He spoke on the topic "Promotional Development of the Elementary School Child." Dr. Miller stated the first six years of a child's life are the years in which he should feel he is wanted and needs lots of loving and careful watching. A child in the first and second grades proves to be very obedient and sees everything exactly as the teacher tells him. In the grades of three, four and five your child is in the exploring age and a very vital part of his life is to be with him and to teach him how to work on his level as well as play. The ages of six to eleven are known as the years of development and it is important to expose him to many vocations of life, whether it be trips or factory visits. It is very important to be patient with your child and to teach him by working with him at home or school.

Dr. Miller answered several questions after which Mrs. Clingan thanked him for his most inspiring message in the Development of the School Child.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Now, there it goes again! "Pain, pain, headache pain, tension, fatigue, pain, etc." Many state that they get a pain just looking and listening to it but I really, "Ha Ha!" aloud!

Bobby is playing with his shadow and talking as he jumps around! Did you hear on the Amateur Show last evening, the big applause when a young man of a trio was asked, "What he thought of the Beatles?" "Well, Mr. Mack, where we come from most people step on them!" Cute? Then hearing and seeing the gentleman on the Groucho show who had a very kind face stating he was living high up on a mountain alone! When Groucho asked him if he killed any animals, he replied, "The only time I do, if I am cold so as I can make a coat, otherwise I do not kill!" I wish he would have talked much more about himself as one could learn plenty from his quiet life.

Up to date Mrs. Oswald has received just $68,000 and that is not taxable either! She stated that she hoped she could show the Americans in some way, some day how much she appreciates it!

In Sweden, a 12th child was born to a couple but that is not strange but the big surprise was that the father is 83 and his wife is 40!

How wonderful to have a President who loves the Art of dancing! No wonder he appears as 42 instead of 55! Eh? Betcha, that "Dancing Business" will be bigger than ever now all over these United States!

This following is an old saying but it is cute nevertheless. A little city girl visiting the farm, gazing upon the cows in the field said, "Isn't it strange, a cow eats grass which is green and it is a black cow and her milk is white and the butter yellow!"

And here is still a cute one. A little boy, six years old, was going up to the top of the Empire State Building in New York with his father. As the elevator shot by the 75th floor, the boy asked his father, "Does God know we're coming?"

Now, the following by a man named Halford E. Lucock. The surest indication of what kind of a person you are is to be found—hold your breath—among the stubs of your old check books! A man who has written many biographies made that discovery. He noted that it was easy to find out what a man said and what he had done, but when it came to finding out what kind of a man he really was, the biographer was up a stump. Then he discovered that the surest way to get the truth was to look at the old check books and glance through the stubs. What a man gives money for—that tells the tale! If a man's giving is regular and proportionate, the records of his financial transactions say: This man really cares. But if his giving is haphazard or inadequate compared to other expenditures, the check book says: This man won't even put God and His work on a level with the butcher, the baker, and the candlestick maker which today is the electric light company. Regular giving is necessary to make our lives part of the dependable force of God in the world. People may say that pledging is mechanical. Some say, "I like to give on impulse," how sweet! But tell that to the grocer. He's not so fond of it. Tell it to the tax collector. He won't stand for it. Regular giving means putting God on at least as high a level as the supermarket. Unless we make a definite pledge, God merely gets the leftovers and often there isn't very much left over. Tithing is a dependable way of giving a substantial amount. Tithing is a way of life. Think it over and know the big results, folks.

The other day I met a little aged lady, Mrs. Sattie Strong, who was one of the seamstresses who worked on the wedding gown of Alice Roosevelt who married Nicholas Longworth in the White House, the daughter of the so called, "Teddy Roosevelt." She added how thrilled she was that she cut a small curl from her hair and sewed it in the hem of that famous gown! The building where the gown was made was on N. Charles Street, "Bartons," where Bowen and King company now operates their optical business. Mrs. Longworth is living in Washington, D. C.

Have a grand week-end, folks and remember always in "GIVING—YOU ARE LIVING!"

Until next week D. V.

I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

Tell Me Another

He was sitting at the bar downing one after another and laughing boisterously. Every so often, as he mumbled to himself, he would hold up his hand in protest. Finally the bartender's curiosity got the better of him. "What are you doing?" he asked. "I'm telling myself jokes."

"But why the hand in the air?" "Oh, that's when I stop me. I've heard it."

LET'S GET OUT AND GO!

Every year about this time, as we think about putting away the snow shovel and oiling the lawnmower, most of us start daydreaming about making this year's vacation trip the greatest ever.

After sticking close to our jobs most of the year, it is only natural to want to pack the family into the car and take off for the mountains, the beach, the New York World's Fair, or for a visit with Aunt Minnie.

Many of us like to explore unfamiliar territory each year, to see the great natural wonders and historic sites America has to offer.

We have a lot of company in our urge to get out and go. The American Automobile Association estimates that more than 255 million vacation and pleasure trips will be taken during 1964, putting $21 billion into circulation all over the country. The new federal income tax reduction will help many of us to pay for these trips.

With so many places to go and so much to see, it makes sense to plan ahead carefully. The nation's oil companies make it easier by giving nearly 200 million road maps each year, at an estimated cost of around $12 million. Some oil firms also operate touring bureaus that give motorists detailed advice on making travel plans.

In some areas, service station employees attend special training classes to enable them to answer motorists' questions on travel.

Maps have been in use for more than 4,000 years, but when ancient mapmakers ran out of information they usually drew in a desert or a fantastic monster or a sea serpent to disguise their lack of knowledge.

However, in all the half century that has gone by since gas stations began giving away maps, not one has ever resorted to dragons or hobgoblins of any genre to cover up the "unknown." Highly informational from the beginning, today's maps are marvels of condensed intelligence. Revised every year to keep up with the ever-expanding network of highways, they also pinpoint parks, forests, service areas, toll stations, rivers, lakes, mountain ranges, recreational areas, military reservations, airfields and all manner of things to see and do.

The oil company mappers explore first so you can cruise later — on a fully-charted course.

"FACTS AND OPINIONS"

Representative Clement J. Zablocki (Dem.) of Wisconsin, tells a story of Diplomat Emerson Player, an assistant attache in the U. S. Embassy in Accra, Ghana. He said: "The mob Mr. Player faced was a frenzied one . . . It had marched on our Embassy, hauled down the American flag and threatened to storm the building. Mr. Player rushed out of the Embassy, seized the rope and ran the U. S. flag back up the flagpole. The mob fell back at this display of resoluteness. The Stars and Stripes remained flying." Chevrolet will go to any length to make you happy

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be.

So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevrolet—17 1/2 feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size makes it a luxury car. But not the price.

Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15 1/4-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space.

This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over).

Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it. And finally, Corvette—still 14 1/2 feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to.

The long and short of it is, you don't have to go to any length to find exactly the kind of car you want. Just see the five different lines of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you: What a wonderful surprise Mrs. John Young of Keysville received on a recent evening. It was a call from her daughter Betty and son-in-law Bob (Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hood, who are stationed in Cuba with the Navy) via "ham" radio through Frederick.

Seems the Hoods have a neighbor with a set and the closest set to this area is Frederick, so—from Frederick to Keysville the call was via telephone. Sure any "ham" enthusiasts would be glad to explain how it works. Anyway, Betty reported that all is well with them and that the water situation is "okay" now. (Seems they are even going to be opening the pools again very soon.) Their assignment for Guantanamo Bay is until April '65.

Will you be eating at the Middleburg Methodist Men's supper on Saturday? They'll be having ham and oysters from 3 P. M. until about 7. Lenten Service Wednesday evening, the 25th, at St. James' Lutheran Church in Union Bridge. Sermon will be "Wounded Hands" and the service starts at 7:45 P. M. There will be a Community Service on Good Friday from 1 to 2 P. M., which will be held in the Union Bridge Methodist Church.

Welcome home to Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Kiser of the Keysville Road who returned from a two-month trip to Florida last Tuesday (the 10th).

Mrs. Clyde Wilhide with daughter and grandson, Mrs. Hugh Engel and Douglas, of the Keysville-Taneytown Road and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide with daughter-in-law and granddaughter, Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan, near Detour were visitors last Wednesday in White Hall with Mrs. Emory Yoder and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gill and family with whom she lives. Mrs. Yoder is the mother of Mrs. Gill and both Mrs. Clyde and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide. On their return trip they also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Currens in Hampstead.

There will not be a Landscaping meeting at the Ag Center on Good Friday. The next meeting of the series will be Friday, April 3, and will be "Trees and Upright Evergreens." From 1 to 3 P. M., remember?

Was good to see Mrs. Edward (Kathryn) Coshun near Detour back to work at the Detour Bank again today (Monday). She was on the sick list all last week. Mrs. James (Marian) Coshun of Detour is still on the sick list at this writing. Sincerely hope she is soon "fine and dandy" again also.

The ladies of the Keysville Lutheran Church Women who had the food stand at the Norval Rook farm sale last Saturday wish to thank all those who donated, bought and helped in any way to make the stand a success. A profit was cleared of $148.50, which is just grand for it was such a rainy, miserable day. Thanks again!

Belated Happy Birthday wishes to Mrs. Daniel (Frances) Ridinger on the 15th and to her father, Mr. Luther Clabaugh, on the 17th, both residents of the Keysville Road near the Taneytown Road.

Congratulations to the Misses Audrey Wilhide (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide of the Keysville Road) and Peggy Fleagle (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stoner Fleagle of Mayberry) who have been accepted for Nurses Training at Frederick Memorial Hospital next fall. Both girls are Seniors at Taneytown High School.

One of the projects of the Keysville LCW is to save stamps and to collect old greeting cards which are sent on to others to use in worthwhile projects. The next mailing date will be in April so if you have any to donate, please get them to any member or Mrs. Helen Dougherty, Postmistress of Detour, by April 6th. This is the next meeting date of the group. It will be appreciated if cards and stamps will be saved after that as well for sending again at a later date.

Randy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar of Forest and Stream Club Road, was a Saturday overnight visitor with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar near Taneytown.

The anthem for the service on Sunday at Keysville Lutheran Church was a duet, "Have You Been in the Garden," by Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty. Very well done.

Do you remember I mentioned the Auxiliary of the Carroll County General Hospital was planning an auction for sometime in May? Here are a few more details. It will be held at the Westminster Armory on May 23rd. The auction will be held at 6 P. M. but the doors will open at 9 A. M. and there will be fancy tables and food tables with items for sale all day. We wish him much success along with partners, "Bill" Smith and Delmont Koons. (This was previously Ohler's Chevrolet.)

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas showed the slides they had taken on their California trip. I understand these included pictures of relatives of the Wilhides: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Norcott and family (she is the former Margaret Wilhide) and Mrs. James McLane (former Mrs. Florence Linticum) so they were especially interesting.

The Terra Rubra Girls' 4-H Club held their March meeting last Thursday evening at the home of Phyllis Orndorff in Middleburg with 24 present. There were two demonstrations: "A 4-H Girl Cares for Her Bedroom" by Cindy Crouch and "Let's Make Snacks" by Phyllis Orndorff. One Life or a Thousand Someone has said, "life's greatest blunder is to live just one life when we can live a thousand." May I show this by contrast? A few years ago in the city of London a woman died who had the reputation of being the "best dressed woman in Europe." The chief item of her legacy to the world was a wardrobe containing almost a 1000 frocks, but with the 1000 dresses there was only one life. Neither each frock, the same unseeing eyes, the same deaf ears, the same enameled painted face. Several years earlier, there died in the same city a man who had one suit of clothes, a blue suit with a red collar on the coat—Wm. Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, just one costume, but a man with a 1000 lives, one who worked and prayed for the poor, the friendless, the lovely, the tempted and the unbelieving and who projected his life into a 1000 broken lives, though Jesus Christ, the Lord.

God's Windowsill

"When Irish eyes are smiling," let us smile with them to! Whether Dutch or Scotch or Irish, We're one, both me and you! If we are one in him,

We're brothers, sisters, true, because he made us of one blood, each nation, not a few. Yes, every tribe and nation to earth's remotest bound, if found in Him his righteousness doth cover all around!

On this St. Patrick's Day, my friends, let's be "Apostles," all, to emulate our Lord and Christ that all on Him may call."

"When Irish eyes are smiling, Sure, it's like a morn in Spring!" and so this little greeting to all of you we'd bring—whether Irish, Scotch, or German, what'er—his Praise we'd sing!

Sen. Weant Reports On Special Session

The recent Special Session of the Maryland General Assembly which was called on Wednesday, March 11, and which adjourned on Saturday, March 14, was short but very hectic. Although the Session was originally intended for the enactment of a redistricting bill for the Legislative Districts of Baltimore City, the redistricting of the Congressional District of the State and the passage of a State-wide Public Accommodations Bill, and many other measures were introduced covering a multitude of subjects. We will attempt to briefly summarize some of these more important matters.

INVENTORY TAX — Your correspondent introduced a bill for the purpose of allowing the repeal of the Inventory Tax on stock in business, raw materials and manufactured products in the hands of establishments located in Carroll County. It provides that this tax may be reduced and extinguished over a period of 10 years for firms or corporations doing business in Carroll County prior to January 1, 1965. It further provides that establishments engaging in business in Carroll County after January 1, 1965, may be exempt by resolution of the County Commissioners. This bill received the support of the members of the House of Delegates and it need now only be signed by the Governor.

STATE ROADS — The same bill that was passed during the recent 30-day Session covering the construction of State Roads was again passed in this Special Session. This was done because of a question of constitutionality of the first bill. Although this piece of legislation calls for an increase in gas tax and titling tax, it is hoped that it will provide for much needed construction of new roads in Carroll County and the rest of the State.

SCHOLARSHIPS — Because of the great interest in Senate Bill No. 26 which dealt, among other things, with scholarships from Carroll County to Western Maryland, we thought it advisable to mention it here even though it did not completely survive the legislative routine. This bill would have taken 28 local scholarships from Carroll County to Western Maryland College and would have substituted therefor various other scholarships to different schools in a lesser number. Although the new proposal would possibly have fostered an easier understanding of the scholarship program as a whole, we did not favor the loss of the 28 scholarships.

REDISTRICTING — BALTIMORE CITY — A bill was passed to redistrict the Legislative Districts of Baltimore City. This was done in compliance with court decisions indicating that these Districts should be more evenly constituted population-wise.

CONGRESSIONAL REDISTRICTING — Since Congressional Redistricting was one of the reasons for calling the Special Session of the General Assembly, we would like to point out that this matter was given long hours of consideration. The bill proposed by the special committee appointed by the Governor for the purpose of working out this problem was defeated on the floor of the Senate. Another proposal which passed the House of Delegates and which would have put Carroll County in a District with Allegany, Washington, Garrett, Frederick and a small part of Baltimore County failed to get a favorable report from the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee. When this bill arrived at that Committee, time was getting late and the Committee decided to send it to the Legislative Council along with other proposals of the same nature for further study. It is hoped that the Courts will allow further time for studying this problem before acting too hastily in an effort to get just any kind of redistricting plan.

PUBLIC ACCOMMODATIONS — A State-wide bill putting all of the Counties and Baltimore City under the Public Accommodations law was enacted. This provides that it shall be unlawful for an owner or operator or agent or employee of any hotel, restaurant, inn, motel or establishment commonly known or recognized as regularly engaged in the business of providing sleeping accommodations, or serving food, or both which is open to the general public to refuse or deny such services to anyone because of race, creed, color or national origin. Any premise or portion of premise devoted to the sale of alcoholic beverages will not be included under this law.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER — The Republican State Central Committee nominated Justus Denner of Manchester, and his name was forwarded to the Governor for nomination to the Senate. The Maryland Senate confirmed this appointment during this Special Session. Mr. Denner is from the same area as was the Commissioner he is replacing, Edmund L. Carr.

E. O. Weant, Jr., State Senator for Carroll County.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports
Whitey Ford has issued his first pronouncement as pitching coach of the New York Yankees. It's: "Get ready to run." Ford wants the Yankee pitchers to know there will be plenty of footwork for all as the New York Yankees "run through" spring training camp in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He says the all means "all" - the young and the not so young. Presumably, he includes himself, because Whitey will continue to do a great deal of pitching along with his new duties as coach. In the not too distant past, Whitey had been quoted as saying things like pitchers should pitch and leave the running to the guys who get paid to run. However, that was before the start of the new Yankee era - before Yogi Berra was named manager and before Ford was appointed to his cabinet. Whitey now says all those clever lines of the past were said with tongue in cheek. Ford believes spring training is where a pitcher should do his most important running. He feels that once the season begins, the regulars should run only once between starting assignments. Ford claims an ordinary pitcher needs two or three days to get back all his strength after an assignment. Conditioning, of course, is only one phase of the work Ford will be concerned with during spring training but it will be the first phase. He believes the most important thing a pitching coach must do is get to know his pitchers, and get to know how they think. Certain pitchers have to be coached, and others bullied. Applying the right strategy to the wrong pitcher can be disastrous. Ford has had the advantage of working under some top level pitching coaches, such as Jim Turner, Ed Lopat and Johnny Sain. He now will try and pass on what he has learned, plus a few tricks he picked up along the way. Just think, if he is as successful at coaching as he has been in pitching - but that's too awesome a possibility to even consider. Imagine four or five hurlers on one team pitching like Whitey Ford.
Wayne Causey has suffered from bench rust, minor league growing pains and assorted ailments like a shoulder injury and a damaged heel but he figures the worst is now over. So does Ed Lopat, manager of the Kansas City Athletics, who hopes Causey will be his take-charge guy in the infield this year. Wayne is having the job forced on him. The former leader, Jerry Lumpe, was traded to Detroit this winter. Lumpe, at second base, and Causey, at shortstop, formed a handy second-base combination for the A's last year. This time Causey will have to team up with a rookie, Dick Green, whom the A's are counting on as keeper of the keystone. Here is how Lopat sizes up the situation, "I've decided Wayne is going to be my leader, the holler guy in the infield. His over-all work was real good defensively last year and in hitting he was good enough to lead the league through the month of May."
Causey was belting the ball at a .368 clip as May rolled to a close last year. But he batted only .200 during the month of June and his handsome early average faded fast. He still was good enough to wind up with a mark of .280 for the full season. That is excellent for a shortstop. Causey is only 27 but has been in and out of major league lineups since 1955. He was only 18 when the Baltimore Orioles signed him for a bonus estimated at $25,000. Under the bonus rule at that time he had to sit on the Baltimore bench. He was finally sent out for experience to San Antonio, Louisville and Vancouver. In the spring of 1961 Wayne was traded to Kansas City. That's when he began to win a reputation for being brittle. In 1961 he was out of action for the first half of the season. In 1962 he lost six weeks because of a shoulder injury and after he returned he was hit with an achilles heel injury. But last year he got into 139 games which certainly rates as a good year's work. That excellent batting average of .280 was topped by only one American League shortstop, Jim Fregosi of Los Angeles, who batted .287. If nothing else, Causey should be full of confidence in camp this year. That won't hurt at all.
Sam Mele, manager of the Minnesota Twins, has a notion his team has so much power it short-circuits itself. The Twins led both leagues with 225 home runs last year. But Mele says: "Frankly, I feel we have an over-abundance of power. I also feel we have the all-around players in our system to do better if they will sacrifice power for singles at the right time." It is a fact that teams which go power-crazy rarely win pennants. You can start with the Twins of last year and throw in the Cincinnati Reds of the late 1950's and the New York Giants of the late 1940's. All home-run teams but none a flag-winner. Good pitchers are better able to control home run crazy teams. It's like a skillful fighter handling a guy who tries to stop him with one punch. The main reason for the home run craze is spelled, m-o-n-e-y. The home run heroes get the biggest salaries. But Mele does have a point. In a tight spot, if a player is swinging for the fences, and he is facing a good pitcher, put your money on the good pitcher.

The Twins will have plenty of power this year again, with fellows like Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison, Jimmie Hall, Earl Battey and Vic Power on the team. They have a small problem revolving around first base. They would like to play Killebrew there because it would cut down on his running. But if they do Vic Power will become surplus. And they also would like Power in there everyday. If the Twins are to offer the Yankees a real challenge, however, they will have to have strong pitching. They are counting on a starting five of Camilo Pascual, Dick Stigman, Jim Kaat, Lee Stange and Jim Roland. Roland looked great as a rookie last year until he injured his elbow. He reportedly is okay again. Minnesota thinks that Kaat in particular should be a big factor in winning. He was 10 and 10 last year. The consensus is that he tried to get tricky at the tender age of 25. That's an age for throwing hard. And that's all the Twins want him to do this year.
Remember When Dept. - Connie Johnson and George Zuverink of the Orioles combined for one hitter against the White Sox. Only problem was that the Sox pitcher Jack Harshman also pitched a one hitter and the Birds lost. It was June 21, 1956.
Sport Laugh - Outfielder Willie Mays of the Giants was among the guests at a dinner recently. There were seven athletes given awards before him and he was the last speaker of the evening. Said Mays when it was his turn to talk, "This is the first time in my life I've batted last. I'm used to getting up fourth." - John Breth.
Meeting of Lions Club
Taneytown Lions entertained more than two hundred patrons recently at their annual Oyster, Shrimp, and Fried Chicken Feast. The event was held at St. Joseph's Hall in Taneytown.
Proceeds derived from the affair will be allocated to the Sight Conservation Fund, from which seventeen eye examinations and glasses have been purchased for needy recipients in recent months.
Mrs. Harvey (Pauline) Wantz of Harney, Maryland, was awarded the television set.
Lions Ralph Stonesifer and J. Alfred Heltebride were co-chairmen of the event.
Glenn Bollinger reported the Club will sponsor six Little League Teams on the baseball field this season.
The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, March 24 at 6:29 P. M. at Taney Inn when Past Presidents of the Club will be honored. Lewis Baer is in charge of the evening's program.
SIGNS OF SPRING AT WOOD BURN
A host of robins, searching eagerly for worms.
The South Carolina Poplar, swelling now with buds.
A song-sparrow, spilling out familiar liquid notes.
The laughing brook, exulting in its freedom from ice and snow.
The jonquils (or Easter flowers), sending forth sturdy green spears.
A pair of bluebirds, exploring a fence-post hole.
The whetfield, brightening the whole landscape with its emerald hue.
A red-winged blackbird, flashing over the meadow.
A colorful seed catalogue, giving one the ven to start gardening.
The kitten "Rusty" soaking up the sunshine on the back porch.
Our stove, "Hercules" displaying quite a dainty appetite on these warmer days.
The additional hours of daylight, boosting our winter-weary spirits.

One of our ducks, splashing vigorously in the stream.
Our small flock of chickens, enjoying a late afternoon session out-of-doors.
The awakening country-side, looking brighter and on the alert, now that spring is officially here.

Among these was a Iglesias Multiple Resectoscope with telescope attachment.
Mr. F. Kale Mathias, President of the Board of Directors and Richard Y. Dalrymple, M.D., Chief of Surgery of Carroll County General Hospital received the check from Mrs. A. What do physicians stand "FOR?"

The medical profession has been accused of being "against" almost everything. Here are just three of the things we are FOR:

1. We are FOR free enterprise. This includes farmers whom we support in their effort to shake off too many government controls, businessmen who want to compete freely for your patronage, and physicians who want to keep you as healthy as their skill and training enables them.
2. We are FOR helping those who need help. We prove it nationwide by providing the American people with $700 million of free medical care annually. We feel no government agency could replace this form of freely given effort or the work of such privately run agencies as the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Cancer Society, Heart Association and similar groups. We support the Welfare Department in its aid programs to the needy, and the Health Department's fine job of providing medical attention through its clinics and nurses. We heartily endorse Medical Assistance for the Aged through a workable, State-administered Kerr-Mills program.
3. We are FOR keeping America the greatest, strongest, freest nation on the earth. We want you, our patients, to enjoy freedom of faith, freedom of speech, freedom to educate your child as you see fit, to vote for whom you like, and to choose your own physician, hospital or nursing home when you are ill. We want these same freedoms for ourselves.

BECAUSE WE STAND FOR THESE AND OTHER PRINCIPLES, WE OPPOSE, AND WILL ALWAYS OPPOSE, THE KING-ANDERSON BILL OR ANY OTHER ATTEMPT TO FOIST GOVERNMENT CONTROL ON THE AMERICAN PEOPLE. WE OPPOSE IT BECAUSE WE HONESTLY BELIEVE IT WOULD BE "BAD MEDICINE" FOR YOU. WE BELIEVE IT WOULD LEAD TO FURTHER SOCIALIZATION OF OTHER PROFESSIONS AND INDUSTRIES, UNTIL THE AMERICA OF OUR CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN BECOMES A TOTAL WELFARE STATE. WE ASK YOUR SUPPORT.

How Two Men Died

Lesson for March 22, 1964

Background Scripture: Luke 23:32-47.
Devotional Reading: Luke 23:44-56.

DEATH CAME to three men on the same afternoon. We cannot say that "as it must to all men, death came to these," for the three died by cruel violence. They died, in fact, by being executed. It was a form of death that was meted out only to the most degraded of men — traitors, slaves, the worst of criminals. The punishment was crucifixion. We have been so long accustomed to glamorized pictures of the cross that we forget how horrible it was. Naked men were fastened with nails to their crosses. No fatal blow was struck, the men were just left to die. Gradual loss of blood would bring on a torturing thirst, and death was slow in coming. Victims often took two or three days to die, and most men would go insane before the end came.

Death without hope
The two men crucified to the right and left of Jesus were marked as bad men, and would be considered dangerous in any country at any time. They were not "thieves" in the 20th century meaning of that word. The Greek word for them means robber, bandit. They were the kind of men who do not hesitate to commit murders in order to rob their victims. The police and the public breathe more easily when such men are executed.

One of these men died as he had lived, his hand against every man's. Hung up there to die, he kept his bitter heart to the end. Whoever had condemned him to be crucified was not now out there in the crowd. This robber hated people without reason. So he turned against Jesus and picking up what the mob was shouting, he spoke mocking words to the dying Jesus. Ridicule can hurt more deeply than harsh words and curses. The bandit's partner on the other side joined for a while in the jeers (Matthew and Mark both recall that the two men taunted Jesus) but changed his mind; this bandit kept his bitterness and died in it.

Death under a promise
The other victims were just as dead, when sunset came, as this angry outcast. But they came to their end in a quite different way. Consider the other bandit. He was just as bad a man as his partner on the far cross; he admitted guilt for both of them, acknowledged that what they suffered, they deserved. Somehow he knew that the man on the central cross did not belong there. Whether this bandit had ever heard of Jesus, or seen him before we do not know. But criminal though he was, he had a clearer insight into the situation than all the high priests. He has done nothing wrong, he said. And then he says a strange thing to Jesus. Remember me when you come in your kingdom! he said.

Jesus answers the faith with a promise: Today you will be with me in Paradise. Just as simple as making a lunch date. Under that promise he died, not in bitterness like his partner in crime, but in hope and faith. Christians from then to now die as other men die, yet not as other men in spirit. For every Christian dies under a promise: "I am the Life."

The hour of hope
All sorts of gloomy things are said about death, and we are supposed to feel bitter about it. But Christians know better. Grace Noll Crowell wrote a poem about death, and she called it "This is His night." Saint Paul, first Christian to put on record his thoughts about death, calls it a departure, —going to "be with the Lord." Death is not merely what so many millions think it is, the end of all things. It is the end of a great deal, to be sure; but it is actually a commencement. Death ends many things but it does not end you. If that first bandit's spirit survived death—and we believe it did—what kind of future would he have? If the second man's spirit survived—and Jesus assured him it would—what kind of future would he have? Luke tells the story; he leaves us to draw our own conclusions.

SUBSTITUTE FOR SUNLIGHT

A stand like this equipped with built-in fluorescent lamps to substitute for sunlight makes sprouting and growing seeds possible in any part of the house. Note sturdy growth here.

Remember when a sunny window sill was an absolute "must" for the gardener who wanted to start seeds indoors of his favorite varieties of flowers and vegetables? Now fluorescent lamps, specially designed for aiding plant growth, take the place of sun.

This means that the darkest corner of your basement can become your seed starting area when proper lamps have been installed. The lamps you need have a special phosphor coating which, activated by electricity, gives off light rays high in the red and blue wave lengths absorbed by plants during growth.

Your equipment can be as simple as chains hung from the ceiling to suspend the lamps over a table below. Or it can be as elaborate as a stand with fluorescent fixtures built in, like the one pictured.

Many different types of such "plant growers" are available. Your favorite garden supply dealer, or perhaps your favorite seed catalog, may offer several.

Starting seedlings under fluorescent lamps is not much different from starting them on that sunny window sill. The chief difference is that you can regulate the amount of light, the length of "daylight" and the distance of the seedlings from the light source.

Seeds sprout rapidly under fluorescent lamps. Because you can keep the seedlings fairly close to the lamps when they are small, they will not become spindly trying to reach towards the light. The distance from the lights can be increased as the seedlings grow.

Lamps designed for growing plants will not burn seedlings with their heat, for they are "cool" lamps.

Even almost perfect growing conditions, so far as light is concerned, will not, however, relieve you of watering and otherwise caring for your seedlings. Absolutely nothing can be substituted for personal attention.
