HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

Eighteen students at Taneytown High School plan to take the 1963 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, Mrs. McDaniel, Guidance Counselor, has announced.

The test will be administered at the school at 9 A. M. Tuesday, March 5.

The qualifying test is a three-hour examination of educational development. The test is the first step in the ninth annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and by sponsoring corporations, foundations, associations, unions and individuals.

The test scores of students who are examined in March will be reported to their schools before May 15. The scores are used by class advisors in many high schools to help students make decisions about college attendance and field of study.

Some 13,000 semi-finalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. Names of semi-finalists are published in a booklet which is distributed to all colleges and to other sources of financial aid for undergraduates. Further, their names and test scores are sent to the colleges they express an interest in attending as their first or second choices. The order of preference is not shown.

Each semi-finalist will be asked to take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance will become finalists in the Merit Program. Winners of Merit Scholarships will be selected from the finalist group on the basis of school records and recommendations, test scores, extracurricular activities, leadership ability, and accomplishments outside the classroom. Each finalist is awarded a certificate of Merit attesting to his outstanding performance.

The scholarship stipends are based on financial need. The minimum award is $100 and the maximum is $1500. The average stipend awarded to freshman Merit Scholars in 1962 was $845. Each scholarship constitutes a form of educational insurance, since the stipend may be increased at any time if the student's financial situation changes during the four-year term of scholarship.

Supplementary grants are usually made to the colleges that the scholars attend.

The Classical Records Club met Monday, February 4, in the French room. The group listened to "The Sound of Genius" which consisted of Tannhauser Overture and Verneberg Music, by Wagner; Nun Komm' Der Heiden Heiland, by Bach; Coriolanus, Op. 62 by Beethoven; Polonaise, Op. 40, No. 1 by Chopin; Intermezzo in A Major, Op. 118, No. 2, by Brahms; and "La Gazza-Ladra" Overture, by Rossini. Mr. Francis Smith is the advisor.

The Keysville Lutheran Women met Monday evening with the executive committee including Mrs. Ruth Wilhide, Mrs. Doris Harner, Mrs. Rachael Bostain, Mrs. Dahlyls Fleharty and Pastor Brake in charge.

The topic for the evening was "The Church's Mission and Persons of Special Need." The hymns used were "Where Cross the Crowded Ways" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Rachael Bostain and prayer offered by Mrs. Doris Harner.

Mrs. Hazel Cluts told of the four broad areas in which the church functions, namely home missions, foreign missions, educational missions, and social missions, what we now call social ministry. The executive committee, assisted by Pastor Brake, formed a panel and their discussions related to social ministry. Various ways of serving were discussed.

Mrs. Cassie Wilhide sang "Prayer Perfect," accompanied by Miss Vallie Shorb. The offering was received by Mrs. Elizabeth Shoemaker and dedicated by Pastor Brake.

Meeting of Republican Women

The proposed new model city charter for Taneytown was the topic of discussion at the meeting of the Taneytown Federation of Republican Women held February 5th at Taney Inn. City councilman, Neal Powell, was guest speaker, with Mayor Raymond Perry, and other members of the City Council, Carroll Frock and George Naylor on hand for the question and answer period.

Mr. Powell outlined briefly the changes that will be found in the model charter when it is presented to the voters for their consideration sometime this Spring. He said the changes were chiefly to bring the original charter, granted in 1884, up to date and make it suited to the present day. Such outworn terms as Burgess, for Mayor, and Bailiff, for police, will not appear in the new charter, and the corporate limits of the town will be given more accurately than "Bounded by Mr. So and So's lot," or "The Lutheran Cemetery."

The various ordinances which have, through the years, been added to the charter to make it workable, will all be incorporated in the body of the proposed new document, and the responsibilities and powers of Mayor and City Council will be spelled out, leaving less room for misinterpretation.

Only a few real changes will be offered, he said, those also in keeping with our times. One will be the lengthening of the terms of office of Mayor and City Council to 4 years; another, the requirement of a separate registration to vote in town elections, though one registration will be permanent. Another suggested change is that candidates for office be required to file a certificate of nomination, endorsed by a specific number of voters, doing away with nominations from the floor.

The new model charter, which has been under intensive study for several years, is almost ready now for presentation, and will be coming shortly to the attention of the voters for their study and consideration.

For the business part of the meetings, plans for an all-day Hat Sale, where over 200 Spring bonnets may be seen, tried on, and purchased at the old Ma-da-Sha store building, were completed. The date, soon to be announced will fall well before Easter. An invitation was extended to all members to attend the 11th Annual Women's Republican National Conference, April 25 to 27 at the Hotel Sheraton-Park in Washington, D. C. Program announced for the next meeting: "Hawaii, our 50th State, with illustrative Talk and Slides presented by Donald Lawyer of Taneytown.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

What ever happened to our demand for onsite inspections in Cuba to assure ourselves that Russian "offensive" weapons were removed?

The point is unavoidably brought to mind by the Senate speech of Senator Kenneth B. Keating in which he warned of the continuance of a Russian military buildup in Cuba—such that "it will be impossible to get them out with conventional weapons."

The Senator claimed "confirmed and undeniable evidence that the Soviets are maintaining the medium range sites they had previously constructed in Cuba" and added:

"There has been no Soviet move to dismantle these sites or withdraw the launching equipment, as one would expect if the Soviets intended in good faith to keep these missiles out of Cuba in the future."

"On the contrary, the Soviets' 24-hour maintenance of these sites gives rise to the very real possibility that Russia hopes to return the heavy missiles to the island and get them into commission—or, even more ominous—that they may have missiles left on the island and need only to wheel them out of caves."

He had no "confirmed evidence", said Senator Keating, that ground-to-ground missiles remain in Cuba, but that the continued Russian activity raises "serious questions."

"Without on-site inspection," he said, "it is hard to see how we will ever know the true missile situation in Cuba."

And, as we indicated above, it is also hard to understand why there have been no on-site inspections. Perhaps, with Mr. Keating's evidence as a starter, the Senate should undertake to find out.

U. S. SENATOR BEALL REPORTS

99-BILLION-DOLLAR BUDGET — Spending by the Federal government has become so big that it's almost impossible to comprehend. At the turn of the century, the national budget was 500 million dollars, one half of one billion. World War I saw a budget of 2 billion dollars. (The new budget is 50 times as high!) The New Deal budget in 1940, with its pump-priming and spending, set a record at 9 billion dollars. Compare that with the new budget of 99 billion! The amount of the new budget for the next fiscal year is as much as was spent by the Government during the 142 years from 1789 to 1930.

How does the President propose to spend the $99,000,000,000?

Military functions	$51,000,000,000
Atomic energy	2,850,000,000
Military assistance, foreign countries	1,450,000,000
Development loans, foreign countries	704,000,000
Development grants, foreign countries	270,000,000
Supporting assistance, foreign countries	420,000,000
"Alliance for Progress," foreign countries	401,000,000
Other foreign aid	322,000,000
Foreign information and exchange	237,000,000
Conduct of foreign affairs	326,000,000
Space programs	4,200,000,000
Farm subsidies and farm services	5,696,000,000
Natural resources	2,503,000,000
Postal service	554,000,000
Highways	42,000,000
Aviation, facilities and control	885,000,000
Area redevelopment	521,000,000
Other commerce and transportation	1,388,000,000
Urban renewal and public housing	622,000,000
Relief, welfare	3,023,000,000
School lunch program	284,000,000
Health services and research	1,642,000,000
Labor Department services	414,000,000
Vocational rehabilitation	250,000,000
Elementary and secondary education aid	422,000,000
Higher education aid	370,000,000
Science education aid	343,000,000
Other proposed "Federal Aid to Education"	401,000,000
Veterans' benefits	5,484,000,000
Protective services and alien control	345,000,000
Tax collection	813,000,000
Legislative and judiciary functions	202,000,000
Other "general government" expenses	835,000,000
Interest on the National Debt	10,103,000,000

This 99-billion-dollar list, big as it is, does not include "backdoor spending," the "borrowing" from the Treasury of money not duly appropriated, nor does it include the "trust fund" spending, such as Social Security payments.

Where will all this money come from? From YOU, the taxpayer! The Administration estimates that it will collect 46 billion in individual income taxes, 24 billion from corporations, 10 billion in sales taxes, and 7 billion from other sources. The revenue which the Administration expects to receive falls some 12 billion dollars short. This would mean "deficit spending" (spending money you don't have, going deeper in debt). The budget is badly out of balance, and the actual deficit, unless Congress acts to cut expenditures, will likely be even more than the budget estimate. Deficits, traditionally, are underestimated. The terrific increase in government spending under the present Administration is becoming a worry. Budget spending started under the new Administration at a level of $1 billion and has already, in this short time, jumped to 99 billion — an increase of 18 billion dollars a year. With this tremendous jump and with the enormous deficit, many people are beginning to wonder if the country is not living beyond its real means and if the inexperienced professors advising the President are not actually leading the nation to economic disaster.

The jump in spending cannot be excused solely on the grounds of military demands. Non-defense spending has increased more than defense spending.

In the "State of the Union" address, the President said: "I will shortly submit a fiscal 1963 administrative budget which, while allowing for needed rises in defense, space, and fixed interest charges, holds total expenditures for all other purposes below this year's level." An examination of the budget does not support this statement. On the contrary, increases are called for in every department. The President once said that there was an excessive number of employees in the Government offices. Yet we find that he has added some 140,000 civilian employees to the Federal payroll, and proposes in the new budget to add even more. Here are the figures

Department or Office	Number of new employees proposed
Department of State	735
Department of the Treasury	4,149
Department of Justice	765
Post Office Department	9,650
Department of the Interior	3,999
Department of Agriculture	5,315
Department of Commerce	3,497
Department of Labor	1,293
Health, Education, & Welfare Department	5,931
President's Executive Office	88
Federal Aviation Agency	626
General Services Administration	3,208
Et cetera

Without question, there is fat that could be cut from the budget. We ought to cut enough to balance the budget and pay something on our debt. We should get our fiscal affairs on a sane and sound basis. Soviet Dictator Lenin said, back in 1926, that the United States would spend itself into destruction, adding: "We shall not have to attack; it will fall like an overripe fruit into our hands."

present Administration like the Eisenhower Administration, has vowed not to devalue. Citizens had better hope that our Government keeps this pledge, because devaluation would mean an instantaneous loss of the purchasing power of all savings—including billions of dollars in Government bonds bought because of faith in the Government's fiscal honesty."

VALE, ORE., MALHEUR ENTERPRISE: "In our modern world freedom of the press is a symbol. A bright and shining beacon of personal freedom as applied to each individual. For when a nation loses this freedom of the press it has automatically lost all other freedoms. It has fallen prey to the dictators, the despots. So it is a thing to be treasured by every one living in a free world."

CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT ARGUS: "For some time, now, conversations have been worrying about the threatened extinction of the bald eagle. In a sense, the decline of this mighty bird symbolizes what is happening to many forms of wildlife. Various birds and beasts are hunted down and exterminated because they are predators. Yet man is the greatest predator of all."

FOLEY, ALA., ONLOOKER: "It was the first time that Negro players had played on a Southern all-star team. The significant thing is that those players had played on a Southern all-star team. The significant thing is that those players had the freedom of choice in deciding whether they wanted to play in the bowl game or not. There was no court order telling them they had to play. There was no order from the attorney general threatening them with dire consequences if they did not play. There were no federal marshals with tear gas guns nor troops with fixed bayonets on the field. Had there been any of these, there would have been

What They Wore... by PHYLLIS JOYCE

THE COURT OF VERSAILLES, CENTER OF MOST EUROPEAN SOCIAL LIFE BEFORE THE FRENCH REVOLUTION, WAS A CONSTANT FASHION PASTIME.

YOUNG QUEEN MARIE ANTOINETTE WAS THE STAR AND HER CLOTHES WERE COPIED THROUGHOUT THE WORLD. HER DRESSES TOOK MANY MONTHS TO MAKE BECAUSE OF ALL THE INTRICATE ORNAMENTATION.

ALTHOUGH COURT COSTUMES WERE REGULATED BY STRICT RULES OF ETIQUETTE, MARIE OCCASIONALLY ALLOWED THE LADIES OF THE COURT TO DRESS SIMPLY IN SHEPHERDESS DRESSES.

THE CORSETS OF THE DAY WERE SO BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED THAT THEY BECAME PART OF THE COSTUME AND WERE OFTEN EXPOSED TO VIEW BY THE WAY THE DRESS WAS CUT. THEY WERE SO CONFINING HOWEVER, THAT DOCTORS PUBLISHED PAMPHLETS CONDEMNING THEM.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

The present cold streak is raising hopes for at least a portion of an ice crop, but as the streams are flush and the sun has considerable power, the outlook is a more or less doubtful one. Lent commenced on Wednesday—forty days before Easter.

A horse-power street scraping experiment was tried last Friday, but the freeze came too soon to complete it. The scraper will work, under the proper conditions, especially if the surface is gone over twice. There are tons of mud on our streets that ought to be removed.

Miss Lizzie Eck who will be remembered by many of the older citizens of town was found dead in her room in New York City last Saturday night. Her body was brought to Taneytown for burial, this Friday morning, services and interment taking place at St. Joseph's Catholic Church. She was aged about 70 years, and is the last member of her family, which was once a prominent one here. Her sister, Mrs. Annie Payne died here some years ago.

Hiltebrich-Weishaar — On February 6, 1913, at the Reformed Parsonage, Taneytown, by Rev. D. J. Wolf, Mr. Walter W. Hiltebrich and Miss Jennie M. Weishaar, both of Taneytown were married.

Harry Hess, of Pittsburg, Kansas, son of the late Wm. H. Hess of Taneytown, arrived in York, Pa., on Jan. 30, after being away from his old home for 33 years. He stopped with his brother, Albert C. Hess and his sisters, Mrs. Sue Bowers and Mrs. Emma Spangler, of York, after which he came to Taneytown to see his sister, Mrs. Annie Fox, on Feb. 3, accompanied by Mrs. Koontz. He then went to Keysville to visit his mother, Mrs. Wm. H. Hess and sister, Mrs. Rosa Stull, after which he will visit his sisters, Mrs. Levi Sell, near Taneytown and Mrs. Jennie Baumgardner, Hagerstown.

Maryland 4-H'ers Earn Top Club Honors

State honors have been earned by six Maryland 4-H Club youths for excellence in their 1962 projects. Four of the six club members were sent as delegates to the 41st National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. All six earned best-in-state ratings for the excellence of their efforts demonstrated in their 4-H projects.

Rose Hahn, 19, of Westminster, took top spot in the home economics program sponsored by Montgomery Ward.

"Learn by doing" is more than a motto to her. It's a way of life she has applied to her favorite subject: food and its nutrition value.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Hahn, owners of a 2 1/2-acre homestead in Carroll County.

Bill Malkus, 18, of Cambridge, worked his way to the top of the state field crops project sponsored by Arcadian Products Department, Allied Chemical Corporation. He attends the University of Maryland and has been a 4-H'er for the past five years.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Malkus who operate a 330-acre dairy farm in Dorchester County. This young 4-H'er has made his club work pay. He started with three acres of potatoes. Today, he has quadrupled his land use and earned enough to buy a car and pay for his first year in college.

Joan Fry, 16, of Chestertown, earned the number one position in the state dress revue program sponsored by the Simplicity Pattern Company.

She is the daughter of Mr.

Miss Hahn

Malkus

Norris

Miss Fry

Mrs. Edwin C. Fry.

Joan Fry has been a club member for six years and a winner in each of those years. She has made everything from pajamas to prom dresses and tailored suits. Her 4-H Club provided her with a comfortable wardrobe at a savings.

Bill Dutterer, 18, was named best in Maryland's tractor project which is sponsored by the American Oil Foundation.

He works with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dutterer on their 100-acre farm near Westminster. Dutterer repairs most of the farm's machinery. He has saved his family hundreds of dollars in maintenance costs.

Dutterer has completed many more 4-H club projects. He also has served as Carroll County 4-H Club president.

Patricia Roach, 17, of New Windsor, was awarded a certificate of merit as foremost among Maryland's girl achievement entrants. The program is sponsored by the Ford Motor Company Fund. She lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roach, on their 123-acre dairy farm.

Her poultry and dairy efforts have turned a handsome cash profit. And she has learned so much about clothing that she now makes most of her own.

Miss Roach

Dutterer

Miss Roach serves as a junior leader to not one, but two, 4-H Clubs of 15 members each.

Top state honors for leadership went to David Norris, 18, of Cumberland. He has been a 4-H Club member for the past nine years and made an outstanding record in all projects undertaken. His leadership award—a certificate of merit—is sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Norris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Norris. Despite his present busy schedule as a University of Delaware student, he continues to take time to get home and participate in many of his local 4-H Club meetings and activities.

Norris and Miss Roach did not participate in the National 4-H Club Congress.

The United States now has 3,094 counties with organized 4-H Club work. More than 1,306,000 girls and 979,000 boys are club members and are enrolled in nearly 95,000 4-H Clubs.

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

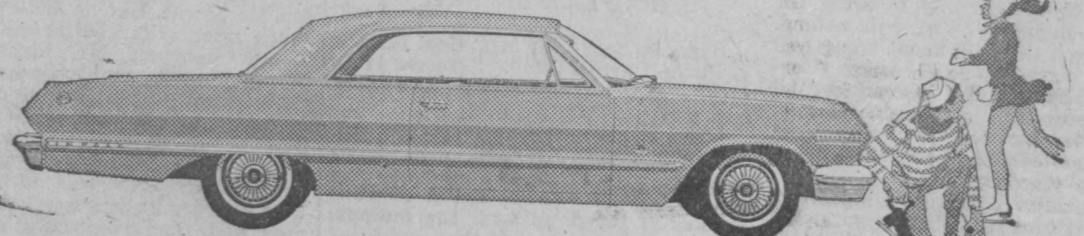

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolets, with four entirely different kinds of cars to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price; the low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking car that would send any family packing; another family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure adventure, America's only sports car, Corvette—now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Picked your favorite already?

The next thing is to take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, maybe you'd rather just have a ball around town!

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you: Attention Cub Scout Pack #459: Don't forget, this Sunday, the 10th, is the Sunday you are to meet—in full uniform—at the Union Bridge Church of the Brethren to attend the Service in a group. Time to be there is 10:15 A. M.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Ausherman of Forest and Stream Club Road has been increased by three. "Rex," Cynthia and Janet Crouch have come to make their home with them.

Mr. James ("Jimmy") Coshun of Detour was a surgical patient at the Annie Warner Hospital in Gettysburg, Pa., on Monday. It was not necessary to remove his toe, though I understand a small bone was removed, and he is coming along very well. I'm sure everyone joins with me in hoping that this will be the solution to all the troubles "Jimmy" has had with this toe for so many years.

Larry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty of Detour, was a week-end visitor with his parents. Larry is a student at Maryland University.

Friday evening visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide of Forest and Stream Club Road were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Baile and Melvin, Jr., and Lisa of New Windsor.

Dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Devilliss and Rodney of near Keysville were Mrs. Charles Devilliss and Sylvia of near Keysville and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Devilliss and Jerry of Taneytown.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sell and children, Eddie and Diane, of Walkersville were Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Berry Buckingham in Keysville. The Sells also called at the new home of William Stambaugh and family.

Still very much on the sick list at this writing is Mr. Edward Coshun of near Detour. Ed has a touch of bronchial pneumonia and is very much under doctors' care. It is our wish that by the time this paper reaches you, the readers, Ed would be feeling fine again. It would seem almost too cold for "bugs" and germs, but there are some who thrive on this cold weather or there could not be so much sickness all around.

Week-end visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Bill) Myers of Naylor's Mill Road, were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Myers and Craig of Hanover, Pa.

Miss Helen Fossett, who makes her home with the Maynard Ausherman family, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Fossett, and her grandmother, Mrs. Hyde, in Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Ausherman and family were Friday evening visitors with their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. John Ammenheuser and two sons, in Frederick.

Cub Pack #459 will hold their Blue and Gold Banquet on Friday evening, the 15th, in the basement of the Union Bridge Church of the Brethren at 6:30 P. M. This is a covered dish supper with each family to bring for each two members who will attend. I understand the Girl Scout troop will serve the supper and "clean-up" afterwards. They will use the dishes and silver there in the kitchen. (I asked this for the benefit of those who asked whether or not they were to bring their own place setting.)

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide were Sunday visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Seibert of Clear Spring, Md. Their celebration for her mother's 75th birthday was together with her brothers, Paul and Timmy, Richard and Cassie, for on their way over the mountain the rear axle of their car broke and they had to walk over a mile to the Ranger Station to call for help. After being towed back to Detour, they borrowed his father's car and made their visit after all—though a bit later than they'd expected to be.

Keysville Lutheran Church Women held their meeting Monday evening at 7:30 P. M. Pastor Brake and the Executive Committee held a panel-type discussion on the evening's topic, "The Church's Mission and Persons of Special Need." Mrs. Hazel Cluts also helped with the topic. Mrs. Cassie Wilhide sang a solo for the Special of the evening. We were reminded that March 1 is the date for World Day of Prayer Service. Two visitors, Mrs. Betty Flohr and Mrs. Anna Halfleigh, were present. We all hope they will continue to join us at future meetings. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Vallie Baumgardner and Mrs. Cassie Wilhide.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Baker at their home near Taneytown entertained at a family dinner on Sunday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Powell and granddaughter, Kay Loraine Powell, of Thurmost. Mrs. Bessie Myers of Detour, Mr. and Mrs. William Stambaugh and daughter, Judith, and Mrs. Alice DeBerry of Keysville and Mr. and Mrs. John Gonder of Taneytown.

Teresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Ausherman of Taneytown, has returned to her home after a week's stay at the Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fleharty and family of near Detour were Sunday dinner guests with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Hobbs and children of Rockville, Md. This visit was doubtless enjoyable as it had to be postponed several times previously due to illness or bad weather.

On Monday afternoon, Mrs. William Fleharty, Bruce and Diane, paid a call on Mr. Barton Lebegern at the Adams County home in Gettysburg, Pa. The real occasion for the call was Mr. Lebegern's 82nd birthday on Saturday the second, but weather prevented us visiting that day. Do you know anyone in a "home" of some kind? If you do, have you any idea how much it means to them to have a short visit occasionally and cards now and then? This is something each of us can do that takes so little effort on our part and yet means so much to the receiver. Our family only recently met Mr. Lebegern at the Annie Warner Hospital in April 1961, where we found he has no family and, at his age, not too many friends nearby—and so we just sort of "adopted" him to remember now-and-then. Not only does it cheer him and give us; it gives us a warm-fair's value.

FAIRVIEW

Well, did he? or did he not see his shadow, Mr. Groundhog? at is. We don't see how as the trail don't shine here all day. But we pulled over the radio that Mr. Groundhog had seen his shadow therefore, it would be in for six weeks more of weather. In spite of the cold, it did serve nice overhead the past couple of days.

Mr. Paul Sherby of Rocky Ridge was a recent visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker.

Mrs. William Corbin called on Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock one day last week.

Kindness Called For

"Let us be kind The way is long and lonely, And human hearts are asking For the blessings only, That we be kind. We cannot know the grief that men may borrow, We cannot see the souls storm-swept by sorrow, But love can shine upon the way today, tomorrow Let us be kind."

Except by B. I. Michael

You may have great wealth, And Wisdom and fame, But always you must be fed; For you know your life And your health depends Each day on your daily bread.

Now "back of the loaf Is the snowy flour," And back of the flour is the grain, And back of the grain Is the goodly earth, The sunshine, the wind, the rain.

Now all may labor And plant good seed And carefully till the sod; But all their labor, Would be in vain Except for the gifts of God.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

It's relatively safe to commit any crime in Maryland except to cast doubt on the makeup of a local crab-cake. The persons who operate eating places and advertise "Maryland crabcakes" takes his life in his hands if they don't measure up to the high standard of the Eastern shore crab-cake. Senator Beall, republican, started the battle royal when he ate some crabcakes in the Senate restaurant billed on the menu as Maryland crabcakes and after tasting one, knew instantly that they slandered the Maryland variety. There upon he started a crusade in defense of the slandered Maryland crabcake which has spread to the State Legislature and even to the executive mansion at Annapolis. For our first lady, Mrs. Avalynne Tawes, wife of Governor Tawes, presented the chef of the Senate restaurant with her own recipe for Maryland crabcakes. It cannot be disputed that a crabcake made Maryland style is a gourmet's treat and is strictly a Maryland specialty. Its nice to know that our representatives of the U. S. Senate and State rise so gallantly to the defense of the Maryland's crabcakes. We only wish that they would show equal courage and fervor in fighting for laws that would make life as pleasant for all people as for Maryland crabcake eaters.

Benjamin Fine writes that despite huge sums spent for education in this country, the public generally is in different about local school problems. With few exceptions, the man on the street is unaware of what his school board is doing to improve education in his community. Education in the United States is a local function. Some 40,000 school boards control the schools. This distinctive feature of American education has helped to make public schools democratic. Unfortunately, once elected, the board members are expected to carry the brunt of school problems by themselves. Very few if any citizens ever attend the board meetings to find out what is going on. Why is there such little interest? Many parents do not even know when or where the school boards met. Many parents do not think that they are policy and in influence the board on policy and in many instances the board agrees with this. Dr. Salten, superintendent of schools in New York says, "You get citizen's apathy when school boards do not share enough of their problems with the public. An informed public is essential if new educational frontiers are to be reached." In the opinion of many educators if the good citizen does not show up at board meetings, critics of education may take over. Without good schools communities will deteriorate and so will the nation. School boards cannot bring about the necessary changes and reforms necessary to improve our educational system without the citizens of every community. Without a solid base of public support little can be accomplished.

There are two ways to slide easily through life; to believe everything or to doubt everything. Both ways save us from thinking.

"It's time to get up," said Mrs. Groundhog as she shook her husband trying to rouse him from a deep sleep. Finally after much effort, he opened one eye and asked what day it was. "It's, your day, February the 2nd and you have to go out and walk around and predict the weather," she grumbled as she made her spouse some breakfast. "And, who says I must do that?" questioned her sleepy husband. "You know these crazy animals that walk around on two legs and live in those funny houses depend upon you to predict the weather for them each year" wearily explained Mrs. Groundhog, and she added, "you better get going or you won't have a good garden to eat for those crazy humans won't plant anything until you predict." With much groaning and moaning Mr. Groundhog got himself dressed and tottered across the kitchen floor to peer out the window. "Well, I'm in luck this year," he squeaked, its cloudy and its going to snow and I'm going back to bed. "You can't do that wailed Mrs. Groundhog. "You've got to go out and look for your shadow." "Says who" muttered Groundhog as he settled down in the warm covers. "I know where my shadow is. Right here beside me where any self respecting shadow should be." With that Mr. Groundhog gave a contented sigh and dropped off to sleep.

Mrs. Groundhog looked at her spouse and decided to take a second nap, too.

Henry L. Mencken once said that the United States was made up of a mob of serfs, whose average intelligence is so low that any citizen who has read a dozen books is sure to be a roaring success. If Abraham Lincoln had ever read the words he surely would have taken issue with Mr. Mencken. Mr. Lincoln was never a cynic in his appraisal of his country and its people. But he had every right to be one; a far better reason than Henry Mencken. Mr. Lincoln failed so many times in his various undertakings and was so imposed upon by friends and enemies alike so often, that it is difficult to understand where he received the strength to go on. His strength was in his belief that every man has a spark of goodness and that eventually it rises to the surface. He understood that the trials of life sometimes buries that spark for a time but sooner or later it emerges again. It was the inspiration for Lincoln and its still the inspiration for each of us. When we need to renew our faith we read of Lincoln's life when we want to be entertained we read Mencken. There are times when the cynic says clever things, but to endure life we need the warmth and substance of Lincoln's faith.

Many Marylanders want to have a slogan on their car license plates similar to the ones other States have. The difficult thing to decide is what best describes Maryland in five words or less. Some one should promote a contest with suitable prizes to the winner for coining an apt slogan. Since the controversy over the crab-cake has about run its course, maybe we can start one over the auto license suggesting "The Deep Freeze State." (Small Size.)

A lot of our folks are sick with Flu, some have had it, others are recuperating from the effects of it, nice if you escape getting it. "Our flag is based on taxes," said a Dutchman in explaining the red, white and blue flag of the Netherlands. "We are red when we talk about them, white when we receive the bill, and we pay until we're blue in the face." That's how it is in the U. S., too—only we also see stars. I wish to extend my thanks and appreciation to all those who remembered to send me pretty cards for my birthday, also for nice gifts. It is the little things in every-day life which means so much. P. E. Will Spend 1/4 Million Dollars for Expansion and Improvements

The Potomac Edison Company in 1963 will spend approximately one and one-quarter million dollars to expand and improve electric service facilities and equipment in the Frederick District area. Major construction projects, covering building new facilities, and the improvement of existing ones, are included in this year's program, John W. Morgan, District Manager for Potomac Edison here, said the million-dollar program is "designed to meet the requirements for electric service that will accompany the continued growth anticipated in this area."

The Frederick area program, Mr. Morgan said, is a part of the overall construction forecast for the four-state area served by PE which calls for total expenditures of over $9 million in 1963.

Several major projects are scheduled for this area. Among these is construction of a large new transmission substation and switching station on a tract of land recently purchased near Doubs. This installation will accommodate facilities required to provide for future interconnecting lines and also step-down transformers. The new facilities at Doubs will reinforce the electric power supply in the lower Frederick County and upper Montgomery County areas to meet the growing load requirements.

Another major project scheduled for completion this year is the re-building of the 34,500-volt line between Thurmont and Troutville. This six-mile line project was initiated last year and will be completed in 1963.

In the lower section of the County, road construction will require relocation of a 34,500-volt line. This particular line affected runs from the Millville generating station in West Virginia to Brunswick. Other projects to be re-located in the Knoxville-Weverton area due to construction of a new highway there.

To serve the National Institute of Health facility near Poolesville, a six-mile line, of 34,500-volt construction, will be built from a point at Beallsville.

Mr. Morgan stated that, in addition to these major projects, dozens of others have been planned for this year, all in an effort to improve and maintain reliable electric service to farm, home, business and industry.

Many of these projects will consist of re-vamping, installation of new circuits and voltage changes. A major re-vamping, for instance, will be made in the south and west sections of Frederick, he said. Other projects will be undertaken in the Clarksburg, Hyattstown, Unionville, New Windsor and Jefferson areas.

"This program is outlined for the Frederick County area and adjacent territory represents a balanced program aimed at improvement and strengthening of electric service facilities," Mr. Morgan said. "This will entail line and substation work, and it will also involve the buildings, tools and equipment necessary to perform this service for our customers. It will, in sum, be a year of vital growth for our electric facilities in this area."

NEW OPTIONS FOR FARM REPORTING

Here's an important social security message for farm operators who had a very low net income or who operated at a loss in 1962.

You may be able to get social security credit for 1962 if you have a gross income of not over $1800 but at least $600 from the farm. A self-employment tax return must be filed with the Internal Revenue Office. In Carroll County for information on social security, contact your Social Security Representative at the County Office Building in Westminster. For information about your income tax returns, contact your Internal Revenue Service Representative at the Post Office in Westminster. Remember, the last day for filing your social security tax return is April 15.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN Feb. 12, 1809 Feb. 12, 1963

154 years ago on Feb. 12, 1809, one of the greatest men in the annals of American history was born. That man was Abraham Lincoln. The story of his humble beginnings in a backwoods log cabin and his eventual rise to fame as our 16th President, has become a veritable legend. He has probably become the subject of more articles and stories than any other famous American.

Abraham Lincoln was born into a poor family in Hardin County, Kentucky. His father, Thomas Lincoln, was an illiterate pioneer farmer. His mother, Nancy Hawks Lincoln, died in 1818, when young Abe was only nine years old. The elder Lincoln, in the following year of 1819, married a capable widow, who, fortunately, took a great interest in her homely, lanky step-son. Abe had never been much to look at as a child, and he was to remain unattractive, physically, throughout his life. But beneath his unkempt exterior, Mrs. Lincoln recognized the boy's true potential. She encouraged him to complete his scanty education, for Abe was filled with a great desire for "book-learning." He would walk for miles to borrow books from obliging neighbors. His greatest pleasure was to lie before the fire, place, after the day's chores were done, avidly devouring the pages of a treasured book.

Until he was 19 years of age, Lincoln did rough farm work. When he was 22, the family moved to Central Illinois. Once Abe took a cargo of produce by flatboat down to New Orleans. There he got his first view of slavery. He was shocked and horrified to see human beings so degraded and mistreated. Lincoln vowed, then and there, to do everything in his power to strike hard at this terrible institution. The opportunity to do this very thing came to him later on in life.

In the ensuing years, Lincoln became a storekeeper, post master, and lawyer. In 1834, he was elected to the State legislature. He continued practicing law and, in 1858, was nominated by the State Republican Convention for United States Senator. He accepted with his famous "house divided" speech, in which he said, "A house divided against itself cannot stand; I believe this government cannot endure half slave and half free." Although he lost the election, the issues he raised made him the leading Republican nominee for President. He was duly elected, and in 1860, became the nation's 16th President.

"A Lincoln," as he humbly affixed his signature many times, was a man who combined compassion and humility with political ambitions. This compassion went out to every living thing, for Lincoln hated to inflict pain on anyone. The great tragedy of his life was that he had to guide the nation through a long, cruel war in which brother fought against brother. Many people, especially those in the South, hated him, especially after he freed the slaves by issuing the Proclamation of Emancipation. But Lincoln was convinced that God had raised him up for the specific purpose of abolishing slavery.

After the Civil War, Lincoln was re-elected for a second term, but this was short-lived. While attending Ford's Theater on April 15, 1865, he was shot and mortally wounded by John Wilkes Booth. The whole nation mourned his untimely death. His life, both public and private, showed every evidence of a truly Christian spirit.

FEBRUARY

February, the second month of the year, gets its name from the Latin word "februa," signifying the festivals of purification which were celebrated in ancient Rome during this month. It was not originally included in the Roman calendar, which began with March; purportedly, the legendary king, Numa Pompilius, added the month of January at the beginning of the year and February at its end. Even today, February is a month of notable "festivals," or holidays. Two outstanding Americans were born in this month — Abraham Lincoln on the 12th and George Washington on the 22nd. It is also the month of hearts and flowers since St. Valentine's Day is observed on the 14th. So while February is the very shortest month of the year, having only 28 or 29 days, it is certainly one of the most festive.

There is an old tradition that if the groundhog sees his shadow on the 2nd day of the month, there will be six more weeks of winter in store for us. Whether we agree with this method of forecasting the weather or not, we cannot help but feel that spring seems much closer now than it did back in December or January. In the midst of snow, sleet and bitter winds, there may suddenly come a day in February when the sun seems almost warm. Slowly, but surely, the world of nature is awakening from the lethargic slumber of winter. Mysterious things are taking place deep within the earth. The roots of growing things feel an upsurging power, and the sap begins to climb in the trees. Toward the close of the month, we may see flocks of early robins, those true harbingers of spring. Colorful seed catalogues begin putting in an appearance. Our thoughts turn yearningly to gardening, baby chicks, and new spring outfits.

Yes, with the arrival of February, even though the weather is still far from pleasant, and even though Old Man Winter is still very much with us, we know for sure and certain that "spring is right around the corner."

This is one of the Motor Vehicle Inspection stickers used on the windshield of automobiles showing that the vehicle had passed inspection in Maryland in 1931 when the law became effective. It was issued to Senator Edgar Bennett of Wicomico County. The left half of this sticker is original, but the right half has been lost over the years. Some experts claim there are several original "Mona Lisas"; so it is with this sticker, half of which is original, the other half reproduced by the artist, Richard S. Oktavek. The old Motor Vehicle Inspection law is still on the books but the inspection is not enforced. The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission is vitally interested in legislation calling for a more effective lifesaving Motor Vehicle Inspection program for our State, to which Governor Tawes has expressed his approval.

The Fruit of the Vine MUSCATEL. Lord Byron, famous English poet and adventurer, championed the cause of Greek independence... traveled to the "Isles of Greece" during the war of 1821. There he enjoyed muscatel, a wine made from the fine muscat grapes grown on the Isle of Samos. Today, America's own muscat grape, grown in sunny California vineyards, makes a distinctive muscatel, golden in color and relatively heavy in body. Welcome your holiday guests with California muscatel — a mellow dessert and hospitality wine. Serve muscatel straight with hors d'oeuvres... or try a tasty innovation, combining one part wine, two parts club soda, ice and slice of lemon or lime wedged on the edge of the glass.

10 Ways To Save Money

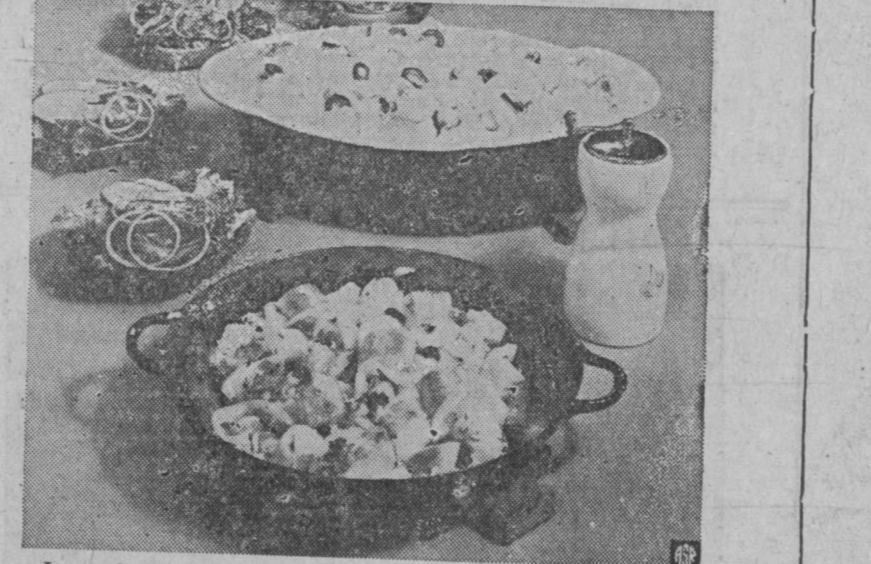

Rising Food Costs are Fought on Farm with Freezers

Because of the high cost of fresh foods in the off-season, and the better taste of fresh frozen foods compared to canned goods, the farmer's wife is now saving hundreds of dollars a year by freezing garden vegetables and home-grown meats! And here are 10 other ways the freezer helps:

- 1. Time-saving—Freezing fresh produce generally doesn't require special cooking or canning.
2. Cheaper and Better Freezer Containers—Purchased in quantities of 100, wholesale prices are available to the housewife through the mail. New square-shaped plastic containers save space in the freezer, are soft and pliable, have flexible non-leak lids. Pint containers are $9.75; quart, $14.75 per 100, postpaid. (Sample pint and complete price list, 25c. Write to OXBORO, P. O. Box 7097 PR, Highland Station, Minneapolis 11, Minn.)
3. More Vitamins—Freezing retains valuable nutrients.
4. Better Meal Planning—Out-of-season foods are available all year.
5. Buying Economies—Economy and bulk meat cuts can be fully utilized. Containers are perfect for storing meal-sized portions.
6. Lower costs—Freezer wrappings and containers are reusable.
7. Convenience—Cook and bake (even cakes, breads, cookies) in cool, comfortable weather.
8. Stop Waste—Save left-overs for single portions, sandwich fillings and soup flavorings.
9. Box Lunches for the Field and School Children—Full-course meals can be prepared days or weeks ahead.
10. The Bountiful Harvest—The woman who, with her ingenuity, builds the family larder or "stock room" into a wonder of fresh tastes for her family, can really take pride!

For special occasions, Alaska King crab sautéed in lemon butter is speedy, succulent and beautiful to look upon. Thin slices of lemon and plump imported capers perform a little miracle of flavor.

Internal Triangle Is Guide To Proper Kitchen Planning

Triangular traffic patterns in U-shaped and corridor kitchens, above, save steps, while electric appliances save time, trouble.

Even small kitchens, either one-wall or L-shaped, can have efficient traffic patterns if appliances are properly placed.

"Where does kitchen planning start?" asks Forecast, a national magazine for home economics teachers and students, in a recent issue. Their answer: "At the sink—the kitchen area most often used."

Forecast's editors make it plain that the range, refrigerator-freezer and dishwasher are of equal importance and should be chosen with great care and located properly in the new kitchen for most efficient use. A homemaker who is remodeling her kitchen has a wide choice of appliance styles, sizes and finishes to modernize a kitchen of any size and period of decor.

Ranges "Streamlined"

Forecast points out, for instance, that "streamlined" is the word for today's electric ranges, since it describes the designs with a custom look, automaticity of cooking, and new simplicity of maintenance and cleaning."

New automatic electric dishwashers, Forecast says, offer greatly increased efficiency and convenience for the homemaker and her family by making quick work of clean-up and by contributing to a cleaner, more sanitary kitchen—"one without counter-top clutter." Commenting on the 1962 electric refrigerator-freezers, Forecast notes that the homemaker will find them not only more efficient, but roomier inside without being larger outside—"they hold more food without sacrificing valuable floor space."

Good Placement Needed

Proper placement of appliances and ample counter and cabinet space are "musts" for a modern, work-saving kitchen. In any kitchen, the three major appliance centers should form a triangular traffic pattern totaling no more than approximately 22 feet, since most of the walking is done between the sink and dishwasher area, the refrigerator-freezer, and the range. Each activity center should have adjoining counters to provide comfortable working space.

Follow Basic Layout

This plan can be followed in all the basic types of kitchens—the U-shaped kitchen, which is the most popular, the L-shaped kitchen, the one-wall kitchen, which often solves the problem of limited space, and the corridor kitchen, which is open at both ends.

WOMEN DRIVERS SUPERIOR TO MEN SAFETY COUNCIL STATISTICS SHOW

The much abused woman driver doesn't have to take it any longer.

She's a safer driver than the male according to National Safety Council statistics of annual motor vehicle accidents.

There are some 27 million members of the distaff side cruising the highways and byways of the nation and over 63 million males behind the wheel. The Council tells us men have a sharply higher accident involvement rate and offer figures to prove the point.

For 1961 the scoreboard shows almost 15 million of the stronger sex involved in motor mishaps while 3,600,000 women drivers ran into trouble.

Men drivers, however, are not completely defenseless against these stark statistics. The Council offers some consolation by estimating that in terms of miles driven by each sex, males fare better accident-wise than females.

Automobile accidents for both sexes tend to be highest in the month of December and lowest in February. Increased pedestrian activity during the holiday season and longer hours of darkness are contributing factors in this trend.

"Any measure aiding a driver's visibility helps reduce motor accidents," says Matthew A. Broderick, technical service expert for Allied Chemical Corporation's Solvay Process Division. A visual aid that he strongly supports is the yellow traffic line over the time-worn white ones.

Mr. Broderick, who has made lengthy studies on the subject, cites a recent statement made by Dr. Walter S. Atkinson before the American Medical Association. Dr. Atkinson pointed out that repetitious highway markings—such as white guard posts and broken white lines—cause fatigue and possibly accidents. He recommends replacing the broken white lines with a solid yellow line.

Driver reaction tests recently conducted by the Vision Conservation Institute in Philadelphia found that yellow traffic markings were 35 to 50 percent more visible than white markings under all weather conditions.

Maryland 4-H'ers Show They Know What's Cooking

Four girls who know what's cooking and can make some of the tastiest rolls, coffee cake and pies in the East have been named the state's top 4-H Club winners in the 1962 bread and dairy foods demonstration projects.

Bread demonstration award winners are Virginia Benedict, 16, of Hampstead; Yvonne Kopp, 15, of Greenmount, and Jo Ann King, 15, of Frederick. They received a $50 U.S. savings bond each, donated by Standard Brands Incorporated.

Jean Messer, 16, of Frederick, the dairy foods award winner, received a 19-jewel wrist watch from the Carnation Company.

Miss Benedict and Miss Kopp teamed up to present a demonstration on how to make tasty cinnamon rolls—and then offered samples to their audience.

Miss Benedict, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Benedict, won the cinnamon roll championship at the Maryland State Fair individually, using the same recipe. Miss Kopp is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. De-n Kopp.

Miss Benedict is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles King. Her mother is a 4-H leader.

Miss Messer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allie Messer, gave a demonstration on how to make an unshaken lemon cheese pie. She used cottage cheese and other dairy products liberally in the pie and stressed their health value.

Both of her parents are 4-H leaders. She plans to sell her herd of 4-H dairy cows, now valued at $900, when she is ready to go to college.

She will use the proceeds along with money she has banked from 4-H projects to help pay part of her college expenses.

THE WOMAN'S TOUCH

This motorist is having his car checked by a Serv-ette, an attractive young lady who is part of a team of girls working in Cities Service stations in the Trenton, N.J., area. The Servettes, part of a Cities Service experiment to reduce the burden of its busy service station operators and mechanics, pump gas, check oil, clean windshields and handle minor repairs. The girls have been trained in car attention as well as salesmanship, and are a big hit with motorists. Part of their duty is to call at homes to inform customers about Cities Service products and local service stations.

Helping God
Lesson for February 10, 1963

Bible Material: Mark 6:1-56, Devotional Reading: II Corinthians 2:14 through 3:5

DOUBTLESS God could have made a universe where He did not need help of any kind. Whatever He wanted to do, would be done, and by Him alone.

Dr. Foreman in doing things they will not be done. Not that God requires help in everything.

Helping the ignorant

Let it be repeated: this is for our good. It is a wonderful privilege to share in anything God does.

trusted certain fishermen enough to send them out two by two, to teach people He would never live long enough to see.

Helping the hungry

Another form of evil is pain, and this has many forms, as we all know. When first chloroform was used to help women in childbirth, many preachers protested.

This is a real world

Sometimes we long for an easier world to live in. What we want, we think, is a sort of fairy-tale world.

Frozen Potato Month Special - Frozen French Fries Pizza Pie

If there's anything more popular eating with teen-agers than pizza, it's crisp, hot French-fried potatoes. Combine the two in a flavorful snack and you'll rate cheers from the young set.

- FRENCH FRIES: 2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce, 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste, 1/2 cup chopped onions, 2 teaspoons oregano leaf, 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, 1/4 teaspoon sugar, 3 tablespoons cooking oil, 2 packages (1 pound each) or 4 packages (8 ounces each) frozen French fries. PIZZA STYLE: 1 pound pork sausage links, 1/2 cup milk, 1 jar (2 1/2 ounces) shredded Parmesan cheese (1 cup), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 pound sliced Mozzarella cheese, cut into 1/2-inch strips, 1 can (2 ounces) anchovy filets.

Combine first 8 ingredients in fry pan. Cover; cook slowly until thickened (to make 2 cups thickened sauce). Brush cooking oil over sides and bottom of 14 inch pizza pan. Cover bottom and sides of pan with frozen French fries. Place in very hot oven (450°F.) to defrost and lightly brown French fries, about 20 minutes.

4-H's Urge: 'Belt 'em For Safety'

"Don't be caught dead sitting on your seat belt," was the theme of a safety article by 4-H National Safety Winner Gayle Gillen, 17, of Sparta, Tennessee.

Gayle was typical among eight national winners of $400 General Motors scholarships for outstanding 4-H farm, home and highway projects. The winners also received all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

The "safety-prone" boys and girls pointed out that all new model cars since 1962 are equipped with front seat belt connections.

Safety authorities estimate that some 5,000 lives would be saved annually if everyone wore a seat belt. Moreover, traffic accident injuries could be reduced more than one third.

"Despite increasing purchases of the belts and widely published information on their effectiveness, many people who have belts don't use them," said Gayle.

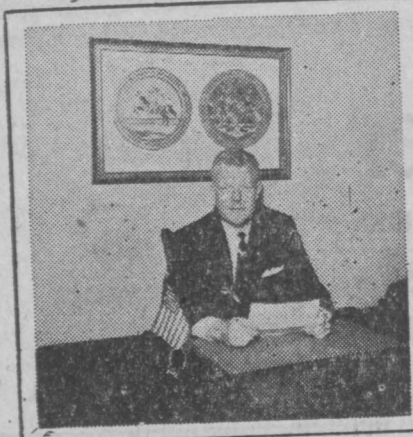

"They feel they're safe just driving to the store," she added, "but it has been established that three out of four traffic fatalities happen within 25 miles of home. Over half of traffic accidents resulting in either injury or death involve speeds under 40 miles per hour."

The national winners were selected from a group of 42 state safety winners. General Motors, now in its 19th year as safety awards donor, also gave state winners all-expense trips to the Club Congress.

The 4-H safety program is conducted by the Extension Service of the state agricultural colleges, the United States Department of Agriculture and the National 4-H Service Committee.

Other national winners include: Leeland Alexander, 17, Okmulgee, Okla.; Jeanette Arburua, 18, Bakersfield, Cal.; Phyllis Brooks, 18, Auburn, Mass.; Bobby Cofer, 18, Forest, Va.; Jim Lowe, 17, Morrison, Col.; Sandra Price, 18, St. Francis, Kan. and Jewell Yordy, 21, Morton, Ill.

Their advice for the nation's motorists: WHEN YOU GET IN YOUR CAR, FIRST FASTEN YOUR SEAT BELT, THEN FLIP THE KEY.

ANNAPOLIS REPORT

STATE SENATOR
E. O. WEANT, JR.

We would remind our readers that these columns are not intended to influence their decisions as to the legislation about which we are writing or have written. It is our intention merely to accurately report these matters in order that serious consideration can be given to proposed legislation by the citizens of Carroll County without undue influence or partisan bias on the part of your correspondent. Naturally, we would be happy to hear any opinions from our readers regarding legislation in which they are interested.

House Bill No. 4 passed the House of Delegates. It will be taken up by the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee in the near future. This Bill amends the provisions of the Conveyancing Act which permits ground rents to be redeemed after 5 years in such manner that, in the event of the adoption of House Bill 4 as a law of this State, ground rents would be redeemable at any time after creation. Ground rents would not be forced upon a purchaser of real property unless he so desires. It would not affect the permanent ground rents now existing.

House Bill 233 would provide that no minor under the age of 18 years shall have in his possession any firearm or deadly weapon. The Bill allows a minor above the age of 14 years to apply for a permit to use firearms in hunting lawful game in this State. This application would be made to the Maryland State Police and the applicant would be required to have the accompaniment of his or her parent or legal guardian. When issued, the permit would allow the minor to carry only a rifle or shotgun and would apparently eliminate participation in this sport of anyone under 14.

Another Bill labeled as Senate Bill 119 would provide that only medical physicians or dentists may hold themselves out as being able to prescribe treatment for or cure of the disease of cancer. Under this proposed law no other person could legally treat this disease or offer or sell any drug, medicine or device which is represented to have curative powers when used in the treatment of cancer. It is aimed at eliminating the "quacks" who pray on the unfortunate sufferers of this deadly disease.

A proposal which should have the interest of the citizens of our incorporated towns throughout the County is Senate Bill 125. This proposal would provide that any Municipal Corporation who is supplying street lights, fire protection, water, sewer or other services to territory which is the subject of annexation shall not need the consent of the 25 per cent of the persons who reside in the territory to be annexed simply to institute the proceedings for annexation. In other words, this would eliminate the requirement that a proposal for area change by municipality may be initiated by a resolution regularly introduced into the legislative body of this corporation only after the legislative body shall have obtained the consent for the proposal from not less than 25 per cent of the persons who reside in the area to be annexed. However, it would not change the other provisions in the law calling for notice, hearing, refenda and the like.

In accord with our usual procedure we would like to advise our readers of the following schedule of hearings on the Budget Bill and Capital Improvements Program, House Ways and Means Committee: Tuesday, February 12, 1963, 10:30 A. M., Department of Forests and Parks; Wednesday, February 13, 1963, 10:30 A. M., Department of Tidewater Fisheries; Thursday, February 14, 1963, 10:30 A. M., Department of Game and Inland Fish, and Water Pollution Control Commission; and Friday, February 15, 1963, 10:30 A. M., Planning Department. Senate Finance Committee: Tuesday, February 12, 1963, 10:30 A. M., Bank Commissioner and Administrator of Small Loans; Wednesday, February 13, 1963, 10:30 A. M., Civil Defense Agency, Military Department and Veterans' Commission; Thursday, February 14, 1963, 10:30 A. M., Aviation Commission and Racing Commission; and Friday, February 15, 1963, 10:30 A. M., Municipal Court.

E. O. Weant, Jr.,
State Senator
for Carroll County.

Helpful Hints to Income Tax Payers

District Director of Internal Revenue Irving Machiz has called attention to some of the errors encountered on income tax returns being filed. He urged that taxpayers carefully examine their returns before filing, paying particular attention to these items:

Be sure name and address are legible. Taxpayers should PRINT this information, making certain that their complete and current home address is furnished. Incomplete addresses delay receipt of refunds if due.

Attention is called to the legal requirement effective this year that taxpayers enter their tax account identifying numbers on their returns. For the individual, this is his Social Security number, or similar number assigned for tax purposes. This is necessary for automatic data processing.

Check all facts and figures to see that they agree. Check additions, subtractions, and other arithmetic for accuracy.

Be sure to list the names of persons for whom exemptions are claimed, and remember to claim the correct number to which you may be entitled.

Signatures are an important part of an income tax return. If a joint return is filed, the signatures of both husband and wife must be affixed. Attach all W-2 withholding statements for all employers by whom you were employed during the year.

If you file Form 1040-A, do NOT pin, staple, or scotch-tape withholding statements, Forms W-2, and do NOT fold the return. These actions impair electronic processing and delay receipt of any refunds due. Withholding statements should be attached with an ordinary paper clip.

Mr. Machiz warned that many errors are occurring in taxpayers claiming excess Social Security (FICA) tax as a credit against Federal income tax. This credit is allowed ONLY if a taxpayer individually worked for more than one employer, and had more than $150 Social Security tax withheld from both employers. Social Security tax withheld from a husband and wife can NOT be added together to establish an additional credit.

Many taxpayers fail to show the correct total of income on line nine of Form 1040A.

"And finally," Mr. Machiz said, "if you owe additional tax, mail your return and remittance to the District Director of Internal Revenue for your area. Maryland and District of Columbia taxpayers should mail their returns and remittances to 707 North Calvert Street, Baltimore 2, Maryland. Remittances should be made payable to "Internal Revenue Service."

MR. LINCOLN SIGNS A BILL

Among the least well known of our 16th President's deeds is his signing of the National Currency Act in 1863. Yet it is truly important.

The Act provided not only for a much-needed national currency but also for national banks, to take their place alongside the existing state-chartered banks.

Under this dual banking system, the role of commercial banks in the Nation's life has become increasingly greater.

1963 is the Centennial of the National Currency Act. Our bank is proud to join in the observance of this significant anniversary.
