Concerning P.T.A.

Since I have some specific ideas concerning the P.T.A. problem, I gladly accepted the opportunity to voice these views publicly when asked to do so by the Future Teachers of America Club of Taneytown High School.

Having only 20 per cent of the pupils' time out of every week, it is easy to see that the responsibility for their growth and well-being is not solely the teachers. Regardless of our sincere efforts, the parents are many times in a better position to know and influence the students than we are. But if we, teachers and parents, combine our efforts then the total result will be greater than the two components that make it up. Here then is the problem: We need the help of the parents. Why don't we get it? In some cases we do. However, I often wonder if it is necessary to wait until a real problem develops before teachers and parents consult with each other? I believe not! How many of our parents know or have met all or any of your children's teachers? Come to P.T.A., walk in, say hello, introduce yourself to the teachers. Come, not because of a problem that has developed, but come as an interested parent and friend who is willing to help us do our job better.

Education is a growing phenomenon. Out of the 39 students in my 11th grade homeroom, 36 have now gone through more years of schooling than their parents. This is good! It means we are growing and that you, as parents, see the need for education in today's world. It doesn't mean that you should feel embarrassed or inferior. We need to know you are interested in your child's welfare and we would also like to get to know you as a person. We continually try to improve our effectiveness but we need help — your help. The next P.T.A. meeting is Nov. 11, will I see you there?

Scouts To Collect Paper, Saturday, In Taneytown

The regular drive for rags, magazines and newspapers held in odd-numbered months throughout the year will take place (weather permitting) in Taneytown and vicinity this Saturday, Nov. 9, conducted by Boy Scouts of Troop 348, sponsored by Hesson-Snyder Post 120 of the American Legion.

Starting at 8:00 A. M., the gathering will cover Taneytown itself as well as the roads to Mayberry, Coppersville, Crouse's Mill, Bridgeport and the Baptist Road as far as Starner's Dam. Should bad weather force postponement, a new date will be chosen and publicized.

Scouts able to help with the scrap drive Saturday are requested to report promptly at 8:00 A. M.

A proposal for street names in Taneytown was submitted by the Taneytown Junior Chamber of Commerce and was adopted as proposed by the Mayor and City Council. Quite a bit of research was done by this Committee in finding the names already on record for some of our streets and much time was spent in arriving at new names for other streets. The Committee consisted of George Fream, chairman; Arthur Garvin and Dean Nusbbaum. This Committee along with the entire Jaycee organization is to be commended for the fine community spirit they display and the fine manner in which they work along with the Mayor and City Council.

The Council is now obtaining information and prices on Street Name Signs and hope to complete this badly needed project as soon as possible.

A delegation interested in building new homes in an area which will lend itself to future development appeared before the Council and outlined their plans for the future. Information will be secured as to the cost of water, sewer and streets for this area.

The Girl Scouts have been granted permission to use the Municipal Building for a meeting place.

The Christmas lights will be turned on the evening of November 29 at which time Santa Claus will come to town.

Donald Smith, Chairman of the Jaycee Governmental Affairs Committee, was present and will report to his organization the happenings at a meeting of the Mayor and City Council. It is the wish of the Mayor and City Council that more people would attend these meetings in order to acquaint themselves with their town government.

A SPECIAL P.T.A. PROGRAM FOR PARENTS

The regular meeting of the Taneytown Junior-Senior High School P.T.A. will be held Monday, Nov. 11, 1963, with a special program provided for the parents.

The program will center around your child's schedule. Parents are invited to attend brief class periods according to their child's regular Monday schedule. In order for parents to know what classes to attend they will need to ask their child. If possible, copy your child's Monday schedule from the schedule your child received upon entering school this year. If this is not done prior to the program, it will be difficult to give parents directions.

Teachers, during the brief 12-minute period, will present objectives, course requirements, homework and answer questions. Bells will be rung at 12-minute intervals to end one class and begin the next. Individual conferences with teachers will not be possible because of the length of the program and since the program will begin at 7:30 P. M.

A short business meeting will be held at 8:45 in the school cafeteria and refreshments will be served at 9:05 P. M.

The Membership Committee is pleased with the excellent number of parents and citizens who have joined the P.T.A. Those who have not already joined and wish to do so may at the next meeting or send their money in to the school with their child.

This being National Education Week, all parents are urged to attend this most interesting meeting.

P. E. Reduces Electric Rates

Customers of The Potomac Edison Company in Maryland who reside in small towns and rural areas stand to benefit most from the rate reductions for electric service which went into effect on October 1.

The bulk of the new rates for residential service, for example, show that rural customers who were previously served under the rural-residential rate who use 150 kilowatt hours per month will save $1.28 per month, or $15.36 per year.

This is part of the $857,000 rate reduction which became effective with meter readings on and after October 1 for all Maryland customers of Potomac Edison. It affects some 85,976 customers of which 76,110 are in the residential category.

For those customers living in the larger urban areas there is a substantial reduction, although not as large as in rural areas. For the city dweller using 150 kilowatt hours per month, the reduction amounts to 93 cents per month, or $11.16 per year.

Reductions to commercial establishments, such as stores, service stations, etc., also were made. These, too, benefit the rural and small town customer more so than those in the urban areas. Over 9,500 such customers will receive reductions amounting to a total of $236,342.

Several categories of industrial customers receive rate cuts amounting to a total of nearly $136,000 per year.

The October 1st rate cut was the 13th major rate reduction for Maryland customers of PE since 1932. Company officials point out that larger, more efficient generating units and the availability of electric power through high voltage interconnections with adjoining electric power systems are major factors in the decreasing cost of electricity.

Two such examples were cited by PE officials. One is the fact that Potomac Edison and an affiliated company will share initial cost of construction of a 500,000 Kilowatt generating unit near the West Virginia-Pennsylvania border. This new "Fort Martin" station will cost an estimated $48 million.

The second example cited was the interconnection now being built between PE and the Potomac Electric Power Company system. This 230,000 volt project will tie PE's transmission system into PEPCO's system at the latter's Dickerson Generating plant in Montgomery County. Such interconnections permit both companies to exchange electric power as needs dictate.

With the availability of electricity from such sources, utility officials point out, it is possible to hold down production costs and to pass these savings on to customers.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

My Dog—Prince Ballantyne of Tiverton

Well, you and you asked for it and here it is.

Not quite two years ago, I went to see the Walt Disney Show entitled, "Bobby," the story of a dog by that name — a little dog which was a Hero in Scotland many years ago. I wrote all about it in full in one of my Columns — remember? I was determined to get a little dog just like "Bobby."

He was born on December 1 and I brought him home at eight weeks of age from the Kennel which only handles "Cairns." These dogs are very rare and date back to Scotland many years ago. Recently, I took him back to the Kennels for the "Judge" to take a look at him! Well, she called him "Sweetie" and said, he was just like his father! BUT—he was too fat and I must put him on a diet! So for the last four days, Bobby misses his soft boiled egg for breakfast and he is really losing weight. Now, I know that eggs are fattening for that is the only thing that I am omitting. He looks up at me as much as to say, "Is this all I get?"

This Bred is unusually smart and knows just about everything I talk to him about. The wonderful part is the obedience but I do not have it any other way. No dog of mine has ever permitted to jump on any piece of furniture. Recently, Bobby has claimed the hassock and loves to sit there by me when I look at TV or read the newspapers. When I go out of the house for the afternoon, he looks up at me before closing the door and says, "I will be all alone and I'll miss you so if you go without me. Please take me with you!" The faithfulness is truly remarkable and whatever I do he thinks is O.K.

When I give him a smile, he looks at me in his sweet way and wags his tail! Just imagine that? No house should be without a dog for they truly are a protection. Very rarely do you read of anyone breaking into a house if there is a dog. I never did understand anyone who did not like dogs for they seem helpless in their kind of way just like a baby that his master or mistress can do just what they please with him. There is no companionship like a dog and just one pat or a loving caress brings a kiss to your hand and he is happy. Dogs are a great comfort to those residing alone. There is such security having a dog.

At night when it is very late Bobby walks to the stairway and looks up and then slowly walks back to me and says, "I am sleepy, I want to go and sleep." He sleeps upstairs just to my bed! He sleeps upstairs just outside of my door in his bed but he seems falling down a few steps, he has refused to walk up or down those steps alone, so it means that I take his paw and walk him up at night and down in the morning.

Many refuse to own a dog because as they state, "oh, there is so much trouble when one has any animal." But, folks everything in life that is worthwhile is a little trouble and visa versa and I think you know just what I mean.

Don't ever grieve if you lose your dog but quickly go out and buy another that will fill the hole in your heart. I know for I have experienced it a few times if you and you recall.

It is even difficult for me to take a vacation for I love my Bobby so much that I dislike placing him in any kennel and I say to myself as I hug him, "What's a vacation if I have to leave you?"

So don't hesitate, folks if you would like to have a dog. Be sure and feed him with that grand food, "D O G - C H O W!" Your dog will thrive and thrive and thrive!

Have a grand week-end. And if you desire to have more happiness in your life just try living with a dog!

So long until next week-end. D.V. I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

A study issued by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States observes: "The root of the (labor) problem is the industry-wide power and in some cases the multi-industry-wide power of labor unions. Experience gives no hope that continued work stoppages adversely affecting the economy can be avoided as long as unions are permitted to retain this industry-wide power. Such power bargaining and strikes bring about many injurious results to the public welfare since they remove power from the local union best able to understand local conditions; they establish uniform wage levels according to what the most favorably disposed employer will pay, thereby injuring small employers who are less able to meet competition."

Forty years ago an oil well that went a mile into the ground was considered a deep hole. Now, according to Oil Facts, an oil or gas well must exceed 15,000 feet — nearly three miles—to be considered deep. Such wells are becoming increasingly more common—and more expensive. Last year, for instance, American oilmen drilled 254 deep wells, a record number. Average depth was 17,000 feet, at a cost of $654,000 each, or $38.00 a foot.

A group of University of Chicago scientists report that about 20 per cent of a normal night's sleep is spent dreaming. The time is divided into five or six dreams, with the final one lasting as long as 45 minutes.

From an editorial in Western Pharmacy: "There appears to be no question that some of the features of the new (drug) laws were necessary and desirable, but it is just as certain that others were unnecessary and undesirable. As the foremost example of the success of the free enterprise system, the drug industry is an outstanding target for all the socialistic nuts, short-sighted politicians, power-hungry bureaucrats and would-be dictators in the country." It adds that excessively strict regulations are responsible for "... driving research out of the United States and into foreign lands which now have more reasonable laws and governments friendlier to progress in science and business."

A new survey, which covered 63,580 locomotive miles on 713 typical freight and yard trips or tours of duty, says that railroad diesel firemen spent more than 90 per cent of their time in work another man already is doing.

Writing in the New York Times, William D. Smith says: "If mom doesn't have to ration dad to one spoonful of sugar in his cup of coffee next year a large part of the credit will go to the nation's sugar-beet farmers." It is believed that world sugar production will fall below consumption—while the American beet farmer will produce a record crop.

Competitive transport pricing, based on both carrier cost and a modern concept of "value of service to the shipper," is necessary if common carriage is to be preserved in free enterprise, in the view of William B. Johnson, President of REA Express. He also said that "Competition should be the basic rate-making criteria, for it will give the supplier a free choice to set his rates consistent with the inherent advantages of his service," and that "competition gives a shipper the free choice to purchase whatever service his needs require."

The American Medical Association has inaugurated an intensive and continuing campaign to improve immunization against tetanus. It is aimed at both the physician and the general public. The role of the private practitioner is emphasized. In the words of Dr. F. J. L. Blasingame, Executive Vice President of the AMA, "In the final analysis it will be the individual physician who will determine the effectiveness of the campaign against tetanus, as he encourages his patients to be immunized."

Watchdog

A watchdog that's always on guard to protect you... that's one of the many roles the telephone plays in your life.

For your telephone is constantly on duty, ready to help you in little emergencies and big ones—when a call to the doctor, the fire department, or the police may be urgent.

It's hard to imagine what life would be like without a telephone watchdog to sound a call for help when trouble arises.

And, at all times, "man's best friend" (and woman's, too) is a constant companion. It helps you keep in touch with family and friends and saves you hundreds of steps.

The telephone is still one of the biggest bargains in your family budget. Use it often.

How To Grow A Mold Garden

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*! And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

*Optional at extra cost.

Just Keep On Keeping On

If the day looks kind gloomy, an' your chances kinder slim, 'If the situation's puzzlin', an' the prospect's awful grim, an' perplexities keep pressin' 'till all hope is nearly gone, jis' bristle up an' grit your teeth an' keep on, keepin' on.

Fumin' never wins a fight, and frettin' never pays, there isn't no good of broodin' in these pessimistic ways — smile just kinder cheerfully when hope is nearly gone and bristle up and grit your teeth and keep on keepin' on.

There isn't no use in growlin', an' grumblin' all the time, when music's ringin' everywhere — an' every-thing's a rhyme — just keep on smilin' cheerfully if hope is nearly gone, and bristle up and grit your teeth, an' keep on keepin' on.

Are You Soft-Soaping God?

"Duz" you just "Dreft" along with the "Tide"? Well, brother, if you want "Joy" the "Trend" is to "Breeze" along to church on Sunday. Too many "Woodbury" their heads in a pillow or work to make their lawns "Sparkle" they forget that the Lord's day was made for "Lestoil" the way the world "Lux" today, you should "Wisk" yourself out of that bed next Sunday, dress up "Spic and Span" and "Dash Like A Comet" to God's own house, sing "Praise" to him, get a "Cleanse" for your soul, the "Dove" of peace in your heart, and more "Cheer" in your life; this is not just silly "Bab-O" for you will find it will "Add" to your "Life Bouy" just "Dial" heaven in prayer and send an "SOS" for God's help and connect with the "Ivory" palace, you'll be "Glad" you did!

Every man has two educations—that which is given to him, and the other, that which he gives himself. Of the two kinds, the latter is by far the most valuable. Indeed all that is most worthy in man, he must work out and conquer for himself. It is that, that constitutes our real and best nourishment. What we are merely taught, seldom nourishes the mind like that which we teach ourselves.—Richter.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Victory
 Lesson for November 10, 1963

Bible Material: Matthew 28:16-20; I Corinthians 15 through 16.
 Devotional Reading: I Corinthians 15:1-11.

YEARS AGO the first wife of the famous Lord Russell wrote a book on the right to be happy. Much that she said could be taken to heart by Christians, but not all. For she had to face honestly the problem of death. Is it not true that in the end death always wins? And if this is so, how can we be happy in the face of certain defeat at last? Mrs. Russell gave the only answer an unbeliever could give. True, death's

Dr. Foreman triumph is assured, she admitted; so what we must do is to forget this and live as if it were not true. Can anything be sadder than that? Here is a person who wants to be happy, believes she has a right to be happy, but can be happy only by forgetting that all happiness ends in the grave.

The last enemy

There are persons within the Christian church who are just as hopeless as that lady was. They will tell you it is possible to be Christian without any hope of a life beyond death, that belief in such a life is no essential part of Christian faith. But they face (or should face) the same fact Mrs. Russell more honestly faced (for she did not pretend to be a Christian): Doesn't death end all? And if it does, don't you have to admit that all your hopes, dreams, accomplishments and ideals meet with final and hopeless defeat? If all the Christian can say is that death is the last enemy, the gate into Nowhere, then the Christian is no better off than the pagan. "If in this life only we have hoped in Christ," St. Paul says, "we are of all men most to be pitied." Everybody in the world, people with no religion and people with religion, know the fact of death. They know the reason why death can be rightly called the last enemy; for no matter how many obstacles a man may surmount in the course of a long life, eventually death looms as the one obstacle he cannot surmount. . . . That is as the pagan sees it. But the Christian view does not stop with the words "last enemy," but goes on: the last enemy to be destroyed is death. We shall be changed

The Bible teaches clearly that there is life beyond death. The Bible does not teach clearly what that life is like. Probably there are no words in our human dictionaries to describe it. One thing that is clear, however, is that the life beyond death, the life which those who belong to Christ share with him, is different from what we now experience. We shall be changed, Paul writes; and strains his vocabulary (in I Corinthians 15) to say how utterly different that life will be. Jesus spoke of it once as a life in which marrying is no more. Just as it is impossible to think of life as we know it without love and marriage at the very heart of it, so it is beyond our mental powers to say what it means, and will mean, to live in a form of existence that Paul calls a "spiritual body," and that Christ calls being like angels. If this strains the imagination, and is really too much for us to grasp, we might remember that to be alive in this physical body is a miracle every minute, and if to be alive in a "changed" body seems a miracle even greater, we must remember how unlimited is the power of God.

Work without limit
 Does a belief in the life everlasting cut the nerve of the Christian's conscience? Bismarck, famed and ruthless Prussian military man, said when defending himself against a charge of having wasted thousands of lives in a useless battle: "What's the difference? In 40 years all those men will be dead anyway." Does belief in immortality make us all, even Christians, callous in the presence of human suffering and injustice? By no means; not for Jesus, and not for Paul. He ends his eloquent testimony to Life Eternal with a sentence beginning "Therefore, . . ." Therefore what? Let us all sit down and wait for the golden chariot? Therefore let us think how happy we are going to be? No. His "therefore" (if you will look it up you will see for yourself) is a plea for firmness of character and for enthusiastic service of God. The light of heaven lights the common road, the common task.

KNOW YOUR HOSPITAL
 NURSING SERVICE — by Joseph R. McFerron

Carroll County General Hospital through its medical, nursing and other personnel, strives to render the best possible care to the patient. In doing so, it must place major responsibility on the nursing service, which bears constant and intimate relationship to the patient throughout the entire period of hospitalization.

Many people often complain about the type of nursing care they received while a patient in a hospital. What they usually mean is the number of times they were seen by the nurse, but we must remember some patients require more nursing care than others. For example, a critically ill patient may have one or even two people constantly at his bedside for a twenty-four hour period, while another patient may be in the hospital for laboratory work, requiring very little service from the nursing staff. The deciding factor is always the medical condition of the patient, the seriousness of the illness and the amount of nursing care which is needed in each individual case.

The national average is 2.9 hours of nursing care per patient over a twenty-four hour period. At Carroll County General Hospital we provide 4.1 hours of nursing care per patient over a twenty-four hour period. The 4.1 hours of nursing care budgeted for each patient does not just include bedside nursing, because the registered nurses have other important duties to perform. These duties include the supervision of the practical nurses, the nursing aides and the orderlies, and the preparation of the medical record which, for legal reasons, must be accurately kept for each patient. The distribution of the nursing service must of necessity be considered in very broad aspects and in over-all general terms which will produce the most good for a greater number of patients in the hospital.

In summary, the average patient in Carroll County General Hospital receives four hours of nursing care for each twenty-four hour period. Unfortunately, there is no such thing as an average patient when distributing the services of the general duty nurse. The critically ill must receive full time care and this is accomplished at the expense of the patient who needs little or no nursing care at all. Carroll County General Hospital cannot possibly provide twenty-four hours of nursing care for each patient every day because there are not enough Registered Nurses available and people would not be able to afford to pay the cost.

Record Bridge Ready for Road

NEW YORK CITY'S stately new portal, the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge, presents this appearance to the world as U.S. Steel workmen prepare to install the roadway structure of the record-setting link between Brooklyn and Staten Island. Fifty-one thousand tons of steel will be suspended from the four recently-completed main cables—"spun" from 145,000 miles of special-steel wire—in a new construction phase scheduled to start by mid-October. Steel for the center span—the world's longest at 4,260 feet—will be towed on barges down New York Harbor from a Jersey City assembly yard operated by U.S. Steel's American Bridge Division, which is building the bridge for the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority. Ammann and Whitney, consulting engineers, designed the Narrows crossing scheduled to be opened late next year.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

Delay in filing a disability claim under the social security program can cause loss of benefit payments, Albert H. Barouh, social security representative for Carroll County, said.

Many people with serious illnesses or injuries fail to inquire about disability benefits because they rely on information from friends and neighbors which may be incorrect or out of date, or think their condition isn't serious enough or will improve. These people risk possible loss of their social security benefits.

Mr. Barouh suggested that people who have impairments that keep them from working should check with their social security office after four months from the date they had to stop working. This will speed up any claim for benefits and mean a more prompt payment of the first check. There is a six-month waiting period before benefits can be paid.

He stressed that under no circumstances should a disabled person wait more than 18 months before inquiring to prevent loss of benefits.

For more information about the social security program, Mr. Barouh suggested that people get in touch with their social security office and ask for Pamphlet 871. The Baltimore social security office is located at 3107 Greenmount Ave., Baltimore 18, Md., or you can contact the social security representative at Westminster in the County Administration Building on any Wednesday between the hours of 10:00 A. STAY YOUNG WITH PROPER DIET

Canned salmon folded into pancake batter contributes more than color and flavor. It adds much needed protein to the diet.

The most essential food element necessary for youth and vigor is protein and few people eat enough high protein foods daily to give them the minimum requirement of eighty grams. Older citizens need even more, for it is protein that replaces worn-out tissue and builds new. There are different kinds of protein, too, some more complete than others. Canned salmon, for example, is a complete protein food, containing all the essential amino acids in a readily assimilated form. It is also a rich source of important minerals and vitamins, including Vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin. In addition, it is a colorful food, as uniquely delicious as it is nourishing.

Because the flavor of canned salmon is so delicate, it blends perfectly with all manner of vegetables, grains, and pasta. It makes a wonderfully nutritious contribution to a package of corn muffin mix; it adds flavor to scalloped potatoes or macaroni and cheese; it stands on its own in sandwiches and salads, in casseroles, creamed dishes, loaves and burgers. So, for delicious, nutritious, economical food, plan to include canned salmon frequently in your family menus.

SALMON HOT CAKES
1 7/8 ounce can salmon
Salmon liquid plus milk to measure 1 cup
1 1/2 cups pancake mix
Drain liquid from can of salmon into measuring cup and add milk to make a total of 1 cup liquid. Measure pancake mix into mixing bowl. Stir in liquid. Flake and fold in salmon. Bake cakes on a hot greased griddle until cooked and brown on both sides. Serve with lemon wedges and butter or with a sour cream sauce. Makes 12 large pancakes.
