Special Meeting

On Tuesday afternoon and evening, a special meeting of the Mayor and Councilmen was held with representatives Millon and Baker of the Maryland Municipal Technical Advisory Service, University of Maryland, in regards to water and sewer problems arising out of a proposed residential development. This development, which is already on the drawing board, has a potential of 48 homes. All streets and lots have been laid off and plans are now underway for water and sewer for this area. A Sanitary Sewer Pumping Station will be required. All surveys and/or studies concerning annexation, water, sewer and street improvements for this area will be provided free of charge by this Bureau of Governmental Research Agency. This plot of land lies between Roberts Mill Road and East Baltimore Street fronting on Baumgardner Avenue and is owned by the Baumgardner Brothers.

Mr. Millon and Mr. Baker reported that the codification of all town ordinances is proceeding without delay. An Index of Ordinances along with a Proposed Code of Ordinances was left with us for study. Ordinance 1 was passed on June 15, 1885, and Ordinance 190 on June 24, 1963. This Agency has been quite helpful to the Mayor and Council of Taneytown these past few years.

Dr. Teeter to Speak at Piney Creek Church of the Brethren

He is presently a surgeon at the Waynesboro Hospital in Waynesboro, Penna., where he and his family also reside. Included in his many medical activities, is Dr. Teeter's membership in the Christian Doctors' Association.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service at the Piney Creek Church on Sunday evening.

JAYCEES TO SELL CHRISTMAS TREES

The Taneytown Junior Chamber of Commerce will sell Christmas Trees again this year to raise money for their Christmas Community activities. Trees will be cut this weekend and will go on sale immediately. The main lot will be at the rear of Harman's Cities Service Station with Bair's Grocery and Dougherty's Super Thrift also handling trees for the convenience of the public.

Trees this year will include White Pine, Scotch Pine and Spruce. All Jaycee members are urged to help with the cutting, transporting and arranging of the trees this week-end. The Jaycees will be furnishing hot coffee and refreshments to the workers.

Projects supported by the annual tree sale include donations each year to the town for improvement and expansion of the Christmas street lighting, the Santa Claus House, Santa, and treats for the kiddies.

Post Office Advises on Christmas Mailings

Last week rural mail carriers delivered suggestions to rural patrons concerning preparation of Christmas mails together with several pre-printed labels reading, "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out of Town Delivery." Postmaster George Fream urges all patrons to use these labels again this year when preparing a quantity of greeting cards for mailing. Packs of cards and letters prepared in this manner particularly during Christmas when mail is extremely heavy, helps tremendously to reduce the time involved in handling and separation at the post office, and thereby permits a much more speedier dispatch to get them on their way to their destination. These labels are also available at the post office without charge.

The splendid cooperation among postal patrons in previous years during the holiday season has aided materially in the prompt movement and delivery of the Christmas mails to all parts of the world. This fine spirit of cooperativeness is again solicited this Christmas season by your local postal staff.

The Post Office Department anticipates a record volume of 12 billion pieces of mail to enter the postal stream during December, and it is the ultimate goal of the department to deliver every single piece of Christmas mail this year prior to Christmas day. We are hopeful that this goal will be achieved without difficulty.

The importance of using legible, accurate and complete addresses on cards and parcels cannot be over-emphasized. Each Christmas thousands and thousands of greeting cards and parcels cannot be delivered due to the fault of the sender in supplying an illegible, or incorrect or inadequate address. This results not only in non-delivery of your cards, but also the cost of the cards and postage has been wasted. Postmaster Fream offers the following suggestion if you are not certain of the address of your once-a-year correspondents. "Be sure to include your return address and send it first-class (5¢ rate). If the person to whom the card is addressed has moved, it will be forwarded to his new address. Should the card be undeliverable, it will be returned to you without additional charge." Greeting cards mailed at the third-class (4¢ rate) are not forwardable nor returnable.

With a reasonable amount of effort and care in preparing your Christmas mail, everyone concerned can enjoy a happier and merrier Christmas.

The local post office will extend additional hours of window service on Saturday afternoons Dec. 14 and 21 for the sale of stamps and acceptance of parcel post. There will be no mail delivery on Christmas Day except Special Delivery mail or gift parcels containing perishable matter.

QUARTET TO GIVE CONCERT

The overwhelming success of the COURTIERS can be attributed to their sincere dedicated approach to the spreading of the gospel.

MAYOR OF WESTMINSTER DIES

Joseph L. Mathias, 79, mayor of Westminster, president of the Westminster Trust Co. and founder and senior partner of Joseph L. Mathias and sons died Tuesday, December 3, at the University of Maryland Hospital, Baltimore.

He had been active in his business interests until several days ago.

Mr. Mathias has been mayor of Westminster since 1942, and prior to that time had served his city as City Councilman and council president for 10 years. During his long association with the city government, many improvements and facilities such as the playground, sewage system, parking lots and municipal building were developed and completed.

President of the Westminster Trust Co. since 1943, and a member of its board of directors for 42 years, he had been instrumental in the bank's development since its reorganization in 1933.

He had been engaged in the monument business since 1900 and had established his own business in Westminster in 1906. He had been called "one of the two patriarchs among the memorialists of America" by the industries trade journals, and his firm had been known as one of the country's outstanding memorial builders and had been the winner of many national awards from the monument industry's professional association. His three sons had been associated with him in the operation of the business for many years, and since 1952, the firm has been known as Joseph L. Mathias and Sons.

He was a son of the late Leander and Ellen Burgoon Mathias, descendants of families who were among the first settlers of the present Myers District of Carroll County. His wife, the former Minnie S. Kale, Hanover, died October 27, 1956. He is survived by three sons, Joseph L., Jr., F. Kale and William M., all of Westminster; seven grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Charles Frock, Littlestown, and a number of nieces and nephews.

He was a charter member and past president of the Westminster Rotary Club; charter member of the Chamber of Commerce; president of the Monument Builders Association; member of several fraternal organizations; president of the Westminster Cemetery Co. and director of many governmental boards.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Friday) at his residence at 9:30 A. M., followed by a Requiem Mass at 10:00 o'clock at St. John's Catholic Church. The Rev. Stephen Melycher will be the celebrant. Burial will be in the Westminster Cemetery.

LOCAL GOP HONORS LATE PRESIDENT

The Taneytown Federation of Republican Women held a memorial service, conducted by President Doris Harner, for the late President John F. Kennedy during their meeting in Taney Inn, Tuesday, Dec. 2, 1963. The club goes on record in stating the following resolution for the late President:

"John Fitzgerald Kennedy gave up his life November 22 for his country. The tragedy that struck down our President represented everything that America is against and against which all Americans should be united. We are Americans and this is a time of sorrow for all of us.

"Our sympathy goes out to Mrs. Kennedy and her two children and the Kennedy family. Our prayers are for President Lyndon Johnson as he assumes the duties of the President of the United States."

The service ended by the group standing in a minute of silent prayer. During the short business meeting the following officers for 1964 were installed by Honorary Member Thomas Albaugh: president, Mrs. Hewitt MacPherson; vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Baumgardner; recording secretary, Mrs. Gladys Nusbaum; treasurer, Mrs. Doris Harner, and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Shirley King.

A group of 4-H girls from various sections of the County, accompanied by Mrs. Pauline Stabler, assistant home demonstration agent of Carroll County, presented a Christmas decorations demonstration.

Using Kleenex and construction paper, one made a Christmas tree. Another turned a dust pan and greens into a beautiful back door arrangement. The Christmas wreaths, made of dried pods, nuts and greens, and the Madonna and a picture frame with greens mounted on a board, were perhaps the most outstanding of their projects. All were simple and easy for inexperienced arrangers to adapt.

The girls worked in true 4-H style commenting and giving helpful hints on their project as they worked.

Refreshments were served by Mr. Thomas Albaugh.

MY P.T.A. MEMBERSHIP

I believe in the P.T.A. because for the past several years it has accepted my membership without ballot; without condemning my religious beliefs or trying to change them; without inquiring into my past or delving into my future.

It does not ask for a full purse, nor does it require affiliation with or dependence upon any other organization; yet it has grown rapidly through good times and bad.

Nothing but my conscience can deny me membership, and any good I may offer is eagerly accepted and returned tenfold.

"When the bread won't rise now, it's time to repair the toaster." — Lloyd S. Waters, Mountain Home (Idaho) News.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer.
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

The day is Monday, November 25th, 1963 — as I sit here facing the TV at 10:30 A. M. as our Beloved President's Body is being carried from the Capitol Building to the awaiting Caisson by the men in uniform of each branch of the service.

I did not wait until his death to let my Readers know how much I loved him which I had stated in a Column not so long ago "that President Kennedy was wrapping himself around this heart of mine!"

There has never been a more precious "First Lady!" Plus a wonderful Mother and much else. How brave she has been through it all!

About eight months ago, I had a terrible presentiment that our President would be shot and Johnson would take over at the home of a number of friends! They met me early Friday evening and looked at me, saying, "Remember what you said?" Since I was a tiny girl I have had these presentiments and I often wish that I did not as it upsets me terribly.

Why oh-why must a President go around to other states and try to sell himself for a second term? Especially into those states which do not agree with all the policies.

The day is a cold and windy one and there are crowds lined at the curbs watching the sorrowful procession. The Attorney General, Robert Kennedy has never left the side of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy throughout the awful ordeal!

And now the Uniformed men are following close by the 7 white horse caisson with the flag draped casket with another lone horse named, "Black Jack," which is so highly spirited and full of energy — a living symbol! Now, this final trip up Pennsylvania Avenue with the sad sound of the drums. The cameras are turned to the many weeping women and men as they give one last look at the casket — "The Farewell!" The church bells toll and now the sound of the Bag Pipes. The long walk up Connecticut Avenue to St. Matthews Cathedral. Never were there so many dignitaries which represented FIFTY-THREE countries in the United States! President and Mrs. Johnson are walking just behind Mrs. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy holding the hands of her two little children now mounts the steps and Cardinal Cushing is right there to meet them. They walk to the front pew and dear little Caroline is very nervous. Little John seems bewildered. Such a sad sight for children to witness! (But as a Mother Superior stated to me one time, "That is part of life!") The organ plays and one voice is heard singing. The casket has been unstrapped and is slowly slid out from the Caisson, carrying the dear body into the church—for the last Rites of The Catholic Church. Cardinal Cushing lifts the flag a number of times during the service and kisses the casket! He blesses the body with Holy Water a number of times, and then "Ava Maria" is being sung by the same man who sang at their wedding! Then the final prayer for this servant of God and the Mass is completed! I never saw any funeral service so beautiful and sacred!

And all this while my dear little Bobby is sitting on the hassock by my side grieving because I am crying and sobbing as he continues to paw me as I write!

"May The Angels Take You Into Paradise" is the final Hymn of the Mass and the Cardinal walks slowly to Mrs. Kennedy whispering a few words of love and encouragement!

The tolling of the bells continue as the 1200 guests leave the Cathedral for the last ride across the Potomac to the Arlington Cemetery. One big thing which will always be remembered by everyone was right after the Inauguration President Eisenhower called in former President Eisenhower and President Truman to consult with them about important matters which no other President had ever done! So you and you see the bigness of this man — our President who has left us here on earth!

There are nine Secret Service men beside the car of President Johnson as the procession drives on. The drums beat again over the Potomac Bridge it goes to the last resting place. They arrive at the spot and "The Star Spangled Banner" is being played. The planes are flying overhead in beautiful formation. The flag is being removed by the Service men and held firmly in their hands across the casket as Cardinal Cushing prays. The salute of the guns is heard and finally, "Taps!" Mrs. Kennedy is now at the casket once again and the folded flag is handed to her. The candle she lights which will be eternal at her request! President Johnson wipes away the tears!

And now our late President JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY belongs to the Ages! What a few days can bring! This time last week, he was here with us!

Love one another, Folks for we know not from day to day what it may bring forth!

Until next week, D. V.

I am, Faithfully,

FACTS AND OPINIONS

John D. Morris writes in the New York Times: "Administration leaders have all but abandoned hope for Senate action this session on tax reduction and civil rights. They are now conceding the probability that both bills which share first place on the late President Kennedy's list of legislative priorities, will still be among the unfinished business of Congress on Jan. 3, the statutory deadline for adjournment. . . all signs indicate that both will be enacted in the next session. However, the outlook for the two bills does raise the possibility that the first session of the 88th Congress, while setting a peacetime record for longevity, will be classified as one of the least productive sessions in modern history."

A publication of the Standard Oil Company of California points out that the "automobile population is growing faster than people. There will be about 4.2 million people born this year in this country, but during the record 1963 model year more than 7.3 million automobiles were produced. And by 1975, it is forecast, production of 8 million cars a year will be common. However, the automobile, happily, dies faster than man. Estimates say that about 5 million vehicles will be scrapped this year, as compared with 1.7 million human deaths."

Financial columnist Sylvia Porter says: "We now have the first solid dollars-and-cents signal that the current 33-month-old business upturn will continue well into 1964. The signal lies in this one fact: American businessmen already plan a 4 per cent hike in their spending on new plants and equipment in 1964 to a record dollar amount of $40.7 billion."

Between January 1 and October 30, 1963, investor-owned electric utilities reduced rates a total of $33,802,100—a sum three times greater than rate increases over the same period. Forty companies reduced rates while nine increased them.

A quotation from Abraham Lincoln: "Every man is said to have his peculiar ambition. Whether it be true or not, I can say for one, that I have no other so great as that of being truly esteemed by my fellow men."

The Portland, Oregon, Traffic Safety Commission warns that many lives are tragically lost each winter as the result of undetected carbon monoxide fumes in an automobile. To avoid a lethal concentration of this odorless and colorless gas, never start a car motor with the garage doors closed—always have at least one window open part way when the car is in use—and have the exhaust system checked regularly by a competent mechanic.

The American Medical Association has pledged its support in implementing the nation's new program to fight mental illness and mental retardation. The new legislation, as enacted by Congress, closely follows the principles first advocated by the AMA in its mental health program announced in the summer of 1962. The bill calls for $150 million for the construction of community health centers over the next three years; $126 million over four years to be spent on research and treatment centers for mental retardation and the mentally retarded; and $53 million for training teachers of the mentally retarded and other handicapped children.

Of every three of the nation's youths, one drops out of school before graduation from high school.

That results in a tragic and significant contribution to the unemployment total—jobs nowadays usually require a high school education at the minimum.

It pays to feed heifers, dry cows the Purina Way!

Grain feeding of heifers and dry cows is an accepted practice by leading dairymen here in the East. They do it to make more milk . . . and more money. Many report 1,000 pounds more milk during the next lactation when a dry cow is properly conditioned on Purina D & F Chow. You feed it according to body weight . . . a thousand-pound cow, for example, needs only 10 pounds a day. Purina D & F—full name, Dry and Freshening Chow—is specially designed to help build body condition, which later converts to low-cost milk. You'll find D & F in coarse or pellet form, whichever fits your feeding situation best.

Either way, it's one of the smartest feed buys on the market today. Ask for it by name—"Purina D & F"—at our Store with the Checkerboard Sign.

WHEN BARBARA STREISAND stood up to sing Miss Marmelstein in Broadway's "I Can Get It for you Wholesale," she suddenly became the theatrical season's most exciting personality. On her career, Miss Streisand states, "I'm a great singer; I always knew I could sing. I think I'm a great actress. But both of these things, they're all part of the same thing. A great actress rides on emotion, she makes people feel the emotion behind the lines; a great singer does the same. You have to act to be a good singer. There's no trick in getting up in front of an audience and closing your eyes and singing. That's easy. But to get up there and keep your eyes open and look at your audience and make them feel what you want them to—that's hard." As for the future, Barbara exclaims, "I want to be famous. I don't care whether it's by singing or acting or what, I want everybody to know my name, even the cowboys!"

Morton M. Hunt, noted authority on women and author of "Her Infinite Variety: The American Woman as Lover, Mate and Rival," urges teen girls to believe in themselves as many-sided human beings. He states that the world women are living in has made it so and has been teaching them to be many-sided persons, creatures with multiple talents and good educations, women with the desire to do many things in addition to—but not instead of—the standard female things women did in most of the past. "Modern man wants his wife to be not just his housekeeper and the mother of his children, but also his playmate, his companion, his mistress, his best friend, his wisest adviser. In short, he wants her to be all things to him—a large order, but one with a great potential for happiness."

Julie Harris, star of stage, screen and television, made her Broadway debut in Curt Goetz's "It's a Gift" in 1945. Shy, unskilled and unable to take direction, she nearly lost the role in Goetz's play, which inspired a New York critic to say that "the young lady showed promise." The road to stardom was difficult and many of her roles seemed to be too much for her, but she managed to stay in the theater, learning something new with each role. Today Miss Harris states, "I hope I will always find excitement in the unattainable and try to attain it. For only through trying can I learn, and give my heart and mind a chance to grow. Pierre Auguste Renoir is a great and beautiful painter whose pictures show us the joy of living, and he said on the last day of his life, 'I think I am beginning to understand. Today I learned something!'"

UNIONTOWN . . . The M. P. church was rededicated on last Sunday, free of debt. The repairs, new carpet, new windows and furnace cost over $900, but the obligations were fully met before the reopening. . . . On Wednesday afternoon, our schools gave a very interesting Thanksgiving entertainment. The teachers, Miss Beryl Erb and H. B. Fogle, seem to be very faithful in training the children. . . . Ernest Troxell moved to his property lately purchased at this place on Monday. William Slonaker moved the same day and will be more convenient to his barber shop in the Stuller building.

HARNEY . . . Noah Frounfelter, 66, who has been suffering several years from cancer, died on Tuesday morning. Funeral services were conducted on Thursday morning at the house by Rev. Stockslager, after which the remains were taken to Winter's Church for interment. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Cleve Stambaugh and one son, Joseph Frounfelter. . . . The members of the U. ## Hi-Fi Tape Player For Automobile

CHICAGO, ILL. — A new concept in automobile entertainment — high-fidelity music of their choice as they drive — is now available to motorists with the introduction of the Orr-Tronic AutoMate Tape Player by J. Herbert Orr Enterprises, Inc., Opelika, Alabama.

According to Mr. Leroy Paul, executive vice-president, the AutoMate is easily and quickly installed in any automobile equipped with a 12-volt battery. Suspended below the dash or anchored on the transmission hump, it operates through the car radio, thus providing high quality amplification and speaker system with minimal expenditure. Radio reception is shut off when the switch is turned to "Tape". When the switch is returned to "Radio", the tape player is automatically turned off and the radio plays as usual.

The motorist merely inserts a plastic tape cartridge which contains high-fidelity pre-recorded tape protected against dust, dirt or finger prints. Each tape cartridge, recorded in two hands and controlled by a "Track" selection switch, plays for a half hour or full hour and repeats continuously until a selection is inserted or the player is turned off. There is no need to re-thread or re-wind reels as you drive. There are no interruptions, no commercials. Static is non-existent; just pure high-fidelity music as desired. An extensive program library including more than 350 albums are available.

In addition, the AutoMate is expected to be widely used for learning while driving. Presently available on tape cartridges are courses in self-improvement, bible studies, literature and other subjects. There is even a wide selection of children's stories to help pass their time while on the road.

"The AutoMate is a quality instrument in every respect", said Mr. Paul. It has a frequency response of 50 to 10,000 cycles; wow and flutter characteristics of .25% and noise level is minus 35 decibels. It is housed in an attractive 2-color aluminum case 9-3/4" x 8-1/4" and weighs approximately 7 1/2 pounds.

AutoMate is suitable also for marine use. It can be used successfully on boats where the electrical supply is 12-volts negative ground. If there is no radio aboard, a separate amplifying speaker can be used.

The unit sells for a little over one hundred dollars, plus installation charges depending on make and model of car. It is now being marketed through new car and marine equipment dealers.

Versatile Carousel Rotisserie

Newest of the new is Sunbeam's unique Carousel Rotisserie Broiler, which is ideal for daily use in the kitchen or patio. It can cook a variety of meats or seafoods, quick as a wink and can turn out hot dogs for the teen-age sock hop on a moment's notice. . . . No bigger than a dinner plate, this new product can cook an 8-lb. roast to a tasty turn in notime flat, will broil two chickens at once, or cook a 7-lb. ham, six lobster tails or a taste-tempting leg of lamb. Demonstrating the principle of covered heat cooking, this vertical broiler-roaster has a spit that turns continuously during cooking to expose it to the infra-red element.

A good example of the world of cooking satisfaction the Carousel promises to today's modern homemaker is reflected in the following favorite recipe:

WINE BASTED RUMP ROAST

Serves: 6 to 10

- |  |                                   |
|--|-----------------------------------|
| 4 to 8 pound sirloin tip or rump roast | 1/2 teaspoon herb blend for meats |
| 1/2 cup red wine                       | 1 small onion                     |
| 1/2 cup water                          | 1 clove garlic                    |
| 1/2 teaspoon celery seed               |                                   |

The roast if not already done. Sprinkle on all sides with salt or seasoned salt and pepper, rubbing into surface. Center roast on spit, placing thicker part at the bottom. Seat spit on drip tray. Insert meat thermometer into center, avoiding spit. Combine remaining ingredients in blender and blend on low speed until finely chopped. If you do not have a blender, chop onion and garlic fine. Pour mixture into drip tray. Cover rotisserie. Roast, basting 3 times with mixture in drip tray. Roast to desired doneness. Remove roast from spit to heated platter. Skim fat from drippings and take drip tray to range for making gravy. Add 1/3 cup red wine and enough water to make desired amount of gravy. Bring to a boil. Thicken with flour and water stirred to smooth paste. Season further, if desired. Whipped potatoes, green peas and mushrooms, tomato and cucumber salad would be delicious with this.

The annual White Gift Service was held at Keysville Lutheran Church on Monday evening by the Lutheran Church Women. A fine service was planned and carried through by the Christian Service Committee, and there was singing by the Key Octette and the Lutheran Men's Chorus as well as the hymns in which all joined. After the gift presentation, refreshments were served in the church basement by the Fellowship Committee. (This service is held as an open meeting and it is a shame—in the opinion of this reporter—that more do not attend for it is a lovely service and takes a lot of work by a number of women. Hope to see more next year.)

Latest news heard about Mrs. Charles (Hazel) Cluts of Riverdale Farm near Keysville, who is now a patient at Annie Warner Hospital in Gettysburg, is that her pneumonia has broken and her condition is listed as fair.

Just received a new address for Clay Hahn, who previously made his home with the Carroll Wilhide family as their hired man. After his stay in the hospital in Hagerstown, Clay went to the home of his cousin, Mrs. Emma Hildebride of LeGore. Now, however, Mrs. Hildebride is a patient at the Western Maryland Hospital in Hagerstown and Clay is at the Montevue Nursing Home, Route 7, Frederick. He can have visitors any day until 9 P. M. and I'm sure he would appreciate being remembered with cards. (So would Mrs. Hildebride.)

There sometimes wants only a stroke of fortune to discover numberless latent good or bad qualities, which would otherwise have been eternally concealed; as words written with a certain liquor appear only when applied to the fire.—Greville.

Don't be a cloud because you can't be a star.

DECEMBER

How swiftly the days of 1963 have slipped away! It seems incredible to me, as I am sure it does to many of you, that the last month of the year is already here. December's arrival was heralded by blustery winds, rain, and finally snow. This morning, December 1, the ground was solidly frozen, and ice splintered every puddle. Whether or not this winter will prove as severe as the last one remains to be seen. I, for one, devoutly hope not.

The weather may indeed be cold and blustery, but at this season of the year our hearts are warm and all aglow, as we prepare to observe and celebrate the birthday of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. The Gospel of Luke and Matthew tell us the age-old Christmas story of the Christ Child's Birth, and of the Adoration of the Shepherds and the Magi. What a sad and dreary world this would be if this Child had not been born! How much hope and love and light He has brought to those who believe in Him! "For God so loved the world, that He gave His Only Begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." These words of John 3:16 summarize for us the entire Christmas message, and are the key to our joy and happiness at this season of the year.

Yes, December is a joyful month indeed, as we find ourselves caught up in the pleasant hustle and bustle of Christmas preparation. Church choirs are hard at work rehearsing special music. Sunday School teachers and children are preparing for the annual pageant. Beautifully decorated stores are thronged with crowds of eager shoppers. The tantalizing aroma of spicy cookies and home-made fruit cake fills the air. Mysterious looking packages appear in strange places around the house, and there are many secret plans afoot. Tiny tots listen in wide-eyed wonder to, "The Night Before Christmas." They can hardly wait for that long expected visit from Santa!

This is a time for thinking about other people, especially those who are lonely, needy or unhappy. What a wonderful thing it would be if December's warm and unselfish spirit were continued on through every single month of the year.

—Zola Cantwell.

OTTO — In loving memory of my dear friend, Frank W. Otto, who passed away five years ago, December 8, 1958.

The sun and moon shine brightly
Upon a silent grave;
In it lies a dear one
I loved but could not save.
He bade no one a last farewell,
He said goodbye to none,
Your loving heart just ceased to beat
And suddenly you were gone.
They say time heals all sorrow,
And helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proved
How very much I miss him yet.
When the evening shades are falling
And I am sitting all alone
In my heart there comes a longing
If you only could come home.
So often my thoughts do wander
To your grave so far away
Where I laid you, dearest friend,
Five years ago today.

His devoted friend,
PEARL WALDECK.

POSTMASTERS SIGNAL START OF '63 YULE MAIL RUSH

The advent of December marked the start of one of the biggest races in town—the annual race against time at the local post offices as its Christmas mail rush went into high gear. Postmaster Sappington of Keymar noted this week.

New reports from Postmaster General John A. Gronowski in Washington to Miss Sappington indicate an anticipated nationwide record mail volume for this Christmas season of nearly 12 billion pieces during December.

"Shopping and mailing early benefits everyone," the postmaster observed. "Customers who buy early get the pick of the Christmas stocks; the local economy is aided by the business activity thus created, and everyone—including the postal service—is happy about the additional time that early mailing allows."

"Early mailing also gives us time to get gifts and cards in the hands of addressees in good condition with less chance of damage or delay due to human error."

Our employees need public help to run this race against time—and patrons of the local post offices can assist us by shopping and mailing right now and by using ZIP Code in both return and destination addresses, the postmaster pointed out.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports

Are you the kind of sports fan who goes into a mental "deep freeze" as soon as the last out is made in the World Series? Do you just barely exist until spring training begins again? Well, wake up! There are other sports around during the winter season.

Have you ever seen a hockey game? Now don't give me that, "I don't know a thing about it and don't care to" attitude. I was once of the same nature and thought of the sport as belonging to the Canadians and therefore uninteresting. Well I have had my eyes opened and now plan to see many more hockey games. I'm speaking of American League hockey as performed by the Baltimore Clippers. The sport isn't that hard to learn. I guarantee you with just one visit to the Civic Center you will become a follower of the game. There is plenty of action and never a dull moment. It's not like baseball where the game takes forever to play while the catcher and pitcher confer on every pitch or like football with all the timeouts. You'll find that there is action plenty and the thrills come fast and plentiful. So if you like some action to your favorite spectator sport then by all means see the Clippers in action soon.

It would be putting it mildly to say that the Kansas City Athletics have been making gambling trades in the last few weeks. They swung a five-player with the Detroit Tigers in which, among others, they shipped off Jerry Lumpe and got outfielder Rocky Colavito in return. Now they have traded again, shipping first baseman Norm Siebern to Baltimore for Jim Gentile.

The Athletics insist it is all part of a calculated move to increase their power for next year. That they have done. But whether they have improved their team is something else again. Let's put it this way: if they have notions of building a pennant contender they sure are starting in reverse. Colavito and Gentile are alike in many ways although Rocky is a right-handed hitter and Gentile is a left-handed. Both are free swingers and explosive. Both are fair in the field. Both are strong. But neither has impressed at any time in the past years as being the resourceful, versatile type of player who wins pennants, the kind of player like Tommy Davis was for the Dodgers this year or like Al Dark used to be for the Giants.

Colavito and Gentile, between them, are capable of hitting close to 100 home runs. And they will give Kansas City fans a good show next season. That seems to be about what the Kansas City front office has in mind when it made the two deals.

If there is one thing that makes big league baseball front offices nervous it is off-season activity by players which comes under the heading of strenuous. Football would be unthinkable and the owners probably would have it declared unconstitutional. Basketball is almost as bad, not quite, of course, but almost. Gene Conley has been giving various big league baseball teams a hard time of it for years in that area and now comes Dave Debusschere.

Dave pitched for the Chicago White Sox last season and had a record of three victories and four losses. That is something less than sensational but Dave, who is young and strong, is labeled a pitcher with a future. The Sox hoped that Dave would forego basketball this winter but he had ideas of his own about that and signed to play with the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association. A short while back, in a game with Philadelphia, Dave fell and fractured a leg. He was playing a great game at the time, according to all reports. He will have a cast on his leg for about three weeks and will be sidelined about four or five weeks.

The Pistons are unhappy about that. The White Sox consoled themselves with the thought that it could have been worse — it could have been his pitching arm. The Sox pointed out to Dave after the mishap that if he gave up basketball, things like this wouldn't happen. But the young star indicated that he will be back playing basketball as soon as he is physically able.

Remember When Dept. — The high scorer for the Clippers was Dave Creighton? It was last year and his total of 72 points ranked among the leaders in the American Hockey League.

Today's Sports Laugh — Ron Mix, San Diego Charger tackle, recently was asked by a teammate how he could both play and write about football. Mix answered: "I'm ambidextrous." The teammate wanted to know what that meant. Mix replied: "It means I can run with both feet."

— John Breth.

Don't cuss the climate. It probably doesn't like you any better than you like it. — Don Marquis.

"KNOW YOUR HOSPITAL"

ARTICLE NO. 3

THE X-RAY DEPARTMENT

By Joseph R. McFerron

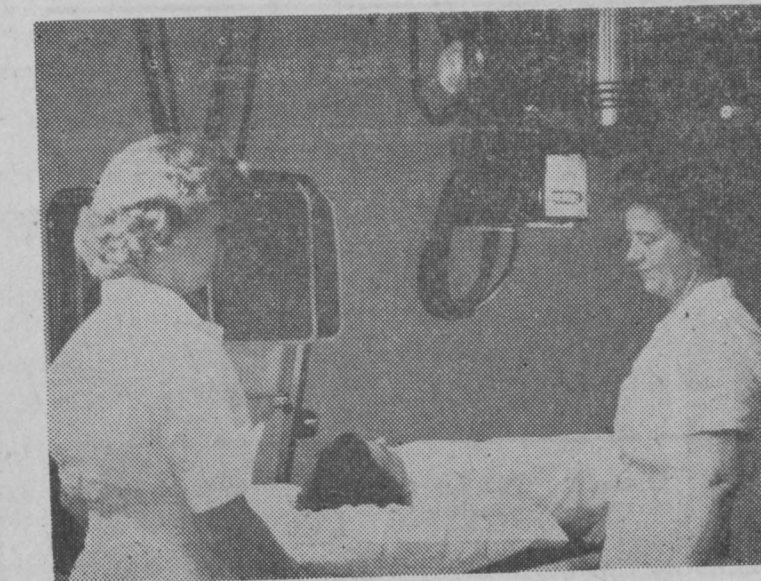

The X-Ray or Radiology or Roentgenology Department of Carroll County General Hospital is unusual primarily due to its strategic location within the building. It is located near the emergency room, the operating rooms, and the patient area for better service. This location is unusual because most X-Ray Departments in older hospitals have been located in the basement or a place far removed from the areas they serve.

Few people realize that the walls of the X-Ray Department are lined with LEAD to stop radiation and that every person working near the X-Ray machines wears a special film badge which measures the amount of radiation to which they have been exposed. Only the Radiologist, a doctor of medicine with special additional training, and the x-ray technicians are permitted to operate the x-ray equipment. Precautions are taken so that those people who work around x-ray equipment every day of the year do not receive a dangerous exposure. Also, our x-ray equipment is examined periodically by inspectors from the Maryland State Health Department who confirm that all safety precautions regarding radiation are being observed.

The Radiology Department in Carroll County General Hospital consists of two Radiographic (x-ray) rooms, with a processing and dark room in between to develop and dry the films. Since Carroll County General Hospital does almost all the x-ray work for the area, five dressing rooms are provided for out-patients who are not patients in the hospital. The Department also has two offices, one for the secretarial work and one for the Radiologist.

gist which has view boxes mounted on the wall. Besides the two large x-ray machines in the Department, we have two portable x-ray machines for taking x-rays of patients too ill to be transported to the x-ray department or those patients in surgery.

As I have reported in previous articles, no work is performed by the hospital unless your doctor orders the work done. This is true in the X-Ray Department even though the Radiologist is a Doctor of Medicine. All x-ray studies are done under the supervision of the Radiologist and taken by registered x-ray technicians.

Since accidents may happen at any hour, day or night, the X-Ray Department operates a call system for evenings and nights. This system provides x-ray service for you when you need it regardless of the hour, and the x-ray technician is in the hospital within ten minutes after being called.

Automobile and truck operators in our small communities are often faced with two extremes in driving conditions. Here at home folks drive in a more leisurely fashion.

Driving to and from other nearby communities, drivers must always be aware of the narrow roads, sharp turns, hills, and the constant threat of not being able to see pending dangers.

However, when deciding to take a trip to a distant city, via the thruways, duals, and turnpikes, and other limited access highway systems, our local motorists face many dangers not apparent here at home. Travel on these highways generally is at a much greater rate of speed. Coupled with driving fatigue, carelessness, and inattentiveness, speeds on the modern highways can become a real killer in a matter of seconds.

Many drivers who are unaccustomed to driving regularly on turnpikes are not experienced when it comes to making decisions at speeds of 60 to 65 mph. Others take safe driving conditions for granted, and are often lulled into a state of fatigue or drowsiness because of the monotony of the highway.

Shift your eyes frequently so that your attention does not become focused in one particular spot for long periods of time. Remember at 60 miles per hour, you move up very rapidly on a slower vehicle. To compensate for this, you must allow sufficient time and space if you wish to overtake the vehicle in front of you.

Basically, alertness in driving is the keystone of safe driving. I wish to caution all drivers to stay alert at all times regardless of the rate of speed that you are driving.

Praised By God

Lesson for December 8, 1963

Bible Material: Acts 9:10-25; II Corinthians 10 through 13.
Devotional Reading: II Corinthians 12:6-10.

EVEN THE most conceited person is not satisfied with his own opinion of himself. We all like to be liked. There is nothing wrong about praise, nothing about the pleasure there is in being praised. A danger lurks here, to be sure. It is all too easy to take flattery for sincere commendation. It is easy to forget that, for the most part, "praise is like perfume, meant to be smelt, not to be swallowed."

Dr. Foreman Nevertheless it is disheartening to work hard without a word of praise—to give the best one has to a piece of work only to find that nobody cares about it one way or the other. At this point we should ask ourselves: Am I making life's burden heavier for some one just by keeping my mouth shut? Am I too tight about saying a good word for others? Could a word from me be the very thing to keep someone out of despair?

Commending myself

Nobody loves a braggart. Great and good men have sometimes been called on to defend what they have done, and so in simply recounting what they have been doing and accomplishing, they may give the impression of bragging. Even Jesus and Paul ran into this. Jesus made it quite clear that he did not mean to praise himself, and so it was with Paul. The Apostle mixes with his own story, as he told it, a good many apologies for sounding like a boaster. He leaned over backwards to keep from commending himself. It is easy to see why I am not the best judge of my own actions. I am always prejudiced in my own favor—that is an almost universal human weakness. So my good opinion of myself doesn't count. True, I have to live with myself, and I do need a good conscience (and Paul expressed this at various times); but if the only good opinion of me is my own, I'd better stop and think about myself all over again.

Praise from others

Consider the important part played by praise, sincere commendation, in the lives of most people. Little children hear it from their mothers and are the better for it. They learn to walk and talk because some one gives them a smile and a "big hand" for those first little efforts at toddling or prattling. Children at school like to come home with a good report card. They may be much more interested in what mom or dad think of that card than in what the teacher thought. A good home, it has been said, is a mutual admiration society. Especially, falling in love brings this out. The praise of the loved one is exaggerated; each may love the other for qualities that aren't really there. Yet love is such a miracle worker that the praise of a loved one may bring out qualities and graces which, without that praise, might never have been awakened.

Recommended by God

You won't get any argument on the proposition: The commendation of God himself is more than worth all that a man can say of himself or his friends can say about him. Where the argument starts, is on how we can know it is God's commendation. Again Jesus and his disciple Paul have much the same answer. By their fruits you shall know them, said Jesus. God does not have to send down a horticultural angel to tack a label on a tree: THIS IS A FIG TREE. (Signed: The Almighty.) No, if it bears figs and the figs are good, you don't need to have God's recommendation spelled out. The tree speaks for itself, by its fruit. In the same vein, Paul, in defending himself from his numerous critics, points to what he has been doing and how he has been doing it, as evidence that God has approved him and his work. If the question still haunts anyone, What does God in his infinite wisdom think of me? one straight answer is: Are you doing the kind of things Jesus did? God's main work in this world is to draw men to himself. Does your life, what you are and do, bring others a bit closer to God? Are you making God credible?

THE CONCORDE SUPERSONIC JET

The Concorde supersonic jet will be the successor to the Caravelle, France's first passenger jet achievement, and one of the world's most popular aircraft. Air France, which has 40 Caravelle jets, has flown well over six million passengers on the world's largest Caravelle jet network and fleet.

The Concorde supersonic jet is now being designed and built by the French aeronautic firms, Sud Aviation, and Marcel Dassault, with the cooperation of the British Aircraft Corporation.

The new 1,450 m.p.h. jetliner is scheduled to fly in 1966, and passenger service inaugurated in 1969. Air France Concorde jets will fly New York-Paris in 2 hours and 45 minutes, and cover the Chicago-Paris route in 3 hours.

There will be a high degree of cabin comfort, since the Concorde will fly ahead of the sound of its aft-mounted jets. The cabin will have 45 double-pane windows on each side. The supersonic jetliner will be 169 feet 11 inches long, and have a wing-span of 77 feet 1 inch. The 104 passengers will be accommodated in 26 rows of paired seats on each side of the aisle.

Power will be supplied by four Bristol Siddeley MK-593 engines, mounted in pairs midway on the underside of the trailing edge of the delta-shaped wing. The supersonic jet will pass the sound barrier at 39,400 feet altitude, reach cruising speed at 53,000 feet, and continue to rise gradually to 63,000 feet.

Air France has kept abreast of early design work, and as was the case with the now-famed Caravelle jet, the French Airline is today playing an important role in the Concorde's development.

Secretary

A 168-hour-a-week secretary that never takes a coffee break... that's one of the many roles the telephone plays in your life.

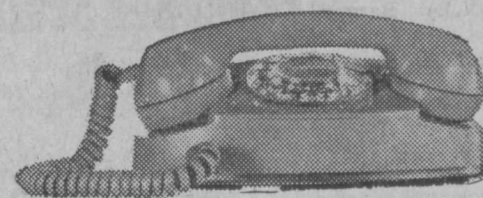

For your telephone is your own personal Gal Friday, always ready to help you arrange things, order things, learn things, organize things, start things, finish things... and on and on through a day's demands.

Your telephone actually saves you money while working for you 24 hours a day. In fact, the more you put this secretary to work for you, the more you're likely to save. You save time, and save expenses that would otherwise mount up if you had to arrange everything in person.

It's hard to imagine what life would be like without a telephone secretary to help you keep things running smoothly. And it's still one of the biggest bargains in your family budget. Use it often.

Best-Selling Author Says:

Appliances Help M'lady
Snub Kitchen Career

Women should not feel guilty if they take advantage of the conveniences in today's electric appliances to help cut down their housekeeping chores, according to Mrs. Betty Friedan, author of the best-seller "The Feminine Mystique," published recently by W. W. Norton & Company, Inc.

It's a mistake for women to idealize housework into something it is not. They should not look for more in it than it holds, she says. "See housework for what it is—not a career, but something that must be done as quickly and efficiently as possible," she writes.

"Use the vacuum cleaner and dishwasher and all the automatic appliances, and even the instant mashed potatoes for what they are truly worth—to save time that can be used in more creative ways," she urges.

The multitude of today's household appliances do make housework both quick and efficient. If you have an electric range with automatic controls, for example, use them and let the range do your cooking for you while you go about other things. Or, if you find you're having to shop for groceries two or three times a week, get a larger refrigerator-freezer and cut down on endless, time-consuming trips to the market.

Rather than feel guilty about doing less housework and more creative things, Mrs. Friedan, wife and mother of three children aged from 6 to 14 years old, believes women should make a personal commitment to their own goals as human beings—to an art or science, to politics or a profession.

She says that if they will make room for their own selves in their lives, women will end up liking their husbands and children more. If, on the other hand, they deny their personal identities and goals, and live only through their families, they often become unhappy, nagging females.

When women stop worrying about conforming to the conventional, deceptive picture of femininity and the housewife image pushed on them by educators and women's magazines, writes Mrs. Friedan, they begin to enjoy being women. Their fulfillment lies not merely in marriage and a family, she says, but in finding and expressing themselves as persons.

Mrs. Friedan, whose personal professional commitment is writing, accepts all the help she can get in running her home smoothly. She has part-time help which frees her to visit the library when she has research to do. And she also recently bought another new labor-saving device to streamline her household chores.

"I just got a dishwasher," she says, "and it's a wonderful invention. It's just the thing to shorten housework drudgery and let me do my writing," she said in an interview.

But when it comes to weekends, Mrs. Friedan stays away from the typewriter. "My husband is home then — and he doesn't want me to work when he's around," she says simply.

LADIES AID SOCIETY MEETING

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Harney, held their regular meeting and Christmas party in the parish house Tuesday evening, December 3.

The meeting was opened by singing "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," "Silent Night," and "Jingle Bells." For the Scripture, Mrs. Charles Bridinger read from the second chapter of St. Luke, followed with prayer by Mrs. Wilbur Reifsnider.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved followed by roll call with 25 members and several visitors present.

Mrs. Clyde Frock gave the report from the banquet served Nov. 9; also the turkey and oyster supper Nov. 23. Mrs. Ernest Fream gave the report from the banquet served Nov. 10.

Mrs. Clyde Frock reminded the ladies to prepare their pies, cakes, candy, etc., for the refreshment stand at Shank's Community Sale, Dec. 7.

Mrs. Ralph Weikert was appointed as chairman for a banquet to be served Dec. 21. It was voted to give baskets of fruit to the shut-ins for Christmas. Mrs. Wesley Mummert and Mrs. Elwood Strickhouser were appointed to audit the books.

Mrs. Walter Clingan was asked to read the Bible at the next meeting and Miss Treva Ridinger to have prayer. Mrs. George Shriver, Mrs. Clarence Baker and Mrs. Charles Bridinger to arrange a program for the next meeting.

A reading, "Christmas Preparation," was given by Miss Connie Mummert and a duet, "The Christmas Song," by Misses Linda and Donna Weikert accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ralph Weikert.

The gifts were exchanged and refreshments served. The meeting was then adjourned.

CARROLL COUNTY WELFARE BOARD CHRISTMAS PLANS

We are fortunate in having Mrs. John Whitmore, Rt. 3, Westminster, to serve as Christmas Coordinator for the County, with the exception of the Sykesville and Mt. Airy areas. Mrs. Whitmore is receiving information about families wanting help with food, clothes and toys at Christmas. She is accepting requests for this information from organizations who want to help families for Christmas with any or all of their requests.

As in the past, it is our hope to avoid duplication of giving, so that each family gets some Xmas gifts. We feel that duplication can be avoided if organizations will report to Mrs. Whitmore the names of families they plan to help, and ask her for names if they have not selected their "gift" families. Mrs. Whitmore can be reached at 346-7222, or by calling the Carroll County Welfare Board at 848-5432.

Life is like a school of gladiators, where men live and fight with one another. — Seneca.
