Both employers and employees expressed a great appreciation of the program and their opportunity to participate in it. Many seniors said that they wish they could have taken part in the program before because it made them see the value of study and would have tried a lot harder in school. OUT OF THE HIDE

We now have a tax cut which, when it becomes fully effective, will amount to something over $11 billion a year. And we are confronted with still another deficit, in the neighborhood of $9 billion. As The Wall Street Journal puts it, "... those nine billion dollars must be taken out of the hide of the economy. . . . In effect, the government will simply print up nine billion paper dollars. The resulting inflation will take back from the people the relief that the government professes to give by 'lower' tax rates.'

Writing in The Reader's Digest, James Daniel summed up the situation in a single sentence: "More dollars chasing after goods and services spell higher prices." That has been the case since time began and, carried to its ultimate extreme, it has resulted in the ruin of nations - the post World War I disaster in Germany, when it took a wheelbarrow load of marks to buy a loaf of bread, being the prime example of recent times. Beyond bankrupting the people, it was a major contributory element to Hitler's rise to power and thus of World War II.

The tax cut can be justified only if it is offset by a comparatively proportionate reduction in federal spending. Failing that, we're just robbing Peter to pay Paul.

of the population faces impoverishment through excessive taxation. . . Where is the money going? Why is TI 8-7505 it that the city, county, state and federal governments year after year need more funds? Mainly it's on account of ultraliberal relief policies that have led to 8 million persons in this country receiving public aid. This at a time when there is unprecendented prosperity and business activity."

MILES CITY, MONT., STAR: "The national economy is sadly outof-joint when it is illegal for one company to make all the automobiles (for example) and hunky-dory for one international union to control all the automobile workers in all the plants of the nation."

CRAWFORD, TEXAS, SUN: "We would like to urge every voter to be doubly careful this election year and vote for those who will best serve the people. We subscribe whole-heartedly to the old adage that the government is to protect-not provide."

MANISTIQUE, MICH., PIONEER-TRIBUNE: "We don't know how it happened, but our worthy representatives in Congress somehow summoned the moral fortitude to deny themselves a 10,000 annual pay increase. . . . A good share of our Federal employees are no doubt entitled to modest pay increases, but we just can't see including our Congressmen and Senators in the boost-particularly at the outlandish rate of $10,-000 a year. If they don't want the job at what it's paying now, there seems to be plenty of available candidates to succeed them."

OHESTER, S. C., REPORTER: President Johnson reaffirmed the spirit of the Monroe Doctrine. . when he declared 'the full power of the United States' is ready to assist any American country whose freedom is threatened from another continent. Unfortunately, that is not the way the game of freedom-threatening is being played these days. We have a somber illustration of that in Cuba, a former American republic that has become a satellite of a major power on another continent by infiltration and perversion."

called Mark's mother, "I thought they went back to your house." Two more phone calls-no one had seen him. Could some stranger ...?

She pushed the thought from her mind and quickly dialed another of Glenn's kindergarten friends, this one on Hollow Road, many streets away. "Yes, he's here. Hold on, I'll get him."

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

Western Maryland Hospital in Hagerstown has had another visiting hour change: Sunday hours are now 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. Isn't that grand? Since the patients come from so many areas, I'm surprised that the hours haven't been like this previously. More people will be able to visit friends and relatives in the hospital now.

Speaking of hospitals, don't forget that Saturday, the 23rd, is the date for the "doings" with an auction at 6 P. M. by the Auxiliary of the Carroll County General Hospital at the Westminster Armory. Hospitals make one think of illnesses and that reminds me that the measles are still very much around. My Bruce came home from school on Friday with them. Fortunately they were the three-day kind. Mrs. Chandler, on the Bookmobile Saturday, told me her daughter had also come home "peppered" on Friday. One would think they would be over for another season by now.

The altar flowers at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday were in memory of Mrs. Annie Fox and given by her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hollish. Be-cause Mrs. Hollish lives in Pennsylvania, her cousin, Mrs. Robert Stin near Keysville, did the procuring and arranging of the flowers for her. They were lovely pink gladoli and white carnations with greenery.

A number of men from the area reported to Gunpowder Range for week-end duty with the National Guard. They were Richard Wilhide, Robert Bowers, Jr., Paul Roop, "Jun-ior" Wantz, Daniel Ridinger and Robert Dutrow. Units from Hagerstown, Westminster and Blue Ridge Summitt ook part.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stenley of Keysville, who own the home next to the Keysville Lutheran Church, are painting the house gray and have put up black shutters. It really looks most attractive. (The house was daughter).

Two Terra Rubra 4-H Club mem bers gave demonstrations on Monday night at the meeting of the Women's Association of Southern States of Taneytown. They were Joan Thomas, who demonstrated "How to Make Bread," 'and Beth Wilhide, who demon strated "The Making of a Terrarium."

meeting was held at Keysville Lutheran Church on Monday afternoon. Because of preparing lists for transportation ahead of time, don't forget to call as soon as possible if your child can attend: Mrs. Dharlys Fleharty on 775-2155 or Mrs. Ruth Wilhide on 756-6818. The dates again are June 15 to 21 and 22 to 27. Because of the expense involved in the urchase of workbooks, activity packets and supplies, any donations (whether or not you have children to attend) will be most gratefully received. The cost per child is at least $1.50. If you are unable to give of your time to help, perhaps you would like to aid in this way. Helpers are still needed, as well, so if you can assist, please don't hesitate to volun-

Mrs. Patricia Stabler, Extension Agent 4-H and Youth, was a supper guest with the Carroll Wilhide family on Thursday evening. After attending the Terra Rubra Girls' 4-H Club meeting, she was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan of Forest and Stream Club Rd. The new house at Terra Rubra is being "bricked-up" now. The garage was finished last week. Really does look good. . . . Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide near Keysville were Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Coshun, Debbie and Darryl of Keysville. In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. John Hanschmann of Bethesda Announcements were: Cooking Workshop at the home of Mrs. Richard Wilhide, which had to be cancelled for the 16th, will be held on Saturday, the 23rd; Carroll County 4-H Fair will be held July 14 to 17; 4-H Camp will be held August 15-22 in Garrett County at Camp Bittinger; and next meeting will be June 11 at the home of Virginia and Linda Kehne of Keysville-Taneytown Road. This will be a Workshop to prepare for the Mother-Daughter Tea to be held on June 30. Demonstrations next month to be given by Nancy Thomas, Joan Thomas, Patti Poole and, as a team, Virginia and Linda Kehne.

Elmer A. Wolfe Mothers Club

Thomas Kenny, a psychologist who works from the Baltimore Clinic and visits the Carroll County General Hospital Clinic, was guest speaker for the Mothers Club of Elmer A. Wolfe School on Wednesday, May 13. Ac-companying him was Dr. Donald Fish-Saturday visitor with the Carroll Wilhide family near Detour was his mother, Mrs. Maurice Wilhide, who is staying nowadays with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minnick of Union Paris Charles Minnic time and asked for questions. There was good discussion about habits, to reward or not to reward, whether or not one should "argue" with their children and how one can determine f a child is in need of psychological

Dr. Fisher stressed that these things are done by means of various channels: that symptoms can be noticed by parents, teachers or possibly the school principal; that a family's per-sonal physician should definitely be consulted and then further action can be taken by contact with the clinic There should be no feeling of "stain" on the part of any family that seeks help for mental disorders are diseases and need treatment and help the same as physical ones. A covered dish luncheon was served by club members to welcome new first grade mothers before the meeting with Mrs. Rickell and Mr. Perron as uests. After hearing Mr. Kenny and Dr. Fisher, there was a short business meeting with discussion on using Room Mothers instead of the usual officers for next school year. Further decision will be made on this upon completion of a survey that will be made by the school office on the status of the mothers of the school pupils. A motion was made and seconded to postpone giving a gift to the school until next fall and because so many mothers do not receive their notes from school, Mr. Perron will arrange for monthly letters to be sent to each home with the dates for any "doings" listed so they will be known well in advance and plans can be made for

FAIRVIEW

Six years ago I had written a story about a little black hen, my father, Mr. Grant Baker, had along the Taneytown and Keymar Road. This little hen really belongs to their grandson Douglas Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baker, Frederick St., Tan-eytown. This little hen is 6 inches tall and weighs 1½ lbs. When this little hen started to lay Mr. Baker kept a record of her. She layed 99 eggs before she wanted to set and during the year 1957 she laid 147 eggs. She also raised two families of baby chicks. This hen is now 11 years old. stopped laying eggs for a year. Now she has started to lay again and has layed at least 15 eggs and she is just as pretty as she ever was.

neighbors, for each morning a pert little House Wren awakens me with her cheerful, bubbling song. Mrs. Wren is just a little mite, but she fairly bursts with melody. I consider her a friendly neighbor, indeed.

Another neighbor, and by far my most industrious one, is Mrs. Baltimore Oriole, who each Spring selects the same tree — the silvery South Carolina Poplar—in which to build her unique, hanging nest. Once again, she has carefully chosen a very high, over-hanging branch, well out of the reach of any marauder. Even as I write this article, Mrs. Oriole is skillfully twisting and weaving within the swinging pouch, which is rapidly nearing completion. The final result is a real work of art! My liveliest neighbors are a family of squirrels, who live in a nearby tree but who quite frequently come into the yard, where they visit the birdfeeders. Sometimes they will scamp er around atop the yard fence, right outside the kitchen and living room windows. These little rodents are certainly fascinating to watch, but our cat, "Puff," is not satisfied to merely survey their antics. He tries to catch them, and as fleet as they are, one unfortunate little fellow did not escape him the other day. I was sorry to see it, but this is a part of nature's check and balance system, in which only the fittest survive.

A most unusual neighbor turned up a few days ago as I was bird-watch binoculars revealed a raccoon, sunning trees. Raccoons are night creatures. FREE FOR LIMITED TIME ONLY Installation is free if you buy your staring down intently at me with his black eyes. Finally, convinced that I meant him no harm, he changed position and contentedly went on with his "sun-bath."

These are just a few of my good neighbors, for I could name many more. As long as they are around, I will never grow too lonesome. -Zola Cantwell.

SCOUT NEWS

A variety of Scouting themes has featured the Thursday night meetings, usually involving some interpatrol contest, as for example, map-ping symbols selected by patrol leader, Ricky Airing, trail signs by Philip Martin, assistant, and James Frock, patrol leader, Morse signaling with buzzer by Patrol leader, Ricky Clingan, knot tying by Frock in prepar-ation for the highly successful par-ents' night and Court of Honor where Assistant scoutmaster G. Samuel Bower was honored with Eagle Scout rank, semaphore signaling by Patrol leader Robert Miller, and Morse with wigwag flags by Assistant patrol leader, Donald Hahn. Last week an outdoor meeting led off with softball at the Elementary School, but this competition, also figuring in the patrol contest, enthusiastically consumed so much time that a theme had to be postponed. Other games which have formed a portion of each meeting's program include (and their organizer) British bulldog (Assistant patrol leader Samuel Fleming), volleyball championship (Scoutmaster Wilbur O. Thomas), mounted football and capture the flag (both by Patrol leader Thomas West), and grab the bacon (scout-master). One evening, through the courtesy of Principal Ned C. Musser and Coach Bernard M. Decker, vol-leyball and basketball were enjoyed in the high school gymnasium.

ANNUAL JUNE LIVESTOCK SURVEY CARDS

Postmaster George Fream announced that Rural Mail Carriers and Star Route Contractors will begin distributing June Livestock Survey cards to farmer-patrons on their routes about May 21.

The June Livestock Survey provides the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service at College Park basic information for estimating the pig crop, calf crop, lamb crop and information on wool, milk and egg production.

This is a sample survey, so not all farms will receive a survey card. To assure that your community is represented in this survey, Mr. Fream urges each farmer-parton receiving a card to fill it out and place it in his mail box.

Carriers distributing the survey ge. cards from the Taneytown Post Of-fice are Ralph F. Kelly, Route one; je and Howell B. Royer, Route two.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports

You really have to wait an entire season before you can assess a trade. But right now it appears the Detroit Tigers did all right in the big deal they swung with Kansas City last Winter. Among other players, they got Pitcher Dave Wickersham in that trade. And Dave is off to a flying start on the mound for the Tigers. He has a record of three victories and two losses. His third win, posted a week ago, was a smooth whitewash job on the Boston Red Sox.

In training camp this Winter, Manager Charlie Dressen had plans to use Wickersham as a relief pitcher. But after watching Dave work he altered those plans to read part-time in the bullpen and part-time as a starter. Wickersham spent opening day in the bullpen and came out of it to save the inaugural victory for Phil Regan against the Athletics. The following Sunday he beat the heavy-hitting Minnesota Twins with only 4 hits. And he showed great poise when the Tiger infield cracked for two errors in the ninth inning. Dave retired the sensational Minnesota rookie, Tony Oliva, in that very tight spot to win the game. Dave has fine control and Dressen in commenting on that said: "Wickersham can place the ball better than anybody else we have here." Wickersham is happier pitching for Detroit than he was for Kansas City and points out that for one thing his outfield support is better in Tigertown than it was in Kansas City. Dave is willing to overlook a few infield errors if the out fielders go and get the long drives that are catchable. Rocky Colavito of the Kansas City Athletics says there is nothing unusual about the good start he is off to, that it has nothing to do with the pay cut he had to take and that he always goes all-out. Colavito was traded by the Tigers to K. C. this Winter in a multi-player deal. The A's made him take a pay cut from a reported $50,000 to $46,000. He was answered by streaking to a fast start in both home runs and runs batted in. Those were the two departments the A's needed help in and that's why they traded for Colavito.

Rocky says: "My timing has been good so far this season and I'm doing a good job of waiting for the pitch I want. I've had good starts in previous seasons and it's hard to compare this one with others. I try my best every day at the bat. If you keep hitting 'em some are bound to fall

By the way, Rocky got away to a terrible start last year. He had only six home runs in the first half of the season and he has passed that mark already. He wound up with 22 home runs and 91 runs batted in for Detroit. That meant a strong finish. Rocky is likely to be the man to beat for home run honors in the American League this year. He is a powerful pull hitter to left field and the ball carries well to that area in the Kansas City park. Rocky is scheduled to play 81 games in that park. The homer distance to left center field the alley for a strong right-handed batter — is only 363 feet. It's not exactly pop-fly range but neither is it out of reach. The A's paid a high price for Colavito. They game up pitchers Dave Wickersham and Ed Rakow and second baseman Jerry Lumpe to get Rocky and pitcher Bob Anderson. Giving up three such play-ers as they did indicated Kansas City put a high estimate on Colavito. That's why he fought the cut bitterly. But that's over now and he figures that if he has a big season at the plate he will get it back with something to spare.

The San Francisco Giants must have considered Bob Shaw's 7-11 rec-ord with the Milwaukee last year a natural, even though it was four games less than breaking even. Shaw was considered the key man for San Francisco in the deal they made with Milwaukee this Winter. They sent Milwaukee this Winter. They sent the talented outfielder, Felipe Alou, catcher Ed Bailey and pitcher Billy Hoeft to the Braves for catcher Ed Bailey and pitchers Bob Hendley and Shaw. The Giants wanted Shaw for the job of late-inning relief man, a must for a team which hopes to win the pennant. The Giants didn't have a reliable fireman last year and they didn't win the pennant. So far this year, Shaw has been an even greater nelp than the Giants dared dream of. He has won three games and has saved several more. Bob is only 30 years old and says he feels in great condition. He had better be. Al Dark, the manager of the Giants, is playing every game as though a pennant went with it. Shaw will have to be in shape to stand up under the endurance test that Dark is likely to provide 18 and lost only six that year. In 1962, with Milwaukee, he won 15 and dropped nine. Getting back to that 7-11 record in games won and lost last year, the Giants must have noticed his earned run average. It was 2.66, the best of Shaw's career. Judging by the way he has started this year he may do even better in 1964.

A VOICE FROM CARROLL

In a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post a professor of education states that "the P. T. A. is a waste of time." That in spite of its good intentions, it accomplishes very little. A few years ago I would have been very indignant at such an article for I was a member of the local P. T. A. for 11 years. During that time I devoted a great deal of en-ergy to the Association under the delusion that my effort was important. Today I can read the article and know what the professor writes is all too true. The high ideals of the P. T. A. are never taken seriously by its members. Instead most of its members attend the meetings to satisfy their own ego. in one form or another. Most mothers love the P. T A. for it gives them a chance to get away from the dull routine of home-making once in awhile and talk to other mothers. Fathers are a different matter, for to them a P. T. A. meeting is as dull as last years family reunion. However, in concluding his article, the professor doesn't advo-cate eliminating the P. T. A. for he sees the possibility that the future will bring a new type of parent into the organization who will have the intelligence and the courage to come to grips with the real problems of our educational system. These new parents will contribute something more than "a nusiance value" which is all that I and my counterparts contrib-uted when we were members of the

Our cat, "Castro," will no longer disturb the birds nor play the role of Romeo to all the female cats in the country side for he is dead. He would have lived longer if he had been content to be a house cat but he liked adventure and it cost him his life. Some people believe that cats never come home to die but Castro did. He had been on his last expedition for a month and we had given him up for good. Last week we saw him making his way slowly across the lawn and we went out to meet him. We could see that he had fought his last fight and that he knew it too. He refused food, but allowed us to carry him to his box in the basement, where some-time during the night he left for his happy hunting ground.

The American bird known as the Baltimore Oriole was designated as such in 1766 by the Swedish naturan-list Linnaeus, who described it from a specimen sent to him from Maryland and who chose the name as a compliment to the memory of Lord Baltimore, whose family colors were orange and black. They are also the colors of the plumage of the male Baltimore Oriole.

"A man must sometimes rise above "A man must sometimes rise above principle" is a widely quoted saying as a sort of American political proverb. It seems to have been first used about 1921 by Percy E. Quin, who represented a Mississippi district in the House of Representatives from 1913 to 1931. "A man must rise above principles" is another way of saying that a man often has a difsaying that a man often has a difficult time in steering a course between what he thinks is right and what he thinks is expedient. This kind of a situation confronts each person most of the time. The author of one of Broadway's current hits is investing his royal-ties in Hereford cattle. Asked why, he explained, "There are two reasons: one, its a favorable tax set-up, and two, cows don't ask for free tickets to the show.'

It has taken the Supreme Court' decision against prayers or Bible reading in the public schools to show how senstive people are on the sub-ject of religion. This proves more than ever that our forefathers were wise men indeed to write into the first amendment to the constitution that the church and state be separ-For they foresaw that what could happen to the emotions of men if religion and government were in constant conflict. Each has its own function and purpose and neither should intrude upon the other. The talk of adding an amendment to our constitution to permit prayers in the public schools would be contrary to the principles upon which our country was founded. . . . that of religious freedom. The Supreme Court did not outlaw prayers or reading of the Bible but in all the emotional upheavel that has followed the Court's decision many persons think it did. The truth of the matter is the Court has done all of us a favor for it has focused our attention on the fact that both the parents and the church-es have shirked their duty and their responsibility. The teaching of religion to children is the right of the churches and the responsibility of sending the children to Sunday School and Church is the duty of the parents. If the church has failed and we as parents have failed don't let us make the mistake any worse, by blaming our failures on the Supreme Court. It was a cruel coincidence that the accident at the Municipal Stadium in Baltimore should have happened on Children's Safety Patrol Day. Accidents are the result of human error and judgment. For this reason school children are drilled in safety rules and regulations. Many tragedies could be avoided if adults were also drilled in rules of safety.

Christian Citizens Lesson for May 24, 1964

Background Scripture: Judges 9:7-15; Luke 20:19-26; Romans 13:1-7; I Peter Luke 20:19-26; Romans 13:1-7; 1 P 4:12-16. Devotional Reading: I Timothy 2:1-8.

THANK GOD for the police-men!" "Thank God for the soldiers!" you might not expect to hear such remarks, but they have been uttered, with the deepest sincerity, by many desperate peo-ple. A city in China, deserted ment's troops, and not yet within reach of the rebel army, might for two or three dreadful days be without government of any kind. Mobs did what they pleased.

Dr. Foreman Likewise in America, citizens of certain southern towns have had to live through nights of terror when the state police were nowhere and again mobs did what they pleased. So people who never even noticed policemen or soldiers, before, thank God for them once they have had the experience of living without any government at all.

The Government Wherever human beings live in settled communities, there you will find government of some kind. Historically there have been all kinds, and we can see all kinds in the world today at the same time. At the time the New Testament was being written, all of its writers lived under the Roman Empire, though no Bible writer was a citizen except Saint Paul. Now the absolute monarchy which was the form of the Empire at that time, was not what an American would like. There was no possible way of changing the Emperor. Then and Now

So there was nothing much then that an individual could do about the Roman government. For the common man, politics did not exist. The only thing he could do was to accept the government, obey the laws, pay the taxes, and live as much of a Christian life as the situation permitted. Paul in speaking about government did not speak to government. That would have been of no use. His advice was intended to be practical. He counseled people in Rome to obey the Roman authorities and pay their taxes and be glad the government had a big sword to keep down mobs and criminals.

Does this advice, given under a government harsher than that of East Germany today, have anything to say to us today? It certainly has much to say to Christians living today. But what about free America? Here the government is you, you and the officials you elect. If you get a Tiberius by mistake you can correct that mistake at the next election. You can write to your representatives in government, you can get attention if not immediate action. And of course you, like the ancient Romans can pay taxes cheerfully and obey the laws and respect the law-enforcing arm of government. In a short sentence: As a Christian, you have a responsibility to your community to do all in your power to see that your city county, state and nation are well and effectively governed.

What about Tyrants?

Almost ever since the days of Paul, his words about obeying the "powers that be" have been used to defend tyrants from criticism and attack. Kings in the Middle Ages thought they had a divine right to be kings. Political bosses today are less religious than ancient kings, but just as greedy for power, to get and to keep it, as any Roman Caesar or any modern dictator. Did Paul mean, by his exhortation to obedience, that we are to take meekly any Napoleon or Hitler or Mao who comes along? Does Christianity support tyranny? No; said the early Christian martyrs, who died horrible deaths rather than obey the government's demands that they burn incense to Caesar or to pagan gods. No, said the Puritans to King Charles I. No, say the Hungarian freedom fighters. A tyrant is one who by his tyranny has lost the right to be considered a power "ordained of

Of course you do. We suggest that you consider the Purina controlled feeding plan for these reasons:

- 1. Helps you lower cost about $12 per 100 pullets grown, according to Purina Research Farm tests.
- 2. Grows a leaner, slower-developing pullet that lays more eggs and larger eggs when she comes into production.
- 3. Grows a hardy bird that lives better under the strain of heavy production.

The Purina Plan is easy to follow. Ask us about it before your chicks are 8 weeks old.
