KIWANIS NEWS

On Wednesday evening, October 28th, the following names were placed in nomination for the various offices in 1960: President - Thomas Albaugh; Vice President - Robert Neal; Treasurer - John Skiles; Directors - Otto Olsson, Leonard Reifsnider and Edward Howarth. All these persons were then elected to office.

President George Crouse announced the presence of Kiwanian Ray Riley from the Westminster Club and two Key Clubbers: Paul Andreas and Allen Shirk.

The program was then given presented by Robert Neal who introduced Dr. Fenlon a retired professor of philosophy. He recently took residence in Taneytown. He addressed the club on "The Philosophical Aspects of Khrushchev's Visit to America."

He said in part that the three names that stand out as doing the most in shaping the philosophy of Russia are Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev. Roosevelt abetted the cause of Communism in this country by declaring, "There is nothing wrong with Communism." Harry Truman also said, "I like Old Joe!" McCarthy, maligned by the press, often stood alone in condemning red sympathizers and members of the Communist Party.

Dr. Fenlon went on to say that the Communists up in business and mention a long list of items that we gave them to get a start. He also intimated that many of the advisers to Presidents were tinged with red.

The speaker flatly asserted that Khrushchev's visit to the United States was a mistake because it menaced the Constitution and its sense of justice. It also aided and abetted hundreds of teachers and professors in our schools and colleges who lean toward Communism. Communism makes use of the philosophy of pragmatism as proposed by James; whatever works is truth. Many of our institutions teach that everything is in flux. There is no eternal truth.

The annual Father and Son night of Taneytown Lions Club was observed Tuesday, October 27, at Taney Inn with sixteen sons, one son-in-law, and one father as guests. President Delmar E. Riffle presided, Murray M. Baumgardner pronounced the invocation, and John T. Hottinger led the singing, with Harry I. Reindollar playing the piano accompaniment. Visitors were also present from two other clubs, namely Lions Richard Murray, Claude Steager, and Sterling Miller from Hampstead, and Fern L. Smith (President), Elmer F. Stull, and Dean Tasker from Roaring Lion Clubs club.

After a fine home dinner the president called upon Singleton E. Remsburg to induct into membership David C. Hiltbrich, who years ago was a charter member and last Tuesday was appointed to the Fruit cake committee of Lions David B. Shaum (chairman), Hottinger, and Glenn O. Reeve. Lion Remsburg also reported upon the eminent success of the Birthday calendar project, displaying a sample of these date charts, which will shortly be distributed by all club members who participated in soliciting the general public. Singled out for special recognition as solicitors were Lions Harry B. Dougherty, President Riffle, and Secretary Kenneth C. Shorb.

The program from this point on was handled by chairman Lewis R. Baer, who presented Conway Robinson, Farm program director for radio station WBAL, Baltimore. He made a few remarks very informally and engagingly on the subject of conserving our resources, led thereto by the reflection that youth are our prime resources, and if they are to make the most of their world, they must have natural resources in their day to enjoy. With the aid of Lion Frank O. Wargny he showed some films prepared under his program's sponsorship by the State Inland Game Commission and supplied a most humorous and entertaining running commentary. There were the conservation lesson taught by Smoky the Bear to Willy Nilly the unwitting arsonist, and deer and wildlife shots of great beauty.

Following the program a director's meeting was held at Riffle's Restaurant, with a viva-voice excuse voted Immediate Past president Frank T. Dunham on this occasion for a high priority anniversary.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The delightful aroma of the freshly washed laundry seems to penetrate throughout the house. Such a clean sweet smell! The rains have made everything appear green even if the trees are about ready to don their dresses of red and gold. Heat is on and it feels so homey due to the dampness outdoors.

Now, folks if you do not want to eat butter due to reducing, here's one and right from the heart Specialist to the gentleman heart patient, "If you really desire to eat butter, be sure the next package is Fleischman's Margarine!" New wrinkle! Eh? One learns every day about something or other.

The best French dressing to use on any salads, Mrs. Housekeeper is the "Panzer" brand. It really will make you eat more salads. Ummm good! Being Halloween week-end when parties can continue from Friday evening until even after Halloween—why not plan a party or even an almost sudden affair. Always have the guest dress up and offer prizes. That is always a special treat. If you are giving the children a party—easy refreshments are the big ice cream soda served in ice tea glasses and the special and substantial cookies. The sodas made with gingerale and ice cream and don't forget to buy the straws.

Ladies, if you stand much during the day, be sure and purchase those, "SUPP-HOSE!"

How disappointing to see the Movie called, "The Man who Knew How to Love Women" with Leslie Caron—that grand French Actress. It would be best for her to stick to her dancing! Don't waste your time or money on that one. The story was disgusting.

And thinking about Movies and TV shows—hope you did not miss the trip to Denmark with Victor Borge and meeting all his relatives! At last he played one number through on the piano and he is truly a MASTER! That evening was delightful!

The "Evil and Secret Life of Adolph Hitler" which was a Film—every American should have seen. WAR is what that SHERMAN man said!

When you shop at any food store, be sure you are not hungry. Always manage to eat your lunch or dinner first or otherwise you will purchase more than you need.

Beautiful letters arrived to add to my collection—one from our wonderful President of these United States, one from Lowell Thomas and one from our Mayor Grady.

Now, Mr. Manager of the Used Car Business—your business will be soaring due to the Steel Strike with less production of new cars. While and when you buy to sell, be sure you purchase only the finest of used cars so as the buyer of one will be delighted with the word for other buyers!

And whatever you do, folks in driving around be sure and KEEP AMERICA BEAUTIFUL by not being a LITTER BUG!

Now, here's to the "SCORPION" those born from Oct. 20 to Nov. 20. Mars, the ruling Planet of this sign gives to its subjects great courage, confidence and perseverance as well as caution. They are very shrewd and their minds are intensely penetrating, sharp and clear. They are restless, determined and have strong will powers. Their self control is admirable and manifests itself not only in their reserve in speaking but in the firmness, sureness and deftness of their hands which is combined with keen power of observation and rare poise and judgment. These people are very secretive and they have a great influence over others and are very dignified. Their speech is most impressive and their silence even more. In fact, they can keep calm while the other fellow is all upset.

They are not demonstrative or affectionate but they are very deep and are in fact the kindest hearted people in the world but hardly show the affection they really feel. They are great musicians and love fine music. They are always busy with new ideas and never start anything unless they have finished the thing they are doing. They are most dependable. They make excellent foremen or executive ability for top positions.

Have a grand week-end, folks. Be careful when you drive and always when you stop for that red light, be sure your car is in back of the line for the Pedestrians. Hope to be around the town before long. See you next week D.V. I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

A GOOD NEWSPAPER

Editor Floyd W. Shaylor of the Plain City, Ohio, Advocate, has something important to say about newspapers: "A strong editorial policy is the best indication of a good newspaper. It matters not whether an individual agrees with what a newspaper says editorially—it does matter a great deal as to whether the reader, through the medium of the editorial, gives consideration and thought to the subject at hand. If he strongly opposes a newspaper's opinion, it is all for the best since it indicates that he has read and considered the subject and has found it to be contrary to his own beliefs. We will never complain because we have accomplished our real purpose—that of causing you to read what we have to say!"

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

There are 707 voters registered in both precincts of Taneytown district. Let every voter help to break the record, this year, in giving the highest vote ever cast.

Mr. P. J. Fink takes possession of the Elliot House, on Monday as proprietor, and Mr. Elliot will continue the livery business. The name of the house has been changed to Hotel Taney.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Bricker returned home on Thursday evening from their wedding trip, and received a somewhat noisy welcome and serenade from the calathumpian society.

Taneytown's stores are splendidly filled with seasonal and fashionable goods—the best stores the town has ever had—and even attention and courtesy is paid to customers. Buying here is much more satisfactory than buying from a picture and description.

(Advertisement) For Rheumatic pains—also for stiff joints. Sloan's Liniment.

Union Bridge Cement Plant. A Big Enterprise in Course of Construction at our neighbor town. The Tidewater Portland Cement Company is constructing a plant at Union Bridge, which promises to be a big industry. The deposits of lime, stone and shale at this place are almost inexhaustible.

St. Joseph's Church Reopened. St. Joseph's Catholic church, Taneytown, Rev. Bernard Lennon, pastor, was reopened for public worship last Sunday. For sometime it has been undergoing repairs, under the tasteful and skillful management of the rector. The attendance of the congregation and visitors from other denominations formed the largest concourse that ever gathered within the walls of the church. This congregation has already passed the centenary of its founding having been organized by the Rev. Prince Demetrius Gallitzin in the year 1797.

Brown-Fringer.—A wedding of interest to a wide circle of relatives and friends in this county took place on Thursday afternoon, in Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown when Miss Nellie Fringer was married to Rev. Frank L. Brown of West Lafayette, Ohio.

Tyrone. Corn husking is the order of the day, with a much better yield than was anticipated.—Joseph Formwalt, wife and daughter, Florence; David Hahn and wife, Elias Keefe and Jonas Heltebride, attended Frederick Fair last week.

Kenny Foundation Sponsors Probe of Neuromuscular Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—Pioneering surgical techniques developed by Dr. Irving S. Cooper, with financial assistance from the Sister Kenny foundation, offer new hope to thousands of persons afflicted with neuromuscular disabilities, including Parkinsonism and dystonia.

Dr. Cooper, a member of the Kenny Foundation Medical Advisory committee, is professor of clinical neurosurgery, New York University Post-Graduate Medical school, and director of neurosurgery, St. Barnabas hospital, both in New York city.

His pioneering surgical techniques, chemopallidectomy and chemothalamectomy, are directed at relief for victims of Parkinsonism or shaking palsy, dystonia and other physical conditions marked by tremor and involuntary movements. The operation, hailed as a major breakthrough in brain surgery, has already provided relief for many hundreds of patients.

This far-reaching activity is supplemented by Kenny supported programs at University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.; Montreal Neurological Institute, McGill University, Montreal, Canada, and at Child-en's hospital, Buffalo, N. Y.

Although neurological relief of involuntary movements is, in effect, the treatment of a symptom rather than the cause of these diseases, it does constitute an important first step in the rehabilitation of such patients. Relieved of the disabling and often exhausting and deforming effects of their involuntary muscular movements, patients are ready for rehabilitation through physical and psychiatric therapy, with orthopedic surgery sometimes required. In the past, orthopedic and psychiatric measures frequently were difficult to apply in many such cases.

THIS 21-YEAR-OLD MAN is making "excellent progress" toward recovery at a Sister Kenny foundation facility, where he was admitted, completely helpless, for treatment and rehabilitation, after having suffered a fracture of the neck, with paralysis in all four extremities, in an automobile accident. Punching the keys with the eraser end of a pencil, he is shown practicing typewriting. An occupational therapist supervises the exercises, designed to teach the patient to raise his paralyzed arms and to provide him with a means of communication. Under its expanded program, the Kenny foundation provides treatment and rehabilitation for mishap victims and patients with neuromuscular disabilities, including polio.

Household by Hints Frances Graham

Throughout the year — but especially during the spring and summer months — one of the busiest of individuals is the bride-to-be making plans for her wedding, the reception, and her new home.

In the midst of the gay activities, one thoughtful bit of planning the bride might well consider is to do some window shopping for gifts for herself from her friends.

High on the list of important items to consider is cooking equipment — especially the pots and pans. There are many types from which to choose — but a favorite among chefs and experienced homemakers are solid copper cookware or copper-bottom pots and pans.

One of the prime reasons for this preference is that copper is the best heat conductor of all other metals used for cookware. With copper, foods cook more uniformly; heat penetrates the metal so easily that "hot spots" are eliminated and even cooking is assured.

And in addition, copper has color. As a result, there are many decorative ways to display copper cookware when it is not in use. A peg board is easy to attach to the wall and the pans can be arranged on it in decorative patterns. Or you may use hooks on wooden shelves and display your pans in this manner.

Actual placement naturally depends on the layout of your kitchen. But use your imagination when displaying your cookware and you'll be more than pleased with the results.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL COUNTY

The Womens Democratic Club of Carroll County held its fall meeting at Benny's Kitchen, Westminster, October 21 with the President, Mrs. Truman Cash presiding. Following the dinner an election of officers was held. Mrs. R. S. Farley of Finksburg was elected President to serve for one year. Mr. George Grier was the speaker for the evening. In his talk he stressed the need for intelligent planning in Carroll County in view of the fact that in the next twenty years the county will double in population. He outlined in detail what the addition of 100 families will do to our county. It means more school rooms, more police protection, the use of more water and more sewerage disposal and more traffic on the roads. Mr. Grier pointed out that unless new industries come into Carroll to give jobs to the rising population, young people will go elsewhere and deprive our county of needed taxation. The natural beauty of Carroll should be preserved by adequate zoning laws and by setting aside certain areas for parks and recreation centers. As all of us know there are no laws to keep people from moving into our county, but by planning and educating the people in the problems that face everyone in our county, intelligent solutions to the problems can be found. One thing, Mr. Grier said, he found that most everyone is interested in the road system simply because everyone has to use roads. Roads are not the only important things that need the public's attention; water and sewerage disposal and zoning are urgent too and should rank with the roads as major importance with the citizens of our county. Following Mr. Grier's speech a white elephant sale was conducted by the club which added to the treasury's funds and to the entertainment of the club members. Among those attending the dinner and meeting were Mrs. Emory Minnick of Union Bridge and Mrs. Grace Smelser and Mrs. A. Millard Roelke of Uniontown.

The old adage about building a better mousetrap and the world beats a path to your door has a parallel in barbershop. Build a better barbershop anywhere in the country and eventually all kinds of people find their way to the shop. They think they come for a hair cut but that is only an excuse. They come to hear the town's gossip or listen in on a discussion of philosophy, or air their opinion on politics or discuss seriously their views on religion. Where once the country store was the town's meeting hall, now certain barbershops perform that duty. Better mouse traps or better hair cuts answer the same purpose for man's need of communicating with each other. In spite of people's preoccupation with earning a living and with television there are moments in their lives when they must talk and be talked to or grow old and defeated by loneliness. Barbershops seem to be a popular clearing house for ideas, dreams and town gossip.

The Western Maryland College Choir has just ended a two weeks tour of the six districts of the Washington Conference of the Methodist Church which included Baltimore, Catonsville, Pasadena, Washington, Bethesda, Hagerstown and Cumberland. The choir is made up of 48 college students, eight of them from Carroll County. The purpose of the tour was to interest the various churches in setting aside funds during the next four years toward building a new library on the Western Maryland College campus. Bishop Oxman and Dr. Lowell Ensor accompanied the choir and spoke at each city they visited. The choir and speakers were pleased with the large and responsive audiences that came out to hear them.

Van Dyke said there are two good rules which ought to be written on every heart. Never believe anything bad about anyone, unless you positively know that it is true. Never tell even that, unless you feel that it is positively necessary, and that God is listening while you tell it.

Sally was five years old and was going through the stage of telling little white lies. Her mother was becoming annoyed and angry so one day she asked Sally if she knew what happens to little girls that lie. "Yes," Sally replied: "They grow up to be mothers who tell their children to eat their spinach because it makes their hair curly."

We have a friend who says that fish and house guests should never be kept more than three days. Both lose their welcome after that. We know this is true of fish but some guests can be kept a long, long time for they know how to be the kind of guest you love to welcome. To begin with they come with the right attitude. They act like they are glad you invited them. They try to fit into your household schedule so that you are not always serving meals and running a taxi service. They leave the bathroom tidy and they hang up their clothes not leaving them decorating chairs in the living room or bed room.

They eat the meals you serve with relish and compliment you on your menus and they help do the dishes. They do not monopolize the television or radio but act like they enjoy a conversation with you every so often. When leaving they tell you how much they have enjoyed the visit and by the tone of their voice you know they are sincere. And when you say goodbye and urge them to come back soon again you really mean it for they are the kind of house-guest that is always welcome.

There have been many stories about push button farming, but not until Saturday have we ever seen it in action. Its all pretty wonderful! Swissvale Dairy held open house Oct. 24th and invited the public to inspect their modern dairy farm in action. From the time the cows enter the milking parlor to the time they leave, the push button theory is in operation. No milk cans, no buckets, no handling of feed and no mess. The whole procedure is a combination of engineering, gentle cows with high production record, efficient labor and plenty of money. Who wouldn't like to farm under these conditions.

Congratulations to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt on her 75th birthday! Her good common sense has always been one of the many charms. She has always been able to keep her poise and dignity in the face of tragedy and criticism. Her accomplishments are many, but her greatest is her understanding heart for others weaknesses. She is rightfully called: "the first lady of the world."

No other question makes my blood pressure reach the ceiling as: "Are you a house-wife or DO YOU WORK?" —Ruth Roelke.

Savings Bond Buyers Benefit From Increased Interest Rates

Never before have United States Savings bonds been so attractive to investors and small savers alike, C. Ray Fogle, Carroll County volunteer Savings Bonds Chairman, said today in commenting on the one-half per cent increase in interest rates on old and new Series E and H Savings Bonds.

"Forty million people automatically benefit from the recent legislation passed by Congress, Mr. Fogle said, "because that many hold outstanding bonds in the amount of $42.6 billion. For the first time, the hike in rates applies to old Series E and H Savings Bonds, as well as those being bought currently. So, it will be to the advantage of most bond owners to hold onto their old bonds, thus automatically receiving the benefit of the increase."

The new law does two things: (1) it provides that all Savings Bonds bought on and after June 1 draw 3 1/2 per cent interest when held to maturity, and (2) it increases by at least one-half of one per cent the interest return on all outstanding E and H bonds, regardless of their age, for the period from June 1, 1959, to their maturity. In addition, the Treasury has promised a 10-year extension privilege for all E bonds, both old and new.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that every person who owns an E or H bond benefits from the new rate, without having to do anything about it," Mr. Fogle continued. "I would therefore encourage the public to do two things: keep holding their old bonds, and keep on buying the new ones. This is the finest Savings Bonds package ever offered."

Bookplate Design Wanted

Area artists and designers are being invited to submit their ideas for a distinctive bookplate for the Carroll County Public Library during the observance of National Book Week, November 1-7.

Many books in recent months, given to the Library by individuals and by such groups as the County Council of P.T.A., the Carroll Branch of AAUW, and the Carroll Garden Club, have not been marked distinctively as gifts, even though they are so marked on the Library's records.

The Library thinks these special gifts should be called to the attention of the reading public to increase their enjoyment of such books as THE COMPLETE BOOK OF FLOWERS, ARRANGEMENT, AN ADVENTURE IN EDUCATION, and THE AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL TODAY.

Davis Library has an original bookplate designed by John E. Myers, Jr., of Westminster, in 1951 for Memorial Books, but nothing to use for general gifts which are being donated in increasing numbers by the people of the County interested in raising the standards of their library and grateful for the expanded services.

Designs submitted should be original and show in some way the tremendous growth of the Library since it became a County agency. Perhaps a map of the county with the fifty-four stops made by the Bookmobile each week so that library service is brought within the miles of every individual in the County, or of the County Seal as shown in color on the Bookmobile would be permissible.

Entrance to the Davis Library, central headquarters for the County system, might be used to illustrate the fact that the Library is now open 44 hours per week or that nearly 20,000 volumes are available to anyone in the County locally and thousands more books can be borrowed by means of inter-library loans that the local library is part of a "system" and combines its resources with those of other libraries of the state.

Drawings or paintings to be considered should be 8½ by 11 inches in size, either black and white or in color although the finished plate will be the usual size 2½ by 3½ inches. They should include the legend: Carroll County Public Library—Davis Library, Westminster Maryland, and "Presented by—" or "Gift of—" somewhere in the design.

They should be brought or sent to the Library during Book Week, November 1 to 7, when they will be displayed. The artist's name and address should appear only on the back of the design until the winner is announced.

Winners will be selected by the Board of Trustees of the Carroll County Library in their regular monthly meeting, November 17.

Persons seeking additional information about the competition may contact the County Librarian, Miss Margaret Hofer, at the Davis Library in Westminster or by calling Tilden 8-4250.

So this is HOUSEKEEPING

For a long time I've had a wonderful, withering comeback in the back of my mind just in case my favorite spouse ever came up with the timeworn saw about, "Why can't you run our home like I run my office?" When the moment finally came I was stumped. Jeff pulled a switch. "Why can't you," he wanted to know, "run our kitchen like this motel?"

Our vacation trip had brought us to the smartest idea since the invention of a long, cool drink of water. There in our motel was a hand-some, compact, automatic ice cube maker! Ice whenever you want, and all without a second of your attention.

Jeff's imagination went riot. He envisioned crystal clear ice cubes busily manufacturing themselves in resorts, hotels, hospitals, restaurants, and most particularly, his office and our home. He even tracked down the motel manager to get vital statistics on the how and why of operating the RCA Whirlpool ice maker.

Apparently I didn't sound quite as swept away because I suddenly realized I was listening to Jeff's so-called "subtle approach."

"If there's one thing I can't stand," he said, "it's the messy business of slopping water in a cube tray then dribbling it back to the refrigerator. This little number does it all automatically. And listen to this: you may have one cube if you want, or 1840 over a 24-hour period. Did you notice the size of the cubes? They're small enough to fit in a juice glass and big enough to chill a large glass faster. I figure we can get the under-the-counter type for the kitchen and a free-standing one for the office."

I let him "persuade" me to his heart's content. I was sold when I heard the word "automatic". There may be some gallants in the world who refill empty trays, but my helpmate isn't one of them!

Formal dedication ceremonies marked the opening this fall, in New York City, of the Institute for Muscle Disease, the first research center in the world devoted exclusively to the study of muscle and its pathologies. This ultra-modern laboratory complex, built and equipped at a cost of more than $5,000,000 was made possible through public contributions to the MARCH FOR MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY, annual fund-raising appeal of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc. The Institute, which is already in partial operation, is recruiting top research talent for a concentrated scientific attack on muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular disorders afflicting millions.

CUTLERY CARE

Experts say that efficient use of cutlery depends largely on the care you take of it. Most good knives today are made of strong stainless steel, but a little pampering takes no more time and will go a long way in helping you get maximum satisfaction.

1. When doing ordinary kitchen slicing, use a wooden cutting board. This helps to protect the knife blade and makes the whole operation neater, too.

2. Keep blades sharp. Stainless edges can be renewed very easily by honing them on fine emery. Equally successful is an electric sharpener. But don't force the knife or press down hard. Simply draw it through gently from back to tip.

3. Wash knives individually instead of including them in the regular dishpan load. Blades can be damaged by knocking against other objects. Stainless blades have easy cleanability built in to start with, so a quick wipe with a damp and then a dry towel is usually all they need. If stubborn spots do appear, they are easily removed with a mild household abrasive.

4. Proper storage is very important for fine cutlery. Keep knives separate from each other or from other utensils when they're not in use. They can be wrapped in a soft cloth, or stored in one of the special racks for knives which fit neatly inside drawers or attach to wall areas. One of the newest ideas is the lazy Susan counter design shown above which conveniently presents the right knife with a spin of the turntable.

PART 3 OF GOD'S PLANS

Within the last 500 years this great land of ours
Has become the mightiest of all the powers;
At first, a great forest it was, they say—
Not the great El Dorado we all know to-day.
People of this age are too conceited; some say:
"They laugh about people of an earlier day".
But, the ancients had things about which we do not know—
Things which made it easy for them to go.

They had swords which could cut another in two—
(That was one thing we cannot do!)
To us it seems fantastic; but, to them it was real;
For, they knew the secret of tempering steel.

That statement is backed by the book of books—
(We see it in practice wherever one looks!)
They also had inklings about God's great plan
To make the whole earth a heaven for man.

It shows ignorance for mortals to laugh at God's plan
(It was made by Him to educate man);
Then, too, the people we laugh at were all here before—
God keeps sending us back to learn to know more.

God still rules to-day as He did in the past—
(His treasures here are costly and vast!);
America is called the granary of the world,
Because His flag here is unfurled.

Those we laugh at, some writers also say,
Are the same people who were here yesterday;
God sends us all back, on the 3rd day,
The same as He did with Jesus before He went away.

God has many ways by which to teach you and me—
(One great lesson we get from the tree)—
Trees grow up slowly from year to year;
But, when they are perfect, the fruits appear.

Just so, He works daily through mortal man—
(To make us all perfect is His plan);
A thing of beauty the tree is said to be;
And, when man is perfect, just so he shall be.

All through the ages it has been God's plan
To make "a god among gods" of every man;
So, to do so, one thing He uses is the tree;
For, just like Himself, it seems to be.

Things are not now like they used to be—
(That this is true, many persons agree!)
On horseback people of old used to go
Even though, at times, old Dobbin's tread was slow.

They had no buggies as in a later day—
(Some did not even own a sleigh!)
So, on horseback, all people used to go
Through the rain and through the snow.

It took years of "fence-making", some say,
To cause man to change from the primitive way;
But now he is no longer bashful like man used to be;
He wants a "row", and, the last apple on the tree.

That is how things here on earth used to go
When the old horizon was hanging low;
Things then, they tell us, were each day the same—
Nothing new, they say, to them ever came.

There are many things I would like to say
About ancient customs, and, the old time way;
Men of old were not as brazen, people say,
As some of the sports in this modern day.

Then, too, to do things, they all had a different way—
(They had no cash registers like we have to-day);
To count their money men used to weigh—
(That was the custom in my father's early day!)

18 silver dollars weigh a pound, they say,
That was how some counted money in his day;
If the silver in a shotbag weighed 10 lbs., they say,
He had $180 dollars to hide away.

My father was one who did things that way
(He, too, weighed the silver at the close of each day);
It takes no time to count it, he used to say;
And besides, he said, it was the surest way.

That, too, was a custom in Abraham's day,
(To count money, they tell us, he used to weigh);
And even to-day some oldsters still say
To know what you are worth weigh your money each day.

For years the dollar was worth 100 cents; they say,
"It is only worth 50 cents in our day";
So, even to me, it looks like the old way was best,
For it gave to the buyer more cash to invest.

Just so, things were in days of old—
(8 cents bought a dozen eggs we are told)
That is how things were in grandfather's day—
"No wonder people grumble", the papers say.

God never dreamed when He made mortal man
That he would cause such havoc with his plan;
The truth is that the dollar soon shall be
What some writers call a nonentity.

Many other things I would like to say—
(For years men worked for one dollar a day);
To get that, they all worked from sun to sun—
That was the wage paid to everyone.

Now, men only work 40 hours each week
Eight times as much pay, some get! (others seek);
But, such conditions must soon cease to be;
For the earth is nearing its great jubilee.

God, the scriptures tell us, is the life of everyone—
(He shall see to it that justice is done!);
No person on earth a prince is yet said to be—
We are all a part of God's great family.

So, the question is, some writers now say:
"Why should one man get $10.00 a day
While the other take home $5.00 as his pay?"—
Surely things can't go on that way!

Here is one cause of many worries to-day—
(Politics plays a big part, some say!)
Then, too, those among us, who get the most pay
Are the fellows who do the least work each day.

I do not know the cause; but, I know well
God will not let mortal man make earth a hell;
Soon the bells of peace on this planet shall ring;
And, the Babe of Bethlehem shall be our King.

All through the ages it has been God's plan
To make earth the future home of man;
In the past, He sent many sons to rule our land;
So, things shall be, just like He planned.

God has worked and planned, some writers say,
To make earth the heaven it shall be some day;
So, it is not within the power of mortal man
To make any changes in His great plan.

If I had a million tongues, and a thousand hands,
I would use them all to help with God's plans
To make us all like Himself to be,
And to be with Him, forever, in eternity.

And the same, I am sure, of us all, that is true
We came here to help Him make all things new;
Here we all learn of God's great plan,
To make the whole earth a heaven for man.

Here we all learn to do things God's way—
(We learn to know Him, from day to day);
So, when we learn to obey His will,
We, too, can say to the waves: "Peace Be still!"

O, that men would praise God for His wonderful plan!
To make earth heaven, and, a home for man;
This earth a paradise soon would be
Through all the long years of eternity.

When that day comes - (and, it surely shall come!)
The sons of men shall no longer act dumb;
So, like our Great Father, let us all try to be;
For, through us, God shall reign in eternity.

That is one truth we all must learn to know;
So, study the scriptures to learn how to go;
To make earth heaven has always been God's plan—
A heaven, and, the future home of man.

Fellowship of ... ?

Lesson for November 1, 1959

THE CHURCH is never called the "fellowship of believers" in the New Testament, but it is often called that, nowadays, by Christians. There is a good reason for the name. The early church was a fellowship of believers. This means as the record shows us, that the early Christians were of "one heart and soul." This does not mean that they thought alike, for the writer of Acts carefully avoids saying they were of one mind. They were united not in opinions but in their faith. They were believers-in rather than believers-about. A perfectly unanimous church, all holding the identical opinions in the identical way, would not be a Christian church, but a congregation of parrots. Belief is more than opinion; and in this broader sense the church is indeed a fellowship of believers.

Dr. Foreman

Givers

Is this all? It might be all, if Christian faith were the dead sort of thing some people think it is. But faith, as we see it in the lives of New Testament Christians, never appears by itself. We read that these believers worked out a scheme to eliminate poverty among them. The scheme did not work, for we know that some years later collections were being taken up for the benefit of the Jerusalem church. But all the same, nobody—especially no apostle—arose to say to that church, "All your concern with people's property and their living conditions is off the Christian beam. It is out of our line, it is not a Christian's business to know how other people live. Religion is belief, it is not distribution of worldly goods." There is little doubt that some must have talked that way, because some talk that way today. But the church of those days did find it their business to see to it that no one suffered want.

In an old American city of nearly half a million people there are many churches. The city government early this year decided that they could no longer help people who were unemployed. The consequence was that many families drifted closer and closer to starvation. There was an effort to enlist all the city's churches to help feed these helpless people; but barely half the churches made any contribution or showed any interest. These count themselves as "believing" churches—but what do they believe?

Doers

Every church congregation is a Fellowship of Listeners, or (if that is expecting too much) a Fellowship of Hearers. They all hear readings from the same Bible, week after week. But the Bible is not merely a book to be listened to. It is not only a book to be believed, either. It is a book to be done. Jesus drew his line, not between hearers and believers, but between hearers and doers. That early church not only distributed food and clothing, they distributed health. They did not simply accept the presence of disease and deformities; they were challenged by such tragedies, they did what they could, and it was a very great deal, to relieve and to do away with them. In short, this first church was a Fellowship of Doers.

All churches are fellowships of people who pray. But a peculiar feature of that early Jerusalem church was that those who belonged to it prayed together. That is, they offered the same prayer together. We do not have to suppose that the prayer in Acts 4 beginning "Sovereign Lord" was literally spoken in unison by the whole collection of believers. But we are not left in doubt that this was the prayer of every one there. When the minister says "Let us pray" he means it—Let US pray. When the minister says "Let us unite in prayer," does the average congregation do it, or do they let him pray along while they think about something else?

Churches are too soon content with being Sitting Fellowships, or Suppering Fellowships; when Believing, Giving, Doing and Praying—what God really calls them together for—go half-done or not done at all.

Homemaker hints

Ironing? Learn The Inside Story!

How often have you noticed your steam iron acting sluggish, sputtering, or not giving enough steam?

This common nuisance might have continued to plague homemakers for a long time had not one bright woman taken her problem to Mr. Jac. Fast of Fast Chemical Products Corporation in Yonkers, New York. The result was the production of a steam iron cleaner with the descriptive name of SSS-T!

The inside story about steam irons is this. Whenever tap water evaporates, it leaves behind a deposit of scale. This deposit builds up gradually in the iron causing sluggishness, sputtering and clogging. When this happens, your iron needs cleaning inside.

A clean and properly serviced iron will always work efficiently. SSS-T! will remove the scale and rejuvenate your iron without the slightest danger to the metal parts. It is safe, non-toxic, and easy to use. It also cleans scaled kettles, sterilizers and vaporizers.

Boys' Clubs Growing In Grass Roots

The Boys' Clubs of America movement has spread as rapidly in America's small communities as in the large cities. Associate memberships are now available to areas not able to finance a full-time Boys' Club.

Many of the more than 500 Boys' Clubs of America are supported by organizations such as the Kiwanis, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Elks, American Legion, AFL-CIO, General Federation of Women's Clubs, Rotary, Lions, Optimists, Eagles, VFW and AMVETS.

Boys' Club of America reached an all-time high of more than $12,000,000 for building and reconstruction in the past year. The current estimated replacement value of nationwide facilities is in excess of $100,000,000.

Close to 75,000 citizens are donating their skills and time to Boys' Clubs of America.

Special curricula are offered at many colleges and universities throughout the country to provide professional leaders for Boys' Clubs of America.

Any boy can afford membership in Boys' Clubs of America. Dues seldom top 25 cents a year.

The past year saw the greatest period of growth in the history of Boys' Clubs of America. Thirty-nine new Clubs were added, bringing the total to 522 Clubs with a membership of more than 500,000 boys.

Boys' Clubs of America programs are designed for guidance and training as well as recreation. Every boy has a chance to develop mentally, physically, spiritually and vocationally.

Kenny Foundation Treatment Based on "What Remains Right with Patients"

Minneapolis, Minn.—Aim of the Sister Kenny foundation, in rehabilitating victims of neuromuscular disabilities, including polio, is to determine primarily what is "right" with the patient, not "wrong"—what "ability" the patient retains, not his "disability," according to Dr. Paul M. Ellwood, Jr., assistant national medical director.

"Rehabilitation may be defined as the preparation of the patient—physically, mentally, socially and vocationally—for the fullest life compatible with his abilities and disabilities," Dr. Ellwood said.

Dr. Ellwood

"The positive approach frequently makes possible progress from a seemingly hopeless situation to one which ends with the patient again being able to take care of his own needs at home or with his once more reaching the stage of gainful employment. It often means the removal of the patient from a status in which tax dollars are required for his care and attention to one in which he earns his own way and resumes the status of being a taxpayer himself."

Dr. Ellwood declared that such objectives are reached in Kenny facilities through the "total rehabilitation" approach, utilizing the "team" method.

"The Kenny 'rehabilitation team' includes both medical and non-medical components," he said. "On the medical side are the internist, pediatrician, physiatrist, orthopedist, neurologist, urologist, ophthalmologist, psychiatrist, surgeon and others as may be indicated by the problems of individual patients."

"On the non-medical or supplementary side are nurses, Kenny Therapists, physical therapists, occupational therapists, psychologists, social workers, vocational counselor, adaptive-equipment engineer, prosthetist and other personnel as may be required for evaluation and care of the patient."

Needs in the rehabilitation field are staggering, Dr. Ellwood pointed out. It is estimated that some 30 million people in the United States alone suffer some handicap, physical or otherwise, he declared.

"At least 4,000,000 of these, it is indicated, not including veterans disabled in military service, would benefit from rehabilitation techniques," Dr. Ellwood said. "Each year, some 250,000 additional men and women become so disabled, because of injury or disease, that they are made incapable of holding a job or of enjoying normal life. Their misfortune also becomes a burden upon relatives and friends and an economic loss to the community."

"Public contributions make it financially possible for the Kenny foundation to continue and further develop its program."

School Children Need Breakfast

An apple for the teacher is not nearly as important as eating a good breakfast—when it comes to making good grades. At the State University of Iowa, the omission of breakfast was demonstrated to result in a poorer attitude toward school work and to detract from scholastic achievements.

Sometimes mothers spend so much time fussing over the clothes and hair-do of their daughters that there's not enough time left to eat a good breakfast. "Handsome is as handsome does!"—without breakfast it's hard to keep alert all morning at school. Breakfast is a must for school children. Research has demonstrated they will do more work, will be quicker in their thinking and actions, and will tire less easily especially in the late morning hours—if they eat a good breakfast.

An appetizing breakfast for a school-age child, planned after a basic breakfast pattern of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter, might include: tomato juice with lemon wedge, sliced banana atop corn flakes, milk for cereal and beverage, bran muffin, and cocoa.

"Better Breakfasts Build Better Families"—is this the slogan in your home? Start now, during September Better Breakfast Month to improve the breakfast habits in your family.

"Sometimes women who are easy on the eyes can be hard on the ears."

I said in my haste, I am cut off from before Thine eyes: nevertheless Thou hearest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto Thee.—(Psalm 31:22.)

Never think that past sins have cut you off from God's love, for His mercy is boundless and He is ever ready to hear those who call upon Him for forgiveness and for strength to live better lives.

Black Is Back

FOR AUTUMN, it's the good little black dress again. Svelte example is this two-piece for P.M. wear from Veola Douglas. It is of lush black wool broadcloth with portrait neck and new wide belt. For a lovely bosomline beneath the formula smart women follow is Living Bra by Playtex, in black to match. Almost entirely of fine, stretchy elastic with the famous criss-cross design—this has the fit and feel of a custom-made bra.

New "Hamlets" Star on Fall Menus

Here's a brand new dinnertime curtain-raiser for the fall season that's sure to make a hit with that important audience, the family. It's "Potato Salad Hamlets", made-in-a-jiffy tart shells of ground ham and tasty inch-square cheese crackers, filled with potato salad. The crushed cheese crackers add extra special flavor and good crunchy texture to this brand-new main dish. Serve with piping hot bouillon and more whole crackers for an all-star early fall meal. Here's how:

"Hamlet" Tart Shells
1 lb. ready-to-eat ham, ground (2 cups)
1 cup crushed inch-square Cheez-It Crackers
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 teaspoons grated onion
1 tablespoon Chili sauce
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Blend together all ingredients. Press firmly to bottom and sides of 8 lightly greased 3-inch muffin cups, or into glass custard cups. Chill.

Potato Salad Filling
4 medium-size potatoes, cooked and diced
2 hard cooked eggs, diced
2 teaspoons grated onion
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup mayonnaise
Paprika and parsley
Combine all ingredients except paprika and parsley. Blend tightly with a fork. Use to fill tart shells. Sprinkle with paprika. Remove filled shells carefully from cups. Arrange on chilled serving platter. Garnish with parsley. Makes 8 servings.

Breakfast Break For Mom

Want to speed and simplify breakfast preparation and clean-up? Here's how many working mothers are now doing it.

Following the after-dinner clean-up, many capable homemakers who must conserve every moment in the morning set the electric coffee-maker and prepare fruit juice for breakfast. With a tight lid on the container and proper refrigeration, there is almost no loss of vitamin C when juice is prepared in advance. Before going to bed at night the table is set with paper cups, paper dishes, paper plates, paper place mats and paper napkins and a cereal bar is set up where each member of the family can pick up his own package.

In the morning a goodly quantity of toast for a large family can be made all at once under the broiler while top-of-the-stove cooking is in progress. And an easy breakfast trick that is sure to be popular is the cereal and egg combination pictured above. The recipe is simple, but if your family has gourmet tastes, you can add some herbs to the cereal while heating, or a few chopped chives to the eggs.

Egg and Cereal Scramble
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1-1/2 cups rice or wheat cereal squares
6 eggs, slightly beaten
4 tablespoons water or milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper

Heat butter in skillet. Add wheat squares and turn with fork until lightly browned. Remove from skillet and keep warm. If necessary, add a small amount of extra butter. Mix eggs, water, salt and pepper. Pour into heated skillet and cook, stirring from bottom of skillet until just set. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

One suburban working mother says that as she clears the table and disposes of the paper items with one flick of the wrist, she gleefully recalls all the egg-coated plates she doesn't have to wash. A quick scalding of the coffee-maker, a whisking of the flat silver, and she is off to catch the 8:05 to her job in New York, confident of a well-fed family and a spotless kitchen.

'Nobody Here But Us Guests'

Old Chicken Coop Converted Into Handsome Guest House

AFTER—Sleek guest house above was decrepit shack, below, prior to remodeling.

Industrial designer Paul MacAlister, whose prowess in design of anything from parascals to Pullman cars is renowned from Peking to Poughkeepsie, has turned his talents to an old chicken house on his farm in Lake Bluff, Ill.

Applying many of the skills of his profession, MacAlister remodeled the crumbling structure shown in the "before" photo into the modern house in the "after" picture.

Aside from the difference in appearance between the old and the new, the two most important factors in the remodeling are compactness and cost.

Using his experience as a designer of ships and Pullman cars, MacAlister managed to fit an 18 x 15-foot living room, a den-study-bedroom, a large bathroom, dining area, kitchen, two-car garage, and workshop into 1,152 square feet, all the while maintaining a feeling of airiness and space.

Part of this feeling is accomplished with tall, sliding windows of ponderosa pine that provide maximum light and ventilation while permitting the room to "expand" outdoors. There was a cost savings here, too. These windows of ponderosa pine are available in units with frame and sash fitted together at the factory, greatly reducing the cost of installation.

MacAlister's choice of a roofing material also netted a cash savings. He selected asphalt shingles because he knew they could be applied without wasted labor. The result is a roof that will provide years of protection while it contributes a colorful, soft-textured appearance to the exterior.

Since the house was to be used as a guest home for clients, MacAlister wanted it to be comfortable in all seasons. To be sure of this, he insulated completely. Cost was not a problem here, because the designer knew that the thick mineral wool blankets would pay for themselves in fuel savings within a few years.
