HOW TO KILL A P.-T.A.

1. Don't come to the meeting.
2. If you do, come late.
3. Find fault with officers and members.
4. Never accept an office; it is easier to criticize than to do things.
5. Nevertheless, get annoyed if you aren't appointed to a committee.
6. If appointed to a committee, don't attend the meetings.
7. If asked by the chairman to give your opinion, say nothing. After the meeting, tell everyone how things should have been done.
8. Do no more than necessary. When other members roll up their sleeves to help things along, say the association is run by a clique.
9. Hold back your dues as long as possible, or don't pay at all.
10. Don't bother getting new members; but if you do, be sure they are just like yourself.

Go thou and do just the opposite.

This show will be both in the afternoon and the evening, and will be held in the High School auditorium. Refreshments will be on sale.

Mr. George Motter took the count of parents present for the presenting of the banner for the coming month. Again the first grade, taught by Miss Barbara Rohrbach, will hold the banner. The runner-up class was the sixth grade, taught by Mrs. Stanley Jennings.

Mrs. Howard Miller introduced the speaker for the evening, Mrs. Elaine Alper speaking on "Speech Therapy in Carroll County Schools." She stated that there are over 100 pupils in Carroll County who cannot be understood at all and that the speech handicap is greater than any other handicap. Miss Alper highly commended the first grade teachers for their excellent work done in teaching the beginner their sounds and starting them on the right path of correct speech. A question and answer period followed. Mrs. Miller thanked Mrs. Alper for her excellent message.

In closing, more of the sixth grade choral group sang several numbers, followed by a reading, "Over The River and Through The Wood," by Mr. Wargny.

Being no further business, the meeting was adjourned by the president wishing all happy Thanksgiving holidays.

CARROLL COUNTY TB ASSN.

The Maryland Tuberculosis Association has congratulated the Surgeon General, Luther Terry, on his appointment of a Task Force to Eradicate Tuberculosis. James M. Shea, Jr., president, has pledged the Maryland group's complete support and cooperation to the members of the task force.

The appointment of the Task Force, announced in Washington on Friday, Nov. 8, implements a recent recommendation from the Subcommittee of the Department of Labor, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the House Committee on Appropriations. The committee reported that:

"The committee has real concern over the current degree of effectiveness of tuberculosis control efforts in the United States. In 1959, the Arden House Conference on Tuberculosis proposed measures that could lead to a massive reduction in the tuberculosis problem in the United States. The committee has been told that eradication would save the country an estimated 750 million dollars a year. Tuberculosis claims more lives than any other communicable disease. In view of these facts, the committee believes that serious thought should be given to a study of the tuberculosis problem similar to that made by the Surgeon General's Task Force on Eradication of Syphilis."

Mr. Shea pointed out that recent findings of the Maryland Arden House Study Committee showed that there were 1085 new cases of tuberculosis diagnosed in the first nine months of 1963. The new cases for the first six months of 1962 numbered 1064, an increase of 21 cases, according to Dr. Edmund G. Beacham, Chief of Tuberculosis Services at Baltimore City Hospitals, and chairman of the Arden House Committee. Dr. Phillip D. Mercer, Case Finding Chairman of the Carroll County TB Association, reports that there have been 12 cases of TB reported in Carroll County, 10 of these were new cases. There also was two deaths reported in 1963.

"With these statistics at hand," Mr. Shea said, "there is little reason for complacency; and we look to the Task Force to point the way to better programs designed to eradicate our most serious and costly communicable disease problem."

CARROLL COUNTY ASSOCIATION FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

In the following weeks of November, you will be contacted by a representative of the Carroll County Association for Retarded Children, a non-profit organization serving 100 retarded children in Carroll County, affiliated with the Maryland and National Associations for Retarded Children. The association has set its goal at $10,000, an amount which will insure maintenance of existing facilities and aid in the development of more extensive services. Your contribution will be gratefully received.

Mrs. Alvah Finch, chairman of the fund drive, and Dr. Joseph R. Bailor, president of the association, are hopeful for unprecedented response and with the aid of local captains and solicitors, the entire county will be canvassed.

Remember, when your doorbell rings and the CCARC representative asks for a contribution, that this is a community responsibility—three out of every one hundred children are born mentally retarded, a condition which is no respecter of race, religion, color, creed or economic status. Seventy-five out of every one hundred retarded children can be self-supporting if they are given the proper care and education. Won't you help CCARC bring self-respect, usefulness, and happiness into the lives of children who cannot speak for themselves?

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICE AT UNIONTOWN

Each of the churches in the community will have an active part in this service. Everyone is invited to attend this service. We all have much to be thankful for; come and show your thanks by worshipping God with us.

Some speakers need no introduction. They need conclusions.

SOCIAL SECURITY

"You don't have to retire completely to get social security benefits," R. W. Hughes, social security district manager in Baltimore, said.

"Many people here in this part of Maryland receive benefits based on partial retirement, even though they work regularly. In each case the benefit amount is adjusted according to the amount of earnings that the beneficiary reports."

Mr. Hughes related the story of a partly retired carpenter who was awarded a monthly social security benefit of $92, but who decided to continue working part-time and expected to earn about $2000 during the year.

The rule is that you can be paid all your social security benefits if your earnings are $1200 or less. For earnings between $1200 and $1700, $1 of benefits is withheld for each $2 earned. For all earnings above $1700, $1 in benefits is withheld for each $1 earned.

"Since the carpenter expected to earn $2000 this year, $550 of his benefit amount was withheld," Mr. Hughes said. "With a monthly benefit amount of $92, his checks were withheld for about six months until the required deduction had been made. After six checks had been withheld, he was reinstated for social security benefits as usual during the rest of the year."

Social security beneficiaries who are under 72 and who expect to earn over $1200 during the year must send an estimate of their expected earnings to the Social Security Administration at the beginning of each year so that the proper number of checks can be withheld. "If actual earnings differ from the estimated amount," Mr. Hughes said, "this should be reported as soon as possible, so that adjustments can be made. This will make certain beneficiaries receive all the benefits they are entitled to, and it will also make it unnecessary to return an overpayment, which may be a very difficult thing to have to do."

Any questions about this or other social security matters may be directed to the social security district office at 3107 Greenmount Avenue, Baltimore 18, Md., or to the social security representative in Taneytown at the First National Bank on the first Tuesday of each month between the hours of 10 A. M. and 12 noon.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

On Saturday, November 9th, from the hours of 6:30 to 10 P. M. was "Dickeyville by Candlelight" sponsored by The Dickeyville Garden Club. I arrived before the crowd just before dusk set in and never will I forget the sight of that little village all lit up by candlelight! I really thought I was in a foreign country so picturesque it all was with the hilly streets. It was a tour of the lovely authentically restored homes and the hostesses were attired in Civil War costumes! Many of the homes were constructed around the year of 1800 and there were fifteen homes open to the public.

What a crowd! And the owners all were charming as they greeted all visitors as they arrived at the doors to the entrance of these homes. This little village lies in a valley along the banks of Gwynn's Falls and so near Baltimore. The houses which were not open to the public were called "Peek-a-Boo" houses due to the fact that just one room would be candle lit and all the rest in darkness and from the street you could peek in one window!

As I walked along, I saw a familiar face lighting candles on the picket fence of his home and that was Mr. Bob Jones, formerly of WBAL. I asked him how long he was living there and he told me nine years. He is leaving for his home town, Cincinnati, very shortly.

Then, I met another columnist, Miss Libbie Powell of "The Daily Mail" from Hagerstown, Md., and we spent the rest of the evening together. She is a beautiful woman and was most gracious to me.

All the Village strollers seemed to be enjoying viewing the homes. The history of this little village is most interesting. The Falls were named after Richard Gwynn, who, in 1672, took a tract of land along the stream with exclusive rights to trade with the Algonquin Indians who lived peacefully on both sides of the stream. In the year of 1719, Peter Bond, son-in-law of Richard Gwynn, built a mill somewhere in the vicinity and this was the building in the area. Then several mills and homes were built by other families and in 1829 the Wethereds bought the standing mills and built additional ones of their own. The town took the name of Wetheredville until 1871 when Mr. William Dickey bought the 300 acres, 3 mills and houses for $82,000. The town then was renamed "Dickeyville" and grew and prospered until 1934 when it was sold at auction for the sum of $42,000 to a holding company which began a restoration program with the architect Harold A. Stillwell. Then, the Dickeyville Improvement Association was formed in 1937 and in 1954 the mills again were in the hands of the Dickey family. It surely is a thriving community with the most enthusiastic home owners.

The proceeds from this big event are used for the restoration and beautification of Dickeyville, which include caring for the stream, the roads and the planting in three areas.

In 1849, the Methodist Church was built and the last service there was on Feb. 8, 1959, which moved to Forest Park Ave. and Windsor Mill Rd. called "Hillsdale Chatsworth." Mr. and Mrs. Holdridge bought the old church and made it into a beautiful home. The exterior is stone. It is beyond describing the beauty of each room. The pulpit holds the huge baby grand piano. I observed there were quite a few old baby cradles in the homes and 'what do you think, folks, those cradles held? Books and magazines! And some were in the living room!

There are only three houses of brick which were built in 1870. A very charming lady, Mrs. Chas. Sirven, walked around with us for awhile showing us the old school house, the candy store, the old tavern and the dam which is used for skating in the winter time.

There is a charming home originally consisted of two rooms which was the dairy home years ago. So it only goes to show what really can be done with all old possessions which always were so beautifully built to stand up all through the years! Now, this is the Mayor of Taneytown and all little towns of age and the Chamber of Commerce—why not have a "Home Showing" of your very own? There is much history of which many know not of Taneytown and surrounding villages.

Have a grand week-end, folks. Until next week, D.V., when I hope to be browsing around the town.

I am,
Faithfully,
Your Observer.
