Letter To The Editor

The Carroll Record
Each year the hunting season brings the inevitable trials and headaches to land owners here in Carroll County. Carroll is one of the most popular hunting counties in Md., and as soon as November 15th arrives, the country side is over-run with swarms of hunters, all eager to have a "go" at the pheasants and rabbits. Hunting may be a thrilling sport for lots of people and legally, of course, it is permitted at this time of the year. However, when we consider it from the farmer's point of view, we see it in a different light.

First of all, farms in this area are quite close together, and when shotguns begin blasting away, both human beings and livestock run a great risk of being shot. We have all read of numerous deaths and accidents, caused by careless and irresponsible hunters. At times, it is even dangerous to walk to the mail box when such people are abroad. Not all hunters are negligent of course. Many are skilled sportsmen, who have a sense of responsibility about where they shoot and what they shoot at. Even so, bullets are no respecters of persons. They can easily ricochet, and kill or injure some innocent bystander. For those of us who love to see the wild life around, it is distressing indeed to see beautiful creatures like the pheasants being killed. We understand that two a day is the limit, but we wonder just how many hunters abide by the law? Many farmers also object to their fields being tramped on and gates being left open. For these reasons, most property around is posted with, "No Hunting" or "No Trespassing" signs. Apparently, they are ignored for the most part, and farmers find themselves being besieged by numerous hunters — many of them perfect strangers — for permission to hunt. Needless to say, most of these requests are not granted. There are 158,000 acres of public hunting lands scattered all over the State of Maryland. Very few sportsmen ever take advantage of it. If they would do so, the problems which exist between hunters and farmers would be greatly lessened.

Perry and members of the City Council with members of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce will meet Santa and take him to the High School. The Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School Band will escort the procession from the school to the Fire Hall expecting to arrive at the Fire Hall at 7:00 P. M.

As the procession enters the business section the Festival of Christmas lights will be turned on to continue until New Year's Day. Santa has asked that all the children of the community meet with him at the Fire Hall. He promises a treat to all children who come.

Santa's visit is sponsored by the businessmen of Taneytown.

KI-WIVES MEETING

The November meeting of the Taneytown Ki-Wives Club was held Monday evening, 6:30 P. M., at Taney Inn with 16 members, 4 visitors and 12 Jayettes present.

All joined in singing America, followed by the pledge to the flag. Alice Frock gave the invocation. After the dinner, Daisy Pearl Reifsnider with Esther Harner at the piano lead the group in singing songs pertaining to Thanksgiving. One anniversary, Kitty Royer, and two birthdays, Esther Harner and Pauline Crouse, were recognized.

President Linda Hopkins gave a warm welcome to the members, visitors and the Jayettes. She and Marian Leaking, who attended the Inter-Club Council of Ki-Wives Presidians, Oct. 26, brought back echoes of the meeting. Reports were given by various committees. Naomi Baumgardner reported the giving of Christmas cards with postage included to guests at Springfield Hospital to send to friends.

President Hopkins turned the meeting over to Marian Leaking, program chairlady, who in turn gave Naomi Baumgardner the honor of introducing Mrs. David Pitzer of Biglerville who demonstrated the use of greens in our Christmas decorations. She was a National Award Winner in the Garden Club which speaks for her ability in arranging centerpieces for table, mantle, door or what have you. A long table laden with all sorts of things graced the front of the room. When the demonstration was finished the table was very attractive with the pieces she had made. It put us all in the mood for Christmas and the desire to try our hand with pine cones, evergreens, nuts, ribbons, etc. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. John Teeter, Gettysburg, Pa. A hint to condition evergreens before using — put them in a gallon of water to which has been added a cup of sugar for 12 to 18 hours. Warm water is best and pound the stems before putting in water.

Marian asked the members to hand in names of children 10 years and under who would be attending the Christmas party, December 19.

A short board meeting was held after adjournment.

CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Paul H. Smith, Chairman of the 1962 Christmas Seal Campaign explains why you should use Xmas Seals on all your letters, packages and Holiday mail.

Because these brightly-colored little stickers help to remind others that their help is needed too.

Because the two happy children trimming the Christmas Tree depicts the gift of good health which everyone should share.

Because no home is safe until all homes are safe.

Because several hundred Marylanders will be told by their Doctors in 1962, "I'm afraid you have active Tuberculosis."

When you use Christmas Seals on your mail, you add a note of good cheer and a note of serious purpose as well. These seals are traditional expressions of community spirit, of the help we all give each other.

Christmas Seals work for you and your friends and family all through the year. They help to find people who have TB and don't know it, to pay for research in prevention and treatment. They help in education and in rehabilitation, in finding and closing the gaps in TB control.

Mrs. Smith says, that if you haven't already done so, please send in your Christmas Seal Contribution today. And use Christmas Seals on all your Holiday letters and packages. When you do so, you help to protect your own good health as well as the health of your Community.

Soil Conservationist Retires

Grover C. Zimmerman, Soil Conservationist of the Carroll Soil Conservation District has announced his retirement effective Dec. 31, 1962 after 30 years of service in the United States Department of Agriculture. Zimmerman, a native of Pa. came to Carroll County in 1944 after having worked in Penna. and New York State for the service.

During his 18 years in Carroll County, he has seen many changes take place in the Agriculture picture, with the Eastern part of the County becoming part of the greater Baltimore expansion program. Thousands of acres of the best farm land retired to building developments, the Liberty dam flooding many hundreds of acres. Many new highways built, taking an average of more than 25 acres per mile of road. The number of farms in the County have decreased by about 700 during this period. Zimmerman worked with more than 2000 farmers during his service in the County. Thousands of acres of contour farming can be seen on the land, hundreds of farm ponds have been built, miles of drainage has been constructed, hundreds of acres of trees have been planted. More than 1000 farmers now belong to the Soil Conservation District. These accomplishments speak well for the progressive thinking of the Carroll County farmer.

Zimmerman, a veteran of World War One, having served as a Major of Artillery in France, attended Penn State College, graduated from the Artillery School of Fire, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, served as instructor there after the War.

Was assigned by the Soil Conservation Service to its Beltsville Center to train new conservationist returning from the second World War. His present plans are to take a well earned vacation after which his interest in Community will continue.

FORMER RUSSIAN PRISONER TO SPEAK

Nine and a half year's imprisonment in a Soviet prison and slave labor camp can seem like a lifetime, according to John Noble, one of the few American citizens ever to return from a Russian prison camp. He will be relating his experience when he speaks at Waynesboro Senior High School on Monday, December 3, 1962, at 7:30 P. M., sponsored by Hooverville P.-T.A.

Mr. Noble regained his freedom from Soviet imprisonment in 1955, only after personal intervention by President Eisenhower. Since then he has spent much of his time traveling about the country, speaking to church, civic and other groups in an effort to awaken the American people to the dangers of Communism.

At a Thanksgiving Day ceremony Mr. Noble received the 1959 Freedom Book Award for his book, "I Found God in Soviet Russia." He is also author of "I Was a Slave in Russia," which was condensed in Reader's Digest in February 1956 and televised on Armstrong Circle Theatre in April 1958.

The service at which Mr. Noble will speak has been arranged by the Artists Extension Service of Audio Bible Society of America, Williamsport, Pa. Rev. Albert S. Taylor, president, will accompany Mr. Noble and introduce him.

HIGHWAY FATALITIES

Last week's toll on Maryland highways was thirteen deaths. Eight of the persons killed were drivers; four of them were passengers; and one was a pedestrian.

According to the survey of the Maryland State Police for the week ending November 25, alcohol was a contributing factor in two cases; speed in one; and "driver error" was present in twelve.

Three of the deaths involved vehicles struck by a train, and three of them were due to failure to stop for stop signs.

"The week's performance demonstrates again the inability of individuals to deal with the problems of highway traffic," said Major George E. Davidson, Field Commander of the State Police.

"The need," he continued, "for an education program that will reach effectively every driver, together with an effective periodic examination of the driver, is clearly evident."

Taneytown Lions and Kiwanis Have Joint Meeting

The Taneytown Lions met at Taney Inn on Tuesday evening with the Kiwanis as their guest. Lion president Lewis Baer presented D. Leonard Reifsnider president of the Kiwanis Club of Taneytown. After he welcomed the Kiwanis it seemed the Lion Tail Twister got mixed up and started to levy fines on the Kiwanis members. Lion President Baer then handed the meeting over to the evening program chairman Lion Murray Baumgardner who introduced Mrs. Bowers the Senior High School music teacher together with six Senior High School chorus members, Nancy Stine, Peggy Fleagle, Marion Dunham, Audrey Wilhide, Diane Fair and Joan Clingan. The Sextet entertained with several vocal selections. Lion Frank Dunham then introduced Irvin Gather and Ray Mackley of the Potomac Edison Co. They gave a very interesting talk with lighted illustrations, showing how light plays an important part to better business and office efficiency, improve sales and make the home more pleasant.

Lion Dr. Roxin announced the sale of Auto Safety Seat Belts on December 15th. The seat belts will be sold at cost in the interest of Public Safety for $5.50. It is the well known and recommended Beam's belt. All filling stations in Taneytown will install the belts free.

PARENTS' NIGHT HELD BY 4-H CLUB

Linda Griswold served as chairman and mistress of ceremonies at the annual Parents' Night held November 20 at Baust Parish House, Tyrone. The recently elected president, Sylvia Stonesifer, welcomed the 40 parents and 4-H'ers. The Rev. Robert Johnson, Pastor of Baust United Church of Christ, offered the invocation.

The 4-H Pledge was led by Gene Curfman and the Salute to the Flag was led by Eddie Curfman. A complete and interesting summary of the Club's accomplishments was reviewed by Helen Warehime.

As special entertainment for the evening, Dr. L. Earl Griswold showed slides from his recent trip this summer to Europe. These slides included pictures of Wales, Scotland and England.

Sandra Stonesifer presented her views of 4-H in a speech entitled, "What 4-H Means to Me."

As local leader of the club, James Stonesifer commended several members in the club who had brought honors to the club. They were Eddie Dutterer, Linda Griswold, Sandra Stonesifer and Sylvia Stonesifer. He also thanked the parents for their cooperation this past year.

Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Johnson after which refreshments were served.

CARROLL COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY BRANCH

The Carroll County Board of Library Trustees announces that the first county library branch will be in Hampstead. The Vaughn Woman's Club of Hampstead has for the past several years operated a community library and has authorized the County Library to operate it as a branch. The Hampstead Town Council has agreed to continue to furnish quarters and utilities in the community building. The library will remain closed until changes necessary for branch operation can be made.

Taking over an existing library facility has enabled the Library Board to speed up its plans for extension of library service in Carroll County. Plans for more branches will be made as additional resources become available. A policy statement regarding the establishment of branches has been drawn up and reads as follows:

In accordance with its function of providing the most extensive and effective library service possible for the residents of Carroll County, the Carroll County Library Board of Trustees will establish branch libraries wherever and whenever feasible. The establishment of a branch and its location shall be at the discretion of the Library Board. Such factors as population in an area to be served, financial resources available to the County Library and community willingness to undertake and maintain partial responsibility will be considered by the Library Board in making a decision as to where and when to establish a branch.

The minimal responsibility a community must assume toward a branch facility is the provision of quarters and utilities. The County Library will assume responsibility for all other aspects of branch operation, i. e., hiring of personnel, training of personnel, selection and provision of books, provision of library supplies, setting rules and regulations, etc. Local contributions in aid of helping the County Library in fulfilling these responsibilities will be appreciated but will not be considered a necessity.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Many inquiries have arrived in reference to "THE TEMPLE OF UNDERSTANDING" of which I wrote briefly last week, so here it is to the best of my ability. First of all Great Ideas, it has been said, come into the world as gently as doves. Perhaps, then, if we listen attentively, we shall hear, amid the uproar of empires and nations, a faint flutter of wings, the gentle stirring of life and hope.

This gently came into the world the idea of creating a Temple of Understanding. The purpose of this proposed Temple is to widen the horizons of men's minds; to function, to further, through education in the major religions of the world, man's awareness of his essential brotherhood; the effect, to be a SPIRITUAL UNITED NATIONS."

This seed-idea fell upon waiting soil, into the minds and hearts of a handful of citizens in a New England village. An incredible vision! Perhaps an impossible task? Still, it is said that "Where there is no vision, the people perish!" The hour, as we know, is late; the time urgent, the need for such spiritual enlightenment imperative. And so, to bring this seed to fruition, this dream to reality, a small group of dedicated people went to work. With a handful of change, a great deal of hard work, very much whistling in the dark, they began the monumental task of building a Temple of Understanding.

Unnumbered letters were written, visits made, to the leaders of the six major world religions; to Kings, Prime Ministers, ambassadors and Maharajas, Taxi drivers, industrialists, hair dressers, educators, grocers, artists, old friends and new—all were approached. "Do you share this particular dream? Would you help us create for a confused and weary world a global symbol of Love and Understanding? A place of teaching, as well as a giant focus on the spiritual inheritance of the human race?"

The answers came. The mail tumbled in. The stranger knocked at the gate. The response was warm, stirring, vital! From Burma, Thailand, India, America, France, England, Australia, Africa, New Zealand; from the four corners of the earth, as you will see, came a totally unprecedented response.

AND SO THE SEED GREW ROOTS.

An International Board of Directors was formed which was included some of the Spiritual giants of our day. A student group emerged, idealistic and hopeful. A building was planned, to be constructed in Washington, D. C.; its design to suggest a sun with six radiating rays, the whole to be set in a circular pool of water. The large center hall, to be a place of quiet meditation, will have a glass dome faceted like a cut diamond. This will be illuminated all night to indicate symbolically, that even while the world sleeps, the light of understanding continues to shine.

Beneath the glass dome will be a smaller pool in which the light from this dome will be reflected. Radiating from the central hall will extend six wings, each to represent one of the six religions of the world which are international in scope; Hinduism, Judaism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Christianity and Islam. Each wing will contain a chapel designed in accordance with the requirements of the religion it represents and using its symbols. Folks, I could go on and on that it would take paragraphs and many Columns of "Spice'n' Everything Nice."

At the request of several Embassies in Washington, a lower level was added to center around a Hall of Nations. As I stated in a previous Column that the land near the Great Falls of the Potomac, inspiring in its freshness and beauty, is now being given by a generous donor. Here the building will be surrounded by an extensive park, the grounds of which will provide an atmosphere of peace and quiet for those who wish to attend lectures and courses of study, or to spend the day with their families or even to be quite alone.

And so the seed — fed, watered and loved — flourished. Its roots ran deep and wide, the branches thrust out from the central stem. As a mighty tree, it grew in strength and design. And now, the tree, to fulfill its pattern of growth, lacks only the leaves. And these leaves can be supplied by you — by you alone. With your gift, your name, if you desire, will be enrolled in the "TEMPLE OF UNDERSTANDING." As I heard one elderly lady state, "If I only live long enough just to see it!" There are thousands and thousands of donors. "And the leaves of the tree for the healing of nations." Revelations, Chapter 22, Holy Bible—King James Version. In the State of Maryland the Regional Head is Mrs. John Baldwin—1302 John Street, Baltimore, Md. If you desire any information, do write to her. Our Governor has contributed also, as all the names are down in the booklet you will receive.

Have a grand week-end, Folks. Hope to be seeing you around the town. Until then, D. V.

I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

HARTFORD, WIS., TIMES-PRESS: "Did you happen to see the David Brinkley Journal on TV last week? The documented charges that he made against the construction frauds of the interstate high-way system should have been terrifying to every taxpayer. Imagine a twelve mile stretch of road going nowhere into the Florida Everglades—just ending in a marsh. That was just one example cited in an hour long show that should have been seen by every taxpayer in the nation. In the course of his documentation, he paid high tribute to newspapers across the nation for digging out a lot of this skull-duggery and turning the spotlight of public opinion on it. Sort of made us proud to be in the newspaper business."

DEMING, N. M., GRAPHIC: "According to Business Week Magazine, dated December 16, 1961, there are now 33 states with statutes on their books designed to attract industry. Add to that the lures offered industry by foreign countries such as Ireland, Japan, Hong Kong and others, lures that in many instances are supported by American tax dollars and our foreign aid program, and it must be concluded that it is a rough, rocky and upward road ahead for the community interested in attracting industry."

NOGALES, ARIZ., HERALD: "The Russians have indicated that they will superimpose the profit system upon their Communist economy. The purpose is to increase production by giving those involved a personal reason to produce better. So the Russians have comprehended at last that men work better and plan better when there is the incentive of bettering themselves. Meanwhile, at home, we who brought the profit system to its highest state of productivity, seem to be losing our grasp of the essential principle."

BRANSON, MO., LEADER: "Quoting Thomas Jefferson from memory. 'That government is best which governs least.' So Jefferson probably wouldn't be overly enthusiastic about our government today. His was one of the strongest voices in opposition to centralization of power in the federal government in the early years of the United States. Even the Hamiltons of that era would be appalled at the monster now reaching for the last freedoms left to Americans."

ALTOONA, PA., MIRROR: "In some sections of our nation the shackles that bind the minds of men have not as yet been entirely opened. Nor is the attempt to create new slave conditions abandoned in this year of our Lord 1962. There are those among us who would enslave vast portions of our population by taking away from them the very last vestiges of self-reliance. Under the guise of liberalism they seek to make millions of people subservient to their wishes through programs that at first glance appear to be for the welfare of those whom they would enslave. They want to feed them, clothe them, provide housing and medical care for them, but they expect in return obedience at the polls, so that their masters can even further enslave those who do work through taxes, dues and regulations."

OAKHURST, N. J., MONMOUTH MESSAGE: "A Labor Department survey revealed that in this decade the nation will face a skilled manpower 'squeeze' in the most desirable employee age bracket. With Government responsibilities increasing—in national defense, science, research, other areas—skilled handicapped citizens represent a reservoir of national resources."

GREAT FALLS, MONT., LEADER: "There is one thought that may not have occurred to you in regard to the recent thalidomide scare. The drug originated and was freely used in just two nations, England and Germany. These are the two nations which have the oldest and most deep rooted systems of socialized medicine. It just goes to show that under the crushing burden of nationalized medicine neither doctors nor scientists can exercise caution that is required in testing new drugs."

ALBERT LEA, MINN., TRIBUNE: "The United States government recently conducted a study of recreational habits in this country. It was the biggest study of its kind ever made. The government wants to know how best to plan to meet the recreational needs of this country. The answer to the question? Get ready for a surprise, for the major recreational activity of people in the United States is not swimming, walking, riding bikes or even baseball. It's riding around in the family car."

Blended And Buttered—For Breakfast!

A beautiful Sunday breakfast makes a beautiful start for the week! Here's one to be made in minutes with the aid of a blender, interesting recipes and a new buttered, maple syrup. Roll the hot pancakes around a mixture of two 3-oz. packages of cream cheese blended at high speed until creamy with 1/2 cup of buttered syrup. Top with brisk-flavored Cranberry Lemon Sauce.

- Oatmeal Pancake Rolls
- 1/4 cup Country Kitchen Buttered Syrup
 - 3/4 cup milk
 - 1 egg
 - 1/2 cup pancake mix
 - 1/2 cup quick rolled oats, uncooked
 - Cranberry Lemon Sauce

Place buttered syrup, milk, and egg in blender. Add pancake mix, and rolled oats. Turn to low speed and blend only until well mixed. Bake on a hot, lightly greased griddle, turning once. Spoon cream cheese mixture onto pancakes. Roll up and serve hot with Cranberry Lemon Sauce. Makes about 12 pancake rolls.

To make Cranberry Lemon Sauce: Remove seeds from 1/4 of a lemon. Put the lemon and 2 cups of fresh cranberries in blender. Start at low speed. Add 1 cup of buttered syrup and increase speed to high. Chill several hours to blend flavors. To serve, heat and use as topping for cheese-filled pancakes. Makes 2 1/4 cups.

DETOUR-KEYSVILLE

Greetings to you: Did you and yours have a grand Thanksgiving Day? I sincerely hope so. This is really the most important Family Day of the year for most of us, I believe, and from the news I've gathered for you this week, most folks agree with me. I'm sure many others also made it a family occasion for getting together. For those who, for some reason or other, could not be together, I hope they soon can be.

Two items from last week I did not have in time. They are: On Saturday the 17th, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide were dinner guests with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Roney of Springfield Farm in Williamsport, Md. That same evening Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Baile with Melvin, Jr., and Lisa of New Windsor, were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilhide and Denise.

The Keysville Lutheran Church Women will meet on Monday, December 3 at 7:30 P. M. for their White Gift Service. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. The Leaders for the evening are Mrs. Kathryn Coshun and Mrs. Ruth Wilhide. They will have for their program a Christmas Play. Specials will be selections by the Union Bridge Parish Brotherhood Chorus. All members are asked to bring cookies, as before, for refreshments.

December 10 will be the Covered Dish Social and Christmas Party for the United Church of Christ members in Keysville.

Last Wednesday the 21st, Mr. Claude Witherow—a cousin from Alexandria, Va., was a dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide along with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilhide and Denise.

The Terra Rubra Girls' 4-H Club will have their next meeting and Christmas Party on December 13 at the home of Joan Thomas. Names have been exchanged for gift-giving.

The Flower Committee for December at the Keysville Lutheran Church are Mrs. Mary Devilliss, Mrs. Rachael Bostian, Mrs. Doris Harner, Mrs. Mary Flohr and Mrs. Wayne Crum.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil (Bob) Priest and Angie of Forest and Stream Club Road were happy to have all their family together for Thanksgiving Dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Walter McWilliams of Mt. Airy, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schott and Martha of Starner's Dam, and Mr. and Mrs. Newell Devilliss of New Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stonesifer of Rockville were visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stonesifer of Keysville, from Thursday through Sunday.

A visitor from Monday to Saturday last week with Mr. and Mrs. Loren Austin of Detour was their son-in-law from Detroit, Mich., Mr. Danny Maltagliati. His wife, Fay, was unable to come with him at this time for a visit. Mr. Maltagliati and the Austins were Thanksgiving Dinner guests with their other daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baltzell of Union Bridge. Mr. Maltagliati is another person who is impressed with the friendliness of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clabaugh, Eleanor and Gregg, of Detour, were guests of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Forney and two daughters of New Cumberland, Pa., for Thanksgiving Day.

Unable to gather together on Thursday, Sunday found Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Buffington, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stambaugh and family, Mr. Elwood Kauffman and family, and Mr. John Buffington and daughter as dinner guests with their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas and family of Detour.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilhide and Denise had their Thanksgiving dinner with his parents and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, Jane and Beth. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide went to Clear Spring, Md., to join her family, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Siebert, Jimmy, Paul, Timmy, Marianne and Johnny. This family was also joined by the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Keefer Siebert. They were all happy to welcome Jimmy home from Frostburg for the holiday, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Ausherman, Lewis, Earl, and Possett joined his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore Ausherman and family of Frederick for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ritter of Littlestown, Pa., welcomed his brother and sisters and their families to their annual Thanksgiving Day dinner. There were 28 present and they included Mrs. William E. Ritter of Taneytown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ritter and family of Littlestown, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide of Keysville, Mr. and Mrs. John Harner, Brenda and Stephen of Taneytown, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baile, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Baile, Melvin, Jr., and Lisa of New Windsor and Mr. Robert Baile and friend, Jean, of Baltimore.

A group of hunters were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun and family of Keysville Road on Thanksgiving Day.

Other travelers on Thanksgiving Day were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of Keysville who were dinner guests with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Heaps, Patsy and Galen, of Street, Md. When they returned home, Patsy came with them. She visited until Sunday and then returned to Street.

Larry Dougherty visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty of Detour, from Wednesday until Sunday. This was the Thanksgiving vacation from Maryland University where Larry is studying Business Administration.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts have received word from Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hood of Franklin Grove, Ill., that they have arrived home safely. The Hoods visited with the Cluts for two weeks and had to leave for home during our siege of bad weather. They did have to drive through some rain and snow but reported that it was not too bad.

We, too, had company on that important Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. William Fleharty and children were joined by his mother, Mrs. Ralph Fleharty; his niece, Miss Kathryn (Kay) Fleharty; his aunt, Mrs. Edna Shacklett; her sisters, Misses Carol and Fay Wolfgang and Fay's friend, Fred, all of Washington, D.C. Also present from Pennsylvania were her father, step-mother, step-brother and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wolfgang and Stephen and Shawn. Saturday the 24th was the fifth birthday of Bruce, younger Fleharty son, but it was celebrated on Thanksgiving Day because all the family were together. This has become the custom since his first birthday and assures him a party every year.

Speaking of birthdays, November seems to be full of them. Two more of them I know about at present are Mrs. Gertrude Warner of Detour on the 10th and Mr. Maynard Ausherman of Forest and Stream Club Road on the 20th. Best wishes to both of you.

Saturday the 24th was also the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide of Keysville, and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Harner. To celebrate, the Harners treated the Wilhides to a seafood dinner at Basehars Restaurant in Littlestown. It is 36 years for Mr. and Mrs. Wilhide and 14 years for Mr. and Mrs. Harner. Congratulations to them all and many more anniversaries to them as well.

Do you like to shop in Hagersstown? Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun of Keysville Road were there last Saturday and reported that the two new discount stores, Miracle Mart and Town and Country, were well worth the trip. They have a big selection and prices were quite reasonable.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar of Forest and Stream Club Road were Mr. and Mrs. James Weishaar of Union Bridge, Miss Pat Shipley of Taneytown, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wildisa of Reisterstown. Randy, youngest son of the Weishaars, is on the sick list again with a bad cold. We hope he will soon be recovered and feel good as new.

Last Saturday a Sewing Workshop was held by Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Jane for the Terra Rubra 4-Hers who were close to their home. These were Debbie Grimes, Kathy and Patsy Kantros, Beverly Harding, Joan Thomas and Beth Wilhide.

Six couples journeyed to Baltimore Stadium on Sunday to see a football game between the Chicago Bears and the Baltimore Colts. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Baile. After the game they all returned to the home of the Bailes in New Windsor for supper. The score was 50-0.

Week-end guests with Mr. and Mrs. Hans Steffen were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eiker of Baltimore. On Saturday evening a Serenade was held in honor of Carl and Maria by a number of friends and neighbors.

I know you are all interested to hear about Mr. Clay Hahn who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and who was taken ill a week ago. My report today (Monday evening) is that Clay definitely had a stroke. He is in Frederick Memorial Hospital but is expecting to be sent to the Chronic Hospital in Hagersstown as soon as it can be arranged.

This is not the correct name of the hospital but Mrs. Wilhide did not know it right now. I'll have to give that to you later. His condition is improved but he is still far from well. The report is making the rounds that he has been paralyzed. This is not so. His left side shakes continuously as though palsied and he cannot control it, but there is no paralysis. Clay so appreciates cards and notes, I do hope you will respond by letting him hear from as many of you as possible. Do mail them with a 4c stamp on them so they can be forwarded if he is transferred before your card reaches the hospital. Thank you.

Saturday supper guests with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Ausherman, were Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Ausherman with Curtis and Teresa from Taneytown. Sunday visitors in this same home were Mrs. John Bowman of Wheaton, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Horcamp and two boys of Hyattsville and Mr. and Mrs. John Ammenheuser and two boys of Frederick. Mrs. Bowman is the mother and Mrs. Horcamp the sister of Mrs. Ausherman.

There's a new telephone number for Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Dick) DeBerry of Detour. It is 775-2473. Their daughter, Nancy Lee, is the Avon Representative for this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilhide, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Mr. Clarence Hahn of Detour were visitors on Thursday evening with Clay Hahn. After leaving the hospital, these folks also called on Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Engel in their new apartment in Frederick. Friday afternoon visitors with Clay were Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Mrs. Bessie Myers of Detour.

Mrs. Hugh Engel, the former Miss Rebecca Wilhide and a nurse at the Frederick Memorial Hospital, is working on the same floor where Clay is a patient. This is a cheering thing to him to have a familiar and friendly person so near by. He will certainly miss "Becky" when he goes to Hagersstown.

Word was received by Mrs. John Harner that her cousin, Sandra Fry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Fry of Baltimore, had a small cyst under her chin removed.

Family Sunday was observed on the 25th at Keysville Lutheran Church and it was good to see so many families joined together for this occasion. Many were from out-of-town and came to be with their folks. For instance, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stonesifer of Rockville, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McWilliams of Mt. Airy, Miss Patsy Heaps of Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Newell Devilliss of New Windsor. The Key Club of Taneytown High School also attended the Service together. At this time, Mrs. Richard Wilhide was accepted into our Church by Letter of Transfer from her home church in Clear Spring, Md. Goodness, all this news and still no report on the Tupperware sales as I promised last week. On Sunday evening Mrs. Lee called and gave me the report of $282.41 sold to date. Isn't that grand? Less than twenty dollars in orders yet and we could hit the grand total of $300.00. As you know the 15 per cent profit goes to the Keysville Lutheran Building Fund. If there is anything you need or have forgotten, orders will still be accepted until December 8. They will be filled about two weeks later. This profit, plus the several donations given by others interested but not needing Tupperware at the moment, will net us a goodly sum to present to the Building Fund very shortly.

A 25th Wedding Anniversary party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Currens of near Hampstead for her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Siegman of Long Green, Sunday. Those from here who were present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide.

Mr. Herman Steffen, Mr. Ronald Keyton, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilhide and Denise, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide were among those who attended an APY meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wentz in Harney. The topic for the evening was "Our Respected Progress."

This week in closing, I want to say Thank You to each and everyone of you who has donated news items to me. Several people when telling me their news have asked me—when I ask if I may use it for the column—what the boundaries are. As far as I'm concerned, there are none. The name of this column is my own area. If you are a member of the Churches in Keysville, or were at one time a resident in the nearby area and have good friends and relatives still here or who have, perhaps, moved away but have the paper mailed to them to keep up with local doings, your news is important and as such I'm glad to use any and all items and appreciate your getting them to me. As you know, from my first column, I only promised to write this once a month unless you responded by contributing items and letting me know that you wanted it to continue. Believe me, I am amazed at the response I've received and at the wide area this column reaches. My husband teases me about the size of it and how often I've written it already for a once-a-month-columnist, but there you can see the interest that there is in it. Do, please, keep the items coming into me and I shall be happy to use them. After all, what you do and where you go for an occasion is news to all your friends and relatives who are interested in you. Again, my thanks!

FAIRVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock spent Thanksgiving Day in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adkins and family near Keymar.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl and sons entertained in their home on Sunday afternoon the following to a birthday celebration: Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frock of York Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frock and son, Steven, and daughter, Debra, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adkins and daughters, Mary Catherine and Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Carl and son, James, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock. It appears quite a number of youngsters did not enjoy Thanksgiving Day as much as they would of liked to due to being quite sick on that day. We hope all have fully recovered by this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Selby and Mrs. Grant Baker spent Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Duble and son of Keysville.

We were sorry to learn of the fire which I understand destroyed the house owned by Mr. William Baker and tenanted by Mr. Ohler near Trevanion located on the Nusbarn Road. My great-aunt used to live there when I was a little girl. Miss Ida Angell lived on one side and the Baker family lived on the other. It was always a great pleasure to go there to visit. This was quite a number of years ago.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

Some one was complaining the other day that we haven't had Indian Summer yet and we reminded them that some years there is no Indian Summer and then some years it doesn't appear until late December. In 1941 Indian Summer made its appearance Christmas week and on Christmas Day the temperature reached 80 degrees here in Maryland. No one seems to know why the term "Indian Summer" is used to refer to any warm break in the weather after September. There is a story that the name comes from an Indian belief that the season was brought into being by a benevolent wind from the Court of their great god, Cautantowit. Another Indian story is that the Great Spirit gave an Indian Summer to a tribe that had been lax in bringing in its harvest. The Indians remorseful and faced with starvation when Winter set in, were given the warmth of Indian Summer in which to gather their crops and survive the real Winter which followed. Whether this is true or not, we do know, but a great many people today put off doing the last Fall chores until Indian Summer has come and gone. Sometimes their confidence in the Indian Summer legend is shaken when no warm spell in the weather appears and they find themselves bringing in fire-wood, harvesting the last corn, or mending a roof with snow flakes falling and the North wind whistling in all its fury.

A cartoon was recently published in the American Medical Association Journal which showed a doctor holding a new-born baby up by its heels and talking to it. In the background, "Dr. Makewell is of the new school of medicine . . . he doesn't spank the baby, he reasons

TWO CONCERTS

The Carroll County Board of Education announces that the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra will play two concerts on December 3, 1962, for the benefit of school children throughout the county. The concerts have been arranged with the cooperation of the Carroll County Symphony Organization headed by Mrs. Allen Dewey, Linboro.

The Symphony is conducted by Mr. Peter Herman Adler, who has been with the organization for a number of years and is the theme of the program is "Around the World With Music." The program, as planned, has an appeal for all age children from first grade through the senior high school.

The first concert, scheduled for 9:45 A. M. on December 3, will be for pupils of the Westminster Jr. High School and the William Winchester Elementary School. A total audience in excess of 1,000 pupils will attend. The second concert is scheduled for 10:45 A. M. and includes the West End, Westminster Sr. High, East End, and Manchester Elementary School. An audience of approximately the same number is expected for the second concert.

Another day is planned for the orchestra to appear in the county for the benefit of school pupils and this has been scheduled for February 25. The remainder of the schools in the county will be invited to attend the February concert. It has not been possible to schedule all schools on the same day due to the limited capacity of the auditorium.

Thanksgiving Day parade sponsored by Macys store in New York City. The band put on a good show in spite of the dreary weather and the national commentators remarked about their smart appearance. Also enjoying some well earned praise were the parents and community which worked behind the scenes to inspire and encourage the band and its leader, Bruce Wisner.

Prestige seems to mean so much to most Americans but do you know that the things that count as prestige items change with the years? Some years back if you could brag that you had turkey for Thanksgiving dinner your prestige barometer went sailing up and up. Now its turkey every Sunday and who brags about it?

The hunting season opened last week and I suddenly knew how the pheasants, the rabbits and all the wild game felt after a gunshot went off right behind me while I was hanging up some laundry. Looking around I could see no one but from a nearby woods the shots continued. Our dog Mike, was in a frenzy when three dogs suddenly started yapping and working their way in our direction. Suddenly, I decided that the laundry was not so important and calling to Mike we retreated to the safety of the kitchen. Just in time too, for the came across our garden and at the corner of the garden and woods, shot me how thoughtless and amaze me how thoughtless and ill-mannered a man becomes with a gun in his hand. Hunting is classified as a sport, but from what we have observed there is nothing sporting about it. We would like to see the time come when hunting would only be permitted on game preserves and then the fee set so high that most people couldn't afford to hunt. This sounds drastic, but something has to be done to protect the life and safety of the non-hunters.

The members of the Union Bridge Literary Club were entertained at a dessert tour of the Historical House, Westminster by Mrs. A. Millard Roelke on Sat., Nov. 17. Eleven members and four guests attended. Miss Jane Griffin gave an informative commentary on the Historical House and the furnishings.

We have several correctly printed Dag Hammarskjold commemorative stamps. We are going to take the advice of the Baltimore Sun and save them, for in time their value may increase much more than the controversial mis-printed ones. This gives me a chance to write something on the subject of commemorative stamps which needs to be said. There are just too many of them. We still prefer the simple Lincoln stamp to all the beautiful ones commemorating everything from motherhood to Christmas. There is no need for all the stamps flooding the market and upsetting people like the recent ruckus over the Dag Hammarskjold stamp, which in this instance the Post Master General was wrong in printing more stamps to offset the first mistake. Stamp Collectors are the only people who welcome a new stamp, not the average person who buys stamps simply to put on mail he is sending. And he wants a stamp to fit on an average envelope and not one that is so large he has no space left for the address.

Since Thanksgiving is over I keep asking myself how I really feel about Christmas. Maybe too many holidays plus middle age is making me less enthusiastic about pushing through traffic to shop for the same kind of gifts. Maybe the trees and lights don't have the same glitter and charm through bifocals as they did when we had 20-20 vision and maybe science has taken the awe and wonder away from the Christmas story, but something has happened to the old way of keeping Christmas that just doesn't seem in tune with the changing world. Maybe we are just tired of the gaudy show at Christmas and wish to return to the true meaning of the holiday.

The fire department in a small community in a New England state was having trouble recruiting volunteers. They solved the problem by watching all able bodied male spectators that came out to watch the fires and made a list of their names. Every man whose name appears three times on the list is automatically drafted by the mayor to serve as a volunteer fireman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gordon of Broomall, Pa., visited friends in Union Bridge, Taneytown and Uniontown over the week-end.

"America's Ray of Magic"

as he was called by the Bristol Evening Post

Returned by British Overseas Airways Corporation airlines, leaving London Airport on October 29th, arriving in New York on October 30th in New York City. He met newspaper men to discuss a trans-atlantic experiment in metal telepathy conducted between England's Tony Griffith, the News Editor of the Bristol Evening Post Michael Hardcastle and Mike Donelli, one of England's favorite slight-of-hand artists who will attest to the genuine mental aspect of the experiment rather than trickery or magic.

The British Broadcasting Corporation also had a representative attending the office of the Bristol Evening Post where the experiment was conducted with one of the leading editors and reporters of an American paper as witnesses, who verified that Raymond does not contact or talk with Mr. Griffith during the entire experiment in which he will admit to receiving a thought wave of a selected card across the Atlantic Ocean.

Ray-Mond was photographed with his Worship, the Mayor of Brighton, Alderman W. H. C. Button, Justice of the Peace, and his Lady, the Mayoress, Mrs. Button, in which he demonstrated one of his special experiments to his Worship the Mayor.

Ray-Mond left the United States on August 25th aboard S. S. United States and landed five days later in Southampton, on August 30th. From there he spent a week with in-laws in Bristol prior to his tour of principal cities in Britain—Bath, Wells, Gloucester, Brighton and London. His tour also included Paris, France, Rotterdam and Amsterdam in Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany.

Returning to London he was guest of honour at the Bristol Society of the Magic Circle, where he presented his version of many of the American tricks as well as his own creations.

A most delightful week was spent at the International Brotherhood of Magicians' 26th Annual Convention at Brighton where magicians from 16 countries exchanged ideas and mystified one another with their own interpretations of magic.

Ray-Mond returned to the States where he accepted a limited number of engagements for the holidays.

Afraid Of Colors?

"Too many people fear color," states Faber Birren, international color authority, "and this is particularly true in color selections for the home."

Modern research into the emotional reactions of color on thousands of people, he points out, has proved that off-white or beige (the usual choice for home decorating) creates far more mental strain than the use of prominent or rich color combinations.

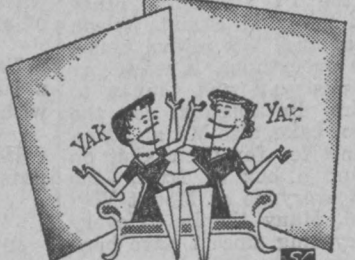

Be bold with lively, gay colors in the children's game or playroom, he advises parents. Happy and merry tones are favorites of youngsters and encourages them schemes frighten you! For example, use a variety of strong colors such as shades of red, pumpkin or coral. These are typical of the lively, warm tones that help stimulate people, make them talk and feel animated.

Color expert Birren has developed a number of helpful hints for "timid" home decorators who are really not confident in their ability to select bright and cheerful color schemes. He strongly recommends a visit to the local Dutch Boy paint dealer where you may freely borrow their new 139-page Color Harmonizer guide for on-the-spot home consultation. The book contains large swatches of basic wall colors with suggested harmonizing colors for accessories, as well as actual rug samples in eight popular colors.

Decorator's Advice:

Make the Most of Wood To Add 'Warmth' to Rooms

A red-and-white striped shade attached inside the wood window frames matches the decorative canopy over this cheerful breakfast nook. White batiste is stretched over the window panes in the panel door, then gathered with a center tie-back.

"Use lots of wood windows, and let the wood show as much as possible, if you want to give a room a happy look," advises Lee Berman.

Mrs. Berman, who is a partner in the firm of Aronin-Berman Associates, New York interior decorators and designers, says that one of the best ways to make a room comfortable, cheerful, and practical is to make the most of windows.

"I like to use livable materials for a feeling of what I call formal informality, and wood windows fall in this category," she says. "When windows are attractive, we often leave them almost completely exposed. For example, on double-hung wood windows with many small panes, I may stretch batiste tightly on rods placed inside the frames at the top and bottom of the window, leaving most of the wood exposed. A narrow tie around the center of the stretched curtain also exposes some of the grillework. The wood, whether painted or stained, is an important decorating element in the room."

"If a house has metal windows, we usually cover them with wood frames to give them a warm look."

Tiebacks for curtains and draperies are very popular these days, says Mrs. Berman, and so are window shades. Both of these window treatments make wood windows important, since they expose the framing sections. "It's very easy to install window shades on wood windows, leaving the frames exposed," she notes.

Mrs. Berman points out that most of the windows she and her partner work with are stock units of ponderosa pine that come from building material dealers ready to install.

"We use wood all the time for a variety of effects," Mrs. Berman says. "We recently did a children's room, using black burlap on one wall and a patterned paper on the others. The wood floor was stained red and wood shutters were stained a dark natural color. The wood windows were painted red. With lots of good artificial lighting and plenty of daylight when the shutters are open, it's a very happy-looking, red-white-and-black room that's quite warm."

Food Fixed Ahead of Time Turns Housewife Into Hostess

What homemaker isn't a hostess at Christmastime? And what hostess wouldn't relish the chance to relax and join her guests before dinner, not only at Christmastime, but all year long?

The gift of a new electric refrigerator-freezer will help her do just that. Because it has generous storage space for both fresh and frozen foods, she can always be ready in advance for planned parties, unannounced callers and family meals on busy days.

For instance, as Christmas approaches, she can make pies, cookies, breads, sauces, and soups to be kept in the zero-zone freezer section. Even the stuffing can be made ahead and frozen, provided it's not tucked into the turkey until roasting day.

Other treats — egg nog, cranberry sauce, hard sauce, plum pudding, carrot curls and celery — can also be made in advance and stored in the roomy refrigerator section.

Among the features of today's combination refrigerator-freezers that help make hosting easier are automatic ice makers, compartments that keep butter spreadable, big crispers to keep salad greens and vegetables fresh a week or more, and specially cooled compartments to hold lunch and dinner meats for days without freezing.

Many of the new electric refrigerator-freezers never need defrosting, even in the freezer

The turkey's ready in the freezer section and there's plenty more room in this new electric refrigerator-freezer for everyday family meals as well as special holiday fare.

section. This saves the time and drudgery of scraping, collecting pans of water, and mopping up afterwards. It also makes frozen foods easy to identify and to remove from the freezer.

The homemaker with a bountiful refrigerator-freezer well-filled with both delicacies and daily fare will enjoy the holidays more this year, right along with her family and friends.

FUN OF GIVING

Children learn to enjoy giving as well as receiving when they make the presents themselves. Even little girls can bake simple cookies, decorate and box them at Christmas time, with Mother's help, of course.

PARTY PEP-UP

Parties will be peppier if the air's fresh. Turn the room air conditioner on to "exhaust" during holiday parties to rid the room of stale, smoky air without freezing your guests.

Home for God

Lesson for December 2, 1962

HERE we have five sentences translated from a letter written to a church, a good nineteen centuries ago. And yet the word "Church" is not used in these sentences, though the thing is there from beginning to end. It is a good thing he did not use the word "church" because otherwise we might think (as we so often do) of an organization or a building. Paul, who wrote this letter, never saw what we would call a church edifice, something that photographs nicely and "looks like a church." So he never wrote about buildings. Paul never went beyond what nowadays should be called the "skeleton" organization of his churches; so he was all but silent about what we would call "structure" and "form" in the church. Paul was concerned with something more profound, something more basic. He is speaking to a community of the friends of Christ. He is speaking to people who have had a Christian experience and live Christian lives. How they are related to one another and how they are related to God; this is the basic thing that makes a church; not organization or the kind of place where they worship and study.

Without Christ, what?

The reader is invited to study these five sentences (Eph. 2:11-22) to see what they mean to him. By way of suggestion, the following thoughts may serve as a guideline. Sentence 1: Eph. 2:11-12. Paul reminds his readers what their status used to be, and it was a pretty low one. Indeed a lower state could hardly be pictured; separated from Christ, separated from God's people, strangers to God's promises (they had probably never read the Bible), without hope and without God. Notice that Paul puts together two separations: from Christ, and from the "commonwealth of Israel"—that is to say, the association of the people who know God, and desire to do his will. To be cut off from God's Son and cut off from God's children, is all the same thing. To say (as some have tried to say): I want to be a Christian but not to belong to the church, is the same as saying: I want to have the love of Christ but I do not wish to share it. It is the same as saying: I love Christ but I do not love those whom he loves. Anyone can see how inconsistent that is.

He is our Peace

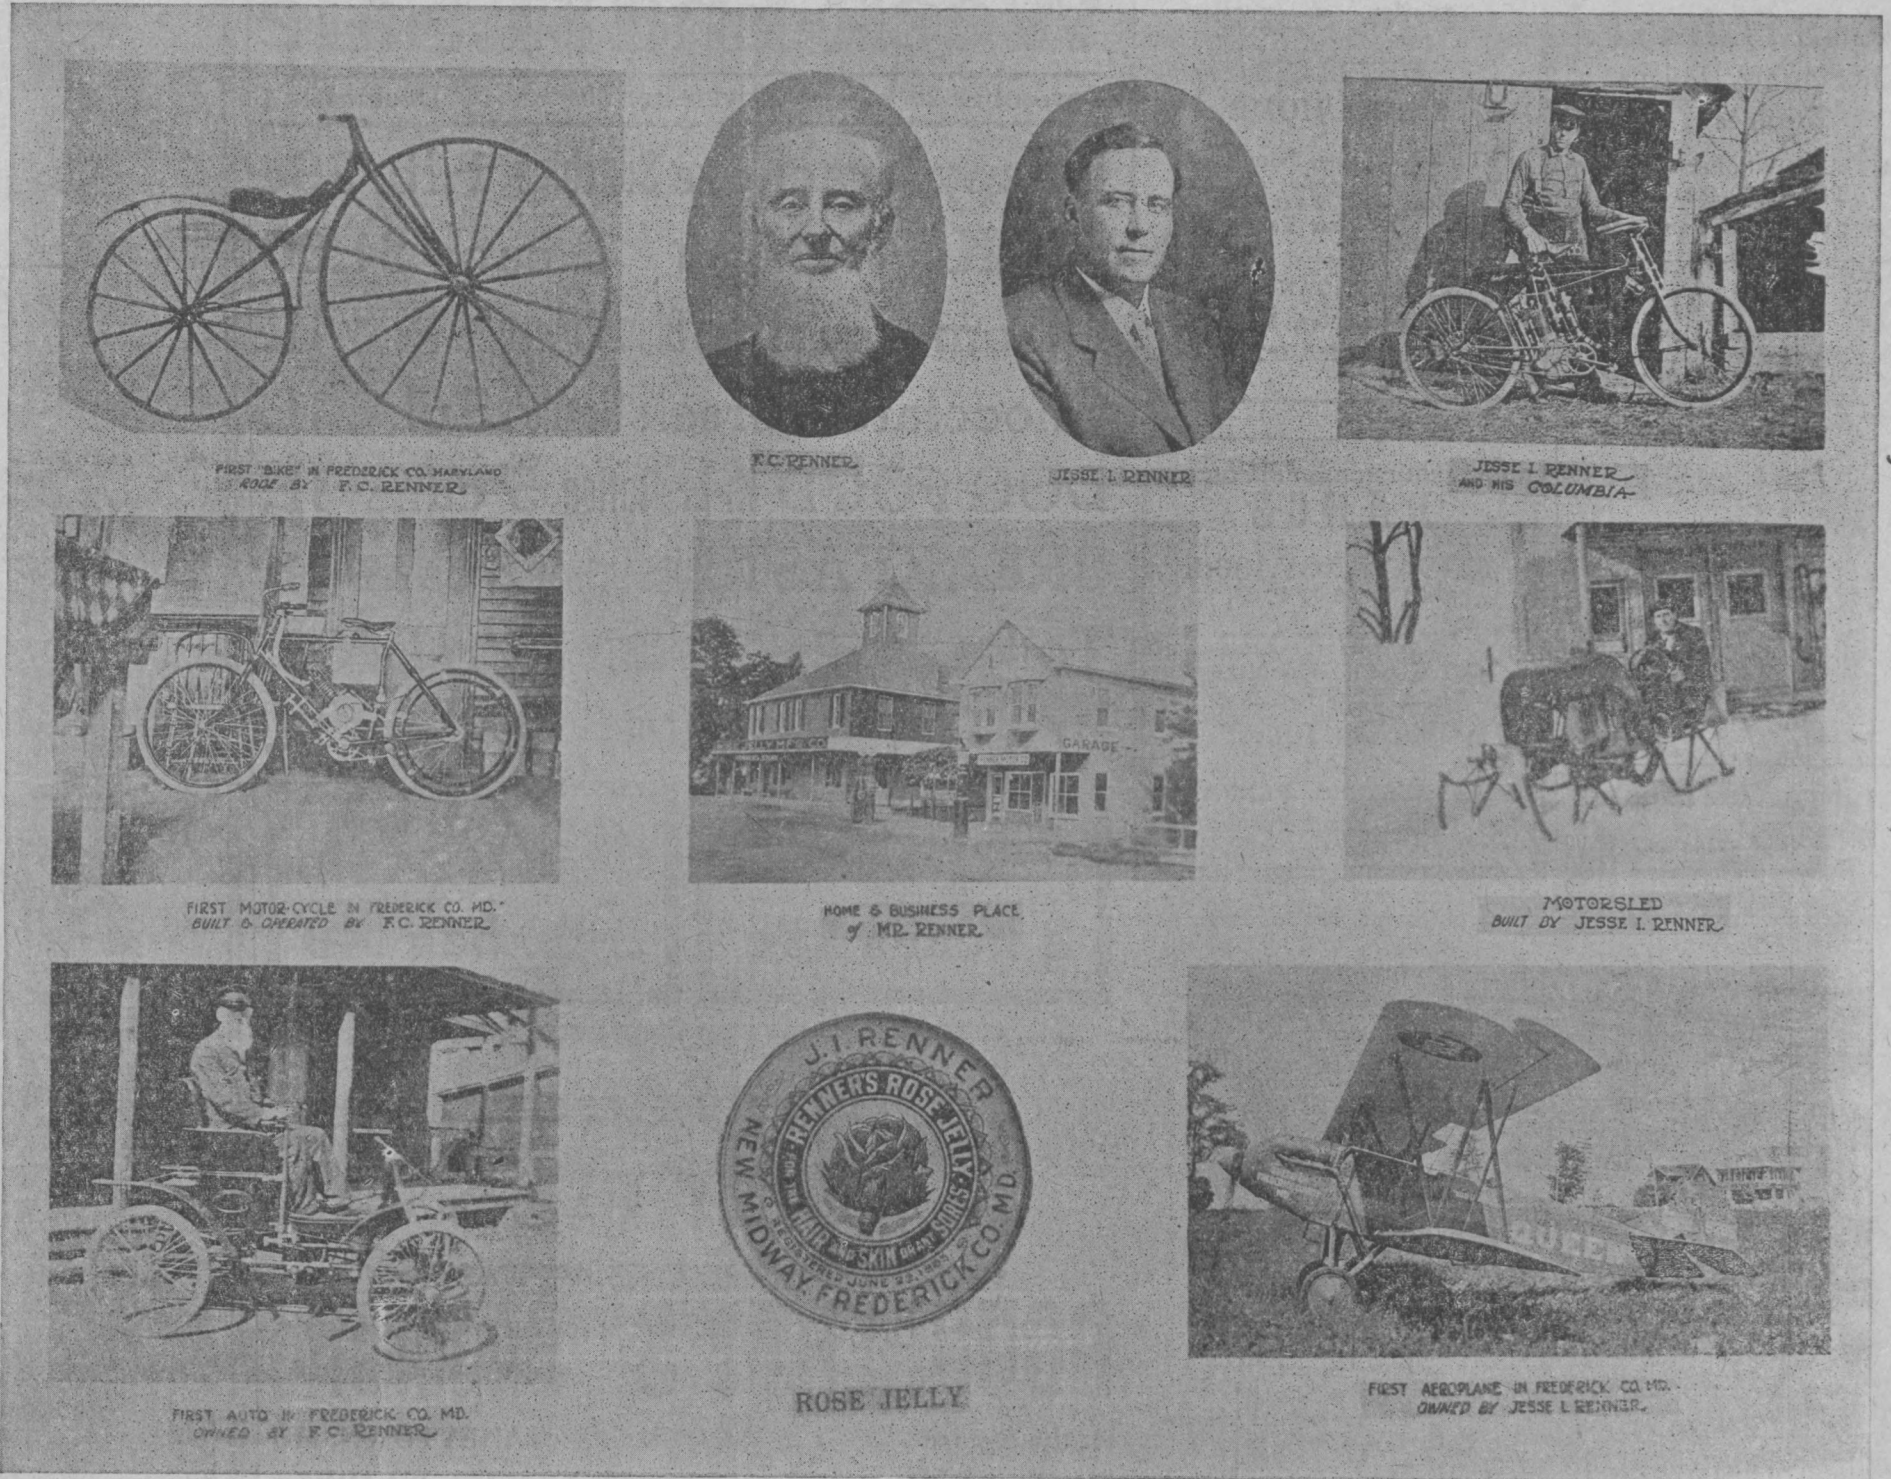

Now for Sentence 2: verse 13. The key words are "in Christ Jesus" and "brought near in the blood of Christ." We are members of Christ's fellowship, not because we belong to the fellowship in the beginning but because our relation to Christ puts us into right relations with one another. To put this another way: we are not Christians because we are church members. We are church members because we are Christians. Two strangers on a bus may find that they are both friends of the same person. This at once links their lives and minds; the stronger their affection for their mutual friend, the stronger their attraction to each other. And if this friend of each of these (hitherto) strangers has risked his life for each of them, their bond is stronger still. What links Christian to Christian, believer to believer, is that Christ gave his life for each of them.

Sentence 3: verses 14-16. Christ is "our peace." The underlying and almost unspoken reality here is the bitter race prejudice between Jew and Gentile. Paul is saying that Christ is the one bond strong enough to bring together in harmony people—individuals and classes—who "naturally" are bitter and scornful enemies. Sentence 4: verses 17-18. Men who had in times past prayed against each other, so to speak, prayed selfishly, now pray in one Spirit to the same Father.

A place for God to live

Sentence 5: verses 19-22. Paul now leaves with us a simple picture that a child can understand. The church—the fellowship of those Christ loves—is like a building. Not just any building, but a residence for God. One brick does not make a home; no brick is without its place and use. The church—the people who make it up, who are the church—is a home for God on this earth.

A Little History Concerning the Automotive Industry in Frederick County, Maryland
Francis C. Renner, the patentee of the famous "Rose Jelly," made and rode the first bicycle, also the first motorcycle, in Frederick county. Then he purchased a

Crest automobile which he operated successfully 6 years. At this time his son, Jesse I. Renner, reached the age of 15 when he purchased a motorcycle and started in with his father. He immediately built a motor sled and continued in the automobile business, and in 1928 he bought and flew the "Queen of Frederick County," being the first plane to Frederick County's credit. Jesse I. Renner still continues the manufacture of the Rose Jelly and maintains a Ford Sales and Service Garage and General Merchandise Store at New Midway, Maryland.

This is where the Rose Jelly was made and sold after the fire that two men set to the house in which the first Rose Jelly was made. It was first made in the year 1884, patented June 26, 1885, then in 1903 Mr. F. Renner made a new salve. It was called Renner's Ointment Salve. This salve was made special for Mr. Pearly Wood of Rocky Ridge who had two kinds of skin poisoning. Mr. F. C. Renner took a magnifying glass and found out what was the trouble then made this salve. Mr. Wood was a fireman at the Frederick Brick Co. when he got this poison on his face for five years and Renner's Ointment healed it up in two years. After that he lived three years then was taken sick and died. His widow moved to York, Pa. This salve is not poison in the least; it can be taken internal or external, any way you like, for it is safe and harmless. It is a cure and help for what ever you want to get relief from. This Salve Rose Jelly and Renner's Ointment was the first on the market. There is the rose, the blossom and the bud. The bud is not open, rose is just getting ready to open, whereas the blossom is already open to give off their sweet odor. What we put inside is what counts and our salve is patented and copyrighted. The salve will be in the Renner's name as long as a Renner lives. From Mr. F. C. Renner's relations to his generations it will be willed to this effect. We have the best salve on the market. You know borax won't heal any thing but it will wash and clean. It surely does make clothes white and with a sweet odor. Well we thank you all for reading the papers. Rose Jelly Mfg. Co., New Midway, Md.; Renner's Salve Co., Keymar, Md. Both salves are the best and first on the market.—Advertisement

I, Samuel Renner, have taken a part of my father's business; the part that healed and cured Mr. Pearly Wood of Rocky Ridge, Md. My father made a special salve for him. He was a fireman and a workman at the Maryland Frederick Brick Co. and he had two kinds of poison over his face and body. His face was as red as raw meat and it would peel off then it would get real red.
Mrs. Augusta Jordan from Alabama has used Renner's Salve for toothache and here is what she says about it. "Mr. Renner, your Salve is the best for toothache. I have never had anything to stop the ache so fast. The ache and pain are gone the minute I put the Salve on it. I also use your Salve on my hair; you can surely see the difference. I won't be without it; I want to keep it on hand. I remain and thank you, Mrs. Augusta Jordan, Alabama."
