ANNUAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET
HELD

The annual Taneytown Chamber of Commerce Banquet was held on Thursday, Nov. 21, in the Taneytown High School auditorium with approximately 250 members and guests in attendance.

Organ music during dinner was furnished by Mr. Delmar E. Riffle in his usual inimitable style. Immediately following dinner, group singing was led by Mr. George Motter with Mrs. George Motter at the piano.

Greetings were given by Chamber President Frank T. Dunham. President Dunham then presented the following officers: Merle S. Ohler, first vice president; Robert L. Zentz, second vice president; Donald M. Smith, secretary; Murray M. Baumgardner, treasurer; Charles R. Arnold, executive committee member; Merwyn C. Fuss, executive committee member. The Mayor and his lady were also presented. The new members of the Chamber were introduced.

Post banquet entertainment was provided by a very fine barbershop quartet from Baltimore known as the Spelbinders.

The speaker of the evening turned out to be plural. It happened this way. On the program the Rev. J. Paul Kehm, Pastor of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Fleetwood, Pa., was listed as the speaker of the evening. At the appropriate time he was introduced as such, but no sooner had he started his very humorous dissertation, when Mrs. Virginia Sanders appeared to advise that there was a long distance person-to-person call for him in the office. He very humorously excused himself to take the call.

Very shortly he reappeared (or at least the audience thought it was he) and continued his presentation. In a matter of minutes a second person appeared, who in matter of fact, was not the second, but the first. It seems the address was to be given by identical twin pastors, the Rev. J. Paul and the Rev. C. Harry Kehm.

They alternated at the speaker's podium, telling a host of clever, humorous stories. We also learned that they had appeared not long ago on the television program, "I've Got A Secret," and were able to completely confuse the panel.

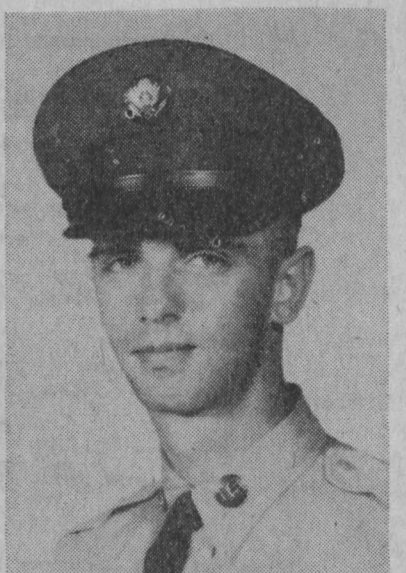

The meat or essence of the message was brief but very thought provoking. It amounted to a formula for success in any endeavor, whether it be the accomplishment of a successful Chamber of Commerce program or the living of a full rewardful private life. In very brief form here are the points that were made: (however, your correspondent is at a loss to tell you readers which twin made which point) but nonetheless, it was stated by the speakers that to succeed you must have three bones. First of all a wish bone, and this doesn't mean sitting back and wishing for something to happen. It means you must make it happen through desire, inner urge and anticipation. The second bone you must possess is a funny bone. In other words, a sense of humor to take you over the rough spots. The third and last is a backbone. The moral uprightness to be honest and the strength to carry on in the face of adversity.

Our speaker(s) expressed this thought, "It is not important what goes wrong, but what is important is how you react when things go wrong; this is the test of leadership." Either Paul or Harry concluded with this statement, "This is a great age in which we live, as a matter of fact, it is the only age in which you are going to live."

In a series of very successful banquets down through the years, this one stands out as one of the most successful.

We would conclude by encouraging the Chamber of Commerce members to support the Chamber in its many endeavors and to attend meetings more regularly.

PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY
ASSASSINATED

John Fitzgerald Kennedy, thirty-fifth President of the United States, was shot to death Friday afternoon, November 22, 1963, by a hidden assassin armed with a high-powered rifle. Mr. Kennedy, 46, lived a half an hour after a sniper cut him down as his limousine left downtown Dallas (Texas). Mr. Kennedy died at Parkland Hospital, where his bullet-pierced body had been taken in a frantic but futile effort to save his life.

Lying wounded at the same hospital was Governor Connally of Texas, who was cut down by the same fusillade that ended the life of the youngest man ever elected to the Presidency. Gov. Connally and his wife had been riding with the President and Mrs. Kennedy. The First Lady cradled her dying husband's blood-smeared head in her arms as the Presidential limousine raced to the hospital. Gov. Connally slumped in his seat beside the President. The President died at approximately 2 P. M. The Governor, with less serious wounds, is recovering.

His body was flown back to Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, who was sworn in as President of the United States before the plane left the ground for Washington, Mrs. Johnson and other officials were aboard the plane carrying the body of the late President.

Record breaking crowds filed past the flag-draped casket holding the remains of the late President which had lain in state in the Capitol Rotunda since 2 P. M. Sunday. The same horse-drawn caisson that carried the bronze casket from the White House to the Capitol carried the body back in the solemn funeral procession.

Many dignitaries and rulers from all over the world began to arrive Sunday for the funeral that was held on Monday. The funeral mass was celebrated by Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of Boston and a long-time friend and spiritual guide of the Kennedy family, at St. Matthew's Cathedral.

The body of the martyred President was taken to Arlington National Cemetery and given a hero's burial on a hillside overlooking the Capitol where he had served his country as Congressman, Senator and President.

The late Mr. Kennedy, who was serving the third year of his first term as President, is survived by his widow, Jacqueline; a daughter, Caroline, 5; a son, John, Jr., 2 (whose birthdays were to be celebrated this week); a mother and invalid father, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy; two brothers, Attorney General Robert F. and U. S. Senator Edward, and three sisters.

The President's Assassin
Arrested—Then Killed

The Dallas (Texas) police department arrested a 24-year-old man, Lee H. Oswald, in connection with the slaying of a Dallas policeman shortly after President Kennedy was assassinated. He was also interrogated to see if he had any connection with the slaying of the President. In questioning the man, he professed love for Russia and was booked and charged with the killing of the President.

By a strange quirk Lee Harvey Oswald met a merciless death amid a crowd Sunday just as President John F. Kennedy did 48 hours earlier. The accused presidential assassin was shot and killed during a jail transfer. Jack Rubinstein, alias Ruby, 52, a bachelor, owner of a downtown Dallas (Texas) striptease joint, brooding since Kennedy's untimely death, stepped wordlessly forward from the ranks of onlookers outside City Hall to send a single pistol bullet into Oswald's abdomen.

The 24-year-old Oswald dropped unconscious at Ruby's feet within a cordon of escorting police officers. That was 12:20 P. M. while Oswald was being taken from City Hall detention quarters to a permanent maximum security cell in Dallas County Jail, there to await trial for Kennedy's assassination.

Oswald died at 2:07 P. M. in the same hospital where President Kennedy expired Friday, with two of the same doctors working over him who labored vainly to save the President's life. Ruby was charged with murdering Oswald.

We look into the long avenue of the future and see the good there is for each one of us to do, when we realize after all what a beautiful thing it is to work, and live, and be happy.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

LYNDON B. JOHNSON
SWORN IN AS PRESIDENT

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in as President of the United States at about 2:38 P. M. on Friday. The oath was administered by U. S. District Judge Sarah T. Hughes. Mr. Johnson took the oath aboard the Presidential plane at Dallas' Love Field. He immediately flew to Washington to take over the government.

Lyndon Baines Johnson became the thirty-sixth President of the United States on Friday, November 22, 1963, succeeding John Fitzgerald Kennedy, whose early career was cut short by an assassin's bullet.

Twenty-seven persons—all the plane compartment could hold—heard Mr. Johnson take the oath. The late President's wife, Jacqueline, was one of the twenty-seven. At the time, the President's body was aboard the plane in which Mr. Kennedy had so often ridden—in the United States, Latin America, Europe and Canada. The body was in a bronze casket with a black cloth top.

President Johnson's background is quite interesting. He was born Aug. 27, 1908, near Johnson City, Texas, a small town founded by his grandfather. The family ranch is not far from Johnson City. Mr. Johnson went to public schools and received a B. S. degree from Southwest Texas State Teachers College in 1930. He taught school for a year while attending college.

In 1932 he came to Washington as secretary to a representative of Congress from Texas which began his life as a politician and a public servant. After being elected and serving in both branches of congress for several terms, he was elected Vice-President of the United States on the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in 1960.

SILVER FANCY GARDEN CLUB

The Silver Fancy Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. R. MacPherson on November 21st. In the absence of the president, Mrs. George W. Green, presided.

After a brief business session plans were made to hold a workshop at the home of Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner, December 16th, for the purpose of making Christmas door decorations to be presented to the patients of the Victor Cullen Hospital, Sabillasville, Md. A committee was also appointed to take two bushels of apples to the patients for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Green and Mrs. Butler gave some highlights on the Hanover YMCA Garden Club demonstration of unusual Christmas arrangements by Mrs. Lang. One in particular, which is useful as well as decorative, was a card holder made of copper screen cut and folded into a triangular envelope. The edges are bound with red or green velvet and a coat hanger covered with the same material is used at the top to hang it. It can be made as large or small as one wishes.

The Carroll Garden Club's Christmas greens show is scheduled for December 6th and 7th at the Art Building, Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md. All members of Silver Fancy who have taken flower arranging lessons given by Carroll Club are invited to participate. Exhibits will be received between 8:45 and 10:45 A. M. Friday, December 6. Mrs. Green, Mrs. Koswick and Miss Carpenter are to be judges' aides at the show.

The annual Christmas party luncheon is to be at the Peace Light Inn, on December 19th, at which time gifts will be exchanged.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. MacPherson and co-hostess, Mrs. Claude White.

A man's good breeding is the best security against another's bad manners.—Chesterfield.

SANTA CLAUS IS COMING TO TANEYTOWN

Santa Claus will arrive in Taneytown Friday evening, November 29, 1963. At 7:00 P. M. he will be met at the Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School by the Jr.-Sr. High School Band, Taneytown Mayor and City Council, members of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce and the Taneytown Volunteer Fire Company.

The procession with Santa riding on one of the Fire Company's trucks will move down George Street to Baltimore Street and West on Baltimore Street to the Taneytown Fire Hall where the band will give a brief concert. Santa Claus following the concert will greet all the kiddies of the Taneytown community and with his helpers from the Chamber of Commerce give treats to the kiddies.

This program will be sponsored by the Taneytown businesses.

BETTY STONESIFER DELEGATE
TO NATIONAL 4-H CONGRESS

Betty Stonesifer, 18, of Taneytown is crooning about her "Bing," a Shorthorn steer. For this Hagerstown College student's work with Bing and other cattle, she's been named Maryland's delegate in the beef category to Chicago's National 4-H Club Congress, Dec. 1-5.

A freshman at Hagerstown Business College, this Taneytown High School honor graduate has been working seven years with beef animals on the 190-acre farm of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earle K. Stonesifer.

When Betty enrolled in the Taneytown Agricultural 4-H Club, her first project—naturally—was a Shorthorn heifer, for her father owns a Shorthorn herd.

An all-around young lady, Betty raises broilers, cans fruits and pickles, and sews her own clothes. She's prepared hundreds of family meals, frozen foods and raised rabbits, swine and a lamb.

Through judging and public speaking activities Betty says she's learned to speak with ease before groups, which is more important to her than the actual winning of ribbons.

President of the Taneytown Agricultural and Girls' 4-H Clubs, vice president of the Carroll County Baby Beef and secretary of the Carroll County Older Youth she saves her project earnings to help pay for college.

RINEHART IS DAIRY DELEGATE
TO NATIONAL 4-H CONGRESS

Young John W. Rinehart of near Taneytown is well on his way to reaching his goal of "establishing one of the country's best herds of registered Holsteins."

Already he's helped represent the United States with his dairy judging skills at the 1962 International 4-H Dairy Judging Contest in England. And now he is a Maryland delegate in the dairy category to Chicago's 42nd National 4-H Club Congress, Dec. 1-5.

County and state blue ribbons, the 1962 Maryland Holstein Boy title and attendance as a Maryland delegate to Washington, D.C.'s 1963 National 4-H Conference, are just a few more of his honors.

This University of Maryland sophomore is following his family's inclinations toward top dairy animals—and 4-H. John, 19, grew up on the 225-acre dairy farm, "Sarob," named for his parents, Sarah and Robert Rinehart.

He started his 4-H career 10 years ago with one registered Holstein calf. Now he helps manage the farm's 35 registered Holsteins, of which he owns 11, learning showmanship, feeding and management skills, and record keeping.

A member of the Piney Creek, Carroll County Older Youth and Collegiate 4-H Clubs, John says, "The most important thing I have learned is to keep my head when I win and my heart when I lose."

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICE

The annual Thanksgiving Service will be held at the Frizellburg Church of God, Frizellburg, Md., on Thursday, November 28, 1963 at 9:30 A. M.

The speaker for the service will be the Dr. James Teeter and the special music will be furnished by Mrs. Earl W. Schultz, Jr., soloist, of Hampstead, Md.

Dr. Teeter is a surgeon at the Waynesboro Hospital, Waynesboro, Penna., and is a member of the Christian Doctors' Association. He has rendered service in a hospital on the Ivory Coast, West Africa. He was formerly a resident of Taneytown, Maryland.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

LIONS CLUB NEWS

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 26, the Taneytown Lions Club met at Taney Inn. It was Clergy Night and Tom Tracey was in charge of the program. After dinner Lion President Frank O. Wargny introduced the Union Mills-Silver Run and other clubs present. The clergy were also introduced.

Tom Tracey introduced the speaker, Rev. William M. Hendricks, pastor of the Taneytown Presbyterian Church. Rev. Hendricks very well reminded us of the hardship and suffering endured by the gallant little band of people who came to our shores in 1620; and they gave thanks. They were people who were born to be free in conscience and stalwart in faith. He concluded by saying that we should accept the occasion of service with thanksgiving, and receive our opportunities in sincerity.

The Club adjourned to convene Dec. 10 at 6:29.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Happy Thanksgiving across the miles to you and you and you!
One would think it was really Spring in the coat departments in every store due to the pastel shades which really are beautiful and there are pinks, whites, blues prevailing.

And thinking of coats—now the Lexington Market Garage Manager has surely given the place a Lifter-Upper as all attendants are in uniform and they remind me of the Hostesses in the Planes. Spiffy is the word! Then there are the young men on roller skates going from one place to the other showing you a space for your car! Nice!

The other day, I met a little ten year old boy who visits the grave of the man who was the farmer and his friend and if you recall where I always enjoyed the delightful water from the pump in that old tin cup! So unusual for a little boy and that all alone, Eh?

Such a nice clean scent from the "Air Refresher" bath and powder room can that bring back memories of little faces and I think you know just what I mean. Don't forget, Ladies that "Max Factor" has the grand gifts for the gentlemen, to, as well as the ladies.

It is truly a beautiful sight upon entering the door of "The Hecht May Company" with the decoration of red small shades just all over plus the twinkling of the Stars with thousands of red Poinsettias! And that all dressed up for the Holidays which is superior to any other store. I went up to "The Courtyard" for lunch and there is something about that restaurant that is very, very different in which to dine. As you enter it is really pleasing to the eye and breath-taking as you hear the, "Oh's" and "Ah's"! The entire atmosphere is entirely Colonial and you will love it. There are the fronts of the old stores with the small panes of glass—the Apothecary, the Leather Goods Store, the Colonial lamps of yester-year on each side of the door entrance. Even the Wooden Indian is there and the Philadelphia Lampost and the old Millinery Shop where at one time years ago all hats were made by hand!

The Courtyard is entirely furnished in wrought iron with the tables and chairs plus the Poll Parrot in his cage! There is so much more detail. Of particular interest, too is the handsome old southern doorway taken from the original Aisquith Street home of Senator James Young.

... the scene of many memorable and brilliant affairs. There are specialties on the menu, as to each day of the week: Monday, Italian Scallopi Marsala; Tuesday, Hungarian Csirke Paprikas Gombaval; Wednesday, French Roulade de boeuf Provencal; Thursday, German-Sauerbraten; Friday, Indonesian-Curry of Shrimp and Saturday, Hawaiian Pork Chops. Yet, there are wonderful and many other selections from which to choose. The Coastal Crab Broil was Ummmmmm good! It was Chesapeake Bay Backfin Crab blended with their own recipe and served on toast bread points, topped with Julienne Sharpe cheese and broiled to mix the cheese and crab meat into an exciting meal! It was done to perfection and there was even a twang of Lobster to the taste! Be sure, folks and take your guests there. The prices are most reasonable, too. It is the finest place to dine and you will desire to go there again, again and again! That Manager, Mr. Clark of The Courtyard surely knows his business!

Now—word comes from Hollywood that a gala audience of 1000 Hollywood stars and top rung representatives of the foreign, Canadian and American press gave a prolonged standing ovation to Stanley Kramer's Comedy spectacular, "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad, World," at its International Press Preview performance at Pacific's Cinerama Theatre. And—oh—there is so much more! The show with all big S T A R S takes just three hours and 17 minutes in Technicolor! The cost? Just N I N E Million $'s! Hollywood is not what it was, but B E T T E R! And as to France, Paris Jour cited the film's "irresistible, fun and constant punch."

L'Aurore paid tribute to the extraordinary fun and breath-taking special effects "with 200 minutes of laughter... and a sumptuous pot-pourri of fun and madness." AND Parisien stated that the motion picture is "giving American comedy new scope." "Whereeeeeeeeeee! Some comedy for which to look forward—"It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World!"

Have you noticed that Kitty Carlisle is showing something new and beautiful on the "right" finger of her left hand—? Pearls surrounded by diamonds!

Have a grand Holiday, Folks. Until next week-end. D. V.

I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

THANKSGIVING LIVING

The story of Thanksgiving is a vital part of American history. You may remember certain aspects of it with nostalgia or you may recall the relatively-meager material possessions our forefathers had, in comparison to our land of plenty.

Yet, before the Pilgrims got around to their meal of Thanksgiving, they paused to remember that this was not merely a feast on a given day, but that it had to do with living in a certain way.

The Pilgrims gathered together in their meetinghouse to give thanks for the blessing of life, for survival through times of hardship, for strength to perform the daily tasks, for courage to face up to the dangers of the day and for loved ones and friends who shared their difficult burdens.

Thanksgiving was a way of living; a way of feeling about people and things. It still is. We have the same things to be thankful for today — and on a much greater scale. Yet, our thanks is often hollow in comparison to theirs. We make it a "day," pack it full of action, and wrap it up in twenty-four hours. Then we get back to the "routine" — on with business of living.

We need to take a closer look at THANKSGIVING. We need to recognize that there is plenty for which we can be thankful. We need to enter into our "meeting-houses" and thank Him who is the giver of every good gift. After we have given thanks, we can get on with the matter of thanksLIVING.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

From Industrial Development magazine: "Widespread activity has characterized the railroad industry during the past year in its never-ending competition with highways and rivers. New services, expanded operations and new lures for industry have all combined with developmental research to place railroads in an advantageous position to attract new industrial facilities. . . . In short, they have embarked on an aggressive program of selling industry on the respective merits and advantages of their lines."

What have a sniff of snuff and a diesel locomotive in common with the New York Stock Exchange? Answer, according to The Exchange magazine, is their common stock. Some 98 percent of all snuff produced in this country is made by companies listed on the Exchange, and all diesel electric locomotives are manufactured by listed companies.

It was freedom that made it possible for Americans to transform Europe's costly plaything—the automobile—into a vehicle for everybody. So writes Christy Borth, who has been a close observer of the Detroit scene for 50 years, in Petroleum Today. In his view, it was neither superior know-how nor abundant resources that made this American achievement possible. It was the fact that Americans were free to experiment as individuals, each in the hope of making a profit.

During the last three years, major oil companies have spent about $1 billion on research, and will spend $350 million during 1963 on current research projects.

"The American's problem is how to support his government in the style to which it wishes to become accustomed," William A. Muir, Candor (N.Y.) Courier.

We are always beginning to live, but we are never living. — Marcus Manilius.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

The assassination of President Kennedy is still news that is almost impossible to believe. To think that someone would want to kill the President of the United States is something that no one wants to even consider, but it did happen and the whole world mourns a fine, intelligent man whose loss we cannot even begin to assess. Let us pray for his family and for President Johnson in the days to come.

The Monocacy AYP met on Tuesday the 19th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weant of Harney. Congratulations to Lt. and Mrs. John Hood of Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, upon the birth of a second daughter on Friday, the 22nd. Laurie Suzanne weighed just over 7 lbs. and her mother is the former Janet Myerly of Mumma's Ford Rd., near Detour.

The Flower Committee for December at the Keysville Lutheran Church will be Mrs. Ruth Willhide, chairman; Mrs. Anna Fleaharty, Mrs. Cassie Willhide, Mrs. Wm. Ritter and Mrs. Frances Ridinger.

I understand the paper drive last Saturday by the Luther Leaguers did very well and they extend their thanks to all who contributed to it.

Do hope you have a Happy Family Thanksgiving!

Cub Pack #459 Meets

Cubmaster Weeks opened the meeting on Thursday, the 21st, with an apology for the necessity of postponing the meeting from Friday, the 15th, and then the mix-up on which other night it was to be. He also announced that it is necessary for the boys to be accompanied by a parent for they should be there for announcements and discipline.

Service Stars will be given at the December meeting, he said, for this past year.

Den 1 had the opening with Kenneth Black leading the Pledge to the Flag and all the Cubs standing and giving The Promise. Their Den Mother, Mrs. Rigler, told that the theme for the month is "The World of Sound" and asked all the Cubs to stand and make a sound of some sort to give a small demonstration of the number of sounds possible.

After all joined in singing, "God Bless America," Cubmaster Weeks extended a welcome to a new recruit, Eddy Crumacker.

Den 2 presented a skit with Mrs. Weeks, Den Mother, reading a story and the Cubs making various noises for sound effects.

One award was made: a Bobcat Pin for Cub George Eckard.

The next meeting will be the Christmas Party and each Cub is asked to bring a $1.00 present, his parents, and 2 dozen cookies. The drink will be furnished by the Pack.

Den 4 had the game for the evening, and Den Mother, Mrs. Turvin, had 2 Cubs, 2 Mothers and then 2 Dads toss a small ball back and forth using 2 shoe boxes from which one end had been cut out. After that all the Cubs took turns playing, also.

Den 3 had the closing. Den Mother, Mrs. Stultz lit a candle and the lights were turned out for a short time. The candle represented the Cub Scout Spirit. If looked at steadily for a moment and then the eyes were closed, the image would stay with you. As the image of light stayed with you, so will the spirit of Cub Scouting.

Refreshments were served by Cubmaster and Mrs. Weeks.

Our little town as well as the nation was shocked to hear of the assassination of our President, John F. Kennedy. President Kennedy's death Friday continues the 20-year intervals die in office. The list includes: 1840, William Henry Harrison; 1860, Abraham Lincoln; 1880, James A. Garfield; 1900, William McKinley; 1920, Warren G. Harding; 1940, Franklin D. Roosevelt; 1960, John F. Kennedy.

Roosevelt did not die in the third term in which he was elected in 1940 but during his fourth term. Three of the previous Presidents on the list were assassinated—Lincoln, Garfield, and McKinley. Our heartfelt sympathy is with his family.

HOOPER'S DELIGHT

Our country was struck by sudden tragedy on Friday, November 22, with the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, Texas. It is hard to believe that in this day and age anything so terrible could happen. Our sympathy goes out to his family and truly to the whole country. Now-adays it seems if anyone disagrees or dislikes anyone they just up and kill them. Maybe some day we all can live in peace the way our Maker intended us to do.

ASSISTANCE WITH SOCIAL SECURITY PROBLEMS

There are a number of persons in Carroll County who have become richer because they met Albert H. Barouh, field representative of the Social Security Administration who visits Taneytown every 1st Tuesday of the month to assist persons with their social security problems.

Mr. Barouh is in an office in the First National Bank every 1st Tuesday morning of the month. A number of Carroll County residents usually are there to inquire about their social security status and discuss their retirement plans.

Mr. Barouh said there were three times when persons should make inquiries about social security retirement benefits; when a man or woman reaches age 62, 65, or 72 even though still working.

At age 62 it is possible to get social security benefits, but you will have a reduction in your check of at least 20 percent. So, if your monthly benefit is $100 you will get $80 a month at age 62. If you start getting benefits at age 62, you will continue to get benefits at the reduced rate even after you reach 65.

At age 65, you will be paid your full retirement benefit every month if you do not work for more than $1200 a year. If you work and earn more than $1200, you will lose only one dollar of your yearly benefits for every two dollars you earn between $1200 and $1700; and for earnings over $1700 you will lose one dollar in benefits for each dollar earned.

Age 72 is a big day for you if you are still working, because you can get all your social security checks no matter how much you make. There are still some people who do not know about this feature of the law.

One man, for instance, came to the office after many delays to make inquiries. He was over 72 and working as a carpenter. Much to his surprise, he found he was eligible to receive benefits and work at the same time. He had not known there was no restriction after 72. He filed a claim, and he is now getting a monthly check which he is saving to use when he can no longer work.

In the afternoons, Mr. Barouh visits the homes of persons who are so disabled they cannot come to the office.

For further information, call or write to the social security district office located in Baltimore at 3107 Greenmont Avenue.

RAY-MOND THE MAGICIAN PRESENTS

"Cavalcade of Mystery," presented by that world famous magician, Ray-Mond, will be brought to the Taneytown High School Auditorium on Saturday, Nov. 30 for the benefit of the Taneytown Elementary P.T.A.

There will be two performances. One afternoon matinee for the children beginning at 2 P. M. until 3 P. M. The evening program will be at 8 P. M. for two full hours of thrills and entertainment. The doors will open at 7 P. M. Refreshments will be served by the ladies of the Elementary P.T.A. Get your tickets from any member of the Elementary P.T.A. or from Reindollar's hardware store.

The amazing Mr. Ray-Mond brings his magic, hypnotic mystery show here to Taneytown for one day only so plan now to attend. Only a limited number of seats are available. Ray-Mond is billed as a magician, but a great portion of the show is the personality of the man himself, being one of the first magicians to invade the field of television, with large stage illusions where he proved as much a success as in person.

It is a treat to see a show as entertaining as yet as fast moving as the Cavalcade of Mystery. In the deception, Ray-Mond merges actor with elaborate illusion; just how is his secret. However, the young lady gets her head back none the worse for her experience. But it's fun to be fooled, and you will enjoy being fooled by this modern day magician who uses some new tricks as well as old standbys in his baffling magic show.

The Elementary P.T.A. of Taneytown is pleased to bring a show of this caliber for an evening of entertainment, Saturday, Nov. 30.

WIVES HONORED BY JAYCEES

The Taneytown Jaycees honored their wives at a dinner on Nov. 14 at Roy's Tropical Treat. Mr. Merle Ohler, their special guest, showed slides of the Canadian Rockies and Yellowstone National Park.

Inducted as new members of the Jaycees were Mr. Argyle Kaufman, Mr. Thomas Lambert and Mr. Charles Young.

Let reverence for the law be breathed by every mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap; let it be taught in schools, seminaries and colleges; let it be written in primers, spelling books and almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpits and proclaimed in legislative halls and enforced in courts of justice.—Abraham Lincoln.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports

Defense, usually considered a nasty word among basketball players, has caught on in the National Basketball Association this season like free tickets to a pro football game—if any are ever available. Defense, a tough thing to learn according to the most proficient shot-blocker in the NBA, Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics, has been available to the players ever since the league was formed.

But the players have been so offensively conscious that they have virtually neglected to concentrate on defense. Leading the new defensive fad this season has been none other than the greatest shooter and scorer in the history of the game—seven-foot, one-inch giant Wilt Chamberlain of the San Francisco Warriors. For years, Chamberlain has been bothered by comparisons to Russell. Every season, Chamberlain would lead the league in scoring, but each year Russell would get the most valuable player award as he led the Celtics to another championship. Big Bill would win the honor for his defensive skills, not his offensive ability. After last season, when the Warriors failed to make the post-season playoffs, Wilt apparently became convinced that offense was not everything in pro basketball. He wanted to play on a winner.

So far, the new Chamberlain has worked out better than the old model, although his scoring average has come down to almost 20 points from one year ago. He has been a demon on defense, blocking several shots per game. He has rebounded better than ever, and he has passed off unselfishly. The result? The Warriors have been winning. Not sensationally, but winning. They have a good record and trail slightly the Western division leaders. And Chamberlain's play has drawn raves around the league. Philadelphia coach Alex Hannum and Boston center Clyde Lovellette are in agreement that Wilt could be the greatest player in the league if he continues his two-way play and does not let the matter of scoring hurt his pride so much.

And how is Chamberlain taking to his new role? He says, "I'm trying to play different, and I'm starting to get used to it." He'll probably like it much better if the Warriors win the NBA title this season.

If the Boston Celtics are suffering because of Bob Cousy's retirement, their anguish is not noticeable. The way they have been playing it seems that they never lose. Coach Red Auerbach, naturally, is well pleased with the Celtics showing so far, but he feels the club will get even better in a few weeks. That should come as frightening news to all the other NBA teams. Auerbach explains that the Celtics will get better defensively when they get some more games under their belt. The coach feels the club's strong point has always been defense. Auerbach is careful to point out that he is not being critical of how his boys have played so far, but merely is predicting that the best is yet to come.

The veteran coach believes Willie Naulls is going to be the big surprise this year. And well he might at that. He will prove to be a valuable replacement for forward Tom Heinsohn. Boston picked up Naulls from the San Francisco Warriors, where he failed to show much last year. Naulls was so pleased at becoming a Celtic, he took off 25 pounds to show his appreciation and now weighs about 220.

The Celtics have not been overly generous in giving Naulls the ball, so far, but the team's elder statesman, Bill Russell, says Naulls will have plenty of opportunity soon. Explains Russell, "Willie will have to learn to move around more. The way we play, our guys have to do a lot of things without the ball. Once he starts working to get open he will see the ball a lot."

Russell and all the Celtics take their game very seriously. To them it's more than just popping the ball through the net. That could be the reason they have won the NBA championship for five straight years, and very likely will win it again this year.

Remember When Dept.—The Baltimore Bullets won the NBA title in 1947. Their coach is their present general manager—Paul Hoffman.

Today's Sport Laugh—The irrepressible Duffy Daugherty, coach of Michigan State, says football is not contact sport. Duffy maintains that football is a collision sport. He says, "Dancing is a contact sport."

—John Breth.

Chicken 'N Biscuits

Flavorful Chicken à la King tastes even better on a crusty biscuit. Easy-to-make drop biscuits are made with corn muffin mix. You just add egg and milk for a golden biscuit with the crunchiness, corn-flavored goodness that does the most for Chicken à la King.

CHICKEN A LA KING ON CRUSTY BISCUITS

Makes 8 servings
Crusty Biscuits:
 One 12-oz. pkg. (2 cups) Flako Corn Muffin Mix
 1 egg
 1/3 cup milk
Chicken à la King:
 1/3 cup butter or margarine
 One 4-oz. can mushroom stems and pieces, drained
 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
 1/3 cup all-purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Dash pepper
 1-1/3 cups chicken broth
 2 cups cut-up cooked chicken

Heat oven to hot (400°F.). Empty contents of corn muffin mix package into bowl. Add egg and milk. Blend only until dry ingredients are thoroughly moistened. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto a greased cookie sheet. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) about 15 minutes.

While biscuits are baking, prepare Chicken à la King. Melt butter in saucepan. Lightly brown mushrooms and green pepper in butter. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add broth gradually, stirring constantly until thickened. Add chicken and heat thoroughly. Split biscuits in half horizontally. Spoon on Chicken à la King.

Automobile and truck operators in our small communities are often faced with two extremes in driving conditions. Here at home folks drive in a more leisurely fashion.

Driving to and from other nearby communities, drivers must always be aware of the narrow roads, sharp turns, hills, and the constant threat of not being able to see pending dangers.

However, when deciding to take a trip to a distant city, via the thruways, duals, and turnpikes, and other limited access highway systems, our local motorists face many dangers not apparent here at home. Travel on these highways generally is at a much greater rate of speed. Coupled with driving fatigue, carelessness, and inattentiveness, speeds on the modern highways can become a real killer in a matter of seconds.

Many drivers who are unaccustomed to driving regularly on turnpikes are not experienced when it comes to making decisions at speeds of 60 to 65 mph. Others take safe driving conditions for granted, and are often lulled into a state of fatigue or drowsiness because of the monotony of the highway.

Shift your eyes frequently so that your attention does not become focused in one particular spot for long periods of time. Remember at 60 miles per hour, you move up very rapidly on a slower vehicle. To compensate for this, you must allow sufficient time and space if you wish to overtake the vehicle in front of you.

Basically, alertness in driving is the keystone of safe driving. I wish to caution all drivers to stay alert at all times regardless of the rate of speed that you are driving.

Giving Enriches

Lesson for December 1, 1963

Bible Material: II Corinthians 8 through 9. Devotional Reading: II Corinthians 8:9-15.

READERS OF the book of Acts will remember the interesting financial experiment that was carried on there in the early days after Pentecost. All possessions were placed in a common fund and were distributed to all, in proportion to their needs. As an expression of unselfish Christian love, this was admirable. As a permanent way of life, it was bound to fail, because while the plan managed distribution very well, it made no provision for production. So when the pooled gifts were all used up, there was nothing left but starvation—unless someone came to their rescue.

Offering for the saints

This was where the Corinthian church came in. Paul knew that there were serious differences between East and West in the church of that time, and knew also that one cure for this would be for the wealthier churches to help the poorer ones. He called this the "offering for the saints," meaning the Christians in Jerusalem. (He speaks of this offering also in Romans 15:25-33.) Now Paul speaks about this in an unusual way. Most people, if asked, "What good will this offering do?" will begin to tell you what good it will do those that are to receive it. Paul on the contrary speaks most enthusiastically about what the offering will do for those who give it. There is nothing here suggesting the spirit of some money-raiser: "Well, I know money is an unpleasant subject, and I hate to pass the hat. But this congregation has been given this quota by the Bishop and we've just got to pay our share if it kills us. Besides, remember that every dollar you give means a dollar more in deductions when you pay your income tax. So folks, give till it hurts!"

Give till it doesn't hurt

Paul on the contrary speaks of the happiness of the givers. Note his many expressions all to the same point: "reap bountifully . . . a cheerful giver (the Greek word means hilarious, gay) . . . every blessing in abundance . . . abundance for every good work . . . multiply your resources . . . enriched in every way . . . service to God . . . the surpassing grace of God in you." (And these are not all.) Now Paul does not promise these people that after they have given to the distressed brothers in Jerusalem, their salaries are going to be raised, or that they will find hidden treasure in a field. He does not promise them any money advantage or benefit whatever. If he did, then giving would not be giving; it would be only another financial investment. Invest in bonds, invest in charity, what's the difference? That is not Paul's view at all. This giving is a way of translating money (which is not spiritual at all, and in fact a great temptation) into spiritual blessings. Givers, he says in effect, will be happier and better people afterwards. (Not that Paul thought of this as one once-in-a-lifetime spasm of generosity! It was rather a habit he hoped they would form.)

Spiritual blessings

Now the kind of happiness and satisfaction of which Paul speaks is not to be recognized by just any one. If, to your mind, nothing is real except what can be eaten, drunk or sold for cash, then of course such things as happiness and the grace of God are just words. But if you know how real the joy of serving God is, you can experience the joys of generosity.

Now some one may complain that all this is a little hazy. How can you prove to me, beforehand, that God will bless me if I am generous? And how can I prove to any one that God has blessed me? The answer to that objection is two answers, really. One is that you can't demonstrate beforehand that you will be a happier and better person as your generosity—by contagion from Christ's own outflowing heart—increases through a lifetime. You have to find that out for yourself. And as for laying out spiritual blessings for others to look at, as you might display a collection of coins, we must remember what Jesus said: "When you give alms, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, so that your alms may be in secret." (Matt. 6:3-4.) Pride in giving spoils it all.

HOW TO HIT A FLYING TARGET

Shotgun shooting has become an all-year sport—hunting game in season and breaking clay targets the rest of the time. Chief reason for failing to hit flying targets is stopping the muzzle of the gun. This can be overcome easily by training and practice.

To get hits consistently, keep the gun moving, swing past target, pulling the trigger as you do so, and continue swinging in a follow through motion after you've touched off the shot.

Anticipated shotgun recoil and actual kick can also handicap the shooter. Apparent recoil has been reduced by 40 to 50 percent in the new gas operated Remington Model 1100 automatic. It is now easier for any shooter—novice or expert—to shoot better.

THE HIGH ROAD

Looking 20 Years Ahead

Historically, too many construction projects have been "too late and too little." Many new roads are overcrowded almost as soon as they are opened.

In developing the concept of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways, State and Federal officials resolved to build this backbone system to standards high enough to be adequate for the traffic of tomorrow. The controlled access feature of the Interstate System—which provides for entry and exit only at carefully selected interchange sites—is a built-in safeguard against early obsolescence, since it prevents the kind of traffic paralysis that results when a through highway is bordered by strings of service stations, motels and other roadside establishments.

However, even a controlled access highway will become congested, less efficient and less safe when it is required to carry more traffic than it was designed to carry. The design engineer's problem is to allow for estimated traffic growth by providing a reasonable reserve capacity but, at the same time, to hold costs to the minimum compatible with good service.

Traffic forecasts—based on estimates of population growth, industrial activity and land use—are reasonably accurate for periods up to about 20 years. It is practical and economical, therefore, to design new highway facilities to be fully adequate for the types and volumes of traffic anticipated 20 years from now.

Back in 1956, when Congress enacted legislation setting up a firm program for the completion of the 41,000-mile Interstate System, provision was made to design Interstate projects to be fully adequate to accommodate the types and volumes of traffic anticipated in the year 1975. Now, however, experts in traffic forecasting can look beyond 1975 and can see that some segments of the Interstate System designed for 1975 traffic will not be fully adequate for 1980 traffic.

The 1963 Highway Act, just passed by Congress, remedies this difficulty by providing that Interstate System projects shall be designed to be fully adequate to a date 20 years from the final approval of plans, specifications and estimates.

With proper maintenance, the roads will actually render superior service to the motoring public for a much longer period of time.

Shopping Scene

By Dorothy Owens Wright

The modern version of "Which came first, the chicken or the egg?" is this: Which came first, modern packaging methods or modern methods of food marketing? No matter what the answer, it's a fact that our national demand for convenience food products continues to grow and things like cans with pull-tab openings, foods you can boil right in the bag and new frozen prepared foods appear to meet the demand.

Speaking of convenience, Vanguard Toiletries for Men has introduced a clever item—individual packages of shaving lotion which fit into suitcases, briefcases, wallets or pockets. The sturdy foil packets contain enough lotion for one application.

Another convenient new item is Shelflex, an attractive shelf lining and edging material with built-in germ-fighting action. It's made from a flexible non-curling plastic that hugs the shelf without tacks or tape and treated with a special chemical that prevents bacteria growth despite repeated washings.

Have you ever served baked beans for breakfast? An American dietitian recently found baked beans, eggs and bacon on the breakfast menu of several large British hospitals.

Follow the "rule of eight" when buying eggs. If the price difference between medium and large eggs is more than eight cents a dozen, medium eggs are the better buy. If the difference is less than eight cents, large eggs are the better choice.

You will find much of the work gone from housework if you take advantage of the many new kitchen aids appearing in the shops. Doble, a helpful new scouring aid from Brillo, is knitted from Mylar plastic and never rusts, frays or scratches. It contains no soap, but speeds up cleaning of stoves, dishes and glassware, pots, upholstery and even auto windshields.

Both onions and potatoes were once considered to have magic medicinal powers. In the Middle Ages, women wore onions around their necks to insure vigor—and Newfoundlanders once carried baked potatoes around their necks in stockings to cure sore throats.

Those beliefs didn't stick with us, but preferences in meat cuts and varieties do, says the Cooperative Extension Service. By and large, Americans prefer the same things their grandparents did. For example, New Orleans families eat five times as much veal as Wisconsinites and almost all the national output of sweetbreads is eaten in New York City and Los Angeles.

For delightful variety, try "epicurean shrimp", a delicious combination of shrimp and rice. Make the tempting sauce by adding water and white wine to Schilling's veal scallopini sauce. The complete recipe is on the package, along with a recipe for a flavorful oven chicken casserole—and a scallopini recipe, of course.

To coax new life into your African violets, re-pot them in Peat-Pac, an all-purpose potting soil that works wonders with all indoor plants by maintaining proper moisture balance.

The Sandwich Becomes the Main Course

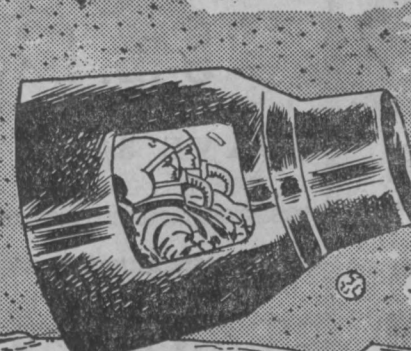

Tantalize the palate at any lunch, supper, dinner or buffet with this tasty Ham-Cranberry Sandwich. It's sure to be a hit with thick slices of ham, topped with a tangy cranberry sauce and creamy smooth mayonnaise-horseradish dressing. It's ideal for after-party snacks, too! So simple to make and colorful too!

HAM-CRANBERRY SANDWICH

12 slices "boiled" ham
6 slices white bread
Butter or margarine
Lettuce leaves
¾ cup whole cranberry sauce
6 teaspoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
Toast bread slices on both sides. Spread with butter or margarine. Top with lettuce leaf, 2 slices ham and 2 tablespoons cranberry sauce. Combine mayonnaise or salad dressing and horseradish. Top cranberry sauce with 1 teaspoon mayonnaise mixture. 6 sandwiches.

Facts, Fads and Fancies

SPACE TRAVEL

FACT
Outer space contains no air for man to breathe; insufficient gas to balance pressures in the human body. No food or water awaits the astronaut on the moon . . . but space scientists have arranged for all these life sustaining needs to be transported to outer space with our astronauts.

FAD
Professors taught basic rocketry principles long before the Space Age with the "Balloon Demonstration." Try it yourself! Blow up a balloon (but don't tie the end) . . . release it . . . and watch its rear exhaust action propel it forward.

FACT
Space flights have spawned many adult rocketry clubs, wonderful outdoor activities spiced with informative sessions after launchings. Just a few pennies more provides Four Roses—the drink that makes everything A-OK!

FANCY
The more we learn of outer space, the more amazed we become at the remarkable insight of Jules Verne. Writing at the turn of the century, the space ships, rockets and satellites he fancied have become hard facts.

FLU FACTS

ALTHOUGH THE TERM "INFLUENZA" WAS NOT IN USAGE IN THE EARLY COLONIES, IT IS QUITE PROBABLE THAT IT WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR AS MANY DEATHS AS SMALLPOX, SCURVY AND OTHER DISEASES KNOWN AT THAT TIME.

THE PANDEMIC OF 1918 WAS PERHAPS THE MOST THOROUGHLY STUDIED AND DOCUMENTED MAJOR EPIDEMIC IN AMERICAN HISTORY.

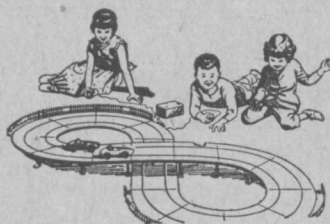

PROTECT YOURSELF

- ASK YOUR DOCTOR ABOUT FLU SHOTS. KEEP UP YOUR RESISTANCE.
- AVOID CONTAGION BY—
 - a. FRESH AIR IN THE HOME.
 - b. CLEANLINESS.
 - c. DIXIE CUPS IN THE BATHROOM.
 - d. USING SEPARATE TOWELS.

The flu pandemic of 1918 caused an estimated 20 to 40 million deaths. Carried into New York from crowded European ports, the city itself escaped with a smaller number of deaths in proportion to other cities over the country to which it rapidly spread.
