REPORT FROM THE CARROLL COUNTY TB ASSOCIATION

Maryland continues to maintain its rank of seventh in the United States for newly reported cases of active tuberculosis, according to figures released today by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association. The State is in eighth place for tuberculosis deaths. The District of Columbia, according to the information now available, is in first place for mortalities and second place for new active cases.

ond place for new active cases. The figures are part of a report by the statistical department of the National Tuberculosis Association and are the final figures for the country for the year 1962. The report states that a total of 53,315 new cases of TB recorded in 1962, with 1,350 of these in Maryland. According to Mr. Willard Uhler, president of the Car-roll County TB Association, there were 16 new cases of TB in 1962 and 11 new cases in 1963.

The report observes that there has been a slowdown in the decline in tuberculosis mortality figures and a marked slowdown in the number of

THREE MEN KILLED

Three men were killed Tuesday when a 30-foot wall of dirt caved in on them as they were digging the footing for the foundation of a de-partment store at the Westminster

Shopping Center.
The cause of the slide was not immediately determined. There were no braces on the wall.

Killed when five feet of dirt and rock slid over them at about 2 P. M. were: Charles Willard Bixler, 47, Smallwood; George Markwood Itnyre, 47, Westminster R.D. 2, and John A.

Brooks, 57, New Windsor.
Sixty men, including 16 from the State Roads Commission, dug for three-quarters of an hour, aided by a State Roads front end loader and a back hoe, before the body of Bixler was recovered. The bodies of Brooks was recovered. The bodies of Brooks and Itnyre were found about eight feet away from Bixler. The last body, Itnyre's, was freed after an hour and 40 minutes of digging.

This has been a busy and somewhat hectic morning, with just a little bit of everything taking place. And so, for the space of a few moments, I am taking a "breather" in the frontporch swing. The latter, of very ancient vintere area belonged to my cient vintage, once belonged to my great-aunt. As a child, when my folks had this same swing on their front porch, I spent many happy, carefree hours in it. Even now, many years later, I still enjoy the old swing's soothing, swaying motion.

As I creak gently to and fro, my thoughts become more settled, and I become aware of all the beauty which lies around me. The sun on this sparkling June day is hot, as it is so apt to be at this time of the year. But a pleasant, cool breeze sings through the South Carolina Poplar and whispers to my old-fashioned rose bushes. Their delicate perfume fills the air with a priceless aroma. The peonies are just about through, but the tall, stately hollyhocks are just coming into bloom.

The quiet pastoral loveliness here at Wood Burn looks very much like a painting. The cows, finding it too hot to eat, seek the welcome shade of the walnut trees, down by the bridge. As they recline, each shiny black and white cow chews her cud, in perfect contentment. One could find no more peaceful scene.

The birds, on the other hand, are quite active today. The mulberries are rapidly getting ripe, and many of my feathred friends are feasting upon them. From the top of the pear tree, in the old orchard, a redbird whistles loudly. In the South Carolina Poplar, the young Baltimore Orioles have left the nest, and are apparently now learning to fly. This nest, by the way, is amazingly well-built. It will take many a strong storm to dis-lodge it completely from the branch to which it is so firmly anchored.

And so the moments slip away, and must leave the old swing and my day-dreaming, and get back to my many tasks. But it was time well-spent, for now I feel able to tackle just about anything! -Zola Cantwell.

SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you nappiness!

Thinking of so many bright and clever sayings of children, I recall quite a number when my boys were the ages of 4-6 and 7. Francis, John and Richard.

To begin I hesitated marrying the minister who proposed to me and when that little boy of seven said to so pleadingly and winsome, "Won't you please marry my father so as you can be my mother?" Well, folks that did it and I think you know folks that did it and I think you know just what I mean! He was a smart little fellow and I loved the three boys the very minute I saw them. Then he brought things to me that he admired which his father had made such as a pair of beautiful Wood Candle Holders and a number of other articles. A grand bench that appeared the work of a cabinet maker and much else! Somehow, I always have admired a "Handy" man and I think this is due to the fact that my brothers and my dad were not possessed of this is due to the fact that my brothers and my dad were not possessed of that wonderful talent.

One day, about a month after I was the boy's mother, I was preparing a special dish which, no doubt I thought would please the boys and my minister. It was a Welsch Rarebit! Suddenter that little four year old said, after ly that little four year old said, after getting one whiff at the table, "Mother, what is this anyway—fertilizer?"

Each week there were just 28 shirts to be laundered and ironed and the to be laundered and fromed and the ironing was the part I did not relish as I do not think there is any garment as difficult as a man's shirt to iron to be absolutely creaseless. I was very tired and somehow this four year old, Richard, said softly to the other boys as we all got into the car to make several calls, "Boys, be very quiet so as mother can release herquiet so as mother can release her-self!" He meant "Relax" and that was quite a joke around the parsonage for many days!

The night in that country parsonage after one month of marriage, I heard such a noise outside of bangneard such a noise outside of banging of pots and pans, whistles blowing, people screaming and music deadened which was being played. I quickly rose to see all that clatter and suddenly, Francis, the eldest boy was at the head of that wide open stairway of the beautiful 100-year-old stone parsonage with his two youngstairway of the beautifur 100-year-out stone parsonage with his two young-er brothers in pajamas calling down in a most excited manner, "Oh, mo-ther, they are serenading you and daddy!" I looked up in my minister's face for this was something very new for a city girl. He was smiling and with his arm around me opened the huge front door and I heard much applause and screaming, "Speech, speech!" It had to be all explained to me as to this reception and the cakes those wonderful ladies brought in with all kinds of refreshments were beyond describing and that night will linger long in my memory!

That first Winter with the wonderful scenery clinging to the trees was something else to remember and taking the boys on the long sled to school and meeting them after was a treat to me! The school was a typical country school house—built of stone, and never will I forget when the eldest boy said, "Mother, the teacher beat me today (man teacher and a very strict one) and I am glad for it has taught

John, the middle boy, was the planner in everything and the one big thing I loved about him was he never started anything that he did not fin-ish! One day, I told him how much I loved him and how much I loved the name of just plain John and as quick as a flash he answered, "Mother, you are sweet, yourself!" I was taken quite back one day when he said, "Mother, did you know Abraham Lincoln?"

ings, but then another one will always be very close to my heart—when I had taken the boys to the city to purchase white carnations in memory of our mothers for our first Mother's Day together. We had driven the 21 miles from Hereford. After the return in less than 20 minutes, Francis came into my room with his head lowered and there stood beside me at my desk. I layed the material down and placed my arm around him and I felt his wet cheek against mine and I waited, thinking there was a little secret and then this came, "Mother, my brothers and I have decided if we do not have a pink carnation, we won't wear a white one!" I hugged him close to my heart and then taking him by his hand hurried out the door to the old time stable for the car with the two boys making up the rear. The following morning each little fellow sat in the pew beside me wearing a pink and white carnation on the lapel of their coats listening to their Father's "Mother's Day" sermon! Never think, Folks that you have to bear a child to love him! I always told them that it was more wonderful because I selected them!

Have a grand week-end, and always remember that Love is just the greatest thing!

Until next week D. V. I am, Faithfully,

APPALACHIA - OR SUBURBIA?

There is a strong suspicion that LBJ may be fighting his "War on Poverty" on the wrong front. On his second foray of the "war," President Johnson was photographed sitting on the steps of the David Marlow home near Rocky Mount, N.C., chatting with the Marlows and surrounded by their seven fine-looking, neatly-dressed youngsters. The accompanying news story developed the sad tale of the family of nine eking out an existence on $1,500 a year. The story, as clarified by the CHARLOTTE OB-SERVER, is that $1,500 is the profit Mr. Marlow expects to clear on his tobacco after meeting family expenses.

Better, our President should visit some of our glossy apartment houses and country-club suburbs-where nobody has a dime when hte bills are paid.

G.O.P. NOW HAS A CHANCE

It begins to look as though the place to have stopped Goldwater was California, where the frantic and costly efforts of New York's very liberal Governor Rockefeller didn't, quite do the trick-for him or for the one-world Eastern tycoons who have been shielding the Republican party against any ideas of its own since Thomas Dewey enunciated "metooism."

But it would be a mistake to assume that the "king-makers" have abandoned all efforts to give the Robert Taft treatment to Barry Goldwater, They, themselves, have made their job extremely difficult, however, by having underestimated the appeal of the Goldwater principles to an American public (Republican and Democrat, too) that is heartily sick of globalism and appeasement and foreign aid bribery-that-backfires.

Opposing Senator Goldwater, reports HUMAN EVENTS in its current issue, "were the powerful Eastern Establishment (including Ike, no matter what he says now), the press.

Sopen week-days 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. to 9 p. m. to 9 p. m. to 9 p. m. matter what he says now), the press, the Communists, U Thant, Ralph Bunche, Jimmy Hoffa, and the polls." These forces (from which we would pointedly exclude the grassroots press) are still against the Senator. They talk of the need for a "moderate" Republican. And since Ike's effort to dust off Pennsylvania's Governor Scranton as one who won't rock the boat has fizzled, the remaining strategy seems to be to draft a accept - even at the risk of copperrivetting a Johnson victory.

But we commend to those who will guide the GOP destiny at San Francisco the words of Michigan's Governor Romney to the Governor's Conference at Cleveland. He said (somewhat redundantly, but he said it):

"It is my conviction that the Republican Party in its 1964 convention will either take actions that will enable the Party to provide the leadership the Nation needs, or commence the suicidal destruction of the Republican Party as an effective instrument in meeting the Nation's needs."

We couldn't agree more. The Party IS on its last legs. And the only man who can save it is Barry Gold-

Woven Together by Telephone

Daily, as on a magic loom, the activities of millions of people are woven together by telephone. Home is linked with home. Business to business. Without the telephone, time and space would rush between us and each would be so much alone. And so many things would not get done.

One reason we use the telephone so much is because the service is quick, dependable, reasonably priced and within reach of all.

In a little more than eleven years the number of telephones in Maryland has nearly doubled. The prospects are bright for still further progress.

We will continue to grow to meet the needs of the state and nation, to keep probing for new knowledge and new ways to serve you better.

And do it with the courtesy, consideration and good will that have always been so much a part of your telephone service.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

This Sunday, June 21, is an important day: Fathers Day—and sincere good wishes are extended to each and every father for the occasion. It is also Communion Sunday at Keysville Lutheran Church with the Service at 10:45 A. M. While you are noting this on your calendar, be sure to add the Hymn Sing at Rocky Ridge Park that same evening at 7:45 P. M. This is being sponsored by the Lutheran Church Men of the Union Bridge Par-

Church Men of the Union Bridge Parish and they hope to have a large turnout. Let's not disappoint them.

School's out and aren't all the pupils pleased! Monday was the first day of two weeks of Vacation Bible School at Keysville Lutheran Church and there were 27 runils in the King. school at Keysville Lutheran Church and there were 27 pupils in the Kindergarten Class, 24 in the Primary and 12 in the Juniors. It is hoped that publicizing the cost of materials for each child will not keep some children from attending. The donations are always free-will but it has been felt that there are those who do not have that there are those who do not have any idea of the expenses involved and have been wanting to know so they could make their donation accordingly. Special thanks are also extended to those women who provide transportation for the children to and from the church the church

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Seibert and Mariann of Clear Spring were Friday evening visitors with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan of Forest and Stream Club Road. (They were also believe with a contract of growtherwise) helpers with a crate of strawberries.)

Mariann is staying on for a visit and to attend Bible School.

The Children's Day Program at the Keysville United Church of Christ was held last Sunday and everyone did very well. Appreciation is always extended to those who take part in prosenting such a program as well as presenting such a program as well as to the children who are part of it. The beautiful altar flowers and various other bouquets for the occasion came from the gardens of members of the congregation.

The C. and P. Telephone Company seems to be on a telephone number changing spree. Several times last week when I made calls I reached the special operator who gave me new numbers. One number that might interest most of you is the one for the

She will take them home to Ginter on

Susan Wilhide and Mariann Seibert were visitors on Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty of Detour while Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Miss Audrey Wilhide attended the Maryland Dairy Princess Contest at the Belvedere - Sheraton in Baltimore. Cousin Linda Gill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gill of White Hall, was the contestant from Baltimore and Carroll Counties.

The Monocacy CYP group will hold their family picnic on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wilhide near Detour at 7 P. M.

The date for the annual Festival of the Keysville United Church of Christ Sunday School has been set for August 1. The Taneytown High School Band will play for the occasion.

On Sunday evening Mrs. Carroll
Wilhide and daughter Jane near Detour visited with Mrs. Charles Cluts at the Western Maryland Hospital in Hagerstown. They report that Mrs.
Cluts sends her love to everybody and does so appreciate the context with does so appreciate the contact with the area that the local paper gives her. On their way home they also called on cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haugh and family in Blue Ridge Summitt, Pa.

Did you see the picture in last Tuesday's "Frederick Post" of neigh-bor Harold Thomas of Hollow Rock Farm? He was attending the 79th Holstein-Friesian Convention which was held in Gaithersburg. He was photographed with Russell Wachter of Keymar and Ralph Walker, who was General Chairman of the Convention. Aren't the roses beautiful right

It seems as though almost everywhere you look they are bright and cheerful and so numerous, too. The Terra Rubra Girls' 4-H Club met on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Wilhide near Detour. (It was necessary to change from the home of Virginia and Linda Kehne because of illness.) Nancy Thomas demonstrated how to wash a sweater from her unit "This Is the Way We Wash Our Clothes" and Joan Thomas demonstrated a "Salad Mold." On June 27 there will be a Record Book Workshop at the home of Patti Poole in Keymar at 1:30 P. M. June 22 is the deadline date to register to enter for Carroll County Demonstration Pay on July 7. Those planning to take part from the club and their demonstrations are: because of illness.) Nancy Thomas demonstrations are:

Observations on the World of Sports

The relief pitchers on the BALTI-MORE ORIOLES have a new way of measuring their effectiveness. It's called a "scare." The scare is credited to a relief pitcher only when he doesn't enter a game. Don, in fact, has looked like the McMahon who helped the Milwaukee Braves in the 1957 pennant race in the National League. He has an earned-run average of 1.53 that year.

But so far in the American League he has not bothered to try the side-arm delivery. Don says he has a big advantage over the hitters in the American League because they have to get used to him while he can learn about them by asking questions of the other pitchers.

About that business of wanting to stay with Houston, Don puts it this way: "I liked it at Houston, I wished way: "I liked it at I was I could have stayed there. Raisin Hot Cross Buns Bring Good Luck

The many interesting tales about Hot Cross Buns go back to pagan days. The buns as we know them laden with wonderful California raisins, had their beginning in England centuries ago. One of the best known cries of the bun-sellers is still a favorite nursery rhyme, "One-a-penny, two-a-penny, Hot Cross Buns". According to legend, good fortune will smile upon all who eat them during the

Missionary Must Lesson for June 21, 1964

Background Scripture: Matthew 28:16-20; Acts 1:6-8; Romans 1:8-16; 10:1-18. Devotional Reading: Romans 15:7-13.

IF A CHURCH is like a club, it is no true church. A club exists for the convenience, pleasure and benefit of its members. But a church is not chiefly for the benefit of its members, though they will receive many benefits by their being mem-bers. A club can close its doors and shut out anyone they don't like. But a church that is not open to all men, regardless, is not a true church. The minute Jesus said, Dr. Foreman "Go into all the world . . make disciples of all peoples . . " he opened the doors of the church once and for all, to every human being.

"The church is mission" Among the most memorable sayings of Jesus is this: "The Son of Man came not to be served but to serve." So the church exists to serve. When it forgets this, its days of usefulness are over. There are many forms of service in which the church can be active; but the basic, most vital service is winning souls, to use an oldfashioned but expressive slogan. The church exists for the transformation of the world through the transformation of lives from within. It is the only organization in the world with a purpose so profound and penetrating as this. Various words have been used to express this fundamental service of the church; too much used in our time are "evangelism" and "mission." It is often said that the church is mission, and this is true. The church as a whole, and every single person in it, is meant to be missionary in what it does and what it teaches. Christ's challenge is too plain for us to reject or neglect it.

Missionary here Where is the place for the church—including you, if you are one of that great band—to be missionary? Not in some room in the church where the "missionary society" meets once a month. The whole church is meant to be missionary the whole time. Missions cannot be and will not be shoved into a corner by a true church. We can illustrate what is meant by looking at the case of a church that ran away. It was in a large city, and the neighborhood changed, that is, the houses began to get run-down, and there were more people around than ever. But they were mostly people the church gentlemen and ladies did not care for. So they moved the church . . . and soon the neighborhood to which they moved started to run down, and so they moved ... This went on for six moves, and finally one of the officers said sadly: "Seems there's no place that's safe." That church had been running away from people who needed help, poor people, displaced people, discouraged peo-

Missionary there Every Christian, it can't be said too often, is called by God to be missionary—that is, to be a radiating Christian, where he is. But some people are specially called by God to be missionaries there-far off, overseas, in the Congo or the back country of Brazil or in some great crowded city like Tokyo or Seoul. But how can I know whether God so calls me? Well, it's like this: Suppose you are a good swimmer and you are standing at the edge of a pool. You notice at one end of the pool a number of swimmers having trouble, but there's quite a flock of life-savers about; at the other end there are more swimmers in trouble and nobody noticing it or helping them. Now would you think you had to wait for a message from the skips to tell you what to do? Wouldn't your common sense tell you that if you can help where help is most needed, that's the place God wants you to be and to work? A need, and your ability to fill that need, is as good and plain a missionary call as you could ask for, to go there, from here. It may be that some are "sitting in darkness" this very day, waiting for

NEW CHURCH PRESIDENT NEW CHURCH PRESIDENT

Edward Froderman was named president at the Christian Science Annual Meeting in Boston, June 8. Several thousand members traveled to attend the meeting, held in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist. (Dome shown in background). The new president, Mr. Froderman, was once vice-president of a Chicago bank, but resigned 15 years ago to enter the public practice of Christian Science healing. He is currently a Trustee of The Christian Science Publishing Society.

FRODERMAN ELECTED NEW PRESIDENT OF CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS CHURCH

Boston — A call to use "spiritual power" to help solve the world's "thorny problems of human relations and race inequalities" greeted Christian Scientists at their annual meeting.

Several thousand members from many states and countries attended the meeting at The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

She quoted the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy: "The marvellous healing-power of goodness is the outflowing life of Christianity, and it characterized and dated the Christian era" (Miscellaneous Writings).

Closed-circuit television was used

All human thinking is being stirred to its very depths, the message noted. But "the Mind of Christ surmounts divisions of creed and doctrine, and binds in one holy family all who love God and seek to do His will."

The election of Edward Froderman as the new president of the church for the coming year was announced. His address to the gathering described "spiritual perception" as a necessity for meeting today's great human responsibilities.

(Miscellaneous Writings).

Closed-circuit television was used for the first time at the meeting, which annually draws an attendance of about 7,000 members, accommodated in four different auditoriums. They heard reports from several church departments—including an announcement that more copies of Mrs. Eddy's book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" were sold during the past year than in any other year since its first publication (1875). Last year, Dr. Teeter was accompanied by his wife, who is a registered nurse. She will be with him again this year to assist him. In addition, their three sons will go along.

Also making the trip is Eunice Camp, 16, the daughter of a mission-ary serving in the Dark Continent. She has been in the United States for the past three years attending high school and hasn't seen her parents during that period. She has been living with an uncle, Ralph Camp, in Toms River, N. J.

Dr. Teeter explained that there are no high schools in the jungle area where her father is assigned and it was necessary for Eunice to return to her native land if she wanted to continue her education beyond the mission school of eight grades.

Her father is the Rev. Norman Camp and he is serving under the auspices of the Conservative Baptist Church in the interior of Africa.

The group left Waynesboro early Monday for Washington and flew from there to New York where they boarded a jet. First stop after leaving John F. Kennedy Airport was Paris.

In Paris, the party boarded another jet the same day and zoomed off to Abidjan, capital of the Republic of Ivory Coast, arriving there on June 16.
The Teeters and Eunice spent the night at a hotel in Abidjan, and next morning were picked up by the Rev. Camp who drove them in a French-made station wagon 450 miles inland

"It is a hot, dusty and arduous, but a most interesting drive," Dr. Teeter commented. "One encounters all kinds of roads—and trails on the trip. One

Dr. Teeter will take over the duties of another surgeon, the same one he relieved for a month last year. He is Dr. John Slater from Pontiac, Mich. Dr. Slater is the lone surgeon for many thousands of Africans. He will take a vacation in Abidjan while Dr. Teeter is filling in for him at the hospital. The Michigan medic has been in Africa for three years.

When asked what the children will do while their parents are busy caring for the varied medical needs of the area, Dr. Teeter answered: "They will accompany the missionaries on their visits to the surrounding villages and find many, many interesting things to occupy their time."

The Teeters plan to leave Abidjan on July 16 and return by jet via Monrovia. Liberia

After leaving Monrovia there is a brief stop at Dakar—and then on to in the the United States. They should be in Waynesboro on July 18.

The program of supplying substitute surgeons for the various mission hospitals in many parts of the world is under the supervision of the Christian Medical Society with headquarters in Chicago. The number of participating American doctors who take their "vacations" in mission hospitals is around 100, Dr. Teeter said. More are joining the program yearly, he added.

How about next year? Will Dr. and Mrs. Teeter take a real vacation? Well, hardly, they are already planning on spelling a surgeon in a re-mote section of Pakistan at a mission hospital in the Himalayas.
