Kiwanis Activity

The meeting of May 27 was well The meeting of May 27 was well attended and all were especially impressed with the deep and profound message given by Mr. Howard Miller, minister of the Taneytown Lutheran Church on the Kiwanian theme of the week viz; "Work and Pray for Permanent Pagasa" Permanent Peace."

Permanent Peace."
Mr. Miller presented for today's consideration that through all history there has been very little, if any, period of peace and the history of all nations, tribes or people is the repeated story of war, riot and devastation to achieve national status, then more war to maintain that status and then more war until national us, and then more war until national power was exhausted and nation after nation has sunk into oblivion.

Peace is like the child trying to catch its shadow, for just as the child thinking the shadow is cornered and is ready to spring upon it, just so the shadow also springs and eludes capture.

Men of all nations, through all the men of all hattons, through all the records of history have found peace an illusory, unreal and deceptive mirage or something we behold in the range of our mental vision but a nearer approach changes the illusion to delusion.

Our own country, the land of the free and the home of the brave, with its written constitution embracing the noblest conception of peace, harmony, morality and religion, still finds in its history of slightly more than 300 years records of numerous wars, periods of internal strife, riots, crimes and quarrels of many types wars, periods of internal strife, riots, crimes and quarrels of many types and therefore no permanent peace.

We are confronted with the question, "Why"? Men pray for peace, they try to buy it, try to win it by diplomacy, in fact, try every device which the ages can generate yet conflict suspicion, hatred, malevolence flict, suspicion, hatred, malevolence and ill will still abide because mankind in their prayers have missed the one quality that can be the only road to permanent peace.

This road was opened by the Galilean nearly two thousand years ago, and the road narrow and straight is

"Love."

Away with hatred, suspicion and distrust; replace them with love, brotherhood, fellowship and mutual good-will and permanent peace could be the result. "Pray for Peace" but translate the words of the prayer into acts of love, for prayer is only a jumble of words unless it inspires and generates action that accords with divine love and brotherhood.

ATTENDS TOWN AND COUNTRY CONFERENCE

The Rev. William F. Wiley, Pastor of The Taneytown Charge of the United Church of Christ attended the Town and Country Conference recently held at the Glade Church, Walkersville. It was a very informative conference on the theme, "The Challenge to the Rural Church in Our Rapidly Changing Economy.'

The conference was a great challenge to the town and country churches especially of the State of Maryland as the stress was placed upon this State. An informal discussion followed the three reports pre-sented by Dr. Arthur Hamilton, Assistant to the Dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Maryland; The Rev. Harvey Schlich-ter, Pastor of the Manchester Parish of the United Church of Christ; and The Rev. Alfred Bartholomew, Professor of Church and Community at the Lancaster Theological Seminary, Lancaster, Pa. The film, "The Captive," was shown and recommended to all the churches in Maryland located in a town or in the country.

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Eleventh Street! You say to your sister that you would like to visit the street in Philadelphia where you spent your childhood and she quickly replies holding up her hand with a meaningful gesture — "Oh! don't because the entire neighborhood has changed so much that it would worry you!"

Your thoughts carry you back to

Your thoughts carry you back to the white marble fronts and steps that were part of the framework of that were part of the framework of that city house in a row. There were 12 huge rooms and it was gas lighted with Welsbach Mantles. The beautiful chandeliers in the "parlor" as they called it and the dining rooms appeared always like diamonds. You recall your thrifty Mother who was so immaculate and orderly and you feel that the word of perfectionist would be just so proper in everything feel that the word of perfectionist would be just so proper in everything she did. Her family came from Berne, Switzerland and she was a grand housekeeper teaching each one of her daughters the art of housekeeping. It was your job on Saturday mornings to sandsoap that entire marble front and hose and scrub off the pavement after. The marble was really so castle white that your eyes ached when the sun shone upon it. You were only seven years of age and you were as all the rest of the children most obedient.

Then in the afternoon (we did not

Then in the afternoon (we did not have a car) a tremendous slat bas-ket was placed upon your arm to shop at the Acme store: A ten dollar bill was thrust in your hand plus the list of articles to be purchased. The basket was truly a real load and you remember the passer by, saying, "Look at that little girl carrying that heavy basket of groceries!" You would give them a smile for it was not heavy to you as you remember how strong you were in those young

You remember several girl friends right on that block — once a beautiful Irish girl, Loretta Timoney, whose parents arrived as bride and groom from Ireland and then there were 11 children! Loretta and Lovera really from Ireland and then there were 11 children! Loretta and I were really pals. There was Hester Roberts, an only child who was just about spoilt to death and then there was Irene Kennedy another only child but whose parents did not spoil her in the least. You remember the parties which were lovely affairs. You recall the three going roller skating—catching a hold of a side of a wagon down on Broad St., and the nice driver who would slow down for you to get a good grip on the bar. You remember "belly-bumping" on the sled down the hill on Broad St., in your leggings, Tom 'O Shanter and warm coat with mittens. Rolling a hoop was another sport in the Spring, coat with mittens. Rolling a hoop was another sport in the Spring, playing ball and jacks on one of the steps was another, riding bicycles was another and once weekly attending a 5 cent movie! You recall the Old Oakdale School at the corner where you attended Grammar school (which is now a Solvation Army project) and now a Salvation Army project) and the Presbyterian Church on the other corner where you attended every activity. Wednesday evenings — Christian Endeavor, Thursday evening the ladies would give a grand supper, Friday evenings were religious movie slides and Sunday was church at 11 A. M., S. S. in the afternoon at 2:30 and again church in the evening. In the Summer you were taken along to the big church picnic out at Fair-mount Park. You remember the shows the boys put on in a basement of one of the homes and one a thril-ler called "The Black Diamond."

using a huge piece of coal!
You recall on Christmas mornings carrying the big turkey to the nearby bakery to be roasted for the small fee of 15c and carrying the bird home again beautifully browned. Somehow those days it always snowed on early Christmas mornings

Then the big highlight was the time your eldest brother, Sidney who was a nephew of Uncle Sam as a Bugler visiting the school and class in your room as he had had the same teacher in previous years. A big American flag was draped on the back part of the room in your brother's honor and someone played the Star Spangled Banner and there stood your handsome brother in his uniform and you were so proud!

There is so much more to tell or write about North Eleventh Street and you feel you would rather remember it just that way instead of that visit which you had planned.

So long, Folks. Have a grand weekend. Hope to be seeing you around the town soon. Until then-

"GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS"

FINDLAY, OHIO, REPUBLICAN-COURIER: "A group of economists, educators and writers has come up with a 1964 version of Utopia. In a statement sent to President Johnson it argues that every American should be guaranteed an annual income as a matter of right, whether he works or not. . . Left unanswered are such questions as how many would be willing to work at all if they didn't have to, and whether workers would be willing to support millions who simply don't want to work. Workers will always be needed, no matter how many machines there are. . . . If millions are to eat without working, there will have to be some way of persuading others to work. On this interesting detail, the committee is FLEMINGTON, N.J., DEMOCRAT: "'Will the economy live up to its promise?' . . . The 1962 tax revision which helped industry to meet the challenge of obsolescense, is now having some impact on the economy. The 1964 tax cut may produce a rise in consumer spending. . . . The important question is the attitude of the economic planners, the men in Washington who shape policies of the future. Will they support sound expansion thru free enterprise and private investment? AIKEN, S.C., STANDARD AND REVIEW: "The only alternative to a vigorous, profit-motivated free enterprise economy is the managed state. And America must support the former-or accept the latter!"

SANTA PAULA, CALIF., CHRON-ICLE: "A case can be made for spending billions to make work, if the cost were shifted from relief to public works. But there would still be many who could not qualify even for man-made work, and the cost would be largely a new and additional drain on top of relief expenditures. The need is not for a new public works program, but for educating and training. Public works is not a cure for unemployment . The jobs end with the works, they leave no one trained for permanent jobs, and no permanent jobs are created to which he can return. There is no substitute for new products, new markets, and new and expanded industries to cut unemployment."

TOLEDO, IOWA, CHRONICLE: "'The art of taxation,' wrote Jean Baptiste Colbert, finance minister to France's King Louis XIV some 200 years ago, 'consists in so plucking the goose as to obtain the largest amounts of feathers with the least possible amount of hissing."

COATESVILLE, PA., RECORD: "Quite a few of the transit companies around the country still are owned by private enterprise. . . . The mass transit bill that the Administration is pushing has some built-in inducements to cities to take over these systems. . . . Communities which are tempted to nibble at this bait, however, should look at . . . other . . city-owned systems. New York, for instance, is stuck with a 15-cent fare based on politics rather than economics, while politics also dictates that the city shall tolerate periodic threats of transit workers strikes for demands such as the four-day week. Taxes pay more and more of the costs. While some privately-owned systems manage to stay in the black, few public ones do, even when the systems pay no Federal, state or local taxes."

SELMER, TENN., INDEPEND-ENT: "It is amazing to pick up a daily newspaper and see numerous references to 'state' aid, or 'federal' aid. . . . Just who-or what-is this 'state' (or 'federal') we hear so much about as being all beneficent, all mighty? It's YOU, YOU and me. When we forget that then we will have surrendered to a centralized government run by a handful of people, and history is full of what happened to such nations."

get big litters of HUSKY PIGS

A sow is a pig factory. She has the big job of producing and nursing two litters of pigs every year. Like any other factory, she has to have raw ingredients to produce the product (pigs) and maintain the factory (her own body).

If she doesn't get proper nutrition she may actually resorb some pigs into her system, causing you to lose pigs you'll never even see; or she may farrow weak, unthrifty litters.

Purina Sow Chow has what it takes to help the sow keep up her own body, farrow big litters and have plenty of milk to start 'em right. Available as a supplement to your grain or as a complete sow ration. Ask for Purina Sow Chow at our store.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

The June meeting date of the Terra Rubra Girls' 4-H Club has been changed from Thursday the 11th to Wednesday the 10th, and will be at the home of Virginia and Linda Kehne of the Keysville-Taneytown Rd. This of the Keysville-Taneytown Rd. This to be a workshop to plan the Mother-Daughter Tea.

Bible School Meeting on Monday,
June 8, at 1 P. M. at Keysville Lutheran Church. All teachers and helpers should try to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and

Susan of Forest and Stream Club Road were visitors Thursday evening, along with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wantz, Jr., and Scotty, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wantz, Sr., of Taneytown.

There are still some of the napkins with the religious motifs available at the Village Store in Detour. Profit from their sale will go to the Keys-ville Lutheran Building Fund. Speaking of the store, it surely does look different right now with the overhang in the front taken off.

Saturday visitors at the William Weishaar home near Detour were Mrs. Florence Hyde and Mrs. Mary Fossett of Westminster.

Childrens Day program will be presented at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday. Sunday School service begins at 9:30 A. M. now with church starting at 10:45 A. M.

Our sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. James Welty of Westminster who died on Saturday and was buried on Monday.

Week-end visitors at the Carroll Wilhide home near Detour were daughter Jane and fellow-nursing-trainee at Frederick Memorial Hospital, Linda Webster of Long Island N V land, N. Y.

Guest speaker at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday was Landis Coffman, who is a student at the Seminary in Gettysburg. Mr. Coffman, who is from Hagerstown, will serve as Assistant Pastor for a church in Berlin, Pa., this summer. He spoke of Christ's asking the disciples the question, "Who do you say that I am?" and told the congregation to consider their reply to it. The altar flowers were lovely Pasco recognition. flowers were lovely Peace roses from the garden of Mrs. Harry Clabaugh of Taneytown. They were about the size of saucers and from a distance looked somewhat like peonies. Just beautiful! The morning anthem was a duet by visitors, Mr. and Mrs. David Reifsnider near Keymar. They sang "Climbing Jacob's Ladder." Very good, indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Kiser of the Keysville Road and Mr. Charles Cluts near Keysville were Monday visitors with Mrs. Cluts at the Western Maryland Hospital in Hagerstown. She sent warm regards to all her friends and neighbors and neighbors.

Sunday visitors and dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. William Weishaar and Randy of Forest and Stream Club Road were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Slenker and Danny, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Plaine, Danny and Diane, Mrs. Mary Plaine, Charles Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Slaseman and Julianna of Mt. Wolf, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Glingan of Thurmont, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weishaar of Taneytown, Mr. and Mrs. James Weishaar and Bobby of Detour and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wildisan and Kevin of Westminster.

A trip to Clear Spring on Sunday to visit her parents and family, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Seibert, Paul, Timmy, Mariann and Johnny, was made by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan near Detour. They attended church there and her father was soloist that morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Heaps and son Galen of Silver Spring were Saturday overnight guests of her father, Charovernight guests of her father, Charles Cluts of Riverdale Farm near Keysville. After attending Keysville Lutheran Church, they spent the afternoon with her mother, Mrs. Cluts, at Western Maryland Hospital.

"One Step More" was the topic of the Keysville Lutheran Church Women's meeting on Monday evening with Mrs. Kathryn Coshun and Mrs. Mae Baumgardner as leaders. The four Baumgardner as leaders. The four hymns sung during the program were each related to the topic and told that we are the stones upon which the church is built, that the humblest work we do can be done for God and that we express feelings of fellowship with God by working together.

Mrs. Florence Blanchfield and Mrs. Betty Flohr took part in a skit that told of some of the purposes and meanings of LCW. They are to overcome the "don't-know-how" about one's church, visitation of absentee members and shut-ins, open avenues of service to the church, tell of the outreach of the church both at home and overseas and extend fellowship. The two specials for the evening were a solo, "Hold Thou My Hand," by Mrs. Vesta Reifsnider accompanied by Mrs. Daisy Pearl Reifsnider, and piano solo, "Eskimo," by Peggy Glass. Business meeting was conducted by President Ruth Wilhide with special emphasis placed on the coming convention at Gettysburg College and the Mission Study on Southeast Asia to be held at the Church on August 30. Mrs. Roy Baumgardner is accepting memberships for the Auxil-iary of the Lutheran Church Home. The money realized from the food stands at two sales will be turned over to the Building Fund. Refreshments in keeping with Flag Day and featuring red, white and blue were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Helen Dougherty, Mrs. Anna Haifleigh and Mrs.

HERE AT WOOD BURN

As the exquisite days of May blend into the glorious month of June, all of nature hums and throbs with vibrant life. Here at Wood Burn, the young calves gambol playfully about in the green fields, while the older cattle graze peacefully. Everywhere parent birds, their mouths stuffed with worms and insects, are flitting to and fro, as they feed their ravenous young. I take particular notice of the Bluebirds, who have their nest in a large fence-post hole, and of course the Baltimore Orioles, who have theirs in the South Caroline Poular Cher in the South Carolina Poplar. Sharing the tree with them is a pair of Robins, who are also hard at work feeding their babies.

Down in the woods, the yellowbilled cuckoo has returned to its old familiar haunts. This handsome but aloof bird times its arrival to co-incide with that of the hairy caterpillars, on which it feeds extensively. In the field, almost hidden by the tall grass, a rooster pheasant cautiously looks about, and then gives out with his funny little crow. A lively squir-rel, pursued by a pair of belligerent house-sparows, scampers from one tree to another. The squirrels become so tame here at Wood Burn that they practically come into the house.

At this season of the year, the whole country-side sings with color and beauty. The locust trees, clothed in snowy white, fill the air with their sweet perfume, as countless bees buzz among the fragrant blossoms. According to an old belief, locust-blooming time is ideal for planting corn.

My peonies, creamy white and tinged with pink, are beginning to unfurl and processing the process of the proce furl, and every rose bush and holly-hock is in bud. The mulberry tree is covered with tiny green mulberries. How the birds love this tree! They fairly gorge themselves on its large but to us, tasteless berries. We have tried eating them but decided they were only fit for bird food. The blackberry bushes are also in bloom. Last year our small patch yielded some unusually large berries. They proved excellent both for freezing and pie-making. In the vegetable garden, onions, beans, squash, cucum-bers, lettuce, beets, cabbage and tomatoes are growing. The ground is quite dry, and we need rain badly. Every time a car travels on the county roads, a huge cloud of dust goes up. These sunny, sparkling days are

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED BY POTOMAC EDISON CO.

The Potomac Edison Company said The Potomac Edison Company said Michael A. Floyd, a senior at Damascus High School, has been awarded a scholarship by the utility company to study at Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn.

Floyd, son of Mrs. Louise F. Floyd and the late Robert A. Floyd, was selected from among 122 applicants attending high schools in the 8,000-square mile area served by the utility. PE announced last year that it had PE announced last year that it had started a college scholarship program to provide $1,500 annually for three students in the area it serves in part of Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia. Miss Jeanne A.

PE President R. G. MacDonald said a three-member committee of professional educators headed by Robert Strider, Director of Financial Aid at Johns Hopkins University, made the final choice of winners. The other two members of the committee were Miss Grace Brown, Registrar at Hood College and Registrar at Hood Coll lege, and Benjamin D. James, Dean of Students at Dickinson College at Carlisle, Pa.

Financial aid under the PE program will be granted each year to two students whose parents or guardians have been customers of the utility for at least a year and to one student whose parent or guardian is employed by the company. Miss Draper's moth-er is secretary to the company's Legal Services Director in Hagerstown.

Floyd, a member of the National Honor Society, has been an honor student at Damascus since he was in the seventh grade. This year he is President of the Student Council and Co-Editor of the school newspaper. Last year he attended a Purdue University Summer Science Institute and won a D.A.R. award.

PE said the scholarships will again be available next year. Any second-ary school senior can apply for the Students who win scholarships may attend any accredited college, junior college or community college approved by the Scholarship Committee and may get up to $500 annually for tuition, room and board or other expenses.

Observations on the World of Sports

FOUND, a bonus player in baseball who seems to be worth two or three times what he got for signing. The name is pitcher Wally Bunker, the teenage terror of the Baltimore Orioles, who has a record of five victories and no defeats so far this season. Bunker got a bonus of $70,000 for signing with Baltimore when he was graduated from high school in California one year ago.

Ironically, he would not be pitching Ironically, he would not be pitching for the Orioles this spring if it weren't for the rule that says he would be eligible to the draft if sent to the minors. The Orioles had no choice but to keep him and are they happy. Wally has a lot of stuff on the ball and he also seems to have an intense will to win.

Most 19 year old boys would behave quietly in their first season in the big leagues. But Bunker recently pitched duletly in their first season in the big leagues. But Bunker recently pitched a four-hitter against the Los Angeles Angels. When they scored their one and only run of the game he was so and only run of the game he was so angry he walked into the dugout and threw his glove against the wall. Early Wynn, in his prime, could not have done it with more assurance.

Almost everybody has been amazed by Bunker's work this spring but one who insists he was not, is President Lee McPhail of the Baltimore club. Says McPhail: "Maybe he's not this good. But he's going to have to convince me otherwise."

BILLY WILLIAMS, stylish Chicago Cub outfielder, is off to a fine start and this is the year he's likely to hit .300, if it's all right with the pitchers in the National League. Trouble is they have had a bad habit of tossing a monkey wrench into things. And Billy has a habit of tiring in the closing weeks. But he certainly has closing weeks. But he certainly has the batting style to top .300 and as we mentioned before he is off to a running start which is a big help.

The head coach of the Cubs, Bob Kennedy, says: "Billy will stay up there over .300 this year because he's hitting the ball to all fields. He is punching the outside pitch to left field instead of trying to pull everything." One of Billy's admirers is that keen baseball observer, manager Gene Mauch of the Phillies, who observes: "Without a doubt Billy has one of the classic swings in baseball." one of the classic swings in baseball.

Williams was a hot rookie in 1961, posting a batting mark of .278. That seemed to promise a .300 mark before long but it has proved elusive to Billy. He went all the way to .298 in 1962 and fell off a bit to .286 average Lat way. erage last year. A curious thing about William's average last year is the fact that he hit only three sacrifice flies. A fellow who slashes with the power he has should do better than that it the sacrifice fly department. that in the sacrifice fly department. But Billy says he developed a thing about hitting with a runner on third. He vowed this spring to lose it, and from all indicatoins he has. The current averages have Williams way aver the 300 mark and hitting for over the .300 mark and hitting for plenty of extra power.

Several times before he has indicated he was ready to blossom as a full-fledged major league hitter. But, each time, his promise faded into disappointment. The White Sox are keeping their fingers crossed that this time it's the real thing. White Sox manager Al Lopez has maintained or course, miracles don't happen overnight, and Nicholson still strikes out rather frequently. He holds the major league record in that department, having struck out 175 times last year. But, the new stance gives him a longer look at the ball, and he has been letting many of the bad pitches go by. As a result, he has been drawing more walks, which is somewhat of a novelty. #### A Needy World Lesson for June 7, 1964

Background Scripture: Deuteronomy 10: 18-19; Matthew 25:31-46; James 2:14-17; I John 3:11-18.
Devotional Reading: I John 3:11, 14-18.

SHARP READERS will have noticed something about these columns since last April. They are all about "The Christian and . . ." even if there was no room for the whole title. First we thought about man-in-general in relation to the universe; then about the Christian in his family relations and with his neighbors; next about the Christian at work and at leisure. This was followed by the Christian in

Dr. Foreman relation to government and to nationalism; and from now through June we consider our relation to the whole

The top and the bottom A large order? Yes, indeed, staggeringly large. But two points run through all of this. One is that we are related to all these things, Christian and non-Christian alike. The difference between the Christian and the irreligious man is not that one has responsibility for his relationships and the other does not. The difference is that the Christian recognizes, even if too dimly, what his responsibilities are, and tries to do something about it. The other point is that a man's character, indeed his very existence as a human being, is measured in terms of his relationships. You don't put a man into a solitary cell to find out whether he is a good man; you turn him loose in the world of other people. If you think of the people of this world as a pyramid, the same thing is true as is true of the ryramids in Egypt: there are very few stones in the top layers, compared with the enormous number of stones in the bottom layers. If you, reading this column, are an American, you are near the top of the human pyramid. You belong to a great "Have" nation, while below you are the millions of people who live in "Have-not" parts of the world.

Never enough People will say, Oh, why bother with the troubles of folks we can't see and can't help? People do seem to get on somehow, wherever they live. They grow up and have babies and they live to be old don't they? Well thet's be old, don't they? Well, that's not quite true. Take the country people, millions of them in country alone, India for example. The American who travels there is shocked by the large numbers of hungry-looking people he sees.

Men and women do grow up,
though infant mortality snips off the lives of many before they even get started. They grow up hungry; there is never quite enough food to go around. They wear clothes, yes, but such clothes as you wouldn't put down for a prize cow or cat to lie on. They eat food you would throw away.

How can one person help?
The world is so big, and there are so many needy people in it, that we often wonder, how can I possibly do any good? The answer is, to be sure you by your-self can't do much, and you wouldn't know what to do anyhow. But your government and your church are both working on this problem of a needy world. Every time you pay your taxes, you are helping to support such successful enterprises of good will as the Peace Corps and agricultural aid of many kinds in cultural aid of many kinds in many nations. Every time you go to church, you are invited to share in what is being done by your denomination for the needy world. If you have a heart sympathetic enough to feel yourself neighbor and even brother to the neighbor and even brother to the multitudes at the bottom of the pyramid, the church has all sorts of suggestions. It has enterprises going right now that need your help. If you don't know, ask your minister. It may surprise him-but it will give him a chance to surprise you. And if you still don't care to help, then read those Scripture passages again from Old Testament and New, and ask your-self: Can I honestly call myself a Bible-believing Christian? Southern States Cooperative's 15-man board of directors recently made an inspection tour of the Farmers Chemical Association's basic nitrogen plant near Chattanooga, Tennessee. The three Maryland members of the Cooperative's board are shown here as they made the tour: (left to right) H. H. Nuttle of Denton, H. L. Snodgrass of Street and Stanley P. Stabler of Brookeville. The nitrogen facility is jointly owned by Southern States Cooperative, Tennessee Farmers Cooperative. Cotton Producers Association of Georgia and The Farmers Cooperative Exchange of the Carolinas. The Farmers Chemical Association—in order to meet unprecedented demands by farmers for nitrate plant foods—is currently constructing a second anhydrous ammonia unit which will increase the plant's capacity by 50 per cent. It's present capacity is 400 tons a day. present capacity is 400 tons a day.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS IN THE MINISTRY

Seventh Street Lutheran Church. Lebanon, Pa., marked the Silver Anniversary of the Ordination into the Gospel Ministry of its Pastor, the Rev. Robert C. Benner, at two special
