SCHOOLS OPEN

SEPTEMBER 9th

Taneytown Jr.-Sr. H. S. Lists
470 Pupils

Mather New Principal; Musser F.S.K. Principal

Mr. Ned Musser, principal of Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School has been transferred to Francis Scott Key as principal of that school, (effective today, Thurs.), to fill the office vacated by the resignation of Henry J. Kanowicz, principal. Mr. Kanowicz has accepted the position of director of Business Administration for St. Mary's County Public Schools. Joseph Shilling was appointed as vice-principal of the Francis Scott Key School.

Mr. Frank Mather, vice-principal of Westminster High School was appointed to fill the position of principal of Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School. Harry Lambert from Francis Scott Key School to vice-principal of Westminster High School, filling the position vacated by Mr. Mather.

Mr. Musser served 12 years teaching in the Taneytown School — 5 years as its principal.

On Sept. 9, Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School will open with a record enrollment of 470 pupils. This year again sets an all time high in the school's enrollment history. Two additional teachers have been added to the staff providing a staff of twenty-five professional people.

The following teachers will be new in the school and community this year. They include: Mr. Dennis Lord, a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College, will be teaching world history and social studies in grades seven and eight. Mr. Lord has earned his B.S. and M.A. degrees and is transferred from another school in the county.

Miss Barbara Rinehart, a graduate of Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School and Bridgewater College, will be teaching home economics. Miss Rinehart has earned her B.S. degree.

Miss Dorothy Robertson, a graduate of Frostburg State College, will be teaching 7th and 8th grade English and social studies. Miss Robertson has earned her B.S. degree.

Mr. Ronald Shriver, who lives at Millers, Md., and is a graduate West Virginia University, will be teaching science in the senior high. Mr. Shriver has his B.S. degree and past teaching experience.

Mr. Conrad Shafer of Liberty, Md., and a Mount Saint Mary's graduate, will be teaching senior high mathematics. Mr. Shafer has earned his B.S. degree.

The new school year marks some important changes in the schedule, in bus routing and in other areas.

New Time Schedule

The time for beginning the daily schedule is 8:15 A. M. Pupils are NOT to arrive at school prior to 8:00 A. M. and pupils reporting after 8:15 will be tardy. The first class of the day begins at 8:20.

School buses this year will pick up only Jr.-Sr. high pupils on their first load. First load buses start to pick up pupils at 7:30 A. M. All elementary pupils will be picked up on the second bus loads beginning at 8:30 A. M. Bus routes and bus numbers will be published by the Board of Education before school opens. If pupils are in doubt as to the time that buses will pass their home then they are urged to be ready and out at 7:30 on the first day of school.

Lunches will be served to Junior High Pupils beginning at 10:56 and to Senior High pupils beginning at 11:48. Town pupils have the same lunch privileges as in past years if a note is brought to school indicating that the pupils are to come home for lunch. Lunch will again be served at a cost of 25 cents and pupils will not be excused to go down town to purchase their lunch.

The time of school dismissal will be bus students at 2:50 P. M. and town students at 2:52 P. M.

New Detention Policy

A somewhat different detention policy is being inaugurated at Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School this year and it is stated here so that parents as well as students will be informed. A detention room, supervised by one teacher, will be held each day from 3:00 P. M. to 3:30 P. M. and any pupils being detained for any reasons will report to this detention room. Pupils who ride buses will be given one day's notice before starting detention so that they can arrange for their own transportation after 3:30 P. M. The school will notify parents that their child is serving detention but the school will not be responsible for taking pupils home after 3:30 P. M.

Register Early

Any persons new to our community who are planning to attend Jr.-Sr. High are asked to come to the school for early registration. If this is done, it will assure more time for proper grade placement and for a more efficient first few days of school. School hours are from 9 A. M. to 12 noon and from 1 P. M. to 3:30 P. M.

(Homeroom assignments and teachers — in the Jr.-Sr. High School are listed on Page 6 of The Carroll Record. The list of Carroll County teachers are listed on Page 3 of The Record. —Editor)

INTERIM ZONING ORDINANCE ADOPTED

The County Commissioners of Carroll County took final action on Tuesday of this week in adopting the Interim Zoning Ordinance for one year. At a public hearing attended by approximately ten persons, no objections were received to the extension of the Zoning Ordinance which included two minor amendments.

Horace S. Brauning, President of the Board of County Commissioners, indicated such action was taken to extend the Ordinance after recommendations were received from the County's Planning Commission. It was further pointed out that the comprehensive zoning regulations and mapping is nearing completion, however, additional time was determined necessary by the Planning Commission to give adequate study to its staff's proposals.

Only two amendments were added to the Ordinance as adopted on Tuesday. One lowered the time from one year to six months in defining whether any of the ten special exceptions or conditional uses listed are in the state of abandonment. Those uses requiring approval by the Board of Appeals before initial location and, therefore, on the same location if abandoned six months or more are, junk yards, trailers, trailer camps, mobile home subdivisions, explosive manufacture or storage, target or rifle ranges, service garages, used car lots, airports or airstrips, bulk gasoline or oil overhead storage facilities over 1000 gallons.

The second amendment lowered side yard requirements on previously recorded lots where the frontages are less than 100 feet in width. No change was made in front yard setback lines.

It was pointed out by the Zoning Administrator for the County that copies of the new ordinance are available in the County Office Building.

B. & O. Museum Remains Open Indefinitely

Jervis Langdon, Jr., president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, said today the Baltimore and Ohio Transportation Museum will remain open as long as justified by public interest.

Mr. Langdon said attendance at the Museum has exceeded expectations, more than 83,000 people having visited the historic exhibit since its opening on July 2—breaking all records in the Museum's history.

More than 11,000 visitors viewed the displays during the past two-day week-end alone.

The Museum was reactivated by the B & O at the request of city officials, for the period of the Star Spangled Banner Sesquicentennial observance, July 2 through September 14. It had been closed six years ago by the company as an economy measure. The Museum was first opened in 1953.

"We are most impressed by the number of Baltimoreans and others from points all over the nation who have come to the Museum to see the historic locomotives, cars and other railroad exhibits," Mr. Langdon said. "In view of this enthusiastic response, we will keep the Museum open beyond the scheduled closing date of September 14. We will decide things about the future of the Museum as we go along, and will try to keep its doors open as long as patronage warrants," he added.

The B & O president said many people had suggested to him that an admission price be charged. "The railroad has never done this, and does not propose to do so now," Mr. Langdon said. "We are proud of our collection, depicting the history of railroading in America, and we are glad to share it with the public at no cost."

The B & O's public relations department, which is in charge of the operation, reports that a record number of requests have already been received for school and organizational tours of the Museum this Fall.

Open House at Bowling Brook Boys Home

The Bowling Brook Home will hold their annual commemoration open house in honor of the founder, the late Raymond I. Richardson, on Sunday, August 23, 1964 from 1:30 P. M. until 4:30 P. M.

Those interested will be given an opportunity to tour the house and grounds, meet the boys and staff and discuss the child care program. Last year over 200 people took advantage of this formal opportunity to visit the home, and the superintendent, Robert H. DePew, is looking forward to an even larger number of visitors this year. Those who visit again this year will observe many positive changes in the physical plant and program.

The Home now has an outstanding set of houseparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Carstens, who are looking forward to greeting the interested public.

Light refreshments will be served.

ONE-WEEK MISSION AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH

The Reverend Benjamin Bowling, C.S.P., veteran missionary, will preach a one-week Mission at St. Joseph's Church, Taneytown, Monday, August 31 to Saturday, September 5.

All men and women of the parish are invited to attend the mission, as well as juniors and seniors of high school age.

Question-period will begin at 8:00 o'clock, each evening, followed by Mass and Sermon.

Piney Creek Church to Hold Spiritual Renewal Services

Spiritual Renewal Services will be held in the Piney Creek Church of the Brethren on August 24-30 at 7:30 P. M. each evening. The Rev. J. Herbert Miller, D.D., will be the evangelist. Rev. Miller, a native of Union Bridge, Md., and currently the Pastor at Spring Creek Church of the Brethren in Hershey, Pa., has been quite active in the office of the church during his ministry.

A graduate of Elizabethtown College and Bethany Theological Seminary, he has also taken work at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg, Penna. The past several years, Rev. Miller has served on General Brotherhood Board and the Annual Conference Standing Committee of the Church of the Brethren.

The emphasis of these services will be on spiritual renewal within the church and the public is cordially invited to attend. Special music will be held nightly with the Bethel Menonite choir from Gettysburg, Penna., and the Piney Creek Church Choirs participating. In addition to this music, there will be other solos and a quartet.

A service is also planned for this Sunday evening at 7:30 with Rev. Thornton O. Black from Baltimore, bringing the evening message.

BASEBALL TICKETS STILL AVAILABLE

Hundreds of youngsters have earned themselves tickets to the Oriole-Cleveland game on August 26 by collecting repairable items for the Baltimore Goodwill Industries.

Tickets are still available at nine Goodwill locations to boys and girls, sixteen and under, who provide Goodwill with a bag of useable clothing, a repairable electrical appliance or a wheel toy.

Dr. W. Harold Snape, executive director, explained that youngsters living in outlying sections, who find it inconvenient to bring contributions to Goodwill locations, may place their articles in Goodwill Collection Stations. They should write their name and address on the article and then call the Public Relations Department, giving their name and address. After checking, tickets will be mailed to them.

Contributions of all kinds, Dr. Snape continued, are repaired and renovated into like-new merchandise by Goodwill's handicapped employees and then placed on sale in Goodwill's Community Service Stores. The wages for the handicapped are derived from these sales.

FAMILY PICNIC TO BE HELD

Taneytown Rod and Gun Club will hold a free family picnic for the members on August 30, 1964 from 3 to 8 o'clock. Dinner will be at 5:00 o'clock. Fried chicken, hot dogs and baked beans will be served. This will bring to a close the Summer activities at which time trophies will be awarded for trap shooting, rifle shooting, fishing and horseshoes. There will be games and entertainment for the children. The traps and rifle range will be open for the members. Bring your guns or fishing tackle and come on out for a good time. Please make reservations with Carl Angell or Charles Anders on or before August 28. Trophies will be on display at Fritz Radio and TV store (on the square), during August 28 and 29.

Bible Conference at Frizzell Church

The annual Bible Conference at the Frizzell Church of God will begin Sunday evening, August 23, at 7:45, with Dr. Henry J. Heydt, N. Y. City, as Conference speaker. The services will continue nightly through August 29.

Dr. Heydt, Th. D., is a member of the missionary staff of the American Board to the Jews, Inc., and is president of its Jewish Missionary Training Institute. He is responsible for the Question and Answer Department of the Mission periodical, THE CHOSEN PEOPLE. In addition to his work with the Mission, Dr. Heydt teaches at the Northeastern Bible Institute in Essex Fells, New Jersey.

He has been a contributing editor to CHRISTIAN VICTORY magazine since 1945 and is responsible for The Spiritual Meaning of Scripture Section which includes Light from the Original, Light from Ancient Manners and Customs, Bible Questions and Answers, and Sermon and Bible Study Outlines. He is the author of Studies in Jewish Evangelism, The Gospel in Galatians, and a number of tracts. In addition to his Bible conference ministry from coast to coast he lectures frequently to Christian groups in high schools, colleges and universities.

Dr. Heydt was the founder of the Lancaster School of the Bible and its president for 20 years. During this time his interest in Jewish Evangelism was expressed in the fact that a course in this subject was required for all students. For the past 20 years he has been doing special research in Talmudic and Midrashic studies.

The theme of the Conference will be "The Bible and Science." While many teach today that the Bible contains scientific error and that man came into being by organic evolution, Dr. Heydt will take the opposite view point.

There will be congregational singing and special numbers each evening. The public is invited.

A LOOK AT THE FAIR

Last week, we enjoyed a very pleasant stay with my daughter, who is a Navy Nurse at the St. Albans Hospital on Long Island. Since this is not at all far from Flushing Meadows, the site of the 1964-65 World's Fair, we decided to kill two birds with one stone and take in the fair, as well. Accordingly, we hopped a crowded bus (standing room only), which conveyed us directly to one of the main gates. Here, lines of people were waiting patiently to pay the $2.00 admission fee ($1.00 for children), and we did likewise.

Once inside, one is almost overwhelmed by the panorama of color and motion which stretches out as far as the eye can see. The 646 acres of grounds are packed with exhibits, pavilions, restaurants, entertainment and public facilities, but spraying fountains, quiet pools, green-trees and lots of flowers give an unexpected air of cool tranquility and quiet loveliness which we found most delightful. This Fair is huge and occasionally noisy, but it definitely is not a carnival. Rather, it is a show of achievement — what has been accomplished in the past, and what will be new in the future. The giant steel "Man's Achievements in an Expanding World," stresses this. Especially like the theme of the fair, "Peace, Through Understanding," for in this troubled world, we certainly need to know more about our fellow-man.

Our very first stop was the U.S.O. Building, where we obtained an excellent map of the grounds. We then proceeded on to the Mormon Pavilion, which can be recognized at once by its replica of the facade of the Salt Lake City Temple. The pool in front and the gorgeous flowers banked all around made us yearn for our camera, which unfortunately, we had forgotten. The theme of this pavilion is "Man's Search for Happiness" — how to find lasting happiness, as distinguished from mere passing pleasures, scriptural passages, beautiful paintings and dioramas, and a 15-minute film are used most effectively to portray the Mormon Purpose of Life.

From here we moved on to the Federal and State area, where we visited the New Mexico pavilion, which resembles 5 adobe trading posts, one of them a realistic trading post. Here we enjoyed a hearty meal of genuine New Mexican food — enchiladas, tamales, chili sauce, taco (a thin brittle bread), and a salad. The Montana exhibit features a Centennial train, with everything from agates to beef cattle. At both of these pavilions, real Indians put on colorful dances. I am happy to report that the Maryland exhibit is not nearly as bad as I had been led to believe. It features Maryland food, primarily, but there is also a pool filled with world-famous Maryland oysters, replicas of an early Baltimore ship and a B. and O. train, and upstairs a very attractive Preachman room with fine pictures of race horses and places in Maryland. At the Long Island exhibit, we watched the well-known Long Island ducklings being hatched.

At the Lake Amusement Area, we rode the Monorail and got a wonderful bird's eye view of the entire fair. The charge for the unique ride is 80¢, but almost all of the exhibits are free, so that a trip to the fair can be amazingly inexpensive, actually.

At the Vatican pavilion, we saw one of the great highlights of the Fair, Michelangelo's magnificent Pieta, which is being shown outside of the Vatican for the very first time. One stands on a moving ramp to view this great masterpiece, which is brilliantly lighted against a deep blue velvet curtain.

To enter the Belgian Village (which incidentally, costs $1.25, but it is worth every penny) is to step right out of New York into the land of Belgium. Everything about it is delightfully quaint and authentic, from the bake shop dispensing luscious waffles topped with whipped cream and strawberries to the Belgian band, whose performers wore wooden shoes. The hour spent here was the most pleasant of our stay at the Fair.

And so the exciting day came to a close, but actually we had merely scratched the surface, for it would take 12 or 15 8-hour days to see all of the sights and this would not allow time for eating. So, by all means, go to the Fair, but be sure you wear your most comfortable shoes — you'll need them!

'SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE'

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth;
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Walking, and that a long walk to the exhibition of The B & O at Pratt and Poppleton Streets, I stopped by the First Presbyterian Church where Edgar Allan Poe is buried in the graveyard of that church and remained about an hour viewing all the names of those buried there. Such good names and fine ones such as: Causten, Crosby, Anderson, Mrs. Sarah Pannell and it read, married 20 years and had 11 children! There were John McDonough, Jacob Schley, wife and daughter, Kelso, Waken, Friddle, Stewart, McDowell, Robinson and the minister who was No. 4 of that church, the Rev. John Chester Backus. The church yard appeared more beautifully kept all around and it was fascinating. I observed also that the original grave of Edgar Allan Poe with his wife, Virginia, on one side and his mother-in-law on the other side was moved to the front of the yard and also his grandfather, David Poe is buried there in the original grave. There are so many other fine names as: Armstrong, Stirling, Nevins, McClellan, Falsoner, Young, Purviance and so many erased from age that are not recognizable.

I walked along old Baltimore, — streets which I never knew existed and viewed the houses in rows as those people live. One youth who came out of a manufacturing establishment looked at me and smiled and then said, "You are not walking that great distance down to the B & O exhibition are you?" I replied that is where I am headed! Well, folks — don't miss that exhibition! Wonderful is the word and that should be kept open every day of the year! Every Baltimorean should see this interesting display for it was truly with "Oh's" and "Ah's" and "Oh-look," and that all over the place. It is all for free and there was a nice crowd. I observed many cars from out of State as far as California. There is a large picture framed on the wall and the wording, "In Every War We Were Ready." The Mexican War, The Civil and Spanish American Wars, Wars I and War III! There is the beautiful desk of the first presidents of the B & O—Phillip E. Thomas which is 7 feet wide and 8 ft. tall.

There were the seats called, "The Throw Over" of the years of 1872, 1900, 1905, 1910, 1927 and then the "Recliner" 1935 and 1950 and 1955. There are three buildings housing the Transportation Museum as they are especially well adapted for the purpose as they are in themselves historically significant in the story of railroad change and progress. One building is called Mt. Clare Station, and you will see the very window where the first passenger tickets were sold on May 24, 1830. This station is really the oldest station not only in these United States but in the world! You will actually see the very engines of the B & O from the year of 1829 — not in pictures, folks but standing right there. "The Tom Thumb" 1829, "The Atlantic" 1832 — "The John Hancock" 1836, — "The Lafayette" 1837, "The Memorial" 1848, "The William Mason" 1856 — "The Thatcher Perkins" 1863. All these and — oh — so much more on exhibition in "The Round House." You press a button right there and you will see the meeting which saw the founding of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in a case of the prominent men in action ready to sign. You will learn so much that perhaps you did not know. For instance the B & O was the first railroad to be chartered and built in America in the year of 1827!

It would take many columns right here to describe it all and I do hope and pray it will be a lasting exhibition! The very stone is there which spread out to the North, the East, the South and the West and it was one of the signers of The Declaration of Independence, Charles Carroll who aided in the laying of that stone. (And that in the year of 1828) at the time he said, "I consider 'this one of the most important acts of my life, second only to my signing of the Declaration of Independence.' even second to that!" So don't miss it whatever you do. I hope the school teachers will immediately plan an all day affair when school opens and that many will go down as quickly as they read this column. You will be proud of Baltimore that it all happened right here! And there is a real dining car that used to serve the public, right in the back yard where you may enjoy a light lunch. Before you leave be sure and go into the little "Gift" shop and there you will find (which I know the ladies will love) the very dinner-ware that I recognized immediately which always appeared so beautifully in gold-trimmed on the trips in so many states. I purchased one little individual vegetable dish which will stand on one of my living-room tables for an ash tray!

Now in closing — "Do not expect much consideration from others and then if you do not get any, you will not be upset and unhappy."

Until next week — D. V. Keep Happy and love one another!

Faithfully,

"FACTS AND OPINIONS"

David Lawrence writes in U. S. News & World Report: "Only 175 years after our forefathers ordained the Constitution of the United States, the document has largely fallen into disuse. Some of the clauses that still remain in operation are being given an interpretation stretched far beyond their original meaning. We see an increasing power being exercised by the judiciary over the other branches of the Federal Government as the rights of the sovereign States are gradually being extinguished. . . . Our written Constitution, established in 1789 and amended in the intervening years to meet changing conditions, is being deliberately disregarded, and the doctrine of conformity by coercion is being espoused not only by our so-called intellectual groups but by vote-seeking politicians in our 'great society'."

The gas industry spent some $1,680 million on construction last year, bringing its total worth to about $26.4 billion, a jump of 7.8 per cent from 1962. Distribution companies led all segments of the industry in this spending.

In Senator Strom Thurmond's view: "The $3,000 standard for 'poverty' means little. . . . If a Social Security retiree earns enough to raise his income to $3,000, he loses his Social Security. And if all with income less than $3,000 are in 'poverty', by 'government' definition, it seems contradictory that in 1963 the 'government' collected $3.54 billion in personal income taxes from the 4.1 million Americans having incomes of less than $1,500. The fact that what is defined as 'poverty' in the U.S.—less than $3,000 annual income—would be considered a regal economic status in many parts of the world is primarily due to our unexcelled free enterprise system."

Warnings concerning the practice of starvation to lose weight come from the magazine Today's Health. It points out that starvation, in addition to causing a depletion of body fat and protein, can induce other hazardous effects not readily recognized. A form of gouty arthritis, low blood pressure and anemia have been reported in some individuals, after relatively short periods of fasting. And there are persons with certain diseases who should never attempt fasting. A more reasonable approach to weight reduction, it adds, is a modified diet of foods high in nutrients but low enough in calories to cause a loss of pounds, coupled with suitable exercise.

According to a new survey by Nation's Business magazine, most top-ranking businessmen look for continuing growth in America's economy at least until the middle of 1965. Forty-nine per cent feel a business downturn might get under way in the latter half of the year, but many of these think it will be mild.

In the opinion of National Grange Master Newsom, "American agriculture is a part of our total economy—not apart from our economy. . . . the old philosophy of relying chiefly on restricting production for the sake of a high unit price cannot well serve farmers or the American economy in the 1960's. The monopolistic approach of purchase by government of those commodities which have no other market at the government price is not realistic."

Carbon black — a sophisticated "cousin" to that unpopular substance, soot—is one of the most useful products of modern industry, according to an article in Petroleum Today. It is used to strengthen and toughen rubber tires, raincoats and conveyor belts, and goes into bowling balls, typewriter ribbons, eyebrow pencils, television tubes and printer's ink. Its particles are so tiny that the period at the end of a sentence in ordinary printed matter contains nearly one billion particles of carbon black.

FARMERS—

Here's How To
Stretch Your
Fall Seed Dollar

Want to get more for your seed money and harvest bigger yields from cleaner fields? Then remember that the higher the germination and the higher the purity, the better the seed buy. For example: You might pay for 100 pounds of cheap seed with 85% germination and 95% purity, but you'd really receive only 80 pounds of pure live seed. What a difference with SOUTHERN STATES Top-Quality SEEDS that grow thicker, cleaner stands at lowest cost per acre. Call us now.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

The past few days have been among the hottest of this summer. Some slight relief was brought by the thunderstorm of Thursday evening.

Lewis Reifsnider, on Bruceville Rd., was taken sick last Thursday and is now ill with diphtheria.

Rev. James Cattanch, formerly Pastor of the Presbyterian church, of this place, but now of Mauch Chunk, Pa., accompanied by his wife and two sons, George and Lachlin, are spending the week with R. S. McKinney and family.

Sister Regina Fidelis, of the Holy Cross Academy, New York City, and two of her associates, of that famous order of Sisters of Charity, are the guests of her father, Congressman Goulden, at the Glenburn.

Carroll County Sunday School Day. September 3rd will be the 7th annual convention and reunion of 100 Sunday Schools with an enrollment of 14,384 members, known as Carroll County Sunday School Day held in Middleburg District, in Mrs. Walden's beautiful grove at Middleburg station on W. M. Railroad.

Clarence Bankard Accidentally Shot. A serious shooting accident occurred at Basehoar's Mill on Wednesday. It appears that Lloyd Basehoar was in the mill room handling an old-fashioned "Colts Armory" revolver and in some manner it was discharged, just as Clarence Bankard, son of E. D. Bankard, entered the mill, the entire load striking his arm and abdomen. Drs. Roop and Birnie were summoned. At present he is in critical condition but his physicians hope for his recovery.

Death of Pope Pius X. Pope Pius X, the head of the Roman Catholic church in the world, died at Rome, Italy, on Thursday morning. He was 79 years of age and was a native of Italy.

Keysville — Oliver Newcomer and wife, and Peter Wilhide, wife and daughter, Marion, took a trip to Atlantic City, Sunday. . . . Rev. Charles Ritter and wife of York, Pa., spent part of his vacation with his brother, W. E. Ritter. . . . Harvey Shorb and wife visited his parents, Edward Shorb and wife, Sunday.

Copperville — Wm. and Roland Baker, of Hagerstown, spent a week with their father, A. C. Baker and attending the Grangers Fair.

FAIRVIEW

We were shocked to learn of the death of our neighbor, Mr. Edward Turner, who died Saturday evening. Our very deepest sympathy are with the wife and mother. The Turner family has not been in this vicinity very long, but long enough to have made many friends, and he will be missed very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock entertained to a picnic lunch on their lawn on Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl and sons, David and Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frock, Steven and Debra, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adkins and children, Mary C. Joyce and Kevin, Robert Frock, Charlene Shorb, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frock and grandchildren, Steven and Beverly Givens.

Our sympathy goes out to Dr. T. H. Legg and family in the death of his wife, Mrs. Legg, who was buried on Sunday afternoon.

Just 22 days left until school begins. The mothers and dads are busy getting the necessary things for their youngsters to go back to school which will be a joy for some and unhappiness for others.

We welcome Mrs. Robert Stone back home. She had spent the past month with relatives and friends in S. C. and her husband joined her in Va. where they spent a few days. We are glad to have both of them back. She said, "they had a wonderful trip and enjoyed being with all of them once again."

Mrs. William Speakman called on Mrs. Levi Frock on Tuesday morning.

Franklin Baker called on his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock on Monday evening.

Tell Him So

If you hear a kind word spoken of some worthy soul you know, It may fill his heart with sunshine If you only tell him so.

If a deed, however humble, Helps you on your way to go, Seek the one whose hand has helped you, Seek him out and tell him so.

If your heart is touched and tender Toward a sinner, lost and low, It might help him to do better If you'd only tell him so.

Oh, my sisters, oh, my brothers, As o'er life's rough path you go, If God's love has saved and kept you, Do not fail to tell him so.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports

Baltimore Orioles manager Hank Bauer is banking a great deal on the relief pitching of DICK HALL in the important days ahead in the American League pennant race.

Dick Hall

can League pennant race. Hall's clutch relief pitching is one of the reasons the Orioles are in the thick of the battle for the American League pennant, and Bauer is counting on Hall to help keep them there.

A big plus for Hall is that he can be a short man or a long one. It's nothing to do with his height, of course, but rather his place in the team's pitching plans. A short man is a relief pitcher who is used for an inning or two, usually at the late stages of a game. A long man is a reliever who can be used over a long stretch in a game. Not often do relievers do both, but Hall does.

Doing that, he won five decisions this year before being tagged with his first loss.

Now, if Bauer really gets in a spot, between those long and short pitching assignments, he can send Hall to the outfield. Dick was a fine collegiate outfielder for Swarthmore. In fact, he broke into baseball as a fly catcher.

Actually, he tried every position but catching. But, at six-six, he seemed a natural for the outfield.

Branch Rickey thought so when he was running the Pittsburgh Pirates organization. After Rickey had obtained Hall's signature on a bonus contract, the old man announced that he had just signed a fellow who could be the greatest centerfielder since Tris Speaker.

On this rare occasion, Rickey's fine judgment was wrong. Hall was all right going after those fly balls, but his hitting ruined him. In fact, ask Hall when he decided to try pitching, and he'll reply:

"When I found myself struggling to become a .240 hitter."

Good things don't always come in small packages, despite the oft-quoted saying. A case in point is a trade made last winter between the Detroit Tigers and the Kansas City Athletics. The Athletics wanted a slugger like Rocky Colavito and the Tigers needed an infielder like Jerry Lumpe. They agreed to swap those two men, but the Tigers wanted a bigger package. To satisfy Detroit's wishes, the Athletics beamed up the deal by throwing in two pitchers — Ed Rakow and Dave Wickersham. In return, the Tigers sent Bob Anderson along with Colavito.

The two men thrown in to make the package sweeter for the Tigers have turned out to be more than so much stuffing. Rakow has proven useful in relief, and Wickersham has turned out to be one of the biggest surprises of the year in the majors.

He has won 13 games for Detroit, far more than anyone expected him to have at this stage of the season. In fact, 12 games is Wickersham's career high for the major leagues. He won 12 last year in a full season with Kansas City.

Wickersham says most of his new-found success is due to the fact he is playing with the Tigers and not the Athletics. He explains that the support at the plate and in the field has made the difference. That's Wickersham's claim, but it's wrong type of an argument to get into at this time, something like which came first the chicken or the egg.

The record book shows, however, that Dave set a mark of dubious sorts last year. Though he started 34 games, he was able to finish only four. No other American league pitcher ever did as poorly.

At any rate, this is a new year, Wickersham is with a new team, and he appears to be a new pitcher. And, every victory he gets from here on in is an improvement on his best previous showing in the big time.

Remember When Dept. — Coach Lou Klein of the Chicago Cubs began his playing career with Daytona Beach in 1940. He hit .348 and the next year he hit .367 for Columbus, Ohio.

Today's Sport Laugh — The manager of the Atlanta team is a patient man. But he has little patience with players who always miss the signs he flashes from the third base coaching box. When a player misses too often he has been known to whip out a card which says, plainly, and in large letters "bunt."

— John Breth

SOUTH PENN LEAGUE

Taneytown played perhaps their best and most exciting game of the season by defeating top ranked Littlestown, 1-0, in twelve innings under the lights Saturday, on the loser's diamond.

In a game marked by 36 strikeouts to set a new league record, Walt Donahue emerged the victor in a tight pitching duel with Dick Stauffer, Littleton loser. Donahue gave up 5 hits through 12 innings, walked but two, had 16 whiffs and worked out of several jams during the game.

One example of this was a bases loaded situation in the ninth, with none out. Walt bore down and got out of the inning unscathed upon.

Dick Stauffer, who had a perfect 7-0 record, struck out 8 of the first 9 Terror batsmen and gave up only 1 (one) hit through 11 frames. This was collected by Scooter Pfoutz in the fourth. Dick wound up the loser with 20 strikeouts as Littlestown's win streak was broken at nine straight.

Don Favorite was the big hero for the Terrors as he singled to open the 12th and promptly stole second.

Don went to third on an infield out and scored on "Skinny" Bollinger's infield base knock. His perfect peg to the plate from deep center field to nip the tying run in the bottom of the 12th was another key play for the Terrors.

Taneytown is now tied for second place in the league with McSherrystown and Littlestown.

Dependable

Lesson for August 23, 1964

Background Scripture: Deuteronomy 1: 6 through 19.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 75:1-7.

A STUDENT waiter in the school dining hall was complaining about another waiter. "He just took off without saying anything about it, and the rest of us had to carry his job. There wasn't time to get a substitute." Now the student who walked off the job leaving the others with extra work, and all without letting any one know he was leaving, may have been a very good waiter. But he won't stand a

Dr. Foreman good chance of being recommended for the job next year, if he keeps up this sort of thing. No matter how good he is at waiting on table, if he can't be depended on, he's not a good prospect. Dependability is what makes all good qualities strong.

God at the center

The heart of the matter, as usual, is to be found in the Bible. Deuteronomy 6:4-17 is as good a place as any to find dependability—not the word but the thing itself—described plainly. What are the qualities of a dependable life? First of all, it is one that has God, the true God, at the center. It is life oriented to God, taking orders from him. Centrally it is a life filled with love for God. This means devotion, admiration and not mere adoration, it means loyalty through thick and thin. Now there were few if any atheists in those days. Belief in God, some kind of God, was to be found everywhere. Constantly, through all their prophets, the Hebrews were reminded of what kind of God the true and only God is.

Inside and out

The heart—to modern ears—means the emotions. But when the prophet said love God with all your heart, he did not mean love him with all your emotions. Loving God with emotions only turns worship into a kind of binge. The Hebrew word could almost be translated "Stand By"—stand by your God with all your loyalty and all your dedication. The "heart" meant the springs of life, the motives at the very center of a man's life. The point is that in the character of a good man or woman there is an inner and outer side. The outer side is his actions, habits, what we see of him. The inside is what he really is; and if what he is, is not right, then what he does will be all wrong. Nobody likes to be called a hollow person, yet that's just what any of us is if the strength is not there, the God-created strength, on the inside.

Weekdays and Sundays

We don't know whether Moses meant to be taken literally or not when he ordered the Israelites to write the laws on their heads and hands and on the doorposts of their houses. They took it literally, anyway, and tied on their foreheads and on their wrists tiny boxes containing quotations from the Law. Jesus rather made fun of this practice, because it had become a substitute for actually keeping the Law. Anyhow, one point is clear. The conduct, the habit-patterns, the ambitions, the purposeful actions of a man belong in his head and hands and home. What he thinks, what he does, where he goes,—his home life and his work life,—should be all of one piece. You can't live selfishly six days in every week and then break out into unselfishness on Sundays. You can't be dependable as a man and a Christian on one day devoted to goodness. The six bad days will vote the one good day down. People have often tried to divide their lives into compartments, in some of which they could do as they pleased and in others they would conform to what they took to be the will of God. Isn't that in fact what most of us do? How often in the course of an ordinary weekday do we ask ourselves, "What will people think?" and how often do we ask, "What does God think?" What society expects of me may be good; what God expects and demands is good. And he expects it seven days a week.

(Based on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. Released by Community Press Service.)

Peace will come to the world when and if the people of the world are willing to do as much for the cause of peace as they do for the sake of war.

The ways of mankind demonstrate very clearly, that it does not take much hokum to elate the vanity of men or women.

Spanish Pastries

For Cocktail Appetizers

Tiny little pastries called Empanadillas will make a hit at your next party. These Spanish appetizers are made with a pastry of olive oil, egg and flour, and a filling of meat, fish, egg or almost anything you like.

(Olive oil in the pastry gives it flaky crispness.) For convenience, they can be made up in advance, frozen, and kept on hand to be baked shortly before they are to be served.

A typical Spanish filling calls for chopped cooked veal, raisins, onions, pimientos and parsley. Or use any other leftover meat or chicken. If you haven't enough meat, extend it by adding chopped hard-cooked eggs.

Pastry: Combine ½ cup Spanish olive oil, 1 egg, ¼ cup water and ½ teaspoon salt; sift in 3 cups flour. Knead as for pie crust, divide into four equal parts. Roll out on flour board to ⅜ inch thickness, cut circles with biscuit cutter. Place a teaspoon of filling on half the circles, top with second circle and crimp edges together. Repeat with remaining pastry. Brush tops with a little oil. Bake at 400° for 25 minutes (30 minutes if taken direct from freezer). Equally good hot or cold.

Filling: Sauté 1 cup cooked veal, beef or chicken, and 1 cup minced onion in 4 tablespoons Spanish olive oil. When onion is tender, add ¼ cup raisins, 1 2-oz. can diced pimiento, drained (or ¼ cup), ¾ teaspoon salt. Simmer 5 minutes longer. Add 1 tablespoon minced parsley. A tablespoon or two of white wine or sherry may be added if desired.
