the thing you will have to remember (the books will be burned up and what you know you won't get from books any more)-you must remember that God is always on both sides of every disaster: before and after, he is there.

After Confusion

The well-known passage from Isaiah about making a straight road in the wilderness brings up a picture of a vast desert in which it is very easy to be lost and die . unless you keep to the road. The road to life is narrow and hard to find, Jesus said; but there is such a road. Lost in woods or on the desert, or in a snowstorm, people are very likely to move around in circles, instead of following a straight line. So in our confused time, with the best minds hardly knowing what to do next, and nobody knowing how to bring about peace, if more people would listen to God there would be less confusion in the world. A national magazine not long ago carried a debate between an agnostic and Billy Graham on the question: Should our elected leaders be religious men? Billy Graham was surely right: they ought to be men of faith, for one reason in particular, the God-fearing man does try to hear the voice of the God of truth. Such a leader may make mistakes; but surely he is better off than the man who does not think there is a God to listen

HEALTH HINTS FOR THE FAMILY WHEN MOTHER GETS A COLD

by Margaret Little*

No mother has time to be sick. Families have a way of collapsing if mother is not on the job. However, one day you may wake up to find your head is all stuffed up and your throat feels dry and scratchy. Maybe you have a hacky cough as well. You have a cold.

Tough luck. You do not feel very well, but the family depends on you. You will just have to go on, cold and all. Take as good care of yourself as possible and do your best not to spread your cold to the rest of the family.

Try to take it a little easy; let some of the housework go for a day or two and arrange for some extra rest if you possibly can. Drink extra fluids—juice or water or tea—and sit down a minute to relax as you drink it. A vaporizer will make your breathing easier and maybe ease the dryness in your throat. If you are coughing, spoonful of cough medicine will help, and, if you can stop your cough you are not so likely to spray your germs around the house. Don't use a cough medicine with either a narcotic or an anti-histamine in it if you need to be or cough in his face.

alert and ready to cope with the responsibilities of the day. Use tissues to blow your nose and put the soiled ones in the toilet so you don't fill up your pockets with germs! Wash your hands every time you blow your nose and especially before you prepare food for the family or take care of a child. If you have a little child to care for, it is helpful to wear a paper mask over your nose and mouth when you must be close to him. For a few days refrain from kissing the youngster and try not to breathe

JAYCEE COMMUNITY SURVEY REPORT

This is the third of twelve installments of the Community Survey Report prepared by the Taneytown Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Survey was conducted by the Jaycees earlier this year with the report and recommendations adopted in July.

The report is being published as a public service by this newspaper and it is felt many will wish to clip and save for future reference.)

Last week's installment gave the over-all tabulation of the results of the public-opinion poll. This week we begin an attempt to analyze and evaluate some of these opinions, point out differences in age or area results, and supply additional related and interesting information.

QUESTION #1. HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S WATER SUPPLY?

Opinions: Very Good — 28%, Adequate — 50%, Inadequate — 5% Don't Know or No Answer — 17%

Only 5% of the people interviewed rated Taneytown's water supply as inadequate. Some complained about the taste and smell of chlorine from time to time, the hardness of the water, and sediment.

Taneytown's water system is owned and operated by the city, the supply being derived from 7 wells near Piney Creek on the North edge of town, 1—396 ft. deep well at the East end which was drilled in 1960, and one well on the old creamery property rented from Mr. Merwyn C. Fuss. Total capacity of all well pumps is in excess of 800 gallons per minute. Pumps are set to deliver 600 gallons per minute from the reservoir at the Piney Creek wells to the Standpipe. The pump in the new deep well is set at 200 gallons per minute.

Storage facilities include the old standpipe, which will store approximately 100,000 gallons; and the new reservoir at the East end of town, which has a 150,000 gallon capacity; total storage facilities, in excess of 250,000 gallons. Average daily consumption is approximately 200,000 gallons. However, on a hot summer day when the canning factory is in full operation, it is not unusual to pump over 300,000 gallons.

Service charges are by metered usage with rates ranging from 60¢ per 1,000 gallons for the first 10,000 per quarter, down to 25¢ per 1,000 gallons for all over 60,000 gals. used in a calendar quarter. The minimum charge is $1.00 per month. Water is supplied by the town to a number of residences and the Elementary School outside the city limits at the rate of 60¢ per 1,000 gallons for any amount. However, residents or developers are responsible for pipelines beyond the city limits, and such lines must meet city specifications.

Qualified engineers state that with recent addition, our underground water supply should be adequate through 1980, considering the projected normal population growth and the normal reduction in the water table. With the recent installation of a new pump to replace one badly worn, all pumps are reported in A-1 condition. The water is usually of good quality. Just what causes the occasional taste of chlorine defies explanation, since this is introduced automatically in measured amounts by precision machines. There is not much which can be done on a municipal level for the hardness of the water. QUESTION # 2. HOW WOULD YOU RATE TANEYTOWN'S SEWAGE DISPOSAL?

Opinions: Very Good — 23%, Adequate — 52%, Inadequate — 10% Don't Know or No Answer — 15%

A little less than 10% rated our sewage disposal system as inadequate, A fittle less than 10% rated our sewage disposal system as inadequate, and 23% said it was very good.

Taneytown's sewage disposal system was completed in 1955 at a cost of $650,000. Bonds were floated ranging from 1 to 40 years and at interest rates ranging from 3¼% to 3¾%. An average of $30,776 must be included in the budget each year for interest and retirement of these bonds. One employee is required for maintenance, dividing his time between the sewage treatment plant and the water system. Every present home within the corresponding to the contract ment plant and the water system. treatment plant and the water system. Every present home within the corporate limits can be served by the system. However, city officials have ruled that property owners or developers may have to share in the expense of that property owners or developers may have to share in the expense of trunk lines where new construction is begun away from present lines.

A service charge is made of users, based on the amount of water used, and billing is made with the water bill. The minimum charge is $1.00 per month. Engineers who designed the system only 8 years ago stated that it would take care of 2 to 3 times the present population. However, in actual operation, there have been some problems. Some mistakes or miscalculations in engineering have called for emergency measures, additional expense, and unpleasantness for some of our residents. The system is particularly troublesome in wet, rainy weather when great amounts of surface water from basements floods the facilities. Down spouts and surface water are not permitted, but evidentally there are many basements which become very wet during these times. Since the people voted for a system to which they could connect basement drains, it seems only fair to continue this practice.

There are also some major problems when the two local canneries are in operation. The acid content of the waste becomes too concentrated and upsets the balance necessary for efficient operation. In this respect, additional homes connected into the system would aid in the operation. This year some remedial steps are planned, which, it is hoped, will alleviate the difficulties

It is possible that present facilities with modifications would be adequate for a sizable industry, expansion, or annexation. Of course in the case of industry, it would depend entirely on the type of industry and its waste.

(Next week's installment will continue the question-by-question analysis, additional information and interesting facts on our garbage collection, fire and police protection, medical services, streets, appearance, etc.)

When seeding a lawn

don't make the same mistake twice!

If there are ugly, bunchy patches of coarse grass in your lawn, it's a hundred-to-one you planted them yourself. They grew from seeds you paid good money for.

All grass seed isn't alike. Not by a long shot. There are choice, long-lasting varieties. Others are so-so. Some are no good at all. And some mixtures actually contain thousands of weed seeds,

That's why those who know plant nothing but Scotts. All-perennial and 99.9% weed-free. Scotts builds lawns that are rich, green, even-textured. Use Scotts for new turf — and for new life.

Now's the time to plant Scotts seed to add new life.
