P.T.A. MEETING IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

On Sept. 17 at 8:00 P. M. in the Taneytown Elementary School, approximately three hundred parents met with their child's teacher in the class room for the first P.T.A. meeting.

There the teacher very carefully, systematically and thoroughly discussed with the parents what the child was doing, and what was expected of the parents to do for the year '63-'64. This was a wonderful experience; for the representation of interested parents and teachers present, and the knowledge derived by all.

On Oct. 15 at 8:00 P. M. in the Elementary School, another excellent P.T.A. program has been arranged. Mr. Phillip Royer, supervisor of music in the County and a member of the staff at Western Maryland College, will show "A Trip to the Middle East With a Movie Camera."

All of our parents and their friends are asked to avail themselves of time for this fine program. Any organization in the community that is interested is also invited to attend.

A plaque to mark the site of General Meade's headquarters near Taneytown just prior to the Battle of Gettysburg will be unveiled on Sunday, Oct. 20, at 2 o'clock opposite the home of Charles Eckard on the Littlestown Rd. This was the location of the former Benjamin Shunk farm.

Acting as master of ceremonies, Neal Powell will announce the following program which is being arranged by the Federation of Republican Women of Taneytown. The Rev. Howard Miller, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown, will deliver the invocation after which the local high school band will play a medley of Civil War songs. Charles Fisher, attorney of Westminster and chairman of the Civil War Commission of Carroll County, will relate the historical background of the marker. Harold Manakee, director of the Maryland Historical Society and donor of the plaque, will make the presentation to Mayor Raymond Perry. The marker will be unveiled by Richard and Robert Reindollar, twin great-grandsons of the Rev. Williams who was minister of Trinity Lutheran Church in Taneytown at the time when Meade's men used the church tower to send signals to Gettysburg. A member of the band will sound taps and the Rev. Miller will pronounce the benediction.

The public is most cordially invited and urged to attend this event. In case of rain, the program will be held in the auditorium of the Taneytown High School.

This marker, as well as ones in Westminster and New Windsor, were made possible through the efforts of the Carroll County Historical Society of which James Shriver of Union Mills is president.

OCTOBER VIEW FROM MY KITCHEN WINDOW

This is a lovely, exhilarating October morning—truly a great day to be alive! Once again, I am stationed at my favorite observation post, the kitchen window. From here, I get quite a nice view of what is taking place on the farm on this autumnal day. The wide window-sill of our pre-Civil War house serves as an excellent writing place. There is room for my note pad, a cup of coffee, a bowl of bright red apples, a vase of late pink roses, and various other smaller items.

Our house was built in 1858, according to the inscribed date. It is made of fieldstone and rather resembles the New England "salt-box" type of architecture. The little red kitten is gamboling about, chasing a stray fly and playing with his rubber mouse. What an entertaining little fellow he is! Before I begin on my "view," I would like to say a word about the thoughtful, delightfully old-fashioned gift which my sister brought up the other day. She picked home-grown herbs—sweet basil, dill, summer savory and parsley—tied them neatly in bunches and put each one in a plastic bag. They are drying in the kitchen now, and their spicy odor is most inviting.

Now for the view. . . The sky this morning is not completely clear. It is streaked with fleecy, white clouds, and the atmosphere is somewhat hazy. The brook is dry at this end, but farther on down in the woods there is always some water, due to a never-failing spring. The leaves are lazily drifting from the trees. The South Carolina Poplar tree is still quite green. It seems reluctant to change into its autumn dress. One of my young pullets, looking very lady-like, is walking sedately about down by the bridge. She seems to be thoroughly enjoying herself, as she searches and pecks for some choice tid-bit. A song sparrow just perched on the fence, and favored me with a lilting melody. A house sparrow—actually called a Weaver Finch—is hard at work collecting feathers and tumbledown. Several bluebirds are darting here and there, and a squirrel just crossed the lane and headed for the hickory-nut tree. I do hope he escapes the hunters! A red-and-white cow just meandered by, on her way to get a drink of water. The pastures are still short, but last week's rain revived them somewhat, and they are much greener now. How thankful we should all be for God's wonderful blessing of rain! It is something we should never take for granted.

The morning is wearing away and many duties are calling, but this time spent at my kitchen window has given me a bright, new outlook on things. Why not try it yourself sometime?

—Zola Cantwell

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Whatever you do, don't miss the grand "Ice Capades" at the Civic Center as I stated in last week's Column. It truly tops all others I have seen! The original scenes, the gorgeous costumes and for those gals—well, never have I seen such beautiful legs and that as to all of them. And they have the beauty plus to go with it! It was surely a crowded house for the first night and at one time the sound of "BRAVO-BRAVO!" from the audience was heard so you can imagine. There was a man taking the character of "Cleopatra." That was the most original! You won't have a dull second and the audience was sorry when it all ended! Never have I seen so much Vim, Vigor and Vitality as to all participants. Frankly, I could see it again! Hurry, hurry, for time is fleeting and its stay is too short! The timing for each number and the music was superb. The Navy was there too and there was "Salute to the Navy!" That truly was beautiful and of course those officers and their wives in the audience were much pleased and there was applause that you never heard before!

Well, it was Liz and Burton in "V.I.P.'s" at the Stanton and as for a colorful picture, it was beautiful. That theatre, too, was crowded and as for Elizabeth Taylor, her beauty excels in this picture. The story is rather odd as to a group of people being "grounded" due to a terrific fog at a London airport and there is quite a layover and the people going on that plane had their own problems due to the destinations they must positively make. A movie director, a business man, a woman trying to escape the tax problem who is a Duchess. However, it all turns out happily ever after but it is the filthy lucre that all are interested in. There is a new actress by the name of just plain Maggie Smith who takes the part of the secretary of the big business man as Miss Mead and we will, no doubt, see her in many pictures in the future.

The Edgar Allan Poe Society of Baltimore will hold its 41st annual services in memory of the writer at the Westminster Church on Oct. 6 at 2:45 P. M. and a talk on "The Anatomy of Poe's Comic Tales" by Dr. John Portz of the University of Maryland. This is open to the public at the grave in Baltimore.

Miniatures given to Walters Art Gallery to the number of 400 will be viewed by Your Observer and written in the Column of next week.

Mrs. Housekeeper, why not do one room at a time for the Fall house-cleaning and that way you will not mind the big job at all? Besides, have a boiled dinner on the stove each time. There are so many ways to accomplish all this and you will find it so much easier all around instead of having the house upside down all at one time. I have heard husbands say that they "hate" housecleaning days! It just takes system and that's all! It will mean that you and you can be outdoors in the beauty of the Fall days.

Don't forget while in town to visit Hutzler's with their big Italiana showing of the year—a real "Festa." You will remain right there for a couple of hours, I am sure.

Visiting that nice Dr. Hornstein and on the wall framed was—"The Dr. of the future will give you no medicine. But will interest his patients in the care of the human frame in diet and the cause and prevention of disease!"

Mrs. Housewife, don't wait until Thanksgiving or Christmas to serve that grand bird—the turkey—enjoy it right now and here is a tip and right from Spain's Master Chef—

The turkey is made more succulent and moist if you brush it with olive oil before and during the cooking. If you have any left over of mashed potatoes—just cover them with milk until the next day.

What a sweet letter from Lowell Thomas stating my letter just had reached him as he was taking off for the South Pole!

So long, folks, until next week, D.V., when I will be writing the sign of that wonderful "SCORPIO," those born from Oct. 20 to Nov. 20, inclusive. Have a grand week-end. Go to church—any denomination. Don't remain home just because of bad weather. You will feel better all week when you attend church.

I am,

Faithfully,

Your Observer.

LIONS CLUB HOLDS SONS AND DAUGHTERS MEETING

The Taneytown Lions Club met for a regular Dinner Meeting Tuesday evening, Oct. 8. The occasion of the meeting was to entertain the sons and daughters of the members. After the dinner, Lion Delmar Riffle, Program Chairman for the evening, showed a film, "Light for All," from the Baltimore Sun Papers. This film depicted the intricacies, and the technical know-how involved in the printing of our newspapers. One could but wonder at the miracle of the "Press" and realize that it has come a long way since the printing of the first book from movable type by Gutenberg in the middle of the 15th century.

Personnel manager to prospective employee, "Let's see now, Jones, you say here you were 23 years at your last place . . . why did you leave?"

Replied the prospective employee, "I was paroled."
