LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Your newspaper has been most helpful in bringing the importance of the 1963 Christmas Seal Campaign before the public. I want to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to you and your staff for the splendid cooperation this office received in bringing before the public all of the service and information that we in the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association had available.

I know that if it had not been for your generosity in furnishing space in your paper that our job here at the TB office would have been much

We have already exceeded our last year's total of $11,818.75 and our ampaign is not officially closed until March 31, 1964.

Again, let me express our sincere thanks for the effort your office put forth to help us.

Sincerely,

C. of C. To Purchase Additional Land

At the regular monthly meeting of the Taneytown Chamber of Com-merce on Monday evening, Feb. 18, the membership directed the Executive Committee to purchase an additional tract of land abutting the industrial site presently owned by

The new land, which has been of-fered to the Chamber, contains 6.237 acres, has a 300 foot front on Feeser Road, and is immediately adjacent to the railroad. The addition of this land will give the industrial site a 600 foot front on Feeser Road and bring the total acreage to approximately 14 acres. Past industrial contacts have acres. Past industrial contacts have complained that the old site was too small. The 14 acres, it is felt, will be quite adequate for the needs of most any industry that might be desirous of locating in Taneytown.

Mr. Harry LaBonte, the new manager of the Reindollar Co., was a guest of President Dunham at this meeting.

President Dunham reported on the aims, plans, and membership of the Carroll County Industrial and Economic Commission of which he is the President. It is anticipated this Commission, through their coordinated mission, through their coordinated eforts, will do much to attract new industry to Carroll County. Another aim of the Commission is to promote tourism in Carroll County. This can be a lucrative asset to any locality. A display, aimed at attracting tourists, is being prepared, under the auspices of the Commission, for display in the Maryland pavillion at the forthcoming World's Fair in New York.

President Dunham expressed his gratification for the good turnout at this meeting and challenged the membership to continue turning out in good numbers for the Chamber

Fire Auxiliary Meets

All members will be solicited for donations. It will be requested that baked items be in by 8:30 A. M. for the sale which begins at 9:00 A. M. It was also voted that the Auxiliary entertain the Firemen and families at a Pot Luck Sup-per some time in the near future. The auditing committee reported all books to be in order. It was voted to pay both state and county dues. There will be an election of delegates to the County Convention at the next meeting. The business meeting closed with prayer by Chaplain Belva Putman. Refreshments were served by a committee of Ethel Harmon, Janet Parrish and Edna Hess.

Founders Day Observance

Foundary Day Feb 17 co rates the day when the P.-T.A. idea took on the force and vitality of a nationwide movement. For it was on that day in 1897 that some 2,000 perwelfare of children and the manifold interests of the home.

They met in response to the call of Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst. And when they left they had brought into being a naional organization dedicated to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children in home, school, church and community-an organization that was to grow in strength and influence and make a deep imprint on American life.

In 1910, Mrs. David O. Mears, one of the original members of the con-gress, suggested that Founders Day should always be observed as a sig nificant anniversary by the National Congress—and by everyone concerned with the needs of children and youth. Each year since then P.-T.A. members have honored the Founders.

SOCIAL SECURITY FOR FARMERS

Self-employed farmers are virtually assured social security protection for themselves and their dependents by a special provision in the social security law according to R. W. Hughes, social security District Manager, and Irving Machiz, District Di-

Mr. Hughes stated that farm owners and operators who have a gross ers and operators who have a gross income as little as $600 a year can get social security credit by using an optional method for figuring their net annual earnings.

"Now, before filing annual Federal income tax returns," said Mr. Machiz, "is a good time for farm owners and operators to familiarize themselves with the optional method for figuring earnings in years when the profit is low. This is time well-spent."

Mr. Machiz summarized the optional provision as follows:

(1) If a farmer's gross income is at least $600, but less than $1800, he has the option of counting either his actual net or two-thirds of his gross farm income for social security credit.

farm income for social security credit.
(2) If the gross farm income is more than $1800 and net farm earnings are less than $1200, a farmer may use either his actual net earnings or $1200; if a farmer's gross income exceeds $1800 and net farm earnings are $1200 or more, he must use the actual amount of his earnings.

Mr. Hughes said that the option enables farmers with low incomes to enables farmers with low incomes to obtain credit toward social security retirement and disability benefits as well as survivor benefits for their families in the event of untimely death. He emphasized, however, that a farmer must declare net earnings of at least $400 (whether the actual net earnings or the optional method is used) to get social security credit for the year.

MEETING OF CARROLL COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

A regular meeting of the Carroll County Board of Education was held in the offices of the Board on Feb. 12, 1964, at 9:30 A. M. President De-Vries R. Hering presided for the meeting and all members were pres-ent except Mrs. Margaret R. Marsh who was absent because of a visit to ent except Mrs. Margaret R. Marsh who was absent because of a visit to the West Coast.

Action was taken to approve the minutes of the January meeting and approval was given for the incorporation of the financial statement and the current bills into the record.

The Board was advised that because of changes related to the adoption of the fiscal year by the County it was necessary to submit a budget to the County Commissioners for the operation of schools for the year beginning July 1, 1964. The budget covers the operation of schools during the period July 1, 1964, to June 30, 1965. The Board heard reports from the auditing firm represented by Mr. Paul Wooden and, after consideration, action was taken to submit the budget as recommended to the County Commissioners placing it in their hands, as requested, by March 1, 1964. The budget, as submitted, anticipates favorable action in the State Legislature on the aid to education now under consideration. The effect of the passage of the bill will have substantial influence on the necessary appropriations from local sources. The Superintendent was authorized to carry on necessary negotiations Superintendent was authorized to carry on necessary negotiations in connection with the adoption and approval of the budget by the County Commissioners.

The Board approved teaching contracts with Mr. Robert Walters, service to begin February 1, 1964; Mrs. Lois Shriner Knights, to return to service; Mrs. Elinor Causey, Mrs. Norma Barnhart and Mrs. Donna D. Connors as replacements. Approval was also given for the employment of new teachers for service in 1964-65: Linda E. Myers, Barbara O. Davidson, Jeanne S. Arnold.

Approval was given for the employment of Mrs. Jean Grossnickle as a school secretary and Miss Fay Davis on a temporary basis in a similar position.

The resignations of Mrs. Lois Poole, secretary at Key High School and William Atwater, teacher at the Francis Scott Key High School were approved. Miscellaneous modifications and adastments in connection with salaries of personnel were given approval. The Board approved the separation from service in the case of Dale F.

Leese.

The Board heard a report in connection with adjustments in personnel in the field of maintenance.

Consideration was given to the acceptance of a contract for the construction of the new track at the Westminster High School. Decision of the Board was to withhold action on the contract pending some further attempt to secure competitive prices.

The Board heard a report from the Superintendent that research in the form of questionnaires had been distributed and returned. The purpose of this research was to discover to what extent employment of parents on federal locations affected the school enrollment and whether or not the school system could be eligible for the school system could be as pro-assistance from federal funds as provided for in public law 874. The Board was advised that provisions of the law require that three per cent of the school population be federally connected and the study revealed that the number of eligible pupils was not sufficient to qualify for public law

The Board approved correspondence addressed to the County Commissioners and the County Legislators seeking support for school aid legislation popularly known as the Hughes report now under consideration in Annapolis. The position of the Board may be rather definitely described as entirely favorable to the proposed legislation. Additional state funds would be available for improvement and expansion of the school program.

The Board gave consideration to several pieces of correspondence related to policies and directed that appropriate replies be made.

"GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS"

TOWANDA, PA., REVIEW: "Our nation was built and has been maintained on a strong spiritual base. Many of our forebearers came here for freedom to worship as they pleased. Now after nearly 200 years of that freedom, the Supreme Court apparently feels the right not to worship is more important. Encouraged by the Supreme Court, the American Civil Liberties Union now seeks to bar students from a mandatory Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag unless the phrase 'Under God' is removed. . . . An attack has been made against the singing of the hymn 'America' at school-opening exercises. Bills have been introduced in Congress to remove our motto from coins and currency. All these simply carry the Supreme Court's decision to its logical conclusions."

WADENA, MINN., PIONEER JOURNAL: "The price of gasoline in Cuba has been increased from 34 cents to 60 cents a gallon 'in the interest of the national economy', according to a news dispatch from Mavana. That 60-cent price is twice as high as the average United States gallon of gasoline including taxes, and three times the cost of a U. S. gallon before taxes. Castro said the price hike provides a new avenue for Cubans to make a greater contribution to progress. According to reports from newsmen who have visited Cuba recently, a little more Castro-type 'progress' may put the island out of business entirely.'

SOMERSET, KY., JOURNAL: "It may be difficult to predict the exact crats' next move but you can safely bet that it will involve expansion of the federal government's control over the affairs of states and communities. Just when you think that the limit has been reached, that the bureaucrats could not possibly find any new areas for encroachment, they spring up with a barrage of new regulatory moves."

DENT AMERICAN: "Ten years ago, the U. S. Army revealed that more than 6,000 American servicemen had been murdered, tortured, starved or subjected to other bestial treatment by their Communist captors during the Korean War. How quickly we forget. . . . . .

WALTERBORO, S. C., PRESS AND STANDARD: "Continual demands are made for economies and efficiency on governmental operations. But when the government tries to institute economies and efficiency the people complain bitterly, and all the politicians raise continual howls of anguish. As a result the government is dammed if it tries to economize, and dammed if it does not . . . so many of the government's financial problems are caused by pork barrel projects, such as unnecessary water projects, dams, roads and the like, which are purely political favors and done for campaign purposes, until these are stopped there can be no true economy."

CORONA DEL MAR, CALIF. ENSIGN: "Let us resolve to remain steadfast in our faith, and to remain true to the ideal of American patriotism, which is the conviction that our country is a Christian nation, a constitutional republic with a free enterprise, capitalistic economy, the only hope for preserving individual liberty and defeating Godless con.

NASHVILLE, TENN., NAT. BAP-TIST UNION-REVIEW: "We cannot find in the record of prehistoric, ancient or modern history, not even among man's best laws, the answer for the security of life, property or liberty. Kingdoms and empires wane and fall. Civilizations appear with great promise and then, apparently, automatically disappear. . . , It is cold miseries. You don't wait hours here believed that man's attempt to between doses for quick, effective acinterpret life in terms of material tion. NOW at Taneytown Pharmacy. things divorces him from the creative make him secure."

PORT HURON, MICH., TIMES HERALD: "The Santa Claus legend persists in America. We're not talking about the children's Santa who distributes gifts to good boys and girls at Christmas time; we're talking about Uncle Sam . . . who distributes gifts and grants and loans to 'good' communities throughout the year. . . . We have said it before and we say it again: There is nothing magic about giving our money a trip to Washington, then having part of it returned to us on the basis of political as well as economic considerations. Uncle Sam is no Santa Claus."

How to save money like clockwork

[ even if you're short on willpower ]

Hanging on to some of your earnings can be as easy as winding your watch. Just tell your employer you want to join the Payroll Savings Plan. Then sit back and forget about it.

Every payday, he'll set aside a few dollars from your paycheck (you say how many), and put them towards the purchase of a U.S. Savings Bond.

Pretty soon you'll have some big dough stashed away. No strain. It's all automatic—and dependable as Big Ben.

Millions of your fellow Americans save billions of dollars this way, so you know it works. What's more, you help your country as you get richer, which should give you a nice red, white, and blue feeling.

Take a minute and talk to your employer this payday. See if it isn't time well spent.

Keep freedom in your future with

American Revolution at the Fair

A scale model of The Continental Insurance Companies' pavilion at the New York World's Fair. The pavilion will provide the setting for the re-creation of great moments of the American Revolution.

Musket shots, folksongs, and life-like dioramas will help recreate great moments of the American Revolution at the New York World's Fair.

Visitors to the Continental Insurance Pavilion will be greeted by CINEMA '76, a musical screen show that will be rear projected onto a huge outdoor projected onto a huge outdoor screen on the front of the building. Both well-known and little-known heroes of the American Revolution will comprise the cast in the animated color-slide cast in the animated color-slide presentation, and original folk-songs will/tell their stories.

It is expected that Timothy Murphy, the first double-barrelled rifleman, will gain long-awaited fame...as will Deborah Sampson, the only woman who enlisted as a man in the Continental Army. Other characters in the cast are Baron von Steuben, Henry Knox, John Glover, Allan McLane and, of course, George Washington. CINEMA '76's theme song will honor the original GI, the Continental Soldier.

After witnessing this fresh view of the people who waged and won the battle for freedom, visitors will enter the exhibit hall, there to be greeted by a life-sized color transparency of an authentic Continental Soldier. Animated "in-the-round" dioramas will continue the dramatization of notable events of the Revolution, as will a gal-lery of oil paintings from Continental Insurance's own historical collection. Events represented in the di-oramas and paintings include the winter encampment at Valley Forge; the battles of Bennington, Sullivan's Island, Saratoga, Bunker Hill, and Saratoga, Bunker Hill, and Yorktown; and the naval en-gagement between the Serapis and the Bon Homme Richard. Visitors will depart with vivid impressions of Paul Revere, Sergeant William Jasper, John Paul Jones, Generals Burgoyne, Gates and Stark, Francis Mar-ion, Colonel William Prescott and of course, the CINEMA '76

The flowers on the altar of Keysville Lutheran Church were lovely on Sunday (especially so, I thought). They were two pink "glad" sprays and two pink carnations with greens and two pink carnations with greens in each of the two vases. Beautiful! We were also fortunate in having Kenneth Reifsnider as guest soloist. He sang "The Twenty-Third Psalm." What a marvelous voice he has! Sincere good wishes to Mrs. George Decere good wishes to Mrs. Berry of Hampstead on the 21st, Danny Wilhide of Keysville Road on the 22nd, Mrs. Charles (Hazel) Stonesifer of Keysville on the 24th, and Mrs. Charles (Hazel) Cluts, who is still at Western Maryland Hospital n Hagerstown, on the 25th. The 5th is also the wedding anniversary 25th is also the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cluts as well as the anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil (Bob) Priest of Forest and Stream Club Road, and our congratulations to them. Do wish I could tell you real good news about Mrs. Cluts but Mr. Cluts told me Sunday she is "just about the same." Guess it isn't really "cricket" to wish oneself a happy birthday, but I share the day with Mrs. Cluts anyway.

Family dinner on Sunday at "Bob" Priest home on Forest and Stream Club Road with daughters and families: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schott and Martha of Starner's Dam and Mr. and Mrs. Newell Devilbiss and Jeffrey of New Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar near Taneytown also had a family dinner.

Taneytown also had a family dinner on Sunday with parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar and

Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar and Randy near Detour, and sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wildisan and Kevin of Westminster.

Last Friday was a rather sad day for the Weishaar family for their old gray goose, "Bobby," died. "Bobby" was 16 years old, which seems quite ancient for a goose. Anyone know the age comparison to a human for the age comparison to a human for geese? My contact with "Bobby" and her mate "Jerry" was to "stay clear," but they were definitely pets to the Weishaars and good "watch-dogs" too, I understand, so she will certainly be missed for they had had her since she hatched.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gill, daughter Linda and her schoolmate, Mary Cockey, of White Hall visited with relatives in the area on Saturday of the Cockey, of White Hall visited with relatives in the area on Saturday afternoon. Robert V. Johnson, pastor.

As my news letter is short this week I thought that you would enjoy reading this little story by a 94 year old Presbyterian preacher, on the Art Linkletter program several weeks ago. Maybe you heard him and weeks ago. him celebrate, they too had good things to eat, ice cream and cake; both were a complete surprise. Those who took part in this special occasion from Friday until Sunday were: Mr. Fred Fowble and friend of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bowman of Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bankard and sons, Noah, Arthur and Sargent, Pearl Walbeck of Emmitsburg; Mrs. Carroll Hively of Taneytown Mrs. Herman Eyler and daughter, Bonnie of Baust Church; Harvey Dickensheets and sister, Jennie and Mr. Maurce Hoss. Mr. and Mrs. Babylon had celebrated their 59th Wedding Anniversary the 29 th of Decem ber; they moved to this farm in 1912. Up until a couple of years ago Mr. Babylon has done all his own farming, with the aid of his mules, but in the past year he had some help with tractors, but on different occasions was seen in the field trudging along behind his mules with a harrow or some other implement from one end of the field to the other. This farm has been given the name by passer-bys' as the "Mule Farm." Two of his fields run along the highway leading from Westminster to Taneytown. Pictures have been taken by people from all over the country of Mr. Babylon and his mules while working in these fields. Mr. and Mrs. Babylon are both able to get around and enjoy some of the pleasures of life. They both have worked very hard over the years to make their home a very beautiful place. Besides farming the ground they had milk cows from which they cream and made butter, which was Mrs. Babylon's project besides raising a lot of chickens; these chores and lots of others, along side of cooking and entertaining, each had taken their share of work. Mr. Babylon thanks all for the lovely cards he received and thanks all that helped in other ways in making his birthday the greatest and most pleasant ever. It all was greatly appreciated.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Selby were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Merhl Crumbacker, Rev. Wilbur Whalen, Mrs. Wm. Stitely, Mrs. Ruth Long, and Mrs. Jacob Hahn. Mrs. Selby has been ill for the past three weeks. She was taken to the Annie Wennen her. was taken to the Annie Warner hospital, Gettysburg, for treatments; we

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

For as long as we can remember people have been complaining about not having enough leisure time. But we know several persons with all the leisure time anyone could wish for and they complain that they are bored to death and wish for something to do. An article in Life magazine this week warns all of us that the future holds more leisure time for all of us than ever before. Sometime in the not too distant future automation is going to reduce the work week in in going to reduce the work week in in-dustry to at least 4 days per week and maybe to 3. What are we going to do with all this time away from a regular job? A great number of con-cerned men and women are trying to find the answer. Travel is one answer but it takes money for that much more than the average person has; and who wants to be a wanderer in a strange land very long? We had a letter from a friend last week complaining that since her husband has retired, her life had been completely demorplized. He is constantly pletely demoralized. He is constantly complaining, and finding fault with the way she runs the house and has even broken up her Bridge Club with his interfering. She became ill and the family doctor told her husband that his retirement would kill both of them unless he found something to do with his leisure time. Many are facing the same dilemma and many more will join the group. This is just more will join the group. This is just another new problem to solve in the fast changing economic life of our country. The resourceful person will be able to fill his life with a hobby or a hidden talent in music or painting but a person that depends upon others for direction will be lost. We already are reaping the fruits of discontent among our youthful citizens with too much leisure. Must we reap the same kind of harvest with reap the same kind of harvest with our older citizens when they too, have more leisure than they know what to do with? All of us should start thinking about this before we join the common of discontented time kills. the army of discontented, time-killing and mal-adjusted leisure class.

The Good News Club is often mentioned in the local papers. The name is challenging and we often wished more was said about the functions of the group. One can imagine how exciting it must be to enjoy a Club where only "good news" is discussed. Of course a steady diet of happy things can become as tiring as bad news, but a change of pace once a month must be very satisfying and delightful.

We watched a "High Fashion" showing on television Sunday night and learned for the first time how much talent, time and money goes in to designing women's clothes. Men are the best fashion-setters, though at times women have to wonder what they have in mind most of the time, since their original costumes are not practical nor beautiful. We were practical nor beautiful. We were amazed at the physical endurance of the models, for most of them looked like they needed two servings of oatmeal plus ham and eggs. But they patiently stood while the designer remade the servings they were made the servings. patiently stood while the designer remade the costume they were wearing four or five and sometimes ten times before he was satisfied. Women everywhere should feel flattered that so much attention is given to making them look beautiful or ridiculous or silly or cophisticated. Only one feels silly or sophisticated. Only one fashion editor complained about the styles. They are all designed for the thin, bony and anemic type woman. Why can't just one person give the mature, healthy and slightly rounded woman a break in the fashion race? There was a period in the fashion world when this type woman was a "belle of the ball." When did they get the idea that for fashion a woman must resemble a tent pole without the tent? Be that as it may out the tent? Be that as it may, Paris has spoken and Paris has the first and last word in telling the women what to wear and how to wear it. The women like it and blindly follow the advise and styles, just to look like other women.

We are in the midst of another Lenten season, which for Christians means giving up meat or some other food or pleasure. Fasting is not only practiced by Christians but by most all religions in one form or another. Many of the ancient ideas on fasting was mixed up with folklore, and to-day some of them seem ridiculous. For instance, the Greeks fasted until they became delirious from lack of food, believing that the visions they saw were a direct communication with God. Even primitive tribes fasted at times almost for the same reasons as the Greeks. Moslems fast during the day but gorge after the sun goes down until sunrise. The Pilgrims did not go in for fasting. They went to the other extreme that of feasting. Most of us today must all be descendants of the Pilgrims for to show our appreciation of any event we fill our table with food and have a feast. Fasting is not always used as a religious est not always used as a religious act. Gandhi used it as a political weapon and others have lately followed his example for the same reason. The very latest use of fasting is by overweight people who want to pounds in the shortest possible time. A nursery school teacher recently handed one of her five-year-olds a magazine and suggested he cut out a picture of something he thought his father would like. The lad flipped the pages and when he found what he was looking for, he jabbed the scissors into the page and clipped out a colored picture. He handed it to the teacher and the teacher almost lost her composure. It was a picture of a bottle of Four Roses blended whiskey.

President Johnson is saving on the White House electric light bill by turning off all unnecessary lights but we bet that the telephone bill is higher than ever for Mr. Johnson is firm baliavan in the familiar ad a firm believer in the familiar ad line "a telephone call is the next best thing to being there." And we agree to that.

Jeff, our German Shepherd, is still classed as a pup, although he is as big as a good sized calf. But his ways are that of a puppy for he still likes anything from carpet to slippers to chew on. He has no idea of his own size for he still thinks he can sit in the same chair with you or romn through the house even though he makes the walls and floor vibrate. His coloring is black and gold and sometime we think he knows how beautiful he is for he sits and poses for a minute without moving. His intelligence is uncanny for you can fool him once but never the second time with the same trick. But a dog is just like a child. It takes plenty of love and plenty of hard discipline to make them obedient and useful. Spring is on the way but don't drain the antifreeze from your radi ators just yet.

-Ruth Roelke.

HERE AT WOOD BURN

February may be the shortest month of the year, but it is also the most fickle. One day is sunny and almost spring-like, while the next brings a howling blizzard. Here at Wood Burn we have been rether Wood Burn we have been rather fortunate weather-wise, for the lane fortunate weather-wise, for the lane has only drifted shut one day this winter. In previous years, we have been cut off from the outside world for almost a full week and have been without electricity in the bargain. Perhaps I had better not boast, however, for February is still not over and March is capable of producing some vicious snow storms in this area. Most of us right about now are heartily tired of winter and the sooner spring comes the better. sooner spring comes the better.
"Hercules," our jolly kitchen stove, may outwardly appear small, but he has an enormous firebox and an appetite to match. The colder the weather the more wood he noisily weather the more wood he noisily devours, as red-faced with exertion, he labors mightily to keep the old farmhouse kitchen warm and cozy. Consequently, our woodpile diminishes at an alarming rate and must be constantly replenished. "Hercules" is doing a commendable job in keeping us comfortable on these blustery. ng us comfortable on these blustery

One bright morning last week, I noticed our sprightly flock of bantam chickens pecking about in the yard. The roosters' glossy tails waved in the breeze like miniature banners, while the dainty hens chirped contentedly to one another. On several occasions I have spotted the little band around by the bird feeder, where they feast happily on stray birdseed. Bantams are really of little practical use insofar as meat and eggs are concerned. We keep them merely because they are such pretty little things, and we like to see them around.

The mischievous red feline, "Rusty," caught her (up until now I have mistakenly used the pronouns "he" and "his") first mouse the other day, but not being wise in the ways of mice, she let her quarry escape. Before making a getavey the mouse mice, she let her quarry escape. Be-fore making a getaway, the mouse reared up on its hind legs and tried to bite Rusty's nose, much to that cat's chagrin. Perhaps she'll have better luck on the next mouse-catching adventure.

A friend of mine from Lancaster, Pa., who is a devoted reader of The Carroll Record, offers another practical use for contact paper. She writes, "I recently discarded my motley assortment of hat boxes and covered large empty fruit juice cans with contact paper. I then slipped each hat into a plastic bag, or covered larger ones with plastic from the cleaners, and placed them on their new hat racks in full view out to new hat racks in full view on the closet shelf. To gain space, I made several hat racks two cans tall." She adds that she is going to cover her son's radio, which is dark brown and shows the dust readily. Perhaps some more of my readers may have other suggestions along these If so, I would like to hear about them, and will put the best ideas in my column.

Now that the Lenten season is upon us, many homemakers are faced with the task of serving meatless meals. If this is your problem, by all means make full use of cheese. It is easy on the budget, and no other single food comes in so many varieties, shapes and flavors. In the March edition of "Family Circle" there is an excellent chart, giving the kinds of cheese, their descriptions, flavors and uses. Incidentally, hope that all of my homemaker I hope that all of my homemaker friends are acquainted with this delightful magazine, which costs only 15¢ and which is chockfull of ideas for foods, fashions, decorating, beauty hints, childcare, health, and whathave-you. "Family Circle" may be purchased at your Acme food market. I hope that all of you are attending the church of your choice each Sunday. We in this nation enjoy many day. We in this nation enjoy many freedoms, but there is none more precious than freedom of religion. Let us never take this great privilege for granted!

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

"Many people have more protection under social security than they realize," according to R. W. Hughes, social security district manager in Baltimore. "We are continually surprised by the number of people who still think of social security only in terms of retirement benefits," he said.

Actually, retired workers account for little more than half of these on the total benefit rolls. The younger worker has the reassurance of knowing that his social security contributions will also provide monthly benefits for his widow and minor children in case of his death. These can total as much as $254 a month. Nearly half a million widows under 62 are receiving those monthly benefits for themselves and the more than 2 million children in their care.

"Disability payments are one of the more recent aspects of the social security program. The majority of the people we talk to know there is such a program, but many have a hazy understanding of its provisions," Mr. Hughes said. "In order to qualify for disability benefits, a worker must be unable to do any substantial work and must have worked under social security for at least five of the ten years before becoming disabled." Monthly benefits are payable to the disabled worker if all the requirements are met, as well as to his children under age 18 and his wife.

"Retirement is a much more pleasant prospect to contemplate of course," said Mr. Hughes, "and practically everybody knows that we make payments when the worker reaches age 65. Not everyone knows, though, that a worker can retire on a reduced benefit as early as 62 and that his wife can also qualify when she is that age. And if he has children under 18, payments can be made to them. and to his wife, even if she isn't 62.' Carroll County residents may obtain further information by contact-

THE WAY I SEE IT ...

Observations on the World of Sports

On our travels around the Carroll County circuit during the past sea-son's basketball wars it would seem appropriate that we name an All-Star team. This is a different type of All-Star list in that we completely ignored the scoring leaders and concentrated on the individual as an all around player; his value to his team, how he reacted when the chips were down, his cooperation with the bas-ketball officials and so on. We believe that we have a fair listing of the very best that this county has to offer. And so, here is the 1963-64 Carroll County Basketball All-Star

First Team — Cullen Banks, Robert Moton; Kin Wright, Francis Scott Key; Elmer Osborn, North Carroll; Ray Blanton, Mount Airy; Greg Ray Blanton, Mount Airy; Greg Goodman, St. John's. Second Team — Jack Crawmer, Francis Scott Key; John Miller, North Carroll; Jim Linton, Mount Airy; Dennis Shifflett, Sykesville; Joe Lewis, Robert Moton.

I believe that you will find this a very different list, in that many of the above men do not have high scoring averages, but we believe that their value to the team effort (re-bounding, assists, etc.) warrant that they make the All-Star team.

On to Baseball - The tall slugger of the San Francisco Giants, Willie McCovey, has had a little trouble hitting southpaws in the past but thinks he might do better this year. Willie, a left-handed hitter, wears the ball out batting against right-handers but lefties are something else again. He says that one reason for his poor showing last year was the fact that all too often in the past he was platooned and did not get a chance to swing against southpaws.

To give you an idea of how one-sided McCovey's hitting was last year he had an over-all batting average of He touched right-handers for a .303 average and was no better than .220 versus southpaws. His 44 home runs tied him with Hank Aaron for the National League lead. He hit 36 of those against right-handers and only eight against lefties. Willie says this season will prove whether he can hit southpaws, and he thinks he can.

at bat he would have hit five or more homers. Willie had a terrific slump in August and doesn't know how to account for it. It wasn't battle fatigue. He came back strong in September. In July McCovey hit 13 home runs in 24 straight games and drove in 27 runs. In August he hit only three homers and at one stage Called a Co-op for made only two hits in 41 at bats. club like a free agent. What have club like a free agent. What hap-pened this winter was simply this, Myron Wilhide, Carl E. Weant, Luth pened this winter was simply this, the Giants could not afford to keep Pierce on the roster because it would Hess. mean bumping another younger man off. So they gave him his unconditional release and told him to make a deal for himself if he could. Bill tried at the winter meetings in Los Angeles and did get feelers from two American League clubs but both teams wanted him on a trial basis.

In short, no contract. The Giants had told Billy he could come to camp on the same basis. So, thinking of Candlestick Park and its gusty winds which favor southpaws, Pierce decided to stick with Giants. You might remember that in 1962, two short years ago, he went unbeaten in 13 games in Candlestick. He also won a World Series game from the Yankees. But his over-all record of 16 and six for the Giants in '62 faded to three and eleven last year. And it was believed in many places, that Pierce was finished as a big league pitcher. However, Billy himself isn't convinced. The hitters will have to do that for him. Perhaps they can. They'll get the chance on the exhibition circuit this spring.

SOUTHERN STATES REGIONAL BOARD MEETING HELD

Southern States Cooperative's dolar volume in its purchasing division or the first six months of the 1963-64 fiscal year showed a 4.8 per cent increase over the same period last year, but net savings were down

This information was contained in a reported presented by M. A. Tom-linson, Manager, Retail Operations, of the cooperative, to members at a regional board meeting held in Westminster on Feb. 18.

These sessions—there are 47 of them being held in a five-state area are held annually by the cooperative Tomlinson told the session that volume for the purchasing division stood at $44,640, 061 for the first half of the fiscal year as compared to $42,-595,350 a year ago. In marketing, volume was 4,533,160, down 11.8 per cent from a year ago, with only egg marketing showing an increase. Poultry marketing volume was down, as was the marketing of grain. The dip in grain marketing reflected both curtailment of small grain production through government programs and two years of severe drought in much

In helping farmers ride out the drought disaster, Tomlinson pointed out that Southern States has supplied farmers with more than 25,000 tons of feed at reduced costs during the first six months of the fiscal year. In addition, a considerable volume of seed was made available at cost in the drought areas. Total cost of this drought aid program during the six months period was about $100,000. Also during the same period the cooperative shipped 43,621 tons of hay at out-of-pocket cost to stricken farmers.

of the cooperative's operating ter-

Increases were reported in feed, seed, petroleum and miscellaneous farm supplies, while fertilizer volume dipped slightly.

Net savings for the period reached about $550,000 for the six months period, down from the $730,000 reached a year ago.

In pointing out the sound financial condition of the cooperative, Tomlinson told members that the organization has about $6.00 of current assets for each $1 of current debt. One of the highlights of the meeting was a discussion on "Meeting the Changing Credit Needs of Farmers Today," by a special credit panel Today," by a special credit panel. The panel was composed of J. Herbert Snyder, representing the Production Credit Association of Frederick; Vernon Beal, a representative of the Union National Bank of Westminster, and Joseph Jones of Westminster, representing the Farmers Home Administration. ## A Festive Wine-Basted Turkey

Roast turkey is a handsome centerpiece at any festive neal. This bird — beautifully glazed on the outside, moist and to der on the inside — qualifies for the highest praise. A very simple wine-butter baste treatment is all that's necessary to produce those qualities most desired in roast turkey. The pink Cailfornia Rosé wine used in the baste is also an excellent choice to serve as the mealtime beverage. This recipe was developed for junior-size (six to eight-pound) turkeys, but needs only to be doubled for a larger bird.

ROAST TURKEY ROSÉ (About 8 servings)

1 (6 to 8-pound) turkey ½ cup butter or margarine ½ cup California Rosé wine

Prepare turkey for roasting. Rub skin with cut lime and some of the butter. Place in roasting pan and cover (use aluminum feil if pan does not have cover) Roast in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 1 hour. Melt remaining butter, add wine and juice from lime. Remove cover from turkey and roast 1 hour longer or until tender, rasting frequently with butter-wine mixture.

Unforgiven Lesson for February 23, 1964

Background Scripture: Luke 7:36-50. Devotional Reading: Ephesians 1:3-14.

THREE PEOPLE met together I that afternoon. There was a crowd in the room but all we know of the story is just what these three persons said and did. If artists had not painted it many times it would seem very strange to us. There the guests were at the long tables, only lying down, not sitting up straight as we do. No women were guests, but according to custom the outer doors were not kept locked, and

Dr. Foreman apparently any one could wander in. The guests were all barefooted; they had kicked off their sandals as a man here would remove his hat. Suddenly a woman, no respectable woman either, appeared behind the place where one of the guests reclined, and began to act in a way which even then seemed more than odd, wetting the guest's feet with tears, wiping them dry with her long hair, pouring on his feet ointment from a beautiful white flask. The woman's name we do not know, for Luke who tells the story was a gentleman; the host was named Simon and the guest was Jesus.

The mind of Simon Why Simon had invited Jesus we do not know; perhaps from curiosity. He had not treated Jesus with even common courtesy, so we know Jesus was not the guest of honor by any means. Simon had an unpleasant mind. At that moment he was thinking sour thoughts about Jesus and the woman. For her he had no kind thoughts. All he knew about her was her reputation, and that was all he wanted to know. He thought all those tears etcetera were just an act. He was ready to believe the worst about her, not anything good For Jesus, Simon also had only contempt in his mind. The reason for this was that Jesus did not seem to despise the woman as Simon did. Either Jesus knew this woman for what she was, or he didn't. If he did, then he was wicked for letting her touch him. If he didn't, then he was a fool. That was the way Simon's mind operated: believe no good about any one. The mind of a woman

The woman did not say a word from beginning to end. If asked what she was thinking, she might not have been able to make a sensible answer. But Simon could not see what Jesus say woman was passing through a crisis. Her tears spoke for her. Tears for the wasted years; tears for the sins she had done, for the life she had lived; tears perhaps because she could not turn the clock back and begin life where she had first left the right road who knows how long ago? Tears for her weakness, for resolutions broken, for shame and for sorrow. She hated what she had been. But she had heard of Jesus. Just the word that he would be there, had brought her to seek him.

The mind of Jesus Jesus knew what was in the mind of Simon, and what was in the mind of the woman. It is said that Jesus "answered" Simon, though Simon had not spoken a word, only "talking to himself." And he knew what was in the woman's mind, he knew the tears were not acting, they were real; he knew why the woman cried; and though she had not opened her mouth he knew what she really wanted. Did she know, herself? We may believe she did. She wanted to be at peace with God. Happiness, yes, but above all, peace. She knew, if only in a dim confused kind of way, that she had cut herself off from womenfor women despise such a woman more than men do; she had cut herself off from clean people, cut herself off from respectable society. But what she wanted was not respectability, it was peace. And so Jesus—who knew not only the mind of men and women, but the mind of God-said the healing word: Your sins are forgiven . . . go in peace. Simon was a Pharisee, and pharisees led sheltered lives. His sins may have been far fewer than the woman's. But Jesus could not say to Simon, Your sins are forgiven. Simon had no tears for his sins, no repentance. And God does not send his peace to those who do not want it. (Based on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. Released by Community Press
