HOME MISSION STUDY

"Who cares? Do you?" was asked last evening at Trinity Lutheran Church of approximately 175 persons attending the home mission study on juvenile delinquency sponsored by the Lutheran Church Women. Those who posed this question were panelists James E. Boylan, Jr., chief judge of the circuit court, Westminster; Miss Margaret Frederick, superintendent of the Montrose School for Girls, Reisterstown; Dr. William Gene Miller, acting head of the psychology department, Western Maryland College; and Reuben Jessop, executive director of Lutheran Social Services, Inc., Baltimore.

Each panelist reviewed experiences, gave opinions on the nature, cause and prevention of juvenile delinquency, and answered questions submitted by the audience. The Rev. Howard Miller, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, served as moderator. Mrs. Stanley Jennings led the opening devotion and presented an opening meditation on the topic, "Who Cares?"

Following the panelists' participation, Mrs. Kenneth Shorb, Mrs. Henry Reindollar, and Mrs. Elwood Harner reviewed "What the Community Offers Youth" and "What We Hope to Offer Youth in the Future," respectively.

The panelists presided at informal discussions during the serving of refreshments by the women of the host congregation. Mrs. William Hopkins, president of the Lutheran Church Women, held a brief business meeting after the mission study.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETS

The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce was held at Taney Inn on Monday, June 17, at 6:30 P. M. After a brief business meeting, President Dunham turned the meeting over to Mr. Ned Musser, Program Chairman.

Mr. Musser introduced Dr. Frank Wargny, who is principal of the Taneytown Elementary School. Dr. Wargny's topic was "What Communities Should Expect From Their Schools." He stated that years ago education was defined as the association of a child with a worthwhile adult. He observed, in his opinion, that this formula is about as good today as when it was first stated.

Continuing on the What Is Education question, he noted among other things that it is designed to produce moral and intellectual growth; equality of opportunity for all children; to promote self-realization and to create a sense of belonging. Dr. Wargny then stated he would like to tell a story, which, although it does not relate directly to education, he feels could well point the moral of one of the basic aims of education. This story, he feels, hints at something. The story follows:

A clerk, by the name of Mr. Neill, was employed for a number of years in a firm in lower Manhattan. He commuted by subway from his home in the Bronx daily. Mr. Neill estimated that he spent 5 1/2 working days each year commuting to and from work. The subway was noisy, so it was not possible to talk with his fellow passengers; therefore he read. After a time, he tired of reading and began to look into the faces of his fellow passengers, and he studied them. They soon became an obsession with him to the point where he became rather an adept student of physiognomy. He learned to tell what province an immigrant came from. He could distinguish a scholar, a sportsman, a miner, a clergyman, an artist, a brute, a housewife, a storekeeper, a gambler, and so forth. He finally came to one conclusion, and that was that he never saw a really good face. All of them seemed ugly. He began to be sorry he started the hobby.

One afternoon in late November, on a half holiday, as he sat in Columbus Park watching the derelicts, cold and shivering, he decided to do a good deed. He removed his overcoat and placed it around one of the derelicts and boarded the subway to go home. Half way home as he looked out of the window of the subway car, he saw for the first time in his life, what appeared to be an honestly good face. He realized he had to get out to talk to this man. He left the subway and followed the man into a brown stone house. He knocked on the apartment door which the man had entered. An old lady answered the door. Mr. Neill told her he wanted to talk to the fine looking man that just entered. The old lady assured him that no one had just entered, and that she and her husband were the only ones in the apartment. He repeated his request and then realized that he was frightening the old lady, so he left.

Seeing this good face brought about a change in Mr. Neill's life. He bought crutches for a cripple in his neighborhood; he changed from the office gown to the life of the office. A short time later he saw the good face again from the subway window. This time the man with the good face entered another apartment occupied by a woman with two small children. The woman assured him that no man had entered there. Up to this time, Mr. Neill had kept his secret, but one day he confided in the chief clerk of his firm. He told him he was going to talk to the man two days after this, the office boy came running into the office crying out that Mr. Neill had been hit by an auto when crossing the street and was dying. Mr. Neill had said as he lay on the street that he had seen a man with a good face and was running across the street to him and was hit by a car. Mr. Neill was removed to the hospital where he died shortly afterward. Just before his death, one of the doctors entered the room and leaned over his body. He turned to the nurse and said, "Nurse, who was the man with the good face who was bending over this man as I entered?" The nurse told him twice, "There was no one in this room, doctor, but this man and myself."

This story was written by Dr. Frank Luther Mott, who was Dean of the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri. Dr. Wargny reiterated that this story does not confine itself to schools, but he hopes it will hint at something. Your reporter believes that this story is worth reading over again and thinking about.

Following Dr. Wargny's presentation, Mr. Ned Musser, Principal of Taneytown High School, spoke on "What is the Communities Responsibility to the School?"

Mr. Musser prefaced his remarks by relating a satirical story which was written by Dr. George Orwell. The story had to do with a farm on which the animals revolted, evicted the farmer and his family and set up their own community government. The pigs, being the smartest, took over; the cows being docile, were relegated to unimportant rolls; the geese were assigned to sentry duty, and so forth. One quarrelsome pig, due to his nature, was given no position. Subsequently, the police dog had 12 puppies. The quarrelsome pig was assigned to give them their education. As the government began to evolve, strife and difficulty reared its ugly head. A big meeting was called in the barnyard, but a leader

FREE SCOUT MOVIE ON JUNE 20

"This Is Girl Scouting," a colored moving picture, will be presented on Thursday night, June 20, by the Taneytown Girl Scouts at the Taneytown Elementary School at 7:30 P. M. Everyone is invited to attend. Girls who are Scouts, or would like to be Scouts, together with their parents, are urged to attend.

This movie shows four Scout troops from four different sections of our country — a Brownie troop in New England showing friendship between children who can see and children who cannot; a Junior troop in the South where a Greek puppeteer shares his talents and heritage while the girls work on a dramatics badge; Cadette Girl Scouts go on a camping trip in a national park in the West and are tested by a well-planned challenge which involves emergency preparedness; a Senior troop in the Middle West learn to share their troop experience with migrant children. All these troops have been experimenting with the new Girl Scout program.

Mrs. John Chatlos, the Troop Service Director, will explain to the audience the changes in the Girl Scout program so that girls and parents will understand some of the things that are ahead for the girls who are in the troops of our community. These changes become effective September 1.

Since all the handbooks for the girls are new and will not be for sale until September 9, an opportunity will be given for any girls to place an advance order for her book. This will insure her of having her own book at the beginning of the year. The book will be $1.00 plus 3¢ tax; money to accompany order.

could not be decided upon. Shortly, who appeared on the scene but the quarrelsome pig with the now fully grown, 12 well trained, snarling police dogs. The pig immediately declared himself the dictator of the farm and had his police dogs to enforce it. The moral of the story is that if we close our eyes to education or any phase of our way of life, something like this could happen to us. Therefore, we must appreciate and give direction to the American education effort.

Our education system in this country, Mr. Musser said, is new, having been developed since the Civil War. The evolution has come slowly. Secondary and Elementary schools have developed in this period. It was not until 1874 that the state of Illinois allocated tax money for the maintenance and operation of schools. The other states followed suit.

What is the purpose of education? Is it for the college-bound or is it general education for all, allowing each child to manifest his utmost potential. There is some conflict on this point and this conflict is producing comprehensive schools, Mr. Musser stated.

Mr. Musser challenged his audience to show him one substitute for our public schools. If there is none, he said, we have to appreciate our schools, pay for them and give them intelligent direction.

He noted that teacher certification facilities are taxed to find qualified teachers to teach our boys and girls. Of all the 50 states, only Kansas, Nevada and Arizona have all certified teachers. Maryland in the elementary system has 33.5 per cent non-certified teachers and in the secondary system 17.6 per cent non-certified teachers.

Maryland ranks 11th in the nation in average teacher's salaries and we might think that this would guarantee good teachers, but this is obviously a fallacy. Maryland has neglected the training of teachers. This is evidenced by the fact that this year 8,000 teachers will be required; 1,700 of these will have to be "imported" from other states.

Mr. Musser challenged the community to provide our schools with an identity. A school, he said, definitely has a personality if it is associated with people and their community. Present trends would tend to reduce the identity of a school and this is probably not good. Mr. Musser noted that Taneytown loses only two teachers this year and this is the lowest turnover in many, many years. This he feels is a good sign. He noted that our consolidation problem here in Taneytown has given Taneytown High a definite identity. He suggested that we also give our teachers an identity by inviting them to social gatherings and inviting them into our homes for dinner. Get to know the teachers through your own eyes, he said, and not just through the eyes of children. Give them a decent income proportionate to the job they do. He concluded his remarks with this challenge — Support your public schools in all ways.

Chamber members are reminded that the next regular meeting will be a dinner meeting at Taney Inn on Monday, July 15.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer.

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The R A I N S! Exactly as the Farmer's Almanac stated for June and here it is "Sorry, it's lowery. Spiders making webs wider for innocent riders. Showers meant brides parents should rent tents. You'll sizzle in this drizzle. No matter, cut the chatter, crops are getting fatter!"

Cute and True!

Did you know (which many people are not aware) that in the Movies when you drink alcohol is being used here it is — Ginger Ale is the Champagne, Grape Juice for the wine and tea for the Whiskey.

Watching that man who inserts the packages of all brands of cigarettes as I was passing in those huge machines, I asked him which cigarette is now tops of the Market and this is what he said, "KENT IS SURELY RISING FAST AND GETTING UP TO MARLBORO AND PALL MALL!" He said it was due to the Micronite Filter for which they have the patent!

Don't forget these hot days, Folks, to be sure to give your Pet fresh water so often. Remember when I had Nellie, that precious cow? She used to permit me to milk her either side and I think it was the affection I gave her as she was the sweetest disposition I have ever seen in any cow. Perhaps it was the wonderful food, "PURINA" that I gave her, as the farmers for miles around used to come and look at the additional lbs. on Nellie of which I used to write in my Column. No one should ever own stock if they cannot feed them properly. Eh?

Have you noticed the improvement of the Ted Mack Shows which now are at 5:00 P. M. on Sundays? Then, those Ladies desiring to dance with Lawrence Welk? He is one of the finest men and good on any TV Show. Everyone has the greatest esteem for that Leader of The Champagne Music!

Be sure and rest as much as you can, Mrs. Housewife these hot days. I know of a very busy lady who now and then stops for a ten minute rest period when she has much to do around the house and I think that is a clever idea. What say you and you?

Many write asking me as to purchasing a used car and do I think it is O. K.? Well, here it is, folks, right from experience. One should not buy any used car unless the Dealer states the history of the car and a newly painted used car is always suspicious as it may have been in an accident. It may need new shoe brakes and that is an expensive item. It may leak oil and that is a frightfully expensive affair constantly laying out money for oil. Tires may look good from a certain point of view but I have known where they were turned to the innards and the innertubes showed bubbles from openings. Go to a man that you can really trust — one you know right in your community and even ask him if you could take it to another mechanic to be checked. I have had so many bitter experiences. Folks that many times, I have felt like writing an article for The Reader's Digest and entitle it, "I BOUGHT A USED CAR." People would be shocked to read of the experiences. Very few people are going to trade a car in for a new one unless something is wrong with it and that from a used car Dealer's sales man! Was he not honest? But I know that man whom I met just too late for then I would not have had my awful experiences.

Now, here is to that July born person — those from June 20 to July 20. This is called the "Crab Sign" or Cancer. That does not necessarily mean you will have Cancer. This Sign is governed by Luna, the Moon which rules over the breast and reflective faculties. The men are usually the most wonderful mechanics that there are. They are very tactful and diplomatic and have great fondness for the game of chance, in other words speculation. The Cancer women are truly the most feminine of any of the 12 signs. They are most attractive and are very talented for many things. They adore children and are always the sweetest of Mothers. The men and women are so different in this sign for the men are very quiet and the women are great talkers. They surely do love life and yet enjoy a beautiful home to which they desire to have their friends visit. Cancer people are inclined to look over the past and being very slow to adopt new methods retard their progress. These people should always have the advanced education. They must be careful as to contradicting anyone. The men at times are very fickle and they must overcome this. It is best for them, therefore to marry a little later in life for enduring marriages.

Have a grand week-end, Folks. Be kind and thoughtful and always remember if you cannot say something good about any individual, keep your lip tightly closed for it is best not to say anything at all.

Until next week, D.V.,
I am,
Faithfully,
Your Observer.

When you pay your fine in the traffic department at the Decatur, Ga., police station, you receive a cash register slip as a receipt. On the back of the slip is printed: "Thank you for your patronage."

The reward for a good deed is to have done it.

"GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS"

FORT PIERRE, S. D., TIMES: "There are better ways, says the Council of State Chambers of Commerce, of increasing the employability of unemployed youth than by enrolling a 'relatively small number' in the pending Youth Conservation program at a cost estimated as high as $675 million a year for 150,000 enrollees. The Council's analysis notes that the estimated cost per man per year is three times that of a year's enrollment in a state university and five times that of training in 'the nation's better vocational high schools.' Among the 'better and less costly ways' of making youth more employable' suggested by the Council are correction of laws and regulations that prevent employment of youth, expansion of apprenticeship programs by labor unions and industry and 'most importantly' tax rate reform to stimulate economic growth.

BEVERLY, MASS., TIMES: "As an American citizen you may not own a foot of your native soil, but three acres of crop land and seven acres of grazing are required to keep you supplied with food. It is this fact which is causing government and other agriculture experts — despite current crop surpluses — to view with concern the deterioration of the nation's crop and grass lands through erosion, over-cropping and other causes."

COGGON, IOWA, MONITOR: "Practice good outdoor manners when you visit parks, beaches, and other recreational areas. Always dispose of your trash in a proper receptacle and help keep America clean, safe and beautiful."

PHENIX CITY, ALA., CITIZEN: "From what comes out of Washington these days the watchword of economic growth seems to be 'change or perish.' So what happens when industry suggests constructive change? At once the unions throw up road-blocks."

ALMA, MICH., RECORD: "Communism is rotten because it ignores completely the rights of individuals and destroys freedom and the dignity of man."

JUNCTION CITY, ORE., TIMES: "Sunshine! Time to get at the garden, the flowers and shrubs and all those grubby tasks! But as the man says, before messing around with any of these new weedicides, pesticides, insecticides, bug-killers and such, Read the Label!"

ANTIIOCH, ILL., NEWS: "When laws are used to force one private citizen to hire, rent to, sell to, another specific person or group of persons, every American citizen loses a little more of his individual freedom. The negro loses that freedom right along with the rest of the people. It may look like a good trade now, but his children may well wish he had guarded his rights as a citizen as zealously as he fought for recognition. The fight against discrimination will go on, but let's hope all groups keep their eyes on the common goal. It should be a war to free all men from the bondage of prejudice, not to ensnare them in a common bondage of laws that limit personal freedom."

BERGENFIELD, N. J., TIMES-REVIEW: "If our schools are to be saved the threat of government regulations, the Administration's mammoth $6 billion aid-to-education bill must be defeated so resoundingly that it will never be offered again. Let's keep urging our legislators, not to let the national government add a fourth 'R' — for regulation — to the curriculum of our schools."

ANGOLA, IND., STEUBEN REPUBLICAN: "In recent years we have had more cases where juveniles . . . have been using alcoholic beverages. This, of course, is direct law violation. It is time the crime of peddling illicit beverages to minors is made a more serious crime with heavy penalties. This peddling is just as distasteful as the dope peddler. Both are law violators bent on the destruction of the health and morals of our youth."

OAKDALE, CAL., LEADER: "Three cases of serious mauling of people by power lawnmowers have appeared in the Leader in recent weeks. Loss of fingers, loss of toes, and other injuries are all too frequent when persons become careless while using these convenient, but deadly machines. Remember, those who have learned by bitter experience say, that the power mower should never be examined with the motor running."

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Vacation Bible School started on Monday at the Keysville Lutheran Church with an enrollment of 65.

Jonathan David has come to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. John Lambert of New Midway. This is good news indeed, and the Lamberts are delighted to have him. Jody's mother is the former Miss Jean Stonessifer of Keysville.

On Wednesday the 12th, Mrs. Carroll and Mrs. Richard Wilhide visited in White Hall with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gill and family and Mrs. Emory Yoder. They also called on Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Currens in Hampstead. On Tuesday, the 18th, Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, daughter Janie and niece Audrey spent the day in White Hall visiting again with the Gills and Mrs. Yoder. Mrs. Yoder was taken to the hospital for further X-rays. Do hope her broken hip is continuing to mend.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Ausherman of Forest and Stream Club Road upon their 25th wedding anniversary. A celebration was held at their home on Sunday with many friends and relatives present. They received many lovely and useful gifts. We wish them many more happy anniversaries together.

"The Swiss Boy" is back! Werner Rahm and his brother Ernest arrived at the home of the Carroll Wilhide family near Detour on Friday evening. They will spend some time in the area visiting with friends made when Werner was here 2 years ago as an IFYE, before going on to visit with the other families with whom he stayed when in the USA previously. Their plans include a trip to California and back—if they have sufficient time. Werner surprised the William Fleharty family early Saturday morning and was a breakfast guest. On Monday he and Ernest were dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Hans Steffen and Herman of Sixes Bridge Road. It certainly is good to see Werner again and to welcome Ernest as well.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lieb and family near Key-mar upon the death of her mother in Baltimore on Monday morning.

The roses growing around the wagon wheels at the Robert Sell home in Keysville are certainly lovely again this year.

Guest speaker at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday was Mr. Richard Truchess, a student at the Seminary in Gettysburg. His sermon, which was excellent, was titled "God Is Love." Judging by the students that have spoken to us, the Seminary is indeed "turning out" many fine ministers for they have all had many good thoughts to present to us.

Last Friday Mrs. Carroll and Mrs. Richard Wilhide near Detour went to Haleshorpe, Baltimore, to bring Jane home after her visit. They were luncheon guests of Mrs. Melvin Schnappinger and were joined by her daughter, Mrs. William Gross, and son, Jerry.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baltzell of Union Bridge were Sunday supper guests with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Austin of Detour.

Mr. and Mrs. Johann Schott and family near Taneytown went to Annapolis Friday the 14th for an oral examination toward American Citizenship. They will be sworn in as naturalized citizens in September. Sincere congratulations to each of them.

Sunday supper guests with Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar and Randy of Forest and Stream Club Road were Mr. and Mrs. James Weishaar and Bobby of Detour. Visitors later in the evening were Mrs. Hyde and daughter, Mrs. Fossett, of Westminster.

Have you had a chest X-ray lately? The truck will be at the Square in Taneytown on Tuesday the 25th from 2:30 to 6 P. M.

Sunday supper guests with the William Fleharty family near Detour were her aunt, Mrs. Stanley Sweigard of Halifax, Pa.; her sisters and nephews, Misses Carol and Fay Wolfgang and Shawn of Washington, D.C., and friend "Chuck" Lanham also of Washington. Mrs. Sweigard is going to spend several weeks visiting with Carol and then visit in Detour for awhile also.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, Jane and Beth near Detour, with Werner and Ernest Rahm, visited in Baltimore on Sunday with her aunt, Miss Ada Yoder, and friend, Miss "Dorie" Tag, as well as his mother, sister and family, Mrs. Maurice Wilhide, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fry and children.

Recent Sunday supper guests with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stonessifer and family of Keysville were his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stonessifer and family of Littlestown, Pa. Visitors later in the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Valentine and two sons of Emmitsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Schaffer, and family of Keysville Road, Mrs. LaRue Schaffer of Taneytown and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Keilholz and family of Rocky Ridge.

Larry Weishaar near Taneytown left Saturday morning for Army Reserve training at Camp Pickett, Va. His wife, Pat, will spend the two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar near Detour.

Mrs. Richard Wilhide near Detour visited with her family, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Seibert and children of Clear Spring, on Sunday afternoon. Her sister Mariann returned with her and will attend the two weeks of Bible School in Keysville.

The Men's Chorus of the Union Bridge Lutheran Parish will hold a Hymn Sing on Sunday evening, June 30, in the Park at Rocky Ridge. The program will begin at 7:45 P. M. Don't forget the Keysville Lutheran Sunday School picnic to be held Wednesday evening, the 26th, at Taneytown Memorial Park beginning at 6:30 P. M.

Monday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide near Detour were her aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Middlekauff and son of Hagerstown.

Quote from Sunday's bulletin: "The ladies of the Keysville Lutheran Church and Sunday School are having refreshments at the Macie Forney Sale on June 29. It is to be a large sale and much food will be needed. Donations of pies, cup cakes, homemade candy, chicken salad and also cash donations will be greatly appreciated. Contact Mrs. Mae Baumgardner or Mrs. Kathryn Stine. Proceeds of the sale will be placed in the Building Fund." Unquote.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Moses of Washington, D.C., upon the birth of a daughter. Mrs. Moses is the former Miss Debbie Sappington who made her home with the Edward Coshun family near Detour.

—Dharlys Fleharty.

Steven Frock spent Monday with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fogle and family, near Wolf's Mill. "Tain't No Use To Be A'gruntin'"

"Tain't no use to be a'gruntin' and a'kickin' up a fuss, when things don't jive to suit yer when they might by far be wuss. I can't see the sense o'frettin,' being always in a stew, just as though you thought the good Lord orter fix things all for you.

There are folks on this old planet sittin' straddle o' the fence, doin' nothin'—just a'squatin' without even good hoss sense; just a'uckin' and a'kickin,' with some brayin' now and then—you might think a'wachtin' o' 'em they was mules instead of men."

"There are others" is a sayin', which is truth—and don't forget there are others still a'livin'—you don't run the planet yet. Jest you cheer up then a little, don't be fussin' cause it's wet, what suits you may not suit others. "There are others"—don't forget when the skys with clouds are hangin; and the rain comes seepin' through, when your load of care is heavy, and you're feeling mighty blue—trust in God and keep a'smilin, for if he shall find you true, sometime soon the clouds'll scatter, and God's sunshine filters through.

The above was published in the New York Tribune about 1899.

We offer our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Null, who were married on June 8th. Also to Mr. and Mrs. John Cramer who were married on June 15th. May each couple have a long and happy life together.

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN WILL CONVENE

Members of the Church of the Brethren will be urged this month at their world conference to stand across the differences that separate men from God and from one another. Centered on the theme, "To Heal the Broken," which lifts up the current denominational emphasis on reconciliation, the conference will convene June 25-30 at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana.

Among the estimated 8,000 Brethren in attendance will be from Meadow Branch, Rev. and Mrs. Hylton, Maurice Wolfe, Charlotte Kroh and daughter, Pearl; from Pipe Creek: Mrs. Andrew Hoff, Mrs. Bessie Roys, Mrs. Elmer Sager, Rev. H. Austin Cogser; from Union Bridge: Rev. and Mrs. Dan Snider, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hiteshaw, Rev. and Mrs. Berkeley Bowman, Rev. and Mrs. O. P. Jones, Rev. and Mrs. Glen Baird; from Edgewood: Rev. Maurice Strasbaugh; from Westminster: Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, Rev. Curtis Dubble, Rev. and Mrs. John Eberly; and from Piney Creek: Rev. and Mrs. Warren M. Eshbach; all of the Carroll County Churches of the Brethren.

More than 1,000 elected representatives from congregations and districts in the United States, Canada, Nigeria, India, and Ecuador will form the delegate body and act on a score of business matters. Among the major items of business will be consideration of the church's position on divorce and remarriage, a look at the Biblical basis for the church's rite of anointing the sick, a study of evangelism and the denomination's membership growth, and a proposal for greater stress on tithing.

On the remarriage of divorced persons, a committee report urges the reversal of the church's present position against such marriage, taken in 1933. In seeking "an evangelical rather than a legalistic approach to the problems of divorce, we find no evidence in the Gospels that the sins committed in marriage are excluded from the redemption wrought by God in Jesus Christ," the study committee observed.

The reports on the anointing service for the sick and on tithing delve into the Biblical bases of such practices and commend them to the churches. In the latter report, the title is advanced as a "minimal guideline" and not a "rigid standard" for church giving.

The membership study, concerned with the slow growth of the Church of the Brethren in North America, urges an examination of the church's motivation and leadership for evangelism. The denomination now numbers 201,500 in the United States; ten years ago it numbered 190,000.

Moderator of the conference will be the Rev. Dr. Harry K. Zeller, Jr., pastor of the La Verne, Calif., Church of the Brethren. The associate moderator is the Rev. Dr. DeWitt L. Miller, pastor, Hagerstown, Md. Speakers at the general sessions will include, in addition to the moderator: Rev. Dr. George A. Buttrick, Garrett Biblical Seminary, Evanston, Ill.; the Rev. J. Henry Long, Church of the Brethren foreign missions executive, Elgin, Ill.; Rev. Dr. T. Wayne Riemann, head of the department of religion and philosophy, Manchester College, North Manchester, Ind.; the Hon. James B. Parsons, Chicago, judge of the United States District Court of Northern Illinois; the Rev. Carroll S. Ringgold, pastor, Orlando, Fla., Church of the Brethren, and the Rev. Dr. M. Guy West, pastor, First Church of the Brethren, York, Pa. More than a dozen other speakers will address special dinners and sectional meetings.

Host to the Brethren eight times previously in the 177 years of Brethren annual conferences, Illinois is the site of the denomination's General Offices at Elgin, its graduate theological seminary, Bethany, which will move this summer from Chicago to a new $3 million campus at suburban

MARRIED

KILE — NAILL

The wedding of Miss Rebecca Nail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nail of Taneytown, Md., and Mr. Ona Kile, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ona Kile, Sr., of Keyser, West Va., was solemnized Saturday, June 15, 1963, in the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church of Taneytown.

The Rev. Howard Miller performed the double ring rites at 4 o'clock in the afternoon amid decorations of white snapdragons, majestic daisies, palms and white candles.

Miss Rebecca Hays sang several selections and Miss Hazel Hess was organist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a sheath gown of chantilly lace and organza over taffeta with a scalloped square neckline with iridescent sequins and short sleeves. The front of the organza skirt was designed in an apron effect and the back was fashioned in a self made bow at the waistline ending in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil fell from a jeweled crown and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations, baby's breath and ivy.

Miss Barbara Nail, Baltimore, was maid of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids were Miss Deloris Kile, the groom, and Miss Lenora Gateau of Washington, D.C. The bride's attendants were attired in yellow silk organza sheaths with matching overskirts and carried bouquets of shaded daisies.

Thomas Van Felt of Frederick was best man and the ushers were William Nail, David Nail and Eugene Kidwell of Frostburg.

A reception was held in the church social room following the ceremony.

The couple left for a trip to Florida. For travelling, the bride wore a yellow and white striped suit with white accessories and a corsage lifted from the center of her bouquet.

GETTING THE MOST... FROM YOUR GARDEN

SPRINGTIME IS FOR LETTUCE

In the spring a salad-lover's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of home-grown lettuce. And with good reason, for several kinds of lettuce with the greatest appeal for eye and palate are often hard to find at the supermarket. If you've never eaten home garden lettuce, you don't know what you've been missing. It's quite a different vegetable from the leathery heads that you buy in the store.

White Boston.

The surprising thing is that more people don't try growing their own. It takes very little space, and very little time and effort, and home garden lettuce plots are seldom seriously affected by insects and plant diseases. Here are some pointers for those whose spirit of adventure is not yet dead.

The main requirements for a good crop of backyard lettuce are: fertile soil and plenty of moisture to promote the kind of rapid, uniform growth that will make your lettuce tender and sweet.

You can probably improve your soil for lettuce by adding one or more of these materials to your soil before preparing the seed bed.

Fertilizer: about 4 or 5 lb. per hundred square feet of one of the standard garden fertilizers. Lawn fertilizer can be used, but only about 1/2 - 1/2 as much. Organic matter, such as peat moss, old hay or straw, decomposed grass clippings, poultry litter, manure (if you can find it), etc. — and the more the better.

Lettuce plants have a rather small, shallow root system, so it is important to keep the upper soil from drying out. This is usually no problem in the spring, but summer lettuce will benefit from a layer of lawn clippings, or similar material spread around the plants. This conserves moisture, keeps the soil cooler, and eventually returns organic matter to the soil when you turn it under for the next crop.

Varieties For earliest picking in late spring, Simpson's Curled (Black Seeded Simpson) (light green), Grand Rapids (darker green), and Prize Head (red-tinged), are popular non-heading or leaf varieties. They can be picked a few leaves at a time. Salad Bowl (light green) and Ruby (dark red) are good leaf-types for later plantings, as they stand hot weather very well.

Among the loose-head or semi-head types there are several good ones to choose from. White Boston (medium green), Bibb (small, dark green), and Mignonette (red-tinged) are good for cool season. Matchless (dark green) Buttercrunch (dark green) are better suited for warmer weather. These varieties are popular for their rather thick, heavy leaves and their mild, sweet flavor.

Another type well suited for home gardens and adapted for a wide range of growing conditions is romaine, the upright, rather tall, long-leaved rather loose-headed kind. Parris Island or Dark Green Cos are widely used.

After spading, work the soil free of stones and clumps to prepare a fine seed bed. Lay out your rows to allow between 12 and 24 inches between rows, and plant to a depth of about 1/4 inch at a rate of about 6 to 8 seeds per foot. As the young plants begin to grow, thin out a space of about 8-12 inches between plants, using the pulled plants for leaf-lettuce.

The early maturing leaf-lettuces reach full size in six to eight weeks. The heading types may take 10 to 12 weeks for full maturity. To avoid the gluts and famines, make a small planting every week or so.

If you would like free information about how to grow vegetables in your back yard, send your name, on a postcard, to Asgrow Garden Guide, PO Box 406, New Haven 2, Conn.

God In His World Lesson for June 23, 1963

Bible Material: Psalms 19; 95; 148. Devotional Reading: Psalm 97.

IS GOD in His world? Certainly, says every Christian. God is everywhere, and so He must be in His world. Go as far as you like in a man-made satellite ex- ploring space; catch the tail of a comet as it sweeps, once in eter- nity perhaps, into our orbit; take the rocket-fuel of im- agination and rush faster than the speed of light, far beyond all vis- ible galaxies... always God is there. Certainly God is in His world, this world we see and love or hate, this world of stars and suns, angulworms and atoms, sea and sky and earth and all the creatures living in it. But the next questions are harder and tied closely together. HOW is God in His world, and what good does it do us to know or believe He is here? We can't see Him, and an- swers to questions in astronomy or physics or botany, and so forth, would be just the same if there were no God. The distance to the sun from here is just the same for an atheist as for a Christian saint.

How God is not here

To be very short with a very long question, let us face it: God is not in His world the way some thinkers suppose He is. He is not in His world as your soul is in your body. The universe is not the garment of God, or the body of God. God is not in the universe in the way we are, namely as a part of it. He is neither a part nor the whole of it, and it is neither a part nor the whole of Him. God is also not in the world as a spec- tator is in a stadium watching a game. He is all there and maybe yelling His head off for the home team; but He can't get out on the field and mix in the plays, and He couldn't even if He wanted to. God is not just here being enter- tained, and sometimes not know- ing just what the score is. More- over, God is not here as a prod- uct of this world. You are a prod- uct of it, you would not be what you are if the universe were utterly different from what it is. But God is not owing His existence to the world or to any one in it. If the universe ceased to be, you would cease to be; but God would be God with or without the universe.

How God is here

All the same, God is here in His universe, in two ways. First He is here as Creator. When we use that word, we do not mean merely a deity who created all things a long time ago. He is here today as creator. A pilot in a small plane runs into turbulent weather. His little plane bounces around, and out of the tail of his eye he can see the wings go up and down as they hit the down- drafts and up-drafts. It would scare some people; but the pilot is not afraid. A little instrument on the dashboard shows the plane can stand this much turbulence. It was constructed so as to stand it. The designer of that plane is in it, seeing that the pilot gets through safely. So God is in the laws of the universe. He is in its reliability, in its beauty no less.

The universe points to God

Two wrong ideas come up here. One is that we can learn nothing about God from the universe. It is a waste of time (some people maintain) for a Christian to study the universe, in other words to be a scientist, because no amount of scientific knowledge brings you a step nearer God. The truth is, however, that we can learn much about God through a study of science. "Maker of heaven and earth" takes on tremendous mean- ing for people who take the trou- ble to find out what is known about the worlds God made. The opposite and equally mistaken notion is that we learn all we need to learn about God just from ob- serving the world He made. Quite the contrary; some of the most important and urgent ques- tions we can ask are not to be answered by looking into tele- scopes or microscopes. How can I come to terms with God? Am I no more to God than other ani- mals are? When I have fallen into sin, does God care? What does God want me to do? How can I keep from being lost in this vast universe? These and other ques- tions turn us from the Creator's wonderful works to His wonderful Word. There we may learn how the wonders of His power are more than matched by the won- ders of His grace.

THE GROTTO

Travel is a wonderful way in which to broaden one's mind—far more ef- fective than merely reading books. But unfortunately, lack of time and money makes extensive travel impos- sible for many of us. If such is the case, we must learn to look around us for nearby places of beauty and interest.

We found such a place recently, right in our neighboring town of Em- mitsburg. I refer to the Grotto of Lourdes, a serenely lovely retreat tucked away in a quiet mountain set- ting, directly in back of Mount St. Mary's College. The road winding up to the Grotto took us through a woodland ringing with bird songs. The view from the mountain, which overlooks peaceful St. Joseph's Val- ley, is a wonderful one. We noticed a quaint graveyard, encircled by an old stone wall, and decided to read some of the inscriptions on the weather-beaten stones. Some of the people buried here came from County Cork, in Ireland.

We entered Corpus Christi Aisle, and here saw the Stations of the Cross, set in native stone. Here there is a cathedral-like hush. The at- mosphere is one of such quiet reverence that we felt we should not disturb it even by talking. On the opposite side there are calm benches where one may sit and meditate. Going on farther, we came upon a calm reser- voir, presided over by the Lady of the Lake. Beyond this there is a statue of St. Francis of Assisi, which stands in front of the Grotto Chapel.

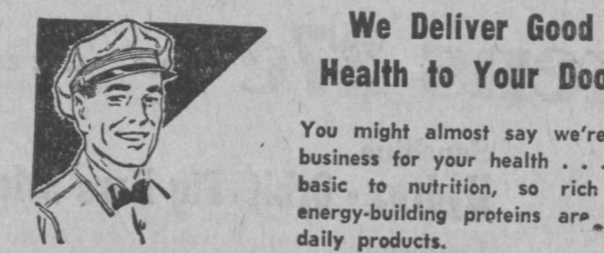

In back of the Chapel, we saw a large rock, which the sign informed us is "Mother Seton's Rock." On Sunday afternoons Mother Seton would sit here while she taught the children of the mountain parish. Di- rectly across from the rock and Chapel is the Grotto itself. Accord- ing to the dictionary, the word "grot- to" means "a small cave-like retreat, either natural or artificial." The Grotto of Lourdes is a natural one.

Many years ago, Father John Du- bois discovered a lovely clearing, in the center of which was a large mound, shaded by an ancient oak tree. A stream, rushing down the ravine, divided and flowed on both sides of this mound. In the course of time, the earth was washed out from be- neath the gnarled roots of the old oak tree. Thus a recess, or grotto, was formed under the huge trunk and thick roots which overhung the stream. This stream still flows down the ravine, in between the Grotto and the Chapel. The Grotto of Lourdes is visited by numerous people each year, both Catholics and Protestants alike.

We left the peaceful retreat greatly refreshed in spirit. It was a deligh- tful way to spend a Sunday evening. There are many other places near at hand which are both scenic and interesting. All we need do is look for them and take advantage of them.

—Zola Cantwell.

MRS. DELBERT BRAUNING AND JEFFREY PAUL

BAKER — In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, Arnold C., for Father's Day and his birthday, June 20th.

What would we give his hand to clasp, His patient face to see, To hear his voice, to see his smile, As in the days that used to be. But some sweet day we'll meet again Beyond the toll and strife, And clasp each other's hand once more, In Heaven, that happy life.
