Taneytown Swimming Pool Project

The Executive Committee of the Taneytown Community Swimming Pool project will meet this coming Sunday evening, September 13, in the director's room of the First National Bank, Taneytown, at 8:00 P. M. to discuss the draft of the By-Laws prepared by Donald Smith, chairman, Mrs. Wayne Baumgardner and Cecil Lewelling. The members of the Ex-ecutive Committee will receive copies of the drafted By-Laws for study purposes before the September 13

The evening's agenda will also include reports of the standing committees, officers and public relations director.

Since the Executive Committee was organized August 27, all stand-ing committees have met at least once to map their action for the coming months. Executive Committee chairman Wayne Baumgardner has discussed the swimming pool project with the Town Council; a legal opinion has been obtained from Taneytown City Attorney Stanford Hoff with regard to the organization of the proposed pool.

Five area swimming pools, public and private, have been visited in the past week by representatives from the Executive Committee to supple-ment information on design, construction, membership, rules and regulations. A representative of the Rigger Construction Co. Catonsville, met with Baumgardner and Cecil Lewelling, planning, design and con-struction chairman, September 3 to present details of his firm's construc-

CHRISTIAN DAY KINDERGARTEN

With 18 four- and five-year-old children present, Mrs. Charles Stone-sifer, teacher-director, conducted the opening session of the Christian Day Kindergarten of Trinity Lutheran Church yesterday (Wednesday) morn-ing from 9 A. M. to 11:30 A. M.

The daily program of the Kinder-garten includes opening exercises— consisting of devotions and the Pledge of Allegiance, calendar and weather reports; group time - with stories, nition of birthdays and holidays, and dancing; play time-free, supervised individual play by the children using kindergarten toys and equipment; work time-creative activities with clay, craft materials, etc.; snack time -milk and crackers to be served after grace, etiquette training; rest period—children rest on mats, rugs or towels provided by parents, music appreciation, story time. Clean-up will be supervised by Mrs. Stonesifer after each activity. At least twice each month, the pupils will attend a devotional service in the chapel. Special programs will be prepared by the children several times during the year. Each session will close with a summary of the daily activities.

Mrs. Stonesifer asked the parents of the pupils to provide a smock or apron for protective purposes, marked with the children's names, as soon as possible; each child should also bring a rug or mat for resting.

Pupils and their parents attended Christian Day Kindergarten Open House on Tuesday, Sept. 8, at 7:00 P. M. The Rev. Howard Miller, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, welcomed the group following final registration conducted by Mrs. Elwood Harner. He thanked the Steering Committee members for their work in organizing the project and introduced Mrs. Stonesifer, who outlined her daily program plans and made several requests to the parents.

Pastor Miller announced that a certificate of approval has been received from the Maryland State Department of Health authorizing the Christian Day Kindergarten facilities. This certification followed inspection of these facilities by the State Fire Marshal and representatives from the Carroll County Board of Health.

Following the formal meeting of parents, pupils and Kindergarten personnel, the group met in the Kindergarten rooms for refreshments prepared by Mrs. John M. Skiles and Mrs. Kenneth Crouse, Yarn doll favors, made by Mrs. Skiles, were given and the children familiarized them-selves with some of the equipment. The deadline for Christian Day Kindergarten registrations is Nov. 1. This date was determined by the Steering Committee at their Sept. 2 meeting.

A number of members of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce left this (Thurs.) afternoon for their annual outing, consisting of a dinner at Hogates in Washington, D. C. Few individuals dispute those who assert that they have unusual talent.

Art went all the way for his third in registering his first white-wash of the season.

The game was scoreless until the seventh when Ernie Combs led off with a single, stole second and went to third on Fred Shank's safety. "Skinny" Bollinger then responded with a smash to center field that went for a triple and scored two runs. Jimmy Myers then bounced a single to score Bollinger and after Jimmy stole second, he scored on Graham Wildasin's safety. Four runs had crossed the dish for the Terrors with no outs and this was good enough for the win for Taneytown and Art Caple who came back with only two days rest for the victory.

ODDS AND ENDS

It appears that the stubborn drought, which has plagued this section of Carroll County for so long, is back with us again—or did it ever leave? Not only does a hot sun beat down relentlessly all day long, but a drying wind blows most of the time. Even the hardiest weeds are wilting and many trees are shedding their leaves prematurely. A hickory tree on our place is slowly dying from sheer lack of moisture. Pastures everywhere are burnt-up, and farmers must resent either to cutting corn for must resort either to cutting corn for their cattle, or to feeding hay.

Droughts such as this one are mentioned many times in the Bible, par-ticularly in the Old Testament. In the Book of Joel, one of the minor prophets, we find some very apt descriptions of our present day situation: "The field is wasted, the land mourneth," Joel 1:10; "The vine is dried up and . . even all the trees of the field are withered," Joel 1:12; "How do the hearts groun! the herds "How do the beasts groan! the herds have no pasture," Joel 1:18.

Rainfall is one of God's greatest blessings, and something for which we should all express our thanks. It is not an everyday occurrence, as we have learned only too well in the past three years! There was a time when the rural or her apron grew soiled, nobody seemed to mind. If she served plain old meat, gravy and potatoes, minus a tossed salad or tempting dessert, no one howled about it too much. Moreover, when the lady got tired, she was privileged to look that way. The situation today seems very different. Modern farm wives are still faced with a mountain of duties. Many of them help do the milking and work in the fields. But they are also expected to keep immaculate homes, prepare well-balanced meals, be good wives and mothers, keep themselves well-dressed and reasonably attractive, and in addition to all of these, take an active part in church and community activities. It sounds exhausting, and it sometimes

This Column will be an answer for

First—do not think of "What will people say?" You are as old as you feel. And it is your life! I have in life of dozens of marriages late in life and they have been very happy ones because through experiences they both have had more patience. Of course there is the financial end of it which the offspring will feel badly about. This should all be talked over before the marriage takes place. There is no more lonely feeling by many than in losing a mate, especially if the marriage had been a successful one Late was a successful one cessful one. Late marriages are not unusual as we read about them every day in the papers and you never hear of those couples being divorced. Marriage, of course, after 60 won't contain all the youthful anticipation, search for adventure and etc., but it can really boast of a more stable affair on respect and the wonderful companionship plus common interest and so forth. People after 60 become more mellow, more patient and adjustments are more readily made. In fact, I have known many who have married after 65 and they now appear around 50 years of age. You can really be romantic in the later years for romance is at any period of life if love is the foundation. You can positively love more than once!

Never, never allow children to interfere, as many times there is selfish motive behind it all. Don't marry just because someone has asked you, think it over seriously. I know of a couple—both have children and the man lived in his own home and so did the lady. They talked it over and decided to live in the newer house which was the lady's home and he would sell his and with the money have the lady's home all re-modeled! They are ideally happy and they did not permit the children and they did not permit the children to interfere in anyway as much as they objected. But if you feel that you cannot share and share alike and by that I mean "This is mine" and "That is mine"—don't go into it for it must be give and give alike. Then ask yourself, "Will I be able to have a man who is retired under to have a man who is retired under my feet at all times?" That is another question which must be solved beforehand. If you just want to get married to have someone drive you around, or you think you can better conditions by that ease your financial prob-lems, DON'T MARRY!

Now, this is a true story of a few years ago. A widowed lady living down in St. Pete Florida, met a man on one of those green benches just took his word for it. They married and in no time, she was spending the little money which her husband had left her and she discovered that this new Romeo only had S.S. She sought the advise of a lawyer and the marriage was immediately an-nulled! She walked back to the bench actly what she said, "This is where I met you and this is where I leave you!" So if you and you cannot show credentials and much else before the knot is tied and be frank and honest with one another — my advise is, "Don't attempt it!"

To marry a bachelor sometimes is not so good either for they usually are very set in their ways! Sometimes religions interfere and even political beliefs or entirely a different taste for foods or even TV shows (unless you have two TV's) and many do, you know. Then, you must never look back and even say to yourself, "III are also in rothing like No. 1!" "He or she is nothing like No. 1!" It is best even to discard or put away for keeps No. 1's photograph. Many times second marriages are even happier! Be sure you both are in very good health for that is very important. And be sure you say to yourself, "Do I have the sort of temperament which could stand this constant close contact?" "Will I be able to get along with his or her children?" And the big thing, "Are we going to be compatible? Hoping you and you will be entering the most happy time of your

Would love hearing from you and you after it is all over! Remember love is the great-est! Best wishes and God Bless all those who have written to me!

"GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS"

CORVALLIS, ORE., GAZETTE-TIMES: "Senator John J. Williams, the Delaware Republican who first opened the Bobby Baker scandal. charges that the Farmers Home Administration has been lending more than $1,000 an acre to convert croplands into golf courses, country clubs and hunting preserves — a far cry from their farm purposes. . . . There is a recreation program and it is going through the legislative mill now. The House has approved it and it is heading for the Senate. This is a 25-year land and water conservation program to meet the needs for outdoor recreation facilities. It would be largely a pay-as-you-go project, with funds advanced on a sharing basis with the states, to be repaid from receipts after 10 years. Thus the taxpayer will have recreation lending where it belongs, and it will not be used by the Agriculture Department to perpetuate a bureaucratic agency which has evidentally run out of legitimate places where it can get rid of our money."

FINDLAY, OHIO, REPUBLICAN-COURIER: "Proposed changes in the social security law will adversely affect all wage earners and negate the recent reduction of federal income taxes. . . . Social security rates to employees and employers are already scheduled to go up 32 per cent in the next 7 years, but if the House action is approved, social security taxes will go up 49 per cent in that period instead. . . . All of which shows how virtually any and all federal programs once inaugurated tend to grow, and grow, and grow.

EVERETT, WASH., HERALD: "All of us react pretty much to our environment. When we're standing in an alley we don't worry about our cigarette ashes. When we're in somecigarette ashes. When we're in someone's neat and attractive living room, we do. It's the same with parks, picture one year only $3.00.

All other Fraternities and organizations are invited to use this directory for the public information it carries. Cost for one year only $3.00. we do. It's the same with parks, picnic places, swim beaches and highways. The cleaner they are and the more attractive, the more we're inclined to keep them that way. And so are other people."

THAYER, MO., NEWS: "Recent tabulations show a record number of foreign tourists are visiting the United States in 1964. One reason for the influx is the New York World's Fair but there are others. The biggest is probably lower fares of trans-Atlantic airliners. The airliners are carrying record numbers of passengers over the Atlantic, proving those who argued that lower fares would greatly increase volume were right."

WALDOBORO, ME., PRESS: "'Extremism in defense of Liberty' was used by Lincoln in the Civil War; by Wilson in World War I; by Roosevelt in World War II; by Truman in Korea and by Eisenhower in Lebanon. To a lesser degree it is being used by Rockefeller in Rochester . . . when he called out the National Guard to control the rioting. It was used by Coolidge during the Police Strike in Boston. No one could possibly have called these men 'Extremists' in a derogatory sense. They had no other choice. Why, therefore, should Senator Goldwater be criticised for stating this as a fundamental principle of the Government of the United States? Would anyone rather he promised to stand back and twiddle his thumbs if our Liberty should be endangered."

GIDDINGS, TEX., STAR: "When we sit back and do not express our viewpoint or raise objection to ideas that we do not believe in, we are hastening the time when we will not have the privilege of expressing our views. If we fall into the habit of taking the path of least resistance or if we fail to say NO when we feel no is the right answer-even if it! is not the popular one then we are saying that the ideals that our forefathers died for were not important. . . Express yourself! Whatever the results, whether they go for the moment more in the direction of extremism or away from it, we will know in our own heart that our own attitudes and actions contributed to the results. A nation gets the kind of government it deserves! Let us deserve government 'by the PEO-

ALMA, MICH., RECORD: "The current race riots gripping many of the larger cities throughout the country are causing immeasurable harm to everyone concerned and to the nation as a whole. . . . While it may be much to ask, if coolness and real leadership can be accomplished in achieving this objective of freedom and brotherhood, we as a people and a nation can gain a position in modern society unparalleled in the history of the world. This is an objective well worth working for!"

"I can't get my brother's pants over his shoes!"

The young man had a problem.

He was quite serious about it as he dialed the telephone operator.

"What's wrong?" she asked.

"Nobody's home and I can't get my brother's pants on over his shoes!"

"Why don't you try taking off his shoes and then putting on his pants?" the operator gently suggested.

There was a long pause, some heavy breathing, then finally, "Gee, that works swell! Thanks."

This little story is true. And it tells something of the spirit that thousands of telephone people bring along with them to their work each day.

We just try to be helpful. We don't always succeed-but we try.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

A letter has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide from his sister, Mrs. Harold Norcott of Ojai, Calif., that she and her sons had a safe trip home from their visit in Detour and surrounding vicinities. Margaret also added that her husband said he thought the boys had grown about six inches since they had left home. (Haven't you often felt the same way about some child you haven't seen for awhile?) Among the visitors they enjoyed while in Detour were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Thomas of Taneytown. The Thomas' showed their slides one evening taken on their trip west and Margaret was on some of them for they had visited with her while in California. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas, Joan and Nancy of Hollow Rock Farm had also visited of Hollow Rock Farm had also visited that same evening.

Ivan Cole, a lay minister of the Methodist Church, was Rally Day speaker for the Keysville Lutheran Sunday School on Sunday morning. He told that Rally Day does not mean what so many think it does: such as a "pep" rally for football games and a "pep" rally for football games and the like, but as the dictionary puts it: bring together; get in order again; pull together; come together in a ody for a common purpose or action. must do this with a religious significance in our Sunday Schools and do it with dedication to teach God's Word. It is most important that parents stress Sunday School to their children and have them attend

Mr. and Mrs. Cole and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun near Detour for dinner and supper. Mr. Cole and Mr. Coshun have worked together and are good

Tomorrow (Sept. 9) is the first day of school for our county. Do hope everyone remembers the new bus schedules for many of the schools. It's back to work

Seems as though the Government just keeps right on spending money even though our nation is billions of dollars in debt. We had a slight Fed-eral tax reduction in time for the State to raise theirs and we really haven't come out ahead (to my way of thinking) like some of the newspaper articles claim we have. Did you see the small filler last week in the paper about being too had the you see the small filler last week in the paper about being too bad the next generation can't be here right now to see how their money is being spent? And it surely is the truth.

Miss Ada Yoder of Baltimore visited last week from Tuesday until Thursday with niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide, Neal, Audrey and Danny of the Keysville Road. She then returned to the Carroll Wilhide home, where she had been visited. "Dorie" Tag and her brother Henry Tag of Baltimore visited with the Carroll and Clyde Wilhide families and then took Aunt Ada back home. Keysville Lutheran Church is the place, Sept. 17 at 7:45 P. M. is the time, and slides of the Holy Land is the topic. Pastor Chester Rill of the Washington Grove Methodist Church will show his slides taken on his trip. will show his slides taken on his trip last year to the Holy Land. The Brotherhood of the Union Bridge Lutheran Parish is sponsoring this program and everyone in the commainity is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Ralph Fleharty is back home again in Detour. Mr. and Mrs. William Fleharty and family were Sunday visitors with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fleharty, Jr., "Butch" and Patsy of Overall, Va. (where his mother had been visiting for the past two weeks) and she returned home with them.

Busy day on Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan of the Forest and Stream Club Road. Luncheon guests were her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Seibert, Timmy, Paul, Johnny and Mariann of Clear Spring. Mrs. Seibert is a busy lady getting ready to start the school year by substitute teaching for a recently resigned teacher, until a replacement can be found. In the evening, visitors in this same home were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eicker of Baltimore.

get along without it and none poor that he cannot be made rich by it. A smile creates happiness, and is the countersign of friendship. It brings rest to the weary, cheer to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad, and s nature's antidote for trouble. Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrow ed or stolen, for it is of no value to anyone until it is given away. Some people are too tired to give you a smile. Give them one of yours, as none needs a smile so much as he who has no more to give.—Anonymous

due notice of all the rumors and said that at the end of the current season there will be a conference between Stengel and the general manager of the team, George Weiss. Nobody knows whether the Met front office wants Stengel back and nobody even knows whether Stengel wants to come back. Despite the improved showing of the Mets this year—and that word improved is used in a comparative sense—there probably will be more of the same next year. Games will be kicked away, the team will be a strong contender for last place and there will be headaches all around.

Spokesman for God Lesson for September 13, 1964

Background Scripture: I Samuel 1 through 7. Devotional Reading: Psalm 11:1-7.

WHAT DOES the word "prophet" bring to mind? Fortune teller, tea-leaf reader, weather predicter, "Old Man Mose?" One meaning of "prophet," to be sure, is a man who can tell you today what is to happen tomorrow. In sometimes the meaning of the word. Most prophets went in for prediction some of the time, and most prophets' predictions sounded most unlikely to those who first

Dr. Foreman heard them; but they came true. Indeed, according to Deuteronomy 18, one test of an alleged or self-styled prophet is the same as for a true one: Does what he foretells come true? If it does not, he is no true prophet. If it does, he is.

Exception to the rule

c As a general rule, a prophet's contemporaries do not recognize him as such. Since most "prophets" are fakes, people suppose the true prophet is a faker too. Jesus said a prophet is not without honor except in his own country. Familiarity breeds contempt, the proverb says. How can an ordinary man we see every day be a prophet? Now Samuel, whose story is in the Old Testament, was an exception to this rule. In his own day, in his own country, his own people did recognize and honor him. Samuel was a man of many affairs and many talents. He was a soldier, revivalist, judge, historian, kingmaker. But he is best known as prophet. He had an extraordinary life. Every one knows the story of how his mother prayed for a child, and how this child was promised to the Lord before he was born. Well known too is the story of his life in the shrine at Shiloh as a kind of apprentice priest; and how he first became a sensation by his denouncing High Priest Eli, the aged, respectable and venerable Eli, head (if we may put it that way) of the State Church. What most people don't know is the rest of the story. Did his later life prove a failure? Was he a wonder-child, fading into obscurity after his one outburst?

Leader of man By no means. That incident at Shiloh was just the start. Measured by immediate results, Samuel was perhaps the most successful prophet who ever lived. The people listened. When he led a revival, there were many conversions; when he led an army, the army won. When he selected a king, the people elected Sam-uel's man. As long as the king followed Samuel's guidance, he was a success . . . but that's another story. The point is, Samuel was a true leader; he was be-lieved, obeyed, followed. His judgments were accepted as God's judgments. His decisions and his commands were obeyed just as if God had been literally speaking with Samuel's mouth.

No man lives forever

Samuel's successes as a military man did not make him a warmonger. His own battles were fought to set free his people from foreign domination; his aim was justice and peace. And justice and peace the Hebrews had for a generation.

And then what? Something slipped, everything seemed to slip. Not until the time of Solomon was there such a peace as in Samuel's time, and Solomon's peace, not being founded on justice, did not endure. There is a point here sometimes forgotten. No man lives forever; and no matter how good, brave, smart and successful a great man may be, sooner or later "his place know him no more." Even a man who lives close to God must go the way of all flesh. We make a mistake if we think any man however good and great can arrange things so that the evils he has successfully fought will never return. The Philistines, the enemies of Israel, never came back in Samuel's time. But in later days they were even more troublesome than ever before. So unless there are successors to great men, the great man's good may die with him.

It seems that modern statesmen can't tell a lie, either. The correct name for it is an "official denial."

CALF SCRAMBLE AT YORK FAIR TUESDAY

So many requests came to the York Fair management to repeat this year the Calf Scramble held in 1962 that it has been scheduled for this year on Tuesday, Sept. 15, opening fair day.

So, for thrills and laughs and real excitement you will want to see this calf scramble feature contest between the FFA boys afternoon and 4-H boys at night in front of the grandstand. Top prizes are U.S. Government Bonds to each of the twenty boy contestants. Each successful winner keeps his calf for a year, returning to York Fair next year as a Baby Beef entry and receives the complete sale price therefrom. All Hereford calves this year are furnished by the Arthur Godfrey's Beacon Hill Farms in Virginia.
