Announcement was made also regarding the donation of blood through the auspices of the Red Cross and the Carroll County Teachers Association, said donation to be arranged for November 1.

The Board considered correspondence connected with the proposed Oakland Mills School and directed certain correspondence to be sent to the Capital Improvements Commission. Later in the day the members of the Board visited the location again for the purpose of seeking an understanding regarding the issues related to the school construction.

The Board was advised regarding the receiving of a large number of petitions favoring the employment of a school psychologist. This proposal is backed by the Carroll County Council of Parents and Teachers and resolutions have been submitted from most of the school organizations.

The Board studied, with the assistance of Mr. Paul Wooden, auditor, the budget which has been requested by the County Government to cover expenses in the first six months of 1964. It will be necessary during the present adjustment period to submit two school budgets, one to be submitted in November 1963 for the first six months of the calendar year 1964, which includes the last months of the school fiscal year 1963-64, and the second to cover the fiscal year 1964-65 will be submitted in June.

After consideration the Board adopted the budget and directed that it be prepared for submission to the County Commissioners as promptly as possible.

The Board afforded an opportunity to the Mount Airy Citizens' League, under the direction of Mr. Lewis Dixon, to present opinions regarding the construction of a high school in the southern part of the county. Spokesmen for the group were: Mr. Lewis Dixon, Mr. Vernon Simpson and Dr. Cyril Witte. This group requested reports and additional studies regarding this problem and indicated their unanimous belief that the proposed construction would not be educationally functional or economical.

The Board of Education acted to direct that an effort be made to provide as much requested information as possible. The Board was notified that correspondence was in-hand to indicate that a large number of interested citizens organized for the purpose of expressing favorable sentiment in the matter had requested an audience with the Board. The Board directed that this group be afforded the opportunity to appear at the next regular meeting scheduled for November 12.

Action was taken to classify an established policy with relation to maintenance and clerical services in the Offices of the Board of Education. Adjournment was at 3:30 P. M. after which the Board visited the Oakland Mills site.

MINOT AFB, N. D. — Wm. H. Eisberg of Westminster, Md., has been promoted to airman second class in the United States Air Force.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer.

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

There is a gold carpet just about everywhere for anyone to walk on but they soon will disappear, too, with the raking.

Hope you and you did not forget to set your clock back!

What a delicious meal at St. Joseph's Church on the Bel Air Road last Sunday! Ummmmmmmm good!

Don't forget, folks to plant those bulbs right now for the Spring.

Christmas is in the air even before Thanksgiving and the stores are chucked full of many new types of toys. The cutest is the real talking doll saying, "Hi," "Doggie," "Mama," "Daddy," and that by just pulling the cord and it really does sound like a child's voice. Many a youngster will be pleased with a gift like that.

And as for advertising — nothing can compare! And that for any article or what have you. For years, I have seen "The Prell" advertisement yet I always used "Lustre Cream" and did not care to change but just because that ad came right to me, I gave it a trial and it sure does bring out the highlights of the hair! So it pays and pays and PAYS! How about that?

As for those Christmas Greeting cards — sign 'em please! So personal then, which means so much more and I think you know just what I mean.

There are two records which I would love to be able to purchase and the title "There She Goes," as Miss America walks down the runway and that grand tune of "The Telephone Hour!" The latter no one will ever be able to purchase.

I was surprised at the new features of "THE NEW HOME" sewing machine which tops "Singer" and which I had no knowledge, so you see, just like autos — some have better features than others, although all are good these days.

Hope to be writing a "Dog Column" right here about my precious Bobby, as many make inquiries about him.

Don't forget, Mrs. Housekeeper to give your broom a good drink of water for it not alone lasts longer, cleans it but it sweeps cleaner.

I have heard many say that the following is for November — "Clear, dear, You'll end up alluvial without your pluvial GOSH what slish! Sunshine about time. Drops for mops. Last nice interim before Winter's in. Line storm Northeast, rain, snow, wind and mist!" Wheeeeeeeeeeee!

"A New Kind of Love" you will love down at the New Theatre with Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward. I can't see where it really is a new kind of love but at times the everyday procedure. It is wonderful to see the change in a girl visiting all the beauty Salons and coming out appearing glamorous! It is a spicy romantic comedy and I leave the rest to you.

Now, here to Scorpio — from Oct. 20 to Nov. 20 inclusive, Mars is the ruling planet of this sign and gives to its subjects great courage, confidence and most of all perseverance. They never, never start anything they do not finish and that is one of the things I admire about those Scorpians and that for both sexes.

They are very shrewd and their minds are very penetrating, sharp and clear, very dignified and in any instances appear Queenly and Kingly! Their self-control is admirable. They always have beautiful and graceful hands. In fact their hands speak of their character. The nature of these people and that for men and women are very secretive. They have great influence upon other individuals. They can keep silent and observe the other fellow get angry. They are marvelous critics. These people many times are very nervous and very restless. They are usually jealous and suspicious which must be overcome. They love fine music and usually are very talented for some instrument of music and many times are great singers.

Have a grand week-end, folks. Until next week D. V.

I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

Comment from the Capitol —

IS THE UNITED STATES GOING BROKE?
by Vant Neff

It's no secret anymore. Even the most determined doubletalk by White House spokesmen has failed to hide the fact that the American dollar is in big trouble.

Here's what is happening. As you know, the dollar by itself is only a scrap of paper. Its real value depends on the gold reserves that back it — gold that is stored in vaults at Fort Knox.

But, what you may not be aware of is that gold reserves have been allowed to dribble away until they've now sunk to a dangerously low level — the lowest in twenty-three years.

Our finances, then, have deteriorated sadly. But why?

The answer is government overspending. We've been giving away too much of our substance—both on the home front and overseas.

As a result, we've been spending more money than we take in. More and more United States dollars have fallen into the hands of foreign banks and governments. Right now, this totals up to a whopping big deficit of $26 billion.

Since, in all our dealings, the U. S. is on the gold standard, these dollars can be sent back and gold demanded. That's just what's been happening and that's just where our gold has been going.

John F. Kennedy has publicly expressed his "concern." Actually, it's much more than concern that he feels. And it should be. Privately, it's been admitted that if Germany and France decide to present their dollar credits for payment in gold, the U. S. could be stone broke.

This, of course, probably won't happen. Any nation that cashes in all its dollar credits would, in effect, also cut off all business ties with the U. S. And that's not like to happen except in an emergency.

Emergencies, however, seem to occur with disturbing frequencies these days, and the American monetary system is nothing to play risky games with. Bankers say "this is no way to run a bank, and I say this is no way to run a country."

Let's take a cold, hard look at where these overseas dollars are going and what they are being used for.

Some of them are spent legitimately. To support our troops stationed overseas, for example. To bolster the defenses of our allies in the Cold War. And to help out friendly governments in genuine financial distress.

But we keep hearing reports that the huge chunks of money that we send overseas are often woefully misused.

Consider Brazil's new capital city — Brasilia. A very plush set-up, indeed, with a price tag of about $400 million. Who, in effect, footed the bill? We did. Did it win us new friends? Nope. More and more, they are calling us "Yankee robbers."

And what about some of the other countries on the receiving end of the Great American Handout — such as the newly formed African states? Are they really true friends of America? In view of the political company they keep, and their expressed sympathies, there's good reason to doubt it.

India and Pakistan provide still another two examples of how the U. S. Gravy Train has jumped the track. Pakistan is now buddying up to Red China because we've been too nice to India. On the other hand, India is cooling off toward us because of our aid to Pakistan. Goings-on like this might be funny except that it's our money that's involved.

The fact is that the American taxpayers' dollar has been strewn over the international landscape, with all the restraint of a sailor on a spree.

The idea seems to be that cheap, easy money is a surefire cure for whatever ails the world. All we have to do is keep pumping out a copious flow of American cash. This, in some miraculous way, will cause such threats as the spread of international Communism to dissipate harmlessly into thin air.

Obviously, the theory is sheer hogwash. The only thing that's dissipated into thin air is the value of the American dollar.

Is Dr. Walter W. Heller the big brain behind this strange philosophy of overspending? Before he became the President's Chief Economic Advisor, Dr. Heller tried to inflict his theories of government economics on the governments of Italy and West Germany. His advice was scorned, especially in Germany, where Heller's notions of "planned deficits" were regarded as impractical and absurd.

Having rejected Professor Heller's theories, the German economy has become one of the most stable and solvent in all of Europe, and it got that way through a healthy respect for a balanced budget, honest leadership, and sound money!

In the meantime, shrewd European leaders, such as Adenauer and DeGaulle, view the Administration's fiscal fumbling with growing alarm and shrinking confidence.

And their attitude is shared by well-informed businessmen all over the world.

After all, what do you expect them to think when the United States asks for a loan from the International Monetary Fund—a practice ordinarily indulged in by down-and-out countries. They can remember when we helped set up the Fund, and backed it with the prestige of our dollar. And now here we are, waiting in line with our palm extended. In the face of this, the Administration urges the Congress to blow another four billion on "foreign aid."

As a result, foreign banks and governments with dollar credits are now cashing them in for gold. To put it bluntly, they're getting out before it's too late.

And so down, down, down go our reserves.

It's shocking that so prosperous a nation as ours now finds itself on shaky ground. And it's imperative that something be done about it fast. We've got to stop squandering our substance on harebrained projects. We've got to discipline our government to control its spending spree. And we've got to insist that other governments shoulder their share of responsibility for the world's problems.

In other words, what's needed is good old-fashioned respect for the dollar.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Numerous candidates of both parties paid a very friendly visit to Taneytown district, this week. Next Tuesday is Election Day.

Mrs. Alonzo Benner of near Walkersville, visited her son, Dr. C. M. Benner, this week. Chief Judge William H. Thomas has excused a number of jurors drawn for the November term and others have been drawn to fill the vacancies as follows: Herbert H. Humbert instead of William H. Bowers of Taneytown District.

SAUBLE — on October 26, 1913, in Taneytown, Emma Roberta, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Sauble, aged 22 days, died. Funeral services were held Tuesday by Rev. L. B. Hafer.

Uniontown — The battleship Wyoming left Hampton Roads on Sunday for Europe, will stop at different ports. Several of our young men, John Romsport and Raymond Graham are sailing with the vessel as members of the Navy.

On account of bad condition of the roads the Democratic automobile tour had to be called off. Some of the voters here had two automobiles engaged and were going to join them in the parade, but they had to be satisfied with attending the mass-meeting in the evening in Westminster.

The Prohibition candidates expect to tour the county, Saturday, November 1, are booked for this place at 2:30, a brass band will accompany them. Harney — Josiah Wantz, several weeks ago, purchased Mrs. Sarah Lightner's property, on Gettysburg St., and will move to his new home on April 1st. He has sold his property adjoining the above to J. Frank Kiser, who will quit farming and move to town in the Spring.

Sorry to read of the death of Mr. William Raymond Wilson on the 24th. Mr. Wilson, who was 73, had recently retired as mail carrier of the Keyman Office after 30 years service.

Miss Stella Scott of Laurel, spent the week-end with her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Priest and Angie of Forest and Stream Club Road. Saturday evening she and Mrs. Priest visited at the Richard Wilhide home to see new baby, Susan.

Saturday supper guests with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Baumgardner near Keysville were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun and family, near Detour, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stine and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Stine, Nancy and Roxanne of the Keyville-Emmitsburg Road.

Mrs. Grace Renneburg, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Renneburg and family of Baltimore, visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Catlin and Mrs. Gertrude Warner near Detour.

November Flower Committee for Keysville Lutheran Church will be Mrs. Bernice Wilhide, Chairman, Mrs. Jean Lambert, Mrs. Judy Myers, Mrs. Mary Motter and Mrs. Thelma Nushbaum.

Mrs. Mary Ausherman, president of the Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club wishes to thank each and every one who took part in the 40th Anniversary Party on the 23rd. It was well done and everyone enjoyed the evening.

Mrs. Emory Yoder and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Yoder of White Hall, visited over the week-end. They were supper guests on Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide and family on the Keysville-Taneytown Road and then visited with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Engel—also Keysville-Taneytown Road—and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan of Forest and Stream Club Rd. They were overnight guests with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and family near Detour.

Happy New House Greetings to Mrs. Daisy Dinterman of Keysville. She has moved into her new home across from the Keysville United Church of Christ Parish House.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun and family near Detour visited Sunday afternoon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oden Fogle of Union Bridge, to extend happy 75th birthday wishes to her mother. When they returned home, they found company of their own. Mrs. Bernard Hoff, Sr., and daughter Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hoff, Jr., and family and Mr. George Frank, all of Annapolis, had come to call.

Sunday visitors at the Carroll Wilhide home on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. John Schilling and Rebecca of Eldersburg. The Schillings also visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and made the acquaintance of Susan.

Union Bridge is certainly going through a trying time right now putting in the new sewerage system. Streets are torn up and the dust flies, but better days must be ahead. Wonder if this will warrant them some new streets? As Mrs. Roelke has stated in her column previously, Carroll County is certainly outmoded with their "tar-and-chipping." Some newly paved roads are badly needed in many places.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and new baby daughter, Susan, near Detour, has been much visited this past week. Among the visitors were: Mrs. Wm. Weishaar, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fleharty and children, Mrs. Clyde Wilhide and Mrs. Hugh Engel, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dolly (of Fairfield, Pa.) and on Sunday her parents and grandparents spent the day. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Seibert and children and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Miles of Clear Spring. On Monday Ass't County Agent, Bob Jones, and former Ass't. County Agent, Mr. Schabinger, who is now teaching in the Dairy Dept. at Maryland University, also called, as well as Mrs. Milton Griffin and 2 children who live near the Union Bridge Rd. (second one) outside Middleburg. Speaking of Mrs. Griffin—if you haven't seen her "Mums" bed, it is well worth a trip in that direction, for they are beautiful—so many bright and vivid colors. Youth Sunday was to have been observed on the 3rd at Keysville Lutheran Church, but it has been necessary to postpone this service until after the new year begins. Visited the K-Y Curiosity Shop in Union Bridge today and had a fine time browsing around. Was told they will have Christmas ideas and decorations on hand sometime next week (and be taking orders for same) so maybe you'd like to visit then, too. Especially if you haven't been in yet.

Mrs. Loren Austin of Detour, returned to her home last Friday after a visit to Annie Warner Hospital in Gettysburg for tests. We all hope she continues to improve.

The new houses going up around here are moving right along. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rupp's on the Keysville-Taneytown Rd. looks like it won't be long before they can move in. The home being built for Mr. Floyd Wetzel across from the Cemetery in Keysville is in the process of being painted and today (Tuesday), I noticed the new house near the Keyman crossroads is being "bricked-up." I understand this will be the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Roser of Keyman. All are ranch-type homes and most attractive looking.

This month of October it is just one year since I started writing this column. With the exception of two, or possibly three times, I have not missed an issue. Even if I do say so myself, I think this is a good record for one who only promised to attempt a column once a month. This has only been possible because of YOUR interest and help. Let me thank each and every one of you and urge you to keep the news items coming. Until next time.

-Dharyls Fleharty.

40th ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED

What a fine time Club members—past and present—as well as their visitors, had Wednesday evening the 23rd at the Keysville United Church of Christ Parish House when the Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club celebrated their 40th Anniversary.

After President Mary Ausherman extended Welcome to everyone, Mrs. John Blanchfield, Sr., took everyone down memory lane by talking of the "Roaring 20's" when "Cal" Coolidge was President and "Whispering" was favorite song. All joined in singing this song, while Miss Valie Shorb accompanied on the piano. 1923 was a most exciting year with Babe Ruth the Star of Sports and Mother winning the vote. This was also the year the Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club came into being.

A skit was then presented with Mrs. Hazel Stonesifer as Mrs. Emma Ritter, Mrs. Mignon Weishaar as Mrs. Rosie Stull, Mrs. Mae Baumgardner as Mrs. Valie Stine, Mrs. Kathryn Stine as Mrs. Lilly Weger, bright and Mrs. Millie Stine as Mrs. Rachel Everett, Home Demonstration Agent. From the audience, to also serve as other members of that first ret-together-though not dressed in the styles of 1923 as the aforementioned ladies were—were Mrs. Irene Baughman, Mrs. Louis Keepers, Mrs. Helen Sanders, Mrs. Merle Eckard and Mrs. John Blanchfield, Jr.

Five "take-offs" on demonstrations were then given with Mrs. Millie Stine and Mrs. Hazel Stonesifer serving as various Home Demonstration Agents and giving demonstrations which were hilarious, and much enjoyed by all present that evening. First was "How To Prepare Carrots 7 Different Ways" (Carrots with cream, creamed carrots, cream with carrots, carrots a la cream, Carrots Supreme with cream, carrots with sour cream and carrots with just cream.), then "Dressing the Hired Man - Becoming and Economically," "Making Victory Gardens" (also eggless and sugarless cakes, for this was during World War II years), "How to Get Rid of Pests" (flyswatter, sprayer, mouse and rat traps, and finally "Kitchen Convenience" (during which the "Agent" requested each member to bring her kitchen range to the next meeting so the merits of each could be discussed).

Mrs. Kathryn Stine then mentioned various demonstrations over the years and talked of various pamphlets and articles which were on display on tables to the side of the room.

Several gifts were awarded. These were baskets made of plastic doilies, spoons and ribbon. They were presented for: first president, Mrs. Samuel Weybright; longest-time member, Mrs. Byron Stull; longest distance (also present H.D. Agent), Mrs. Joyce Hawkins; just 40, Mrs. Kathryn Coshun; president now, Mrs. Mary Ausherman; favor marked with a "X," Mrs. Dharyls Fleharty. A corsage of dark red "mums" had been presented to Mrs. Marian Coshun who had recently celebrated her 40th wedding anniversary.

About 45 ladies were present to enjoy the evening and the room was decorated very nicely with ruby and white as the colors. Card tables with white cloths were set up and each had a bouquet of dark red "mums" in a ruby tumbler as well as favors in the shape of an apron with a small sewing "kit" inside. The refreshment table was decorated with three red candles in ruby punch cups sitting on upside-down sherbets and draped with artificial white roses, as well as ruby bowls and plates for serving. The beautiful Anniversary Cake (made and decorated by Mrs. Kathryn Coshun) was decorated with red roses around it and two red bells on top. Everything was very tastefully done and much appreciated by all. May the Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club continue to have more anniversaries.

12,000 ENVELOPES PREPARED TO PROMOTE TB SEAL CAMPAIGN

Members of various Clubs and Organizations from Carroll County have been stuffing envelopes, each containing Christmas Seals, a message and a return envelope. These are stuffed, sealed and sorted for Post offices, and made ready for mailing November 15, which is the opening date of the 57th Annual Christmas Seal Campaign all over the United States.

These envelopes are mailed to residents in Carroll County so that they may determine how much or if they want to contribute. There is no pressure from the place of work, there is no payroll deduction.

Mrs. John C. Schaeffer, chairman of the 1963 Christmas Seal Campaign said, throughout the 56 years that Christmas seals have been in action they have led the way in a long and costly fight against tuberculosis. "In spite of the miracle of modern drugs and the latest surgical methods which save lives of TB patients, Mrs. Schaeffer said, "there is no sure vaccine which will prevent tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases from striking at you, or me or our neighbor."

The following persons have given approximately 175 hours of volunteer work at the headquarters getting ready for the mailing: Miss Margaret Kane, Mrs. Mae Shipley, Mrs. Paul H. Smith, Miss Mary Little, Mrs. Charlotte Starner, Mrs. Allison Peeling, Mrs. Francis Nelson, President of the Smallwood Homemakers Club Mrs. Barbara Orendorf, Mrs. Lester Warehime, Mrs. Clarence Seipp and Mrs. Owen Edmonston also of the Smallwood Club. Mrs. Bessie Law, Mrs. Betty Sentz, Mrs. Betty McNulty, Mrs. Betty Beiker, Mrs. Tom Fusia and Mrs. Elmer Messenger of the Mt. Pleasant Homemakers. Miss Gloria Pecora, Miss Joyce Myers and Miss Regina Brown of the Sandymount Girl Scouts. Also the following members of the Hillsdale Homemakers Club: Mrs. Anna Houck, Mrs. Brook Shelton, Mrs. Chas. Hunter, Sr., Mrs. Roger Dell, Mrs. Ruth Blizard, and Mrs. John C. Schaeffer, chairman of the 1963 Seal Campaign.

OCTOBER LILY POOL

Old brown Lily pads wash. Others on brave new stems, soon too will float supine, asking no more the kiss of the sun, craving no more the season's wine.

Here at my feet, this belated bud, will open in defiance of coming frost. Over there, a creamy, golden hearted flower or two, reminds me, Summer is not completely lost.

The overhanging crepe myrtle tree pays tribute to Autumn's sun and showers by lavishly distributing over all, a votive offering of fading pinkish, purple flowers.

Frogs, as though transfixed on sunny ledges, defy my presence — each gargole looking things — until my shadow falls athwart the pool. SPLASH, they are gone, as though released by one common spring.

The turtle submerges slowly. No use peering into murky depths, to see where he will hide; he'll be eyeing you through his periscope from away on the other side.

State Senator Edward O. Weant, Jr., has been appointed to the President's Committee for Traffic Safety. The objectives of this Committee are efficient highway transportation and the reduction of traffic accidents throughout the various states. The initial step in the appraisal of these matters is to obtain and analyze all of the facts pertaining to the movement of vehicular traffic.

The President's Committee for Traffic Safety is calling a series of six traffic safety conferences for state legislators and representatives of legislative service agencies, with a necessary limitation of six legislators from each state. There will be conferences in New York City; Atlanta, Georgia; Chicago, Illinois; Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Phoenix, Arizona; and Boise, Idaho. THE WAY I SEE IT

Observations on the World of Sports

Lawrence Peter Berra (Yogi) has been named to manage the New York Yankees. Why has this move been made? The Key to the story is Berra.

The Yankees have had problems on their hands this past season, despite their easy victory in the American League pennant race. The major problem was attendance. It did not sit well with Yankee officials that a tenth place club like the New York Mets drew almost as well at the gate as a first place team like the Yankees. Next season the problem may grow even stronger. The Mets will move into a new ball park in the heart of the world's fair. And it is only natural that the publicity mills will be rolling strongly again for the Mets because of the new park.

But even more than that is the stranglehold a manager like Casey Stengel has on news media. It isn't a case of showing favoritism. It's just that the newsmen is able to get quotable quotes from the master at public relations. Most managers do not have this knack. Houk, for example, is not the most articulate person in the business. And this is not a rap at a very highly capable man. But Houk does not know how to communicate. Stengel does. And he has reaped a full harvest of publicity out of the most mediocre ball players even seen on a major league field.

Berra is not in Stengel's class when it comes to communicating. But the likeable veteran catcher is a man easily understood by all stratas of society.

Berra has risen from the sidewalks of St. Louis to a lush setting in Montclair, New Jersey without losing the common touch. Berra is a down-to-earth person with a good sense of humor. He is not the "idiot" he is made out to be by some sports-writers. He just happens to be a person more familiar with a banana sandwich for lunch than with a fingerbowl.

The way most baseball people look at it, Yogi Berra has the best job in the big leagues. Joe McCarthy made quite a name for himself managing the Bombers, and Casey Stengel didn't do too badly, either. Ralph Houk tried the job for three seasons, and wound up winning three American League pennants. There's no beating that record.

There are many strange and wonderful stories connected with success in baseball and one of them concerns Berra. Before the start of the 1945 Baseball season, Mel Ott was managing the New York Giants. The Club was in pretty poor shape, and Ott was trying desperately to put together a respectable team. One spot where he thought he could help himself was catching. On a visit to New York, he stopped in at the office of Yankee president, Larry Macphail, and tried to be nonchalant about his need for a catcher. He mentioned several other positions, then noted that since the Yankees has an abundance of catchers in their farm system, possibly they would give up one. Ott said Giants owner Horace Stoneham might be willing to pay as much as $50,000 for a promising new young catcher. That was the tip off to Macphail that the Giants had spotted someone very good in the Yankee farm system.

Macphail hid his awareness and asked: "Do you have any special one in mind?" Ott pulled a list from his pocket and replied, "Anyone of six would be all right. How about this fellow named Larry Berra?" Macphail didn't even know Berra, at the time, but he felt that if the Giants were willing to go as high as $50,000 for an untried minor league player, he must be good, of course the Giants didn't get Berra, instead Macphail brought him up to the Yankees, the rest is baseball history.

So far as his success is concerned in the managerial field, this is a matter for conjecture. There is an element of risk attached to anyone being the man asked to handle the manager's role for the first time.

But one thing is certain, Berra will give Stengel a run when it comes to getting a share of the publicity. Lawrence Berra - better known as Yogi to everyone from the bat boy to the president - is nobody's push-over. And it all forecasts some interesting goings - on next year around paths traveled by the Mets and the Yankees.

GOVERNMENT OWNED FEED AT REDUCED PRICES

Senator Daniel B. Brewster announced that the Department of Agriculture has made available government owned feed grain at reduced prices to supplement feed supplies in ten Maryland counties severely affected by drought this season.

The counties designated are: Allegany, Baltimore, Calvert, Carroll, Charles, Frederick, Howard, Montgomery, Saint Mary's, and Washington. These are the first Maryland counties to be designated this season for the livestock feed assistance program.

The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized by law to make available Commodity Credit Corporation owned feed grain to eligible farms in affected areas. This grain will be offered through the County Agricultural Stabilization Committee.

Livestock owners cannot buy this feed grain unless they do not have sufficient feed for their livestock and are unable to obtain it through normal channels of trade without undue financial hardship. Producers will be required to show need for the grain when they apply at their ASC County office.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Christian Worship

Lesson for November 3, 1963

Bible Material: Acts 2:14-47; 1 Corinthians 14.
Devotional Reading: Ephesians 5:15-20.

THAT THE infinite God might be worshipped in an infinite variety of ways, should not surprise any one. So when an inquiring person visits many different Christian churches, he should not be too much puzzled by the fact that even within the same denomination, the manner of public worship takes many different forms. What is surprising is that, instead of rejoicing in this variety, it should be a source of

Dr. Foreman quarrels. Denominations have actually split off from each other on the question of what kind of music is right to have in public worship, or the right time and way to observe the Lord's Supper. So it is worth while to look back as far as we can, to a very early Christian church, the one at Corinth in the first century, see what they did and what the Apostle Paul said about it.

The way they did it

The "church services" at Corinth (which were held in houses, of course, since the custom of erecting special buildings for worship had not yet been started) had no set form. They were strictly informal, as the 14th chapter of 1 Corinthians shows. No one person was in charge, and no pre-arranged order of service was followed. There was no trouble getting people to take part. The trouble was that too many took part, and it was hard to shut some people up. Besides this, many in that church spoke in "tongues" which no one understood, and by the time the meeting got a good start, what with all the talking and praying at once, and all the people that talked in tongues adding to the noise, it was like a little Tower of Babel.

The spirit and understanding

From the long chapter Paul devotes to this problem, we can learn much of value for our public worship today. One of his principles is that praying and singing, which he specially mentions, and indeed whatever is done in a service of worship, ought to be done "in the Spirit." This does not refer to emotions but to the Holy Spirit. What Paul means is that worship in God's name must be in harmony with God's Spirit. You could not properly celebrate a God-fearing mother's birthday by going on a binge. You would not think it right to celebrate Christmas by planning a bank robbery. So you do not honor God by actions, however well intended, which are out of harmony with Him. Now there were many in that congregation who believed that speaking with tongues was a special mark of the Holy Spirit, and Paul does not deny this. But he points out a better way. He would rather speak five words with his mind, he writes, than ten thousand words in a tongue. So that is a second principle: Christian worship must appeal to the mind. Purely emotional worship is not what the apostle recommends.

The Spirit may stand for spontaneity, for freedom in worship, for not planning but letting God's Spirit suggest what to be said or done when the time comes. The Understanding may stand for planning, for deliberate choosing what to do, for orderliness. A worship service should not only be the result of the inspiration of God; it ought to be the result of careful thought. Freedom and order; spontaneity and planning; these are the two poles around and between which Christian worship takes place.

"Decently and in order"

Paul concludes his discussion with what might seem to be an anti-climax. Let everything be done, he says, decently and in order. This is not really an anti-climax. This is a practical illustration of the basic principles just mentioned. For example: Paul says that if, while one worshiper is "prophesying" (the word means preaching, speaking in God's name) another worshiper has a sudden idea which he believes to be suggested by the Spirit, the right thing is for the first speaker to be quiet and let the other man have his turn. In other words, a service of worship is no place to forget common courtesy. Further, the object of worship is not emotional excitement but intellectual and spiritual enlightenment. The worshiper should leave the place of worship with a clearer mind, a more tranquil heart, seeing his duty more clearly, believing more surely, his own conflicting feelings brought to harmony through the presence of the Spirit of peace.

1963 Outdoorsman of the Year

SPORTSMAN HONORED: The 1963 Outdoorsman of the Year Award is presented to noted conservationist John Alden Knight, right, by Lowell E. Krieg, vice president and general manager of its Winchester-Western Division. Honored in a ceremony at the Winchester Gun Club, Bethany, Conn., Mr. Knight received the outdoorsman scroll and a gold engraved Winchester Model 101 over-and-under shotgun. More than 100 outdoor editors and writers, representing major newspapers as well as all of the leading outdoor publications in the nation, attended.

The 1963 Outdoorsman of the Year Award was presented to John Alden Knight, noted author and outdoor theoretician, at the Fourth Annual Winchester-Western Eastern Outdoor Editors' Tournament, Bethany, Conn.

Mr. Knight, a resident of Williamsport, Pa., who is best known for his discovery and development of the Solunar theory of predictable periods of wildlife activity, was honored at a special ceremony on September 7th at the Winchester Gun Club attended by some of the country's leading magazine and newspaper outdoor writers and conservationists.

In addition to his award scroll, Mr. Knight was presented with a custom-made Winchester Model 101 over-and-under, double barreled shotgun with an inscription designating the recipient and the occasion of the award on an inlaid gold plate.

The Outdoorsman of the Year is selected by a national poll of some 4,000 outdoor writers and conservationists and the award is donated by the Winchester-

Western Division, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation. Former recipients include Nash Buckingham, General Curtis LeMay, the late Dr. Logan Bennett, Walter Alston and Robert Taylor.

Mr. Knight was the first member of the Hunting Hall of Fame. In addition, he and his son, Richard Alden Knight, are the only father and son combination in the Fishing Hall of Fame. Mr. Knight's latest book, "The Complete Book of Fly-casting," was written with his son and recently published by Putnam.

A graduate of the Tome Institute, Fort Deposit, Md., and Cornell, Class of 1915, Mr. Knight was an ensign test pilot in the Naval Air Corps during World War I. After a varied business career, Mr. Knight retired to devote himself to outdoor writing and his Solunar Tables in 1939.

Hearth and History

RUSSIA COULD HAVE OWNED PART OF THE U.S.!

HAD NOT SECRETARY OF STATE WILLIAM H. SEWARD PURCHASED ALASKA FROM RUSSIA IN 1867 FOR $7,200,000, THE 49TH AND LARGEST STATE MIGHT BE UNDER THE RUSSIAN FLAG TODAY! MANY SHORT-SIGHTED CITIZENS AT THAT TIME THOUGHT THE COST TOO HIGH FOR A "BUNCH OF ICEBERGS" AND REFERRED TO THE TRANSACTION AS "SEWARD'S FOLLY".

IF YOU PLAN TO BUY OR SELL A HOME OR LAND, THE WISE WAY TO AVOID REAL FOLLY IS TO SEE A REALTOR, A MEMBER OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REAL ESTATE BOARDS AND THUS PLEDGED TO A CODE OF ETHICS.

Safe Hunting—It's Up To You

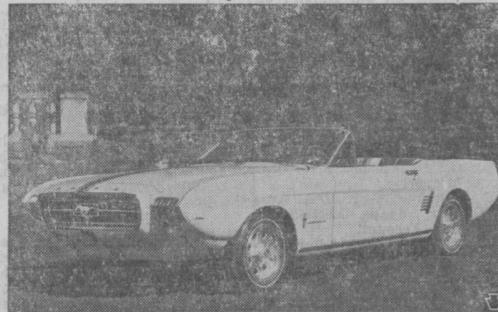

Clogged and rusted barrels are the cause of many hunting accidents. Always be sure that the barrel and action of your gun are clear of obstruction before firing commences.

Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble.

No afterthought has the power to call back a careless bullet. Follow the advice of The House of Seagram which says that liquor has no place in the field. The time to enjoy fine whiskey is when the guns are empty and racked.

Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first. And when the hunting trip is over, carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp or home.

Ford Mustang II to Test Market

The Mustang II, an experimental car introduced by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company, will accommodate two front-seat passengers plus two additional passengers in the rear seats. It is powered by a 271-horsepower V-8 engine identical to that used in the Cobra sports car. Pointed front fenders and simulated air scoops faired into the rear quarter panels are reminiscent of the design of Ford's original Mustang. The Mustang II has a detachable hardtop roof. Ford Division built the car partly to "test the market for a car of this type that could sell for less than $3,000."

"Swinging In The Rain!"

Cloudy days are near again—and it's time to pull out the old rain wear. Chances are that coat's not so stylish looking now. This season all the crowd is wearing city slickers. These new coats are cut straight and slim. They're buttoned down the front, with roomy pockets and free-swinging sleeves. In three brief words: "They've got class."

Girls favor the Bamboo Coat. Most important thing about it is the fabric. The black vinyl has a textured quality, like real bamboo, that sparkles prettily in glistening rain. It comes in Small, Medium, Large and Extra Large sizes from U.S. Rubber. The smart college girl accents her bamboo with mid-calf walking boots, also by U.S. Rubber, in sizes 8 to 11.

For the man it's fun to walk with on any kind of day, there's the Regent Coat when it rains. This, too, is by U.S. Rubber, in a range of colors including Sandalwood, British Tan and Gunmetal. Comes Small, Medium, Large and Extra Large. His boots are U.S. Rubber's Kwik Rubber Gaiters, high and lined for extra protection. They're available in sizes 6 to 14.

No doubt about it—city slickers and smart new boots can have almost everybody "Swinging In The Rain."

HOW TO BE A WASHDAY WIZARD

You can be a washday wizard by applying logic to the laundry. Think through what happens on washday, make a list and you're bound to come up with time-saving ideas. Here are some thought starters....

1. Sort. The major category here is the big one for most families - white and fast-color linens and cottons. Today's colored sheets, men's shirts and most solid-color good-quality cottons and linens can be washed right in with what used to be called the "white load." The best sorting suggestion after this one is to group together items needing the same treatment: for example, wash and wear, non-fast colored items, nylons or woollens. Bushel baskets or plastic buckets are good for drop-in sorting.

2. Inspect and Treat. This step includes emptying and brushing pockets, zipping zippers, pre-treating stains and spots, collars, cuffs and play-clothes. A good trick for this step is to use a gentle household cleansing pad with soap or detergent paste and then let the garment stand for a few minutes before washing.

3. Load the Machine - or your laundry tub. Here the important bit of logic is don't overload and don't over-use or under-use soap or detergent. Follow the manufacturer's instructions very carefully. Another tip: save searching time and clogged machinery by washing small items like children's socks and ladies' handkerchiefs in a small mesh laundry bag. (Hint: Two extra mesh bags can be kept in your own closet - drop small machine washables in one - hand washables into the other. That way one can go right to machine and the other to the wash basin.)

4. Is the family wash really clean? The U. S. Department of Agriculture has been conducting a 3-year research program to find the answer to this one. As part of their project scientists washed the laundries of nine families for several months. The conclusion from USDA's research is that the family wash fresh from the machine may harbor many disease-causing germs and can actually be responsible for spreading germs among the neighbors, too. USDA came up with a recommendation, too. Certain types of disinfectants added to the laundry greatly reduce the germ count.

Among the disinfectants recently listed as testing favorably were high-concentration pine oil disinfectants. Test quantity used in the home laundering experiments was one-half cup per 10-gallon machine. This addition to your home laundry load along with your favorite soap or detergent will considerably lower the bacterial count. At the same time, without harming fabrics, a pine product will also add a cleaning booster, help remove stains and leave laundry fragrant. Be sure to read the label of the disinfectant and follow manufacturer's instructions carefully.

It's especially important to add a disinfectant to the laundry if there is sickness in the family or if you use a community washer.

By now, that wash should be clean and ready to emerge from tub or machine. Next step, of course, is drying - by machine or clothespin - then sorting again, those to be ironed and those to be folded and stored without ironing.

There are just about as many theories on washday plans and practices as there are women who wash. But these are "thought nudgers" to start you on your way to being the washday wizard in your house.

How to Watch a Football Game

Over 20 million fans will watch a National Football League game on TV each weekend. Most fans are not familiar with the signals officials use to indicate penalties. To help understand them, Hamilton Watch Company offers these explanations.

Signal for illegal motion is a horizontal arc with either hand.

Interference is signaled by pushing hands vertically forward from shoulders.

Grasping of one wrist at chest level is the signal for holding or illegal use of hands.

Other helpful tips are given each week on the NFL Pro Football Kickoff 15 minutes before each NFL game on all CBS-TV stations. You can also get a free 1963 football handbook by asking your Hamilton Watch dealer.
