'SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth; I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

"Old Soldiers do not die, they just fade away!" said dear General Doug-las Mac Arthur, "I just close my Mili-tary career and just fade away, an old soldier who had tried to do his old soldier who had tried to do his duty as God gave him the light to see that duty! Goodbye." Those words will always be in the Memory of every individual, the day he stated them on TV he was right and millions who know the truth and realize it more and more as time goes on. This country would be in a different atmosphere as well as all other foreign shores too, if that wonderful General would have been permitted to carry shores too, if that wonderful General would have been permitted to carry out his ideas, it now would have spelled Peace! And that for the entire world! And the years to come! No other Soldier in History could ever compare with him! He was truly the most noble and courageous man in any time! Every feature of his face held character, plus.

The following is an excerpt from General MacArthur's birthday speech and every sentence is like a string of pearls. . . "Youth is not entirely a time in life — it is a state of mind. It is not wholly a matter of ripe cheeks, red lips or supple knees. It is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotion, a freshness of the deep springs of life. It means a temperamental preof life. It means a temperamental predominance of courage over timidity, of an appetite for adventure over

Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old only by deserting their ideals. Years may wrinkle the skin, but to give up interest wrinkles the soul. Worry, doubt, self-distrust, dear and despair the terre the level ways that doubt, self-distrust, dear and despair—these are the long, long years that bow the head and turn the growing spirit to dust. Whatever your years, there is in every being's heart the love of wonder, the undaunted challenge of events, the unfailing child-like appetite for what next and the investment of life. joy in the game of life.

You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt; as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fear; as young as your hope as old as your despair. In the central place of every heart there is a recording chamber, so long as it receives messages of beauty hope cheer and courage, so beauty, hope, cheer and courage, so long are you young. When the wires are all down and your heart is covered with the moss of pessimism and the ice of cynicism, then and then only, are you grown old." Eloquent is the word! Adjectives cannot describe this man!

How happy I am to hold the beautiful letter he wrote to me on January 10, 1964, just before he went to Washington in answer to the one I wrote to him in reference to his article in "Life" and such a personal

And now the beautiful prayer he composed to his son, Arthur during the war in the Pacific. . . .

Build me a son, O Lord who be strong enough to know when he is weak and brave enough to face him-self when he is afraid; one who will be proud and unbending in honest defeat and humble and gentle in vic-tory. Build me a son whose wishes will not take the place of deeds; a son who will know thee—and that to know himself is the foundation stone of knowledge.

Lead him, I pray not in the path of ease and comfort but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenge. Here let him learn to stand up in the storm; here let him learn compassion for those who fail. Build me a son whose heart will be clear, whose goal will be high, a son who will master himself before he seeks to master other men, one who will reach into the future, yet never forget the past.

And after all these things are his, add, I pray, enough of a sense of humor, so that he may always be serious, yet never take himself too serious yet iously. Give him humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of true greatness, the open mind of true wisdom and the meekness of true

HE WILL NOT "FADE AWAY"

General of the Army Douglas Mac-Arthur will be remembered for the qualities and capabilities that placed him among the world's greatest military leaders and tacticians - and made him unique as the only American field commander in chief ever to be removed from command in the midst of a war he was fighting. But he may be remembered even longer and more remorsefully for the foresight that was rejected by the fat cats in Washington who were, even then, adjusting to a new US foreign policy of appeasement, made to order for us in London, Paris and in Moscow.

In France in 1917 and 1918, where he rose from major to brigadier general, Douglas MacArthur won the accolade of "greatest frontline general" from Secretary of War Newton D. Baker. After his next war, he was described by Lord Alanbrooke, chairman of the British Chiefs of Staff as "the greatest general and best strategist that the war (WWII) has pro-

As the architect of modern, democratic, postwar Japan, the services of General MacArthur in reshaping a shattered enemy nation and setting it upon a constructive course - to which it has held - demonstrated a statesmanship and administrative and diplomatic genius no less inspiring than his gallantry in action. Undoubtedly the sense of history and of geopolitics he revealed in Tokyo, together with his soldier's conviction that: "In war there is no substitute for victory," prepared the way for his removal. Everyone who was reading the newspapers in the days of the unequal Korean struggle recalls that General MacArthur, chafing under UN restrictions, sought vainly to be allowed to pursue the Red Chinese across the Yalu River into their "privileged sanctuary," and, with the aid of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist troops, subdue the military aspirations of Communist China. But many have forgotten the reply of the General to a letter from Massachusetts Congressman Martin suggesting the use of Chiang's forces.

He pointed out then what America is painfully realizing now, that Asia, not Europe, is the ultimate battleground on which the global ambitions of Communism must be settled. "It seems strangely difficult for some to realize," he wrote, "that here in Asia is where the Communist conspirators have elected to make their play for global conquest, and that we have joined the issue thus raised on the battlefield; that here we fight Europe's war with arms, while the diplomats there still fight it with words; that if we lost the war to Communism in Asia, the fall of Europe is inevitable."

As Douglas MacArthur died, Chiang's forces were still immobilized by US policy, and American soldiers were dying in South Vietnam, while the Red Chinese were sneering at Khrushchev's "peaceful coexistence" and demanding Western blood.

We mourn our loss — as we should have since April 11, 1951.

Protective Flaps for Certain Vehicles Required

Lieutenant J. P. Novicki, Comman-of the Maryland State Police West-minster Barrack, wishes to bring to the attention of the public the requirements for protective flaps on certain vehicles. In an effort to alleviate any inconsistencies in various areas pertaining to the new law (Section 300-B, Article 66½), the following is sub-

"300-B. (a) After January 1st, 1964, no person shall operate or cause to be operated any bus or commercial motor vehicle, including semi-trailers and trailers, upon a highway in this State unless it is equipped with suit-able metal protectors or substantial flexible flaps behind the rear-most wheels of the vehicle or combination to prevent the projection of rock, dirt, water or other substances to the rear and to minimize side spray. "(b) Such protectors or flaps shall have a ground clearance of not more than one-third of the horizontal dis-tance from the bottom edge of the protector or flap to the center line of the axle, provided, however, that no protector or flap need be closer to the ground than six inches under any condition of loading. The pro-tector or flap shall extend laterally at least the width of the tire or tires being protected."

There seems to be no question in connection with the length of flaps required by this law, but rather as to just what vehicles require these flaps. There are four specific exceptions in the law that designate those vehicles that do not need flaps. These are uncoupled truck tractors, pole trailers, farm tractors, and farm trucks. Another broad exception includes those vehicles where the construction is such that complete free-dom around the wheel area is neces-sary to secure the designed use of the

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stambaugh of Keysville upon the birth of a son on the 23rd of March. Dennis William weighed in at 61/2 pounds and his mother is the former Mary Frances Black.

much like measles, going around. "Libby" Coshun had it recently and Randy Weishaar is home from school with it this week.

Mrs. Emory Yoder of White Hall, who had been visiting with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Beth near Detour, is now spending some time with another daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide, Neal, Aud-rey and Danny of the Keysville-Taneytown Road.

I'm sorry about a misunderstanding which prompted the report last week about Mrs. Virgie Ohler of Taneytown being in the hospital. Seems her doctor has suggested a visit for observation, but she has not gone at this time. Do hope any cards that were sent to the hospital have been forwarded on to her by them.

Isn't it just one of life's vexations to have the Federal Government vote a slight tax decrease just in time for the Maryland State Government to vote an increase? Hardly even have time to notice any change in the take-home pay.

Happy Anniversary wishes to Mr.
and Mrs. Arthur Clabaugh of Detour on the 22nd. May they have many more years together.

Mrs. D. L. Sharrer of Rocky Ridge is a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital in Baltimore. She has had an eye operation. Mrs. Wilbur Thomas (her daughter) of Taneytown and Mrs. Charles Stonesifer of Keysville were among her visitors on Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar of Forest and Stream Club Road visited on the 8th with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Plaine of Mt. Wolfe, Pa.

If you are a member of the Keysville Lutheran Church, do hope you have made contact with one of the men about the turkey buffet supper they are going to serve on Saturday evening. Should be very good. There will be a free will offering taken to help defray expenses.

is spending from Monday to Thursday this week visiting with her aunt, Miss Ada Yoder of Govans.

We extend our sympathies this week to two families upon the death of a loved one. To Mrs. Carroll Val-entine of the Keysville Road upon the death of her husband last Saturday of a heart attack. Also to Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Kiser of Keysville Road and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clabaugh of Taneytown upon the death of Mrs. W. Ellis Martin of Frederick. Mrs. Martin, the former Catherine and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Kiser. Sunday visitors at the William Weishaar home near Detour were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar of Taney-town, Mr. and Mrs. James Weishaar and Bobby of Detour and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Clingan of Thurmont.

The Monocacy CYP will hold their next meeting on the 21st at the home of Herman Steffen of Sixes Bridge Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stonesifer and family of Keysville were Sunday dinner guests of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Keilholtz and family of

What a fine surprise: to see Mrs. Mary Nay in the drugstore on Mon-Mrs. Cover, a Detour-ite, has of the state. spent the past three weeks visiting with Mrs. Nay in Washington and will now be in Detour for several weeks before going on to Virginia Beach to visit with her son and family there. We extend our sympathy these two ladies also upon the death of their aunt, Mrs. Koons, Sr., of Hagerstown, who was buried on Tuesday.

There were four baptisms at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday. is set for May 6. They were Douglas Hugh Engel, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Hugh Engel of the Keysville-Taneytown Road; Dana Lee Poist, daughter of Mrs. Terry Poist near Keysville; Donna Lynn and Debra Ann Young, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Young, Jr., of Detour. Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun and family of Redlands near Detour were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oden Fogel and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fogel of Union Bridge. Thursday evening, the 23rd, will be Orientation Night at Elmer A. Wolfe School for the parents of first graders for the school year 1964-1965. Registration of the pupils will be made and both first grade teachers, Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Dougherty, as well as several school officials, will be present to answer any questions.

Sunday luncheon guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan of Forest and Stream Club Road were her parents, sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Seibert, Timmy, Paul, Mariann and Johnny and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Miles, all of Clear Spring. Everyone was pleased to find Suzie had cut her first two teeth.

Mr. Carroll Wilhide with Beth and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clabaugh with Greg were among those who took the train trip to New York for a daylong tour of the city last Saturday.

The Elmer A. Wolfe Mothers Club met on the 8th at the school with a film strip, "Your Childs I.Q.," for the program. This film told of the difference between intelligence and creativity and stressed that the tests given for both of these do not tell the whole story. It also told that one's IQ can, and often does, change. At one time it was believed that it always remained the same. Discussion was held on giving a contribution to the school and Mr. Peron told of several things that could be considered or—he said—no contribution was necessary. This is strictly up to the club members to decide. It was decided to have a luncheon for the May meeting to which the new first grade mothers would be invited. Mt. Union area served the refreshments.

The Terra Rubra Girls' 4-H Club held their meeting on the 9th at the home of Organizational Leader, Mrs. Richard Wilhide near Detour. There were 23 present with another new member, Karon Kronsteiner. Peggy More of this rash, which looks so Glass gave a demonstration on "Ba-uch like measles, going around, nana Smoothie" and Beth Wilhide, one on "Proper Care of Kitchen Floors." Patti Poole gave her speech, which she had given at the Public Speaking Contest in Westminster the previous Saturday and for which she received a Blue Ribbon, on "Reading, My Hobby." (Congratulations to Patti!) There were 48 who took part in this contest. It was decided that the club would attend church as a group on Rural Life Sunday, May 3, at the Union Bridge Church of the Brethren. A Mother-Daughter Tea is planned for June 30 at the Keysville Lutheran Church and committees were appointed. On May 18, Joan Thomas and Beth Wilhide will give demonstrations to the Southern States Women's Group in Taneytown. Joan will demonstrate "How to Make Bread' and Beth, "How to Make a Terrarium. At the next meeting, which will be at the home of Peggy Class. May Patricia Stabler Extensions. Glass, Mrs. Patricia Stabler. Extension Agent-4-H and Youth, will be present and have the topic "How to Give a Demonstration." There will also be demonstrations by Donna Six, Kathy Kantros and a team demon-stration by Toni Heiser and Barbara Jacob Yingling, member of the House of Delegates and a resident of Westminster, was guest speaker at the Elmer A. Wolfe P-TA meeting on Monday night. Mr. Yingling told some interesting facts about the New York World's Fair in general and Maryland's Pavilion in particular. For instance: this Fair is at the same spot as the one in 1939 and covers 646 acres in Flushing Meadows, Queens. It will be open April 22 to October 17, 1964, and April 21 to October 17, 1965, for a total of 360 days with 100 million visitors are days with 100 million visitors expected during that time. Within 60 days after the end of the Fair, all buildings must be down. For instance: to the right of the Maryland Pavilion is the VIP or Executive enwill be a free will offering taken to help defray expenses.

Carroll County Council of Homemakers will hold their meeting on Tuesday, the 21st, from 10 A. M. to noon in the Conference Room of the County Office Building.

Wrs. Carroll Wilhide near Detour is spending from Manday to Thurs.

The two main purposes for having the Fair are: 1. to invite industry, and 2. to attract tourists. There are 29 state pavilions, 45 from foreign ountries and 50 from various industries. The grounds open at 9:30 A. M. and most exhibits will close at 10 P. M. Do not, Mr. Yingling warned, expect to just drive up: do make reservations ahead! The theme of the Maryland Pavilion is the writing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by Francis Scott Key during the bombardment of Fort Tchenry in 1814. A reproduction of the flag which flew over the fort at that time has been made. It is 30' by 42' and weighs 300 lbs. There will a 14-minute film showing the bombardment shown in the theater in the Pavilion. This film, which would have cost the state $50,000 to make independently, was made free-of-charge by a film producer on the basis that it could be shown overseas There will be exhibits by each of the counties and Baltimore City. A snack bar is near the section called 'The Wharf" and a formal dining room is on the second floor. Several of Mrs. Tawes' recipes will be featured and it is believed this is the Coral Cover and her cousin, Mrs. only Pavilion which will feature recipes by the wife of the Governor

FAIRVIEW

We were sorry to learn Mrs. Clarence Helwig suffered a heart attack and was taken back to the Lancaster General Hospital in Lancaster, Pa. We wish her a speedy recovery.

We were shocked last Thursday morning to learn Miss Edna Coe had passed away unexpectedly. She seemed to be in her usual health, had attended her outside chores and was preparing to do their weekly wash, and in just a few minutes life had gone. Our sympathy goes out to the family.
Franklin Baker and son, David, called on Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker on Sunday.

This surely is a wet Spring. Every couple of days it rains. It is good for the wells that had been dry, but it makes it hard for those who have fields to work and get ready for planting; also for those who are waiting patiently for cesspools to be dug. We can hardly believe that 3½ months of this year is gone.

A few chosen items taken from Joe Eisenhauer's note book. . . . I pass through this world but once, any good that I can do. . . let me do it now, for I shall not pass this way again. anonymous).

Don't waste all your time trying to love your enemies; try treating your friends a little better too.

True serenity of golden years is the reward of life marked by the golden rule. In our midst no one exemplifies this more than Frederick's recognized poetess, Mrs. Edith H. Shank, 300 N. College Parkway, who upon the recent observance of her 81st birthday, penned the following.

OUR DEBT

We owe each other much more debt,

than we can ever pay;
It may not be in cash or check,
Or work from day to day, but in a service hard to name while living on this earth;

In pleasant smiles or cheerful words, or just a bit of mirth and even those who love us not who pause to criticize, May drive us on to better goals and spur us to the price, then let us not gain say the debt which we may truly owe; for there is something we may do for even friend or foe.

(Proof) "If radio's slim fingers can pluck a melody from night and toss it over a continent or sea, If the soft, clear notes of a violin are blown across a mountain or a city's den; If songs like Angells voices culled from thin blue air, Why should mortals wonder if God hears prayer"?

In loving memory of my dear husband, George W. Marquet, who passed away 3 years ago, on April 20, 1961.

The stars are shining brightly Upon a silent grave. In it lies a precious one We loved, but could not save; He bade no one a last farewell, He said goodbye to none. His loving heart just ceased to beat, And suddenly he was gone. Though his smile is gone forever, And his face we cannot touch: We will never lose sweet memories Of the one we loved so much. You are gone but not forgotten.

By his loving wife, Hilda Marquet.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

Twenty-nine members of the Taneytown chapter attended the conven-tion with advisors Mr. and Mrs. Hom-er Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Robert

During the coming week, pupils at Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School will be deciding on course selections for the 1964-65 school year. The school ted in last season, but he played left recommends that pupils and parents take time to discuss and make objectism about Allen's ability to make the tive decisions regarding the best courses to select. Course selection forms will be sent home with pupils on Friday, April 17, and are due back in the school office on Friday, April

Parents of pupils in grades 7 and 8, who wish, may come to school at 7:30 April 21 at which time the school counselor and principal will answer questions and furnish test results in the hope of helping parents make power to be installed in the cleanup wise decisions. Parents of 10th and 11th grade pupils are invited to the The San Francisco Giants also have school library.

Twenty-two seniors are participating in a Diversified Occupations course. This is an attempt to help them find their places in the world of work.

The students work a portion of the regular school day in the employment of one of the business firms surrounding Taneytown. They then re-port to school to take the remaining courses in their school schedule. They will be participating in the program for the entire present marking per-iod—March 16 thru April 30.

The "School-Work Plan," as the project is known, is a practical way of setting up desirable attitudes to-wards the work world. It has five primary objectives, 1—the promotion of good student work habits and attitudes, 2—the encouragement of desirable traits of character, promotion of cooperative attitudes in students. 4—the promotion of student guidance, 5-making possible a limited supervised introduction of students to the activities and demands of the working world.

Those of the program who are working from the commercial department are Vickie Cutsail at the Birnie Trust Co., Genevieve Kiss, Bonnie Wood, Diana Fair and Linda Singer at Cambridge Rubber Co.; Norma Horning at the Birnie Trust Co., Jan-Kint at First National Bank, Rosa Liller at Taneytown Grain and Sup-ply Co., Robert Miller at Miller's Trucking Co., and Harriet Harner in

THE WAY I SEE IT ...

Observations on the World of Sports

The start of another major league eason heralds the appearance of an other bumper crop of rookies. Many of the newcomers who survived the spring training cuts not only made the team but also showed enough potential to break into the starting ineup. The Philadelphia Phillies are excited over their new third baseman, Richie Allen. He led the International League in home runs and runs batism about Allen's ability to make the switch from the outfield to third base, but Phillies manager Gene Mauch is convinced Richie can do the job, both offensively and defensively. Allen's performances in the exhibition games—he has hit exceptionally well and fielded adequately—have proved Mauch's contention. Another important Philadelphia rookie is leftfielder Danny Cater. A converted catcher, Cater has shown enough long ball

11th grade pupils are invited to the school at 7:30 on April 22. Both of the meetings will be held in the man Jim Ray Hart and right fielder man Jim Ray Hart and right fielder Jesus Alou. Hart, a solid hitter, should make a hit with the Giants, if he can avoid being hit by pitches, an alarming tendency he developed last season. Alou is the youngest of three brothers, who have developed in the Giants organization the Giants organization.

The Chicago Cubs also will have a starting lineup with two rookiessecond baseman Jimmy Stewart and centerfielder Billy Cowan. Stewart has an unusually tough assignment. He is trying to fill the vacancy created by the tragic death of Kenny Hubbs.

In the American League, the outstanding rookies appear to be second baseman Don Buford of the Chicago White Sox and outfielders Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins, Willie Horton of the Detroit Tigers and Tony Conigliaro of the Boston Red Sox. Buford, a former halfback on the Southern California football team, is a switch hitter, who has been nominated by White Sox manager Al Lopez to fill the gap left by the trade of Nellie Fox, Buford, somewhat old as rookies go—he is 27—led the International League in batting last season and stole 42 bases. Oliva, Minnesota's hottest spring hitter, has won the Twin's rightfield position and forced the shifting of Bob Alli-son to first besse and sent Vic Power son to first base and sent Vic Power to the bench.

Problems, problems, problems. Just about every major league team har problems as another baseball season begins. Even the world champions the Los Angeles Dodgers, have a few question marks. How long will catcher Johnny Roseboro's ailing right knee hold up? Is rookie Johnny Wer has ready to step in as the regular third baseman? Will Frank Howard finally live up to his potential as one of the game's real slugges, now that he reportedly has solved his personal problems? Pitchers beset with injuries last season and trying to make comebacks are problems on many teams. There's Vernon Law of Pittsburgh, Art Mahaffey of Philadelphia, Bob Purkey of Cincinnati, Frank Lary of Detroit, Chuck Estrada of Baltimore, Don Mossi of the Chicago White Sox, Dave Stenhouse of Washington and Dan Pfister of Kansas City. Then, there is the case of Cincinnati pitcher Joey Jay. After being a 21-game winner in 1961 and '62, he flound to seven victories last season. flopped to seven victories last season. The Reds need a big comeback from Jay to be a serious contender in the National League pennant race. St. Louis also is depending heavily on pitchers for good two sore-armed showings. One is Ray Washburn and the other is rookie Harry Fanok. Washburn has been sent to the minor leagues to get his arm in shape, but as soon as he's ready the Cardinals will quickly recall him. Philadelphia already has lost pitcher Cal McLish for at least two weeks because of an injured shoulder and the New York Mets will be without their number one pitcher, Carlton Willey, for about two weeks. Willey suffered a frac-tured jaw when he was hit by a line drive during spring training. Pitchers are not the only question marks. The New York Yankees and the Minnesota Twins are concerned about slug gers Mickey Mantle and Harmon Killebrew. Both underwent knee surgery over the winter. Mantle does not expect to play 162 games with the Yankees this season—he plans to sit out second games of doubleheaders—but he is optimistic about his condition

Remember When Dept.-Last year in Washington, Baltimore furnished the opposition as the American League opened its season. The Birds won, 3-1, and the winning pitcher was Steve Barber.

Today's Sport Laugh — After La-Salles basketball loss by 31 points last winter, the coach, Bob Walters, said, "I can't say any one player caused this. It honestly was a team effort.

-John Breth.

MARYLAND HOUSE AND GARDEN PILGRIMAGE

The Hill, the home of Mayor and Mrs. Scott S. Bair, will be of special interest to Carroll Countains and visitors alike when it is opened for the Maryland House and Garden Pilgrimage, it having never before been shown on the Tour. This sprawling Colonial clapboard house with its spacious porch has a sweeping view across beautiful rolling hills to the Blue Ridge Mountains. Designed by the late Paul Reese, a nephew of Mary Boswick Shellman, it was built in 1904 by the late Guy W. Steele. After a fire in 1904 it was republik as it stands today. 1924 it was rebuilt as it stands today.

Over a hundred beautiful trees of many species and many boxwoods grace the four-acre lawn. Seven interesting fireplaces add warmth and hospitality. Ionic columns separate the entrance hall from adjoining rooms The dining room, reminiscent of the Hammond-Harwood House in Annapolis is paneled six feet high with the original tapestry design above the plate rail. The tour hours are 10:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M. Thursday, May 7. Mrs. Russell Law and Mrs. Charles M. Shriver are the general chairmen.

TANEYTOWN TEEN GOES TO NATIONAL 4-H CONFERENCE

A Taneytown teen will be in the Nation's Capitol April 18-24 with three other Maryland youths to face the country's issues and problems as delegate to the National 4-H Conference

Earle Kenneth Stonesifer, 17, an nonor student at Francis Scott Key High, is joining 200 other youths and 100 adult leaders at the National 4-H

Center, Chevy Chase, to study "our heritage—foundation for the future."

His Maryland companions are Suzanne Weatherbolt of Cumberland, Mary Ford of Warwick and Tony Bruce of Princess Anne.
This son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Stonesifer will hear at the 34th annual Conference Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Under Secretary of Ag-riculture Charles S. Murphy, Indiana Senator Birch Bagh and Federal Extension Service Administrator Lloyd H. Davis stress the acceptance of adult citizenship responsibilities. He and the other 4-H'ers studying democratic values will visit Arlington National Cemetery Sunday to make a tribute at the late President Kennedy's gravesite. A U.S. Representative, two Democratic and Republican National Com-mitteemen and an AFL-CIO spokes-man will help Earle determine the roles of Congressmen, political parties and lobbyists.

A breakfast with Congress Thursday and tours of the White House, Capitol, National Art Gallery, USDA Food and home fair and other shrines are also included in his week-long citizenship laboratory that is recognizing the 50th anniversary of the Extension Service, of which 4-H is a part The Conference features Tuesday the presentation of the 4-H Report to the Nation-an account of the past year's goals and achievements - to Mrs. Lyndon Johnson from six national delegates.

Earle himself achieves in public speaking, safety and conservation as a member of three 4-H Clubs. In this community he's helped plants shrubs and pine trees and at County Fair time he kept the grounds clean. "Willingness to accept responsibil-ties and ability to carry them out, describe Earle, "says his Carroll County Extension 4-H Agent, John The National 4-H Conference is one of many opportunities for boys and girls between 10-19 to grow in interests, friends and service to their community. Inquire about joining at the Cooperative Extension Service located in your county seat.

Family Tensions Lesson for April 19, 1964

Background Scripture: Matthew 10:34-39; Ephesians 5:21 through 6:4. Devotional Reading: I John 4:7-12.

GREAT DEAL of sentimental twaddle is written, preached or sung, about the family. People talk about the family and the home as if it were (if American, of course!) a bit of heaven on earth. But a family can be a bit too. A family is made up of im-perfect people; and putting two or a dozen people under the same roof won't make angels of them. Two or six imperfects don't add up

Dr. Foreman anything perfect. Again, a lot of scientific twaddle is spouted off, as wrong in its way as the sentimental twaddle. Scientists,-sociologists, psychologists, economists and such,-talk about the family as cold-bloodedly as if it were a purely scientific phenomenon, like an earthquake or the hiving of bees. They look at it as if it were a human institution (which is the truth) and nothing more-which is far from true.

Where the problems are Now the Bible is not something written in a vacuum or a monastery. Its writers were mostly married men (some of them happy, some unhappily); and they were not silent about marriage. As an example of Christian truth about marriage, consider the passage in Ephesians, 5:21 through 6:4. Here we have the Christian home spoken of in thirteen sentences, filled with wisdom on this problem. Saint Paul shows first that he knows where the troublespots are. Today we call them tensions, a word suggesting that if two people are pulling against each other, "something's gotta give."

What we're after

Paul not only knew where the tensions are, he knew what is the ideal of marriage. Now it would be impossible for Paul either to state a problem or to suggest how to solve one, without a reference to Christ. That is the trouble with so much modern analysis of the marriage problem. It never gets within range of religion. But Paul comes to the One who for him and for us too (if we live up to our professions) is the Center, no matter what the thought or the action is. The ideal family life, we are here told, is a life of harmony. The relation between Christ and the church is the model for the relation of the various parts of the family to one another. Harmony, not identity, is the aim. No one person runs the family; that is dictatorship. There is organization; a good home is not a place where every one does as he pleases without caring what any one else thinks or does. But good organization, with a head who is really a head and not just a Sunday looker-on, organization which has as its aim not uniformity but harmony in love.

The cure for what ails us

There are thirteen sentences (as we noted) in this short passage; yet Christ is mentioned not less than nine times. Christ in the home lessens the tensions, and even all but destroys them. (No home is so good that it is forever free from the danger of tensions.) Out of the many ways in which this is true, consider one that is highlighted by St. Paul, the relation — which can be pretty tense! - between husband and wife. He tells the wife to be subject to her husband, and many a man has taken this to mean that he is the sergeant and the family is the squad; so when he barks they should all jump. Not at all! Paul goes on to say something even stronger to the husband You must love your wife as Christ loved the church, giving himself in sacrifice. The model for the husband-father is not taken from the rules of a cavalry regiment but from Calvary. Indeed Paul says that not only the wife but each member of the family should be "in subjection" to the others. Each for all and all for each-if each and all are for Christ as He is for them, tensions will disap-
