KEYSVILLE LUTHERAN WHITE GIFT SERVICE

The LCW began their meeting Monday evening by singing "Come All Ye Faithful" followed by Kathryn Coshun reading the Scripture from Luke 2:1-14. A play, Christmas in Other Lands, was given by the following people: Mrs. Mildred Stine, Mrs. Florence Blanchfield, Mrs. Agnes Rood, Mrs. Doris Harner and Mrs. Ruth Wilhide, in a setting of a typical modern American home. During the play "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" was sung by all and Ruth Wilhide offered the prayer. The Lutheran Brotherhood sang two numbers, "Joy to the World" and "Silent Night, Holy Night."

This meeting was followed by the White Gift Service. Mrs. Ellen Kiser made opening remarks and Mrs. Clara Clabaugh brought "Echoes of Last Year's Gifts." Mrs. Vallie Baumgardner and Mrs. Elizabeth Myers were the acolytes. This service is conducted by candlelight and is very impressive. AUTO FATALITIES

Alcohol was a contributing factor in eight out of eleven deaths on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey made by the Maryland State Police.

Four of those killed were drivers; three were passengers; and four were pedestrians.

Of the 272 highway deaths during the past twenty-one weeks, alcohol has been a contributing factor in 44 per cent.

"The magnitude of the alcohol problem from the standpoint of highway safety is such," said Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the State Police, "as to demand positive action without delay."

"Besides a continuous educational effort to alert all operators of the hazard and what to do about it," he said, "legislation must be provided to make tests mandatory for those suspected of driving under the influence of alcohol."

One of the first things a man notices in a backward nation is that children are still obeying their parents.

Mayor and City Council Meet

Free Parking for Christmas Shopping Granted

The regular monthly meeting of the Mayor and City Council was held on Monday night, December 3rd, with all members in attendance.

The Council wishes to gratefully acknowledge a gift of five (5) doz. colored light bulbs from Mr. George Angell. These will be used to supplement our supply of bulbs which are used in the Christmas street lighting arrangement.

Wantz Bros. Inc., being low bidder, were awarded the contract to lay 502 feet of new water main from the end of George Street extended to the Robert Polley residence. This action will eliminate two dead ends and is intended to increase water pressure in this area. This is another step in the over-all program to eventually eliminate all dead ends in Taneytown's water system.

The Treasurer reported a balance of $40,004.02 in the General Account and $5,688.46 in the Parking Meter Fund.

The public is hereby advised that free parking privileges are granted throughout the metered area from December 14th through December 25th to enable you to shop leisurely without being concerned about your parking meter.

The snow removal contract was renewed with Thurston Putman.

A change in the Water Ordinance was approved to become effective Jan. 1, 1963.

The change is in Section II Paragraph 1B. The paragraph previously read "The word 'Customer' shall mean the applicant for service receiving water at one household or place of business." It now reads "The word 'Customer' shall mean the applicant for service receiving water at one household, apartment, house trailer, or place of business."

Every effort will be made to notify those persons affected by this change prior to January 1st.

MEETING OF 4-H CLUB

The "Hoof-Beat 4-H Saddle Club" held its third meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shirley, local leaders, near Frizellburg on Saturday, December 1, at 9:30 A. M.

Before the meeting Mr. Shirley gave the club a quiz on the parts of a horse and proceeded by handing out of papers on parts of horses and their tack. The meeting was then called to order by president Jackie Stonesifer, followed by the 4-H pledge and motto. Ginny Jones, secretary, read the minutes which were approved then called the roll and collected dues.

For the program we were honored to have Betty Stonesifer, member of the Taneytown Agricultural 4-H Club, give a demonstration on the proper ways of making and keeping a record book.

President Stonesifer then led in discussion of old and new business.

Mr. Shirley reported that the committee with Bonnie Hess, chairman; Jackie Stonesifer and Joan Strine had decided to deposit the club's money in the Union National Bank.

Ginny Jones reminded the club that there will be a trail ride at her home on December 15. Cards will be sent out to the members telling the proper time and directions to her home.

A motion was then made to form a committee of Ginny Jones, Mrs. Robert Shirley, Linda Griswold, Beverly Abbott and Nancy Kennedy to plan for a Christmas party after the trail ride on December 15.

The club decided to have a bake sale Friday, December 7, from 5 to 9 P. M. at the Shopping Center in Westminster in front of the G-I Laundry. Each member is to bring some baked goods.

The next meeting place will be decided at a later date.

KIWANIS KLAXON

An interesting and instructive meeting by the local Lions Club with the local Kiwanis Club as their guests was held at the Taney Inn Tuesday evening, November 27.

A sumptuous banquet for which the Taney Inn is so famous was served to and enjoyed by approximately 60 Lions, Kiwanians and guests.

The chair, after a word of welcome to the Kiwanis Club, introduced Mr. Murray Baumgardner, who welcomed and introduced a sextet of six young ladies from the Taneytown High School and their musical director. These fine young ladies treated the audience to numbers that displayed a range of voice and musical ability with a perfect tempo that brought prolonged applause.

Mr. Baumgardner then introduced Mr. Dunham, manager of the Taneytown office of the Potomac Edison Company. Mr. Dunham gave a brief talk on speech-making and elocution confessing that he had recently completed a Dale Carnegie Course in public speaking. The success of this course was very obvious and the selection of adjectives outstanding as the ripple of linguistic music permeated the atmosphere with a sound somewhat akin to pounding on an inverted washtub with a rubber boot. Oh! Pardon our error, we mean it sounded like the music of the tinkling silver bells on a quiet summer evening as the shadows are falling over the valley of Peace and Rest.

However Mr. Dunham did offer for the entertainment and the special feature of the evening a demonstration of light as he introduced two fine young men, technicians from the Frederick office of the Potomac Edison.

This demonstration and display of lights and modern lighting brought to our mind the mystery of light, that agent, action or force in nature by the operation of which upon the organ of sight, objects are rendered visible or luminous.

There are few words in the English language that cannot be defined, among this number is "Light." To define a word is to tell all there is to know about it, but who can tell you anything about light and be quite sure of being correct? Theories exist. Light was formerly regarded as consisting of material particles or corpuscles, sent off in all directions from luminous bodies and traversing space in right lines with the (known?) velocity of 186,300 miles per second; but it is now generally understood (not proven) to consist, not in any actual transmission of particles or substance, but in the propagation of vibrations or undulations in a subtle elastic medium, or ether, assumed to pervade all space and to be thus set in vibratory motion by the action of luminous bodies. This is known as the "Undulatory or Wave Theory" but is just a theory.

Newton, the great physicist, advocated the corpuscular emission or Newtonian theory. Another theory. The newest is the electro-magnetic theory which consists of electrical oscillations in space. More theory.

Unable to define it we can only say we need more light even though Mr. Webster gives 47 different ways in which the word is used as a noun; 65 ways it is used as an adjective, verb, adverb or gerund and 26 ways it is used in compound words such as "light soil," "light-headed," etc.

But the light in your home, your business, is the type of light that is vitally interesting to you as an individual or a business man and the demonstration of what modern science has accomplished in this day and age is astounding.

When we think of the cave man with a wispy of twisted grass in an open pan, sputtering and smoking or the Roman with his little spouted oil vessel with a protruding wick from its spout still smoking and sputtering and then the man who invented and perfected the lamp chimney after kerosene was discovered and developed near Titusville, Pa., thus eliminating the smoke and sputtering and producing a light termed brilliant and even; then Thomas A. Edison with his hair-pin in a bottle giving light by pushing a button connected with a wire, what strides man has made, but the great jump to the fluorescent light of today, with its many variations in color, intensity and dependability all bespeak the fact that some day we may be able to define it.

Brighter lights for homes, for business enterprises, controlled lights for display, for color, for medical and hospital purposes all tell the story of man's progress and may the future be made brighter by the corporations and companies whose research and development of electrical power and lighting aid in dispelling the gloom and activating mankind to undreamed of heights of brotherhood, citizenship and service.

We thank the Lions Club, the Potomac Edison Company and Mr. Dunham for a very pleasant and instructive evening.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

This month, this column is just 15 years old and Your Observer still possesses the very first Column and those every week all down through the years! Thank you and you and you for all the lovely and confidential letters during that time and the calls to my home by phone calls and in person!

Well, all the time we thought it was the Pilgrims who originated the harvest festival upon landing and giving Thanks to God; according to the article in the Baltimore News Post, the story of the real "First Thanksgiving" is to be found in the 16th and 17th chapters of the Old Testament Book of DEUTERONOMY. The instructions Moses gave to the Jews for a holiday to be held exactly seven weeks after they began harvesting their crop in the Promised Land. The purpose of the land Moses said was to "rejoice in all the good which the Lord our God Has Given to you and your household." Moses was explicit about the manner in which the children of Israel were to show their gratitude. "You shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground which you harvest," he said, "and you shall put it in a basket." The basket was to be taken to the Altar of God's House for dedication. It's contents then were to be distributed among widows, orphans and others who had no harvest of their own. The Thanksgiving we celebrate is a far cry from the one Moses planned more than 3,000 years ago! The turkey dinners and football games which he probably would have considered irrelevant to such an occasion.

How very democratic it was of the Roosevelt family to acknowledge the cards and letters I sent to that dear "First Lady of the World" during her illness. Mrs. Eleanor delano Roosevelt. Not just from Hyde Park but from the apartment she held in New York City.

What a strange thing happened to me which really was unusual. I alighted a bus in Baltimore and when I opened my hand-bag realized, I only had a bill which the motorman said he could not change, so I told him that I would get off the next block and run into a store to change it when just as quickly a lady arose and coming forward placed the quarter in the box for my fare! I had a time to get her name and address but I succeeded and then sent her the stamps. See what I mean, Folks when you ride along with the Masses instead of alone in the auto?

Mrs. Housewife, now comes a "Thrill" and that from Proctor and Gamble. That is the name of it all in pink just for your dishes and for you always to have hands that anyone will love to hold!! Delightful is the word!

Now Teen-Agers—when the show with Elvis Presley stars in—"Girls, Girls, Girls," arrives at your neighborhood theatre do go to see it for it is just for you and you.

The other day I drove to the "Dutch Village" off the Loch Raven Blvd. and as I walked up the middle of the street right there, I really thought I was in Holland! Go see for yourself for it will really fascinate you.

Now, here's to the prospective "Home Buyer" as to the house having GAS HEAT. Do not buy it unless they install for you a completely Automatic Atomizing Humidifier. I guarantee you that due to the little cost that the Housing Development will not refuse that one. This is terribly necessary where gas heat is concerned as there is such a dryness in the air that it affects the throat. So be sure and demand that one, Mr. and Mrs. Home Buyer. That should really be placed on in every gas unit immediately.

Well, Folks until next week-end D. V. always remember that a good conscience is for the Soul that good health is for the body!

I am,
Faithfully,

SPECIAL MEETING BOARD OF EDUCATION

A special meeting of the Board of Education of Carroll County was held on November 29 for consideration of certain important items connected with the 1963 budget. The Board discussed and took action on several of these items and directed that final approval of the budget be made at a regular Board meeting on Dec. 11.

The Board gave approval for continued planning for opening bids on the Freedom School addition on December 11 and for the exchange of one staff automobile.

The Board also took action to approve the replacement of oil burning equipment in the Taneytown High School.

A great deal of time was devoted to the discussion of teachers' salaries with information comparing the salary structure in Carroll County with the developments already announced in surrounding parts of the state. Decision was reached to request, in the budget, increased appropriations for teachers' salaries. Consideration was also given to various other school services and their effect on the budget.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

The Independent Record, of Helena, Montana, recently commented on railroad problems. In its view, those opposing relief for this industry "fight the plan which would keep the iron horse as an efficient instrument for work, demanding that it give up part of its feed to its competitors and that it be turned into an iron cow to provide milk in the form of taxes for local governments, wages for too many employees, support for the economy of the communities through which it passes by forcing it to spend more than it earns, and that it cater to the egotism of these same communities by providing trains which they do not use but demand just so they can brag that they 'enjoy the service.'"

Says Henry Hazlitt in Newsweek, "Many Swedes tell you they are getting their extensive social-welfare services 'free' - education, unemployment insurance, old-age pensions, medical care. But the Taxpayers' Association study makes it doubtful that there is even much redistribution of income or welfare from the 'rich' to the 'poor'. Half of the population now pay 30 to 40 per cent of their income in taxes. Two-thirds of the tax money levied for redistribution purposes in effect returns as 'social services' to the identical income groups that paid it, after an enormous merry-go-round."

Investment in the U. S. economy has failed for the past 10 years to keep up with the expansion of population, according to President Dunlop of the Sun Oil Company. Unless investment catches up, he added, the country will be plagued by unemployment and an unsatisfactory rate of economic growth. Significantly, in this connection, the rate of corporate profits has suffered a declining trend throughout the last 15-year period.

From the American Medical Association News: "There are elderly people who need help. They should be helped and they are being helped. But the evidence is overwhelming that the majority of the aged are caring for themselves, that the financial situation of the elderly is getting better rather than worse, and that a federal tax to pay for the aged's health care would be an unfair burden on younger wage earners. The melancholy picture of the elderly is a fraud. It is a crude caricature and should be seen for what it is - an insult to the aged and a disservice to the nation."

When Congress meets again, Senator McClellan will seek hearings on two measures he introduced in the last session and which died with it. One would ban strikes in "strategic defense facilities" - these include all steps in producing missiles, munitions, weapons, space vehicles or any part or material essential to make the weapon effective. The second bill would subject labor union activities in the transportation field to the anti-trust laws.

Quipster Herb Shriner observes: "I just read that when Herbert Hoover was president, he gave all his salary back to the government. Now they got us all doing it."

It is reliably estimated that scholarships totaling more than $300 million a year are available to college students.

According to the Portland, Oregon, Traffic Safety Commission most traffic deaths and injuries occur at speeds under 40 miles per hour and within 25 miles of home. It adds that seat belts, properly installed and used, will prevent 60 percent of these casualties. The belts, it has found, are the single most effective safety device that can be installed in a car.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

The record for fine weather, this fall, was broken this week, by three rainy days in succession.

The barn on the farm of Jacob Adams, on the Monocacy, near Keyville, was destroyed by fire last Sunday morning. All the live stock was saved but one horse which ran back into the burning building after having been turned out.

Hively-Smith—Mr. Edward L. Hively of Westminster and Mrs. Nellie Cover Smith of Keymar were quietly married on Nov. 28 by the bride's pastor, Rev. R. S. Poffenberger. Following the ceremony, accompanied by the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Gardner of Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Hively were conveyed by auto to Frederick, from which place they left for Washington, D.C., New York, Niagara Falls, Canada and Chicago.

Fream—On Nov. 30, at Harney, Mrs. Sarah Fream, wife of George Fream, aged 76 years, died. Funeral services were held in Harney Lutheran Church on Monday by Rev. L. B. Hafer assisted by Rev. P. T. Stockslager. Interment in Lutheran cemetery, Taneytown. Her husband and one son, John W., survives her.

DETOUR-KEYSVILLE

Greetings to you,

On Monday evening the Keysville Lutheran Church Women held their annual White Gift Service at 7:30 P. M. at the church. Attendance was very good and the program showed the thought and preparation that went into it. First there was the Christmas play which was discussion about the celebrating of Christmas in other lands. The Union Bridge Parish Brotherhood Chorus sang two selections and there were also two duets by Linda Schaffer and Darlene Bowers. The Christmas Story was read from St. Luke and a most impressive reading was given by Mrs. Helen Dougherty called "When the King Came." The White Gift giving was conducted by candlelight and was indeed lovely. After the service, there were fellowship and refreshments in the basement.

It is good news, indeed, to be able to report that Mr. Thomas Fox of Keysville has been able to return from Mt. Wilson Hospital to his home with his daughter, Mrs. Virgie Ohler. Mrs. Ohler reports that her father is doing very well and enjoys spending his time making baskets and the like from popsicle sticks. I believe this is something he learned as therapy at the hospital. Mr. Fox will be 90 next April.

Visitors on Monday with Mr. Fox were Mrs. George DeBerry and her daughter, Mrs. Henry Feaser of Hampstead. Mrs. Feaser attended the White Gift Service with Mrs. Virgie Ohler and Mrs. DeBerry stayed with her uncle, Mr. Fox, but sent greetings to all her friends.

Mr. Roy Baumgardner of Terra Rubra Farm has been on the sick list for over a week. We were happy to hear on Monday evening that he is beginning to recover and hope that it will not be much longer before he is able to be about again.

A very happy Thanksgiving Day was enjoyed by the Roop family with dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Guinn and family of Falls Church, Va. Those present with the Guinns were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roop of Keysville Rd., and her brothers and sisters, Mr. Paul Roop, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Schaffer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Norval Roop and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rohrbaugh and her children, Robert, Darlene, and Richard Bowers and Miss Judy Kiser. Robert Bowers, Jr., joined the family on leave from Fort Knox, Ky., to make the family circle complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Stonesifer and family of Keysville attended an annual Thanksgiving Dinner at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Dinterman of Rocky Ridge. All the brothers and sisters and their families were present. The time for the Christmas Party and Covered Dish Social at the Keysville United Church of Christ on December 10 is 7:00 P. M.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Leonard Poole of Rt. 2, Keymar, whose husband died of a heart attack on November 26. Also to her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Poole also of Keymar.

Visitors during the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hahn of Detour were Mrs. Donald Fisher, Lois and Gloria, of Rocky Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gladhill, Harbaughs Valley; Mrs. Mary Beall, Mrs. Roger Hahn and Mr. William Hahn of Woodsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hess, Gettysburg, Pa.; Mrs. Lulu Stover and Mr. Robert Harbaugh of McKnightstown, Pa.

Happy Birthday wishes this week to Mrs. Myron (Joyce) Wilhide whose birthday was November 28 and also to Mr. Richard Wilhide whose day was December 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts of Riverdale Farm, Keysville, visited on Thursday evening with Mr. Edgar Boller and daughter, Geraldine, of Thurmont. The Bollers just recently returned from a trip to Florida.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Overholzer of Harney. On Sunday, December 2, Michael Dennis, who weighed in at 8 lb. 2½ oz., joined their family. Michael has two sisters, Kathy and Cindy.

Mrs. Clarence R. Stonesifer of Keysville was admitted on Monday to Annie Warner Hospital in Gettysburg, Pa., as a surgical patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Clingan of Thurmont were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar and family of Forest and Stream Club Rd. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide of Detour were dinner guests on November 28 with Mrs. Richard Wilhide's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Keefer Seibert of Clear Spring, Md. Her father, Mr. Daniel Seibert was present as Guest of Honor in celebration of his birthday the week before. Our best wishes for many more Happy Birthdays to Mr. Seibert, also.

The Women's Guild of the Keysville United Church of Christ is having Family Night at the church on Thursday evening, Dec. 13, at 7:30 P. M. The Stambaugh and Dinterman houses are both under roof now and the work is progressing right along. I understand the plastering is finished in the Stambaugh home and the well driller rig has been there now for several days.

Mrs. Bert Allender has moved from her home on Keysville Rd. to a house in Taneytown. The new owners of the home on Keysville Rd. are expected to move in within a week. They are from the Baltimore area and the name is Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Lynes. Relatives visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Stonesifer and family of Keysville since Thanksgiving were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Valentine and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Watkins of Emmitsburg and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Dinterman and family of Rocky Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Beth were Sunday visitors and supper guests with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fry and family and his mother, Mrs. Maurice Wilhide of Baltimore. Mrs. Wilhide has her home with the Fry family at 3028 East Avenue, Baltimore 34, Md.

Do you know that I failed to tell you about the bags of sewing articles that the LCW filled for World Community Day? There were eight of them and thanks to each of you who donated to them in some way.

Three more dates to remember are December 13 for the Terra Rubra Girls' 4-H Club meeting and Christmas Party at the home of Joan Thomas. December 21 is the meeting of the Cub Scout Pack 459 at the Church of the Brethren in Union Bridge. This will also be a Christmas Party and I'm told that Santa Claus is to be there. I hope to tell you more about this group very soon. December 23 will be the Christmas Program at the Keysville Lutheran Church.

We were sorry to hear Wednesday (yesterday) that Mr. Clay Hahn, who is a patient in Frederick Memorial Hospital, suffered another stroke. We have no further details at this time.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Charles L. Stonesifer and daughter, Kathy, visited with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Vernon Keilholtz of Emmitsburg and they made Christmas decorations.

The Taneytown Agricultural 4-H Club held their Family Night meeting at the Rod and Gun Club on Monday, November 26.

The businessmen of Taneytown and 4-H member families were the guests of the Club. The meeting was conducted as usual to show the guests just how it is done each month. Slides taken by the club members of their picnic, tour and 4-H Fair were shown. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served. The Club members certainly do appreciate the interest shown by the businessmen of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Currens of near Hampstead were Tuesday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and family of Detour.

4-H Open House was held Monday evening, December 3, at the Ag. Center in Westminster. Various 4-H Club members had displays and gave demonstrations from 7:30 to 8:30 P. M. The theme for the evening was Christmas Decorations. Terra Rubra Club members who had displays were Joan Bowman who displayed a church made of paraffin and Virginia Kehne who displayed a wreath made of evergreens. Two special features for the evening were a demonstration given by Mrs. Arlene Wentz of the Melrose Homemakers Club near Manchester on Wreaths and Table Decorations made from evergreens and flowers.

Arrangements for Christmas which was demonstrated by Mrs. Eileen Welch of Dutterer's Florist. Between these two there was group singing. Mrs. Welch announced that there is to be an Open House held by Dutterer's at their greenhouses on Saturday and Sunday, the 8th and 9th, from 11 A. M. to 5 P. M. Refreshments were then served to all those present.

Notice to all Terra Rubra Girls' 4-H Club members: Those of you who are interested in the Candle-making Workshop that is to be held Saturday at the home of Mrs. Richard Wilhide at 1 P. M., please call Mrs. Wilhide on Friday evening on 775-2118 so she will know how many will be coming. Thank you.

If you are interested in any trees or bushes for planting now, you might want to see Mr. S. J. Grimm in New Midway. Mr. Fleharty and I have purchased several pieces from him and he has good variety of stock and his prices are quite reasonable. Now is the time, you know, to plant most trees and bushes so they have a better chance to become established for next spring.

—Dharlys Fleharty.

Do Not Wait Until Tomorrow

Do not wait until tomorrow
If you'd make your life worth while.
Bring a cheer to those in sorrow;
Bless them with a happy smile.
Golden moments swiftly passing
Soon will be for ever gone
Hasten then to be a Blessing
Wait not for tomorrow's dawn.

Do not wait until tomorrow
To be true in word and deed
To your neighbor, friend and brother
Who may be in direst need.
Give your flowers and your roses
To your friends while yet in life
Sing God's Praises, bear your crosses,
Shun all evil, sin and strife.

Do not wait until tomorrow
If you'd make your life sublime.
Grief and pain will surely follow
Wasted days and years of time.
Dearest friends will soon be missing
And our life will soon be done
But to-day while life is teeming
Great rewards may yet be won.

Do not wait until tomorrow
To bestow a helping hand
To the many Souls in Sorrow
Languishing on Sinking Sand
Feed the hungry, lift up Jesus.
Bring the dying to the fold
While the day is yet before us
Gather in the sheaves of gold.

Do not wait until tomorrow
For the work you have to do;
If you wait 'twill bring you sorrow
and of troubles not a few.
Oh, why should you linger longer and consume your time away!
Christ is yours, and Heaven yonder,
if you live for God each day.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

Last week the Blue Cross asked for a 22.8 per cent increase in standard rates effective March 1, 1963. About 305,000 policyholders covering 727,000 people are involved. The increase is necessary, explains the officials of the Blue Cross, because last year they were one million dollars in the red. If the rates on Blue Cross Hospital insurance continue to increase the very purpose of the Blue Cross will be nullified. If we remember correctly Blue Cross was organized to aid middle-income families meet hospital bills without too much of a drain on their finances. If the cost of Blue Cross continues to mount, the middle-income group will not be able to afford the luxury of the Blue Cross plan. Before an increase in rates are permitted by the State Insurance Commission, public hearings should be held to determine to what extent if any, the hospitals are contributing to the increased rates of Blue Cross. Many accusations have been made against the abuse of Blue Cross by the hospitals and doctors. A public hearing would help to clear up these misunderstandings or substantiate them. Many hospitals are mismanaged because of incompetent help. Does this add to the cost of Blue Cross? Is it true that with each rise in the cost of Blue Cross, the hospitals increase the price of its room and service? These and many other questions would be answered at a public hearing, and if there is sufficient clamor from the public, Mr. Douglas Sears, the State Insurance Commissioner, will hold one.

Most people when they give a Christmas gift like to give something useful and lasting. What nicer gift than one that helps assure one of continued good health? Buying and using T.B. Christmas Seals is an easy and inexpensive way of saying to your family and friends that you care enough about their health to support an organization that works the year 'round to protect the health of everyone.

We have one lonely peach tree and this warm unrealistic weather has made it decide its spring and it's ready to pop its buds. Another warm day or two and it will be out in bloom.

Did you know that the honey bee is classified as farm animal? We didn't until we read it in a farm journal. While bees can't plow the fields, plant corn or milk cows they perform an equally important job of pollinating the crops. There are about 50 or more cultivated crops that require insect pollination. The important ones in Carroll are red and sweet clover and alfalfa which nature requires that each tiny flower be visited by an insect to insure seed. It is pointed out by the agricultural department that just a few years back, it was not uncommon to get 6 to 10 bushels of red clover or alfalfa from an acre; today the yield is one bushel, due to the lack of sufficient pollination. Many factors have contributed to the decline of pollinating insects. Rail fences were once the ideal nesting places for some insects. Here in Maryland and especially Carroll County the rail fence has long ago given way to wire or electric. Burning out fence rows plus the use of pesticides have greatly reduced other nesting places for insects that help pollinate crops. These are the reasons why honey bees have the important job thrust upon them of pollinating the farmers' fields. And this is no small job because it is worth annually 500 million dollars to the farmers. Until recently the farmers themselves thought as much about pollination as the city dweller but lately they have been forced to give it some thought. When nature was undisturbed she took care of pollination quietly without any commotion, but when man's discoveries upset the balance of mother nature she decided to let man worry about his own miscalculations. So now man is going to put honey bee to work not for honey but for gold dust which he carries on his feet from flower to flower.

For a week we have been trying to figure out why there are so many articles written on the subject on how to take care of husbands and never one on how to take care of wives. The answer must be that wives have the common sense of taking care of themselves and husbands like children have to be told to wear their rubbers when it rains, get a haircut before a hunter mistakes him for a bear, buy a new suit before the Salvation Army donates him one, see a doctor before the undertaker does and take a vacation while he is still able to enjoy it.

No matter which political party you belong to one has to admit that our First Lady, Mrs. Kennedy, is the nicest thing that has happened to the White House since Dolly Madison.

The biggest myth that man ever dreamed up is that it would be fun to not have a job that demanded his daily attention. There is nothing so devastating as boredom and boredom surely comes when nothing is demanded of an individual. Look not to idleness to bring fun but rather search for days that are full of stern requests and it will be fun to try and meet them.

Something of a record has been set. Here it's twenty-two days before Christmas and we haven't heard one Christmas carol on T.V. yet.

If political campaigns serve no other purpose, it helps replenish the pencil shortage in the home. By actual count we have accumulated over 50 pencils in different colors, sizes and efficiency. Evidently we shook hands with some candidates three or five times.

Remember this Christmas that a truly appreciative child will break, lose, spoil or find to death any successful gift within a matter of minutes. So don't be upset if your gift has succeeded.

—Ruth D. Roelke.

In Sad but loving Memory of my dearest friend, Frank W. Otto, who passed away four years ago, Dec. 8th, 1948.

December brings sad memories,
Of a loved one laid to rest;
He will never be forgotten
By me who loved him best.

It's so lonely here without you,
And I'm so sad today;
My life has never been the same,
Since God took you away.

Your memory to me is a keepsake,
With which I shall never part,
Though God has you in His keeping,
I still have you in my heart.

The flowers placed upon your grave
May wither and decay,
But the memories for you who sleep
beneath,
Will never fade away.

His devoted friend, Pearl Waldeck.

SHOP EARLY

As we pass this Thanksgiving Day milestone, Christmas Day looms ahead and the last shopping days of the pre-Yule period will start slipping past us with surprising speed.

And sorry we will be if we keep putting off the pleasurable chore of buying gifts from day to day and suddenly find ourselves engulfed in the last mad rush before the great day itself.

If we start shopping at once we will: Avoid the great traffic jams of the later days.

Avoid getting jammed in the last-minute throngs.

Find stocks fresh, plentiful and complete.

Be able to make unhurried selections of the most suitable gifts, and find salespeople unfatigued and ready to advise on selections.

Also, we will get our Christmas packages wrapped and decorated early and have plenty of time to decorate our homes, attend to preparations for cooking, spend the Eve with family and friends and attend church services.

Then, too, we will be giving a much-appreciated Yuletide gift to the thousands of salespersons usually exhausted by the final hectic hours.

The stores are all set for a supreme effort to please their customers.

They can serve us better if we do not all pour into the shopping district in the dying hours of the season.

Let's co-operate with them, get started at once and get it done early.

AMERICAN HOMEMAKERS OF TOMORROW CONTEST

A high school senior girl from this community may well be among those who will share in $110,000 in college scholarships being offered again this year by General Mills in its ninth annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

In past years, winners have come from every type community in the nation — large, small, medium — and from all types of schools — public, parochial and private.

Senior girls here will join with a record number of more than 410,000 others in more than 12,500 of the nation's schools Tuesday, December 4, in a written examination to help determine winners in the 1963 Search Program.

The test, prepared by Science Research Associates, Chicago, to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career, is the determining factor in selecting local and state winners. Personal observation and interviews are added factors in selecting national winners.

The 1963 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and three runners-up will be named in the spring at the culmination of an expense-paid educational tour of New York City, Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg for winners from the 50 states and the District of Columbia and their advisors.

Scholarship grants are approaching the million dollar mark. From the start, the program has been on the approved list of national contests and activities of the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

DECEMBER

The days of 1962 are swiftly coming to a close, and we are now in December, the very last month of the year. It ushers in the official arrival of winter. The days are nippy, the nights are frigid, and a warm house really feels pleasant after being out in the cold. On frosty mornings, we see evidence of Jack Frost's artistic talents. His delicate stenciled designs on the window panes are truly beautiful. A December day may start out sparkling clear and sunny but by afternoon the sky may suddenly begin to grow cloudy and ominous looking. Powdery snow flakes will begin to fall, swiftly and silently. It seems incredible that no two snowflakes are ever exactly alike! If we are lucky, the snow may not amount to very much. However, it seems as if the winters in this section of the country are getting worse and we had best be prepared for them.

The weather may indeed be cold and blustery, but human hearts are warm and all aglow at this season of the year, and for a very special reason. On December 25, Christian people all over the world observe and celebrate the Birthday of Our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. The gospels of Luke and Matthew tell us the age-old Christmas story — the story of the Christ Child's Birth, and of the Adoration of the Shepherds and the Magi. What a sad and dreary world this would be if this tiny Baby had not been born! How much hope and love and light He has brought to those who believe in Him! "For God so loved the world, that He gave His Only Begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." These words of John 3:16 summarize for us the entire Christmas message, and are the key to our joy and happiness at this season of the year.

Yes, December finds us all caught up in a pleasant hustle and bustle of Christmas preparation. Church choirs are busily rehearsing special music. Sunday School teachers and children are getting ready for the annual pageant. Beautifully decorated stores are thronged with crowds of eager shoppers. The tantalizing smells of spicy cookies and home-made fruit cake fill the air. Mysterious looking packages appear in strange places around the house and there are many secret plans afoot. Tiny tots listen in wide-eyed wonder to "The Night Before Christmas." They can hardly wait for that long expected visit from Santa Claus. Christmas is a time for thinking about others especially those who are lonely, needy, or unhappy. All of these things make December a month to be remembered.

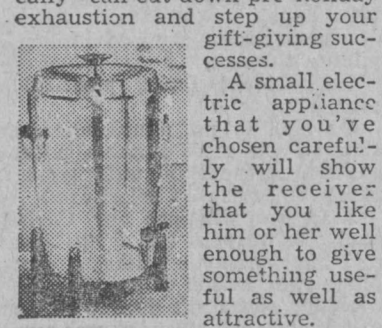

What a wonderful thing it would be if December's warm and unselfish spirit was continued on through all the other months of the year!

Electric Housewares Ease Woes Of Puzzled Christmas Shoppers

Christmas shopping, "electrically" can cut down pre-holiday exhaustion and step up your gift-giving successes.

A small electric appliance that you've chosen carefully will show the receiver that you like him or her well enough to give something useful as well as attractive.

You'll see when you shop at the housewares counters that today's small electric appliances are newly designed and color-styled to be as handsome as other contemporary home furnishings. They are equipped with improved automatic controls, they operate more efficiently and are easier than ever to use and to clean.

It's a good idea, after listing all the people to whom you're giving Christmas gifts, to make another list of all electric housewares you can think of, from blenders to toasters, shavers, toasters and waffle irons. Chances are when your list is complete you'll have a lot of ideas for gifts.

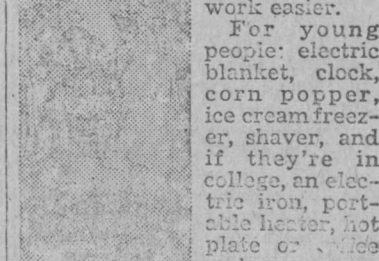

gift for 'most everyone. After that shopping will be easy.

Here are some suggestions to help you choose perfect presents:

For home-makers: electric blender, broiler, can opener, coffee maker, coffee grinder, food warmer, food warmer, rotisserie, griddle, saucepan, skillet, steam iron, toaster, waffle iron.

For a man: electric blanket, clock, knife sharpener, shaver, hair cutting set, meat slicer, ice crusher, dog clips.

For senior citizens: electric blanket, fan, heating pad, hair dryer, massager-vibrator, heater, vaporizer, or any of the electric housewares that make cooling or other house-work easier.

For young people: electric blanket, clock, corn popper, ice cream freezer, shaver, and if they're in college, an electric iron, portable heater, hot plate or rice maker.

For baby: electric baby food warmer or bottle warmer. Food warmers of young children also appreciate electric vaporizers, portable humidifiers and baby stoves.

Banish Drippy Windows, Building Expert's Advice

Windows often last as long as a house does, but if they're drafty, drippy, and difficult to operate, they shouldn't.

In his book, "The High Quality House," building authority A. M. Watkins points out that all windows should have built-in weather stripping so that no air can leak around the frame. Double-hung and sliding windows should be easy to remove from their frames so they can be washed from the inside of the house, he advises.

"Wood windows, in general, look best in most houses and are often preferred for this reason," he says, adding that condensation is much less of a problem with wood windows than with metal ones. Home owners today can buy stock windows of ponderosa pine that are weather-tight, easy to operate and to clean from the inside. They are factory-treated with water-repellent preservatives and equipped with built-in weather stripping and precision-engineered hardware. Because of the natural insulating quality of wood, windows made of ponderosa pine are warm to the touch and help keep heat in during the winter and out in the summer. This means both greater comfort and savings on fuel.

The many sizes and styles of wood windows made today help home owners save on custom carpentry. Stock units come in packages which include sash, glass and frame, all prefitted at the factory for quick installation on the job.

All Hands Will Rejoice At Gift of New Dishwasher

This Christmas you can give your wife one of the most precious gifts of all—the gift of time. A housewife can cut dishwashing time in half with an electric dishwasher, homemaking experts say. Since a woman spends an estimated 10,000 hours of her married life washing dishes by hand, the bride or young wife who gets an electric dishwasher for Christmas also gets the gift of 5,000 extra hours. That's the equivalent of 125 40-hour weeks to devote to worthwhile activities, with time to spare for some well-earned relaxation.

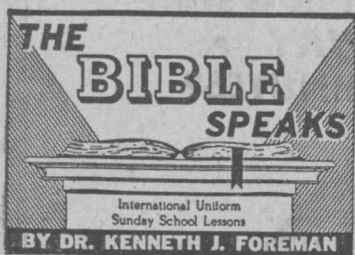

One time-saving feature of the new electric dishwashers is the fact that dishes no longer have to be hand rinsed before being washed. Just brush off loose foods and place all tableware in the easy-to-load racks. Many of the new models have a pre-rinse cycle that prevents food from sticking stubbornly.

Breakfast, lunch, and in-between-snack dishes can be stored out of sight until after dinner, when the whole day's dishes will be done at the push of a button or the twist of a dial. Powerful washing action, strong dishwasher detergent, and extremely hot water combine to get dishes, pots and pans thoroughly clean. They'll be rinsed and dried to a sparkle, ready to be put away or left in the dishwasher until needed again.

The young mother who finds a new electric dishwasher under the tree on Christmas morning receives a gift of countless extra hours. If it's a portable or convertible model like this one, it can be put to work right away.

Eternal Life

Lesson for December 9, 1962

DO YOU have an ambition to live forever? That depends, doesn't it? It depends on what kind of "forever" you are thinking about. There are some forevers you wouldn't want a minute of.

There may be other forevers so perfect that a single instant would more than atone for all the sorrows and agonies of this sad world. Merely to survive is no wise person's ambition. There is a play, "No Exit," in which three characters, all strangers to one another, meet in a hotel room. There is nothing there to hurt them, they are just there—only they can never get out. They get worse than bored, they become desperate, they try to kill one another. But they can't . . . because they are dead and they are all in hell. That's what it would be, sheer hell, merely to live on and on and on . . .

To Know

Christian hope has never (when it was truly Christian) been for simple immortality. If heaven is just more of the same we have known here, most human beings would say No thank you. Once is good, but once is enough. But Christian hope has always been centered around a different quality of life, not a different length of life. To be sure, Christians hope for a continuance of life, but that prospect is not even bearable unless it is a continuance of a better kind of life than is possible without God. Eternal life, as the New Testament shows it to us, is not something you get after you die. You have it now, or you don't have it. If you have it now, death cannot destroy you. If you do not have it now, no possible length of post-mortem existence is going to be anything but misery.

What quality, then, is the life which we should want to go on through death, forever? We can put all that Christians believe about it in three profound ideas drawn from the New Testament. First, Jesus himself said, "This is eternal life, that they know Thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom Thou hast sent." (John 17:3.) To know Christ—not know about him, still less to echo what somebody else knows—this is life eternal, this is what makes the vital difference in life.

To have

John also says that he who "has the Son" [meaning Christ] has eternal life. Some Christians think this is an expression too bold for them, they are afraid of it. But there it stands. What is it to have Christ and is it the same thing as knowing him? We might illustrate from the pupils of some famed musician. If he has been a truly great teacher, when we hear his former pupils in a concert, we say to ourselves at once—Why, that sounds like the old maestro—I could shut my eyes and imagine it was the old genius himself.

To share

The inspired writers of the New Testament were not much given to drawing pictures of a future heaven. The center of their teaching was life here and now, life this side of death. Suppose a boy in his teens finds the question bobbing up in his mind: How shall I ever be a good father? Now that is a good question, but the best way to answer it is not to spend time thinking about it. The best way to prepare for fatherhood—at the age, say, of fifteen, is just to be the best boy possible. If you aren't a real boy you don't have much chance of being a real man. Paul, for example, in a famous chapter which works up to the great thought of eternal life, does not spend that chapter (Romans 4) describing heaven. He speaks of it in what may seem a strange way: that is, sharing the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. The main idea is that the Christian shares the sacrifice of Christ, and also shares his victory. Victories, we might better say; for as Christ was undefeated by sin or by death, so the Christian's life shares this victorious quality. He hints at something he suggests more than once: namely that the Christian should begin, now and here, to live the life of heaven. Then "heaven, with love abrim, will not seem strange to him."

Beautiful Holiday Mold

What better dessert for flavor and color at holiday time than a "bowlful of jelled fruit"? The wonderful new fresh taste of fruit flavor gelatin will make the simplest of desserts exciting, too. Serve this molded fruit as a salad or as a dessert, adding mayonnaise or your favorite whipped topping.

Cranberry and Apricot Mold
1 can (8 ounces) apricot halves
2 cups fresh cranberries, uncooked
1 regular size package (3 ounces) lemon flavor gelatin

Drain apricots, measuring syrup. If necessary, add water to syrup to equal 2-1/2 cups. Place measured liquid in saucepan and add the cranberries. Cover and cook until cranberries are tender. Remove from heat. Add gelatin and stir until it is dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened. Chop the apricots; fold into gelatin. Spoon into 1-1/2-quart mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

"HERE'S TO YOU..."

DEATH and DISEASE drink a toast to all of us with polluted, germ-laden water.

Cases of typhoid fever, hepatitis and other water-borne diseases are still being reported in various parts of our great country in spite of the measures taken to protect our water supplies.

Why do we permit pollution of our most important natural resource? Because many of us do not realize the connection between inadequate facilities, insufficient treatment of our waste water and the connection it has with the appearance, taste, odor, and bacteria count in water.

According to the National Water Institute, nearly half of the 100 million Americans who have community sewers do not have adequate waste water treatment facilities. What can our town do to protect itself? First, get full information as to the exact situation. Then, take the proper steps as a voter and taxpayer to correct the condition with modern up-to-date water supply and waste water treatment facilities.

There are people in the world who hate to pay anybody for anything.

Public speaking is easy. It's the thinking before you speak that's hard.

A Russian who lives happily under the present system of government in Russia must either believe that man has no soul, or that, if he has, it is not worth developing.

—Oscar Wilde.

Since women began carrying those big purses, more and more homes are being built without attics.

The value of an idea has nothing whatever to do with the sincerity of the man who expresses it.

—Oscar Wilde.
