TANEYTOWN SWIMMING POOL PROJECT

The Executive Committee of the Taneytown Community Swimming Pool Project, at its Sept. 22 meeting, voted to plan, design, construct and equip a public swimming pool and related facilities in the Taneytown Memorial Park. This decision was made by the eleven voting members of the Committee present.

The Committee considered the tabulated preferences made on questionnaires distributed to the parents of pupils attending Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School and St. Joseph's Elementary School, Taneytown, and filed at other sources by area residents, as well as other pertinent facts, in arriving at this decision.

The swimming pool will accommodate approximately 4,620 square feet of water surface and will be accompanied by a children's wading pool and bath houses. All facilities will be planned and constructed in keeping with the requirements of the Maryland State Board of Health.

The exact site of the swimming pool will be announced by the Park Board and the Town Council Oct. 1, 1964, according to Wayne Baumgardner, Executive Committee chairman and liaison representative to these bodies.

Cost of the entire project will be determined by the Executive Committee and the Fund-Raising and Finance sub-committee in the near future, after further information is obtained from construction companies and from those presently operating structures.

At the meeting, reports were heard from the Planning, Design, and Construction sub-committee, the Membership, Rules, and Regulations sub-committee, the Corresponding Secretary, the Treasurer, the Finance and Fund-Raising sub-committee, the Recording Secretary, the Questionnaire sub-committee, and the public relations director.

Interested civic and church organizations of the Taneytown area are urged to contact Mrs. Wayne Baumgardner if they wish to have the Executive Committee's Presentation Team discuss the swimming pool project after October 1.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEARS TANEYTOWN H.S. PRINCIPAL

Mr. Frank W. Mather, Jr., new principal of Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening, Sept. 21.

Mr. Mather was born and raised in Westminster and is a graduate of Western Maryland College. He received his Masters degree from New York University. During the war he served four and one half years with the 12th Infantry Regiment and left the Service with the rank of Major. Mr. Mather taught nine years at Hampstead and seven years at Westminster, having been assistant principal at Westminster for the past three years.

Mr. Mather spoke on education. His presentation was interesting and most enlightening. He noted that one fourth of our entire population are engaged in education in one way or another making it, by far, our largest single enterprise. He observed that we have the finest education system in the world and that our aim is to educate all youth to the limit of their ability.

One of our more serious problems, related Mr. Mather, is the high percentage of drop outs. He feels that one way to help overcome this is to convince our young people of the importance of completing their education. High school and college diplomas open a lot of doors. The trend now seems to be the requiring of a high school diploma for even the most menial job.

Every class room should be a laboratory, says Mr. Mather, with the teacher constantly experimenting; with a view toward holding interest and making sure that every single student gets the very most out of his classes.

It goes without saying that some teachers are more effective than others. Mr. Mather likes this illustration. Take a group of teachers with 10 years in the system. Many, probably most, of these teachers have 10 year's experience—the rest have had one year's experience 10 times. A teacher must have faith in the student if he is to be effective and we, the parents, must have faith in the teachers. Nothing, according to Mr. Mather, replaces good teaching.

Mr. Mather concluded his remarks by recalling a piece of advice that Mr. Jenness, County Superintendent of Schools, gives new teachers, "You must always remember that these children are the best their parents have to send us."

In a brief business meeting preceding Mr. Mather's remarks, a report on the recent annual outing was heard, and the treasurer's report was presented. Mayor Perry, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate of officers for the coming year: president, Frank Dunham; 1st vice president, Paul M. Morelock; 2nd vice president, Donald M. Smith; treasurer, Murray Baumgardner; executive committee, Merwyn Fuss and Charles Arnold.

Additional nominations may be made from the floor at the October meeting. The election will take place at the November meeting.

Members will receive annual dues notices shortly. Please remit promptly in order that the proper number of banquet reservations may be made.

SEASONAL FOREST FIRE LAW EFFECTIVE SEPTEMBER 15

Tuesday, Sept. 15, marked the start of the 1964 fall fire season, during which, until Dec. 15, 1964, incl., the 4:00 o'clock open-air burning regulations are in effect. The times are based on Eastern Standard Time.

The Regulation prohibits open-air burning before 4:00 P. M. when within 200 feet of woodland, or inflammable material which could carry fire to woodland. Burning between 4:00 P. M. and midnight is permitted if there is a safety strip ten feet wide, free of inflammable material around the area to be burned, and sufficient tools and men on hand to keep the fire under control until the last spark is out.

The drought this summer, amounting to almost a seven-inch deficit in rainfall, is well known to the citizens of Maryland. Crop losses are estimated in the millions by agricultural specialists.

With the continuance of below normal rainfall, above average fire hazards are assured. Fire fighting forces in the Forestry Department, and local fire companies, hope that all citizens practice safety and follow the law regarding open air burning.

Open air trash burners are not exempted from this regulation, outside the limits of incorporated towns.

VIEW FROM MY KITCHEN WINDOW

My kitchen window view has a sad note these days, for a dear old friend is missing. I refer to the merry brook, whose music has been stilled now for many months. How we miss its happy song, and the sight of it splashing over the rocks! The only sound coming from that direction is the rustle of dry brown leaves. This morning (Sept. 19) a gray sky is weeping a few tears of rain, and there is a hazy look all around. Certainly, it looks and feels as if it would pour down at any moment. It will take a lot of rainfall to get the little brook back in tune again.

Now that mid-September is past, the fires of autumn are beginning to lick through the woods. Some trees are already wearing their autumn dress, while others are still clad in summer-green. By the time October arrives, the bonfires will be blazing in real earnest. Due to the extremely dry weather and an early biting frost, gusts of brown and yellow leaves are dancing prematurely to the ground. Down by the bridge, the ground is covered with them.

A little "upside down" nuthatch is having a wonderful time at the bird feeder. He is making countless trips back and forth, each time bearing away a piece of sunflower seed. He will not touch the other seed, but leaves it for the sparrows, who are always present in large numbers.

A very fat woodchuck just scurried across the lane and over the field. Fortunately for him, our dog Skippy was nowhere around, or there would have been one less woodchuck in these parts.

As I watch the earth turning to another season, the words of Genesis 8:22 come to mind, "While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night, shall not cease."

—Zola Cantwell

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Reuben H. Alexander, near Bridgeport, has sold his farm to Russell Eckard, who will take possession next Spring.

Mrs. Elmer Bercaw and children of Monroe, Ohio, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Witherow of this district.

Paul Shoemaker fell from a tree on the public school ground on Wednesday morning and broke his left arm back of the wrist joint.

The Albright lot, between the Record office and railroad, has been fenced up, the first time in the history of Taneytown. The next thing now is to keep it looking decently and not in the general junk heap appearance it has presented for a good many years.

Clarence H. Forrest, well known in Taneytown—his old home—has recently accepted the city editorship of The Independent, a new daily paper, in Hanover, Penna.

Due to the delay in transportation of carbide the town was in darkness Wednesday night, causing the use of lanterns on the streets, and lamps in dwellings and stores.

A box of honey, by Parcel Post, thoroughly "messed up" the large mail for Taneytown, on Thursday morning much to the disgust of the Postmaster and many of the patrons.

443 voters registered in the two precincts in Taneytown, on Tuesday and Wednesday, which represents within a fraction of two-thirds of the former registered vote. This looks very well for the interest of the Taneytown voters but the last third may be the hardest to get. . . Remember the next day's sitting — Tuesday, October 6 — and arrange to get on the books that day.

now! the beautiful shapes for '65

'65 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan

Chevrolet Impala '65

It's longer, lower, wider—with comforts that'll have many an expensive car wondering why it didn't think of them first. More shoulder room, more leg room up front. Curved side windows, an instrument panel that's a conversation piece. In fact, just about everything's new right down to the road. And even that'll seem newer because the Jet-smooth ride is smoother than ever.

'65 Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe

Chevelle Malibu '65

Here's all that made Chevelle America's most popular new-sized car—plus some new surprises. Like those cleaner, bolder lines. Like the silky way its new ride skims over the choppiest roads. Like V8 power that'll make you think we stole some of Corvette's stuff—which we did. All told, five engines are available from a quieter six to a V8 that comes on 300 horses strong.

'65 Chevy II Nova 4-Door Sedan

Chevy II Nova '65

It may be the expensive-est looking thrift car you've laid eyes on. But thrifty it is. The big difference being that Chevy II's marvelous mechanical efficiency now wears a debonair new look. And offers a new range of engines, including a new 300-hp V8. You could get the idea that saving you money was the last thing we had in mind—if it weren't for that price sticker on the window.

New top-of-the-line Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe

Corvair Corsa '65

How's this for sport with an international flair! The longer, wider design gives all closed models a hardtop roof, along with more shoulder and entrance room. And to go with the racier look, there's up to 180 hp available in the new Corsa series, up to 140 hp in the Monza and 500 series. Also a flatter riding independent suspension, more responsive steering and a wider road stance.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR

Greetings to you:

World Community Day will be observed on November 6. In our area the program for the occasion will be held at the Keysville United Church of Christ. (More details will be given as I learn them.) However, the school bags and outfits for African boys and girls will again be made by the various church women's groups. For those of you who will be attending the Lutheran Church Women's meeting at Keysville on October 5, these articles are needed to fill the school bags: pencils, small spiral notebooks, pads of paper, erasers, scissors, rulers, crayons or colored pencils, modeling clay and tube of paste. Also welcomed: soap, comb, toothbrush or handkerchiefs to help children develop good health habits. Won't you please bring along some of these items to the meeting for your share in this project?

Mrs. James Unglesbee of Taneytown goes to Annie Warner Hospital on Wednesday (23rd) for test and x-rays. Do hope her troubles can be helped.

A workshop on pie-making was held at the County Office Building on Saturday for 4-Hers. Those attending from the Terra Rubra Girls' 4-H Club were Mrs. Richard Wilhide, leader; Joan Thomas, Donna Six, Beth Wilhide and Karen Konreiner.

Congratulations to newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bowers, who were married by Pastor Yaste at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday, the 20th. Mrs. Bowers is the former Miss Judy Kiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Kiser of the Keysville Road. Richard is the son of Mrs. Kenneth Rohrbach of the Keysville Road near the Taneytown Road.

The calendar tells us that Fall begins on Wednesday the 23rd. The weather tells us it has been here for awhile. Cool nights are good for sleeping and the warm afternoons are pleasant. Trees are beginning to change colors in some places now also.

There will be a Community Sale in Rocky Ridge on Saturday, the 26th. These were held periodically in Detour when we first moved here but there hasn't been one now for a long time.

Harvest Home Service at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday, the 27th, with the service beginning at 9:30 A. M. October 11 will be Communion Sunday. Plan to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Seibert, Paul, Timmy, Mariann and Johnny of Clear Spring visited with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilhide and Susan of Forest and Stream Club Road last Friday to celebrate their daughter's (and sister's) twenty-first birthday. They brought with them a German chocolate cake for the occasion. Also present were Mrs. Emory Yoder, Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and Beth.

Sorry to hear of the accident last Thursday of Gregg Kiser, Luther and Eddy Clabaugh of the Keysville Road. Understand they were painting a shed when a wagon came loose from a tractor and knocked over their ladders. Luther was able to grab a door and break his fall but Gregg fell on his right arm and Eddy over him. Luther and Eddy are none the worse for the experience but Gregg's arm is black and blue and he is unable to use it. Do hope it will soon be well again.

The anthem "Just A Closer Walk With Thee" was sung by Shirley Keiholtz, Linda Schaffer and Joanne Glass at Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday. The girls did a fine job and are to be commended. John Hagedorn, student at the seminary in Gettysburg, was guest speaker. He asked, "What actions can we take that will meet approval in God's sight?" and went on to tell how the Jews had lists of do and don't for the Sabbath during Christ's time which everyone was expected to obey.

A list of laws, he said, people are inclined to follow to show how good they are to others rather than to be doing the love of God. If our motivation is wrong, then our actions are wrong. We should follow the pure love of God as Christ did. When we can believe that God loves us for ourselves and not for what we do, then we will not have to do things for selfish reasons but for love of others.

Miss Elizabeth Yoder of White Hall was a Saturday overnight guest with the Carroll Wilhide family near Detour. When she returned home on Sunday, her mother, Mrs. Emory Yoder, who had been visiting with the Carroll and Clyde Wilhide families, went with her.

P-T-A Executive Committee meeting at Elmer A. Wolfe School on Monday, the 28th, at 8 P. M.

New concrete driveway being put in by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sell of Keysville. The roses on their wagon-wheels have certainly been lovely this summer and the shrub they planted by their mailbox is really growing.

Pastor Chester Bill of the Washington Grove Methodist Church held everyone fascinated with his slides and running commentary of his trip to the Holy Land. It was in the summer of 1963 that he took a six week's tour of 13 countries. 18 days were spent in the Holy Land, which now consists of four countries: Jordan, Israel, Egypt and Lebanon. His slides showed many interesting places that we only read about: such as the various churches, the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea, Golgotha, the Jordan River, views of the countryside and even a section of the no-man's land between Jordan and Israel. It was an evening well spent. Pastor Bill also had a number of souvenirs on display including a bottle of holy water which came from the Jordan River. He spoke of traveling while young and urged those who would like to travel to "do-it-now." He said it only took him one year to repay the debt incurred for his trip.

KEYSVILLE-DETOUR Homemakers Meet

The luncheon to be served on Oct. 12 to the Carroll County graduates of the Rural Women's Short Course at the Parish House of the Keysville United Church of Christ was an important topic of discussion for the Keysville-Detour Homemakers Club members at their meeting on Sept. 16 at the home of Mrs. Donald Stanley of Keysville.

Mrs. Charles Null, Citizenship Chairman, reported on the meeting she attended at the County Office Building about Civil Defense. Plants are not affected by fallout; only animals and people. Plants are affected later if the ground becomes radioactive. The group most susceptible to fallout are teenagers. One cannot see, feel, taste, or smell radiation which is why it is so dangerous. Only a Geiger Counter can detect it. These are some of the facts given by Mrs. Null.

"Simple Home Repairs" was the monthly topic Mrs. Harold Thomas, Home Management Leader, told of safety in the use of electrical appliances. Use correct fuse size; be sure on dry ground when changing a fuse and use only one hand. If lights blink when one crosses the floor, check cord and plug. Ground wire is needed on washers. No extensions should be used for safety's sake. If lights dim, contact power company for additional appliances in your home may mean larger transformer necessary. Correct size wire should be used for your appliances: 18 is the smallest and is really too small. 16 is correct for them and for frypan or iron, use flexible wire that is insulated. After giving this information, Mrs. Thomas demonstrated how to wire a plug.

A request from the Terra Rubra Girls' 4-H Club was made for a demonstration in flower arranging to be given by one of the homemakers. This will be considered for a spring meeting when flowers may be more plentiful.

It was also mentioned again that 4-Hers are available to give demonstrations to Homemakers' Clubs.

President Mrs. Maynard Ausherman announced a nominating committee of Mrs. John Blanchfield, Sr., Mrs. Mark Sanders, Mrs. Mark Baumgardner and Mrs. Edward Coshum. Members welcomed mother of hostess, Mrs. Frank V. Dreyer, a Baltimore County Homemaker, as a visitor for the evening.

Next meeting will be October 21 at 1 P. M. at the home of Mrs. David Watkins near Keymar.

FAIRVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock called on the former's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frock of York, Pa., on Saturday afternoon. Other visitors were Frank and Norma.

Mrs. Hannah Smith, one of the committee who had charge of the Harvest Home display at the Uniontown Church of God on Sunday, September 20, wishes to thank the rest of the committee, the members and friends for the lovely display of fruits, vegetables and money — by so doing, showing their great love and appreciation to their Heavenly Father and for their beloved pastor and family Rev. Fred Horner.

We are glad to report at this writing that John Williams, although still in the Gettysburg Hospital showed some improvement on Monday night. We wish him a speedy recovery.

What a lovely day Monday turned out to be. It was an ideal wash day. It seems for the past several years it has been too dry around here and in various parts of the country. In the Spring we plant our gardens and they seem to get such a good start and then all at once it gets so dry. We then start to complain, oh, if only it would rain. We say we won't have much to do this summer we will have nothing to eat but then we talk to those who possibly have said those very words: oh, they will say I had so much to do I can't think I'll never get done. My freezer is full to overflowing and I don't know where to put anymore — and looking at the great display of things we had on Sunday morning at the Church of God in Uniontown we should beg God's forgiveness for having such little faith in Him and thank Him for such a wonderful harvest.

We are sorry to learn Dr. T. H. Legg is back in the Gettysburg Hospital due to a fall he received and fractured his hip. We wish him a speedy recovery.

We were so glad to have had the privilege of attending the Baptismal Service at Crouse's Mill on Sunday afternoon by the Holiness Christian Church of Keymar. I believe there were 12 or 14 candidates who were baptized by immersion.

The Sunday evening service which was held at the Uniontown Church of God was well attended and which was still in observance of Harvest Home. It was in charge of Reverend Claude Cave, he preached on Jonah and the whale. Mr. Cave is also a chalk artist and after the message he drew the picture of the Old Rugged Cross. While painting he played several selections on a phonograph in contrast with his painting at which time he quoted scripture and used the lights according. It was beautiful.

What Kept Her Going

Granny Stewart was a cheerful, hard-working person. She dearly loved her Lord. She was poor and had to work hard, though she was advanced in years and suffered from arthritis; she was a cleaning woman in a large hotel in Edinburg. As she scrubbed the hotel lobby one day, a guest said to her, "so you wash this floor six mornings a week?" "I do that," cheerfully replied granny. "Well, I hope you at least sleep late on Sunday and get plenty of rest on that day," said the guest. "No, said granny, that is the morning when I get up early, too, to take my grandchildren to Sunday School and church!" A look of distress came to the face of the guest, he said, "but surely you've earned your right to a good rest on one morning of the week—wouldn't that help you to keep going?" Granny beamed with joy as she said, "oh! it's going to church on the Lord's Day that keeps me going the other six days of the week!"

We would all try this, I am sure we would find it works and I am sure it would bring more joy into our life.

MARRIED

BOWERS — KISER

Miss Judith Anne Kiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Kiser, Keymar, Md., became the bride of Richard Eugene Bowers, son of Mrs. Kenneth Rohrbach and the late Robert F. Bowers, Taneytown R.D. 1, in the Keysville Lutheran Church Sunday at 2 P. M. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dixon A. Yaste.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of satin. It was fashioned with a scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and ended in a full length chapel train accented with a large bow at the waistline. Her bouffant veiling of pure silk illusion fell from a crown of satin embellished with alencon lace appliques and seed pearl trim. She carried a crescent bouquet centered with an orchid surrounded by chrysanthemums, pom-poms and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Marshall Barger, Jr., of Brunswick was the matron of honor. She wore a street-length dress of gold taffeta styled with a scooped neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The skirt had inverted pleats with a self-made bow at waist in the back. Her illusion veil fell from a crown of taffeta and seed pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and pom-poms.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Vencile, Frederick; Miss Eileen Kiser, Detour, cousin of the bride; Miss Darlene Bowers, sister of the groom, and Miss Audrey Wilhide, both of Taneytown. They wore identical dresses of green taffeta with matching headpieces. They carried crescent bouquets of shaded yellow chrysanthemums and pom-poms. Each of the attendants wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bride.

Patty Bowers, cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a white nylon dotted swiss dress and a matching headpiece and carried a basket of assorted fall flowers.

SOCIAL SECURITY FOR HOUSEHOLD WORKERS

"Some household workers in Carroll County may fail to qualify for social security benefits because their employers don't report their cash wages for social security," stated R. W. Hughes, social security district manager in Baltimore. "Too many household workers are not getting the social security credits that are due them," he said.

According to Mr. Hughes, a household employer must report all cash wages of $50 or more paid in a calendar quarter to a maid, cook, cleaning woman, gardener or other household worker. The calendar quarters end with the months of March, June, September and December. The social security reports are filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue in Baltimore in the month after the end of each calendar quarter. For example, the report for the July, August and September quarter will be due in October. The employer sends a tax payment of 7-1/4 percent of cash wages with these reports. He holds out half of this amount from the wages paid to the worker. The report is very simple. It is an envelope form that can be filled out in a few minutes, and is available at any social security or Internal Revenue office.

"A worker's social security record is based on the reports his employer sends in," Mr. Hughes emphasized. "If this record is not correct, the worker will probably lose some or all of his monthly payments." Mr. Hughes urged employers to make the report on time to avoid paying penalty and interest.

Carroll County residents may obtain further information by contacting the social security representative at any of the following offices:

WITH THE ARMED FORCES

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Airman Gary E. Lovell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling C. Lovell of Rt. 1, New Windsor, Md., has completed the first phase of his Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Texas. Airman Lovell has been selected for technical training as a medical specialist at an Air Training Command (ATC) school at Greenville AFB, Miss. His new unit is part of the vast ATC system which trains airmen and officers in the diverse skills required by the nation's aerospace force. The airman is a 1964 graduate of Mt. Airy (Md.) Senior High School.

GREAT LAKES, ILL. (FHTNC) — Robert L. Miller, age 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Miller of Rt. 1, Taneytown, Md., has begun training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The nine-week training includes naval orientation, history and organization, seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, military drill, first aid and survival. During the training recruits receive tests and interviews which determine their future assignments in the Navy. Upon completing the program they are assigned to service schools for technical training or to ships and stations for on-the-job training in a Navy rating specialty.

Naval training produces the power in seapower by supplying qualified personnel to man the ships, planes and shore stations of today's Navy.

THE WAY I SEE IT . . .

Observations on the World of Sports

Up to now, the popular theory in baseball has been that a team involved in a September pennant scramble is better off with a crew of tried and tested veterans. The idea is that rookies are liable to fall apart under the tremendous pressure of the race for the wire.

However, pitcher MILT PAPPAS of the Baltimore Orioles says this kind of thinking is all wet. He feels the rookies are better able to take the strain than the fellows who have been around.

Pappas explains his feeling this way. He says the first year players don't realize completely what is going on. He feels they don't get the full impact of the rewards awaiting a pennant winner—a cut of the World Series cash, better pay the following year, chances at endorsements, and well-paying invitations to speak on the winter banquet circuit.

The players who have been around, and have seen others rake in the gold . . . they are the ones who know what a rich prize winning a pennant can be.

To back up his argument, Pappas pointed to Baltimore's rookie pitcher Wally Bunker, sitting calmly in a corner of the dugout chewing sunflower seeds.

A couple of the veterans, including manager Hank Bauer, looked as if they were ready to chew off their finger nails. Bauer, in fact, has been smoking four packs of cigarettes a day under the terrible strain.

An interview with Bunker went a long way to prove Pappas' argument. The 19-year-old hurler insisted he hasn't begun to feel any extra pressure yet. Some of the youngsters' teammates are thinking of isolating Bunker from the sportscasters and writers who travel with the team. They are liable to give him ideas.

When you have a comfortable lead in the National League pennant fight you have to be careful that an easy chair doesn't change suddenly to the anxious seat.

That's what is on the minds of the PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES today. The Phils have a comfortable six and one-half game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League but they also are well aware that similar leads have disappeared in the past.

Only one year ago, for instance, the Los Angeles Dodgers had a comfortable lead of five and one-half games on September 6 but by September 16 on-rushing Cardinals had the lead to one game. The teams met in a three-game set and the Dodgers swept it to wrap up the flag.

In 1951, as every baseball fan remembers, the Dodgers were 13 and one-half games in front of the Giants in mid-August and lost the pennant to the New York Cub.

In 1942 the Dodgers were eight and one-half games ahead of the Cardinals in August and won 30 of the last 48 games but still lost the pennant. The Cardinals went crazy in the last six weeks of the season and won 41 of their last 48 to capture the pennant.

The Phils themselves had an unbelievable experience in 1950, the last year they won the flag. The "whiz kids" that year entered the final week of the campaign with a six-game lead. The clinching ceremonies were on a stand-by basis but they had to wait until the final out of the season.

The Phils all but collapsed. They ran into a hot Giant team which beat them by double-headers back to back and by Sunday, the last day of the season, the Phils needed a victory over the Dodgers in Brooklyn to win the pennant. A win for Brooklyn would have meant a tie and a playoff.

That was the memorable game won by the Phils, 4 to 1 in ten innings on Dick Sisler's "wrong field" homer, after what would have been the winning run for Brooklyn was cut down at home plate in the ninth.

So . . . the Phils, in the next weeks, will play them in the classic words of managers and coaches, "one at a time."

Remember When Dept. — Coach Sam Naron of the Pittsburgh Pirates started as a third baseman with the Martinsville in the Bi-State League in 1934.

Today's Sport Laugh — The Pittsburgh Pirates outfielder Roberto Clemente had a tough time sleeping after night games so his doctor prescribed sleeping pills. Clemente didn't take them for a long time because he explained: "I was up all night waiting for the pills to put me to sleep."

Information was given to the Board with respect to salary schedules now in effect throughout the State for various teacher employment categories.

The Board was advised further that continued progress can be reported in connection with the planning of the Southern High School. The Superintendent was authorized, when opportunity arises, to give information regarding the southern high school to the Capital Improvements Commission.

The Board was advised regarding the enrollment in all of the schools of the county on the opening day, September 9, when a total enrollment of 12,289 was reported. This included 5,565 in the high schools of the county and 6,784 in the elementary schools. The total enrollment in the first grade being 1,274 and the 12th grade, eligible for graduation, totaling 839. This enrollment represents an increase of about 400 pupils over the enrollment in the schools in June, 1964.

The Board was advised of plans for a special half-day teachers' conference to be held on September 22 in the Westminster Jr. High School. At this time Dr. Thomas Robinson, President of the Glassboro State College of New Jersey, will be the principal speaker. Following this presentation by Dr. Robinson, Supervisors will meet with the teachers of the schools for which they are responsible with the objective of giving teachers information regarding procedures and techniques to be observed in the classroom.

Action was taken by the Board to be represented at a meeting of the Freedom District Chamber of Commerce on a date to be arranged for the purpose of describing facilities and services to be available in the planned high school for the southern part of the county.

Birth of Our National Anthem

This year—nineteen hundred and sixty-four—is the 150th anniversary of the birth of the "Star Spangled Banner"—our National Anthem. Many speeches will be made, countless medals will be struck—all memorializing its stirring and inspiring words. Can anyone listen to, or sing, them without realizing that only a man with a heart capable of great depth of feeling could have spoken or written them!

We believe a quote from Key's letter to his closest friend, John Randolph of Virginia, will furnish factual detail and depth of meaning to the song he wrote for us to thrill to:

"You will be surprised to hear that I have spent 11 days in the British fleet. I went with a flag of truce endeavoring to save poor old Dr. Beanes a voyage to Halifax, in which we fortunately succeeded. They detained us until after their attack on Baltimore, and you may imagine what a state of anxiety I endured. . . . To make my feelings still more acute, the Admiral had intimated his fears that the town must be burned, and I was sure that it would have been given to plunder. I have reason to believe that such a promise was given to their soldiers. Baltimore was filled with women and children. I hope I shall never cease to feel the warmest gratitude, when I think of this merciful deliverance."

It was this gratitude and the sight of the American Flag—still flying in "the dawn's early light"—that inspired the poem.

How could a man, so filled with anxiety for the safety of his friends and loved ones, express his feelings in such immortal words? If we look at the pertinent facts, we will find that he was virtually a prisoner, detained for 11 days aboard ship, cut off from all contact with friends or family. He knew nothing of the success of, or, the failure of General Ross' attack on Baltimore by land. As to news—he was in the blind. Human beings differ little when the emotional load approaches the breaking point. His vigil was like a bedside vigil of a dear sick friend approaching his climax.

The 25 hours of bombardment, climaxing 10 days of detention, cut off from all news, quartered in a small packet, the Truce Ship anchored among the bombarding war ships, which were under attack from the fort. What a load of anxiety, what a potential dilemma! Just one hope, one hope only—The Flag—was it still there! The Flag was the only thing that had meaning for this man, who was eating out his heart. He knew, that until the Colors were struck in surrender, "tight little Fort McHenry" was still holding out. The burning, sacking and plundering of Baltimore weighed heavy on his heart. Will Baltimore be spared?

When he started on the mission to intercede on behalf of Dr. Beanes, he rode from his home in Georgetown through the smoldering ruins of burned and sacked Washington, D.C. No American is proud of the defense of Washington, August 24, 1814. Key arrived in Baltimore to board the Truce ship . . . on or about the 1st or 2nd of September or at least 12 days prior to the 14th. They sailed down the bay about 100 miles to establish contact with the British fleet. He was not allowed to leave the fleet because he knew of the British plans for attacking Baltimore.

During the bombardment he was undoubtedly praying that Baltimore be spared the planned burning and plundering. He felt for Baltimore and her families as he did for his own wife and six children . . . he prayed for merciful deliverance.

Kiwanians open each meeting with the singing of the National Anthem, we have always thought that if one of our native sons could in this trying ordeal, give us those immortal words to live by—we should pride ourselves in the privilege of feeling prouder, and standing taller, in his honored memory. Thank you.

Most college students begin their studies when the football season ends.

The professor of chemistry was giving a demonstration of the properties of various acids.

"Now," he said, "I am going to drop this silver dollar into this glass of acid. Will it dissolve?"

"No, sir," replied one of the students.

"No?" said the professor. "Perhaps you will explain why not."

"Because if it would, you wouldn't drop it in," was the answer.

Center-facing dual rear seats and a built-in air deflector to reduce accumulation of dust or water on the rear window are features of station wagon models in the 1965 Ford car line. Literally new from tires to roof and from bumper to bumper, the new Ford is the most-changed in the 15-year history of Ford Division. Elegance of the 1965 Ford styling is combined with a luxury car ride so smooth and so quiet the heater and air conditioner fans had to be moved into the engine compartment because their low-toned whirr was distracting.

All 17 new Fords will debut in Ford dealer showrooms Friday, September 25.

The 1965 Ford is the most-changed in the 15-year history of Ford Division. The traditional, round Ford taillight is replaced by a modernistic hexagonal shape in keeping with the crisp, elegant look of the new Ford. Luxury styling is combined with a luxury car ride described as so smooth and so quiet the heater and air conditioner fans had to be moved into the engine compartment because their low-toned whirr was distracting. A luxurious new Ford Galaxie 500 LTD series (above) features an interior of quality and style previously obtainable only in higher-priced cars. Five separate roof lines are offered with interior and exterior trim features to give greater distinctiveness to each of the 17 models than ever before.

The complete line of 1965 Fords — two- and four-door hardtops, sedans, convertibles and station wagons — will be introduced in Ford dealer showrooms on Friday, September 25.

What Is God Doing?

Lesson for September 27, 1964

Background Scripture: I Samuel 12; Hebrews 11:22-32, 39-40.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 47:1-10.

IN THE midst of personal agonies, or swept into a vast public calamity like a drought or a flood or a war, the cry goes up from bewildered souls confused by pain, What is God doing? He ought to be here, he ought to take a hand; where is he in this hour of need? This is not a new question; it has no doubt been asked ever since men began seriously to believe in God. One wide-ranging answer is found, in many places and eras, in the Old Testament. Prophets when asked this question or any question like it, would not answer by talking theology or philosophy; they pointed to history. The God of the Prophets was no do-nothing God.

God in events

God, the God of the Bible, is not so remote that you have to track through eternity to find him. God is here, God is now. In ways which no prophet claimed to explain but which every prophet believed, God is in events. What a non-religious person might see only as an event which is historical and nothing more, the prophets see as an act of God. Samuel, judge and prophet, in a farewell address pointed out some of the events which were divine acts affecting the story and the fate of the Hebrew people. One great event was freedom. "I am the Lord thy God who brought you out of . . . the house of bondage." Who set the Israelites free? A series of regrettable circumstances, no doubt the Egyptians said. The Egyptians were so far from believing the escape of their slaves was a doing of God, that they tried more than once to re-enslave them. Who set them free? Moses, you may say. Certainly there would have been no freedom without him. Who was it? "God," said Moses; "God," said all the prophets. The wind that made the exodus possible; the survival in the terrible wilderness; the whole of the many-sided, many-chaptered Event, was God's story, for it was the doing of God.

Homeland and king

Another great event, or series of events making one great one, was the settling of the Israelites in a homeland of their own. This sounds simple, like "the winning of the west" or "the second world war." Actually it was a long process, with ups and downs, successes and failures, not just an orderly process but disorderly, crude in many ways, a tale of "blood, sweat and tears." Yet Samuel (typical of other prophets) gives credit to God. Then just recently—that is, shortly before Samuel's farewell—these Hebrew people, aware that more fighting would be necessary before they could feel secure in their still unstable homeland, had elected a king. Samuel, however, says that God set this king up for them. This is remarkable; for Samuel disliked the whole business of having a king at all. It shows he had the rare ability to see the doing of God in events he himself did not welcome.

IF . . .

As of the time of Samuel's address, it looked as if God was not only in history, but in history very much on one side, the side of the Hebrews. But Samuel holds up a red light, a warning sign. Don't think that because God has been for you, in the past, he will always be for you whatever happens, whatever you may do. It is possible that God may turn against you—you and your king. Notice that Samuel does not say God will turn against Israel, or that he will not. The prophet sets up one word, a might word: IF. If you (the people, the nation) will fear, and serve, and hearken, and not rebel, and follow . . . then it will be well; but if not, the hand of the Lord will be against you. In short, God is in history, he is a God of action. But what the action of God will be, he leaves to the choice of his people.
