Social Security

Do you know that you don't have to retire completely to get social security benefits? You may work and have earnings within certain limitations and still receive either all or part of your benefits during the year. Briefly, you may receive all of your benefit checks for the year if your total earnings from employment and/or self-employment does not exceed $1200 for the year. If your earnings are more than $1200, the amount of money that you may lose depends upon the amount of earnings over $1200. For example, if your earnings are over $1200 in a year you lose one half of the first $500 you earn over the $1200, and dollar for dollar over $1700.

If you are receiving social security benefits you must notify your local social security office as soon as you know that your earnings for the year will be more than $1200. At that time you should also advise the social security district office of your expected earnings for the year, as well as any months you earned over $100. This will enable the Social Security Administration to withhold the proper amount of benefits based on these estimated earnings. If you don't report promptly, your checks may have to be suspended to make up for the overpayment.

Carroll County residents may obtain further information by contacting the social security representatives at any of the following offices:

WESTMINSTER in the County Administration Building on any Wednesday between the hours of 10:00 A. M. and 2:00 P. M.
TANEYTOWN in the First National Bank on the first Tuesday of each month between the hours of 10:00 A. M. and noon.

SYKESVILLE in the St. Paul's Methodist Church on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Thursday of each month between the hours of 9:00 A. M. and 10:30 A. M.

Schedule for Testing Prospective Auto Drivers

Maryland's Department of Motor Vehicles today announced that schedules for testing prospective drivers at 23 of the 24 test sites throughout the state was rearranged effective Monday, July 20, 1964. The new driver test range at the D.M.V. headquarters in Glen Burnie is already operating under a maximum schedule and will be unaffected by the order.

John R. Jewell, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles said the schedules at other test locations will be changed to offer greater convenience to the citizens in all areas of Maryland and to accommodate the ever-increasing number of new drivers.

"We are pleased," Commissioner Jewell stated, "that the Driver License Division will be able to allot more time at every location and add as much as an extra day at some. This will be accomplished despite personnel and travel-time limitations."

According to the new schedule driver examinations will not be administered during the normal lunch hour period from noon to 1:00 P. M. As usual tests will not be conducted at any location on Saturdays, Sundays or Legal Holidays.

During July and August the closing time for tests will be one-half hour earlier than scheduled. "Any one in line at that time will be waited upon, however," Commissioner Jewell concluded.

HERD NAME PREFIX RESERVED FOR BROWER

Paul F. and Sterling R. Brower, Taneytown, Md., will have the exclusive use of the prefix "Brothers-Agreement" in naming all Registered Holstein animals bred in that herd from now on.

Use of this prefix name has been granted by The Holstein-Friesian Association of America. It becomes a permanent part of official breed records at that organization's national headquarters in Brattleboro, Vermont. Some 1,500 prefixes are reserved for Registered Holstein breeders each year. In total, more than 30,000 Holstein dairymen are using their own distinctive prefixes in naming their home-bred cattle.

Each prefix, essentially a "trade mark" for the purebred Holstein breeder, is used in all published information concerning that animal. Thus, the use of this distinctive label aids the breeder in the promotion and advertising of his stock for sale and publicity purposes.

The story behind each prefix may be an interesting one since it may be the farm name, the owner's family name or unique combinations of portions of family member names. The exclusive nature of each prefix name often stimulates the creation of clever terms to preserve its "one and only" nature.

CARROLL COUNTY GENERAL HOSPITAL REPORTS MEDICAL CHANGES

The doctor's little black bag—the traditional symbol of American medicine—follows a different path today than it did 50 years ago. Then it made most of its trips between the doctor's office and the patient's home; today it travels most frequently between the office and the hospital.

"The little black bag's altered path illustrates the changing patterns of medical practice—the trend toward centralizing medical care in the hospital," according to Joseph R. McFerron, administrator of Carroll County General Hospital.

Medical care has shifted from the home to the hospital, and with the shift, a new ingredient has been added to patient care—the highly technical methods resulting from the scientific revolution of the 20th century, he said.

The combination of science and individual patient care was the theme of National Hospital Week, May 10-16. This observance, originally celebrated as National Hospital Day, has been marked annually since 1953. Sponsored by the American Hospital Association, it is held each year during the week of Florence Nightingale's birthday (May 12).

The contents of the doctor's little black bag have changed only slightly in the last 50 years, but the changes again illustrate the trend toward the hospital. Added to the bag are some new drugs—particularly antibiotics and stimulants for starting stopped hearts. Substituted are the equipment and instruments the doctor used at the patient's home for surgery, obstetrics and emergency treatment of injuries. Nowadays, the doctor admits surgical and obstetrical patients to the hospital and meets the injured patient at the hospital's emergency room.

The hospital has indeed become the community's center for health care. In the past 50 years, it has added laboratories, diagnostic x-ray machines, cobalt units, pharmacies, and a host of other facilities necessary for the patient's recovery. As new scientific equipment is developed and proven effective, it is added by hospitals to help save lives and combat disease. This dramatic progress has meant added years of life for many persons.

"Just as every medical service provided in the patient's home was accompanied by the individual care and attention of the doctor, every hospital service is administered individually to meet the needs of each patient," the administrator said. Hospital people are highly trained to provide the exact treatment or medication the doctor prescribes.

Individual concern for each patient is synonymous with hospital care. The scientific services necessary for the patient's speedy recovery, but hospitals also recognize the patient's need for emotional support. Hospital people strive to provide this support by means of individual and personal services for patients and their families. Additionally, hospitals are adding many services which make each patient's recuperation more pleasant. The care provided in today's hospital scientifically exceeds that provided from the little black bag of 50 years ago, but the "tender loving care" which accompanied the doctor's visit is also still present in the hospital.

SECONDARY EDUCATION STANDARDS APPROVED BY STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Maryland State Board of Education adopted the document entitled, "Principles and Standards for Public Secondary Education in Maryland" at a meeting held on July 1. These principles and standards, which will affect the approximately 298,300 students attending public high schools in Maryland, were developed by a State-wide committee of educators, including representatives from many of the local school systems in the State. This committee has been at work for over three years and was chaired by Mr. Thomas W. Pyles, State Supervisor of High Schools.

A major change in these high school standards which will become effective in September, 1965, raises the number of credits needed for graduation from high school to eighteen. Presently, sixteen units of credit must be earned by a student in order for him to meet graduation requirements. In addition to this change, school systems are given increased assistance in developing specialized arrangements for highly able students and for those students engaged in part-time, evening, or summer-school programs.

The document as revised and adopted by the State Board will be distributed for use by administrators and principals in the local school systems throughout Maryland.

County Will Build Streets

A public hearing was held by the County Commissioners on Friday, July 17, relative to the construction of Dunrovin and Augusta Avenues north of Westminster, such hearing being in accordance with private streets legislation enacted in 1961 and 1962, and under county ordinance No. 2.

At the public hearing ten of the thirteen property owners on the two streets voted to have the county construct the said street.

Under the provisions of the ordinance the property owners are required to pay 75% of the overall costs for such a street built to county specifications if at least 66-2/3 percent vote in favor of the project.

The County Commissioners office has indicated that five projects have been completed since the private street ordinance was adopted. Two additional projects are now under consideration.

Under the special ordinance no new streets can be constructed under the ordinance. Only those unimproved streets which were in existence when the ordinance was adopted can be considered.

DAIRY PRODUCTION STRESSED IN "PICK-THAT-HIGH-PRODUCER" CONTEST HELD AT 4-H FAIR

You can't judge a book by its cover was vividly illustrated in a "Pick-the-High-Producer" contest held last week at the County 4-H Fair. Six dairy cows were featured and contestants were to select each cow according to her actual milk production records.

David Shaw, President of the Carroll County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, sponsor of the contest, indicated that only one person, Miss Sherri-Le White, Route 5, Westminster, had a perfect score. Miss Patty Roach and Mr. Arthur Thompson, both of New Windsor were tied for second place. Nearly a hundred people participated.

Dairying is the leading agricultural industry in the county, with half the gross farm income coming from the sale of fluid milk.

During this period of economic stress among all county farmers, Mr. Shaw states that dairymen should keep only those cows which are making a profitable return. Individual production records can identify those cows which should be culled because of low inefficient production.

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this statement: "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good" (p. 518).

MARYLAND SAVINGS BOND SALES MAINTAIN GOOD RECORD AT MID-YEAR

State Chairman Charles P. McCormick today announced that sales of Series E and H Bonds in Maryland, of $40,975,384 for the first six months of the year, showed an increase of 2.2 percent over the similar 1963 period, resulting in the State achieving 53.5 percent of its $76,600,000 annual goal.

Combined sales of Series E and H bonds for the month of $6,784,579 were slightly under June sales last year, of $6,823,095. Series H sales alone of $533,500, exceeded June 1963 sales by 20.2 percent.

Caroline County leads with 67.5 percent quota made; Kent and Worcester Counties follow 2nd and 3rd, with 66 and 64.6 percent, respectively. Baltimore City's six-month sales of $20,215,821, reached 52.5% of the quota.

Mr. McCormick stated that a vast majority of Maryland's major business and industrial firms, Federal agencies and other agencies completed their "Share-In-America" payroll savings drives to coincide with the nationwide "Operation Security" Campaign period May 1 — July 4th. This resulted in 13,807 additional employees signing up for regular payroll savings, and enabled the State to achieve 82 percent of the year's 16,900 new savers goal at the half-way mark.

Drives contributing to this payroll savings success were: Bethlehem Steel Co. Branches, adding 1646 new savers and 713 employees increasing their allotments; and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad's promotion, adding 1223 new savers, with 466 increased allotments. The City of Baltimore employees campaign established a record, adding 877 new savers.

These payroll savings promotions, in addition to the valuable volunteer contributions by banks, and all forms of media, it is anticipated will result in increased sales during the latter half of the year.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE" (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Everyone is complaining about the long stretch of the heat waves these days, and that just about all over. Betcha, in a very few years that every house built will have the grand air-conditioning. (And that regardless of the cost of the house.)

Did you know, Folks that our nephews of Uncle Sam up to July 9th have married 799 Japanese girls and previous to this time of 1956 and '57, G. I. weddings ran 100 monthly? Only three out of every 50 are civilian marriages a counselor official stated. The rest are between American military men and Japanese women. Now, girls you should do something about that. Frankly, I know those nephews are simply lonely men and you and you know the answer to that one. Eh?

Such a relief to gaze upon the beautiful hairdos today instead of those all the same curls on every head. Ladies, have you noticed the bow placed on the back of the head and it is not a small affair either? You can purchase the ribbon and make these so you can have a change matching every colored dress. And it is much cheaper that way, too. I observed regardless of age, of midlife they are being worn.

How wonderful the nomination of a man named, "BARRY" but as you know that I predicted it, for he surely is a real worker and we need a man like that on Penna. Ave., in Washington, D. C. He reminds me so much of that dear and wonderful President Woodrow Wilson. Barry, too is a "Capricorn," from December 20th to January 20th and they are truly the LEADERS of the world! He would know how to handle this unrest and especially Russia!

So you see, Folks as my step-sons always said, "Mother is fair and square in everything," and even if one man was a Democrat and this man, Goldwater a Republican! And although registered a Democrat — Thank God for the freedom that all of us can be Independent Voters! No country in the world like A-M-E-R-I-C-A!

Having a treatment down in the office of 6 W. Madison St., by that wonderful Chiropractor, Dr. Calvin Hornstein was simply out of this world! Just think the blood pressure dropping 40 points in just one treatment! His office in Randallstown is also beautifully equipped with every modern device to make you get well. I understand he is in the downtown office on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and in Randallstown at the corner of Liberty Road and Belair Ave., Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. What I like about this very special Chiropractor, he will be honest with you to every detail and he is becoming more popular all the time with the M. D.'s, too.

What a strange thing happened here — the Fire Alarm was sounded on each floor and a banging on my door to my apartment and I jumped out of bed. As I opened the door there was much smoke but quite severe on the first floor where everyone was rushing to leave the building. I looked out the windows and saw all the fire equipment, plus the ambulance, and I realized when someone said, "It was only the cinerator where someone had pushed down a big carton!" And back to bed I went, yet two other ladies had to have the doctor! In no time the smoke evaporated, too.

To G.S. — Kindly send a stamped addressed envelope and I'll answer all the places of interest to see in Baltimore for your Western guest. Top off with the Court Yard on the 8th floor of the Hecht-May Co. There she will be so pleased and charmed as she dines of the delicious foods with that atmosphere which is something quite extraordinary in restaurant decor of the old fashioned Square with those quaint little shops of bygone era. In addition to the actual historic fronts, there is reproduced an old apothecary shop, a stationers, a leather goods store, and even to the old fashioned Philadelphia lamp post, a pair of Colonial shutters and a pair of Antique silver coach lanterns of much beauty.

Have a grand week-end, Folks and remember, "Peace and Tranquility . . . A thousand Gold Pieces!" Until next week D.V.

I am,
Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

ANOTHER FAMILY FIGHT?

If the Washington "insiders" are correct, the Republican family ruckus in San Francisco recently is going to fade into a distant second place to a really big Democratic Party fight in Atlantic City shortly.

The columnists and big-city correspondents in Washington are nervous about reporting the story, but they're all talking behind their hand about the prospects for a first-class squabble over the ticket to oppose Goldwater and Miller in November.

What they're talking about is a prospective bid by Attorney General Robert Kennedy to replace Lyndon Johnson at the head of the Democratic Party ticket. If that possibility strikes you as impossible, reflect before you waver. It was Robert Kennedy who personally corralled the delegates for his brother's successful campaign in 1960. As manager of that campaign he developed the political contacts and organized friendly state and local delegations.

He has, say the insiders, carefully maintained those contacts, and the estimate that Robert Kennedy can recruit perhaps as much as forty per cent of the delegates to the Atlantic City Convention to support his nomination. Clearly forty per cent wouldn't be enough, but then there's Governor Wallace who may show up in New Jersey with fifteen or twenty per cent of the total delegates in his briefcase. The whispering may be premature, but the mathematics is right for a fight.

If Mao and Khrushchev can have a family fight, and Goldwater and Scranton can have a family fight, why not Bobby and Lyndon?

Now there would be a real rumup.

NOW YOU CAN CHOOSE

Nothing in the area of public affairs could have pleased us more than the very decisive selection of Senator Barry Goldwater as Republican nominee for the Presidency.

It is with no sense of elation, however, but rather of infinite relief that we see our country returning to the wisdom and the political security of the two-party system. This is, at very least, a reprieve from envelopment in a welfare state that has been gradually and ominously overtaking us for thirty-two years. The verdict from the Cow Palace assures us there will be two sides in the campaign that began as the crowds filed out of that vast arena.

There will be two distinct viewpoints on the proper course for the Government of the United States. And every voter, at long last, may choose. He must say on November 3 whether the Government is to run the country, or the country is to run the Government. This, reduced to the simplest terms, will be the issue, whoever the Democrat standard-bearer may be—and we are not yet prepared to say it will be President Johnson.

To those who are disturbed by any misgivings or questions or doubts or uncertainty as to which is the side for them, we commend these words from the acceptance speech of Presidential Nominee Goldwater:

"And let our Republicanism . . . not be made fuzzy and futile by unthinking and stupid labels. I would remind you that extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. And let me remind you also that moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

"FACTS AND OPINIONS"

Ralph T. Moore writes in the Oregon Voter: "The statement by a young family man caught in the act of an armed robbery in the Los Angeles area to the effect that there was nothing basically wrong in stealing from the affluent to help in the support of his wife and family well illustrates the wrong thinking that follows in the train of government subsidies of all sorts. To many people, this taking from those who can afford it to give to those in need has the aura of Robin Hoodism that has been popular for centuries though it violates basic property rights. Since the government can create virtually nothing, its function is limited to confiscation and pre-emption that takes from the common treasury to award relief in event of disaster or to influence social readjustment that meets with popular favor at the moment. . . . But because of the immense complexity of our economy it has been easily made to appear that government awards of this type are in the nature of additions to our aggregate wealth and therefore in the general public interest."

A modern railroad sleeping car costs around $300,000. Even freight cars cost an average $9,500, almost four times as much as 20 years ago.

Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania is quoted by the Congressional Record as saying: "Millions of Americans are walking the streets today who—but for the new drug discoveries—would have died long ago from pneumonia, flu, tuberculosis, and countless other diseases which now can be cured with medicines. Of 94 important drugs discovered since 1945 and in use today 47 were discovered in U.S. drug industry laboratories or by scientists working under drug industry grants."

The Red Cross has challenged America's 38 million small boat users to defy statistical predictions and cut drowning rates. It focuses emphasis on four primary rules of the road: When two boats approach each other at an angle, the boat on the right has the right-of-way; rowboats have the right-of-way over sailboats or power boats; sailboats have the right-of-way over power boats; boats being overtaken have the right-of-way.

Senator Strom Thurmond opposes the proposed federal pay increase bill which has passed the House: "... this legislation goes far beyond providing a cost-of-living increase for the higher-level jobs. Members of Congress would, for instance, receive an increase of 33-1/3 per cent or even more if the Senate pushed the Congressional boosts from $22,500 to $32,500. It is my conviction that individuals offering for elective office should not be looking for financial gain."

Albert L. Nickerson, board chairman of Socony Mobil Oil Co., reports: "since 1947, total employee compensation has increased by 165 per cent, while corporate profits have increased only 49 per cent. As a result, wages and salaries account for a larger and larger share of national income. In the period 1947 through 1963, compensation of employees rose from 65 per cent to 71 per cent of the national income. . . . Profits after taxes declined from 9 per cent of the national income in 1947 to 6 per cent last year. . . . Profits have not kept pace with the growth evident in the remainder of the economy. . . ."

According to the executive secretary of the North Dakota Blue Cross programs, people past 65 do not create a problem for hospital credit departments, as severe as some politicians would lead us to believe. As an example, he said that it is nowhere near as difficult as collecting for maternity cases of mothers under the age of 25.

RAISE BIGGER, BETTER CALVES

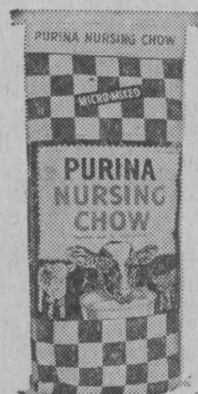

the PURINA WAY

The record of Purina's Calf Feeding Program is written at the Purina Research Farm. Of over 2200 calves born—all raised the Purina Way—less than 1% have failed to grow to maturity. And did they grow!

FOUR MONTH OLD CALVES grown on Purina Nursing Chow and Purina Calf Startena are far bigger, growthier than average. The Purina Farm average of 320 lbs. for Holsteins is 48 lbs. heavier than the normal breed average. At 225 lbs., Guernsey calves 4 months old are 8 lbs. heavier.

Purina Farm-raised calves have the solid frame and development needed to grow into heifers that may be bred early to freshen months ahead of average and—produce lots of milk over a long milking life.

Next time you start calves, try the Purina Way. Order Purina Nursing Chow and Purina Calf Startena—palatable, power-packed products—at our store.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Summertime activities often result in injuries to the mouth and teeth, according to the American Dental Association. However, a tooth which has been knocked out can be reinserted and can grow back into place provided no time is wasted in obtaining dental treatment.

The tooth should be wrapped in a clean wet towel — or placed in a glass of water. It should NOT be cleaned or you may remove vital tissue.

The dentist usually will remove the nerve, fill the root canal, reinsert the tooth and anchor it with wires. Within two or three weeks, the healing process will have secured the tooth and it should have a normal life span.

Remember . . . prevention is the best medicine. But if an accident occurs, seek professional treatment immediately.

Try It

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind. To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true. To think only the best, to work only for the best, and to expect only the best. To be as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are your own. To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to greater achievements of the future. To wear a cheerful countenance at all times, and give every living creature you meet a smile. To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

"Oh, I was just removing some spots from Irving's pants."

"At that hour? Were they very big?"

"Not very—just two 10-spots and a five."

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy and helpfulness during the recent illness and death of Dr. Geo. M. Zinkham.

MRS. HELENA L. ZINKHAM AND FAMILY

In loving memory of my dear husband, Earle F. Keefer, who passed away six months ago, January 31, 1964.

Was early in the morning
The message came to me
No one knows the sorrow
I was forced to bear.
He bade no one a last farewell
He said Goodbye to none.
His loving heart just ceased to beat,
And suddenly he was gone.
The Lord has been my constant guide
Walking always by my side
Teach me, oh Lord, to understand
The workings of a mightier hand
Then shall I know the victory's won
When I can say, "Thy will be done."

By his loving wife,
MRS. MATRONA M. KEEFER

HERE AT WOOD BURN

This July day is hot and humid—ideal for swimming or relaxing, but not conducive to labor. However, heat or no heat, work must go on, and there are many tasks here at Wood Burn this morning. For instance, one look at the lawn convinces me that it definitely needs to be mowed. Ordinarily, I am not too keen about doing this, but after weeks of looking at a dry, burnt-up yard, it will afford me genuine pleasure to push the mower and watch the green grass fly! And so, fortified with a glass of cold lemonade, I set to, while my dog Skippy peers at me quizzically, as though wondering why anyone would want to engage in such exertion on this blistering day. After much brow mopping, I feel the very same way, and decide to complete this task later on, when the sun goes down.

I am happy to report that four of Rusty's kittens have found a home in Gettysburg, and although she missed them at first, she is now reconciled to caring for her one remaining offspring. "Reddy" is the exact image of his mother, and it is a pretty sight to watch these two romp and play together.

July is the month for squash, and here at Wood Burn, we have the long green variety. We like them stewed, fried, baked or barbecued. To prepare the latter, wrap cut-up squash and onion, seasoned with salt, pepper and butter, in aluminum foil, and cook over your outdoor grill until the squash is tender. The flavor is interesting and different.

To many people, being alone, even for a short time, is almost intolerable. Certainly, human beings were meant to live together—to talk and communicate with one another. But there is such a thing as too much man-made noise and distraction. Personally, I like to get off by myself occasionally and listen to the sounds of nature—the rustle of the wind through the trees, the song of the brook splashing over the rocks, the carols of the birds. I think all of us need such moments of privacy and peace, for they bring us closer to God and make us better able to deal with our everyday problems.

C & P APPROVES 12 MONTHS EXPENDITURES

The Board of Directors of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland has approved during the past 12 months expenditures totaling nearly $75,500,000, according to L. Mercer Smith, vice president of the company.

This total includes more than $3,300,000 authorized at the board's regular meeting on July 27.

Approval was granted to spend about $335,000 for five major projects to improve and expand service in the Baltimore Metropolitan area.

These include expenditures of $140,300 for the installation of additional central office dial switching equipment at Pikesville, $18,500 to provide outside wire and cable to meet the demand for service in the northwestern section of the Wood-lawn area and $20,000 to install 90 voice amplifiers at Parkville to further improve the quality of transmission.

Also, for Baltimore City, $114,000 was allocated to provide underground cable to meet the growing demand for service in the Mt. Washington, Belvedere Avenue, and Pimlico Road sections. In addition, approval was given to spend $42,000 to furnish additional outside cables to provide for growth in the number of telephones in the eastern section of the city.

Expenditures totaling $167,000 were approved for two projects on the Eastern Shore. In preparation for the coming change to dial operation at Berlin $114,000 was allocated for the construction of a building to house the dial switching central office equipment and $53,000 was earmarked for recentering of the outside wire and cable network to the new dial wire center in Crisfield.

For the Company's Annapolis district, approval was granted to spend $175,000 to construct a carport type vehicle storage and plant service center building on Forest Drive near Louis Drive in Annapolis. Also, approval was given to spend $75,000 at La Plata to install 600 subscriber lines with associated dial switching equipment.

For Western Maryland, an expenditure of $49,000 was approved to add 455 lines and associated dial switching equipment at Frostburg to meet increasing customer demands for service.

To keep pace with the rapid growth in Montgomery and Prince George's counties, approval was given to erect a building on Central Avenue at 86th Street at a cost of $470,000 to house dial switching equipment which will serve the Suitland and Landover areas. To provide additional dial central office equipment in Lanham, Chapel Hills, and Riggs Road dial centers an expenditure of $1,700,000 was approved.

For Rockville approval was granted to spend $34,000 to place outside cable and wire in the Martins Lane area.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports

JOHN WYATT, Kansas City Athletic relief pitcher, likes to work in the bullpen and his manager, Mel McGaha, likes the fact that Wyatt likes the job of fireman.

It makes things more harmonious all around. A lot of bullpen pitchers have a burning desire to start but Wyatt is not one of them.

He says: "I like facing the good hitters in those tough situations. I feel good if I get them out. It seems like you're more important to the ball club then."

Manager McGaha rates Wyatt's fast ball one of the best in the Major Leagues. He also says: "Wyatt has had a hand in more than half of our victories this year. That's a mighty high figure."

Wyatt is happy with McGaha as manager but he withholds no credit from Ed Lopat, who began the season as Kansas City Manager.

Wyatt puts it this way: "Lopat must know more about pitching than anybody. He taught me how to use my pitches, how to set up the batter. I was lucky to have him as a teacher."

Last year Wyatt won six games, saved 18 and had an earned-run average of 3.13. That was good. But he almost certainly will do better this year. The last time anybody checked his earned-run average was well below three runs per game.

He also was chosen for the American League squad in the All-Star game and had the misfortune to throw home run balls to Billy Williams and Ken Boyer in the 4th inning.

But all that was forgotten when Johnny Callison hit the game-winning homer against Dick Radatz. That was the big one and the one that will be remembered.

HARMON KILLEBREW of the Minnesota Twins has never reached the 50 mark in home runs in the Major Leagues, but he has a corking chance this season.

Harmon currently has 34 to lead the American League in that department. If you stack his showing this year against his performance of last season you will see that 50 is well within his reach.

Harmon had only ten homers mid-way through June in 1963, and he finished with 45. That was the third best performance of his career. He had 48 in 1962, his all-time high, and 46 in 1961.

Killebrew had 223 home runs in the Majors going into this season and at the age of 27 he was 28 on the 29th of this month — he should have a lot of seasons remaining.

Harmon got off to a bad start this year and manager Sam Mele of the Twins gave him a short rest cure early in May when Killebrew had only four homers and was hitting .167.

When Mele returned Killebrew to the lineup, the big slugger was a changed man. He began to hit the ball to all parts of the park, and he hasn't stopped yet.

Harmon says he is not doing anything different than he did early in the season, but the difference is he now is meeting the ball properly.

Killebrew is a tape-measure guy on home runs. He clubbed one in Baltimore this year which went almost 500 feet to center field. He doesn't rate that his longest, however. In 1962, Harmon hit one in Detroit that cleared the roof in left field. Nobody ever got around to measuring that one.

The PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES have been talking pennant from the time the first empty bottle of liniment was thrown out in Spring training camp.

Now they have a lot of other people talking it also. The Phils are in first place and there are certain signs, some tangible and some intangible, that they will stay there.

For one thing they have baseball tradition going for them. They were in first place when the sun set on July 4th and baseball legend has it that they figure to win.

Their manager, Gene Mauch, was recently profiled on television. Their outfielder, Johnny Callison, won the All-Star game for the National League with a nine-inning home run.

On paper they look like a fourth-place team but the games are not played on paper. They also have one other thing going for them. Their number one rival so far, San Francisco, thinks the whole thing is some kind of giveaway program. The Giants give away ball games as though every day is Christmas.

The Phillies don't have many ball players who have been through a hot pennant fight before. One who has is Wes Covington, the veteran outfielder.

Covington played for the Milwaukee Braves when they won National League Pennants in 1957 and '58, adding the World Series for good measure in '57 and tossing off a three-one lead in '58.

Wes is real enough to back away from comparing the current edition of the Phillies with the Braves of 1957 and 1958. He knows it can't be done to the advantage of the Phillies.

The Braves had players like Hank Aaron, Eddie Mathews and Del Crandall, all in their prime, and pitchers like Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette.

With an eye on another world series check, Wes hedges to this extent: "See me at the end of the season. If we're in the World Series I may change my mind on how good this Club is."

Remember When Dept. — Whitey Lockman, third base coach for the San Francisco Giants, hit .325 as a rookie outfielder with Springfield, Mass., in 1943.

Today's Sport Laugh — Manager Freddy Hutchinson of the Reds was unhappy with his team's play recently and told the players there would be an early curfew. He turned to Leo Cardenas and said: "Now remember there'll be a bed check tonight." Leo shot back: "Don't you worry coach, you come check. That bed will be there."

— John Breth

SOUTH PENN LEAGUE

The Taneytown Terrors had the past week off as the league All-Stars engaged in exhibitions with the Susquehanna League. The teams split two games.

The Susquehanna League shut out the South Penn All-Stars on Thursday night by 1-0 score. Taneytown's Walt Donahue was scheduled to start this one, but drew a bye because of illness. Don Favorite, starting center fielder, failed to get a hit as did most of the All-Stars.

On Sunday, however, it was a different story. South Penn shelled Susquehanna, 12-5. Walt Donahue worked two innings and gave up a bases loaded triple to account for three runs. Don Favorite, Taneytown's leading rbi man, had one hit in three trips to the plate.

Perhaps the biggest news was made at Littlestown the past week as the Littletons upset first place Arendtsville on a bases loaded single in the eleventh inning, 3-2. This was a make up game between the teams and sliced the Athletics lead over the Terrors to only 1/2 game. This makes these teams' meeting on August 2 one of the biggest this year.

Scores of Last Week's Games

Wednesday Night Action
Rain washed out the scheduled make-up game between Taneytown and New Oxford. With New Oxford batting in the top of the seventh and the score tied 1-1, play was halted by the umpires. The game will be made up on Saturday, August 8, at 2 P. M. on the Terrors' field.

Other Scores
Brushtown at McSherrystown, rain. Cashtown 4, Bonneauville 3. Mummasburg 7, Harney 3.

"Oh, what a strange looking cow," exclaimed the sweet young thing from Chicago. "But why hasn't she any horns?"

"Well, you see," explained the farmer, "some cows are born without horns and never had any, and others shed theirs, and some we dehorn, and some breeds ain't supposed to have horns at all. There's a lot of reasons why some cows ain't got horns, but the reason why that cow ain't got horns is because she ain't a cow — she's a horse."

FARMERS— Here's How To Stretch Your Fall Seed Dollar

Want to get more for your seed money and harvest bigger yields from cleaner fields? Then remember that the higher the germination and the higher the purity, the better the seed buy. For example: You might pay for 100 pounds of cheap seed with 85% germination and 95% purity, but you'd really receive only 80 pounds of pure live seed. Covenant

Lesson for August 2, 1964

Background Scripture: Exodus 19 through 24.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 81:1-10.

THE RELIGION of the Jews is the mother-religion of our own, if we are Christian. Their Bible is a part of ours; and the New Testament cannot be understood apart from the Old. This is not saying we all have to be Jews before we can be Christians. It does mean that our two religions are so closely related that we can speak of the "Judaic-Christian" or Jewish-Christian tradition, referring to the many beliefs and practices which we have in common.

In the most basic matter of all, the Jewish-Christian line is clearly different from other religions; namely, in what we can call the pattern of religion. Let's translate that into what a "religious" man would be expected to do. It is not true that all religions are much alike. Ours is sharply different from others. What would an ancient Greek (say five hundred years or more before Christ) have done if he were a religious man? What you would have noticed most about him would have been how often he mentioned some god's name, asking him to bless what he was about to do. Also you would have noticed how often he made a "sacrifice" of some sort even if no more than a pinch of incense or a cup of wine poured on an altar. In an Indian city this writer has seen a little stone bull on the outside of a temple. The bull's neck was wreathed in orange-colored flowers — the sacred color there — which various poor worshippers had left there that morning as a religious duty. Very much the Greek idea. The gods were there to help you or hurt you, and you kept them on your side by frequent requests and frequent offerings.

Well, it wasn't only Greeks or Indians, many religions with variations of detail follow this same pattern in essentials: You do right by God and he will do right by you. In practice this was like the ordinary law-abiding citizen's attitude to courts and court rooms. He stays away from them as far as he can. He respects the laws, but he stays away from the law-makers and the law-enforcers. The last thing he wants to see is a policeman at his front door to tell him the Judge wants to see him!

What is special about our religion

Of course the Jewish and Christian religions are not the same; but they do have several points in their "pattern," as we are calling it, which stand out as quite different from the more usual pattern as the Greeks and Indians—among many others—have practiced it. First and most basic, the other pattern can be summed up thus: If I do enough for God, he is bound to do something for me. In the Hebrew-Christian tradition, this is turned around: God has done much for us; therefore let us do all we can for him. In their pattern, religious acts (i.e. acts which are called religious) are inducements to the gods to come over to our side. In our pattern, religious acts are acts of gratitude for what God has done for us. (For the Hebrew the great thing God did was to get them out of Egypt; with us, the great thing is God's coming to us in Christ.)

"The ethics of response"

Another strand in the Jewish-Christian tradition is this: whereas in other religions a religious act may be altogether unrelated unconnected with a man's daily conduct, in our pattern we show our gratitude to God not only by loving him but by obeying his will in all the affairs of daily life. A man who does not love his brother cannot love God. Man does not earn God's protection and favor, he does not deserve it; but man, the undeserving, lives for the God who freely saves him. This is called by Christian thinkers the "ethics of response." The old Hebrew name for this pattern of religious living is "covenant." The Ten Commandments are presented not as arbitrary rules, but as a pattern of human response to the God of Deliverance; in the Covenant we reach a hand to the God who has already reached down to us.

"The woman who constantly interrupts a man's conversation is already married or never will be."—Bery M. Leck, Lockridge (la.) Times.

"Doctor, my wife has dislocated her jaw. If you happen out this way next week or the week after, you might drop in."—The New Era, Baxter, la.

Red, white, & blue retirement plan

Sure, you'll have social security. Maybe an insurance plan, company pension and money in the bank to boot.

But buying U.S. Savings Bonds is also an excellent way to prepare for that day when you start taking it easy full time.

If you buy one a month at $37.50 for 7½ years before you retire, you'll have $50.00 a month coming in for 7½ years after. (That's just an example. You can adjust the dollars and the years to suit yourself.)

Something else to think about: Bonds can help make sure you'll have a future to retire to in the first place. The money does a lot to strengthen Uncle Sam's hand in the free world.

Why not make it a habit to buy Bonds regularly where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work? See if you don't feel pretty good about it—now and later.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity (7½ years)
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer the federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can get your money when you need it

Buy E Bonds for growth—
H Bonds for current income
